To start the ball rolling for March, there will be an all-campus talent show March 3. The show will be open to anyone having talent and wishing to perform. This includes both faculty and students.

The weekend of March 9 and 10 will find the Spring musical, "The Firefly," presented on the stage of Oller Hall. "The House of Seven Gables," a motion picture, will be shown in Oller Hall March 17.

2 Parties In April

During the month of April there will be two big campus dances. The sophomore party will be held April 7, while the juniors will entertain April 21 at their reception in honor of the senior class. The Saturday between these two dates, April 14, will find the classes vieing for the annual All Class Night trophy.

Rounding out the year's activities will be May Day, May 12 and finally Alumni Day, June 2.

JWSF Drive Starts Monday

Chm. Benedict Says $1951 Goal Is Attainable If All Cooperate

The 1951 Juniata World Service Fund Drive will begin Monday with a goal of $1951.

According to Jay Benedict, JWSF chairman, one intensive week of campaigning should see the goal reached, "if everyone cooperates."

Jay Benedict

In conjunction with this "one week of campaigning rather than the usual two" plan, publicity chairman Jack Middour has scheduled several feature attractions, including a radio show.

Secretary Bev Williams has secured all the Chapel periods for JWSF, and, says Jay Benedict, "they will be interesting."

The only Senate-approved fund drive on JC's campus, JWSF will benefit four agencies this year. The $1951 will be divided among the foreign students aid fund, two missionaries, the Red Cross and the World Student Service Fund.

Agencies Which Benefit Listed

These agencies may be broken down as follows:

- Two foreign students are maintained on campus through JWSF. The idea started with the spring musical production, "Americanza" in 1948 and has been maintained ever since. A portion of the JWSF and the proceeds of "The Firefly" will be used for this purpose.
- The two missionaries to be helped this year are Stover Kulp, father of Phillip and Naomi Kulp, students here, and the Ecuador missionary, Benton Rhoades.
- As in the past, the Red Cross will receive a portion of JWSF contributions.
- The World Students Service Fund is an international organization which supports foreign students in America; sends books, food, and clothing to the world; and in general tries to rebuild education in the world.

Contributors Have Choice

During this coming week, contributors may designate whether they wish to give to all four, or any one, of these JWSF agencies. "Be sure to let your solicitor know so that the JWSF treasurer, Keith Binkley can keep the reports accurate," the JWSF planning commission suggests.

According to Art Allen, chairman of solicitations, the solicitors and their areas are as follows:

Women's dorm: Brumbaugh—first, Ruth March; second, Margie Alleman; third, Janet Boland; fourth, Sarah Keller; Founders—third, Ginny Masemer; fourth Portia Baugher; Oneida—second, Rhoda Clemmer; third Janet Wenger; Geiger House—Carol Borden; Day Students—Dottie Humphries, Betty McKee and Norma Gene Sinclair.

Men's Dorm Solicitors

Men's Dorm: Cloisters Wing—basement, Dave Bayer; first, Ray Siren; second, Tom Gates; third, Dale Zimmerman; fourth, Bernard Plesenski; Cloisters Arch—first, Bud Kreider; second, Don Kautter; third and fourth, Howard Montgomery; Lodge—Joe Hulgus, Gene Sease, Paul Schroeder and Bill Bolt; Non-resident—Joe Thomasberger, Len Hickman, Bob Wagoner, Bob Champion and John Long.

Married couples off campus—Bill Carpenter; Village—Walt Bush; faculty—Miss Nory Edwards; administration—Mrs. Rhoda Rhodes.

Juniata To Join Carnegie Tech In 5-Year Plan

Juniata College will cooperate with Carnegie Institute of Technology in a five-year educational program leading to both liberal arts and engineering or science degrees.

Announcement of this cooperative plan—known as the 3-2 Plan—was made jointly by Pres. Calvert Ellis of Juniata and Pres. J. C. Warner of Carnegie. The program will go into effect next September.

2 Degrees In 5 Years

Under the plan, students may take three years of liberal arts with a major in science, then transfer to Carnegie for two years of engineering or science. At the end of the five years, they will receive bachelor of arts degrees from Juniata and bachelor of science degrees from Carnegie.

According to Carnegie officials, this plan has two major advantages:

- It gives a student a chance to build a broad liberal arts foundation before beginning a technical program.
- It gives a student who does not know whether he wants to study engineering or science some college experience which may help him make a choice.

Many Curriculum Open

Transfer students from Juniata will be able to study one of Carnegie's three pure science curriculums: physics, chemistry or mathematics. Or they may choose one of the five engineering departments: civil electrical, mechanical, chemical or metallurgical. They may also enter the department of industrial management, which combines a specially designed engineering program with management training.

Other universities using a similar plan and affiliating with small colleges include Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cal Tech, and Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland.

With this announcement, Juniata becomes the 17th liberal arts college to join Carnegie in the cooperative program.

Graduation Time Is Speeded Up

Due to the current need for the nation's manpower, students will now be able to graduate in 32 months instead of the usual four years.

Pres. Calvert Ellis said that Juniata "definitely would accept freshmen in June." A regular ten week Summer term is being offered each year in addition to the Fall and Spring terms.

A freshman who enrolls here this June may be able to graduate in January, 1954, under the new speed-up program. However, such a program could be followed only by a "better than average student."

Comedy Film Planned For Tomorrow Night

A comedy film set in the Lower World has been procured by Prof. G. Wayne Glick for presentation tomorrow at 8 p. m. in Oller Hall.

With a cast headed by Paul Muni, Anne Baxter, and Claude Raines, the film, "Angel on my Shoulder" deals with the devil's attempts to corrupt an honest judge.

According to Don Treese, who is in charge of the evening's program, refreshments will be served in the gym following the movie.

Streiner, Seidel Named Editors Of Juniatian

Jim Streiner was appointed editor of the Juniatian this week by the Faculty Publications Committee on the recommendation of the retiring editor.

The Pitcairn, Pa. junior takes over the editorship this week to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of David Armacost who served from January, 1950 until last week.

Journalism To Be Career

Streiner, a history major who expects to make journalism a career, has worked on every campus publication except the Indian.

He came up through the ranks of the Juniatian serving as reporter, news editor and managing editor.

The new editor is a Masquer and served as sophomore All-Class Night chairman last year.

Seidel Is Assistant

As assistant editor, Streiner has appointed Marj Seidel, a junior from Wyomissing, Pa.

Miss Seidel, who served as news editor up until this time, has worked on the paper for three years.

She has been a cheerleader for three years and was a member of the YWCA in her freshman and sophomore years.

The assistant editor is majoring in English and intending to teach

'Students Same Friendly Bunch Here In 30's,' Says Dean Mays

by Margie Alleman

"Twenty years ago, Juniata students were much the same friendly bunch that they are today." According to Dean Morley Mays, they liked fun, football and food.

Dean Mays compared his student days of the early '30's with college life as he now views it from one of the top rungs of the ladder.

One item of timely interest mentioned by the Dean was that there was much "griping" about the food. As he mildly expressed it, "there was no attempt to make the food appear at all attractive." With an elusive smile he added that he was "among the chief agitators for better food."

Dancing Frowned Upon

"Dancing was frowned upon then," the Dean of the College continued. "There were many efforts to start dancing on campus. However, these were unfruitful as some money that had been left to the college was tied up with the stipulation that dancing should not be permitted on campus. Parties were rather stiff and dry affairs."

Dean Morley Mays

● Speaks of days goneby ●

Aside from modest reference to his active interest in these campus problems, Dean Mays spoke little of himself. Young but scholarly in appearance, gracious in manner, he has a handy faculty for picking up a conversation right where he left off, if he is interrupted.

Room C Was 'Social Room'

Reminiscing, the Dean recalled that 20 years ago there was nothing of the Social Rooms as we know them. Room C was used in the evenings for the purpose of socializing. So that the Juniata socialites would never find themselves "in the dark," a light was put in the room which could not be turned off by the students. The switch was in the adjoining office, under Mac's lock and key.

"Ma" Roberts, a former dean of women, kept close watch over the students. According to a story told by Dean Mays, "she and her flashlight searched behind the bushes and in the tree tops for amorous couples."

From The Editor's Notes:---

For JWSF-A Plug From Ekky

Talked with Ekkehard Eickhoff over the weekend.

Along with Pete Mayer, Ekky was the first of those international students who come here under the auspices of the JWSF. He and Pete spent two years at Juniata, 1948 through 1950.

Then Pete went back to Germany to school and later a job with the American foreign service there. Ekky, also from Germany, was able to spend last year at Marquette University, Milwaukee. . . and came out with a masters degree.

Ekkehard Eickhoff
● From JWSF, a helping hand ●

Now his plans are big: off to Italy Feb. 17, a week in Venice, thence to Alexandria and Beirut. Here he'll put in a Summer "visiting and working for the Swiss legation to Iraq, Lebanon and Syria."

Come Fall, it's back to Italy and finally to Germany to complete the job Ekky says he really began at Juniata . . . getting his PH D in history. After that, a diplomatic career.

He was only to be here for two days, and then he was leaving America. So he asked that some things be said for him:

"In comparison with other foreign students who studied with me at Marquette, I felt that Juniata offered the best possible preparation for broad studies in liberal arts. . . . JWSF made that broad background possible for me, as well as for Pete and the others . . . .

"To me, a German, Juniata means close contact with friends . . . which leads to a deeper understanding of things American . . . they call it the Juniata Family . . . in all sincerity, that describes it."

You, and JWSF, made that story possible.

For Us--Two Dorm Bull Session Topics

Comes inevitably the question "What has this Student Senate ever done?"

May we point out that this issue contains two items which may well be used in the next verbal battle on the topic?

● A new tablehead list appears on page 1. This illustrates the lack of fanfare with which the Senate often does its job. It also reminds us that an efficient tablehead system, devised by the present Senate and administered by conscientious people, has replaced Flying Napkins, et al.

● Petitions for Senate offices are now available. The present Senate is at the beginning of its end.

No comment on all this. Just want to start more bull sessions . . . they make good starting points for editorials . . . and, ultimately, make a Student Senate work.

For JC Technicians-Better Liberal Arts

Next September Juniata will join forces with Carnegie Tech. (See story, page 1.)

Under what is known as the 3-2 Plan—three years of liberal arts here, two more of technical training at Carnegie—a student may collect both a BA and a BS degree at the end of five years.

But more important, the end result can be that technicians will have a stronger liberal arts foundation—something which seems to have been neglected in the past.

Comments Pres. Calvert Ellis:

"As a college of liberal arts, Juniata is interested, above any other purpose, in aiding students to attain the values to be found in a cultural education, where the man may develop, and not just that part of him which must work for a living."

For Next Week-'Tommy' And 'The Future'

"The Tommy Question" and "How About the Future?" will be among the editor's notes next week, space and campus events permitting.

In the first we'll discuss the gradual decline of the Juniatian's 24 year old column about people and things, until it now is something far different than its originator intended. And we'll suggest the improvements we have in mind.

The second will discuss editorial policy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Day Student Asks: "Why Wasn't I Told?

To the Editor:

There was a meeting the other night. I missed it—and not because I didn't want to go. The next day, I found out about it.

"Why wasn't I told?" I asked.

Came the reply, "But it was announced in chow!"

So? Does that do a Day Student any good?

I feel that some provision should be made for the dissemination of information of interest to day students . . . perhaps through greater use of the bulletin boards in the men's and women's day student rooms, student bulletin boards in Founders and Students Halls and through use of more posters.

Latest figures from the registrar's office show that while the Day Students are a minority group, they are anything but a small one. There are 152 Day Students out of 580 total—approximately ¼ of the student population—too large a group to be ignored by club publicity men and others interested in Day Student assistance in carrying through campus projects.

Day Students are expected to participate and give equally in JWSF Drive and extra-curricular activities; yet they are ignored when it comes to such a small thing as a club meeting. I propose something be done to remedy this unfortunate condition.

A Neglected Day Student

* * * *

(Editorial reply: Kinda think the blame's half yours myself. You seem to be neglecting the Juniatian and the Student Life Calendar which Miss Spencer's secretary keeps accurately up to date. Also, the deans of men and women both claim they post all notices of interest to day students on the bulletin boards in Founders and the men's day student room. They add that administration announcements are never made solely in the dining hall.

(The other half of the responsibility goes to those club officials who, at the last minute rush an announcement through the dining hall p. a. system, forgetting your 25% of the student body isn't there to hear it. Why not get after these people yourself and push your case?

(And while we're thinking about it: Dean Rhodes, that men's day student room bulletin board has come apart at the seams; it's just a frame now. Maybe it ought to be fixed so the boys have someplace to hang the cartoons they draw in class, etc.

(Or would the whole thing be solved by putting a bulletin board in Skips?)

Grad Reports On Atoms, Grade School Teaching

To the Editor:

. . . My permanent address is still 2342 Pearl Street, Santa Monica, Calif., but for the school term which ends June 15, my address is Box 217, Twentynine Palms, Calif. . . .

After doing social group work for several months after graduation Feb., 1950, I took a year of graduate work at the University of California at Los Angeles. While there I worked for my general elementary credential which I procured from the state of California recently. I am now teaching at Twentynine Palms Elementary School on the fifth grade level. . .

. . . I am located near Las Vegas where they have been experimenting with the atom bomb. This morning around 6 a. m. I witnessed a grim and terrifying sight when one of the atom bombs was being tested. At 8:30 a. m. on my way to teach I could still see the smoke in the distance. I never saw the sky light up so brightly! It seemed strange to hear the explosion at such a distance . . .

Love and War Hit Local Movies

By FRANK HARLACHER

SEPTEMBER AFFAIR—Here is the love story every girl dreams about. Complete with stardust, moonbeams and soft music, Paramount's "September Affair" succeeds in touching the heart of every woman.

Not only is the story one of love, but the action of the film takes place in such romantic settings as Capri, Naples and Florence, Joseph Cotten and Joan Fontaine, who play the principal parts, spent six weeks of the picture's shooting time on location in Italy.

Their efforts were not in vain for the movie is packed full of scenic wonders and architectural splendors which add a realistic touch to the love story and give it a sort of foundation or backbone.

Decide To Start Anew

Cotten portrays a successful middle aged engineer. He is tired of married life so he goes to Italy for a vacation. On his way home he meets Miss Fontaine, also returning home after studying piano abroad. They fall in love, and after the plane they miss crashes and their names are among the missing they decide to start life anew.

The camera follows them in an unconventional tour of Italy, but alas, such happiness cannot last—so it ends with their realization of the doubts and misgivings which go with an attempt to forget the world.

Native Actors Cast

The travelogue-aspect, together with the excellent job of casting Italians in minor supporting roles, give this 104 minute love story and outstanding sense of naturalism.

"September Affair" was reviewed Excellent in New York and plays at the Grand Theatre next week.

OPERATION PACIFIC—To the person who thrills to those action-packed stories of adventure in Davy Jones's Locker, Warner Brother's newest Navy picture will fill the ticket nicely. The whole makeup of this film resembles "Destination Tokyo" which dealt with a submarine's successful entrance into Tokyo Bay during the last war.

This year's boxoffice "Champ," John Wayne, takes the lead role and lives up to his usual formula, action. And action you will get—for this undersea story is jammed with cuts from newsreels and superb below-the-surface photography.

The film, in my opinion, was intended to be an action picture. There is, however, a love plot mixed in with the action which slows it down considerably. These complications are led by a Navy nurse (Patricia Neal) who is Wayne's wife. The old problem of competition while absent presents itself, but is cleared up by the conclusion of the picture.

Wayne Leads Rescue Party

As the main plot, Wayne is seen as an executive officer on the US submarine Thunderfish leading a rescue party to a Jap occupied island. The group succeeds in rescuing two nuns and a number of children. During the mission Wayne's friend (Ward Bond) is killed and complications as to who is responsible arise.

"Operation Pacific" is one of the leading World War II pictures to come out of filmland. Its running time is 111 minutes and was reviewed Very Good in New York. It will play next week at the Harris Clifton Theatre.

Dutchmen Visit Here Wednesday

by Jim Giordano

The Indians of Juniata College will meet head-on with Lebanon Valley's Flying Dutchmen on the high school floor next Wednesday night.

Coach Ralph Mease's basketeers have won nine of their first 17 games, including an earlier 74-60 triumph over Juniata. Meanwhile, the Indians will be seeking to avenge that defeat and also capture their third victory of the season.

6 Foot Lineup

Co-captaining the Dutchmen will be Larry Kinsella and Chuck Zimmerman. Both men are six feet one and know how to handle a basketball. Three other six footers, Al Murawski, "Red" Langstaff and Bill Tomilen, will probably round out the starting five.

Lebanon Valley undoubtedly will be counting strongly on their spectacular sophomore ace, Murawski, to continue his phenomenal pace. Murawski, who is the nation's top scorer among the small colleges, has collected 447 points, averaging 27.9 per game.

Last Contest Close

The previous contest, played at Annville, was close throughout, with LV leading by only four points at the end of three quarters. In the fourth period, however, they pulled away and went on to win, 74-60. Murawski was "held" to 24 points in this game.

Juniata will probably go with the same lineup they have been using for the past few games; Karl Park and Tommy Green at forwards, Ed Weirauch at center and Ray Korody and John Cook at the guard spots.

Les Miserables Win; Sliders In Second

Les Miserables moved back into first place in the Intramural bowling league by taking three points from the Sliders last Friday. The Sneaks also moved up a notch by taking three points from the Trojans.

In the only other match rolled, the Aces gained a split with the NoNames.

Ed Marschka, with a 455 series, moved closer to Ray Korody in the high average department. Harry Martin of the Sliders moved into the top ten bowlers with an average of 133.

The schedule for tonight:

6:45—Sneaks vs Les Miserables
Aces vs Trojans

8:45—Faculty vs NoNames
Sliders vs Strikettes

Team standings:

INDIANS DROP 2 TO TALLER FOE

Lions Down Juniata; Green And Kuhn High

Dwarfed again by a skyscraper aggregation, the Juniata College Indians went down to their ninth defeat Saturday night. Albright, with a big height advantage that the Tribe could not overcome, beat them 78-59.

Tommy Green shared scoring honors with the Lion's 6-5 Jerry Potts with 18 points. Leo Kuhn was runner-up with 16. Karl Park, JC's scoring ace, was held to 13 points, his lowest total since the Grove City game.

Close First Half

Both teams fought a nip-and-tuck battle for the first two periods. The first quarter was 15-14 with Albright holding the edge. Albright came off with 20 points in the second period to make the halftime score a close 35-30. Kuhn netted 14 points in this half to account for nearly half the Tribe's total.

The second half was all Albright. The Lions increased their lead to 11 points at the end of the third period by netting 21 points to the Indians' 15. The final quarter was also dominated by Albright which had 22 points against the Indians' 14.

Korody Forced Out

Ray Korody was forced out of the game with a sprained ankle in the third period. Kuhn also fouled out in this period. The outcome of the game might have changed if both men could have stayed in.

Juniors Fall In Last Period; Hackett High

Juniata's JV squad outscored the Altoona Penn State center in the first three quarters only to falter in the final frame and lose 61-50 last Saturday night in Altoona.

Led by Dave Hackett and Dave LeFevre, with 14 points each, and Fred Hamor's ten counters, Juniata was ahead at the end of the third period 40-34.

Altoona, accustomed to Jaffa Mosque's large floor, caught fire in the final quarter, dropping in 27 points to leg-weary JC's ten.

Steve Goshorn, Altoona ace, tallied 11 of his 23 points in the last period and was top man of the game. His running-mate, Frank Betar, also hit double figures, as he made five field goals and six free throws for a total of 16 points.

Tribe Star Threatens First Year Record; Has Made 207 Points

The leading point producer of the current Indian basketball season is Karl Park, junior transfer from the Johnstown Pitt Center. Playing in a forward slot, Park has netted 207 points this season.

His most productive night this season came against Lebanon Valley at Annville. In this game he sank 29 points. Five times this season Park has bucketed 20 or more points.

Should Break Record

Park without doubt will break the record for first year men set by Holmes Ulsh. In Ulsh's first season he sank 226 points in 21 games. And, with four more games, to go, Parks should break the mark easily.

A little more safe perhaps is the all time scoring record, also set by Ulsh. Ulsh made 298 points in his last two seasons.

Park has been active in the cage sport since his junior high school days. One of the high spots of his career came when his Westmont High school team won the Tri-County League title.

Two More Championships

The Pitt team also won a championship, the York Invitational Junior College Tournament. This same team also won the Eastern Pennsylvania title and would have played in the National Junior College Tourney in Kansas but for school rules.

Park's athletic interests are not limited to basketball. In high school he played football and handled the hot corner in baseball. Here at JC Park played intramural football before basketball rolled around.

Frankies Win, 90-49; Park Paces Indians

With Captain Ray Korody sitting this game out as a result of an ankle sprain, the Juniata Indians met defeat once more. Last Wednesday night at Loretto, St. Francis administered a 90-49 setback to them.

The Red Flashes were too much for the Tribe as they forged ahead early in the game. At the ten minute buzzer the Indians trailed 24-12.

Both teams played a race-horse style of ball. In the second period the Indians scored 16 points and the score at halftime read 43-28.

Three Platoon System

Using three platoons and a tremendous height superiority to good advantage, St. Francis outscored Juniata 22-9 in the third quarter.

Juniata had the edge in foul shooting in a very rough game. They converted 11 out of 16 tries as against 18 for 32 for the Frankies.

55 Points For Three

Bill Wanish, Ed Sharick and John Bidner proved to be the big guns in the Red Flash offense. They sank 55 points between them, with Wanish leading all the scorers with 20 points.

Two Indians, Karl Park and Tommy Green, hit for double figures. Park had 17 points, while Green sank ten.

Park's 17 points ran his season total to 207 in 12 games. Green is number two in scoring with 122 points.

Contributing six and five points to the Indian total were Leo Kuhn and Fran Zimmerman. Harry Koehnlein and Jack Dickey each added three, while John Cook and Ed Feldkircher bucketed two points. The last point was tossed in by Dave Bayer.

Juniors Overpowered; Knox Leads Indians

In a game played at Doyle Hall in Loretto last Wednesday night, the little Indians were beaten 94-59 by the St. Francis team.

With three men hitting for 78 points the Frankies had an easy time of it. They led 14-13 at the end of the first quarter and by the end of the half widened the margin to 14 points, 41-27.

Ed Dugan, Pat Farace and Chuck Vaccarella teamed up and made the second half a rout. Farace had 31 points on 12 field goals and seven fouls. Right behind came Vaccarella with 26 points. Dugan finished out the big three with 21 points.

Chuck Knox paced the Indians with 16 points, while Bob Simon and John Thomas followed with 14 and 12 points respectively.

The game was rough throughout, with excessive body contact being permitted. Dave LeFevre was banished in the second quarter for intentional fouling.

JC Meets Jays In Return Test

Tomorrow night the Indians will oppose the Blue Jays of Elizabethtown College in a return game. The home court advantage rests with the E-towners, who will be out to reverse a previous loss to Juniata.

In the first meeting the Indians emerged victorious by a scant two point margin, 41-39. Hard basketball and short tempers featured the first game and will likely color the second.

Play in LVIT

Playing in the Lebanon Valley Invitational Tournament held late in December, the E-towners were dubbed the "Ironmen". They gained this title by beating two teams in one day.

Within six hours the Blue Jays outscored both Dickinson and PMC. The Elizabethtown quintet moved into the semi-finals only to lose to Albright. Two weeks later, however, the Lions were beaten in convincing style by E-town.

Meminger High Man

Jim Meminger led his team in the first game by scoring 11 points. Then came Bill Foster, who was expected to carry the team this year. Foster got ten points in the first game.

Coach Whitey Von Nieda's team boasts a balanced attack. Every player on the floor is a potential high scorer. All his men are good shots and have been taking turns as high scorer. Don Reid has the single game high, 30 points against Lebanon Valley.

Trojans Undefeated; 3 In Race For Honors

Senior Don Robinson of the I-7 and sophomore John Richman, YHO's are in a hot race for top individual scoring honors in the Intramural Basketball league. Robinson of the fourth place I-7 has scored 97 points, while Richman of the third place YHO's has neted 95. Richman has best average of points per game, 11.9.

Scoring records:

Library Begins Book Census; Volumes Discovered Missing

The College Library has begun its biennial task of accounting for the 48,000 numbered volumes on the Library shelves.

A statement from the library says, "this is a task which demands the cooperation of all Library borrowers. In the past week numerous cards from only the fiction and the biography sections of the Library indicate that there have been volumes illegally borrowed. These books were not properly signed out at the desk."

The librarians make a special appeal to all Library users to return during the next few days every unlawfully borrowed book of fiction, biography, reference and other information.

Male Quartet Continues Career Singing At Alumni Dinner Tonight

by Jeanie Tait

This evening at the Penn Alto Hotel in Altoona, the Varsity Male Quartet will again give forth with some musical arrangements. The occasion is one of a series of Alumni dinners to be given throughout the year.

Its members—Charles Redenberger, first tenor, Clair Schaffner, second tenor, Gerald Hartzel, baritone, and Robert Landes, bass—made their debut Oct., 1950 at a Lions Meeting.

Since that time they have been providing entertainment and enjoyment for Juniata College and surrounding areas.

Functioning as a part of the A Cappella Choir, the quartet has appeared at the Women's Auxiliary Christmas party, the District Lions Convention, and various college programs.

On the choir trip, their arrangements of such hit tunes as "I Don't Know Why" and "My Blue Heaven" were popular with the high school students. A speciality number, "The Game Was Played on Sunday," and barber shop numbers are favorites of the quartet and are featured at many of their appearances.

Two of the members, Redenberger and Schaffner, are music majors, while Hartzel is business and Landes pre-dental.

JWSF Featured On WHUN Wed.

"Juniata on the Air" Wednesday evening will present a program to provide information concerning the JWSF drive. (See story on page 1.)

The script for this radio program is being written by Margie Alleman. It will begin with the history of the JWSF and then go on to point out how the money which will be collected is to be used.

Dr. Kenneth Crosby will appear on the program to interview Kris Kaltenborn and Herman Pabst. He will question them about conditions in Germany.

Campus Offices Reclassified

Students Limited To Positions According To 'Time Consumption'

by Marj Seidel

A reclassification of campus positions has been released by the Senate committee on classification, composed of Bob Elder, chairman, Chuck Allison and Bud Kreider.

The Senate redefines major and minor positions in February each year for the following year. This classification is based upon time consumption and apportionment of jobs.

In order to prevent one student from bearing, or trying to bear, the burdens of too many major positions, the Senate Constitution limits the number of positions a student may hold to the following combinations: one major, one minor and one unclassified; two minor and three unclassified; three minor and one unclassified; one minor and five unclassified; or seven unclassified.

Major Positions Classified

Major positions consist of the following: president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the Student Senate; chairmen of religious activities, underclassmen, athletics, social activities, women's house, men's house and the radio committee; editor-in-chief of the Alfarata; and editor-in-chief and managing editor of the Juniatian.

Listed as minor positions are the following: chairmen of publications, general activities, Christian Heritage Commission, Personal Campus Affairs Commission, World Relatedness Commission and Social Responsibility Commission; presidents of the senior class, a cappella choir, FTA, IRC, J Club, IVCF, Outing Club, WAA, Sigma Gamma, Lambda Gamma and Juniata National Rifle Club.

Managers of the a cappella choir, football, track, basketball and baseball; editors of the Indian and Scout; and business managers of the Indian, Alfarata, Juniatian and Scout.

Others Are Unclassified

All other positions, including class and club officers not previously mentioned, are designated as unclassified.

The senators have made the suggestion that no senator be allowed to serve under another senator on any committee.

Following the plans requested by the 1950 Leadership Conference, the Senate has also formulated several suggestions concerning the nomination of officers for all classes and clubs. According to Hilton Hines, chairman of the elections committee, "Our purpose is to make provision for a fair and efficient system of nominations."

The recommendations are as follows:

- All candidates for office must be certified as being in good standing academically as certified by the Registrar's Office. That is, all candidates must not be on probation and must be a candidate for a degree.
- All candidates for office must certify their intention to continue to be included within the class or

Stone Church Spiritual Week Begins Sunday

Spiritual Emphasis Week at the Stone Church will begin Sunday. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Nevin Zuck, pastor of the Church of the Brethren at Elizabethtown, and pastor of the students at Elizabethtown College.

A graduate of Elizabethtown College, as well as the Eastern Baptist Seminary and the Mt. Airy Lutheran Seminary, both in Philadelphia, Rev. Zuck has held positions at Philadelphia, Ambler and Uniontown. He has also served as director and leader of summer camps.

According to Rev. John Middlekauff, Rev. Zuck's preaching mission in 1948 "was one of the most successful ever held. He is an excellent speaker and popular with students."

During the Spiritual Emphasis Services, Rev. Zuck will preach every evening at 7:30 in the Stone Church. He will be available for counseling to anyone interested.

Varsity Quartet Reorganizes

Clair Schaffner has been moved to first tenor in the Varsity Male quartet as a result of a "reorganization," according to Gerald Hartzel, also a member of the group. Ben Newcomer has been added to take Schaffner's place as second tenor.

Career Conference For Sub-Frosh Begins Today

The first in a series of six career conference weekends will be held here tomorrow and Sunday. Sub-freshmen interested in the fields of home economics or business administration will be guests of the College.

They will have an opportunity to visit classes and laboratories, live in the dormitories, tour the campus and attend the basketball game between Juniata and Franklin & Marshall Saturday night (see page 3).

Ciubs Will Entertain

Activities will be scheduled by the Tycoon and Outing clubs for these business administration-minded. Lambda Gamma will entertain those interested in home economics.

For the second consecutive year, Kay Wright is student coordinator for these six career-weekends. She will work with the administration, the different clubs on campus which represent the various fields of major interest, and those sub-freshmen coming in for the weekends.

Club Assistance An Inovation

The fact that the different clubs are working as a group to guide those interested in a particular field is a new feature this year.

Conferences are scheduled as follows: March 3-4, education; March 10-11, the arts and literature; March 17-18, science; April 7-8, social studies; and May 12, May Day.

Although May Day weekend is not actually a career weekend, all sub-freshmen will be invited to return at that time as guests of the College.

60 % Of $1951 JWSF Goal Met

Better than 60% of the 1951 Juniata World Service Drive goal of $1951 has been met in cash and pledges as the first week of the drive closes, figures released at Chapel today show.

Keith Binkley, treasurer for the drive, says that $1212.90 has been raised to date. He points out that the books will be officially closed Thursday and, along with chairman Jay Benedict, he urges that all contributions be made by that date.

Binkley

A breakdown of the figures to date shows that the campus clubs and organizations stand high on the list, statistically, chiefly because of the $200 contribution of the Juniata Christian Association. Two other clubs have made gifts, to bring the total to $245.

Friends of the College have met 65% of their goal of $200, while faculty and administration have contributed 51% or $172 in cash and pledges.

JWSF Springs From Student Aid Society

The predecessor to the present Juniata World Service Fund was the Aid Society, one of the first student organizations on campus.

Clothing to needy children in the vicinity of the College was supplied by the Aid Society through the cooperation of the student body.

Men went from house to house measuring the children. Then coeds made the garments from old clothing.

This work led to the establishment of a "Home for Orphan and Friendless Children," supported by both College students and townspeople.

Although the home is no longer in existence, the same spirit is carried on by JWSF.

Listening Hour May Be Held

There will be Listening Hour this Sunday in Swigart Hall, provided the phonograph is repaired. Watch the bulletin boards for further announcements.

Home Ec Day Set For Tuesday

Home Ec Day will be observed on campus Tuesday for the second consecutive year.

According to Jo Ann Barksdale, general chairman, projects made by home economics students will be displayed that day in the clothing and food labs and will be open to students' inspection. Jane Abel, Mary Lou McKee and Anna Mae Zimmerman are in charge of these displays.

Teas Set For 3:30 P. M.

A tea will be held from 3:30 to 5 p. m. in the Home Management House for all home economics students.

That evening the girls will sit together in the Dining Hall with several guests. Helen Maust is making arrangements for the dinner.

Dr. Hatcher To Speak

At 7:15 p. m. there will be a Lambda Gamma meeting in the clothing lab. Dr. Hazel Hatcher, professor of home economics education at Penn State, will be the guest speaker. Dr. Hatcher has recently returned from a trip to Germany and is expected to tell about some of her experiences abroad.

"The purpose of Home Ec Day," says Miss Barksdale, "is to bring the home economics students on campus closer together and to show the other students what we have accomplished during the year."

Wm. White Receives Scholarship From Elks For Scientific Ability

William White, a freshman day student from R D 1, Huntingdon, has received a scholarship from the Elks. A check for $300 was presented to him by Eugene R. Haag, representing the North Central District Student Aid Committee of the Elks.

The gift is to be applied to his education, and was awarded him on the basis of his scientific aptitude. The Huntingdon Lodge of the Elks had recommended to the district committee that White receive one of the six awards which are annually made in the district comprising 17 lodges in north, central Pennsylvania.

He is also the holder of the four-year state scholarship for 1950 in Huntingdon County.

Also present from Juniata when the award was made were Dean Melvin Rhodes and Morley Mays, Dr. Donald Rockwell and Dr. Raymond Davis, Jr.

From The Editor's Notes:---

What's With These Elections?

"Who's gonna win the Senate elections?"

A good question. Here's a better one: "What will they do after they're elected?"

We can't answer either of those questions, so we asked another question of the people elected last year to the four top Senate posts: "What sort of person would you ask to fill your job next year?"

The President

Answered Pres. Vern Showalter, "The main job of the Senate president is coordination. He must recognize the interests of the students, the administration and the faculty, and promote the best possible relationship between them all. You want someone with tact and organizational ability to handle this job."

Showalter

What else does the president do? ". . . Conduct meetings, translate student opinion to the Senate and the administration, and sound out student opinion," Vernon says. He adds, "The president must guide meetings so that both sides can express themselves.

"He must know and enforce parliamentary rules (Roberts Rules of Order). Under these regulations, a president doesn't vote except to break a tie. And he tries not to express his personal opinion but rather he strives to get other Senators to state theirs."

The position of Senate president, then, should call forth the highest administrative and diplomatic talent in the class of 1952. It's the highest office on campus.

The Vice-President

Vice-president "Skip" Hines says of his office, "You want a good organizer." The Senate veep must organize all student elections (including the one coming up Tuesday a week), plan leadership conference, keep tab of all club organizations, coordinate class activities and do numerous other organizing jobs.

Hines

Under his care comes the foreign students aid fund.

Most Senate committee chairmanships go to him (not to the president).

He takes over meetings in the absence of the president.

So you see, we want a man who enjoys detail. He'll have a lot of it to handle.

The Secretary

"A day student as a Senate member is at a disadvantage," warns Senate secretary Dottie Ann Humphries, a day student herself. "He has trouble keeping up with campus issues."

Humphries

She also feels that shorthand is needed by the Senate secretary if that officer is to be successful. "If the notes for the minutes are written in longhand, the entire meeting is delayed," Dottie Ann says.

The secretary must write and type letters, send out Senate agendas before each meeting, and write Leadership Conference resolutions in their final form (with the help of a committee).

In addition to all this, the secretary is a Senator, and as such must represent your views. There's a job ahead of you, voters, in filling that post.

The Treasurer

"The Senate treasurer is not just the man who handles funds for the Senate," treasurer Don Howe points out. "He is also central treasurer for all clubs and organizations on campus, from 'Firefly' on down."

Howe

For these duties an "understanding of debiting and crediting are required, and the guy who wants the job must necessarily have an interest in accounting," the treasurer says.

It is the only paying job on the Senate and the treasurer is the only man who is bonded.

"The Senate treasurer must be a business major," Don says, "for he has to be approved by the faculty economics department and Pres. Ellis before he may take office."

And so you have it. Now get out there and vote MY WAY, the only right way.

I vote as I see fit.

Schedule of Voting Procedure For 1951 Senate Elections

	Officers	Chairmanships
Petitions	Feb. 20-26	Feb. 27-March 5
Campaigning	Feb. 27-March 5	March 6-12

Cheaper Transcripts

It has been suggested that the charge of $1 for each transcript after the first might be a little high, especially since the cheaper duplicating method of making them is now being used.

We asked registrar Bill Engel. He told us:

- The average request is for only one or two transcripts, and most students never ask for any.
- If the charge were reduced, transcripts would be easier to obtain and would lose prestige.
- Most schools maintain this rate.

Tommy Is No More

Tommy is no more.

Twenty-four years ago, editor Tel Blough introduced him as a means of making sharp editorial comment without running afoul of Pres. Emeritus C. C. Ellis, who used to call Juniatian editors into his office weekly.

But today, Tommy has outlived his usefulness; he has become a gossip column of the type even many high school newspapers refuse to run.

So we introduce Teepee Topics. Let us know what you think.

TEEPEE TOPICS

by Joyce Bernard

What About The Tree?

Art Shriver, determined to show his ability as an equestrian, has found a job training horses. During one of their afternoon rides Art and the horse faced a problem—a tree. The horse went to the right, Art went to the left.

Each took separate paths to the stable.

Try Lifebouy

There has been a very odd aroma emerging from the Lodge recently. It seems one of the up and coming young chemists experimented with butyric acid by putting it under Howard Van Sicklen's bed. To return the compliment Howard sprayed the hall with the chemical.

It Says Here

It has been proved again that the students at Juniata are of a very brilliant calibre. Professor Nye asked his political science class, "What factors favor polygamy?" Some unknown, but intelligent voice from the back of the room promptly answered "Women."

What's The Score?

The Lodge was not the only place with an odd aroma. Joan Lenhardt and Joyce Butts created the same effect on third Brumbaugh when they satisfied their hunger for oysters by buying some.

How Romantic

The story has been told many times that when a boy and girl are miles from town the car either runs out of gas or has battery trouble. Last Friday night about 2 a. m. a car was traveling near Warrior's Ridge when suddenly the motor stalled and the lights went out. A very romantic setting, but the car's occupants—Cal Glazier, Bob Brumbaugh, Coy Hicks and Nick Bruno—saw no romance in the situation. After trying in vain to persuade Ted Colross to come after them, the stranded boys were finally rescued by Bud Kreider.

These Modern Gadgets

Dr. Crosby's American economic development class was very intent upon his lecture the other day when a sudden commotion occured. All sorts of metal objects flew through the air and from the front of the room Chris Kaltenborn meekly exclaimed, "Excuse me, my pencil exploded!" He had one of those "new fangled" mechanical pencils and the spring that held it together gave way.

The Juniatian

Movies Give Horses, Laughs

By FRANK HARLACHER

DALLAS—Westerns come and westerns go. The story remains constant, but the moviegoer should be able to sort the good from the bad and act accordingly.

Just a few hints. If the picture is in Technicolor and was made on one of the major Hollywood lots it can be classified in the "Top Budget" class. This type of western will make up for its never-changing plot with superb acting, realistic action and beautiful photography.

Cooper Back In Saddle

Such a movie is Warner Brothers' "Dallas" starring that veteran gun-slinger, Gary Cooper. His lanky, easy-going style gives the film a humorous touch.

The plot follows conventional style and has Cooper as an ex-Confederate Colonel on the trail of three bad men. His actions are unauthorized and Government-man Leif Erickson is chasing him. Gary takes over the role of marshall, rescues a ranch from villian Raymond Massey's clutches and wins a pardon together with Erickson's girl (Ruth Roman).

This technicolor motion picture was reviewed Good at New York. It runs 94 minutes and will play at the Harris Clifton Theatre next week.

BORN YESTERDAY—Columbia's screen adaption of Garson Kanin's successful stage play seems to have met with equal success. All the reports on this comedy are good—the rest is up to you.

The motion picture features Judy Holliday (stage actress) and Broderick Crawford (last year's Oscar winner).

Crawford is a millionaire junkman who comes to Washington to pull a couple of shady deals by means of government bribing. Miss Holliday, his fiancee, embarasses him with her awkward manners, so an honest reporter (William Holden) is employed to educate her.

Judy Turns Tables

This is a bad move for Crawford because Judy's education teaches her what a crook he is. She gains control of his fortune, marries Holden, and Broderick does not live happly ever after.

The comedy part is tucked in all through the plot and cannot be described in print. "Born Yesterday" was previewed at the Pantages Theatre in Hollywood where it was relished by press and public alike. The Hollywood reviewer rated the 104 minute feature Excellent. It will play next week at the Grand Theatre.

The JC Indians dropped their sixth straight game and their eleventh in 13 starts last Saturday night. Elizabethtown beat them 57-47.

A disastrous third period spelled the downfall for the Tribe. Ahead at the half-way mark by a 32-30 edge, the Indians could only hoop three foul shots in the third quarter. In this same period the E-town team scored 13. The E-town quintet also took the final period by a 14-12 count.

Park Held Down

Instrumental in the E-town rally in the second half was the close guarding of the high-scoring Indian, Karl Park. Park scored a big 16 points in the first half, 11 of which came in the first period. In the second half he was held to a slim four points.

Even so, Park shared scoring honors for the evening with E-town's Bill Foster. Both men had 20 points. Tommy Green and big Ed Brunner copped runner-up honors with 12 points.

Korody Plays Again

The Tribe again had the services of captain Ray Korody, who sat out the St. Francis game with an injured ankle.

Juniata had beaten the Blue Jays last December by a close 41-39 count, but E-town avenged this setback to record its thirteenth victory in 21 games.

Tribe Hosts To SU, F&M

by Ted McGuire

The Crusaders of Susquehanna University come to the high school court next Wednesday night to take on the Juniata Indians in a game that is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m.

The Staggmen will be out to avenge the 61-50 set-back handed them by the Tribe earlier in the season.

Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg, Jr. will field a starting line-up that shows Charley Zlock and Richie Young at the forward slots, Stan Manning at the pivot and Ed Menapace and Bob Henninger at the guard positions.

Susquehanna has lost a lot of height to the armed services in the person of Norm Fleisher, 6-5 sophomore. The Orange and Maroon will rely heavily on the services of Zlock and Manning.

Zlock has scored 15, 20 and 30 points in previous contests, while Manning threw in 21 in his debut against Ursinus.

Karl Park, who hit the hoop for 20 points in the first encounter, will lead the Indians as they attempt to ring up another win over the Crusaders. This will give the Tribe a sweep for the season.

by Jim Holsopple

Franklin and Marshall's Diplomats will provide the opposition when Juniata's Indians take to the high school court tomorrow night. This game will be the last Saturday contest and the next to last game of the season.

Senior Leads Team

The F & M team will be led by rugged John Hartman. Hartman is the captain and only senior on the team. Playing as a forward and guard last year, this 5-11 hawk amassed 174 points. This total gave him the third spot among Diplomat scorers.

Other seasoned performers expected to support Hartman are guards Bill MacNulty and Mike Maggio and center George Albright. All these men are juniors and stand under six feet tall.

Height From Sophs

Height is furnished to the Diplomats by their sophomore contingent. Walt Lenz is the tallest man on the team. Standing four inches over six feet and playing the center slot, he has been a consistent double figure man.

Other sophomores who will see action are forwards Dick Patterson and Jerry Bordner. Norm Plitt takes care of a reserve guard position.

Trojans vs JayVees

Bill Smaltz' Jayvee quintet will take on the Trojans, intramural basketball leaders, tomorrow night. This game will precede the varsity game and will start at 7 p. m.

Included on the Trojan roster are such high scoring aces as Ray Tesi and Gerry Walker. Bud Kreider, Art Allen and Walt Parks also get in a lot of action.

Baseball Manager Is Needed

An assistant baseball manager is needed for the forthcoming season. Anyone interested, freshmen particularly, should see Bob Asan.

Tribe Outlasts Dutchmen, 74-72

by Jim Giordano

In what was unquestionably the season's most exciting game, Juniata's fighting Indians scored a stunning 74-72 upset triumph over Lebanon Valley here on Wednesday night.

It was the third victory of the year for Coach Greene's proteges and sweet revenge for an earlier defeat suffered at the hands of the Dutchmen.

31 Point Second Period

Playing inspired ball, the Warriors ran wild in the second period to amass a total of 31 points and wipe out an earlier nine point deficit. Lebanon Valley, fighting desperately, rallied in the last quarter, but the tiring Indians held on to emerge with their two point victory.

Juniata's shooting was tremendous as they hit with 53.7% of their shots, making 32 out of 63. Karl Park led the way with 23 points, while Leo Kuhn, Tommy Green and Ray Korody chipped in with 14, 13 and 12 points respectively.

Al Murawski, however, was the high scorer for the evening as he tallied 27 for the visitors.

Another Defeat

With the close of the first quarter it looked like just another Juniata defeat, as the Flying Dutchmen held a commanding 23-14 lead. Then the Tribe caught fire and were unstoppable, as they battled to a 45-36 half-time advantage.

The third period saw the Warriors hike their lead to 58-47. In the final quarter three of Juniata's starting five fouled out and the Dutchmen began to whittle the Indian lead.

The game ended in a frenzy with Juniata freezing the ball and the upset was complete.

Richman Sets Pace In IM Scoring Race

Playing without the services of air force-bound Ray Tesi, the Trojans increased their lead over the second place BTO's to 1½ games Monday through a 56-18 victory over the BeBopper's.

In the only other game played in the intramural basketball league this week, the Sneaks climbed into fourth place by beating Beta $ 2 36-29 on the strength of a first half splurge.

Team standings as of Feb. 20, 1951:

	W	L	Pct.
Trojans	10	0	1.000
BTO's	8	1	.889
YHO's	8	2	.800
Sneaks	6	2	.750

Outdoor Practice For Baseball Squad

Initial practices have been held for the baseball team. About 15 men have showed up for these first informal throwing sessions. These sessions have been held in the grandstand overlooking the diamond.

As soon as the weather breaks the whole team will move onto the field to begin intensive practice for the season's opener against Lebanon Valley.

Park Nears Record

As a result of Wednesday night's efforts, Karl Park is within range of Juniata's all-time scoring record. Park has 250 points and needs 48 more to tie the record set by Holmes Ulsh.

Park's present average is 17.9 points per game, but he has sunk 43 points in the last two games against E-town and Lebanon Valley.

Motley Crew Top Girls Team

The Motley Crew, undefeated in four years, beat the Oneida Hotshots in a battle for first place in the girls' basketball league. The score was 28-23 and the defeat pushed the Hotshots into second place.

Janet Cline is leading the scorers with 95 points, while Dolly Shaffer is second with 88.

Scientists' Pay Averages Less In Education

Salary levels of the nation's top scientists are considerably lower in college and universities than in either government or private industry. Earnings are generally higher in private industry.

These facts appear in a recent study made by the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Mostly Research Workers

The scientists studied were mostly research workers; next came teachers. Chemists were by far the largest group, with biologists and engineers following in that order.

Educational institutions were the principle field of employment for leading scientists with private industry second and government third.

For PH D's—$7.000

For Ph D's the median salary in industry was $7,000 a year, in government $6,280, and in education $4,860. The engineers had the highest median salary and the biologists the lowest.

Generally, the older men received higher salaries than their younger colleagues.

51% Of Student Goal Met

Of the student goal of $1150 ($2 average per person), only $669.90 or 51% has been collected.

The girl's dorm has raised a total of $217.70. Brumbaugh and Oneida Halls have the highest percentages, with 99.8% and 98.9% respectively. Geiger House has raised 83% of their goal.

$102 From Lodge

In the Lodge, $102 out of an expected $128 has been solicited. The arch of the Cloister has contributed 76% or $46, and the wing 79.9% or $131.10.

Of the total amount received, $996.30 has been in cash, and $215.60 in pledges.

Cordier, '50, Wins NewScholarship

Sherwood Cordier, '50, has been awarded an international scholarship by the Rotary Foundation. His choice of European graduate school is the Institute of International Studies of Geneva, Switzerland, where he will study next year.

At present, he is doing graduate work at Yale University.

Cordier majored in history at Juniata. He was considered "an outstanding student" according to the College office and also passed his comprehensive examination "with distinction."

While at Juniata, he took an acive part in the IRC. His interest in this was in keeping with a family tradition, as his uncle is an administrative assistant to Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations.

On Other Campuses

by "D D" Silldorff

From the MacPherson College "Spectator" comes this little gem of wisdom. It seems that upon being asked by a history professor "What motive do you think John Wilkes Booth had for shooting President Lincoln?" some blooming young history student replied, "Well, I guess he didn't like him very much!"

From Bradley out in Peoria, Ill., we hear a most remarkable bit of news. In this day of "basketball attendance" there still seems to be a spark of the true rooter. The fans of Bradley have taken to buying their tickets for games five years in advance and usually rush home from each game to their radios where they hear a re-broadcast of the game for points they may have missed. The next morning the Bradley fans eagerly search through the morning papers for additional details.

And then we have Juniata.

Davidson College in North Carolina has started a relatively new angle in this business of College Stores. They have opened on campus a self-service store. The prices of all the store's merchandise are plainly marked and the cash drawer is left open. The students add up their own bills and drop the money in the cash drawer as they leave. This plan seems to have worked quite successfully at Washington & Lee in Virginia too.

Friml Writes First Operetta In Emergency

The composer of the music for "Firefly," the forthcoming student musical here, began writing popular music because no one else could be found to do the job.

Rudolf Friml had, by 1912, become relatively well-known as a concert pianist and the composer of some serious music—a Piano Concerto, a Ballet Suite and the like.

Then an emergency substitute was needed for Victor Herbert to create a vehicle for Emma Trentini, one of the top sopranos of the day. The historic result was Friml's first musical comedy, the first of a series of successes, "The Firefly."

Today the composer lives in comfortable retirement in Hollywood where he has cooperated in the filming of some of his most popular works, including "Firefly." Not long ago he contributed an entirely new score to the motion picture "Northwest Passage," starring Nelson Eddy.

America became Friml's permanent home, but neither he nor his music ever became particularly Americanized. He writes in the Viennese style of a Strauss or a Lehar.

Oller Hall Organ Still Not Working

"About 1/5 or 1/6 of the Oller Hall organ is still out of commission," Prof. Donald Johnson reports.

Rain damage forced the College to send the reed pipes to Hagerstown, Md. for repairs. These will be completed "by late March or April."

Elections, Speaker Fill Club Agenda

By DOTTIE HUMMER

Lambda Gamma Offices Filled

Our conscientious campus clubs are once more doing their duty by generously contributing to the Juniata World Service Fund Drive (see story, page 1). To date the clubs as a group have almost reached their allotted goal.

The Debate Club has announced that they will meet Muhlenberg College here next Friday afternoon to discuss the question "Resolved that a new International Non-Communist Organization be established." The group will also make a trip to the eastern section of Pa. Tuesday.

During a recent debate on the same issue with Elizabethtown College, the negative team won, thus giving the Juniata team a rating of one win, one lost and one tie.

Officers for the new year will be elected at the Outing Club meeting next Friday evening. The group is making tentative plans for a swimming and skating party, which will probably be held sometime in the near future.

The Lambda Gamma will hold their regular meeting Tuesday at 7:15 p. m. in the Home Ec Lab. As this is Home Ec Day, a special program is being planned (see story on page 1). During a recent business meeting Helen Maust was chosen to preside as the new president; while Janet Carper will be vice-president; Martha Petre, secretary; and Dorcas Mertz, treasurer.

An outline of II Timothy, Chapter 3 will be reviewed by Carl Rutherford at the IVCF meeting Thursday evening. The group will meet in the Women's Day Student Room at 7 p. m.

A discussion of script-in-hand plays and a review of the constitution are on the agenda for the Mesoue meeting to be held Thursday at 7 p. m. in the Old Chapel.

The movie "The Makings of a Shooter" was shown at the Sportsman Club meeting Thursday evening. The meeting was concluded with the serving of refreshments.

JCA will present a movie entitled "The African Prince" at its next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday at 7. Announcement will be made later concerning the place the meeting is to be held.

'South Pacific' Influenced By 'Firefly' Author

by Jim Streiner

Otto Harbach is partly responsible for "South Pacific."

The author of the book and lyrics of "The Firefly" is the fellow who first took "South Pacific" author Oscar Hemmerstein in hand and taught him the tricks of the trade.

Says Hammerstein, "Harbach believes that a musical play should not be just a collection of jokes, pretty girls and dance-able tunes. He was the one who taught me that the music, the songs in particular, should form an integral part of a logical plot with human interest."

"The Firefly" is one of Harbach's earliest attempts in this direction. Since then he has written such integrated hits as "Rose Marie," "The Desert Song" and "No, No, Nanette." From "Roberta" came one of his biggest individual song hits, 'Smoke Gets In Your Eyes."

Before becoming a lyricist, Harbach was a professor of English, and later, a newspaper and advertising man.

Along with Victor Herbert, Harbach helped found the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers.

ASCAP, of which he is now president, is an organization to protect the copyrights of members.

IRC To Hear Friends Worker

Ray Hartsough, College Secretary for the American Friends Service Committee in the Middle Atlantic Region, will be on campus Thursday as guest of the IRC. That evening at 7 p. m. he will speak to the group on the topic "The Voice of America and the Race Problem."

Has Served As Pastor

Mr. Hartsough is a graduate of Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio and the Hartford Theological Seminary. Serving as pastor for many years, his special concern was for the welfare of small communities.

In 1949, he accepted an invitation from the American Friends Service Committee to go to Palestine. During that time he was a Quaker Representative, working with thirteen thousand Arab refugees. He also visited Quaker work in Switzerland, Germany and France.

Directed Boys Farm

During the Summer of 1950, Mr. Hartsough was Director of the American Friends Service Committee Work Camp in West Virginia at Boys Farm, a home for underprivileged boys. Within a few months, the Work Campers had completed many valuable work projects, beside providing wholesome thoughts and activities for the boys and the farm.

- A majority (51%) of the organization must be present for the nomination to be valid.
- Nominations for office should be in the order as follows: president. vice-president, secretary and treasurer.
- There should be at least three nominees for each office.
- Nominations of officers should take place at a meeting of the club preceding the meeting for the election of officers.

Also, all elections should be completed by March 16 and the results reported to Hines immediately.

4 Top Senators Will Be Elected At Polls Tuesday

The four top posts of the 1951-52 Senate will be filled Tuesday from a list of ten candidates.

Running for these positions are the following juniors: president, Art Allen and Don Treese; vice-president, Betty Longwell, Jack Malenke, Ray Siren and Joe Thomasberger; secretary, Dottie Hummer and Lois Miller; and treasurer, George Cruser and Tommy Green.

President

Allen

Allen, a business major from Greensburg, Pa., visualizes a Senate which "presents the opinions of the students as a whole, presents both sides of questions and coordinates student activities with the faculty." If elected president of the Senate, Allen hopes to help "students take more interest in the Senate by providing for more open meetings."

His experience along the executive line has been received as J Club and junior class presidents. Allen also served as class treasurer for two years and participated in the Tycoon Club, Indian and Scout staffs, golf team and intramurals.

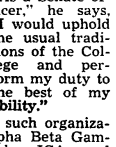
"If elected, I plan to continue the same program adopted by this year's Senate," says Treese, a pre-ministerial student from Williamsburg, Pa. He also would attempt to "cultivate greater interest in the Senate, point out the accomplishments made during the year and see to it that the Senate really reflects student opinion and not personal prejudices."

Treese

Treese served on the Senate this year as chairman of religious activities and is president of the JCA. He was recently named to the Dean's List for the fifth consecutive semester and is also a member of the Honor Society.

Vice-President

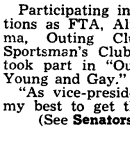
An elementary education major from Tyrone, Pa., Betty Longwell has served as Radio Committee Chairman for the past year. At present she is co-chairman for both the Junior Reception and the "Firefly" ticket committee. She also attended Leadership Conference and is an FTA member.



Miss Longwell

As vice-president, Miss Longwell would like to see "more cooperation between students, faculty, administration and Senate."

Another elementary education major, Jack Malenke hails from Parkerford, Pa. "As a Senate officer," he says, "I would uphold the usual traditions of the College and perform my duty to the best of my ability."



Malenke

Participating in such organizations as FTA, Alpha Beta Gamma, Outing Club, JCA and Sportsman's Club, Malenke also took part in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

"As vice-president I would do my best to get the clubs which

'Firefly' Is Progressing

Directors List Their Individual Problems

by Margie Alleman

"It takes time, patience and imagination," say Prof. Donald Johnson, Prof. Jack Brammer and Miss Lois Esaley, directors of the All-College musical, "The Firefly," which will be presented in Oller Hall Mar. 9 and 10 at 8:15 p. m.

Another difficulty, not found in musical productions of the two previous years, is the fact that the show is in modern dress. Says Prof. Johnson, chorus director, "It takes twice as much acting on the students' parts to make the audience feel that they are someone else."

The title "Firefly," continued Prof. Johnson, is given to the show because the plot centers around a case of mistaken identity. "But of course," he adds, "everything turns out all right in the end, producing a happy, light operetta."

Conductor Prof. Brammer stated that the 18 members of the orchestra have a difficult time reading the manuscripts that the music is written on. "For an operetta such as this," he explained, "the music for the orchestra is all written out by hand and appears to the unexperienced person as a sort of musical hieroglyphic. But after it's all figured out," he says, "it comes up to a very melodious tuneful work."

Getting the whole thing to run smoothly is one of the chief worries of Miss Esaley, who is directing the dramatic end of the show. Transitions must be work-

Honor Students Inducted Mon.

Seven juniors were inducted into the Juniata Honor Society in Chapel Monday. They are Margie Alleman, Tom Gates, Doug Martin, Lois Miller, Joan Sharp, Ray Siren and Don Treese.

Members are chosen by a committee composed of Pres. Calvert Ellis, two faculty members and the president and secretary-treasurer of the society. This committee considers as qualifications for membership scholarly achievements, moral integrity and broad cultural interests.

As stated in the constitution, the purpose of this organization is "to elevate the general scholastic standing of Juniata College and to honor those who attain outstanding scholarship."

Firefly To Be Given On JC's Radio Show

Want a preview of "The Firefly," the operetta to be staged March 9 and 10 in Oller Hall?

Dial WHUN 8:30 p. m. Wednesday to hear "Juniata on the Air" present musical excerpts and a review of the cast. The program will be under the direction of the radio committee and the advertising committee of the operetta.

Dick Akers will spin the records on "Turntable Terrace" Tuesday, while disc-jockeys Betty Longwell and Bob Champion will be in charge Thursday.

Dean To Be Frosh Speaker

Dean Spencer will be speaker at freshman orientation assembly at 2:45 p. m. this afternoon.

JWSF Still $190.10 Short Of Goal

The Juniata World Service Fund Drive is $190.10 short of its $1951 goal. As of last night $1760.90 had been given in cash and pledges.

Clubs and organizations were the outstanding contributers, giving 225% of their goal of $250, or $454. Newest contributers other than those reported in last week's Juniatian are the A Cappella Choir, IRC, Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, Lambda Gamma, Sigma Gamma and the newly-formed Sportsmen Club. Each of the classes has given except the Freshman class which however, has pledged.

Only 67% From Students

Student participation has only reached 67% of its goal of $1150. When the student goal was set, $2 was suggested as the minimum for each contribution. But the Juniata student body has given only a little over $1 per student. Only one hall has given 100% cash to the drive. That is the Oneida section of the girl's dorm. Many others, according to Keith Binkley, treasurer, are nearing the goal of 100% in cash and pledges.

Friends of the college have given $46 over their goal of $200. Most of the contributions have been from parents of the students.

Faculty and administration are behind their goal of $351 by having only $285 in cash and pledges.

Deadline Is Monday

The total picture shows that students and faculty need to give as well as the clubs and friends of the College, before the goal can be realized. Only the week-end is left before the deadline on Monday, and $190.10 to go.

Jay Benedict, chairman of the drive, urges that all the students and faculty support the only Senate-sanctioned drive, the JWSF.

JC To Be Evaluated

Committee To Study Program Next Week

An evaluation committee of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools will visit Juniata Tuesday through Thursday, according to President Calvert Ellis.

Five phases of the College program will be reviewed: objectives, program, organization, facilities and outcomes.

From these on the spot findings and the answers to a questionnaire, the committee will prepare a report to the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the Association.

Juniata was first accredited by the Middle States Association in 1922. According to the minutes of the Association, each institution shall be evaluated every ten years.

Members of the evaluation committee are Miss Margaret T. Corwin, dean of New Jersey College for Women, New Brunswick, N. J., chairman of the committee: Dr. Francis R. B. Godolphin, dean of the college, Princeton, N. J.; Dr. M. Ellis Drake, president of Alfred College, Alfred, N. Y.; Dr. L. W. Herron, dean of the faculty, Clarkson College of Technology, Potsdam, N. Y.; Joseph H. Brewer, associatt librarian, Queens College, Flushing, N. Y.

Alumnus, 1928 Will Speak Fri.

The Rev. George Detwiler, alumni representative on the College Board of Trustees and a former pastor of the Stone Church, will be the Chapel speaker next Friday.

A Juniata graduate, he received his bachelor of music degree in 1928. He has just been presented with an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Pa. Recently he and his wife returned from a trip to Europe.

Chapel speaker Monday will be Prof. Paul Yoder. Wednesday, Prof. G. Wayne Glick plans a worship service.

Dues Day Set For Monday

Monday is Class Dues Day. Dues will be collected by representatives from the four classes from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. in front of Students Hall.

Dining Hall Is Improved

Equipment Ordered, Thanks To Senate

The administration has agreed to purchase two new pieces of dining hall equipment as the result of Senate investigation and report, according to Senate president Vernon Showalter. This was revealed at the regular Senate meeting Monday.

Also at this meeting the question of a more "impressive and active" Move-Up Day was discussed, the dance band was ordered paid and an offer to help "in any way possible when the evaluation committee comes" (see story elsewhere on this page) was passed and sent to the administration.

A Coat Rack And Loudspeaker

Dining hall equipment to be purchased following the Senate suggestions will be an additional coat rack for the new dining hall entrance and a loudspeaker to be installed in the serving room. This will be connected with the dining hall public address system.

According to Showalter, the coat rack is to be of the same metal design as that already in use along one wall of the entrance. It will replace the wooden rack now running through the center of the entranceway.

No Neglect of Duties

The new loudspeaker will enable the waitresses to keep up with all announcements without neglecting their serving room duties.

To complete the Move-Up Day ceremonies Mar. 21, the Senate voted to have the newly-installed Senators join them in the evening meal.

Career Conferences Will Begin Saturday

Sub-freshmen interested in both elementary and secondary education will invade the campus tomorrow for the second career conference weekend.

Plans for the conference have been made by the FTA. According to Kay Wright, student co-ordinator for these career weekends, the program will include class visitations, campus tour, conferences with members of the Education Dept. and the Talent Show in the evening.

Professor Johnson Makes Additions To 'Firefly' Chorus

A number of additions to the chorus for "Firefly" have been announced by director Donald Johnson.

They include the following:

Harris's 'Thing' On Talent Show

Phil Harris's "Thing" will hold the spotlight tomorrow at the social committee sponsored Talent Night which will begin at 8:30 in the gym.

"We are momentarily expecting a package containing (the subject of the famed orchestra leader's much-touted hit song about a mystery object)," gleefully reports social chairman Bob Elder. "We asked for it on a dare; now we hope we can handle it."

Masters of ceremony Walt Bandurak and Fred Shamlian also list a number of additional faculty and student dancing, singing and novelty acts on the evening's entertainment schedule. Among others, "Bev Chamberlain will dance, Joy Truxal is to sing and Spanish dances will be offered by the Carfora twins."

Following the show, refreshments will be served in the gym, under the direction of Beanie Roberts. There will also be informal dancing.

'.....more control of your life than.....'

(This is the second in a series of editorials devoted to the Student Senate and the people who make it go. Last week we discussed the duties of the four top officers for whom you will ballot Tuesday—see story on page 1. This week we investigate the constitutional duties of the Senate chairmen up for election Mar. 13. Next week—statements from the retiring and succeeding presidents.)

You are about to elect eight new Senate chairmen. Along with their four big brothers—president, vice president, secretary and treasurer—they will have more control of your life in the next year than perhaps you care to believe. Let's look at the requirements.

Athletics

The entire program of intramural sports is in the hands of the chairman of activities. The Senate constitution says he must "formulate and carry out a comprehensive program of student sports activities."

Each chairman has a group of assistants or associates which he appoints with the approval of the rest of the Senate. The chairman of athletics may appoint a five man committee as his aides.

Automatically, this chairman is the student representative on the Faculty Athletic Council, the only Senator to be so connected with a faculty committee in his field.

Underclassmen

Along with his two committees—one for each sex—the chairman of underclassmen is constitutionally responsible for the supervision of a "program of orientation for all new students." There are four seniors and three juniors on each of these committees.

If initiation programs are practiced, they are under the supervision of the underclass chairman. He is in charge of the student counseling program (big-brother, big-sister plan), with the advice of the deans of students and the underclassmen faculty advisor. In addition, he is "to aid in advising the freshmen in organizing their classes and class activities."

Men's House

"It shall be the duty of the chairman of men's house, through his committee, to see that proper order and quiet is maintained in the dorms during study hours, and to promote the maximum amount of cooperation in dormitory life," the Senate constitution says.

This chairman is associated with the men's house committee, which is made up of representatives of each of the men's dorms, appointed by the chairman, subject to Senate approval. The dean of students is also a member of this committee. Only the men students vote for this chairman.

Women's House

Constitutionally, the chairman of women's house has duties similar to the chairman of men's house. She is elected by the women students only.

General Activities

Presidents of all the authorized campus clubs form the committee on clubs with which the Senate chairman of general activities associates. It is the duty of this chairman and his committee to supervise All Class Night, May Day, the Christmas activities and Move-Up Day.

He assists faculty and administration committees in planning for Mountain Day, Homecoming Day and Parent's Day. General club activities also are under his care. The chairman of the student life calendar and he are co-chairmen of the calendar commitee.

Publications

Says the Senate constitution, "It shall be the duty of the chairman of publications to maintain high standards in student publications and to publicize the activities of the Senate." This is done through close association with radio committee chairman and editors of the Juniatian, Alfarata and Scout.

His only active connection with any of these publications, however, is the constitutional requirement that he "recommend for appointment the editor, business manager and advertising manager of the Scout to the faculty publications committee by the beginning of the Spring term." These appointments are subject to Senate approval.

Religious Activities

Spiritual Emphasis Week is the biggest annual responsibility of the Senate chairman of religious activities. He plans and executes this in cooperation with the faculty chairman of religious activities.

In addition, this Senate chairman is required to "supervise all student religious activities on campus and to stimulate the spiritual life of the students." He is assisted by a committee of five students he appoints, subject to Senate approval.

Social Activities

Providing "a varied and adequate program of social activities for the student body" is the constitutional duty of the Senate chairman of social activities. Aiding him in this job is a committee composed of "not less than seven students, appointed by the chairman subject to Senate approval." He also serves on the calendar committee.

Add 'em all up. And then remember this: they're twice as much as that, for they are Senators too. They don't just plan May Day or name the Scout editor; they legislate too—on matters that concern you, and you, and YOU.

Scrappings From The Hell Box

● The Hell Box, in printer's lingo, is the scrap box where metal odds and ends are thrown for processing. For our purposes, it covers all the bits and pieces of ideas that constantly cross an editor's desk, or more rarely, his mind.

● "Skip" Hines, boss man of the Senate election committee, told us the other day that at least two candidates for each office must appear on the ballots. When only one person has petitioned, the Senate names another. Even at that though, two candidates against each other is hardly a fair race. Moral of the story: nominate somebody for an office; it's more fun, and certainly more democratic, if you do your own thinking than if you wait for the Senate to do it for you.

● The boys in the Lodge asked us to pass on their thanks to whoever was responsible for the new booth which has been built around their telephone. Paul Friend's reply when we told him: "All they had to do was ask." According to him, people gripe about things like that, but never think to pass on the gripe to someone in a position of power.

● Elsewhere on this page is a new column, "The Spectator." We gave Ray Siren free rein, telling him to write weekly on anything he chooses. If you like it, or don't, holler, and we'll make changes in policy accordingly.

● We forgot to mention this last week, but these pages are open to anyone wishing to publish a letter boasting a candidate for election, or in any other subject. Keep 'em short, though.

Spectator: HMMMMM....

by Ray Siren

This first edition of "The Spectator" is designed to bring to the general student body a consensus of the dormitory bull-session, the discussions over a cup of coffee at Skip's, and the usual conversation among average Juniata College students.

The sex of this columnist limits the dormitory research to that most hallowed of halls, the Cloisters, but I'm sure discussions of a similar nature are heard in the other place. At any rate, I've found that one point of interest stands head, shoulders and one might say, body above the others.

By now you may have guessed this topic, unless you're dull, ignorant or otherwise normal. Yes indeed, this problem began when co-education became the vogue and has never been more publicized than it is now. We exhibit it in the halls and doorways, we inquire after one's success at it, and perhaps too frequently, we find ourselves dreaming of new and better approaches.

After listening carefully to what seems to be the consensus of opinion and noting how many different techniques are presented (although all with the same end in view), I am glad to report to you that frustrations are fast becoming conquered. Even the person whom you least suspect in making headway at it.

In short, this topic is one which no-one, no matter how backward, can deny importance. Oh yes, the topic is "How to make points with, and influence professors."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Supports Treese For Pres.

After working with Don Treese on the JCA cabinet this past year, I am convinced that he is an outstanding leader, well-qualified to serve the student body as president of the Senate. Much of the success of the JCA in its initial year can be attributed to Don's ability to coordinate its activities.

We, as students, expect a Senate president to be sincere in purpose, capable in leadership and alert to the interests of students and faculty. Don has proved that he has these qualities by his past acheivements. With previous experience as an organization president, and having shown his academic ability (Dean's List—5 consecutive semesters), Don Treese shows excellent potentialities of being a capable, sucessful Senate president.

Mary Lou McKee

Endorses Hummer For Sec.

Experience is an important quality to look for in selecting an officer of any organization. That is why I consider Dottie Hummer well qualified to represent the student body as secretary of the Senate.

Dottie attended Lancaster Business College for two years before coming here. There she learned typing and shorthand, which the present Senate secertary, Dottie Ann Humphries, considers an important asset (according to last week's Juniatian). She has done secretarial work for the past four summers. In addition, Dottie has been junior class secretary and secretary of the Alpha Beta Gamma.

Added to this extensive secretarial experience is her leadership ability, friendliness and willingness to express the desires of the student body.

All of these facts add up to one thing—Dottie Hummer for Senate secretary!

Royalsy And Riders At Movies

By FRANK HARLACHER

MUDLARK—When a major Hollywood studio such as 20th Century Fox thinks enough of a British-made film to release it in the U. S., we can conclude that it must have some outstanding qualities of entertainment. I say this because this particular major studio is not in the habit of releasing foreign made motion pictures as is the practice of such corporations as Eagle Lion and Universal International.

The story of the "Mudlark" is part of an English legend and refers to some of the history of that country. The action takes place during the reign of Queen Victoria and features Andrew Ray, a little orphan-scamp, who while roaming the banks of Thames in search of useable junk finds a medallion bearing the head of the queen.

Off To See The Queen

This incident plants in the mind of the "mudlark" a desire to see the queen. In satisfying this desire he creates chaos at Windsor Castle. This involves such things as starting rumors of attempts on the sovereign's life and being the instrument of an involved plot of the Prime Minister (Alec Guinness). The remainder of the movie is filled with the amusing adventures of the "mudlark" in the castle.

Irene Dunne plays Queen Victoria and indeed she looks like a queen. Whether she gets into the character she portrays remains to be judged by the observer.

The 99 minute screenplay is based on Theodore Bonnet's novel of the same name and will play next week at the Clifton. The comment of the New York reviewer is "a somewhat slow action picking up speed toward the conclusion"' He rated it Good.

VENGEANCE VALLEY— A genuine portrayal of characters is a worthwhile accomplishment for any motion picture. When a top notch western has this attribute together with a sightly different plot structure we can say that it is definitely unusual.

Different is definitely the word because "Vengence Valley" gives us the problem of an illegitimate child and tells of the efforts of no-account brothers to square things in an aggresive manner. Burt Lancaster as the loyal fosterson of an old rancher, plays the hero and furnishes us with realistic rib-roaring western action.

Walker Causes Trouble

Robert Walker as the younger blood-son is the cause of all Burt's trouble. He is untrue to his wife and has ulterior motives as to his share in the ranch. Lancaster covers for him, until a gun duel late in the movie decides the issue.

In presenting this new angle, I think that Metro Goldwyn Mayer has succeeded in presenting a "western what is a western" with all the usual elements: Love, Technicolor and Action.

So-o-o, if you like westerns, but are tired of the usual, try "Vengeance Valley" for size and let me know what you think. The running time—83 minutes, the New York reviewers rating—Very Good and the theatre—Grand, next week.

RAVING BEAUTIES— Last Thursday night at midnight the witches were out in full force. Amid loud noises from the fire alarm bell the girls paraded into the gym. The purpose of initiation was to make the girls look funny, but the fire drill did a better job.

GESUNDHEIT!—The serene silence of Mr. Bartha's biological science class this week was broken by a loud sneeze from Nancy McCahan which discombobulated her silver belt. With every one of Mr. Bartha's words a piece of silver fell to the floor. People have been heard of busting their buttons from pride, but bursting a belt from a sneeze is a new twist.

TEAM WORK—Since the beginning of girls' intramural basketball, the Oneida Hotshots have had as their mascot a large yellow dog named "George." As the result of a recent blessed event "George's" offspring, "Georgianna," made her appearance at the last game. It's a good thing "George" isn't a rabbit!

Indian Scalps

Interim Sports ?

by Bob Asan

It seems that basketball on College Hill is a sport that is played between football and baseball. At least that is the opinion of some after the recognition the team didn't get after beating Lebanon Valley last week. That was the first time since the season of '28-'29 that the Indians beat the Dutchmen.

Surely someone on the faculty or administration knew of this. And, if they did, the team should have gotten some formal recognition of their feat.

The possibility is great that the situation was not known. If that is the case no oversight can be charged. However, this column would like to offer its congratulations to the team and hope that the rest of the folks on campus do the same.

Records and Crow

Further checking of records shows that Holmes Ulsh did not set the all-time scoring record for one season here at JC. The record was set in the season of 1944-'45 by Dick Wareham.

Dick netted 353 points in 20 games for an average of 17.7 per game. Dick also hold the single game high with 42 points against Susquehanna.

Good Old Days

Juniata has not had a winning year in basketball since the season of '45-'46. That year they had a record of 13 and six. Among their victims were Carnegie Tech, Dickinson, E-town, Susquehanna and St. Francis. They beat all these teams twice that season and one of the St. Francis games went to the Indians by a score of 91-46.

Previous to that season the Indians didn't have a winning team since the '33-'34 campaign when they won seven out of 12.

On Your Marks

You track men had better start getting in shape 'cause the Gold Medal X-Country run is going to be held shortly, March 22 to be exact. Mike Snider, the sponsor of the race, is offering three prizes again this year. These prizes are tie-clasps with runners on them. A gold clasp will go to the first place runner.

Another pre-season track attraction is the Interclass Meet to be held April 4. Last year the sophomores won the meet.

JC 2nd At State; Play At Lycoming

Last Saturday afternoon Juniata's representatives finished in second place at the Penn State Play Day. Tomorrow they will travel to Williamsport to take part in Lycoming College's Play Day.

The girls won the basketball competition by beating Bucknell and Lycoming by convincing scores. They beat Bucknell 19-5 and Lycoming 18-8.

Carroll Borden led the swimming team to a second place finish. She finished first in the crawl and also took a second place.

Other sports that the girls took part in were bowling and badminton.

Hackett High Scorer

The Juniata College Jayvee outfit closed their 1950-51 campaign with a rousing 77-63 victory over the Susquehanna Jayvees.

Juniata, paced by Dave Hackett, jumped off to a big 22-9 first quarter lead and were never headed. The half time tally was 38-28 and at the three quarter mark the locals led 58-43.

Five of the little Indians hit for double figures. Hackett led the scoring with 19 points to pull down Jayvee scoring laurels for the year.

John Gates rang up 16 big points, John Thomas 14, Dave LeFevre 11 and Chuck Knox ten. "Monk" Simon contributed a last second floor length field goal to bring down the house.

Green Paces Team In Foul Shooting; Scored 167 Points

Teaming up with Karl Park at forward for the Indians this year is Tommy Green. Green, at 5-10, is small as present-day players go, but he has done all right for himself.

He was the second highest scorer on the team. In 16 games this year he sank 167 points for an average of 10.4 per game. His season high came at Albright when he netted 18 points.

Led Team In Foul Shooting

Green paced the team in foul shooting with an average of .803. He converted 53 out of 66 and at one time had a string of ten straight. Another time he hit for 13 out of 14.

This is Green's seventh basketball campaign. And, if past honors mean anything he is quite a ball player. As evidence of this is the Most Valuable Player award he got in 1948. This came from the Burlington, N. J., County League.

Another honor in the form of the Naismith Memorial Trophy came his way in 1948.

Junior Class Member

A junior, Green is just in his first year here at JC. His first two collegiate years were spent at the College of South Jersey.

While he played for South Jersey the team finished second in the New Jersey Junior College Conference. His high school took a championship in 1948.

Would Like To Coach

Coaching holds an interest for Green and he would like to get into the field, especially coaching kids in the junior high school level.

Besides being a basketball player, Green also goes in for the diamond sport. He is a pitcher and expects to report to Coach Bill Smaltz as soon as basketball is finished.

Indians Split Last Two Games

Park Scores 23 In Indian Defeat

With 6-4 Walt Lenz leading the way, the Diplomats of Franklin & Marshall scored a 73-65 win over the Indians last Saturday night. The Diplomats posted a 22-14 point first period lead and then hung on for the rest of the game.

Lenz dunked 19 points, while Norm Plitt and Kenny Kratz sank 17 and 15 respectively. However, the leading scorer of the game was Karl Park with 23 points.

Kratz, in addition to his scoring punch, contributed much to the F & M offense by his smooth ball-handling and play making. It was he who made the plays work.

On defense the Indians relied on the zone until late in the third period. Then they switched to a pressing defense with Tommy Green leading the way. This defense was quite effective when it was used.

Score by periods:

F & M	22	14	19	18—73
JC	14	16	18	17—65

Three Lettermen Out For Baseball

Baseball has entered the Juniata sporting scene and practice sessions are being held daily for the 1951 diamond edition of the Indians.

Lettermen Jack Dickey, George Kensinger and Dave LeFevre have turned out to bolster a host of freshmen candidates and other players who say limited duty last year. LeFevre and Dickey are pitchers who won three and two games respectively.

In addition, LeFevre batted .313. Kensinger worked behind the plate, batted .224 and was second in the RBI column.

Other returnees are Dale Zimmerman, catcher; Mike Mervis, outfield, Harold Keener, pitcher and Fred Smith and Dave Hackett, infielders.

Freshmen pitchers Ed Gould, Ed Feldkircher, Don Miller and Sy Dubbel have also reported as have John Cook, first baseman and junor hurler Earl Detrick.

JC Quintet Wins Season's Final

by Jim Holsopple

Juniata's Indians wound up the hoop season on a successful note last Wednesday night as they defeated Susquehanna by a 64-59 score.

The win enabled the Tribe to post a record of four victories in 16 games for the year. Earlier in the season they defeated the Crusaders by a 61-50 count.

296 For Park

In pacing the evening's scorers, Karl Park, Indian forward, sank 23 markers to bring his total for the campaign to 296 points, an 18.5 point per game average. This is a new record for Juniata players.

Susquehanna's Jim Alter and Indian Tommy Green were runners up with 19 and 12 points respectively.

The Crusaders jumped to an early 12-7 lead before Juniata's offense began to click. Midway through the first quarter charity tosses by John Cook and Park and a bucket by Ed Feldkircher paved the way for a two pointer by Leo Kuhn. This sent the Indians ahead 13-12 as the frame ended.

31-20 At The Half

In the second period the Tribe netted nine straight points before the Staegmen were again able to score. Juniata held a commanding 31-20 lead at half time.

At the three quarter mark Susquehanna had whittled the Indian lead to seven points and in the final stanza they pulled to within two points of Juniata.

A pair of successful conversions by Crusader Charley Zlock knotted the count at 53 apiece before Park dumped five straight through the net to clinch the Indian victory.

Prof Raps Bowling

To the Sports Editor:

I am writing this letter as manager of one of the bowling teams entered in the intramural league. Last year this league was conducted in extremely slovenly fashion. It was the hope of many of those who participate in and enjoy this sport that the current year would bring a more stable arrangement. Unfortunately, this is not true.

Several weeks ago, the faculty lost two games by using a plug of 100 pins. On the other side of the alleys another team won a game and total pins by using a plug of 120 pins.

Another evening the faculty won their match by using a student, the proprietor's daughter (who averages 40 pins better than the faculty), two faculty members and a plug. Lest the charge be thrown that the faculty is alone in this, it might be pointed out that last Friday the faculty lost four points because they rolled against a team consisting of two men and a plug. Each man bowled twice. It might be pointed out that one of the men is in the running for the league lead.

These problems ought to be met. Sport loses its point when there are no rules. And in the bowling league, there are none.

have fallen into obscurity b..ck on their feet," says Ray Siren, a chemistry major from Donora, Pa. "I would like to see more club meetings with better co-ordinated programs."

Siren's extra-curricular activities include Chapel Choir, Chemistry Club, Alfarata staff and intra mural sports. He is also one of the recently named Honor Society members.

The fourth candidate for the vice-presidency, Joe Thomasberger, Johnstown, Pa., is a pre-ministerial student majoring in history. Being an active sport participant, he has been on the football team for the past three years. He is a member of the JCA and IRC and served as a JWSF solicitor.

Thomasberger

"If elected to serve on the Senate," Thomasberger says, "I would try to carry out the wishes of the student body and maintain good relationship between the administration and students."

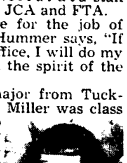
Secretary

Dottie Hummer, an elementary education major from Ephrata, Pa., has served as junior class secretary and secretary of the Alpha Beta Gamma. She is Club Editor of the Juniatian, typist for the Alfarata staff and a member of JCA and FTA.

Miss Hummer

As a candidate for the job of secretary, Miss Hummer says, "If chosen for this office, I will do my best to represent the spirit of the student body."

A sociology major from Tuckahoe, N. Y., Lois Miller was class secretary for two years and is now the secretary-treasurer of the Camera Club and secretary of JCA. She is a member of the Dean's List and Honor Society, Literary Editor of the Alfarata and a cheerleader.



Miss Miller

"If elected, I plan to represent the students as fairly as possible whenever I am able," says Miss Miller.

Treasurer

"As I understand it," says George Cruser, business major from Princeton, N. J., "the treasurer holds the purse strings of the campus. In this job I would uphold the standards as handed down by previous treasurers."

Cruser

Serving as president of the Tycoon Club, Cruser is also a member of the Sportsman's Club, Outing Club and Men's House Committee.

Tommy Green, a business major from Burlington, N. J., transferred to Juniata from the College of South Jersey. If elected treasurer, he hopes to "do as good a job as Don Howe, present Senate treasurer, has done."

Green

A member of the basketball team, Green will soon begin work on the Scout Staff.

ed out carefully, for at one moment, a character might be trying to put himself over as a crook-backed old man, and the next moment he is expected to burst forth in song.

"Then too," says Miss Esaley, "there is a large group of people to deal with, and it is a much more difficult problem to keep the stage balanced." From her point of view, Miss Esaley feels that the direction of generally all operettas calls for the same kind of work.

"However," she says, "they are very different from plays, for in operetta, one is merely trying to attain a goal of 'stock-characterization,' whereas in the theater a director is attempting to create more suitable impressions."

The personnel for the "Firefly" orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Jack Brammer, have been named.

CLUBS

Clubs Feature Art, Comps

By DOTTIE HUMMER

Let's take a peep into the club column and see what is scheduled for this week.

Miss Gail Haldeman of the Huntingdon Public Schools will speak at the regular meeting of the Alpha Beta Gamma Wednesday at 7 p. m. Her talk will center around art in the primary grades, including techniques and teaching possibilities.

A discussion of comprehensives is scheduled for the Tycoon Club meeting next Wednesday evening. A mimeographed copy of last summer's and last spring's comprehensives were distributed to each member, giving him the opportunity to read over them and prepare questions for a worthwhile program.

Tomorrow at 2 p. m. the Debate Club will meet the Muhlenburg College club on our campus to debate the question "Resolved that a new International Non-Comunist Organization be established." Our affirmitive team and their negative will participate. It was noted that the group won two debates at Messiah College this past Tuesday. Tentative plans are being made for next weekend, at which time the club will attend the State Debate Tournament at Temple University.

Margie Alleman will analyze II Timothy, Chapter 4 at the IVCF meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. The organization recently sent a check of $25 to the Inter-Varsity World Student Fund.

The Women's House Committee is inquiring about the possibility of purchasing one or two bed tables for the infirmary. It was announced that three new ironing boards have been placed in the ironing room of the girls' dorm. It was also noted that the Women's Day Student bedroom was recently painted.

Art Allen Heads Sen.

T-berger, Green, Hummer Also Win

Thomasberger | Allen

Green | Miss Hummer

A larger than average crowd of student voters turned up at the polls Tuesday to elect Art Allen president of the Student Senate. 'About 460 votes were cast," election committee chairman "Skip" Hines said. This is 80.1% of the student body.

Swept into office along with Allen were Dottie Hummer, secretary, and Tommie Green, treasurer.

A run-off vote Wednesday settled a tie for the vice-presidency between Jack Malenke and Joe Thomasberger, with Thomasberger capturing the victory. Four hundred twenty or 73.8% of the campus population balloted in this election.

"There are two sides to every question which a Student Senate must watch—the student side and the faculty-administration side," the new president believes. He adds, "I feel the Senate president's job is to coordinate the interests of both these groups."

As for a program of action, Allen proposes to "take steps to stimulate student interest or 'spirit' and to work closely on all matters with Senate chairmen." He plans to work closely for a time with the incumbent, Vern Showalter, so as to "learn the ropes."

Drive Goes Over Goal

JWSF Hits $1985; $50 Still Pledged

As reported by Pres. Calvert Ellis in Chapel Wednesday, the JWSF has gone over the top. $1985 in cash has been received, with "dribblings still arriving daily," according to Keith Binkley, treasurer.

The deciding factor which pushed the drive over the top was a $200 pledge from the "Firefly" program. John Long, business manager of the program, has already met the pledges through a patrons list in the book.

The students did not reach their goal. This year there was "a marked reduction in student interest and participation over previous years," reported Jay Benedict, drive chairman. Of a goal of $1150 the students actually gave in cash only $750. About $50 in pledges is still to be received.

The JWSF committee (Jay Benedict, chairman; Bev Williams, secretary; Keith Binkley, treasurer; and Art Allen, solitications) express their thanks to those who helped make JWSF a reality. As the chairman expressed it, "We are very grateful for the help and co-operation we have received from so many."

A full financial report of JWSF will appear in a later edition of the Juniatian, along with the report of the "Firefly." Until then, contributions will be accepted even though the drive is officially closed.

FROM BACH TO THE THEATER will be the range of the selections on the program for the Robert Shaw Chorale concert. Composed of 32 voices, this choral group will appear on the Oller Hall stage, Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. Director Robert Shaw is said to secure his choral results with his "rare musical intuition."

Robert Shaw Chorale To Appear Wed., 8:15 P. M.

The Robert Shaw Chorale will appear in Oller Hall Wednesday at 8:15 p. m.

Composed of 32 voices and a chamber music ensemble, the group will present a program ranging from Bach to songs of the American theater.

Robert Shaw, director of the Chorale, is now making his second cross-country tour. For several years he was director of Fred Waring's glee club. He was also the founder and director of the Collegiate Chorale which has performed with Toscanini, Stokowski, Koussevitzky and other leading conductors.

Wanted To Be A Minister

Shaw's first ambition was to be a minister. He studied theology at Pomona College, Claremont, Calif. To earn his way, he wrapped bread in a bakery, washed dishes, waited on tables, corrected examination papers and did occasional preaching.

It was at Pomona that Shaw got his start in choral conducting. While a junior, he took over the college glee club when its director took a leave of absence. The glee club did a small bit in one of Fred Waring's movies. Waring was so impressed that he offered the director a job building a radio glee club.

Shaw was with Waring from 1938 until 1945, when he was inducted into the Navy. In addition to his work with Waring, he led amateur singing groups in concerts of sacred music. His first group, the Chapel Choir, was formed in the summer of 1941. In November of that year he organized the now-famous Collegiate Chorale which has sung at Carnegie Hall, Town Hall and the New York City Center.

Honored As Conductor

Soon after the formation of the Collegiate Chorale, Show branched out as an orchestral conductor. In 1943 he was named Out-

Class Night Scripts Chosen

Scripts for All Class Night Apr. 14 have been selected, reports chairman Bill Korman. The script-writer for the senior class is Bob Elder, and for the juniors, Marj Seidel. Phil Norris and Jo Pentz prepared the sophomore entry, while Wilfred Norris is the author of the freshman offering.

Formal Dinner To Be Held Wed.

The Women's House Committee invites all faculty and students who regularly eat in the Dining Hall to a formal dinner Wednesday at 6 p. m.

Mrs. Eve Garrette, literary consultant to Herbert Hoover, will be the after dinner speaker. Mrs. Garrette edits Hoover's books and memoirs and is an author in her own right. She has written "Political Handbook for Women" and "Soviet Russia Today."

The program will be short so as to give students plenty of time to go to the concert in Oller Hall. All girls are expected to go formal to the concert.

Reserved table lists should be turned in to either head waitress by Monday evening meal. No non-resident guests may be invited unless arrangements have been made with Ruth Kimble.

Music Scheduled For Both JC Programs

Spinning records March 13 on "Turntable Terrace" will be "Bangs" Keller and Mim Smith. March 15 the platters will be played by disc jockeys Betty Longwell and Bob Champion.

Music will also be played March 14 over "Juniata on the Air." A half hour of A. Cappella Choir recordings will be presented.

'Firefly' Opens Tonight, 8:15 P. M.; Truxal, Johnson In Lead

Miss Joy Truxal

Oller Hall house lights will dim tonight and again tomorrow night at 8:15 for the presentation of the Spring musical, "The Firefly."

Centered around a case of mistaken identity, the story is about a little street-singer, Nina, portrayed by Joy Truxal, and her lover, Jack, played by Clyde Johnson.

In the opening scene we find Nina dressed as a boy to take a job as cabin boy on the Van Dare's yacht which is bound for Bermuda. She takes the name of Tony Colombo, also a girl in pants, who is a notorious pickpocket.

Prof. Charles Rowland will direct the combined choirs of the Huntingdon churches, the A Cappella Choir and the Chapel Choir in a half hour of music from Harvey Gaul's "Holy City" as part of a Palm Sunday service March 18 in Oller Hall.

Speaker at the service will be Dr. Abel Ross Wintz, LLD, president of Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary.

"We expect 125 singers in the combined choirs," Prof. Rowland says. "The first rehearsal of the full chiirs will be held in Oller Hall Monday from 7 to 9 p. m."

Prof. Donald Johnson will be the organist for the performance. Pianists will be Jo Shelley and Doris Mickle.

Sub-Freshmen Here For Third Career Conference

Sub-freshmen interested in the arts and literature will appear on campus tomorrow for the third career conference week-end.

The total number expected runs between 15 and 20. However, only 12 have registered to date.

The Hell Box

by the editor

● Maybe the rain had something to do with it, but the crowd of 350 plus at Saturday's student talent show was a record. The happy part of the whole thing was that Elder and Co. managed to give us top-flight acts we hadn't seen before—Shirley Nell's "Mammy" reading, Bev Chamberlain's twinkling toes, Bill Swaim's "army" all being cases in point. Betty Longwell served admirably, if an anonymously, as the Thing. Fred Shamlian's witticisms relating the progress of dancing in the life of John and Marsha (Bob Myers-Edie Talbot) were mostly ad libbed, which is doing a good job the hard way. One of the more disappointing notes in the affair was that the faculty went unrepresented.

● From the couple of dress rehearsals we've seen of "Firefly," we'll predict this much: Clyde Johnson will prove a surprise. He's learned to act since "Sweethearts." You'll be able to hear every word Joy Truxal sings; unfortunately that can't always be said of the others. The set will prove refreshing; not at all like Parson's stuff. And watch for the torchlight scene; it'll be the hit of the show. Other high spots: Clem Rosenberger's superb acting; most of the song, especially "De Trop," "Gianina Mia", and "Love is Like a Firefly"; and the "chase" at the end of Act I between Bob Hatala and Wilfred Norris.

● We were pondering a typical Americanism the other day: it's always "I made an A," but "He gave me an F." Wonder why?

TO THE EDITOR

Boosts Norris For Senate

I believe Phil Norris has shown the outstanding leadership qualities necessary for the chairmanship of Religious Activities. It was through his able direction last year that his class was the first freshman class to win the All Class Night cup. He has led the President's Bible Class this year with a marked increase in attendance over past years.

Phil represented the JCA at the SCM conference at Camp Mishaux this past summer and also attended leadership conference last fall as a sophomore representative.

He has indeed proven himself able to handle the responsibilities of this job through his work on the JCA commissions.

Leadership, sincerity and willingness to work add up to Phil Norris as chairman of religious activities.

Connie Sherman

Supports Betty Longwell

Betty Longwell has expressed a willingness to represent student opinion as a member of the Student Senate and to provide them with opportunities for more varied social activities.

As a member of this year's Social Committee, I believe that only someone who has served actively on the committee, as Betty has, is qualified to take over the chairmanship.

She knows the problems which a Social Committee chairman faces and will, I believe, be able to handle these problems efficiently. Her ability to plan weekly programs and carry them out has shown in her work as head of the Radio Committee.

For "better and bigger socials" I recommend Betty Longwell as social committee chairman.

Spectator: Food For Thought

by Ray Siren

Last week's Teepee Topics column made reference to some rather evil doings in the dining hall. One paragraph presented therein which referred humorously to the "adulteration" of desserts by the waitresses brought to mind some of the conditions with which we poor chowhounds have to put up.

The problem of a balanced diet is indeed one for careful consideration by the powers that be, and I might add that some of the meals are extremely lop-sided as far as balance is concerned.

Take the butter plate for example. More often than not, when circumscribing said butter, it is noted that the slab is sliced on an angle leaving a thick triangle for the lucky and a thinner piece for the starving.

1.875 Hot Dogs Apiece

Furthermore, when hot dogs are offered, it never fails that 15 dogs are on the serving plate, an average of 1.875 frankfurters apiece. Small wonder the list of table heads is dwindling—anyone without a slide rule and micrometer is stuck.

The other day, spaghetti was the main course and a bowl of assorted vegetables was the side dish. The first assistant table head at our table aptly handled the situation in the following wise, "Anybody want some of this crud?" Crud, you know, is a type of Hungarian goulash which is seasoned and aged in butyric acid until it takes on the odor of stagnant swamp water a la Schuylkill.

Boon To Chem Dept.

'Tis small wonder that Juniata's chemistry department is rated so highly—only an analyst of top drawer quality could eat mystery cakes and walk away satisfied, knowing what he has eaten.

All kidding aside though, where else can one starve so cheaply and yet in such good company?

Vive la Skip's.

Asan For Athletics Chm.

Here's why you should choose Bob Asan for Senate chairman of athletics. Outside of being an all-around sport, "Ace" has had valuable background training, plus an admirable program.

By participating in several of the intramural sports, he has met many of the problems in this area. Bob's task as Juniatian sports editor has brought him in contact with every athletic activity on campus. This post requires a knowledge of every sport.

As student manager of the baseball team, Bob has gained experience in team management and organization.

No candidate is worth consideration unless he can offer as constructive a program as this:

- Stabilized league organization
- Improved officiating
- Recognition of league champions

Now, isn't it only logical to support Bob Asan for chairman of athletics?

CALL ME MISTER—That Grable-Dailey team is here again. Formula: Legs, Comedy, Technicolor and Music.

To keep the motion picture moving between the eight principal numbers, the light plot has Miss Grable shown as the producer-star of camp shows in Japan. When her husband, Dan, pops up as a soldier full of the kiss-and-make-up spirit after a three-year separation, complications arise which end in the conventional clinch.

Added attractions—Danny Thomas with a comedy routine you'll like and the Dunhill Dance Team furnishing some fancy stepping. This fast moving 20th-Fox musical will play at the Clifton next week.

I'D CLIMB THE HIGHEST MOUNTAIN—Here's a simple story of simple hill country faith filmed in beautiful Techicolor by 20th-Fox. It tells of a Methodist minister (William Lundigan) and his bride (Susan Hayward) who are called upon to meet the crises of a small congregation in the Georgia hill country.

Most of the action follows a slow pattern filled with warmth and tenderness, but is highlighted by such dramatic incidents as an epidemic, a still-born son, and Susan's adjustment struggle. The picture ends with the only reward they expect—knowledge of a job well done. Next week at the Grand.

Last year 65 men took part in it, with the smallest team being fielded by the Junior Class. Eight men carried the banner of the class of '51, four of them garnering points.

Now for an aside to the Athletic Department. Why not recognize the champion in this event as is done by the All-Class Night committee? It wouldn't detract from the event and would certainly add to it.

Three Indians Crack Century; Park High

Only three men went over the 100 mark in scoring for the Indians this past season. They were Karl Park, Tommy Green and Ray Korody. Following is a brief scoring summary of these men and the others on the team.

Karl Park

Karl Park, 5-10 junior from Westmont High School in Johnstown, set the scoring pace this season. Karl played in all 16 games and scored 296 points for an average of 18.5 per game. This mark set a new record for the school. Karl's points came on 123 field goals and 50 fouls. His high game total was a 29 points spree against LV.

Tommy Green

Another 5-10 junior, Tommy Green, was runner up in total scoring. "Greeny" led the team in foul shooting with an excellent .803 average. making 53 out of 66 trys. The remainder of his 167 points came on 57 field goals. Tommy hit for 18 points in his big night against Albright.

Ray Korody

Captain Ray Korody was the third member of the team to hit for more than 100 points, netting 103. A four letterman, Ray stands 6-1 and hit for 39 field goals and 25 fouls. Thirteen points against E-town was Ray's biggest scoring effort this season.

Leo Kuhn

This was Leo Kuhn's second season here on the Hill and he made it a productive one. In 15 games he hit the nets for 80 points to take down fourth place scoring honors. This total came on 35 field goals and ten fouls. Leo stands 6-1 and had a one game high this year of 16 points against Albright.

John Cook

Greensburg has contributed a second member to the Tribe varsity beside Ray Korody. He is John Cook and finished fifth in the scoring column this season. He hooped 67 points on 26 fielders and 15 fouls. Nine points against Allegheny and Susquehanna were his season highs.

Ed Weirauch

One of five freshmen on the Tribe varsity was Ed Weirauch. Ed was a consistent starter for Doc Greene and netted 54 points this season on 23 double-deckers and eight fouls. He hit seven points against F & M and Susquehanna for his highs of the season.

Dave Bayer

The tallest man on the team is 6-4 Davie Bayer, a sophomore. This year in 14 games Dave scored 11 field goals and 18 fouls for a total of 40 points. Seven points against Westminster was Dave's big night for the campaign.

Ed Feldkircher

In completing his fifth year of basketball "Easy" Ed Feldkircher netted 17 field goals and five fouls for 39 points. Ed was one of three Temple High School players on the team this year.

Jack Dickey

A third junior standing 5-10 is Jack Dickey. A letter winner last season, Jack scored 38 points this campaign, 26 of them on field goals. His best night came against Susquehanna when he netted ten counters.

Fran Zimmerman

The last freshman on the varsity was Fran Zimmerman, of Annville. Appearing in only six games, Fran scored ten points, five of which came against the powerful St. Francis outfit.

Harry Koehnlein

A third Temple High graduate is Harry "Biz" Koehnlein, who also towers two inches over the six foot mark, "Biz" scored only seven points this year but he holds the distinction of being the only varsity member to sink all his foul shots, making three.

Juniata and Penn State At Lycoming Festival

At the Play Day held at Williamsport by Lycoming College last Saturday, the JC WAA girls did not fare so well as they did at State.

As a team the girls finished second in bowling and also placed in the swimming contests. Carroll Borden again placed in the crawl event and the relay team finished second.

JC lost a basketball game to Penn State and were tied by Lycoming. State beat them 17-13 and Lycoming scored three points in the last minute to gain a 14-14 tie.

Juniata finished a dead last in the badminton games.

Competing in the games were teams from Penn State, Juniata and Lycoming.

Tennis, Golf Teams Organize

Four Frosh Are Among 12 Tennis Candidates

Six men with varsity experience will form the nucleus of the 1951 tennis team. Twelve men, including four freshmen, turned out for the, team's organizational meeting.

Pre-season seedings show Steve Finckel, John Pottieger, Bob Hollinger, Sam Byers and Bob Brumbaugh in the first six positions.

All these positions are subject to change however, as lower standing players beat those above them in challenge matches.

Ray Korody, Bob Rhodes To Co-Captain Golfers

At a meeting held March 1 Ray Korody of Greensburg and Bob Rhodes of Altoona were elected co-captains of the Indian golf squad for the coming season.

Both were members of last year's undefeated team and have represented the Indians "off the tee" for the past three years.

Coach "Doc" Edgar Kiracofe presided at the meeting and discussed plans for the coming season. The season gets underway on April 11 with the Juniatians playing host to the Red Devil teemen of Dickinson.

According to Coach Kiracofe ten intercollegiate matches and two invitational tournaments are scheduled. These should provide plenty of competition for the Indians.

Also present at the meeting were returning lettermen Art Allen and Dave Bayer, along with newcomers, Tom Cherok, Bob Fahrney and Tom Sanders.

College Is Evaluated

Outcome of Study Delayed 'Til Spring

The results of the study made by the evaluation committee of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools as to whether or not Juniata is to be reaccredited will probably not be made known before late Spring.

One of the five members could not be here while the committee studied the College program from Tuesday to Thursday. Dr. M. Ellis Drake, president of Alfred College, Alfred, N. Y. was unable to attend because of illness.

The committee had its headquarters at the Faculty Club. Miss Margaret Corwin, chairman of the committee, stayed in the guest room of the Faculty Club, while the three men on the committee lived at the Hotel Penn Hunt.

teacher, discovers Tony and wants to adopt this young boy soprano, thinking he will someday be proclaimed as a world-famous tenor. When a police report reveals that the pick-pocket Tony has left New York on the Van Dare yacht, Franz emphatically changes his mind.

Four years pass, and the scene changes to the Van Dare home in Bermuda where a party is being held. Among the guests are Geraldine Van Dare and Jack, her fiancee.

Nina Appears Again

Entertainment for the evening is to feature the great soprano Gianina, who turns out to be the little Nina whom both Geraldine and Jack had heard sing at the dock in New York four years before. To remind the guests of days gone by, Nina prepares to sing in the old outfit of Tony.

As she dresses, she finds in the pocket of the suit a letter which Thurston, Jack's uncle, had given her to give to Geraldine, revealing his love for her. Geraldine confesses that it is really Jack's uncle she loves.

All ends well, for Jack is now free to have his Nina whom he loved from the day he had seen her at the New York pier.

ON THE AGENDA

Sportsmen Build Rifle Range; IRC, FTA Schedule Joint Meet

By DOTTIE HUMMER

Stealing the club headlines for this coming week are the Sportsman's Club, the FTA and the IRC.

According to Steve Dolak, president of the Sportsman's Club, "a lot of interest is being created in our organization." The objective of this group is to give members a better understanding of the safe handling and proper care of firearms, improved markmanship, as well as the characteristics of good sportsmanship and a foundation of true patriotism.

The club members are now in the process of picking teams of five men with one man as captain. Competitive meets are being scheduled.

Dr. Rockwell has contributed to the group a plot of land which is being transformed into an outdoor range. It is hoped this will be completed tomorrow and can then be used by the students at any time. Plans are being made to invite the faculty, club members and friends to an outdoor meet next Saturday afternoon.

Tentative plans for an archery team which could also meet at this range are being made. This team may be connected with Miss McCormick's teams. It was noted that a place will also be cleared in Sherwood Forest, which would be out of danger of the firing range.

A film, "Big Game Hunting in Alaska," will be shown at the regular meeting of the Sportsman's Club next Thursday evening. Plans for next month's meeting include a film, "Safari from Africa," followed by a guest speaker who was formerly a big game hunter in Africa and India.

The IVCF will hold their regular meeting next Thursday at 7 p. m. Missionary reports will be made by several members of the group.

A joint meeting of the FTA and the IRC will be held next Friday evening. Miss Harriet Beachley, an enthusiast on "World Education," will speak to the group. As a teacher, her experiences include a year in the Orient and Japan.

The IRC recently elected their officers for the new year. Jack Ulsh won the office of president; while Galen Frysinger is vice-president; Phyllis Kuhn, secretary; Carol Shoemaker, treasurer; and Bernard Petrusky, host librarian.

Movies on ice, geology and weather were featured at the Chemistry Club meeting Wednesday evening. New club officers were elected with Bob Hatala as president; Ray Siren, vice-president; and Carol Shoemaker, secretary-treasurer.

The Alpha Beta Gamma also elected its leaders for the coming year. Ginny Tyson will serve as president; Connie Sherman as vice-president; Jody Siemon, secretary; and Margie Peichtel, treasurer.

Name Omitted From List Of Honor Society Members

Inadvertently the name of Jim Giordano was omitted from the list of new Honor Society members in last week's Juniatian. The story also incorrectly stated that the president and secretary-treasurer of the group helped name new members. It should have stated that all of the former members of the Society still on campus helped name new memers.

Chapel Speakers Listed

The Rev. Robert Atwell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Middletown, Pa., will speak in Chapel service Monday. He represents the Westminster Theological Seminary of Philadelphia.

Dr. H. H. Nye will be the Chapel speaker on Wednesday.

On Friday, the Rev. John Peabody will speak. He is pastor of the Episcopal Church at State College, Pa. and is active in student work there.

Jack Baldridge and Roger Wiley won first and second prizes respectively in the general information contest Friday.

Juniata College Student Weekly

Vol. 27 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., March 16, 1951 | No. 20

• Communion Thursday

An all-College communion service will be held Thursday at 9 p. m. in Oller Hall. Presiding will be Pres. Calvert Ellis, Dean Morley Mays, Prof. G. Wayne Glick, Dr. Kenneth Crosby and Prof. Silas Dubbel. Elements will be served by student deacons: Portia Baugher, Don Bracken, Glenn Felix, Philip Kulp, Mary Lou McKee, Lois Miller, Phil Norris, Jack Rothenberger, Connie Sherman, Joe Thomasberger, Don Treese and Dale Zimmerman.

Album Set For Release

Records Include 3 Musical Groups

An album of "familiar songs and hymns you will enjoy hearing" by three Juniata musical organizations will be released Tuesday. The album contains three 10 inch 78 RPM break resistent records of the a cappella choir, Chapel choir and symphony orchestra.

A special release price of $4 is offered to students if they order their albums before Spring vacation. The regular selling price is $4.50. The cost includes the 10% federal excise tax. Orders may be placed in the Book Store or the Public Relations Office.

Appropriately Decorated

Appropriately decorated with pictures of College campus buildings, the album features a cappella choir on six sides, the Chapel choir on one and the orchestra on one. The recordings were made by professional technicians from New York on the campus Feb. 14 and were manufactured by Nelson Cornell, a professional organization.

The manufacturers have provided individual mailing cartons for orders to be delivered off campus. Albums will be sent post paid anywhere in the United States.

According to Harold Brumbaugh, "This album will be of lasting interest to students because of the distinctive Juniata songs. The cleverest of these," he goes on to say, "is 'The Game Was Played On Sunday,' a novelty song produced by the men's varsity quartet.

Other Colleges Do It

Mr. Brumbaugh adds, "Juniata negotiated for the production of this album because there seemed to be considerable interest and because many other colleges with musical organizations of no higher caliber had albums on the market."

Assisting the Public Relations Office in making arrangements, the a cappella choir also provided financial backing for the production.

Science Conf. To Be Largest One

The largest career conference of the year will be held this weekend for all sub-freshmen interested in science. While 27 have been registered to date, a total of approximately 35 are expected to attend. Of the 27 registered, only two are girls.

The conference will cover such fields as dentistry, medicine, veterinary, biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics.

Those organizations assisting in making the visit interesting and helpful to the sub-freshmen will be the Chemistry Club, Camera Club and Masque. Experiments will be set up, and demonstrations will be given in Science Hall.

JCA To Broadcast Service Of Easter Season Devotions

Wednesday evening, "Juniata on the Air" will present a devotional service of the Lenten and Easter season. It will be given by the members of the JCA cabinet.

Spinning the records Tuesday on "Turntable Terrace" will be Betty Longwell, radio committee chairman, while Bob Champion will be disc-jockey for the Thursday session.

William Livengood

Alumnus To Talk In Chapel Mon.

William Livengood, Jr. will speak in Chapel Monday as a part of the 75th anniversary year program.

Third in the series of speakers on Juniata's history, he will cover the period from 1924-43. Other 75th anniversary speakers were Dr. Francis Harvey Green who traced the College's history from its beginnings to 1898 and Harry Wagner who covered the period from 1898-1924.

Mr. Livengood is the secretary of internal affairs for Pennsylvania. He graduated from Juniata Academy in 1918 and from the college with an A. B. degree in 1926. He was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree in 1943.

While in college, Mr. Livengood took part in many activities, such as varsity football, basketball, baseball and track teams. He served as president of his class, YMCA and Masque and was on the Student Council.

After graduation he filled various coaching positions until he was elected register of wills in his native Somerset County in 1933. In 1938 he was elected secretary of internal affairs to which office he has been consistently re-elected.

Movie Slated For Sat. Night

"The House of Seven Gables" is to be shown at Oller Hall tomorrow night at 8:15. This is a movie adaptation of the story by Nathaniel Hawthorne.

8 Chairmen Selected For Senate

Jack Dickey, Jack Rothenberger, Connie Sherman and Kay Wright were elected to four Senate posts Tuesday. Run-off elections had to be held Wednesday for four additional offices.

Approximately 400 students or about 70% of the student body turned up at the polls to name Dickey chairman of men's house, Rothenberger chairman of underclassmen, Miss Sherman chairman of women's house and Miss Wright chairman of general activities.

New Class Officers Listed

Class officers elected Tuesday were as follows:

In the run-off balloting, Bob Asan defeated Ray Siren for chairman of athletics while Marj Seidel was named chairman of publications, winning over Jim Streiner. Rev. Abdel Wentz

Service Planned For Palm Sunday

The Rev. Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, will be the speaker at the combined community church service Sunday in Oller Hall. This Palm Sunday observance will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Wentz is at present vice-president of the Lutheran World Federation. A delegate to the convention which established the World Council of Churches, he helped in the revision of the constitution of this organization.

One half hour of the Palm Sunday program will be devoted to music from Gaul's "Holy City." The combined choirs of Huntingdon churches and the a cappella and Chapel choirs will be directed by Prof. Charles Rowland. Prof. Donald Johnson will be the organist and Jo Shelley and Doris Mickle, the pianists.

A REVIEW

"'Firefly' More Enjoyable Than Many Chicago Operettas"

By Prof. G. Wayne Glick

It probably ought to go without saying that any production deserves review on the basis of what it pretends to be. Juniata is not Broadway; ergo, we did not expect the finish, the glitter or the expert cueing of a New York production when we attended "The Firefly" last Saturday evening.

Frankly (and I may be prejudiced) I liked what I saw better. And this review will occupy itself from here on with the reasons why I found Vera Compton's show more enjoyable than many, many of the operettas that used to visit Chicago's Loop.

The synchronization of music, dialogue and choreography, representing as it does gruelling hours of practice and repetition, was affected with a minimum of distraction. Of course there were a few fast lines, some sharp and flat notes, an occasional too-ambitious violin or trumpet and, inevitably, that chorus member who miscalculated the time till opening curtain, and wandered on stage in the midst of the scene.

There was the omnipresent problem of getting amateurs to speak loudly enough for the under-the-balcony late-comers; the orchestra pulled a time or so instead of following; and there were particular solos which were handled differently than this reviewer's performance would have indicated. However, no one of these criticisms ought to be interpreted to mean that the show was not successful. It was excellent entertainment.

The set was beautifully done. The brick building of the first scene, leaning so precariously during rehearsals, was as upright as Amos's plumb line. Glenn Felix and all of his crew deserve commendation.

The whole production staff, from those responsibile for the intriguing window at Millers Hardware to those who planned the best program of the past three years, and including lighting, costumes, make-up and properties—they all deserve solid applause for splendid behind-the-scenes work. Ditto to the technical staff, Prof. Donald Johnson, Miss Lois Esaley, Prof. Jack Brammer, Mrs. Donald Johnson and Miss Vera Compton.

'Thanks'—Directors

We would like to thank everyone who helped on the production of "The Firefly."

The cooperative efforts of not only the cast, chorus and orchestra, but also of behind-the-scenes committees merited the enthusiastic applause of the audience. Time, interest and effort were responsible for the success of the production.

Signed: Prof. Donald Johnson, Prof. Jack Brammer, Miss Lois Esaley, Miss Vera Compton.

Move-Up Is To Be Wed.

New Officers Will Take Over Duties

Annual move-up day ceremonies will be held Wednesday during the regular Chapel period. At that time new Senate, class and club officers will assume their duties.

Pres. Calvert Ellis will give the invocation and make a few remarks at the services. After a short talk by Vernon Showalter, retiring president, the new Senate will be introduced and installed.

Allen To Speak

Art Allen, elected last week to succeed Showalter, will give a short acceptance speech and Joe Thomasberger, vice-president will introduce class and club presidents.

For the recessional to Founder's porch, the seniors and juniors will leave Oller Hall by the rear doors. Sophomores will go out the right front door and freshmen will leave by the left front door.

The line of march will be on 18th Street, left down Moore Steet to the front walk of Founder's. There the freshmen will be led up the diagonal, theoretically for the first time, and up the side steps of Founder's porch where they will congregate to sing the Alma Mater.

Ushers Listed

Ushers will be on hand to direct the various groups. Marshal will be Don Robinson. P. M. "Mike" Snider will be the faculty usher. Ushers of the various classes will be Edith Roberts and Bill Korman, seniors; Eleanor Formwalt, juniors; Jo Pentz and Phil Norris, sophomores; Edie Talbot, Jeanie Tait, Bob Myers and Jairo Silva, freshmen.

Mary Ankeny, Shirley Frymire and Susie Bartell will be special ushers to reseat those who usually sit in the front rows in Chapel.

Educator Will Speak Tonight

Miss Catherine Beachley, director of guidance in the public schools of Washington County, Maryland, will speak at the joint FTA and IRC meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in Founders Chapel.

Having served on the President's Commission on Higher Education, Miss Beachley traveled to Japan to introduce modern educational methods to this occupied country. She is very much interested in the problem of world education.

At the meeting tonight Miss Beachley will supplement her address with Kodachrome slides of Japan. This illustrated lecture was received so enthusiastically by educational and civic organizations in Huntingdon that the program was recommended as desirable for presentation here.

In order to make the lecture available to more students, the IRC has joined the FTA in promotion of the program.

Air Force Recruiting Men Cancel Visit To Juniata

Originally scheduled for next week, a visit to Juniata by a team of air force recruiting men has been cancelled.

The visit was planned by the air force to give college men information about pilot, navigator and officer training schools. Because of the large number of applications for officer training, all visits to accredited colleges have been cancelled.

Any students desiring information or application forms may contact any air force recruiting station or base.

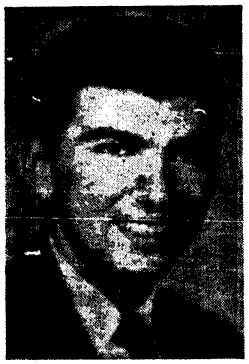
Some Challenges & A Promise

Good ideas don't die—they keep popping up again.
Sometimes they run out of money.
Sometimes they run into apathy.
But they keep coming back.

So we asked retiring Senate prexy Vern Showalter what ideas this year's student leaders had planted, but couldn't reap. He listed three:

- Build a snack bar in first floor Founders by the dining hall. "We're in favor of it," the powers that be declared, "but. . . ." And then pockets were turned inside out, and shoulders were shrugged. Understandable.
- Have a faculty committee look into the English conference suggestions. This got as far as a pigeonhole someplace. Not so understandable.
- Make the Senate chairman of publications "a regular member of the faculty publications committee, thereby gaining an advisory capacity in its work." The words "an ex officio member" would probably have been wiser, since students may not, by definition, be official members of any faculty committee.

All good ideas, you understand. It's just that it's going to take more than one year and one Senate to do some jobs.



Vern Showalter
● Retiring Prexy Reports ●

So—what did get done?

Just glancing at the major items, the 1950-51 Senate record looks like this:

- "The dining hall was the main project for this year," Showalter said. Payment for banquet work was secured for the waitresses, a simplified and highly effective table head system was inaugurated, individual service was initiated and audible grace was instituted. In addition, the Senate convinced the administration that waitresses should only have to pay for dishes they personally broke. One condition: "they must devise a system for reporting breakage promptly and accurately." According to Showalter, "no such system was worked out."
- Class officers were reclassified on the basis of time consumption rather than prestige as in the past.
- A new movie projector was pressed for, and as a result was "probably purchased sooner than ordinarily," Showalter said.
- "All leadership conference resolutions were acted upon, to some extent at least, except the publications chairman and English conference questions" already mentioned, the ex-president reported.
- The social rooms radio was repaired.
- Guiding rules were set up for the College band.
- The Sportsman's Club and Sigma Gamma were approved.
- A Scout editor, JWSF chairman, coordinator for the Spring musical and committees for each of the Senate chairmen were appointed.

"This job can only be done well when the Juniatian, the faculty and administration, the students and the Senate work together. Any one of these, shirking, can slow the works," Showalter said.

And with that, we tip our green eyeshade to the new gang who must continue in these footsteps.

From The Editor's Notes:---

● APOLOGIES to those who misread a slur on George Parson's ability as a scenarist into our "Firefly" comments in this corner last week. We were referring to the difference in style used by this year's designers, not to the relative merits of each type. However, we feel that anytime we have to explain anything we've written, it must have been badly written. So chalk that up as one time we slipped.

Questions JC Christianity

Last week we were challenged by the question "Christian of America, lovest thou me?" Does this have meaning for the conscientious Christian of America? In the present world situation, it should make us question the motives of our government with regard to our foreign policy. Congress has recently appropriated millions of dollars for food and relief to be sent to India and Yugoslavia. Would they pass a similar bill to help Russia? Are our motives selfish or do they stem from Christian love?

Christ entreates us to give a cup of cold water to the thirsty but we must give it in His name, else the spirit of giving has lost its true significance. We, as Juniata students, have just gone over the top of our World Service Fund. Was our gift given in the name of Christ or was is because of social pressure? We are in grave danger of condemnation if our motives are not pure.

Remember Christ's teaching—If you minister to the least of these my brethren, you do it unto me.

TO THE EDITOR

Thanks Those Aiding JWSF

To all who gave of their time, energy and money for the Juniata World Service Fund Drive, I extend my inadequate words of appreciation. They say that the hardest of all debts to pay is the debt of gratitude, so I leave this task to the future. In due time, consideration will be given you for having contributed so freely to this, our one major College endeavor to do a bit of world service.

I could not hope to have an exhaustive list of all those people who gave of themselves in one way or another (for so many of you are unknown to me). However, I can, and do, thank you collectively.

We give thanks that all of us had the opportunity to give and look forward in the ensuing years for the same privilege.

Spectator: Studying Stumps Studious Spectator

by Ray Siren

This week let's look into the dormitory situation, particularly the trials and tribulations one must go through when studying for a test or some other fiendish assignment.

First and perhaps foremost, there is the problem of noise. Not just plain, organized, loud conversation, but such evils as "The Budget-Plan Westerners," "Bobby Benson" and "Martin Kane, Private Eyeball." I refer of course to the radio. Everyone has their own tastes as to programs, but to some, I say "Ita-puah-na-nee" which is Apache for "Ye gods man, how can you stand such slop—turn it down, will you?"

Now if everybody listened to sane programs like "John's Other Wife" and "Queen for a Day," life could be beautiful.

Study By Osmosis

Next on our list of abuses is the individual who insists on raising cane during the hours midnight to 2 a. m. His rationalization usually is that he's been studying hard and needs a psychological break. More often than not he's the type that studies by osmosis, i. e. he places his text under his pillow and expects the subject matter to pass through the intervening membrane. Believe me, it doesn't work.

Another offender is the "bum" or "borrower" type. Always out of cigarettes, socks or underwear, he slyly enters your room and stands there with tearful eye until you oblige him.

Singing In The Shower

The shower baritone is also a frequent occurrence. In a rich, resonant voice, he bellows forth as the age-old balladeers, punctuated by the steady drip from the ever leaking shower and sink faucets.

Before closing, there is another type of dorm pest whom we may consider. He is the assignment seeker. After you slave your bloody head off writing a theme or doing problems, he's usually there to inquire as to whether he may borrow them. The oddest point involved here is that he usually will get the A while you barely pass.

My advice to you poor frustrated souls, who have the unhappy luck to be associated with such evils, is to do as many of us have done—join the army! In the service you're too busy griping about the food or the (adjectives deleted here for obvious reasons) officers to worry about these smaller problems.

THE EARLY BIRD—When Ray Siren had charge of a chemistry class the other day he dismissed the students at 12:10. Prof. Paul Yoder, who never makes use of a watch, though it must be 12:30 and dismissed his class too.

MAIL MAZE—A notice that 100 baby chicks will soon arrive COD was the climax of a flood of articles and literature Charlie Kipp has been mysteriously receiving from various companies. The US mail has brought him booklets on subjects ranging from "saving your soul" to Charles Atlas' strength-building course and 69 fruit trees delivered COD. He also had two representatives call on him—one selling encyclopedias and the other wanting to fit him for a Spencer corset.

RABBIT TAILS—Vern Showalter was bemoaning the fact that the Easter Bunny never visited him. Early this week, in answer to his wishes, Bunny left Vern an Easter basket inside the record player (a remarkable feat, indeed). A note attached to the basket read "For being a good boy all year. Signed, Jack Rabbit."

"JUNIATA MUD"—The baseball varsity has new training tactics. Last week they were a sorry sight carrying the football bleachers around in ankle-deep mud.

VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPT.—Dr. Booth and the Tycoon Club were serenely discussing comps in the I. Harvey House the other night. THE HAPPY YEARS—This Metro motion picture deals with the human element. The story is that of a well-to-do father's attempt to reform his hellion son (Dean Stockwell) by sending him to a private school. The action takes place at the Lawrenceville, N. J. School and features Dean in several hilarious incidents which keeps the show moving. Trouble begins with his arrival at this "gentleman's" school and ends only at the conclusion of the picture.

If you liked Stockwell's impish pranks in "Kim" you will probably enjoy the struggle his coach and math teacher has converting him from a neighborhood mischief-maker into a "nice young man."—Grand Theater.

BEDTIME FOR BONZO—Universal International has been coming up with a whole extravaganza of animal comedy features lately. Doing a good job too. Proof: "Francis," "Harvey." The crazy plot has Ronald Regan and Diana Lynn playing house with Bonzo to prove something about environment for a cracked-up professor. Result: Ronny decides to ditch the professor's daughter and play house permanently with the "chimp" and Diana.—Clifton Theater.

Champs

by Bob Asan

The Intramural Basketball League championship was decided last Saturday and the Trojans beat the YHO's. At least the score showed the Trojans to be the better team.

Asan

For a championship game this was one of the most poorly worked games we've seen. Both referees played the night before for teams that lost to both that were playing Saturday. Surely another person could have been had to do the job.

And, as to the refereeing in general, the comments were many. Quite a few of the spectators were also of the opinion that the officiating was poor.

That game ended the intramural basketball season and saw a champion named. That's it for the season and we hope it will be better next time.

Repeat Champs

Albright is the Champion of the Middle Atlantic States Conference, Western Division. This is the third straight season that the Roaring Lions have won their section. The Lions are also the Champions of the Lebanon Valley College Tournament.

Traveling Titans

Westminster College will again play in the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament, or NAIB as it is better known. This tournament is held at Kansas City and last year the Titans broke even in two games.

Fix!!!!

Gambling syndicates have finally reached out to the small colleges. Ursinus has been the latest to get hit by the "fix". Last week in the Ursinus intramural league one of the players admitted throwing a game for a pack of cigarettes, Pall Malls to be exact.

RSVP

One of the largest golf tournaments in the East is the Juniata College Invitational. Last year was the first in which this annual event was held and it was quite a tournament. Fifty three golfers from 15 colleges took part in the tourney.

This year the Tournament is to be held May 15 on the American Legion Country Club course near Mt. Union.

Fore!!

This is the fifth season for golf here on College Hill and the teemen have yet to have a losing season. The first season they split in four matches, losing to Bucknell and Western Maryland. That was the only season they lost as many as two matches.

Trojans Sweep Intramural Playoffs; Champs Are Undefeated In Fifteen Games

by Mike Christie

In the intramural basketball league playoffs last weekend, the Trojans swept both the BTO's and YHO's beore them as they took the loop crown. They beat the BTO's in the semi-final and the YHO's in the final.

YHO's Beat Bridgers

In gaining a 74-57 win over the Bridgers last Friday night, the YHO's couldn't make a mistake. This game was the first in the semi-final round of the intramural playoffs.

Important in the YHO win was the rebound work of "Pap" Folk and Bill Bolt, who controlled both boards for most of the game.

The YHO's held a five point lead at half time. They then went on to take the game going away, outscoring the Bridgers 35-23 in the last half.

George Newcombe paved the way for the winners with 21 points on ten field goals and a free throw. Bolt netted 19 counters, while John Richman and Folk got 16 and 14 respectively.

Rocco Ortenzio tossed in 24 points to pace the losing Bridgers.

4 Trojans Hit Double Figures

Four players scored in double figures to lead the Trojans to a berth in the finals and hand the BTO's a 47-32 defeat.

The Trojans had a big first half, outscoring the losers 22-11. From that point on, the fast-breaking pennant winners were never headed.

For the Trojans, Jerry Walker had 13 markers, while Walt Parks, Ray Tesi and Bud Kreider each got ten. High man for the BTO's was Earl Detrick, who added four foul shots to five field goals for 14 points.

Trojans Sweep Season

The Trojans finished an undefeated intramural season Saturday afternoon, winning their fifteenth consecutive game and the league crown through a 63-43 victory over the YHO's.

After an even first half, the Trojans cut loose in the third period, outscoring the losers 18-9. They repeated this score in the final stanza.

The Trojans held an edge under the boards throughout the game, but the final outcome was decided, as in many previous games, by their fast break.

Red hot Walt Parks led the Trojans with 13 counters, while Art Allen had 11 and Bill Lehman ten. For the YHO's, Bill Bolt nailed 13 points and George Newcombe 11.

17 Freshmen On Baseball Roster; Intrasquad Games Being Played

by Ted McGwire

Coach Bill Smaltz called the first informal practice session a couple of weeks ago. Since that first call, many prospects have turned out until today's roster totals 33 men.

With the freshmen hold a majority of 17 and with most of them showing good ball, we should see quite a few of these men on the squad.

Two of them, Fran Zimmerman and Duke Schetrompf, are showing up very well at their respective positions, third base and short stop.

Green, Park Vying For Berths

Tommy Green and Karl Park, better known for their basketball fame, are also competing for starting berths on the diamond crew.

From the ten men back from last year, five are letter winners. Among these are Jack Dickey and Dave LeFevre, pitchers. LeFevre had a 3-2 record last year, while Dickey broke even in two games.

Joe Hulgus, an outfielder, and Ray Tesi, the Tribe's regular first-baseman last year, are also back.

Kensinger Back

The stalwart behind the plate last season, George Kensinger, has also returned to call the signals.

The boys have been taking batting, fielding and pitching practice for the last week or so and for the most part have been showing up well. A few intrasquad games have also been held to see what the players will do under game conditions.

It is still early to pick a lineup, but if the boys continue to show the spirit they have been showing, the Indians have a potential successful season ahead of them.

Motley Crew Wins Final Tilt; 4 Year Champs

The Motley Crew, undefeated champions in the girls' intramural basketball league, scored their eighth win of the season Tuesday night. They beat the Geiger Gals 18-9.

This was the last game for the team as such as they will all be graduating in June.

Only One Defeat

This has been the fourth year that the team has been the champion. In their four years as a team they have been defeated only once, and that was in their first year.

Seven of the team members have played together for all four years. These include Dolly Shaffer, Cupcake Seese, Betty Snively and Ceci King. All these girls are forwards.

The guards include Doris Harvey, Ruth Kimble and Beanie Roberts.

Three New Members

Forward Vera Compton joined the team last year, while B. J. Kaufman and Nancy Rodgers played with them this year.

Dolly Schaffer was the team's leading scorer and also the league's highest scorer. She scored over 140 points this season.

GOLF

Juniata's golf team, possessors of a nearly perfect record in 1950, will seek to repeat in 1951 as they undertake an 11 match schedule.

The teemen will also take part in two tournaments, the Juniata College Invitational and the Western Maryland Invitational.

The schedule has been slightly changed from last year, with Gettysburg and F & M replacing Western Maryland. Rtugers has also been added.

In 1950, the Indians's only defeat was administered in the JC Invitational, as Penn overcame an early Juniata lead to win. Juniata finished in a second place tie with Lehigh.

In regular season play, only a tie with Pitt marred their record.

The 1951 schedule:

April
11—Dickinson (home)
13—Gettysburg (home)
16—Geneva (away)
17—Westminster (away)
21—Pitt (home)
24—Dickinson (away)
27—F & M (away)

May
1—Albright (home)
8—Bucknell (away)
11—Rutgers (home)
12—JC Invitational
18—Johns Hopkins (away)
19—Western Maryland Invitational

Frain J Club Head; Wagoner Is V. P.

At the J Club meeting this week new officers were elected to serve for the new year. Also the Club voted to share with the WAA part of the cost of a new whirlpool machine to be put in the new gym as part of the trainer's equipment.

Elected as president was Bob Frain, while Bob Wagoner was elected to the Vice Presidency. Dave LaFevre got the post of Secretary-Treasurer.

Frain earned his J by playing on the tennis team last year and also by being a cheerleader. He is from Downington, Pa.

Wagoner, of Johnstown, is a two letterman in football and belonged to the J Club last year.

From Hanover, Pa., LeFevre has earned leters in football and baseball. He also played ball for the junior varsity basketball quintet.

As to the chorus, in addition to resoundingly adequate vocal support, esthetic appeal was not lacking. This ranged from the phantomesque delights of the one sex to the chortle-evoking antics of the other—both viscerally satisfying.

And when we come to the cast, ah, rapture: Albeit able in each case, one may with complete honesty single out the freshmen contingent as particularly satisfying. Clem Rosenberger as Franz was not out of character once, to my notice. His was the best acting of the operetta, though Fred Stauffer left no valid complaint.

Joy Has It

Joy Truxal, to my mind, has it. Not only can she sing, her acting was convincingly enthusiastic. Her low registers are not fully developed; but her middle and upper middle registers evinced a striking lyric-dramatic quality. If she wants to go into musical comedy and is willing to pay what it costs, she has the equipment to do it.

Clyde Johnson carried his role well, and provided in "A Woman's Smile" some of the most melodious singing of the evening. Helen Rosengren has the sort of voice quality which showed up to best advantage in the "Sympathy" duet—and she did a capable acting job in a difficult role.

Hartzel A Favorite

Gerald Hartzel happens to be the favorite male singer on the campus for this reviewer; he did not lose caste Saturday night. Joyce Grove was well-cast as Suzette and gave a convincing performance. There were no miscasts, as a matter of fact. Helen Wentzler as Mrs. Van Dare, Wes Diemer as Pietro, Laura Hollingshead as Sybil and the walk-on parts were capably handled.

Part of the success of the operetta was doubtless due to the care in selection of a vehicle suitable to the available talent and facilities of the College. For this extremely fortunate choice, and indeed for an overall evening of excellent entertainment, much credit is due to director Donald Johnson.

3-Day Program To Climax 75th Year Activities

A "full-dress" anniversary convocation on Tuesday, April 17, will be the highlight of Juniata's three-day observance of its 75th anniversary, April 15-17, according to President Calvert Ellis.

Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati, has accepted an invitation to present the principal address at the Founder's Day celebration.

This convocation, scheduled for 10:30 a. m. in Oller Hall, will be preceded by an academic procession.

The college is planning to confer honorary degrees on four prominent Juniata alumni as a part of the ceremony.

Dr. Walters is an internationally recognized educator. He is an authority on college and university administration and holder of eight honorary degrees. He has been president of the University of Cincinnati since 1932. Before that time he was dean of Swarthmore College.

His annual statistical analysis of enrollment in American colleges and universities is the standard in the field. It has earned him the title of Statistician Laureate of Higher Educatiin. Largely on the basis of this work, he has been elected to the rank of Fellow in American Association for Advancement of Science.

For three months in 1949, Dr. Walters was on a special education mission in Japan for the army.

Dr. Kiracofe Chosen To Go To NEA Convention In July

Dr. Edgar Kiracofe, chairman of the department of education, has been selected as a delegate to the National Education Association convention in San Francisco, Cal., July 2-6. He will be one of the seven representatives from the Central Convention district of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

While a student here, Miss Gantt was treasurer and vice-president of Lambda Gamma and a member of the college orchestra. Miss Gantt received her degree last August.

Elections

JCA commission and committee chairmen for the coming year were elected Tuesday night. The four commissions will be headed by Phil Norris, Christian Heritage; Kay Wright, Personal and Campus Affairs; Galen Keeney, Social Responsibility; and Don Bracken, World Relatedness.

Under these four commissions, which are responsible for the over-all policy and program of JCA, are the following committee chairmen: Clem Rosenberger, Bible and Doctrine; Dottie Hummer, Worship; Carole Shoemaker, Evangelism; Sarah Keller, Men-Women Affairs; Galen Frysinger, Christian Vocations; Phyllis Kulp, Recreation.

Esther Weaver, Community Work; Dott Taylor, Inter-Racial Relationship; Jack Ulsh, Higher Education; Jo Pentz, Applied Christianity; Naomi Kulp, Missions; and Herman Pabst, Ecumenical Emphasis.

Bill Carpenter was elected president of the Sigma Gamma at a business meeting recently. Other officers elected were Barbara Warner, vice-president; Clare Nolan, secretary; and Chet Gomeringer, treasurer.

Helen Maust Plans To Wed

Helen Maust, a sophomore, has announced her engagement to Jack Smith of Myersdale, Pa. Miss Maust. Garrett, Pa., is majoring in home economics; Smith is stationed at Ft. Meade, Md. The wedding date has been set for Easter Sunday, "providing the army co-operates."

Meetings

Mr. Herbert Miller, an instructor in the business department, will speak to the Tycoon Club Wednesday on the subject of "Stocks and Bonds." The group will meet in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House at 7 p. m.

The Sigma Gamma will hold its regular meeting that same evening. Prof. Alfred Goetschius will speak on the relationship of sociology and psychology.

David Heim, pastor of the Baptist Church in Huntingdon, attended this meeting.

Last Wednesday evening the Spanish and French Clubs combined as one club and will be considered thus for the coming term. The new club name has not yet been chosen. Miss Amelia Murdoch spoke to the group on "Student Life in Paris," and Dr. George Clemens showed slides on Pinochio.

'Messiah' Selected For June 3 Showing

"The Messiah," famed oratorio by Handel, has been chosen this year for presentation at Commencement June 3.

"We want a chorus of 200," director Charles Rowland has announced. Half of this number is expected to be made up of former choir members returning to campus in answer to a recently mailed postcard request.

As has been the custom in the past, the solo parts in "The Messiah" will be sung by Juniata graduates, "this year going as far back as 1936."

The first rehearsal will be held in Oller Hall March 19 from 7 to 9 p. m. Members of the A Cappella and Chapel Choirs will attend, as will former choir members who live in Huntingdon and nearby.

2nd Charity Ball To Aid Hospital Set For April 14

The second annual Charity Ball for the benefit of the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital is to be held Wednesday, April 4. The ball will be held in the Huntingdon Community Center and will last from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Tickets are $2.50 and may be purchased in the office of the registrar. They may be ordered today and paid for after April 1.

Dress is optional and girls will be given special permission to attend the ball. Those girls who attend are to be back in the dorms at 1 a. m.

Refreshments, Entertainment

Included in the price of the ticket are refreshments, which include turkey and ham sandwiches and a special Hawaiian punch, and entertainment. The entertainment is spotlighted by the Deep River Boys who will perform from 9:30 until 10:15 p. m.

Bill Chronister is the leader of the 10 piece band and Charley Ryan is to be the emcee.

"A vacation in Hawaii is to be the theme. The committees are doing excellent work," says George Kurtz, one of the committeemen. Guests will enter the ball room as though they were leaving a ship.

Hawaiian Atmosphere Prevails

They are then to be greeted by young ladies in grass skirts who will distribute leis as souvenirs. Kurtz says, "a false ceiling made of a Hawaiian moon and stars will add both to the acoustics and setting of the Ball."

Native huts are to be distributed along the dance floor where the dancers may relax between dances. Townsmen, playing electric guitars and such, will also perform while the orchestra is resting.

To complete the setting the food will be served on native wooden dishes by girls in grass skirts.

"It is to be a gala affair and we hope the College is well represented," Kurtz commented.

Work, Play Advised For Summer Months

"Make your summer count by studying or working" is the advice in the April issue of "Mademoiselle."

The article points out that there are many opportunities for study in addition to a regular college course. Seminars in world affairs, art, human relations and workshops in theater, writing and music offer possibilities for a summer of study and fun.

There are also many work opportunities these days for the summer vacationing college student. In addition to openings in community service, agriculture, industry and the arts in this country, there are jobs available abroad if application is made early enough. A list of these jobs appears in the April issue of "Mademoiselle."

Saturday Classes Shortened; Lunch To Be Served At 11

Classes will be shortened Saturday to permit students to make train connections.

The following schedule will be in effect.

First period—8 to 8:40
Second period—8:45 to 9:25
Third period—9:30 to 10:10
Fourth period—10:15 to 10:55
Lunch will be served at 11.

Larger Alfarata To Be Issued One Week Late

The Alfarata will be issued a week late, according to Quayton Stottlemyer, editor.

Originally scheduled for distribution May 15, the Alfarata will be delayed "partly due to us and partly due to a two week strike at the Canton Engraving Co.," explains Stottlemyer.

This issue will be four pages larger than last year's making a total of 120. It will be an informal picture story of the 75th year at Juniata.

Personnel List Made Available

A student directory, listing the name, class and home address of all students and name, home address and telephone number of faculty members and administration personnel, will be available for distribution, Monday, April 2.

The directory was formerly published by the YWCA. This year the concessions committee of the Senate turned the project over to men's house committee.

Selling for 25 cents, the directory is printed in larger type than last year's issue. On the heavy, dark blue cover is an engraving of a view of Founder's Hall.

Directory Cover Design

Four hundred copies are being printed. This limited supply will be on sale in front of Student's Hall, April 12. Proceeds go to men's house treasury for improvements to men's dormitories.

Gene Sease and George Cruser are co-chairmen of the student directory committee. Others on the committee, appointed by Bud Kreider, are Bill Bolt, Bob Rhodes, Frank Byers and Barney Plesenski.

Crosby Heads History Dept.

The appointment of Dr. Kenneth Crosby as head of the department of history was announced last week at a meeting of seniors preparing to take comprehensives in that field.

Quartet Will Go East For Tour Next Weekend

The Varsity Quartet, composed of Gerry Hartzel, Whitey Schaffner, Bob Landes and Ben Newcomer, will go on an eastern concert trip next weekend.

The cuartet will sing at the Philadelphia Alumni banquet in the Robert Morris Hotel March 31. Pres. Calvert Ellis will be the speaker at the banquet.

On the morning of April 1 the quartet will sing at the Greentree Church near Philadelphia. A full program will be presented in the evening at the Hatfield Church.

In addition to the weekend trip, the quartet is scheduled to take part in the dedication of an addition to the Uniontown Church of the Brethren April 4. Pres. Ellis will speak at the service.

Since its debut at a Lions Club meeting Oct. 1950, the quartet has been providing entertainment for the College and surrounding areas.

Functioning as a part of the a cappella choir, the quartet features such speciality numbers as "The Game Was Played On Sunday" and barber shop songs.

Redenberger, a sophomore, and Schaffner, a senior, are both music majors. Hartzel is a senior business major, while Landes is a freshman pre-dental major.

County Band Festival Set For Oller Hall

Oller Hall has been reserved Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 5-7, for the Huntingdon County Band Festival. Everything ordinarily held in Oller Hall except Chapel will be relocated.

Selected high school students from Huntingdon County schools will present the main concert Saturday evening, April 7 at 8:00 p. m. A concert for students will be given Friday afternoon.

Bridenbaugh, Holsopple Given Staff Promotions

Two freshmen members of the Juniatia staff were promoted this week.

Bob Bridenbaugh was named news editor by the editor-in-chief to fill a vacancy created by the promotion of Marj Seidel.

Jim Holsopple was appointed assistant sports editor by Bob Asan, sports editor. Holsopple is acting sports editor this week.

Bridgewater Graduate

Dr. Peters is a graduate of Bridgewater College and Bethany Biblical Seminary. In addition, he received a master of arts degree from Northwestern University in 1942 and an honorary doctor of divinity from Bethany Biblical Seminary in 1945.

A teacher, pastor, youth worker and church administrator, Dr. Peters has been general secretary of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren since 1947. He is also a member of the executive committee of the Federal Council of Churches in America, a member of the board of trustees of the International Council of Religious Education, and is currently serving on the General Board of the National Council of Churches.

Radio Committee Chairman To Hand In Resignation

Betty Longwell, recently elected chairman of general activities, will hand in her resignation as chairman of the radio committee at the next Senate meeting, she says. The Senate will then appoint a new chairman to head this committee.

Ex Huntingdon Pastor To Speak In Evening

To climax the Anniversary Sunday program, April 15, a community-wide worship service will be held in Oller Hall at 7:30 p. m. The guest speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Dr. John Thompson Peters, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Huntingdon.

Native of Philipsburg

A native of Philipsburg, Pa., Dr. Peters was graduated from Lafayette College in 1931 and received his theological training at Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, where he received the STB degree (bachelor of Sacred Theology) in 1934. He studied and traveled abroad and was awarded the doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Edinburgh.

Before serving in the Huntingdon Church, Dr. Peters was pastor of the Presbyterian Church in McVeytown. After leaving Huntingdon, he became the pastor of the Westside Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia. There he became widely known for his interest in the promotional and stewardship phases of church work.

General Council Secretary

He was elected promotional secretary of the General Council at Buffalo in 1949. At that time he was serving as president of the Philadelphia Council of Churches.

Dr. Peters returned in December, 1950 from an extended our of Korea. He toured North and South Korea as a representative of the Church World Service and other interdenominational agencies in the interests of relief needs.

University Of Oslo Offers Scholarship

Pickaninnies Won First All Class Night

BY MARJ SEIDEL

A glance into Juniatians of the past reveals that anything from "The Land of Cotton" to "Alfarata's Wigwam" is trophey bait for the annual All Class Night presentation.

This year's performance April 14 will mark the 14th annual All Class Night. Originally presented as All Club Night in which the various clubs competed for the prize, the idea of class competition was originated by the Camp Myler group at Leadership Conference in 1937. These students felt that this activity should be added to the student calendar to take the place of the stunts formerly given at the Hallowe'en party.

And so on Feb. 26, 1938 the first All Class Night was held in the gym. Five dollars and a silver cup were presented to the sophomore class for their "Land of Cotton," in which the co-eds appeared as little pickaninnies.

"Family Album" Wins

As juniors, this first victorious class carried away the trophy again in 1939. This time they presented an old lady paging through "The Family Album" which came to life as the members of the class posed for the pictures.

For the next three consecutive years, the class of '42 came out tops in the competition. As sophomores they converted the stage of the gym into the ring of a "JC Circus" complete with strong man, wild man and fortune teller.

Their second victory in 1941 marked a milestone in the history of All Class Nights, for this year the setting was moved from the gym to the brand new Oller Hall.

Mock Review Presented

"Time Marches On," an elaborate affair made possible by excellent stage and lighting effects, was the winning skit. In the form of a mock review of 1950 events, the script covered such phases as latest fashions, the Hitler and Mussolini meeting at Brenner Pass and the London blackout.

An added attraction of the 1940 All Class Night was a quiz conducted between acts. Two members of each class appeared as contestants. Questions proving too difficult for the group were submitted to the audience by use of portable microphones. This same year a song fest was featured between the class skits.

'42 Victorious Again

Final victory for the class of '42 came with a clever production. The theme was a series of five paintings upon a revolving stage. Incidentally, each picture came to life as the senior cast stepped out of the frame.

From 1943-45 the trophey was awarded to seniors, juniors and sophs respectively. Themes varied from scenes taken from the life of C. C. Ellis to a minstrel show and finally to "Portraits of Stephen Foster."

Rip Takes The Lead

Rip Van Winkle, Jr. took the lead in 1946 to win the trophy for

From The Editor's Notes:---

OVERSET: Odds And Ends

● IT WAS AT breakfast early this week, and two freshmen were kicking around the history of the separation of Church and State. Then one of them commented, in reference to America, "You know, today we might better speak of the separation of God and State." We never thought of it that way. If you can believe the history books, it looks as though man started out with the fear that the Church wasn't going to let him think for himself . . . and then proceeded to think himself into a mess.

● TOO BAD final exams cut Move-Up Day short. We missed the annual opportunity to sing our favorite verses of the Alma Mater —the ones that go "Da dum de de dum de dum . . . "

● FOR THOSE who asked: those little black books the retiring Senators passed to their successors Wednesday are portfolios of office. They contain vital statistics on who to see for what, a list of job duties and some general hints. Very handy, when kept up to date by each Senator.

● "HOW TO PREPARE for and Take Final Exams" is, we note, the subject of a frosh orientation meeting at Westminster University. When we consider how often we've heard (and uttered) the plaint, "I never learned how to study," we wonder at the shortsightedness of modern education. The art of studying, like spelling and grammer, should be tools at the command of every student long before he reaches college level. But they aren't. We'll sound off on this subject again, after we've looked into the possibilities of doing something about it.

● AND THEN, every year, we hear students following this train of logic: "Juniata is a Christian College; Good Friday (today) is a Holy day; therefore Juniata should recognize this day is some special manner." But there's the rub—a very carefully laid out calendar very carefully terms it "Spring" vacation, and the Easter season goes officially unrecognized. It's just a comment on student thinking . . . but does the logic department need investigating?

(We should add here that the dean of men is issuing excuses for class cuts Friday and Saturday when he is "convinced that a student is sincere and actually intends to spend the time in religious observance." He adds that this is a matter on which no faculty policy has been set.)

● CONTRARY to what a lot of us have always figured, there is no such thing at Juniata as either a "major" or a "minor." The official terminology is "field of concentration." This is the division of studies in which you earn 40 hours or more. Of this number, 18 must be in one department (say history in division II), six in another department in the same division, and finally, six in a different division. The object of this system is to prevent over-specialization. If uncertain, your best bet would probably be to check with the registrar's office to make sure you're fulfilling the requirements.

Letters To The Editor

Chides Anonymous Authors

In a letter to the editor last week, the students of this College were chided for their allegedlly selfish motives during the recent JWSF campaign. I have two suggestions to offer to the author of this missive:

The failure of the student body to meet its quota in that drive indicates that social pressure did little to influence contributions. Isn't it likely that a number of students did contribute out of altruistic motives?

Criticism by one who prefers to remain anonymous loses much of its force. Such criticism, it seems to me, gives the impression that its author dislikes to associate himself with his beliefs. Perhaps it would be better to be guided by Thomas Jefferson, who, "preserved through life a resolution . . . never to write in a public paper without subscribing my name."

Keim Tells Of 'Ft. Cesspool'

(Editor's note: the following letter was sent to Jay Benedict by a former Senate member called to the service early this year when his reserve unit was reactivated. He enclosed a generous JWSF contribution.)

"How goes it?" I imagine you are concerned at present with thoughts of mid-terms, finals and comps. I'm green with envy.

Having contributed exactly nothing to the "police action" cause at present, my spirit, you can readily understand is very low . . . .

Our mother unit, the 11th Airborne Division, is apparently not scheduled for overseas movement until later in the year so we continue to fight the battle of Ft. "Cesspool." Walter Winchell is reputed to have said: "If your son is in Korea write to him, if he is in Ft. Campbell pray for him."

Actually it is normal stateside duty. Training, training and then a little more training. My present outfit is noted for its famous, or logistically speaking—infamous—jump on Corregidor . . .

Spring—Grad Gets Lyrical

(Editor's note: this letter was originally addressed to Prof. S. Earl Dubbel by a former editor of the Juniatian.)

Spring is on the way. It may not seem so up there but he is already sending his advance guards through here (Ft. Jackson, S. C.), washing down the skies with early morning showers and turning the wool Army shirt into a coat of chain mail in the noonday heat.

The mocking bird spends the day in the tall pines coaxing the bright green cones further into the light, while the peepers in the swamps seem bent on bringing pleasant memories to a Juniatian every night . . . .

The Army has finally put me into newspaper work and I guess I am as happy here as I would be anywhere else in the service. I am in charge of sports on the Ft. Jackson Journal, now circulating 13,000 copies . . . .

. . . . Best wishes to those seniors taking their comprehensives in English.

POLITICAL PULL—The college has connections in the state house at Harrisburg. Raymond Sollenberger, dean of men last year and present state representative, has gotten license plates bearing the letters JC for all the faculty here. The numbers on the plates correspond with the owner's graduation year or the year they came here to teach.

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN—Prof. Glick, one of 12 children, was asked the other day if democracy reigned at his home as it did in the Galbreath ("Cheaper By The Dozen") home. He replied, "Anarchy would have been a better word!"

Spectator:

Vacations Are Fun (It Says Here !)

by Ray Siren

This offering reaches you at a most glorious time of the school year, the eve of a vacation. Herein are presented a few words of advice and a few passing thoughts as regards this vital subject.

To those of you who have not as yet completed your packing, (I've been ready for weeks) this admonition: don't waste valuable luggage space by taking along your books and notes. Believe me, they'll do you no good. I've never known of any student using them except to prove to his parents that their money was spent as promised.

They Won't Be Stolen!

And don't worry about having them stolen while you're gone—anyone who would steal textbooks would probably return them anyway after reading the first few lines.

To most of us who eat and sleep in campus edifices, vacation means relaxation and overall rehabilitation. Three square meals a day and a nice, soft innerspring are my plans for the coming week, although April 2 will probably signify the end of a spend-thrifty, exhausting and frustrating week, as is usually the case.

Now that mid-terms are over and one can sit back and relax, the vacation will probably be spent worrying about mid-term marks and whether the old man will see fit to reward you with a new spring outfit or a cash outlay.

No Grades This Vacation

In this respect, your vacation will not be as dismal as some since grades aren't coming out 'till after your return. Nevertheless, it may help to make a few select rationalizations or excuses in the case that those tests that you had "wired" were short-circuited somewhere along the line.

Well, enjoy yourselves, and come back smiling, sober and single.

Softball, Tennis Spring Sports Being Planned

April will see the Spring intramural sports program swing into action with organized softball, tennis and ping pong slated. "There is also the possibility that a wrestling tournament will be added to the enlarged agenda," declared Bob Asan, newly elected senate chairman of athletics.

Two Softball Sections

Plans were announced this week for the formation of a College Hill softball league similar to the one which operated last year. Two sections are to be formed, with an equal number of teams in each section.

Each team will play each of the other teams in its division twice, with a "World Series" at the end of the season. This will be between the pennant-winning club in each league and will decide the intramural championship. The teams will be allowed to play exhibition games.

Possible Tennis Tournament

Possibilities for a tennis tournament are being investigated. "In all probability it will be held, most likely with men's and women's singles and doubles and also mixed doubles.," Asan commented. The ping pong tournament will probably follow this same pattern.

Wrestling may fill out the program. It is hoped that competition will be held and that this sport will become an annual event.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

New Senator Seeks Sports Information

To Juniata's Sports Fans,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who voted me into office. It is quite an honor and I will do my best to represent you.

To that effect, I would like to know what you want in the way of athletics, both intramural and intercollegiate. I am to represent you on the Faculty Athletic Council and it is my job to bring your desires to the attention of those persons who are in a position to do something.

If your demand is reasonable, let me know what you want and I'll do my best to have something done about it.

Student Coordinators To Lead Interclass Meet

A representative from each of the four classes will be selected to lead their respective class teams in the Interclass Track Meet, according to Bob Asan, Senate Chairman of Athletics.

It will be the duty of these persons to coordinate their teams and see that practice and competition are carried out in an orderly manner.

New Gym To Be Finished By June

Construction work on the new Memorial Gymnasium will be completed either the latter part of May or the first of June, stated Mr. Kenneth Glasgow, superintendent for the firm working on the project.

Mr. Glasgow declared that no difficulties are being met at the present time and that work is being hurried in order to have the job completed as soon as possible.

Not Ready For Founders' Day

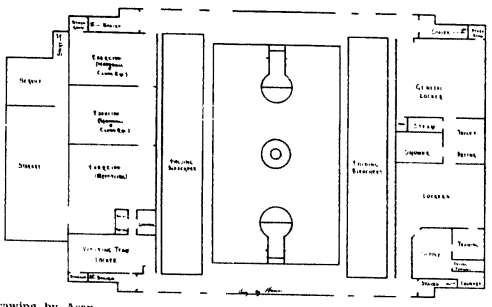
When asked if there was any chance that construction would be finished by Founders Day, April 17, Mr. Glaskow replied that this was hardly likely.

Fitted with all the latest equipment and facilities, the new gym will have a floor space almost seven times as large as that of the present structure. Erected in 1902, this old building will become the women's gymnasium.

Included on the mezzanine level of the building will be two basketball courts, each measuring 84 by 34 feet. On the main level will be an standard size floor, 95 feet long and 50 wide.

Indoor Track

Also on the mazzanine level will be found facilities for such varied sports as volleyball, tennis and badminton and handball. An indoor track measuring 11 laps to the mile will also be located on the mezzanine.



Drawing by Asan Lettering by Volpitto

The plan for the ground floor of the new Memorial Gymnasium.

Downstairs will be found two classrooms, which may also be used as handball courts. There will also be an exercise room containing wrestling mats and all types of wall apparatus.

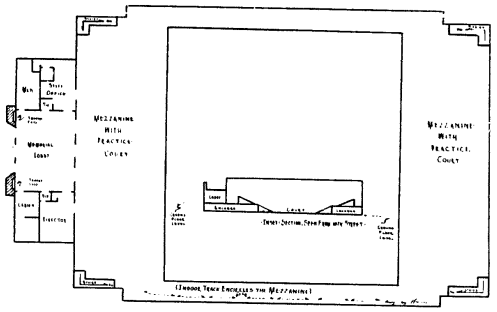
Dressing rooms and the trainer's offices are also located on the first floor.

Administrative offices will be located off the Memorial Lobby.

1200 Seating Capacity

At present, plans call for bleachers to be erected on only the main floor, giving the gym a seating capacity of about 1200. Other bleachers will be added on the mezzanine later.

An innovation is the two-phase lighting system for the main floor. Twenty candlepower lighting will be used under ordinary circumstances, 50 during games. This light is bright enough to permit the taking of indoor movies.



A plan of the mezzanine floor of the new gymnasium and a view as the gym would look cut exactly through the middle.

Seventeen Games On Baseball Schedule

The Indians have scheduled 17 baseball games for the coming season.

Compilers of a 7-6 record last year, the Indians will hope to better this mark in 1951.

Juniata Wins First Ballgame; Beats Petersburg

by Jim Holsopple

"June tenth . . . the new field was ready to play on and on that day a game was played with the Petersburg team. Everyone was anxious that our team should win the first game played on our own grounds, and at three-thirty on the afternoon of the above date nearly all the students were ready to help by their presence and cheering. The score—Juniata 10, Petersburg, 2—tells the tale of the first game."

The above quotation from the Juniata Echo of June, 1899, is the first record we have of intercollegiate sports on the JC campus. In the 52 years since the Petersburg game, the Juniata baseball squad has amassed a record of 255 wins, 213 losses, and two ties for an overall percentage of .543.

Early Intramurals

Even before 1899 there was an informal student organization which roughly corresponded to the intramural program of today. It was not until 1904 that the record really becomes clear. In that year the team played a seven game schedule which included such opponents as Susquehanna University, which will play here April 25.

These early teams did not employ coaches. At that time there was no atheltic fee, and the administration was not enthusiastic about appropriating money for such frivolities as baseball. Uniforms were not worn, and team equipment was bought with money obtained by a collection on the front campus.

As a remedy for a poor season in 1905 it was suggested by an anonomous writer in the Echo that more men should turn out, and that they should take the game more seriously.

Pitcher Jailed

That there was a shortage of players may be seen when, in one contest, it was necessary to get the Indians' only pitcher out of jail to play a game. The reason why he was there in the first place is not mentioned.

Since those early days sports at Juniata have grown into a major college activity. All of which goes to show that with an enviable record behind them, the 1951 Indians have every reason to have a successful Jubilee season.

Hollinger To Captain '51 Tennis Squad

At a meeting held Monday evening, Ray Hollinger, Westminster, Md. senior, was elected captain of the Juniata netmen for the 1951 season.

Hollinger succeeds Steve Finckel, who gained a letter while playing as captain last year.

Team positions are being determined through ladder playoffs, which began Wednesday.

All Class Night Themes Vary

the junior skit "Bright Future." It seems that Rip went to sleep at the beginning of the war and was awakened only after it was all over. With songs and interspersed dialogues, eight young couples soon convinced him there was a bright new world opening in which peace and prosperity would reign supreme.

The class of '48 rounded out their college careers as two time winners of All Class Night (1947-48), first with "Birth of a Nation," a passionate plea for world unity, and then with "Fantasy," a skit of familiar story book characters such as Bugs Bunny, the Seven Dwarfs and Old King Cole.

Seniors Win In '49

Upperclassmen can probably well remember the seniors' winning skit, "That Whosoever Believeth," in 1949. With a background of wierd organ music, a narrator spoke while the cast appeared as luminous still life figures. Excellent lighting effects added to this skit's originality.

All Class Night reached another milestone last year when the first freshman class in the history of the tradition won the trophy. In a hammed-up sketch of the history of JC, the frosh (now sophs) presented "Alfarata's Wigwam," a mixture of fact and fiction.

And now for the $64 question—who will walk away with the All Class Night trophey the night of April 14—'51, '52, '53, or '54?

'Draft Women.' Says WAVE

"Why doesn't somebody do something about drafting women?" asks Mildred McAfee Horton, wartime head of WAVES.

In her article, "Why Not Draft Women?" in the February issue of Ladies' Home Journal, Mrs. Horton proposed that it would be better for the nation to draw from the 16 million young men and women of draft age rather than try to fill our military needs from the eight million men.

"Nobody who knows anything about military life seriously contemplates making the Army or Navy—and certainly not the Marine Corps—into 50-50 co-educational organizations! The main business of military services is combat, and women should be noncombatants."

Local Music Group To Be Here April 13

The annual program of the Huntingdon music club will be presented Tuesday, April 3 at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall.

Composed entirely of local talent, the women's chorus and the VFW octet will sing separately and combined. Soloists will be Phyllis Henry, soprano and Edward Zimmerman, bass.

Prof. Donald Johnson will play the organ. Eleanor Banks will accompany the women's chorus and Carl Grove, the VFW octet.

Library Features C. C. Ellis Book

In observance of the Easter season, the Library has been featuring the book "His Days and Ours" by the late C. C. Ellis, father of Pres. Calvert Ellis.

Published in 1946, the book had its origin several years before, Dr. Ellis had conducted a week of Lenten services in Elgin, Ill. His sermons met with such favor that many persons suggested he put the messages into more permanent form in order that they might reach a larger audience.

Rev. J. E. Miller of Elgin, Ill., who is largely responsible for encouraging the author in this works, says in the introduction, "Books, like dinners, are often spoiled because of what was not left out. He knows when to begin, when to stop and how to pack the middle."

Written in chapters for every day of Holy Week from Palm Sunday to Easter Sunday, the book presents "the author's ripest thinking concerning the facts and practical implications for us of the last momentous days in the earthly life of our Lord."

Dr. Ellis stated his purpose thus: "As we go through this time segment of days and weeks preceding Easter dawn, let us try to find in them the special strength we need to live through these days of world distress and confusion . . ."

Test, Grades Are Criteria For Student Deferments

New College Plan Is Expected To Keep 'Hundreds Of Thousands' Out Of Draft

Last Saturday, March 31, President Truman issued an order which provides for the deferment of college students on the basis of present scholastic standing or their score in a national aptitude test.

Prior to this order college students were guaranteed only the completion of their current year plus a 30 day period in which either to gain employment in essential industry or choose the branch of service most desirable. Under this plan some 1,000,000 college men were eligible for induction. It is felt, however, that the new plan will defer hundreds of thousands.

Grade Yet To Be Decided

The responsibility of determining just what the deferment grade shall be and how many shall be deferred lies in the hands of Selective Service Director, Maj. Gen. Lewis Hershey. Hershey's comment on this is that "the standards of the two criteria would be raised or lowered to either increase or diminish the number of students in training, as the national interest may require."

Shortly after the White House announcement, Hershey announced that aptitude tests would be given in 1,000 centers throughout the nation and it territories. The tests will be given May 26, June 16 and June 30 by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

Juniata Is Testing Center

Dean Morley Mays has announced that Juniata College has been designated as one of the 57 Pennsylvania centers for the test. It will be given on campus by the Princeton Testing Service on the specified dates and will be supervised by the College. The Testing Service has set up the testing center in Huntingdon for the purpose of serving Juniata College students and those from surrounding areas. The Service has not yet specified the "surrounding areas."

As to the type of test to be given, it will be a multiple choice type dealing with the fields of natural and social sciences and the humanities. It is primarily designed to test: ability to read and

New Co-op Plan To Aid Pre-Med Technology Men

A plan similar to the Carnegie Tech 3-2 Plan is now available for students interested in going to a school of medical technology. After taking three years of college work at Juniata, a student may go on to a school or medical technology for a year or more and receive at the end of that time a college degree.

Requires Junior Year

In commenting on this new program of study, Dean Morley Mays pointed out that Juniata students have in the past gone on to professional study in medical technology after two years of college work. The new plan requires the junior year of college work and enables a student to qualify for a college degree at the end of the training period in medical technology. The student would also qualify to take the examination to become a registered technologist.

Under the new plan, a student will complete all of Juniata's requirements for graduation, except the senior year residence requirement. At the same time, the student will complete all of the pre-professional courses in science and other fields required by the schools of medical technology.

To Qualify

In order to qualify for a degree from Juniata a student will be expected to select a school approved by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Association.

A medical technologist, Dean Mays pointed out, it a clinical technician performing laboratory tests in hospitals, medical research laboratories, public health clinics and the offices of private physicians. The technologist usually works with a pathologist, who is a physician directing laboratory procedures in a hospital.

JCA To Hold Panel Discussion Sunday

"The Place of Religion in the Vocations" will be the theme of a JCA sponsored panel discussion to be held in Founders Chapel Sunday evening at 8:45.

The panel, headed by Dr. Kenneth Crosby, will be composed of well-known leaders in five fields of endeavor.

Representing the business profession will be Ray Engish; medicine, Dr. J. N. Keichline; music, Prof. Jack Brammer; education, D. Raymond Sollenberger; and law, Richard Linton. Each panel member will speak on the place of religion in his vocation after which a discussion period will be held. Refreshments will be served.

Concert Tickets Cost $1

Students will not be able to use their activity tickets for the Huntingdon County Band Concert.

A program is being given for county students this afternoon. Admission for Saturday evening's performance will be $1.00.

Graduate Record Exam Will Be Given May 4, 5

Students who anticipate taking the Graduate Record Examination May 4 and 5 should file their applications with the Princeton office of the Educational Testing Service before April 20, according to an announcement by Dean Morley Mays.

Application blanks for all who wish to take the examination will be available in the office of Dean Mays sometime next week.

75th Anniversary Forum Is Scheduled For April 16

"The Program of the Liberal Arts College for Our Time" will be the theme of a forum to be held in Oller Hall, April 16 at 8:30 p. m. As a part of the program commemorating the 75th anniversary, the forum will be led by Prof. Mark Van Doren of Columbia University and Prof. Alonzo Myers of New York University.

Goetschius Is Granted Year Leave Of Absence

Prof. Alfred Goetschius, head of the depariment of psychology, has been granted a one year leave of absence effective at the end of the present term.

He has been taking graduate work at Pennsylvania State College where he needs a year of residence to complete his work for a Ph. D. in psychology.

FOR SUB-FRESHMEN

Career Weekends Began Last Year

BY RUTH REID

The career conference for this weekend is planned for sub-freshmen interested in sociology, psychology, history and pre-ministerial studies.

A Saturday afternoon program for the prospective students is being planned by the Sigma Gamma. The remainder of their time will be spent in attending classes and joining in other college activities.

Program Began Last Year

It was just last year that the career conference program was extended to make available special conferences in each field of study. Until that time, only one day each year was allotted for this purpose.

Harold Brumbaugh, the person responsible for the extended program, attends several conferences each year to learn the ideas of other people concerned with admissions and public relations work. Most colleges have only one conference day or weekend each year.

Mr. Brumbaugh Gets Idea

While returning by train from a conference in Boston last year, it occurred to Mr. Brumbaugh that it would be much better to have several conferences.

Under the new program the sub-freshman can talk to people in the department in which he is interested and get the advice of the professors concerning his own plans. He also has the advantage of spending a weekend on the campus, living in the dorms, eating in the dining hall and participating in the various activities.

Testing Program, Big Help

Juniata carries on an extensive testing program, sending representatives to many high schools. The resultant list of prospective college students and their interests, plus personal interviews, enables the administration to find students who know JC is the school they want. This also enables the College to choose students who will benefit most from college work.

Last year Mr. Brumbaugh was in charge of the career conference program, while this year it is under the direction of Dean Melvin Rhodes. Both years Kay Wright has been student coordinator.

Dr. Crosby Is Re-elected As Senate Advisor

Dr. Kenneth Crosby, assistant professor of history, was elected by the Senate to serve as faculty advisor to that group for the year 1951-52. This will be his second consecutive year in that capacity.

A graduate of Wilmington and Haverford Colleges, Dr. Crosby received his Ph. D. from George Washington University. He has also done graduate study at the University of Havana. A native of Ohio, he came to Juniata in Sept., 1948.

At the Senate meeting Monday night, the members of next year's freshman court were appointed. According to Jack Rothenberger, chairman of underclassmen, they are Janet Boland, Jo Chiodi, Ginny Tyson, Barbara Warner, Bill Carpenter, Chet Gomeringer, Galen Keeney, Bob Learn, Jody Siemon, Nancy Stevens, Dot Taylor, Frank Jarrett, Pat Morello and Gene Sease.

Dr. Kenneth Crosby

Also at this meeting Betty Longwell officially resigned as radio committee chairman. After receiving several recommendations from the retiring chairman, the Senate elected Margie Alleman and Bob Champion as co-chairmen of the committee.

Chem Club Goes On Annual Field Trip

The Industrial Chemistry Club, under the supervision of Dr. Raymond Davis and Dr. Norman Rockwell, headed for points west Tuesday morning for their annual field trip.

During the four day trip the club is visiting, among other plants, the Donora Zinc Works and the Westinghouse Electric Co., to see how the theory learned in lab is applied in industry.

The 13 students on the trip will leave Webster Hall, their base of operations, sometime today and arrive back at the College tonight.

Choir Will Leave Sunday For Third Weekend Trip

The a cappella choir will be away from College Hill Sunday. On this third weekend trip since returning from the winter tour, Prof. Charles Rowland's group will again present its concert of sacred music.

Full programs will be sung in churches at Mifflinburg, Espy and Bloomsburg. One more Sunday trip remains on the schedule.

JUNIATA: A Look At Its Departments

Madame Scuttlebut and Dame Rumor have been active here this week. Latching onto the story that Prof. Alfred Goetschius was to leave at the end of this term (see story on page 1), these misinterpreters soon had it whispered up to campus-shaking proportions. By Wednesday the story had grown to "They're going to abolish the whole psych department!"

This was the background for a list of questions we asked the administration.

Q. Is psychology to be dropped for financial or other reasons?

A. Pres. Ellis said "No." We must offer at least three advanced psychology courses next year, and we will. Members of our present staff will probably teach the mind course, and we expect to get someone from off campus, perhaps Penn State, to teach the rest. We do not intend to drop any department for any reason."

Q. Why allow the only man in that department to leave then?

A. "As a general rule," Morley Mays, dean of the College, said, "we want to have at least one Ph D man in each department, preferably as chairman." According to the President, it was for this reason that various professors, the latest being Mr. Goetschius, are offered a chance to take a year's leave of absence to complete their work for this degree.

Q. Part of the trouble in this case seems to be that the man leaving is the only one in that department. Does this prove that some departments are undermanned?

A. Both Pres. Ellis and Dean Mays agreed that no department here is understaffed.

Q. Why is it so important that department chairmen be PH D men?

A. These men help set up the academic program of their departments, help decide on courses to be offered, assist in determining faculty replacements, and help settle academic problems in their departments. A major duty is to serve as chairman of their respective comprehensive boards. This means they must arrange the time and place for each oral exam, set up the test in their department, and attend the oral question session for each senior in their department.

Q. How many of the department chairmen have their PH D degrees?

A. There are 17 department chairmen; half that number have their degree. In addition, there are four faculty members with PH D's who are not chairmen, three in Division III, one in division I. There are 43 teaching members of the faculty.

(Next week this report on the academic structure of Juniata will be continued. Part 2 will study finance and the old question of "Science Hall vs. Students Hall.")

THE MATING SEASON—From the title and even after you begin to view this new Paramount picture you are not sure whether it is a simple love story or comedy. The latter, you will discover is definitely the case.

Mother-in-law trouble is the topic, but you will find that the old story has a few new twists which put it a step above the common run. The young couple involved are Gene Tierney (rich girl) and John Lund (engineer put through college by his mother). Mother (Miriam Hopkins) wants Gene to marry well and John is not her idea of well.

The comedy begins when John's mother (Thelma Ritter) enters the household as cook without revealing her identity to the little woman. Thelma really has her troubles and in solving them steals the show. This double mother-in-law problem is a fast moving and spine-tickling movie which promises to be very entertaining. Grand Theatre.

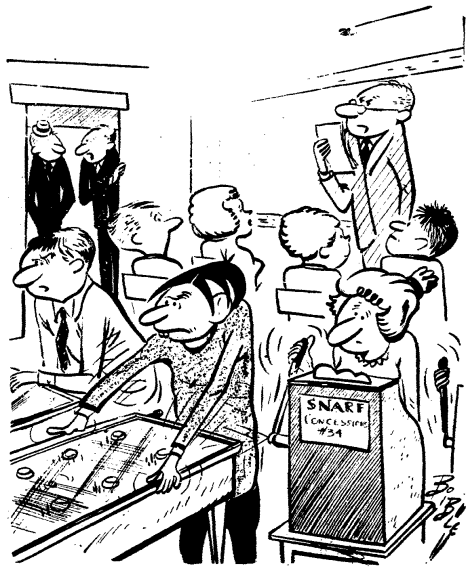
THREE GUYS NAMED MIKE—To those ambitious females who have high hopes of playing nursemaid to a bunch of airsick passengers while winging into the wild blue yonder, this picture is dedicated.

In this movie MGM not only gives us a birdseye view of how an air hostess is trained and the things she goes through, but also weaves in a four cornered triangle which proves to be quite hilarious.

You could hardly come out with anything but a comedy when you present a story which has three males (Van Johnson, Barry Sullivan, Howard Keel), all bearing the name of "Mike" chasing one little defenseless airline hostess (Jane Wyman).

Just how defenseless she is and how she sends two of them into tail spins and goes soaring off into the sky with the "lucky boy" remains for the movie to disclose. Clifton Theatre.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER



"I'd say something to Prof. Snarf, only Lord knows we're not paying our teachers enough."

From The Editor's Notes—

● EXTRA-CURRICULAR isn't the word for it any more, news bureau director Bill Engel says. High school officials are now calling them "co-curricular activities." They feel that putting out a student newspaper or batting a tennis ball is education too, for several reasons: (1) They teach how to deal with people. Lectures and tests will never do that. (2) They offer a means of relaxation. This is a definite need of the modern student, often under high pressure though profs won't admit it. (3) They sometimes teach more practical knowledge in less time about student's life interest than his courses can. It's about time, we say.

Lists Reasons For Change From May Day To Festival

May Day as such is no more!

For those of you who regret its passing and retain nostalgic memories of by-gone years, i.e. the life-like reproductions of nursery rhymes and fairy tales, here are the causes leading to the innovation of the Spring Festival:

● Lack of interest in the May Day program used in the past.

● To overcome the criticism that May Day is "too limited in participation and organization."

● To permit student participation in areas whre he feels at ease and possesses some degree of skill.

● As a means of avoiding the agonies accompanying the statement, "YOU—in the May Day fairy dance!"

In Juniata's 75th year, the Spring Festival marks a step forward. Before it can become something to be proud of, your wholehearted cooperation and effort is a prerequisite.

Your suggestions and help will be deeply appreciated.

TEEPEE TOPICS

STAR SPANGLED BANNER—Shortly before vacation someone made an addition to the flag pole after the flag had been put up. Flying below "Old Glory" were some dainty unmentionables.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT—About 12:30 a. m. on the night before vacation, the girls on 3rd Founders got hungry. In order to get some food they stood on the steps and chorally pleaded with Miss Jane McCormick, acting dean of women. In self-defense she let them get the food.

LOCKSMITH—When Peg Barrington closed the library before supper the other day she mistakenly locked in Edie Shirey and Harry Koehlein. They were rescued sometime later by Miss Lillian Evans, head librarian.

Sports Stars Named

by Bob Asan

Bill Engel's brainchild, the Juniata Sports Hall of Fame, is going over big with the voting alumni. And, more recently, former J winners and area sports writers are being polled to find the most outstanding men in Juniata's all-time all-sports history.

Asan

Two years ago, J. Clyde Stayer, Jack Oller, Mike Snider and Harold Brumbaugh proposed a tentative ballot. Since then, 44 men have been named on the ballot.

The last ballots were sent out early this spring and results are expected before too long.A list of five or six winners will be named before June.

We'd like to see this become permanent and see these men gain recognition in the new gym. To this effect, we'd like to suggest a system similiar to that used by the Baseball Writers of America.

Students on campus would nominate the five or six best athletes of the year, each year. These names would then be put on a list and when a period of time, say five years, has elapsed, sent out to the alumni and letter winners to vote on.

A certain percentage of the votes cast would be needed by any candidate for election. Those not elected would be held for the next ballot.

It's a swell idea, this thing of Bill's. Now, what do you as student think of it. Let me know and we'll see if something can be done about it.

Athlete Par Excellence

Leading the balloting for Juniata's all-time sport great is Danny Geiser, '39. He, along with B. J. "Fuzzy" Andrews, '31 and Hardy Engle, '23, has polled more than 20 votes from the 48 ballots that have been received by Mar. 1.

Mike Dzvonar has gathered about ten votes, while Holmes Ulsh and Squeeze Long has picked up two and one respectively.

From Indian To Indian

Jo Shaute, also in the running for all-time great honors, has represented Juniata in the major leagues. He pitched for JC in the spring of 1922. Then he stepped into a major league uniform for the Cleveland Indians.

He stuck with the Indians for eight years and then moved into the National League and pitched for the Dodgers for three more seasons.

His biggest moment, according to Shaute, came when he struck out Babe Ruth twice as a relief worker in the Polo Grounds in his first major league appearance.

There's Always Chess

The war and manpower shortage has hit Washington College of Maryland. Lack of manpower has caused the school to drop football, baseball and tennis from its athletic program.

Indians To Open Diamond Season

Squad To Face Indiana State Here Tomorrow

by Bob Asan

Tomorrow's game against Indiana STC will mark the opener of the 48th diamond season on College Hill. It is the first of a 17 game schedule.

Bad weather has hampered the squad somewhat so that it would be difficult to name a definite starting line-up. However, some idea may be given concerning the men in the running for starting bert Definite starters include George Kensinger behind the bat, Ray Tesi at first base and Joe Hulgus in the outfield.

Schetrompf Utility Starter

George "Duke" Schetrompf will also start, but exactly where remains to be seen. Says Bill Smaltz, Indian coach, "Schetrompf will start, but I'm not sure of exactly where." Schetrompf plays any of the infield spots.

Second base is a toss-up, with Dave Hackett and Ken Leonard in the runing. Hackett played some last year, while Leonard is a freshman.

Karl Park has been playing shortstop with Schetrompf as the number two contender.

Third base has been in the hands of Fran Zimmerman. Back of Zimmerman are Schetrompf and Bob Simon. All these men are fair hitters and will no doubt see action before the season ends.

Outfield Is A Problem

The biggest problem is the outfield. "Our fast men aren't hitters and our hitters aren't fast men," says Smaltz. "To remedy this lack of speed, we might use some pitchers in the outfield."

Joe Hulgus is a letterman outfielder and will probably start in right. The other two spots are wide open.

Among the outfield candidates are Mike Mervis, Harry Martin and Phil Chabody. Any of the following men may get the nod if these first three fail to come through: Fred Hamor, Tom McNeal, Schetrompf, Jack Dickey, Ed Feldkircher or Tom Green.

Hamor Ordinarily A Catcher

Hamor is a long ball hitter who ordinarily is a catcher. "But", according to Smaltz, "the only way he'll replace Kensinger is if George breaks a finger. Hamor is fast and may develope into one of our better fielders."

McNeal has been working in the outfield since practice began and is a steady fielder. Schetrompf may get his chance in the outfield to take advantage of his speed and hitting ability.

The starting pitcher won't be known until he strolls to the mound. Right now, the best bet is Dave LeFevre, sophomore southpaw. LeFevre won three games last year and led the team in batting.

Softball Managers Meet Today To Organize League

Intramural softball managers will have their first meeting tonight. The time and place will be announced. The meeting will be for the purpose of spreading information about the approaching season.

If no difficulties should be encountered, it is expected that the season should open next Wednesday, April 11.

Inter-Class Meet Set For April 11th, '52 Seeks 3rd Win

Juniata's annual Inter-class Track Meet will be held April 12. A feature of the contest will be an attempt by the class of 1952 to capture the crown for the third successive year.

First held in 1901, this meet heralded the beginning of track and field at Juniata. This year twelve events will be held.

Mile Run Included

Track contests will include 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, half mile and mile runs, 70 yard high hurdles, and 100 yard low hurdles. High and broad jumps, pole vaulting, and discus and javelin throws will highlight the field events.

Student class leaders will direct the activities of their classes during the meet. Don Brinton, Joe Hackman, and Frank Jarrett will head the senior, junior and sophomore classes respectively, while the freshmen will be led by Bill Blakely, John Cook and Don Patricelli.

Hackman High in 50

Last year's sophomore winners were paced by Hackman's 17 points, as they accumulated a total of 58 tallies. They were followed by the juniors, seniors and freshmen, in that order.

In 1949 Coy Hicks' 19 markers paced the class of 1951 to a second place finish, with the class of 1952 again taking top honors.

Linkmen, Tennis Squad To Face Dickinsonians

Juniata's crack golf team will be attempting to lengthen its winning streak while the Indian tennis team will be out to bring an end to a long losing skein when each takes on the Dickinson Red Devils on April 11.

The golfers will face the Dickinsonians at the local country club, while the tennis men will travel to Carlisle.

The golf match will begin a long series of 11 dual meets and two invitational tournaments for the championship linksters. One of the latter is the Juniata College Invitational Tournament, rated as one of the largest collegiate golf contests in the East.

Although golf has only been a varsity sport since 1947, the Indians have already built up an enviable record of 26 wins and one tie in 30 intercollegiate matches. Undefeated seasons were recorded in 1948 and 1950.

The squad will sport four returning lettermen. Art Allen, Dave Bayer, Ray Korody, and Bob Rhodes will be holdovers while the other two vacancies will probably be filled from the freshmen ranks.

The tennis team, being reactivated after a wartime layoff, has a rugged eight game schedule coming up. Last year, in the first intercollegiate competition since 1947, the netmen lost all five of their encounters.

The outlook this year, however, is much brighter since the courtmen have three returning lettermen in Steve Finckel, Bob Frain and Ray Hollinger, as well as a host of bright freshmen candidates.

May Day To Be Replaced By New Spring Festival

A new and different program is being planned for May 12 to replace the traditional May Day ceremonies. This new type of program will be called the Spring Festival instead of May Day.

According to Renie Hebrank, chairman of the Spring Festival committee, the revamped program is being charted because of the desire of the student body to have more groups participate.

The main part of the Spring Festival will be held all afternoon May 12. A program featuring all types of student talent will be held on the lawn in front of Oller Hall. Several items of entertainment have already been arranged, among which are the a cappella choir and orchestra.

Clubs To Build Booths

Each organization on campus has been asked to construct a booth and arrange for a display and entertainment at the booth. These will be constructed on the lawn in front of the old gym. Several faculty members have already volunteered to have displays.

Nancy Shiffler, chairman of publicity for the Spring Festival, has sent each club president a letter, asking them to have displays. Prizes will be offered for the best.

After the program in front of Oller Hall there will be entertainment at each of the booths. A tea will be held in the social rooms. Tentative plans also call for street dancing on 18th street.

To Elect Coordinator

A meeting of representatives from each club has been called to discuss plans for displays. A club coordinator, who will be in charge of the displays, will be elected.

As in the past, the whole student body will elect a queen, maid of honor and prince charming. Each class will choose two of its members as attendants at the queen's court.

The traditional breakfast will be served to the girls on the morning of May 12.

Less Difficult Than College Board

Testing Service officials say that the test is not to be compared to college board, but, if anything, will be less difficult. Instructions and samples of this test will be in circulation by April 12.

All students under 26 years of age, who have begun and plan to continue their college or university studies and have not previously taken the test, are eligible. No second chance will be given to those who fail.

The new system, informed sources predict, will defer seniors who were in the upper scholastic three quarters of their third year, juniors who were in the upper two thirds of their second year, sophomores who were in the upper half of their freshman year and all freshman entering college this fall.

THE NEW $300,000 MEMORIAL GYM, dedicated to the men and women of Juniata who served in World War II, is 2/3 finished, reports Superintendent Kenneth Glasgow. It is hoped to be completed by June.

Including a 20' by 34' lobby, the structure is 173' long by 110' wide. A seating capacity of 1080 is expected on the main floor with more bleachers to be added later on the mezzanine level. Under the mezzanine in front of the building will be two classrooms and a locker room for visiting teams. The varsity locker room, training room and equipment room are to be located in the rear of the building under the mezzanine level. The mezzanine will be used for classes and an indoor track.

Specifically dedicated will be the lobby in honor of Lt. Chalender Lee Lesher who was lost in action over Holland in Nov., 1943.

FOR ALL CLASS NIGHT

Korman Predicts Keen Rivalry

by Bob Bridenbaugh

"Competition should be keen from beginning to end," said chairman Bill Korman in commenting on All Class Night.

"The seniors and juniors have never won. The sophomores are trying to repeat their win of last year and the freshmen hope to duplicate what last year's freshmen did," he continued.

When asked to comment about the chances of the seniors, Phyl Baughman, senior director, said, "We have high hopes this year. The entire senior class is working hard to make our dream of having '1951' on that cup a reality."

Tickets for All Class Night, April 14, may be purchased at the public relations office or Steele's Drug Store. The price is 65 cents. Students will be admitted on presentation of their activity tickets.

Speaking for the juniors, Glenn Felix stated, "As written, our skit is fine. If the acting and directing are good accordingly, I believe we have a good chance of winning. We are last on the program, but I feel we will not be least."

Sophomore Phil Norris directed and helped write last year's winning skit. Said Phil, "Last year our class made no bold statements—and we won. This year we also think it wise to remain cautious. Four classes have a chance. May the best skit take the cup."

Wilfred Norris, director for the freshmen, thinks, "The cast and committees are enthusiastic. If everybody enjoys the skit as the cast does, we think it will be a success."

Jean Peary Added To Staff

Miss Jean Peary, of Tyrone, has been added to the College staff as "assistant to the assistant to the assistant to the president." She will assist Miss Audrey Brown, secretary to Harold Brumbaugh, who is assistant to Pres. Calvert Ellis.

Some confident young soul at Lock Haven State Teachers College on a recent poll announced that he was attending college to kill time until he became President of the United States.

4-Day Anniversary Program Planned

Speakers, Forum, Concert Featured

Classes will be shortened Tuesday in order that students may attend the special 75th anniversary convocation at 10:30 a. m. Following the convocation, students will eat in the gym, while Pres. Calvert Ellis will be host to special guests at a luncheon in the Dining Hall.

Featured in the four-day anniversary program will be a special Chapel speech, an educational forum, guest speakers, All Class Night and a concert by the a cappella choir.

Starting off the round of activities is All Class Night, one of the College traditions since 1937.

Anniversary Sunday Plans

For Anniversary Sunday, a divine worship service in the Stone Church has been planned. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Raymond Peters, general secretary of the General Brotherhood Board, Church of the Brethren. At 3:30 p. m. the a cappella choir, which has been directed for 19 years by Prof. Charles Rowland, will present a concert in Oller Hall.

Ending the Sunday program will be an address by the Rev. John Thompson Peters, promotional secretary of the General Council of Presbyterian Churches. All churches of Huntingdon have been invited to participate in this service, which will be held in Oller Hall at 7:30 p. m. The organ prelude and postlude will be played by Prof. Donald Johnson; and the Chapel Choir will sing an anthem accompanied by a string quartet, flute, clarinet and organ.

Pres. Ellis Speaks Monday

On Monday morning in Chapel, Pres. Ellis will discuss the "forward-looking" era of Juniata's history. At 7 o'clock that evening, educational leaders of state, county, city and town school systems of an 11 county area will eat in the Dining Hall. Students will eat at 5:15.

Following the dinner, the guests will attend an educational forum. Mark Van Doren, professor of English at Columbia University

Juniors To Hold Reception For Seniors April 21

The Junior-Senior Reception will be held in the gym at 8:15 p. m. on April 21. This reception is an annual affair which is given by the juniors in honor of the graduating class.

Music will be provided by the dance band, and there will be a program which will be announced later. The affairs will be formal, and corsages are in order.

In connection with the theme which is based on the 25th, 50th and 75th anniversaries, special guests from the 25th and 50th anniversary graduating classes have been invited.

Co-chairmen of the reception are Betty Longwell and Jack Rothenberger. Other committee members include Art Allen, Marj Seidel, Dottie Hummer, Bill Carpenter, Trudy Griffin, Phyllis Kulp, Phil Kulp, Walt Bandurak and Glenn Felix.

Pres. Ellis To Talk In Chapel Monday

Pres. Calvert Ellis will speak on the "forward-looking" era in Chapel Monday. His speech will be the last in the series of four special Chapel programs in observance of the 75th anniversary year.

Juniata's "humble beginning" was the theme of the first of these presented by the late Dr. Francis Harvey Green. Harry Wagner, prominent Huntingdon businessman, discussed the "transition period" and "expansion as a college" was covered by William Livengood, Jr., Pennsylvania secretary of internal affairs.

Pres. Ellis has had a long connection with Juniata College, where his father, Charles C. Ellis, served as president from 1930-43.

After receiving his A. B. degree from Juniata in 1923, Pres. Ellis got his Ph. D. from Yale in 1932. From 1931-43 he was assistant and later professor of biblical studies and philosophy at Juniata.

In 1943, he took over his duties as president of the College.

Senate Elects 16 Delegates For Conference

At the Senate meeting Tuesday night, members of the new social committee were approved, and delegates at large were chosen to go to Leadership Conference.

Also a recommendation was made to the effect that two automatic washers be purchased for the mens' dorms. Due to the extensive use of two washers in the women's dorm by both women and men students as well as faculty members, it was decided that there is a definite need for additional facilities.

Skits Of Fantasy, Comedy, Drama Are Slated For All Class Night

It happens tomorrow! At 8:15 in Oller Hall on the night of April 14, 1951, the fourteenth annual All Class Night will be held.

From bare stage to bare stage the entire performance of each class will take 22 minutes. In that short time only two minutes are permitted for setting the stage and two more for "striking" it. In the remaining 18 minutes the best creative efforts of each of the four classes will be shown.

According to Bill Korman, chairman of All Class Night, the order of the classes, determined by drawings, is: seniors, sophomores, freshmen and juniors.

Seniors Present Fantasy

The senior presentation, "Sammy Meets the Gilp," written by Bob Elder and directed by Phyllis Baughman, is a fantasy. It concerns the famous English writer, Samuel Peyps and the senior's evaluation of his "Diary." The plot thickens around Peyp's extraordinary encounter with a genuine, intelligent, literary person the "Gilp."

A type of play which, according to reliable sources, has never before been witnessed by Juniata audiences, will be presented by the sophs. It is a serious social drama concerning college youth faced with perplexng problems about which they are forced to make their own decisions. "The Third Choice" is directed by Phil Norris, and was written by Jack Ulsh, Len Hickman, Jo Pentz, Bob Bailey, Bernard Lily and Phil Norris.

Freshmen Skit Is "2026"

Having become "75" conscious, the freshmen have created a fantasy-comedy entitled "2026." (Add 75 to 1951 and you'll discover the source of the title.) Directed by Wilfred Norris, the play concerns life at JC when it has reached the 150th anniversary year. All phases of college life are incorporated into the script which was written by a committee composed of Helen Rosengren, Helen Stutzman, Betti Brumbaugh, Maurice Henry, Dave Hercules, Wilfred

Mays Appointed Head Of Exams For Local Area

Dean Morley Mays has been named supervisor of the local examination center for the Selective Service College Qualification Test. This test will be given here May 26, June 16 and June 30.

Last week Pres. Harry Truman issued an executive order which gave new hope to all those planning to continue their college training. This temporary deferment of college students is "due to the realization of our national leaders of the importance of educated and trained men," says selective service director Gen. Lewis Hershey. The general maintains that since it is impossible to combat Russian manpower, Americans can win in a "battle of wits" if certain precautions are taken. The new plan is

Late Bulletin

The House of Representatives has passed a bill putting final decision on individual draft deferments in the hands of local draft boards. Although the Senate has not yet taken action on the measure, it is expected to concur. "The Selective Service College Qualification Test will be given in spite of this action," Dean Mays said.

that precaution.

"Every male student in the College is urged to take the test," Dean Mays said. "No one has anything to lose, and there is everything to be gained by taking it."

However, all eligible men who wish to take the test must apply for it through the Selective Service System. The application forms are now available at the Huntingdon Selective Service Office (Local Board No. 75), which at present is located in Room 2 of the Wagner-Mierley Building corner of Seventh and Washington streets (over the Weis Market).

The Huntingdon office has made these forms available to any registrant, regardless of the local board with which he is registered. They are also available at any local office. The application form is known as SSS Form No. 106 and SSS Form No. 107.

The application form must be mailed to Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., which will then assign the student to the examination center which he has requested or to the closest possible alternative center. The Princeton office will also issue a ticket of admission which must be presented at the time of the examination.

Plans For First Spring Festival May 12 Are Nearing Completion

Plans for the Spring Festival, May 12, are nearing completion, according to Renie Hebrank, student chairman. Committees have been named and candidates for the court have been chosen.

For the Festival, the Masque will present a half-hour play and the faculty is planning a hobby display. Miss Edith Spencer's Applied Art class and the Alpha Beta Gamma are having a joint booth which will be in the form of a puppet show. Many other clubs are having booths, but their plans are as yet incomplete.

The booths being planned by the clubs will be considered as a separate unit. A meeting was held last Thursday night at which 15 clubs were represented. This group elected Betty Longwell club co-ordinator. She heads the rules committee which met Wednesday to set up the rules for the club booths.

Serving on Barbara Warner's program committee are Mary Lou McKee, Mary Taylor and Kay Kuehne.

Members of the rules committee are Beverly Williams, Ruth Armentrout, Jack Baldridge and Fred Bratton. Program editors are Juanita Carfora, Lolita Carfora, Erla Mae Weist and Shirley Nell.

JUNIATA: A Look At Its Departments

Part II

(What about Juniata's position as a school of arts and sciences? Is it really that, or just an imitation, a school for scientists who want a bit of culture on the side? Herein we continue the study of "JUNIATA: A Look At Her" which was begun last week.)

Q. What about the feeling that division III (the natural sciences) is "better" here than either division I (arts and languages) or II (social studies)?

A. "It is true that Juniata has established a reputation for a strong science department which it has not yet acquired as widely for its other divisions," Pres. Ellis admitted. This reputation has grown because division III has in the past sent more students on to graduate study than either of the other divisions. This in turn is the result of the greater opportunities for financial assistantships in the science field and the greater opportunities for financial gain in later life. However, more and more division I and II people have been going on to graduate work lately, as for example Sherwood Cordier, it was pointed out.

Q. What is being done to boost the potentialities of these divisions?

A. Both Pres. Ellis and Dean Mays emphasized that constant efforts are being made to promote all of the divisions academically. The program includes the policy of striving for a PH D in every department, constant experimentation with courses and instruction techniques, a constant effort to develop a "balanced faculty," etc.

Q. Is instruction in the natural sciences really stronger here?

A. The word "stronger" needs defined. According to the following chart compiled by Dean Mays, division III is really "weakest" of the three in terms of courses and hours offered, though academically it may have greater reputation. It depends entirely on your viewpoint which is "stronger."

Division I
Number of departments—5
Number of term courses—82
Number of hours offered—237
*Student hours—2369

Division II
Number of departments—10
Number of term courses—139
Number of hours offered—398
*Student hours—4879

Division III
Number of departments—5
Number of term courses—62
Number of hours offered—208
*Student hours—2448

*These figures were for the Fall term of 1949-50

Q. What is meant by a "balanced faculty?"

A. One man may be able to make a course interesting but is not widely read, another is a scholar though not an interesting lecturer, a third demonstrates his material vividly, etc. Pres. Ellis explained his job is to take all of this into account so that each professor meets some needs of some of the students. When the faculty members complement each other, all of the needs of all of the students are pretty nearly met.

Q. What does the President look for in hiring new professors?

A. "A man must have scholastic training, general technical ability, cultural interests and show Christian devotion," Pres. Ellis declared. The problem is to decide what proportions of each are needed for each position open.

Q. Some department chairmen are only assistant professors. Why is this?

A. These titles are based on teaching experience. A professor has at least five years teaching under his belt and an earned doctor's degree or its equivalent. As assistant professor has three years experience and a masters degree or better. An instructor may be just beginning to pick up classroom experience.

Q. How do Juniata's educational departments compare with those in other similar schools as to manpower, budget, etc.?

A. "I would stack Juniata's departments up against anything similar anywhere," Pres. Ellis said. "In view of the tuition and income we have to work with, each department gets, I feel, an equitable proportion of the money."

JOAN OF ARC—Splendor, magnitude, grandeur all are descriptive of this historical classic. The legend of the little Maid of Orleans, her call, rise to fame, capture, ordeals of trial and final death at the stake are spectacles which are not easily forgotten. The pomp and pageantry that the Technicolor camera catches, and the spiritual ordeals with miracles portrayed are all done in a superb manner.

If it were not for the outstanding work done by Ingrid Bergman (film star), however, I am afraid the true mystery, meaning and magnificence of the poor girl called Joan would have been lost in the lavish splendor of the rich costumes and brilliant sets.

But the performance given by the Bergman "Joan" really touches the emotions. Ingrid's sincerity and her way of getting under the character she portrays is truly extraordinary.

Catholic legend and French history are the main plot threads, but regardless of your faith I am sure that this motion picture will hold you spellbound throughout its two hours of running time.—Grand Theatre.

THE GROOM WORE SPURS—Here is a western comedy with a comedian cast that has the earmarks of real entertainment. Jack Carson is a city-bred cowboy busy making his public think he is rough and tough. He is, however, afraid of guns, horses and brawls.

Ginger Rogers (feminine lawyer) comes on the scene when Jack gets into trouble with gamblers. In trying to get him out she finds herself with his wedding ring.

Although funny in parts, as the film progresses the all-too-weak-anyway plot seems to be lost in the welter of slapstick comedy. Carson has a way with comedy though, and if you like his way you will like "Groom Wore Spurs."—Clifton Theatre.

Spectator:

Ah, 'Tis Spring !

by Ray Siren

Well, now that Spring is here, vacation is over and the chemistry field trip is past, it's time to return to the old grind. Yes indeed, there's nothing like Spring weather for good studying atmosphere.

Of course, Spring fever is still leading the list of unconquered maladies. For you poor souls who suffer from it, my sympathies; and to you poor souls who have never had it and don't expect to get it, may I suggest a good psychiatrist.

Ah, June!

What is so rare as a day in June? Yes, June—now there's a girl for you. I remember her now as I saw her last, sitting on the grassy knoll overlooking the beautiful Monongahela stroking her pet rabbits—one with each hand and one with her toes.

The poets have worked long and hard to express the breath of Spring. "When in Spring, a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of"—golf, baseball, sack time and the many other glorious phases of a successful attack of the fever.

Poetic Interlude

To wax poetic to a further degree, there's the old chestnut:
Ah, 'tis spring
The bird is on the wing.
But, that's absoid
The wing is on the boid.

As long as we're on the subject of poetry, here's another which, although irrelevant, is amusing. "Thirty days hath Septober, April, June and No-wonder. All the rest have peanut butter, Save Grandma, she rides a bicycle.

A friend suggested this next offering for our vernal anthology:
Spring has sprung
And Fall has fell.
Summer is here and It's hotter than usual!
'Nuff said.

Conscience

I don't know why I did it,
I shouldn't have gone and dared,
It was just because I did it
That made me feel so scared.
I peeked around the corner,
And I jumped at every sound,
And even at the slightest squeak,
My heart began to pound.
I ran into the parlor,
I ran up to my room.
I tried to hold it off
With Mama's kitchen broom.
It came in through the walls,
It filled up every bedroom,
And cluttered up the halls.
It followed me wherever I went,
And jabbed me like a pin,
It laughed and hollered at me
For committing such a sin.
That evening when I went to bed,
I almost started to cry.
I told Mom in a tearful way,
It was me that ate the pie.

From Our Notes

● NEXT WEEK "D. D." Silldorff begins to write our column of humorous anecdotes, Teepee Topics. Her On Other Campuses column will be turned over to Joyce Bernard. This switch is in line with our policy of constantly experimenting with this newspaper to see if we can't improve it.

● THERE ARE 55 acres forming Juniata's campus, only 26 of which we're using. What can be done with the other 29? We always liked the idea some colleges often exploit of planting several trees each year on such land. They make a special day of it and have a big ceremony. But the important thing is that if we were to begin such a program now, wouldn't we have a pretty swell grove in which to celebrate Juniata's 100th anniversary? And think of the picnics possible.

● DEMOCRACY puzzles us. In 1940 and 1944 a national referendum put the American people's stamp of approval on a third and fourth term for presidents. Yet the recent 22nd amendment to the Constitution denies that same principle. This is democracy?

Dean Studies Senates

Dean J. Melvin Rhodes

Twins, More Degrees Are Among Successes Of Past Legislators

by Bob Bailey

A set of twins, numerous advanced degrees and outstanding success in many fields, mark the achievement of former senators.

"The Senates' forbears indicate by their subsequent records the great potential of senators in general," said J. Melvin Rhodes, dean of students, who has made a study of the graduate records of previous senators.

"Because of this," the dean added, "the faculty and administration have always held the requests and recommendations of senators in high respect."

"Debated . . . Sincerely"

"Many previous outstanding senates has debated long and sincerely some of the existing orders of things on campus," the dean stated. "Therefore," he added, "a senate which wishes to change a great number of things is likely to be opposed or at least slowed down by the administration."

Since 1935 when the senate replaced the men's and women's student councils, there have been 182 senate positions filled by 187 senators. Five served twice.

10 MD's, 20 Ministers

Among former senators, Dean Rhodes found ten MD's, one dentist, one veterinarian, seven known Ph D's, three lawyers, 20 ministers, two foreign missionaries, 23 teachers, 24 businessmen, 34 home-makers, and five enrolled in graduate school.

Members of the first senate are now engaged in a variety of fields. At least eight of the twelve have earned advanced degrees.

The president is now a lawyer and district attorney, while the veep holds his Ph. D. and is an executive in chemistry.

A Mother Of Twins

The original secretary is wife of the dean of students at Miltonburg College and is the mother of twins. The treasurer is now a government accountant.

Home-making and two children occupy the time of the first chairman of general activities. She was formerly a county superintendent of home economics. The chairman of religious activities, chairman of women's house (formerly a social worker) and the chairman of social activities (who was a secretary to a business executive) are busy with home-making duties.

An Obstetrician

The first chairman of underclassmen is now head of obstetrics at Lancaster Hospital, while the chairman of athletics is a teacher-coach.

The publications chairman is a Ph. D. and full professor of philosophy at the University of Colorado. The chairman of men's house is also a Ph. D. and is a professor at the University of Pennsylvania.

Let's Browse Through Some Old Archives

by Phyl Link

What is more exciting than leafing through an attic, a trunk, a neglected drawer, or, in this case, the file in dean of women Edith Spencer's office? It can prove interesting.

For instance, did you know that Juniata's first Christmas formal was held only two years ago? Neither did I.

Fan Dancers At JC

But the older material reveals even more startling news. Can you answer the question "When were fan dancers permitted at J. C.? The answer can be found by looking in the May Day program for May 15, 1937. It seems that the pageant called "The Return of the Sun-Goddess" required three groups of dancers--garland, parasol and fan.

May Day has run the course of themes. The earliest program filed was of 1934 when the theme included four episodes from Indian folklore. Later themes included the World's Fair (1949, natch), Thumbelisa in '49, and Alice in Wonderland, 1948. That was the year that Vera Compton slept through the festivities. But it was all right. She was Alice.

We Go To Carnegie Hall

Stuck 'way back in a corner is a Carnegie Hall concert program. Its connection to Juniata, says Miss Spencer's notation on the cover, is that the artist, Dorothy Parrish, was a piano instructor here from 1938 to 1942.

Dean Edith Spencer

Commencements, according to Miss Spencer, were always held on the court of the Cloister, actually the little mound in back of the court. Plays used to accompany graduation, for "The Taming of the Shrew" was presented June 5, 1937.

Plays In Oak Grove

The annual play was originally in an oak grove where the Home Ec building is now located. Later, it too moved to Cloister's Court, or the gym in case of bad weather.

More rummaging through the file reveals that "Stage Door" in 1941 was the first Oller Hall production. Dr. Harold Binkley is a past director of plays, with "Candida," "Dear Brutus," and "The Perfect Alibi" [illegible] some of his productions.

A very interesting mimeographed copy of "Faculty Club Stunt Nite—1917" has some startling revelations. It appears that the faculty members are not the staid, cut-and-dried people we think they are. As proof, here two excerpts:

Excerpts From Faculty Play

Paul Friend—Tell me about this situation in Oneida Hall.

Guy Hall—Well, its this way. Every now and then my men get a call to fix the lights or haul some furniture or repair the plumbing. We even painted a room once. Everything works out pretty well. But these girls are getting mighty particular now. Why, only the other day my man rushed up to a door he uses regularly and there was a sign on it.

Friend—Well, what did it say?

Hall—"Men. Please at least knock."

After an interlude by a ghost and the Dead Past, the following scene takes place. The topic of discussion is whether a certain young man shall gain his English competence.

English Competence?

Miss Black—Yes, he is a nice looking boy.

A. William Engel, Jr.—Does he play football, basketball or baseball?

Miss Dorothy Fulmer—He has character.

Dr. S. Earl Dubbel—Doesn't write well despite his character.

Mrs. Hall—Excellent conversationalist.

Miss Williams—But he never attended a conference.

Dr. Harold Binkley—That settles it. Declare that man competent.

Some afternoon you don't have anything to do, why don't you look through Dean Spencer's file. Bet you'll find some pretty interesting things too.

Keep Game Amateur—Snyder

In a speech delivered recently before the New York chapter of the Juniata Alumni Association, Director of Athletics P. M. Snider asked the question, "What is in store for Juniata's athletics for the next 50 years?"

"Experience," he stated, "has shown that the normal development of any movement is directed by a set of principles to steer that development into a natural growth. These principles we call our athletic policy."

Football Too Costly

Commenting on the fact that a number of colleges have discontinued football, and that a number of others are having trouble in financing the sport, Snyder stated that the same blanket excuse and reason is given in almost every case, "too costly—can't finance the program.

Coincident with this, a number of colleges are at odds with the NCAA, because of the insistance of this group that college athletics maintain an amateur standing.

Sports-interested people often say that college sports should be made into spectacles to attract the support of alumni and friends, declared Mr. Snyder.

Play The Game

Commenting on this, he said, "America's sense of bigness can lead us into a lot of trouble if its enthusiasm is not directed into constructive channels. Let's attach more significance to the playing of the game."

Mr. Snyder then outlined a number of points which he feels are essential to the achievement of this end. Some of these are:

- The outcome will take care of itself.
- Let's have the game played for the satisfaction of the participant.
- Let's consider athletics as enriching a student's life at college and not financed as a side-show.
- Let's keep our athletic policy as flexible as possible to meet the conditions of the time.

Banquet Set; Gym Opened At Night To Men

Two items of sports interest were decided at the Senate meeting Tuesday evening. The first was the approval of the date set for the athletic banquet. It has been set for May 17.

Dick Bowker presented a petition from the men students requesting the use of the gymnasium after 10:30 p. m. He also showed cause why the gym should be kept open.

The Senate recommended that the gym be kept open to men students until 11:30 with the conditions that the lights of the gym be off and doors closed when it is not in use.

Approval by the President is all that is needed to reopen the gym doors after 10:30. This approval is expected Friday.

Tuesday's was the second meeting at which this matter was brought up.

Ten Teams Enter I-M Softball League; Play Nine Games

Ten teams will be in the running for the intramural softball crown this year. At a meeting of team managers held Monday night rules and organization were discussed and a committee of three was elected to formulate rules and settle disputes.

Each team will play a nine game schedule, facing every other team in the league once. The schedule calls for games to be played on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons until the arrival of daylight saving time, after which both afternoon and evening games will be played.

Regulation softball rules will be followed, with possibly a few exceptions to fit particular circumstances. Authority on the field will be given to two umpires, who are to be supplied by competing teams. Each will work half the game at the plate and the other half on the bases.

Managers of the teams will keep a record of the performance of the players. Score sheets for this purpose have been provided by the league.

Teams which are in competition are the Trojans, Day Students, Sack Hounds, Bridgers, Whiz Kids, Beta $/2, Doormats, Cats & Boppers, Blivits, and FJC.

Results of last Wednesday's opening games follow:

Cats & Boppers 5, Sack Hounds 4 (8 innings)

Bridgers 17, FJC 5

Blivits 11, Day Students 6

Kensinger Drives In 4 Runs; Indians Score 7 In 6th

Seven runs in the sixth inning enabled Juniata's Indians to post a 9 to 7 victory over the Indiana Teachers in the opener of the 1951 diamond season at college field April 17.

Dave LeFevre was the winning hurler. In going the route for the winners he allowed ten hits, all singles. Juniata garnered nine base knocks off a pair of Indiana pitchers. George Kensinger and Jack Dickey smashed the only extra base blows of the game, both getting doubles.

Kensinger also batted in four of the Juniata tallies, with a two run single in the second inning and a double in the seventh.

Misplays marred the Indians' opener, with no less than six errors being called against the home team.

Indiana Scores First

Indiana opened the scoring in the top of the first when a walk, a stolen base and a single allowed one run to score. Indiana hurler Heyz filled the bases with walks in the bottom of the same frame, but came through in the clutch with three successive strikeouts to retire the side.

LeFevre shackled the visitors in the next three innings, allowing no hits and striking out the side in the third.

Juniata pushed their first runs across the plate in the second when Dave Hackett walked, LeFevre singled, and Kensinger drove them home with another one base knock.

The game was scoreless until the fifth frame, when Indiana scored twice to take a 3 to 2 lead. They added to this margin in the sixth with another run.

Indians Score Seven

Trailing by two runs in the bottom of the sixth, Juniata's batsmen caught fire and scored seven times before the third out was made. Dickey popped to the second baseman to open the frame. Then Tom McNeal walked, Hackett was hit by a pitch, LeFevre received a free ticket to first, and the bases were loaded.

Karl Park singled to drive in a run, Kensinger doubled scoring two more, and Duke Schetrompf's single brought in the sixth and seventh Juniata tallies. Fran Zimmerman grounded out but Ray Tesi was hit by a pitch, keeping the side alive. Dickey then doubled in another brace of runs before McNeal, up for the second time in the inning, flew to center to end the inning.

LeFevre coasted after this, giving up a run in the seventh and a pair in the ninth.

Juniata Netmen Bow To Dickinson In 1951 Debut

Juniata netmen went down to defeat in the first match of the 1951 season. Dickinson beat them 6-3.

The only men to win for Juniata were Jim Marr in the singles and the doubles teams of Terry Harrison and Marr and Bob Frain and John Pottieger.

Marr won his match 6-3, 6-4. The winning doubles scores were 5-7, 6-2, 6-2 and 6-4, 6-2.

Captain Ray Hollinger extended his man to three sets before bowing 4-6, 6-4, 3-6. Harrison also went three sets in losing 2-6, 6-1, 0-6.

"There will be no final examinations on May 26 in order that all who wish to take the College Qualification Test may do so," the dean said.

According to present plans of Selective Service, deferment will depend upon either maintaining a certain standing in class or a score of 70 or better on the test (except for students just admitted to graduate schools, who must attain a score of 75 or better. A student who has the required standing in class will be deferred no matter what his test score. A student who has the required test score will be deferred no matter what his standing in class.

Advisable To Take Test

Dean Mays emphasized however, that "it is advisable to take the test. If a student were just slightly above the required standing in class and made a passing score on the test, and then slumped in his class standing, his score would keep him in college. Or if manpower requirements in other fields became greater, Selective Service probably would increase the requirements in class standing. A satisfactory test score would still defer the student."

In reference to the possibility that a bill currently in the House may cancel these deferment provisions, the dean of the College said Wednesday at a special meeting that "so far as I know, nothing will change plans for the first administration of the test."

Tuesday's program will include an anniversary convocation with academic procession. Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinatti, will deliver the address.

Honorary degrees will be conferred upon the following Juniata graduates: Dr. John Beery, '30, dean of the school of education at the University of Miami, Fla.; Dr. John Montgomery, '21, consulting gynecologist and member of the staff of Jefferson Medical College; Kenneth Morse, '34, editor of the Gospel Messenger, the official publication of the Church of the Brethren; and the Rev. Harold Smith, '35, minister of Christian education, Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church.

Following the convocation, Pres. Ellis will be host to special guests in the College dining hall.

"You Gotta Treat 'Em Rough," the junior contender, was written by Marj Seidel and is directed by Glenn Felix. It is a comedy of the life in Juniata dorms—both men's and women's dorms—preceding the most important event of the year, the Junior Reception. A divided stage will permit the audience to watch both dorms at their best, or worst, whichever the case might be.

Plan Additional Entertainment

Entertainment between plays has been planned by Bill Korman and Kay Wright, chairman and assistant chairman respectively. The women's trio, intermission and the varsity men's quartet will provide a break between plays. To close the evening's program, Bill Korman will present the trophy to the chairman of the winning class play. The decision by a group of judges will be based on originality, execution and audience reaction.

It was noted that the profits made from selling tickets will be given toward expenditures of the Spring Festival.

Students Sign Up To Fight Forest Fires

Many men students are signing up in crews to fight forest fires, reports Dean Melvin Rhodes.

"The advantage of signing up in crews," said Mr. William Glenny, area fire warden, "is that those who fight fires will receive the crew rate of pay. The crew rate is nearly double the individual 'pick-up' rate."

Tribe Bows To Bucknell

The Juniata Indians had a one inning relapse last Wednesday at Lewisburg and were beaten by Bucknell 9-1. Up until the eighth inning, it was anybody's ball game with the score standing 3-1 Bucknell.

But the Bisons came through with six runs in that inning to put the victory in left handed Bucky Lucas's pocket.

Juniata scored first in the second inning. Tesi walked and was pushed to second on McNeal's single over second base. Hackett sacrificed both men along and Tesi scored on Feldkircher's ground ball.

Feldkircher, pitching for the Tribe, had give up only hits in seven innings. The Bisons got to him for four more in the eighth, but what really hurt was the seven errors in that inning.

Bucknell got one run in the fourth with a walk and two singles. A double, two singles, two errors and a walk gave them two more in the fifth. In the eighth it was six runs on four hits, seven errors and one base on balls.

In the eight inning the Indians also lost Fran Zimmerman. Zimmerman, Hackett and McNeal were all after a fly ball in short right center field and "Zimmy" collided with Hackett.

Hackett came out of the smash unhurt, but Zimmerman had to be taken to the infirmary. It is believed that he is suffering from a slight concussion.

Bob Simon led the Indian hitters with two singles and a walk.

Frosh Capture Interclass Meet

Disregarding the inclement weather, the freshman class copped top honors in the annual Inped top honors in the annual inter class track meet held Friday, April 13 at College Field.

The favored juniors were next, followed by the seniors and sophomores.

It was because of a well-rounded contingent, rather than a few individual scorers that the frosh won. They had four firsts, three seconds and seven thirds to amass a total of 56 points.

John Cook was their high man with nine points, followed by Bob Flory with eight.

The surprised juniors had the consolation of having the highest scorer of the day running for them.

Joe Hackman garnered 20 points on the strength of firsts in the 70 yard high hurdles, broad jump and a tie in the high jump.

Coy Hicks of the senior class was next highest man with 15 points as a result of firsts in the pole vault and 120 yard low hurdles.

Seconds in the 70 yard high hurdles and 100 yard dash and a fourth in the broad jump added to his total.

The sophomores had but three points, Bob Wagoner's second place in the javelin.

A Cappella Choir To Present Three Away Concerts Sun.

Nearing the end of the 1950-51 schedule, the College A Cappella Choir will sing three concerts Sunday. Programs are to be given in Brethren Churches at Fredericksburg and New Paris. In the evening, the group will sing at a Rotary convention in Bedford.

Trackmen Lose Opener; 82-44

Juniata's cindermen lost to the Shippensburg Red Raiders 82-44 last Tuesday in their season's opener at Heiges Field. Cold weather and harsh winds hampered both teams, and very slow times were recorded.

Individual winners for Juniata were Jack Rothenberger who ran the 100 in 10.6, Fred Stauffer with a 23.9 in the 220, John Cook who captured the 440 in 55.02, and Joe Hackman who tied for high jump honors with a 5'6" leap.

Rothenberger also finished second in the 220. Hackman finished second in the 120 yard high hurdles and third in the 220 lows.

Coy Hicks contributed second place honors in the 220 low hurdles and the pole vault, while Bob Flory was second in both the mile and two mile runs. Stauffer was third in the 440.

Other third place winners for JC were Bill Blakely in the mile, Rocco Ortenzio in the javelin throw, Ron Hausman in the high jump, Bob Myers in the broad

SENIORS WIN CLASS NIGHT AS

Skits Show Need For Strength

By JIM STREINER

This review of last Saturday's All Class Night skits was written before it was known that the judges had awarded the winning cup to the seniors for "Sammy Meets the Gilp." Judges were Mrs. John Prosser and Robert Akers, Hollidaysburg; Mrs. Jacob Hostetter, Belleville; R. B. Madden, Mt. Union; and Robert Baird, Huntingdon.

Skits are reviewed in the order staged.

SAMMY MEETS THE GILP—In this fantasy presented by the senior class, we found the strongest story line we have seen in several years. The unusual idea on which it was based had a depth that has been missing in All Class Night skits in the past (except for author Bob Elder's previous works) and which was sorely needed in several of the other offerings this year.

Each of the three main characters was carefully delineated—serious Mr. Pepys; a slangy and very corny Gilp (Genuine Important Literary Person); and a strident judge. This was another trick other skit authors might well have copied. Vera Compton, the Gilp, was one of the few really outstanding players of the evening.

Scenery was well-designed and effective, particularly the dry ice "smoke" effect. Speedy and interest-holding for the most part, though the audience became restive for a few moments when history was being discussed, more exciting parts of the dairy might have been utilized.

THIRD CHOICE—Once again it proved that amateur drama doesn't go over in All Class Night skits, though the soph's deserve credit for trying. Their script was much too slowly paced, but was well-loaded with double meanings which earned the actors a number of laughs.

Probably the major lack was that no moral or "message" was offered once the question of the illegitimate baby was raised. The purpose of comedy is to create laughter; the purpose of drama is to say something, and that's what "Third Choice" failed to do.

The authors showed courage; more originality and tinkering with the script would have helped. There was no impressive acting, and the scenery merely served to fill the stage. However, plenty of movement among the players on stage kept the thing from ever seeming stiff.

2026—The last two skits ran into the problem which has been the bane of these shows for years: lack of universality. Authors forget that the audience doesn't know and appreciate Juniata life as the actors do. For those of us who have never met or had classes with "Dr." Conner, the opening parody on that gentleman's teaching methods held little interest.

However, in the later scenes this piece proved itself a very potent and clever piece of satire fit for anyone's taste. The trick effects, particularly, were the making of the freshman comedy, though we would also give credit to the interest-capturing mystery created by Bob Flory's wanderings in and out of the picture.

TREAT 'EM ROUGH—Though this comedy purported to be a revelation of life in both of the student dorms here, it was really slanted from the feminine angle, the girl's side of the story especially being strongly presented in a script which was on the whole well put together. The girls got

AFTER THE TRIP ABROAD

Prof. Oller Returns Home

By RUTH REID

Jack Oller, assistant professor of modern languages, returned to College Hill Saturday, April 14 for the 75th Anniversary celebration. He had been on a trip to Europe since January 20.

Prof. Oller says that the voyages to and from France, though a bit rough, were pleasant. While in Europe he stayed at Paris, Megebe (which is near Geneva, Switzerland) and Mount Blanc.

Much of his time was spent skiing and attending the theater. He reports that the French do not "dress" for the theater, except on opening nights or for other gala occasions.

Comments On French Actors

Prof. Oller feels that French actors and actresses take their training more seriously than the Americans. "This may be partly because they are members of a repertory company and devote more time to their art." He continues, "They seem to pay more attention to the small details than do the Americans in the theater."

Skiing in the Alps was good this year but could have been better, according to Prof. Oller. He skied in the lower slopes, because in the higher mountains there was too much snow which caused avalanches. He says that the weather rarely gets extremely cold and that the best skiing is in February and March.

Spoke French Mostly

During his entire stay, Prof. Oller spoke French (except when he met Americans who didn't know the language.)

He returned to Juniata with a recording of the play "L'Avare" for the language department. Other albums are to be sent later.

There was a two week transportation strike in Paris during which time Oller left the city. "During the strike the army brought in trucks and busses which partially relieved the situation. Taxis ran during the day but were never around if you wanted one," he reports.

Prof. Jack Oller

Conditions Are Improving

When asked to comment on conditions in France, Prof. Oller said: "Things are improving every year. Construction is going on in all parts of the country, but living standards are still low and the laborers' wages are extremely low. The cost of living is somewhat less than here, however there is no chance for an ordinary person to acquire surplus capital. Although conditions are getting better, they are not what they were before 1940, or before 1914 when France was known as a paradise for the man who hadn't too much money."

Prof. Oller was impressed by the determination of France to recover from the war and to become again a strong nation. He stated that the communist problem is a big one at the present time and that the free countries appreciate what America is doing to help European democracy.

Both the idea and the divided-stage scenery when backed it up were novel and well-handled, except that once again it was a local angle story which might not be appreciated completely by the non-student. The ending, highly unusual, left a very fine impression. Lighting might have been used to better effect.

Gladys Gehman, Bill Korman To Rule Spring Festival May 12

Building Rules For Booths Are Now Completed

Under the direction of Betty Longwell, the policy committee has completed the rules for booths for the Spring Festival. The committee has announced that the booths must be located within the area of 18th Street (on the gym side) to Students Hall, Founders, Home Economics building, tennis courts and the gym.

Building costs should not exceed five dollars, and no charges may be made on the public. Construction may begin Friday, May 11 at noon and must be completed by 2:30 p. m. Saturday so that absolute quiet may be maintained throughout the program. Everything must be cleared away by 8:00 p. m. Saturday.

No publicity can be made except in the booths, unless the club wishes to give their booth construction and idea to Nancy Shiffler, publicity chairman.

Five judges will be selected by Harold Brumbaugh. Their decisions will be based on hospitality, originality, content of booths, preparation, arrangement and cooperation.

The committee is arranging to have people on the grounds to see that no damage is done. However, every club is also responsible for individual protection.

ONCE A QUEEN, ALWAYS A QUEEN! Last year's Homecoming Queen is elected this year's Spring Festival ruler. Gladys Gehman will preside over the day-long festival activitics to be held in front of Oller Hall, May 12.

Erla Mae Weist Will Be Queen's Maid Of Honor

Gladys Gehman, Miss Homecoming III, has been elected queen of this year's Spring Festival.

This elementary education major hails from Windber and plans to teach after graduation. "GG," as she is called in reference to her initials, is a member of the Lambda Gamma, JCA, and was class secretary in her junior year.

Queen Gladys will be crowned by Prince Consort Bill Korman, a biology major from Smithville who plans to enter the field of medicine. Korman is a member of Scalpel and Probe and was All Class Night chairman. He will claim the Festival Queen at the breakfast. The coronation will be held in the afternoon in front of Oller Hall where the royal throne will be located.

Weist Is Maid Of Honor

Erla Mae Weist, runner up, has been elected Maid of Honor. Miss Weist, who is secretary of her class, is majoring in elementary education. She is a member of the FTA, Alfarata staff and was vice president of the Alpha Beta Gamma and Chairman of Worship for the JCA.

Attending the Queen will be Dolly Shaffer, Phyl Baughman, Connie Sherman, Norma Gene Sinclair, Rhoda Clemmer, Betty Monks, Peggy Brumbaugh and Dorcas Mertz.

Program By Oller Hall

Queen Gladys and her attendants will carry flowers, and there will be a procession down the diagonal paths leading to Oller Hall. The general program will take place in the area in front of Oller Hall, where the Queen will be presented with a gift.

"The faculty is to be thanked for their kindness and assistance in counting votes. Thanks also go to the election committee which included Joe Thomasberger, chairman, Barbara Warner, Dagmar Silldorff, Chet Gomeringer, Bob Learn and Clair Nolan," says general chairman Renie Hebrank.

Dean, 2 Others Are Hostesses

Three faculty members were hostesses Saturday at a luncheon-meeting of an honor society for women educators at Helfricks Inn, Allensville.

Miss Edith Spencer, dean of women, Miss Gertrude Butler, professor of home economics and Miss Lillian Evans, librarian, were hostesses at the meeting attended by approximately 45 women educators.

Following the business meeting, three other faculty members, Miss Glenora Edwards, Miss Helen Fisher and Miss Mildred Pausch, showed slides and discussed their trip to Europe last summer.

Ministerium Banquet Is Slated For Monday

Pres. Calvert Ellis will be host to members of the Ministerium at the annual banquet Monday evening.

The group expects to leave about 5:30 p. m. for Helfrick's Inn in Big Valley.

J. Quinter Miller, father of Lois Miller, a student here, will be the speaker. He is administrative secretary of the National Council of Churches and was a delegate to the Amsterdam Conference in 1948.

U S Production Affects World, Says Schonfield

"Even the slightest change in US production tremendously effects the amount of world raw materials available," contended Andrew Schonfield in a Chapel speech Wednesday.

Foreign editor of the Financial Times, leading daily financial paper of England, Mr. Schonfield is in this country on a lecture tour. He is also a radiocaster, having for two years been handling a regular feature commenting on the British recovery program.

Raw Material Trouble

Expanding his point the speaker said, "Before the war, America had the raw materials but we didn't have the dollars. Now Europe has the money, but America hasn't the raw materials."

He illustrated this by pointing out that at this moment a British representative is unable to purchase much-needed sulphur on the open market in New York.

Nationalization No Concern

Speaking in a history class shortly before the Chapel address, Mr. Schonfield made some additional assertions on British industry today: "The English aren't particularly concerned over the Labor Government's program of nationalization of industries. They are more interested in the social reform policies such as free medical care."

"And," he said, "don't look for the conservatives to return government controlled property to private enterprise. These industries—coal, utilities and steel—were each taken over for practical reasons, not idealogical ones. The first was inefficient, the second, monopolies, and the third vital to defense."

Speakers, A Cappella Choir To Lead Chapel Services

J. Quinter Miller, administrative secretary of the National Council of Churches, will speak in Chapel Monday. Rev. Marlin Bottiger from the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon will be the speaker Wednesday.

On Friday the A Cappella Choir will present the Chapel service.

Juniatian Wins 1st Class Rating

The Juniatian has been rated a First Class (excellent) college newspaper by the Associated Press Critical Service. This report covers the Fall term during the editorship of Dave Armacost.

Fifty-three other papers were entered in the 500-999 circulation class along with the Juniatian. Of these, five were awarded an All-American (superior) rating, 40 were in the same class as the Juniatian and nine were pronounced Second Class (good).

Papers were judged on news coverage, style, typography, make-up, feature material and editing. The Juniatian was rated very good to excellent in all phases of newspaper work except feature material.

Librarian Reveals This Discovery: 4,620 Books Were Used In Feb.

by Chet Gomeringer

Librarians have figures!

(No, no, Alphonse. Not that kind. This kind:)

Four thousand six hundred and twenty books were used at the College Library during the month of February according to Miss Glenora Edwards, assistant to the librarian. Of these, 4036 were on reserve status. The most called-for books in the month of February were in the area of sociology, government and family life with a circulation of 1,418.

Busiest During October

The month doing the heaviest business during the school year was October with a circulation of 5,741. Of these, 4,220 were on reserve for use in the Library only. The most reading done in any one course during the first semester was, as the freshmen might have surmised, in arts and humanities. Books for this course had a circulation of 2,179 in October alone.

No doubt you have had the aggravating experience of going to the Library and not being able to get the particular book you wanted because someone else had it. According to Miss Edwards, the times of day when the Library is populated are from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 2:45 to 4:30 p. m. She advises the students to "try to get that book during the off-hours."

Miss Edwards says that if all the New York Times since 1950 are available in the Library only on micro-film. This is a space-saver and is in keeping with the latest trend in library work. Three hundred periodicals and 1000 books are now available to libraries on micro-film but are slightly more expensive than the printed page. So far, the Library has only the Times on micro-film.

Oller Reads Micro-film

Prof. Jack Oller, who is an avid reader of the Times, has been making use of the Recordak machine to view the copies of the Times which he missed while in Europe. If he uses the Recordak

Conferees Return From Trip To D. C. With '6 Tons Of Literature'

by Bob Bridenbaugh

"It was quite an experience and we have six tons of literature to prove it."

That was the comment of Budd Rigg in speaking of the Washington conference from which he and Dave Armacost returned Sunday. Theme of the conference which was sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee was "Our Economic Foreign Aid Policy."

International Hitch-hikers

Rigg said, "We were international hitch-hikers. We cut down expenses by sleeping in a bus terminal and by eating hamburgers."

In explanation of how they came to sleep in a bus terminal, they reported that they did not arrive in Washington till 12:30 Thursday night. They had planned to sleep at the home of Armacost's friend, but because it was so late they decided to find other lodging.

Meeting with little success in finding a reasonable priced room, they asked a policeman to "arrest us and put us up for the night. The policeman refused and so we slept in the Washington bus terminal," they said.

Meet With Congressman

After having breakfast in the Supreme Court Cafeteria, each delegate had an appointment with his own congressman. Armacost's representative, James Devereux of Maryland, was unable to be there and so Armacost went with Rigg to see his congressman, Charles Howell of New Jersey. They discussed with him the point four program for international development, grain for India and the MacArthur controversy.

For Comps--An Idea

● Comprehensives ought to be comprehensive in scope.

● To make this possible, instructors should teach comprehensively in every course.

● Integration of knowledge should not be something talked about in the freshman year, then neglected until called for in that "test of the students' broad and mature understanding of the significance and relationships of his knowledge" known familiarly as comps.

These points have already been agreed to.

They may not always be practiced, but they've been accepted by the administration as a working thesis at least.

Haverford Has Idea

We believe that Haverford College has an idea Juniata might well use to implement this program of helping the student to integrate his knowledge. Still in the experimental stage in the political science department, their plan calls for a two hour seminar meeting every other week and comprising all the seniors majoring in that field. It "involves reading cutting across the field, as well as related subjects."

Seek Overall Picture

This material is then discussed by the seniors and the instructors with a view to getting an overall picture of the data which for four years they have been getting piecemeal in various classes.

What would be the advantages of such departmental seminars?

Advantages Listed

Haverford believes they would (1) aid students to organize thinking for the written exam, (2) give a better idea how to organize preparation, (3) eliminate the element of terror created by the too-great stress laid in some circles upon a single final exam, (4) integrate material into a practical, useful form instead of "compartments of knowledge" as it is taught, (5) create a stimulus for the student to begin dealing with his comps earlier than a few weeks before they occur and (6) be fairer because it would carry a substantial grade and cover a greater amount of time and work.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER

"By George, you do have a little rash. Well you'll just have to stop mashing potatoes until this clears up."

From Our Notes

● A RECENT SPOT-CHECK shows at least four college newspapers reprinting feature material which originally ran in the Juniatian. Items copied include Teepee Topics stories, the "chemical report" announcing the birth of the son of ass't prof. of chemistry Raymond Davis and an original feature entitled "Professors: How To Influence Students." The latter item was reprinted most frequently.

● FOR THOSE MEN who asked: figuring your class standing for the draft board was easy—for mathematicians. It worked this way. The registrar divided the number of credit hours you had taken up to January (including failures) into the number of quality points you earned. This gave them a percentage ratio. (Example: 15 credit hours into 12 quality points equals .8.) Naturally, many of the scores were tied. This was solved by listing all those with 1.0 as standing first in their class. Thus, if there were six such people in your class they were ranked first; then those with .99 ranked seventh, and so on.

● MEMO TO dining hall announcers: We'd appreciate your work even more if you'd (1) wait a little longer after the bell before beginning to talk, so our neighbor can finish his sentence, (2) speak more slowly and distinctly and (3) wait a moment between each announcement.

● ANOTHER MEMO, this time to dining hall announcement writers: (1) Keep 'em short and to the point and vary them if you can, (2) state right off the bat just who your message is directed to, and (3) if possible, repeat the time and place. These suggestions all came from various students recently in addition to the gripe that often they couldn't hear announcements. Funny though—in none of these discussions does anyone ever suggest that we might help you by knocking it off while your announcement is being read.

SPECTATOR TRIES PLANNING FOR FUTURE

by Ray Siren

There comes a time in every columnist's career when he is actually stuck for something to say. (Perhaps some of you would prefer that I never had anything to say.)

Oh, I suppose some more belly-aches about the dining hall may be amusing, but let's not carry a thing too far. As a matter a' fact, sometime in the future I would like to offer some of the gripes of our dietician, Miss Mathias, in matters concerning student dining hall cooperation. Brace yourselves.

Girls May Talk Back Soon

The previous article on the dormitory pest was inadequate in the sense that perhaps the fairer sex (i.e. the girls) have some special problems they want aired—so don't be surprised to see a guest complaint soon.

An interesting topic might be the utter disregard some of our noted instructors hold for student production, while marking on past record, personal likes (and needless to say, dislikes) and expected ability. But here again, if I mentioned this, I may jeopardize my own marks. Ouch!

Or, I could introduce personality faults and proceed to name names and in general, poke fun at some of our cohorts. But I'm a friendly guy and you never can tell who your future boss (or lieutenant) may be.

And Then There's Sex

Other columnists in other school tabloids often resort to the obscene or the near-unprintable for copy and you all know full well that good ol' JC just don't go for that stuff, and besides, we here on campus would probably not find it interesting anyway, being naturally pure at heart. At any rate, one must resort to innuendo to achieve anything of this sort, and that would cause too many of us to think, and why think?

However, if any of you want to hear some well chosen comments personally, and if you promise not to tell, drop by Room 109, Cloisters, (anytime after midnight) and I'll see what I can do.

I Like To . . .

I like to feel the Summer's breeze.
I like to see the flowers.
I like to see the ivy cling
To majestic grey-stone towers.
I listen for the madrigals
Of messengers on wing
Who call to say, "the Summer's here.
Come out with us and sing."
I leave my earthly palace
And soar the Heavens—free!
I see the world below me
And feel—Eternity.

—Fred Shamlian

Conscience Replies

An anonymous reply to the poem entitled "Conscience" written by Fred Shamlian and published here two weeks ago.

I know now why you did it,
And why you felt so scared,
Because your Momma worked so hard
To get those apples pared.
If you peeked around the corner
And jumped at every squeak,
Then even in the Summertime
You must find the weather's bleak.
You ran into the parlor
And ran up to your room;
You hope your Momma won't get mad
And hit you with a broom.
I chased you to the closet
And likewise through the halls.
I stared at you and snickered
From woodwork and from walls.
I dug right in and punished you
For committing such a sin,
'Til finally you told your Ma
How sorry you had been.
She told you that she loved you,
That she knew it all the time;
And finally rewarded you
By giving you a dime.

TRACY STARS IN COMEDY

FATHER'S LITTLE DIVIDEND—Next week's attraction promises a treat to those who enjoy such pictures as "Father of the Bride." Metro has come up with a direct sequel to that movie which promises to be just as hilarious as its predecessor. "Father's Little Dividend" stars the same cast with one addition—"The Blessed Event"—who comes just a little too late in grandfather Tracy's life to be fully appreciated.

Spencer Tracy in his usual satirical manner more than does his share in holding the comedy to a high level. His air of pure disgust at junior while all the while he has nothing but love in his heart is done in the manner which has made him the great actor he is. Some of the slapstick scrapes in which he and the little one indulge seem to slow down the action at times but on the whole it fits into the comical mood of the movie nicely.

Elizabeth Taylor is on the screen too. She makes a half-hearted attempt to hold up the emotional and love affair, as was her part in "Father of the Bride," but she creates nothing new in its sequel except becoming a mother.

This type of movie, however, is definitely the down-to-earth heart-warming story of family life, the sort of thing people usually enjoy because it reminds them of their own life and its daily events.—Clifton Theatre.

Indians Lose 2 Diamond Contests

Indiana, Geneva Cop Victories

Juniata's diamond warriors went down to their fourth and fifth straight defeats at the hands of Geneva and Indiana State Teachers College during the week just past.

The Indians lost to Indiana State Saturday as Ed Feldkircher gave up a grand slam home run in the first inning which paved the way for a 13-0 JC loss.

Give Up Five In First

Indiana scored five runs in the first on four hits, an error and a walk. Two unearned runs came across in the third and fifth innings. Four hits produced two runs in the sixth and two more scored in the seventh.

Tommy Green took over after the home run and gave up nine hits and two earned runs over six full innings.

Earl Detrick pitched the last two frames and allowed one hit and two runs.

Geneva Wins

Lloyd Cable's two-out bloop double off Tommy Green in the seventh inning of Friday's game was Geneva's fifth hit, but it drove in their fifth run to give the Covies a 5-4 win over the Tribe. Green was the losing pitcher and Cable the winner.

The Indians outhit the Covenanters but couldn't outscore them. Nine men were left on the base paths as the Tribe pounded out nine hits including a double and triple.

LeFevre Starts

Dave LeFevre started and allowed three hits and two runs in six innings. One of the hits was a bunt that no one could field.

By bunching a walk, four hits and an error, the Tribe scored four runs in the top of the seventh to take the lead, 4-2.

Detrick Loads Bases

Earl Detrick started the seventh, replacing LeFevre who was taken out for a pinch runner in that frame. Detrick faced only three men before Green came in with the bases loaded.

Ray Tesi paced the Indian hitters with three singles. George Kensinger had a single and a double, while Jack Dickey got a single and triple.

Co-captain Kensinger

Co-captain George Kensinger in his rig as number one backstop for the Juniata Indians. Kensinger is pacing the team in hitting with a batting average of .333 on six hits for 18 times at bat. He also has six RBI.

Co-captain Tesi

Co-captain Ray Tesi is the Tribe's starting first-baseman. Last year Tesi led the team in runs batted in. He bats from the left side of the plate and combines with Kensinger to give the team two solid portside swingers.

Net Squad Loses To Penn State

Juniata's trackmen lost to the Dickinson Red Devils at Carlisle Thursday by a 73-53 count. Indian Joe Hackman was high scorer for the day, producing 14 tallies.

Intramural Softball Delayed By Rains; Golf In Prospect

Rain and wet grounds have forced the postponement of much of the intramural softball schedule. Because of this, it will be necessary to play games both Tuesday and Thursday nights of next week.

Postponed games of April 13 will be played May 1, those of April 16 which were held over because of the Elizabethtown baseball game will be played May 3 and games originally slated for April 23 are rescheduled for May 8. All replays will be at 6:45 p. m.

Elsewhere on the intramural scene is the tennis tournament for which initial pairings have been made. Some first round play is already in progress. Tennis competition is limited to men's singles matches.

An intramural golf tourney is also in prospect. No definite plans have as yet been made for this event.

As of noon, April 25, the softball standings were as follows:

	W	L	Pct.
Blivits	2	0	1.000
Bridgers	2	0	1.000
Trojans	1	0	1.000

Cindermen Beat L V In First Win

by John Dale

Juniata's track squad scored their initial victory of the season over the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley last Saturday at Annville. In scoring what was rated as an upset, the Indians racked up 70 points to 56 for the Dutchmen.

The team was again ineffective in the field, but Joe Hackman and Coy Hicks scored half of the team's total point output to keep the Tribe in contention.

Hicks High Man

Hicks was the individual high scorer of the day. Firsts in the 100 yard dash, the pole vault and the low hurdles, a second in the broad jump, and a third place rating in the high hurdles enabled him to post 19 points.

Hackman finished close behind in the individual scoring with 18 tallies. He scored firsts in the high and broad jumps ,and seconds in the high and low hurdles.

Flory Takes Two Mile

Jack Rothenberger and Bob Flory shared third place honors, each contributing eight points to the win. Rothenberger won the 220 and placed second in the 100, while Flory won the two mile run and was runner up in the mile.

Other Indian scorers were Fred Stauffer who posted seconds in the 220 and 440, John Cook who won the 440, and Bill Blakely who was second in the 880 and third in the mile.

Frosh Finish Third

Four third places, all by freshmen, wound up the Juniata scoring. These were gained by John Thomas in the shot put, Wilfred Norris in the two mile run, Maurice Henry in the 440, and Don Ostrowski in the 220.

Although outscored 35-19 in the field, the Indian trackmen amassed 51 points to the Dutchmen's 21 in the track events. In the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, Lebanon Valley was only able to post one third.

Tribe Netmen Top Teachers In Shutout

The Tribe tennis team won its first match in four years last Saturday, swamping Indiana State Teachers 9-0.

Only Bob Frain was pushed. He had to go three sets before he polished off his opponent 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

The other five singles matches and all the doubles were won in straight sets.

Alumni Notes

Brandt Is Writing Scripts

Don Brandt, '50, is authoring scripts for three regular radio broadcasts now being presented over Shreveport, La. stations by the Barksdale Air Force Public Information Office, a publicity release from that office reports.

Africa, '51, Commissioned

John Africa, who was graduated in January, is now an ensign in the U. S. Navy and a student in the new U. S. Naval Indoctrination School, Monterey, Cal.

This school is the first of its kind to be established since the intensive short-term training program for newly commissioned officers was terminated at the end of World War II. All of the students have recently received commissions as ensigns or lieutenants (jg) in the Naval reserve.

Africa was married shortly after graduation to Jeanine McDonald, Huntingdon.

To Study Budget

"Is the fire drill system here adequate?" will be discussed at the regular Senate meeting Tuesday. Other items on the agenda will include appointing the leadership conference committee, completing the Senate budget and approving the radio committee members.

JC Library Erected 1907

The library here was erected in 1907 through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie. Before that, Room C, Students Hall, was used as a reading room. The stacks were in Room D.

Fancy Yearbook Titles Listed

Early College yearbooks here bore such fancy titles as "Leaves of Industry," in 1897; "Blossoms of Life," 1898; and "Fruits of Virtue," 1899. The present title, the "Alfarata," has been in constant use since 1915. Originally it was the name of an Iroquois indian maid.

Michael Barnes

'Male Animal' To Be Staged Here Tonight At 8:15

The Allenberry Players will present their third performance, "The Male Animal" tonight at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall.

Students may get special tickets to attend by presenting their activity tickets at the information window.

In The Comedy Vein

The play will be in the usual comedy vein and the cast will be familiar to those attending the previous performances.

Michael Barnes, a young radical student, is portrayed by Hazen Gifford who played the part of the young Scotch boy in "Hasty Heart" and the son in "Papa Is All."

Brubaker Has Role

David Brubaker, who played Jigger in "Hasty Heart" and Papa Aukemp in "Papa Is All," will play the role of Ed Keller, an alumnus of a mid-western university who thinks there is nothing more important in the educational world than a new stadium.

Cleota, the maid, is acted by Lorraine Bagley who was the noisey neighbor, Mrs. Yoder, in "Papa Is All."

Attended 3 Tournaments

The club attended three tournaments. At the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Forensic Tournament held at Temple University in Philadelphia, Juniata's team placed sixth. In addition, they participated in the Pennsylvania State Debaters Convention and the Middle Atlantic Debate Tournament in which they won two out of six debates.

Active members of the club include the president, Galen Frysinger, who is a sophomore majoring in chemistry and who has been a member for two years; manager Ray Fowler, a sophomore, also a chemistry major and a second year member; business major Ronald Cherry, a sophomore; Charles Kipp and Clem Rosenberger, freshmen pre-med students.

Proud Of Work

"Looking back at our year's work," says Frysinger, "we are proud of our record."

Juniata College Student Weekly

Vol. 27 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., May 4, 1951 | No. 26

Tuition, Board Expenses To Increase Next Term

"Cost-of-living increases force us to raise board and tuition charges beginning with the Summer term," Pres. Calvert Ellis has announced.

Tuition has been upped from $12 to $13 a credit-hour, approximately an 8.3% rise. This added income will be used to "adjust faculty salaries and cover increased calls for student aid," the president said.

Food Costs Increasing

Board charges have been raised $10 to a total of $150 a term. The president said that this extra money would be applied toward increasing costs of food. He added that "according the Bureau of Statistics figures, nation-wide food costs have gone up 14%".

Pres. Ellis pointed out that a survey published in the February issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine shows that before these increases Juniata's charges for room and board ranked among the lowest in the country for comparable schools.

Others Raise Charges

However, the same set of national circumstances is forcing other colleges to make similar or greater increases in their charges at this time.

Lebanon Valley has raised their tuition $50 a term and upped room costs. Westminster just increased tuition $5 a semester and raised other charges for a total of $34 a year. And the trend continues.

Little Working Capital

"Lately the College has been able to operate at a small profit," the president said. "But this has never given us sufficient working capital to tide us over the Summer, when outgo is greater than income due largely to the fact that we pay salaries on a 12 rather than nine month basis."

"Now," he added, "we expect to have to operate at a considerable deficit, which will be made up through borrowing".

The president pointed out that the students here never have paid the full cost of their education, and will not now. Endowment funds and contributions make up the difference.

Dean Of Women Granted One Year Leave Of Absence

Miss Edith Spencer, dean of women, has been granted a year leave of absence from the College next year.

When asked what she plans to do, Miss Spencer replied "I haven't made definite plans yet. However, I suppose I will devote most of my time to weaving." She plans to stay at her summer cabin in New York state.

Position Still Vacant

At present, no one has been named to fill the position for next year.

Before coming to Juniata in 1936 as dean of women and assistant professor of art, Miss Spencer was dean of women at Danbury Normal School, Conn. and assistant dean at State Teachers College, Trenton, N. J.

Received M. A. Degree

A graduate of New York State College for Teachers, she received an M. A. degree from Columbia University in 1927. Since that time she has done additional graduate work at Boston Lyceum School and the Universal School of Handicrafts, New York.

Miss Spencer's past experience included a head dietitianship, teaching music and art in public schools and two years as a Chautauqua artist with a Light Opera Co.

Masque Play To Be Given May 12

For the Spring Festival program May 12, The Masque will present a short three act play, "Winsome Winnie" by Stephen Leacock. Following the festival, the play will go on tour to the Huntingdon Rotary Club, May 16 and the Belleville Civic Club, May 17.

Taking place in 1875, "Winsome Winnie" is a typical melodrama starring Elly Formwalt in the leading role. Others in the cast are Wilfred Norris, Bob Champion, Glenn Felix, Peggy Barrington, Ron Cherry, Art Shriver and Judy Shanabrook.

By next year, the club hopes to have a repertoire of several such short plays to be produced off campus.

Scout Staff Revision Made

George Cruser has been named business manager of the Scout. He replaces Art Allen, who has resigned in order to devote more time to the Senate and the golf team.

Mr. John Monti

Altoona High To Present Concert Here Wed. Night

Under the direction of John Monti, the Altoona High School Symphony Orchestra will present a concert in Oller Hall, Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. Monti was graduated from Juniata in 1934 and is at present supervisor of music in Altoona schools.

Sponsored through the courtesy of Howard Lindman, director of music in Altoona schools, the concert to be given by the 83-member orchestra will be free of charge. The program will include the following numbers:

"Coriolan Overture," Beethoven; "Symphony in B minor" ("Unfinished Symphony"), Schubert; "Peter and the Wolf," Prokofieff; "Papillons," Schumann; "Double Concerto in D minor," Bach; "Gypsy Overture," Issac; "Deep Purple," De Rose; and "Syncopated Clock," Anderson.

Among the soloists will be Sonya Bashore, who has been studying music since the age of six. She has received the National Piano Audition Certificate for five consecutive years.

Helen Wogan, violin soloist, has been playing for eight years and is now completing her third season with the Altoona Civic Symphony in the first violin section. Another violin soloist, Elaine Trotter, is finishing her second season with the same Symphony.

2-Piano Recital Is May 12

Mary Lou McKee and Lois Miller will present a two-piano recital Saturday, May 12 at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall.

Spring Festival Plans Nearing Completion

All last minute details in the organization of Spring Festival activities next Saturday are being completed by committee chairmen. Under the over-all direction of Renie Hebrank, Betty Longwell, club co-ordinator, and Phyl Baughman, breakfast chairman, are making final arrangements.

Club Booths

Plans for the club booths for the Spring Festival next Saturday are well underway. The booth program is being conducted on a competitive basis. A number of clubs have submitted their theme ideas to Betty Longwell, chairman of this phase of the program, but others are guarding their plans well.

WAA Plans Booth

Girls in old style gym suits will take over the WAA booth. The Outing Club is planning a display based on various phases of camp life.

Two theatrical productions are being planned for the afternoon. A 20 minute puppet show will be presented by the Alpha Beta Gamma, and the Masque will produce the three act play, "Winsome Winnie," which will last a half hour. The program will be arranged in such a way as to permit spectators to view both performances.

Display Home Ec Activities

A display on two phases of home economics, cooking and sewing, is being planned by the Lambda Gamma. Festival goers can be photographed at the Camera Club booth, while the Sigma Gamma will use a theme of social studies.

Old Bibles and hymnals will be exhibited by the JCA in the Library. The French and Spanish Club is working on a theme of folk dancing and a display of various material.

Other clubs planning booths, but not wishing to divluge their themes are the Sportsman, Chemistry, FTA, Scalpel and Probe, IRC and J Clubs. As of Wednesday, the Tycoon Club was still uncertain of their plans.

Breakfast

Cotton dresses are in order for the Spring Festival Breakfast, according to Phyl Baughman, chairman of the breakfast committee.

Menu for the girls' breakfast, which is scheduled for May 12 at 7:30 is to be kept secret. Men students will eat at 6:30. Classes will begin at 8:30.

Queen To Be Presented

Following the invocation by Mrs. C. C. Ellis, the formal presentation of the Queen by the Maid of Honor will take place. At this time the Maid of Honor will place a garland of flowers on the Queen. Music will be furnished by the Girls' Trio.

After the breakfast, the girls will exit through the men's entrance of the old dining hall and line the path which leads to the front of Founders.

Prince To Claim Queen

Men students have been invited to witness the Prince claim the Queen at 8:15. There will be procession of the Queen, the Prince and the court along the path and up the front steps of Founders.

Women faculty and administration members have been invited to the breakfast. A list for reserving tables has been posted in Founders lobby. Seven girls may choose their table, and a guest will be assigned to them. Special tables will be reserved for the Queen and her court.

5 To Take Part In Reading Fete

Five Juniata students are participating today in the third annual Penn State Intercollegiate Reading Festival, sponsored by the Speech Department. Under the direction of Harriet Nesbitt and William Hamilton, this activity is part of the Combined Arts Festival at State and is unique because it is not a contest.

Juniata's representatives, chosen on the basis of try-outs, are Mary Lou McKee, reading a narrative prose selection; Jeanie Tait, poetry; Connie Sherman, long poetry; and Janet Boland and Phyllis Link, drama.

Some of the other colleges taking part are Seton Hall, Westminster, Geneva, Slippery Rock State Teachers College and the University of Pennsylvania. Last night all the participants were entertained at a banquet.

Dr. Brumbaugh, '79, Will Be 89 Monday

Dr. Gaius M. Brumbaugh will be 89 Monday.

In addition to still being a practicing physician, he is honorary chairman of the College board of trustees.

The doctor was one of the original three students here in 1876, and was a member of the first graduating class in 1879. His father, Dr. A. B. Brumbaugh, was one of the three brothers who first conceived the idea of establishing a center of higher learning in Huntingdon.

2 Plan Europe Trip Despite War Clouds

With a sturdy "nuts!" to potential war clouds, Jane McCormick and Edith Roberts are planning a two month "for-fun-and-education-too" tour of Europe this Summer.

Miss McCormick is physical education instructor for women here. Miss Roberts—"Beanie to most everybody—will be graduated in June with a bachelor of arts degree in history.

"There are five of us going," reports Miss McCormick. "It all began when we met at a private girls camp."

"We planned our own tour. This, we felt, would be more fun than simply joining a cut-and-dried agency-arranged trip. Besides, we figure our program can be accomplished for roughly $1000 per person," Miss McCormick said.

June 22 they will sail from

Ideas, Ideas, Ideas--Festival's Got 'Em, You Should See 'Em

by the editor

FRESH IDEAS are the world's rarest commodity.

And so we tip our green eyeshade to Renie Hebrank and her crew of chairmen for the brightest handful of ideas we've seen on this campus in a long time. Their program for the Spring Festival has what it takes.

Two problems faced the group.

(1) The old style May Day program, while colorful, had been done to death and interest had waned. Something new was in order, and it was up to this gang to develop it.

(2) An unprecedented set of circumstances left the planners without any athletic events scheduled for the afternoon of the Spring celebration. It was these activities which had held the interest of many students to the campus during previous May Days, and something had to be found which would replace them in student interest-drawing power.

The club booths were the answer. And from a glance at the list on page one of exhibits planned, we'd say it was the right answer.

TEEPEE TOPICS

by D. D. Silldorff

EXPERIENCE MAYBE?—Somehow Dr. Nye's medieval history class got discussing the pawn shops of medieval times. "Pap" Folk immediately launched into a long and detailed description of the operation and management of the medieval pawn shop, describing it very completely and concisely. Upon the completion of his little spiel, Dr. Nye concluded, "We still do a little of that today. I notice you're acquainted with the scheme."

WILDLIFE PRESERVE?—The College dining hall seems to be taking on all the appearances of a genuine terrarium. The waitress (won't tell her name but her initials are Joan Lenhardt) of one table nearly sprayed dishes the length of the dining hall when she discovered, staring back at her from one of the tables, a large, green frog. And at the next meal it was a lost-looking turtle wandering aimlessly among a forest of legs—chair, table and human. Anybody got a spare pond?

Communism Exposed

Bull sessions have been kicking the subject around for a long time. And the misconceptions get bigger as the participants get hotter.

So we looked the matter up in the most unbiased texts we could find.

Extreme Socialism

"Communism," the book said, "represents the extreme form of modern socialism." America is a modified form of the same socialism, which complicates the picture no end.

It might be said to have begun back in More's "Utopia" and Plato's "Republic," for these first talked of communal developments.

Began With Marx

The modern movement is an outgrowth of theories devised by Karl Marx in the late 19th century and described in his book, "Das Kapital." Essentially his system is founded on economic determinism, a claim that economics determine history's course.

"History and economics have taken care of the wealthy and the middle classes. Now what about the poor?" he said in effect. These ideas, known as dialectical materialism, were inspired by the teachings of the German philosopher George Hegel.

Class Struggle

Class struggle is the chief tenet of this doctrine. Lenin and Trotsky picked up these ideas, and added to them their own ideas of world revolution to establish communism.

In 1924, Lenin died, and his international emphasis was replaced by Stalin's nationalistic ideas.

Recently, two other modifications have been introduced, one by Tito in Yougoslavia, a second by Mao Tse Tung in China,

Cineviewer:

Coming: 'Up Front', 'Valentino'

by Frank Harlacher

UP FRONT—Remember those cartoons about Willie and Joe which were the cause of many a chuckle during the last war? You know—the one written by Bill Mauldin featuring "Doughfeet," the tired, unshaven, but humorous picture of U. S. infantrymen.

Universal International might be a little late for our full appreciation, but with the present Korean situation, "Up Front With Mauldin" looks like a lot of fun for anybody. Thanks to Hollywood know-how and makeup this movie creates an exact replica of the old cartoon which is more of an accomplishment than it sounds.

The plot is the old slapstick routine of the life of a couple of clowns in the army. The setting happens to be the Italian campaign and Joe and Willie get into the usual trouble of Wine, Women and MP's with a few new twists you'll like.

So-o-o if you remember the cartoon or if you like to watch the very humorous life of two GI's, go "Up Front."—Clifton Theatre.

VALENTINO—Tyrone Power, Victor Mature—very appealing, huh girls? If you ask the advice of your mother though, she will tell you that they simply don't hold a candle to that fabulous sheik of the 20's, Rudolph Valentino. Daring, dashing and an actor immortal is this past hero of the screen, and Columbia puts his life together in a movie that honors the memory of his famous name.

The unusual thing about this film is the likeness in face, figure and vitality that Anthony Dexter is to the real Valentino. Eleanor Parker and Richard Carlson in the supporting roles do justice to their trusts.

"Valentino" is the life of a film star whose life is constantly being used for filmdom's public relations. Consequently the motion picture about his life will have gaiety, humor, tragedy, love, emotion. These, plus Technicolor, integrate themselves into a motion picture about a typical victim of public lime-light.—Grand Theatre.

Plagued by Work? Then Try These Methods

by Ray Siren

As I am writing this bit of foolishness, rather subconsciously I am seeking ways of getting out of work. With the weather like it is, and being an avid fan of that age-old sport of goofing off, I find it most difficult to do anything but loaf, play golf and relax in the traditional Juniatian manner.

As long as we're on the subject, let's look at the various ways and means of attacking this dilemma: whether to work or not.

Objective Approach

First, and most easily done, there is the objective approach. By objective, I mean that if you consider this problem in its entirety, the easiest thing to do is not to do but to rely on someone else to do. That is, let your bosom pals solve assignments. Then by twisting a few arms, perhaps you can borrow the work.

Sam Sez:

Ours is an age which is proud of machines that think, and suspicious of any man who tries to.

Another way to attack this evil is to work like a beaver during the winter months and be so far ahead that you have nothing to do; but not knowing of any instances where this has been done, I offer it merely as a suggestion to the ambitious.

And Don't Worry

Above all, don't worry about yourselves. If you worry enough, you'll find yourselves doing your long-neglected work, and that's just what we don't want!

The matter of study habits and exam preparation is also important. Osmosis has been suggested as a feasible means, although I never had much success at it.

The local movies are a help somewhat. If you happen to have a history final tomorrow, I would suggest a western movie tonight. After all, America's history was made in the plains and mountains of the Wild West.

In a similar manner, most of the subjects here at school can be related to the cinema—music to the musicals, literature to the fact that all movies have scripts, science to such epics as "Destination Moon" or "Bedtime for Bonzo," etc.

Are You Ambitious?

At this point, a word to the first year students is in order. Many of you have ambition. Let me admonish you, remember what happened to Caesar, and all the other ambitious characters in history! They're all dead. Above all, don't work too hard, you'll keep the average up and you know what that will do to the normal goof-off.

At any rate, something must be done about this school-work situation. What you choose to do is largely a matter of preference, but to those who have no way or means of getting out of work, all I can say is, "Ya hear that drip, Mac?"

Intramural Program Hits Stride

A great deal of activity will take place on the intramural scene during the next tw weeks. The intramural golf tournament will be held, the tennis matches will round into full swing and softball will be played almost every day.

The golf tournament will take place next Wednesday and Thursday, 18 holes being played each day. Fifteen candidates will tee off for the 36 hole medal play. There are no pairings. Instead, the golfers will play in foursomes any four at a time.

Only two matches have been played in the tennis tournament, but plans are being made to speed up the event. In matches thus far, Dick Bowker defeated Bob Witchey 6-4, 6-4 and Clem Rosenberger topped Dick Barefoot 7-5, 6-2. Chuck Needy forfeited to Marcos Eddi to round out the only action on the court scene.

On the softball front this week most action has been devoted to the playing off of postponed games. On Wednesday, all games had been played except one. Leading the pack were Bob Volpitto's Blivits with a five win, undefeated record.

Yesterday at a softball managers meeting it was announced that the FJC squad had disbanded, and dropped from the league. This has resulted in all FJC games being declared forfeit

All players who were on the team have been declared free agents.

This action makes it possible for all former FJC members to play on any team with which they chose to sign.

J C Athletes To Be Feted At May Dinner

The second annual athletic banquet honoring varsity athletes and members of the WAA is to be held in the College dining hall Thursday, May 17.

Those present will include members of the football, basketball, track, tennis, baseball and golf teams. Members of the WAA are also to be present.

At the banquet the letter awards will be given to those men who earned them.

The coaches will make the presentations—Bill Smaltz for football and baseball, Doc Greene for basketball, Mike Snider for track and tennis and Dr. Kiracofe for golf.

Juniata To Be Co-favorite In Own Golf Tournament

It is expected that Juniata and Lehigh University will be considered as co-favorites in the JC invitational golf tournament to be held next week. Lehigh tied for second place with the Indians in the tourney last year.

J C Finishes Fourth In Penn Relay Event

Juniata's entry in the Penn Relays, held April 27 and 28, ran to a fourth place behind Adelphi, Haverford and Albright. Nine teams were entered in the race.

Adelphi's winning time was 3:29.3 while Juniata was unofficially clocked at 3:37. Albright and JC finished in almost a dead heat for third place.

The contest marked the first time in three years that Juniata has entered a team in the relays. The Indians have not taken a championship since 1939 when the relay artists captured the mile event in the Middle Atlantics.

Juniata's runners were Jack Rothenberger, Joe Hackman, Fred Stauffer and John Cook. All of these men are expected to return next year and, according to Director of Athletics P. M. "Mike" Snider, their abilities coupled with those of some bright freshman prospects should give the Indian entry a good chance to win in 1952.

Indians Win 2 In Row From St. Francis Nine

Juniata's diamond Indians scored two wins over St. Francis of Loretto in their last two games. Ed Feldkircher pitched a five hit shutout Saturday and was winning the second game Tuesday.

However, he faltered in the ninth and needed relief by Dave LeFevre. LeFevre won the game when the Indians came through with three runs in the tenth to win 10-7.

Ed Feldkircher had a five run lead as the ninth started. He then lost control and before LeFevre came in, five runs were across and the winning run was on second.

Run Scores On Walk

LeFevre walked the first man but got the next to fly deep to Jack Dickey in left field, ending the inning.

The Indians scored three runs in the tenth and then LeFevre held the Frankies scoreless to take the ballgame.

Ray Tesi beat out a hit to the second baseman and went to second on the overthrow. Hackett walked.

Hackett Scores On Throw

With men on second and third "Monk" Simon laid down a perfect squeeze bunt to score Tesi, Simon beating the play for a hit.

Simon stole second and when the catcher threw wild went to third as Hackett scored. George Kensinger drove in the last run with a single along the right field line.

The Indians scored single runs in the first and fifth innings. Three runs counted in the fourth, while two more came across in the seventh.

St. Francis scored single runs in the fourth and eighth innings and five in the last of the ninth.

Tesi Goes 3 For 5

Bill Hawley, Frankie centerfielder led the hitters with a triple and three singles. Tesi paced the Tribe attack with three singles in five trips.

Fran Zimmerman and Dickey each got a double and a single, while Duke Schetrompf slapped out a three bagger and a single. Simon picked up two singles and two RBI's.

With Ed Feldkircher scattering five hits, the Indians beat St. Francis, 5-0 for their first shutout since Paul Peoples beat Dickinson in 1948.

Score Two In Fourth

The Indians scored two runs in the fourth inning on Fran Zimmerman's single, Tom McNeal's walk, Ray Tesi's double and a run producing fly by Feldkircher.

Single runs were scored in the fifth, seventh and eighth innings.

Duke Schetrompf paced the hitters with a double and two singles. George Kensinger, Zimmerman and Tesi each contributed two hits to the Indian total of 11.

Golfers Score Sixth Victory Over F & M

Playing at the Conestoga Country Club, the home course of the Franklin & Marshall team, Coach Edgar Kiracofe's linkmen swept all six matches in their one sided defeat of the Diplomats last Saturday afternoon.

The Indians showed superiority from tee to green in chalking up their sixth victory of the 1951 season against only one loss.

Par on the newly constructed Conestoga layout was nearly matched by Bob Rhodes and Ray Korody, who fired two over par 72's. Both shared medalist honors for the day.

Low man for F & M was Sam Lobach who shot a 76.

Indian Golfers Beat Albright

Juniata's golf crew won their seventh game in eight tries last Tuesday when they beat Albright 6-1. The Albright team brought only five men along accounting for the total of seven points instead of the usual nine.

Ray Korody met up with his second defeat in losing to Don Battdorf 1 up. The remainder of the team won their matches easily with scores ranging from Tommy Sander's 1 up win to Art Allen's 8 & 7 win over Albright's number three man.

1st Comps Were Given To Class Of 1934 Here

by Jim Streiner

Comps have grown through their 17 years of use here.

The first seniors to take an examination under the comprehensive plan were the class of 1934.

However, for several years these tests were specific rather than truly comprehensive; so specific in fact that in some departments individual tests were made up to cover only those courses which the student had taken.

1936 Catalog Consulted

According to a 1936 College catalog, "Each senior will be required to take a comprehensive final examination in the field of one major (then, a minimum of 24 hours) . . . At the end of the second semester, he will take the regular examination in courses outside the field of this major, providing his class grade is below 75%. The second semester examinations in the courses of his chief major will be merged with the comprehensive examination."

More All-Inclusive

In 1938 the faculty and administration revamped the entire curriculum structure. They introduced the integration program, and began a movement toward giving seniors a broader, more all-inclusive exam.

At present, this group is working toward division-wide comprehensives, rather than limiting the test subjects to a single specific field of concentration.

Senate—

Dick Akers, Gene Felix and Jack Ulsh. Also in connection with the radio committee, Marj Seidel, chairman of publications, made a recommendation that the Public Relations office be responsible for all expenses of that committee.

Other Appointments Approved

Appointments made by Joe Thomasberger, vice president, to serve under him on the Leadership Conference Committee were approved. They are Dottie Hummer, secretary; Betty Longwell, social committee chairman; and Kay Wright, chairman of general activities. Thomasberger also urged the Senators to bring with them to the next meeting issues they want discussed at Leadership Conference.

Recommendations to repair two doors—one in Oller Hall and the other, the men's room at the new Dining Hall entrance—were made. It was brought to the attention of the Senate by a letter from Jim Streiner, Juniatian Editor, that the latter needs a different lock in order to make it accessible at all times.

Discuss Fire Apparatus

After a discussion of the adequacy of fire drills and apparatus on campus, it was decided that Jack Dickey and Connie Sherman, chairmen of men's and women's houses respectively, should study the situation in their individual committees. Jack Rothenberger, chairman of underclassmen, and Thomasberger were appointed to investigate fire apparatus in Science Hall.

Several lawn chairs which were once bought by Juniata students are to be set up on the Cloisters patio and the lawn near the home economics lab for students' use.

THE NEW FOURSOME pictured above is the revised Varsity Male Quartet composed of Clair Schaffner, Ben Newcomer, Gerald Hartzel and Bob Landes. Newcomer was added to the quartet in February as second tenor when Schaffner was moved to first tenor as a result of reorganization.

Male Quartet Travels To Ohio

Juniata's Varsity Male Quartet left this morning for a weekend trip to Ohio.

The group will sing this evening at an alumni banquet in Hudson, Ohio. Tomorrow the men plan to take in a baseball game at Municipal Stadium in Cleveland, which is located near Hudson. They will return to the College tomorrow evening.

More engagements have been scheduled by the quartet for this month. They will sing at the Marklesburg Church Sunday. A secular program will be presented for a P. T. A. group in Altoona Wednesday. Their next engagement is scheduled for May 16 at a meeting of the Huntingdon Kiwanis Club.

With their appearance at the Friends of the Library tea, the quartet will draw the season to a close June 2.

9 From JC To Take Medical School Exam

An all-day medical school examination will be given at Penn State May 12. Those going from Juniata to take the test are Steve Dolak, Stan Wass, Fred Bratton, Wayne Meyers, Walt Bandurak, Charles Needy, Doug Martin, Galen Keeney and Earl Detrich.

The purpose of this examination is to see how individual students stand in comparison with other students desiring to go to medical school. Results of the test are sent to the schools of their choice.

"The Akron Buchtelite", Akron University, Ohio, reports a significant set of statistics. It seems that Yale graduates have an average of 1.3 children while Vassar grads average 1.7 children. All this, comments the Buchtelite, "merely goes to show that women have more children than men."

Another one from the Wilkes College Beacon—The U. S. Bureau of Vital Statistics reports: the average income of the American working girl is about two in the morning.

Seniors Retain Best Scholastic Average

As a class, the seniors consistently make the best grades, a check of the registrar's records since 1948 shows. Juniors, sophomores and freshmen follow in that order.

Latest evidence of this appears in the quality point ratio chart for the Fall term which has just been released. According to this, the seniors last semester pulled a 1.60 average, the juniors 1.53, the sophomores 1.29 and the freshmen 1.14.

The all-College ratio average was 1.31.

Women nosed out the men last semester with a 1.43 average over the 1.23 made by the "stronger sex."

Veterans as a group averaged 1.29.

Queen Gladys Gehman, Maid of Honor Erla Mae Weist and senior attendants Phyl Baughman and Dolly Shaffer. Festivities will begin at 2:30 p. m. with the processional in front of Oller Hall.

Senators Find Fire Equipment To Be Adequate

Reports on the adequacy of fire equipment at Juniata was the main topic on the agenda Tuesday at the last Senate meeting of the term.

The Senate will gather together once more, informally, for a picnic at Dr. and Mrs. Donald Rockwell's home Tuesday afternoon. Both the old and new Senates are invited to this outing.

Fire Reports Given

At the meeting, Joe Thomasberger and Jack Rothenberger reported that the fire equipment in Science Hall is adequate with the exception of showers. However, Dr. Rockwell informed them that they will be installed this summer. The Senate then recommended to the Science Department that a period of instruction in the use of the fire equipment be given to all science classes at the beginning of each year.

Jack Dickey and Connie Sherman reported on the equipment in the dorms and decided that more fire drills were needed in the girls' dorm. It was also decided that the problem of fire prevention on campus be brought up as a special issue at Leadership Conference.

Approve Softball Commission

The Senate approved the following names submitted by Bob Asan to serve as a commission for intramural softball: Jim Holsopple, Ray Korody and John Richman. Asan plans to have such a commission, elected by team managers, for each intramural sport.

It was reported that Pres. Calvert Ellis has appointed, upon the recommendation of the Senate, J. Clyde Stayer as faculty representative on the Concessions Committee in co-operation with Dean Melvin Rhodes, Connie Sherman and Jack Dickey.

Each Senator signed the birth certificate which the Senate had made for Randall Morley Mays, son of Dean and Mrs. Morley Mays. The certificate was made by Howard Montgomery.

Choir Will Give Concert Sunday

Sunday evening the A Cappella Choir will present its annual Mother's Day concert. The presentation of the group's sacred program will be given in the St. James Lutheran Church in Huntingdon.

It will mark the thirty-third time that Prof. Charles Rowland has directed either the A Cappella Choir or a college glee club in the annual Mother's Day Concert.

This will be the last participation in an A Cappella church concert for twelve seniors in the choir. They are Audrey Campbell, Laura Hollingshead and Lois Wible, sopranos; Doris Mickle, Doris Orner, Edith Roberts and Beverly Williams, altos.

Clair Schaffner and George Kensinger, tenors; and Gerald Hartzel, Donald Robinson and Quayton Stottlemyer, basses.

Ellis Dinner For Faculty, Administration Is Tonight

Members of the faculty and administration will attend a dinner given by Pres. and Mrs. Calvert Ellis tonight at 6 p. m. in the Bedford Springs Hotel.

They will have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown of Washington, D. C. Dr. Brown, a members of the staff of the American Council on Education and chief liaison officer between higher education and the federal government, will address the group.

Saturday Schedule Changed

Saturday classes will begin at 8:30 a. m. and will last the usual 55 minutes. Consequently, second, third and fourth period classes will start at 9:30, 10:30 and 11:30 a. m. respectively.

Lunch will be served at 12:45 p. m.

Dinner Will Be Held For Honor Society

The tenth annual dinner for the Honor Society will be held Monday at 6 p. m. at Helfrick's. Dr. Harold Binkley, who is in charge of the dinner, and 12 other faculty members will be present.

Festival Show To Be Aired

Wednesday at 8 p. m. Juniata on the Air will feature a program on the Spring Festival. The script is being prepared by Peggy Barrington and Dick Akers.

Lambda Gamma Wins 2 Honors

At the Home Ec Convention held in York, Pa. last weekend, Juniata's Lambda Gamma received two honors. Ruth Armentrout, former president of the Club, was elected president of the College Clubs of the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association.

Secondly, the Club was presented a certificate signifying that it has achieved the "standard of excellence" set up by the Association.

The theme of the conference was "The Contribution of Home Economics to World Understanding." Included among convention highlights were various tours through furniture, paint and decorating stores, a fashion show sponsored by the Simplicity Pattern Company, a banquet and a demonstration on how to present a Home Economics television show.

Delegates from Juniata included Esther Weaver, Ruth Armentrout, Jane Abel, Martha Petre, Trudy Griffin and Norma Jean Duff. They were accompanied by Miss Helen Fisher, Miss Gertrude Butler and Mrs. Kenneth Crosby.

Special Edition Planned

The next issue of the Juniatian will be the last for this year. A special freshman welcome edition will be issued Sept. 17, 1951 to start off volume 28 next year.

Registration To Be Held Tues.-Thurs.

Registration for the Summer and Fall terms will be held in Founders Chapel next week on the following schedule: juniors, Tuesday; sophomores, Wednesday; and freshmen, Thursday. All students are requested to register on the designated day between 1:45 and 3:30 p. m.

All home economics majors will register Tuesday from 1:45 to 3:30 p. m. In case of any class conflicts preventing a student from registering at the appointed time, Founders Chapel will be open for registration of these students Thursday from 10 to 10:30 a. m.

Consultations with faculty advisors or department chairmen should be arranged prior to registration.

Classes for the Summer term begin Monday, June 16 and for the Fall term, Thursday, Sept. 20.

Daily P. O. Load Is 200 Letters

Everyone will agree that the post office is one of the busiest spots on campus. Each morning at nine and each afternoon at two a crowd of Juniatians may be seen milling about outside the little room under Students Hall.

Supplementing the 200 letters which come in on the average day are laundry cases and approximately 100 second class items. Jay Benedict and Bob Rotz, student postmasters, say they don't mind sorting this volume of mail, "but the constant questions do get annoying."

Post office box deposits will be refunded May 21. Students must call for their mail once they have received their money.

Both Rotz and Benedict are seniors.

The campus post office is officially open for one-half hour after meals except Saturday evening and all day Sunday. During hours students may buy stamps, and so many have taken advantage of this convenience that Juniata's mailmen sell an average of 800 stamps per week.

"Bob Muchoney has been named post master of the College post office for the Summer term," J. Melvin Rhodes, dean of students has announced. No decision has been made yet on student workers in this department for next year, he added.

2-Piano Recital To Be Tomorrow Night

Mary Lou McKee

Both classical and modern music will be presented by Lois Miller and Mary Lou McKee in their two-piano recital tomorrow at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall.

Miss Miller, a junior sociology major from Tuckahoe, N. Y., has previously played at the North Hill School for girls.

The other performer of the evening, Miss McKee, also a junior, is from Johnstown, Pa. A home ec major, she appeared in a piano recital last year.

Their program includes: "Sonata in D," Mozart; "Variation on a Theme by Haydn," Brahms; "O God, Thou Holy God," Brahms; "A Rose Breaks into Bloom," Brahms; "Polonaise in A flat, opus 53," Chopin; and "Scaramouche," Milhaud.

Both Miss Miller and Miss McKee are students of Miss Marion Thomas.

From The Editor's Notes:---

IRC Award, Other Items

● HERE'S $200, and it can't even be given away. The IRC established a grant-in-aid fund last Spring of $100 to help finance any student on a trip to Europe, the only catch being that he return to report his experiences to the club. When this amount drew no takers, they added another hundred this Spring. Still no takers, because of "the shaky world situation, and the fact that inflation makes even $200 only a drop in the bucket," one interested person said. For what it's worth, our suggestion to the IRC is this: don't get discouraged; keep adding to the fund as you can afford it. It's a nice nest egg if some more worth while project ever develops; if not, someone will be sure to pick up your tab when the pot gets big enough.

● ADD ANOTHER PAPER to the list of those who like the Juniatian's original features. The Keuka College (N. Y.) Keukonian has reprinted Fred Shamlian's original poem, "Conscience," published here recently.

● HOW MANY WAYS can you announce a baby's birth? First prof this year to be new and different about it was Dr. Raymond Davis, who issued a mock chemistry report. Then last week registrar Bill Engel came out with a doctored up grade sheet (see story elsewhere in this issue). But Dean Morley Mays beat him to it by a day or so when he issued a photo announcement showing his adopted daughter Beth leaning over an empty chair and declaring: "This is saved for my new brother, Randy."

● A NEW TREND in campus advertising has been sneaking up on us. Now it even has the sanction of the dean of the College. It works simply: you clear away a space on the bulletin board twice as big as your announcement; this you fill with a cardboard sign with a heading showing that this space is reserved for Schmoo Club announcements, or what have you. This keeps your memo from being buried under all the other old ones. We hate to buck such a progressive trend, especially when the dean favors it, but we do think a better idea would be that used in many other colleges: give some Senate or faculty member direct responsibility for keeping bulletin boards clear and readable. Then special bulletin boards within bulletin boards won't be needed.

● AND FOR THE LOST and found items in the information office (see story elsewhere in this issue) we'd like to promote an auction. With a witty student auctioneer and some imagination, it could be fun. May 18 has been suggested as a good date, but we're still looking for a good cause to receive whatever income the venture might have. What do you think?

Classics, Comedy On Way To Screens

by Frank Harlacher

MACBETH—Opening today for a one night stand is a motion picture that you won't want to miss. If you had to struggle through this Shakespearian masterpiece in high school, as I did, you'll really appreciate it on the screen. Just how close Orson Wells, who produced and plays the leading role, follows the original story in his film adaptation of the great play I don't know, but I do know that he can be depended upon to do a superb job along the mystic line. It is my personal conviction that the screen is more capable of capturing the mystery and fantasy of Macbeth than any other medium. Today only at the Clifton.

YOU'RE IN THE NAVY NOW—Formerly named USS Teakettle, here's a comedy about the Navy which is a couple of notches above some of the cheap war pictures we've been flooded with lately.

The movie features Gary Cooper as a Naval Reserve no-sea-experience Officer and his crew of nine-day-wonders who have been called upon to handle a patrol craft and conduct an experiment. Their green backs show up and their struggle is the funny part, but the salt water finally washes some sense into them and they end up with citations. Clifton Theatre.

SAMSON AND DELILAH—If you missed it the first time it's well worth the regular price. Don't expect a complex plot because the Bible just didn't make it that way. Don't expect it to be just like the Bible because Hollywood didn't make it that way either. Don't yell "Sacrilege!" when you see Hedy Lamarr in her . . . . well, you might call it a dress. Remember: Delilah was a temptress and although she might not have looked like Hedy does, Paramount gave us a creature that we'll think is a temptress.

The thing to watch is the photography. Cecil B. DeMille spent close to three million dollars on this movie and believe me it shows. The grandeur and pageantry that the camera captures and the costuming of a cast of thousands will not be equaled for a long while.

Victor Mature is well cast in the part of this Biblical strong man. A little fantastic when he starts throwing chariots and a couple of dozen men around, but that's what the Bible says and who is Paramount to judge. Grand Theatre.

Sam Sez:

The trouble with most of us is having too much month left over at the end of the money.

'Once Over Lightly' Given Life At Skips, Women, Cash, Profs

by Ray Siren

This morning, your omni-present columnist lent an inquisitive ear to the coffee-cup philosophers at Skip's, in hopes of hearing something worth writing about. As was expected, the talk ran from the coming exams to girls and other necessary evils.

With the passing of one Rudolph Valentino, it has become apparent that some of our gay campus caballeros are seeking to fill his most illustrious shoes.

Techniques Vary

However, technique under consideration varied from the closed door policy to the college equivalent of the Marshall Plan. That is, some seemed to think that the proper approach was to give the lady in question a slight sample of his potentialities and then close the gate, leaving them to fight among themselves over the future. Let them come to you, he says.

For three years now, I have experimented on this "let them come to you" plan, and needless to say, the world has not beaten a path to my door.

Shower 'Em With Gifts

On the other hand, the other disputant in the morning, Kaffeeklatsch contended that if you shower them with gifts, expensive dates and your undivided attention, they will be overwhelmed and easily indoctrinated in your ethics.

However, I am sad to say, money is the necessary medium and as you well know, money is something sought for, dreamed of and coveted, but never quite acquired in desired quantities. The spending of same is therefore tempered somewhat by its absence.

Ask For 'Uncle Ray'

What then is the proper method? If any of you girls have any ideas on the subject and wish to demonstrate, call Hun. 9907 and ask for "Uncle Ray." Don't worry, I'll be in; just tell them to wake me up.

The other topic most often discussed was the advent of the final exams. Conversation as regards this work of the devil ranged from the defeatist viewpoint to the famous-last-words angle, "He can't flunk me, I got that course wired."

Well friends, little can or need be said on this subject. My only suggestion is that you leave everything up to the profs. Take the quizzes, but don't worry. They seem to have a way about giving out marks. Either they like you and pass you or you would fail no matter what you do.

Personality's The Thing

Above all, don't for a minute think that test scores or averages have anything to do with it. Personality, lads and lassies, personality is the idea.

In short, what you hear at Skip's is to be taken with a grain of salt. It's just idle talk and has one purpose, to keep you rational. If ever your minds are troubled about something over a cup of coffee, forget it. It's the coffee, not the problem, that's vexing you.

J C Rated Co-Favorite In Tourney

Juniata's golf team, victorious in eight out of nine matches this year, will enter the second annual Juniata College invitational tournament rated as co-favorites with Lehigh University.

The Indian linksmen tied for second place with Lehigh last year. Both teams finished behind the University of Pennsylvania which finished strong during the last 18 holes of play to take the title.

Winner Cannot Compete

Last year's winning team will be unable to defend its crown this year because of a conflicting schedule. Both the Juniata tourney and the Eastern Intercollegiate championships are scheduled for the same weekend.

Juniata will field a comparatively experienced team. Bob Rhodes, Ray Korody, Art Allen and Dave Bayer all saw action in the tournament last year. Lehigh, perhaps the Indian's roughest opponent, will also return a veteran foursome.

Twenty-one Entered

Twenty-one colleges have accepted invitations to the tournament. They include Albright, Alliance, American University, Bucknell, Elizabethtown, Frostburg, Md. STC, Gannon, Indiana SCT, Juniata, Kings College, Lehigh University, Lycoming, Muhlenberg, Rutgers University, Scranton University, St. Francis, St. Joseph's, Susquehanna, Temple University, University of Delaware and Western Maryland.

Six trophies will be awarded during the course of the meet. Included among the awards will be a plaque to be given by the Middle Atlantic Collegiate Athletic Association.

AN EDITORIAL

I-M Ban On Athletes Seems Impractical

By JIM HOLSOPPLE

There are two sides to every issue. The current squabble over the eligibility of varsity athletes to compete in the spring intramural program presents no exception.

Not too long ago the athletic department issued an order barring participants in all spring athletics—golf, tennis and track—from intramural play.

Action Has Logic

The department had both logic and authority on its side in issuing the directive. Plainly, coaches should expect their players to devote their undivided attention to the work at hand.

Nevertheless a legitimate issue may be raised concerning both the timing and manner in which the order was issued. With the softball season at the midway point, certain teams found themselves facing the loss of a number of standout players, in some cases enough to cause the collapse of the team.

Directive Issued Later

Furthermore, at the organizational meeting of the softball league it was decided that baseball players should be the only ones banned from competition. If it was the intention of the athletic department to issue the directive, why did they not do so at that time?

Varsity athletes, apparently believing they can handle both programs, have been ignoring the order. Does it not seem that the action should be reconsidered in the light of this situation?

Netmen Lose To Lycoming

Juniata's tennis team dropped its third match in five outings last Tuesday to the Lycoming netmen by a score of 7-2.

Only Bob Rauch and Terry Harrison came through with victories for the losers, Rauch winning 6-2, 5-7, 6-4, and Harrison rallying to win 6-8, 6-0, 6-2.

Defeats in the singles matches were suffered by Steve Finkel 6-4, 6-3; Ray Hollinger 6-0, 6-3; Jim Marr 6-3, 6-0; and Bob Frain 6-4, 6-3.

JC also dropped all her doubles matches. Finkel and Hollinger lost 6-2, 6-2; Marr and Harrison went down 6-1, 6-3; Frain and Rauch were nosed out 5-7, 6-0, 6-4.

The tennis squad will face Elizabethtown away in their next match on the 19th and will wind up their season at home when they face Lycoming again May 26.

Schetrompf Leads In Specialized Batting

Pacing this year's baseball Indians in the specialized batting department is Duke Schetrompf. He is tied with George Kensinger and Jack Dickey for the lead in doubles, each having three.

Schetrompf also leads in triples, runs batted in and runs scored. He is tied with two others in home run production with two for each man.

Fran Zimmerman leads the team in stolen bases with eight thefts to his credit. Schetrompf is second with seven.

Indians Down Lycoming; Lose To Pitt, Dickinson

Dickinson

Jumping off to a 4-0 lead at the end of the first inning, the Dickinson Red Devils beat Juniata 10-6 last Wednesday afternoon at Carlisle. Dave LeFevre, who allowed eight hits and eight runs in five and one third innings was the losing pitcher.

Duke Schetrompf drove in three Juniata runs with a home run to right field in the seventh inning. Jack Dickey and Tom McNeal each collected two hits of the Indians.

Hitting honors for the afternoon were shared by two Dickinson players, however. Shortstop Gene Oyler got four hits including a two run homer.

Catcher Steals Home

Bill Stark, heavy hitting backstop, collected two homers and a double for his days work. He also stole home for Dickinson's fourth run.

Dickinson grabbed off a quick four run lead on an infield single by Bob Beaver, a bunt single by Oyler and a home run by first baseman Joe Copeland.

Stark got on base via a walk and moved to third on a walk and hit batsman. He then stole home.

Three Runs In D'son Sixth

Three scored in the Dickinson sixth. Beaver got on base by way of a walk and scored in front of Oyler's homer.

Ed Feldkircher then took over the pitching chores. He got the first man out but the second, Stark unloaded his second home run of the game.

The Red Devils also scored two runs in the second on Stark's homer behind Oyler's single. Copeland's triple scored Beaver with the last Dickinson run in the eighth.

Juniata scored one run in the second, two in the fourth and three in the seventh.

Two Runs Score For Indians

After two were down in the fourth McNeal lined a single to right. Ray Tesi walked and Dave Hackett singled to left to score McNeal.

Walks to LeFevre and Bob Simon forced in a run and left the bases loaded. George Kensinger ended the inning by grounding out.

A single and a hit on error followed by Schetrompf's four master counted the last Juniata runs in the seventh.

The Indians had one more chance in the ninth when Schetrompf got on base as a result of an error. Fran Zimmerman fouled to the catcher but Dickey got an infield single. McNeal forced Schetrompf and Tesi struck out to end the contest.

Pitt

Dave LeFevre dropped his first ball game of the year last Saturday afternoon, as the University of Pittsburgh baseball team beat the Indians, 4-3.

The Indians jumped off to a quick three run lead in the first. Monk Simon reached second on the third baseman's error. Kensinger then singled Simon to third and stole second.

Schetrompf Scores Two

Duke Schtrompf scored both men with a single to center and when the centerfielder booted the ball went to third. He scored on Jack Dickey's double to right center.

Pitt evened the count in the second. Joe Ross, the third baseman, singled to left and moved to second on Ray Murphy's walk.

Lewis Scores Two

Bob Lewis scored both men with a hit to right. Lewis moved to second on a ground out and scored on pitcher Bob Russel's single to left.

Russel opened the ninth with a walk. He was sacrificed to second and scored on Ray Tesi's boot of Bill Marhefka's grounder.

Lycoming

As Fran Zimmerman led the way with two home runs, a triple and a single, the Juniata Indians swamped Lycoming College, 21-2 last Monday at Williamsport. Tommy Green, making his first start, hurled four hit ball to register his first win.

The Indians jumped off to a three run lead in the first inning. By the end of the third inning the score read 16-0, Juniata.

Duke Schetrompf collected three hits, as did George Kensinger. Schetrompf posted two singles and a four bagger, while Kensinger got three singles.

Dave Hackett got his second hit of the season, and his second home run. This one was a grand slam blow in the third.

Bucknell Linksmen Bow As Korody Stars

Playing at Lewisburg last Tuesday afternoon, Juniata's linksmen scored their eighth win of the 1951 campaign. With Ray Korody leading the way the Indians swamped Bucknell 9-0.

The next opponent for the golf crew is Rutgers. They meet the Indians at the American Legion Country Club course tomorrow.

Albright Swamps Indian Thinclads

The Juniata College trackmen were swamped last Saturday by the Albright thinclads by an 83-38 count. The Tribe suffered a severe blow when Jack Rothenberger pulled a muscle and had to be retired early in the meet.

JC won only two events, as Fred Stauffer captured first place in the 440 and Coy Hicks won the pole vault. Hicks was high scorer for the Indians with nine points, scoring a second in the 220 low hurdles and finishing third in the 100, in addition to his victory.

Bill Blakely was runner up in the mile and the half mile to glean six markers. Stauffer and Joe Hackman each had five points, Bob Flory and John Cook scored four each, Rothenberger three, and Will Norris and Johnny Ostrowski each had one point to round out the day's scoring.

Juniata's trackmen will next see action in their only triangular meet of the year tomorrow when they travel to Gettysburg to meet Gettysburg and Bucknell.

138 Men Playing I-M Softball

The official intramural softball league roster indicates that 138 men are actively engaged in that sport this spring. Average team strength is 15 players.

Quartet's Trip Is 'Scintillating'

by Ben Newcomer

A "scintillating two-day press" was spent by the members of the Varsity Quartet last weekend.

We traveled to Hudson, Ohio Friday, May 5 with Harold Brumbaugh. That evening an appearance was made before graduates of Juniata at the Cleveland district alumni banquet. Lodging was provided in the homes of alumni.

Saturday was spent in the city of Cleveland. In the morning, we were conducted on a tour by an obliging alumnus of the College, Mr. Brown Miller.

Lists Tour Stops

Interesting stops on the tour included the Mazda Lamp Research Institution at Nela Park, the impressive First Baptist Church of Cleveland, the elite residential section, Case Institute of Technology, Western Reserve University and the Cleveland Art Museum.

The most enjoyable part of the trip was our visit to Municipal Stadium, home of the Cleveland Indians. We were fortunate enough to get photos and autograph of Mr. Baseball himself, Connie Mack, and to talk with him for a while.

Air Baseball Views

In a pre-game broadcast over station WERE in Cleveland, we were given the opportunity of "airing our expert baseball views."

To top it off, the game was an exciting one, with Cleveland defeating the Philadelphia A's by a one run margin.

Leaving the city immediately after the game, we arrived at the College late Saturday night. Except for a flat tire, the return trip occurred without a mishap.

Six Girls Model In Fashion Show

Six girls from the College served as models in a fashion show at Danks Store Monday night. They were Janet Boland, Jo Chiodi, Pat Hetrick, Mary Lou McKee, Judy Rohm and Marj Seidel.

Misses Hetrick and Rohm posed in bathing suits as two girls choosing their vacation wardrobe from the various outfits modeled by the other four from Juniata and some high schools girls.

Daisies Are Popular

Miss Boland wore a blue and white tissue weight gingham dress, a black cotton blouse and white wool skirt, a "dew drop daisy" skirt and stole combination and a dark green linen dress with daisy trim.

Three outfits worn by Miss Chiodi were a romper style bathing suit, an aqua starched marquisette sheer dress and a pair of khaki fatigues with plaid shirt.

Still More Sheers

Miss McKee appeared in a yellow gabardine rain coat, sheer flowered organdy skirt with cotton blouse and a lavendar dress with rhinestones.

Outfits modeled by Miss Seidel included a white rayon shantung suit, a white play suit and beach coat in red with white polka dots, a navy sheer dress and a reversible linen duster in beige and brown.

Goetschius To Speak Thurs.

Prof. Alfred Goetschius will speak in Altoona Thursday, May 17 at the District 5 Pennsylvania League of Nursing Education Institute.

He will speak on the subject of testing at the afternoon session which has at its theme, Tests and Measurements.

INDUSTRIOUS QUEEN—Gladys Gehman will leave her place in the home ec lab (where she is so often found) to take her place on the Spring Festival throne tomorrow afternoon. After Prince Consort Bill Korman crowns Queen Gladys, she will reign over the day's activities.

A committee of five judges, selected by Harold Brumbaugh will be conducted on a tour of the various booths by Betty Longwell, club coordinator. Judging will be based on a point system with cooperation, display, program and congeniality taken into consideration.

Queen Announces Winner

At 4 p. m. Queen Gladys will announce the winning booth. She will present a gavel to the winning club. The gavel was donated by Harold Brumbaugh. A metal band and the engraving "Spring Festival—1951" was done by the festival committee.

Elementary Schools Need More Teachers

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced that there is an urgent need for elementary teachers in the Indian Service. The Commission announced an examination for elementary teachers in June, 1950, but to date sufficient qualified candidates have not been recruited.

These jobs pay $3100 a year and applicants will not be required to take a written examination. To qualify, the applicant must show successful completion of an accredited college course.

Lost Items Can Be Claimed

Have you lost a pair of stockings and a garter belt wrapped in a paper towel? If so, you may claim them at the information window by identification.

Other items turned in range from a ring with a Spanish inscription to a long tube of lipstick. There are two checkers, three dollars in cash, 16 pairs of gloves of various colors, 18 pens (Esterbrooks being most numerous), a tan raincoat, three scarfs, three sweaters, four textbooks and "dozens of other items."

Senior Chapel To Be Friday

Pres. Calvert Ellis will speak at the last Chapel service of the year Friday. This service will be in honor of the seniors.

Other speakers for the week are Dr. Edgar Kiracofe, Monday and Miss Marian Thomas, Wednesday.

Engels' Son Wins BA-BY Degree

Registrar A. William Engel, Jr. and his wife have sent out announcements of the latest addition to their family in the form of a grade sheet.

The sheet is filled out for James Rockwell Engel (Jimmy) and lists his birth as May 3, 1951 at the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital. His preparatory school was the Engel Institute of Infantology from which he was graduated with a standing of third. (Jane Elizabeth was first and Thomas Edward second)

He was admitted at 4:50 p. m. EST and made the following entrance test scores:

Weight, eight pounds, one ounce; height, 20½ inches; shoulders, six inches; feet, three and a half inches.

According to the sheet, Jimmy obtained competences in several fields. He has competence in English and foreign language by his gibble, gabbel and babel. Because of his squealing ability he was given competence in music and because of his reflexes, in physical education.

He passed his comprehensive examination with distinction and has a BA-BY degree with cum loud honors.

Seniors To Pick Gift Next Week

According to the senior class gift committee chairman, Beanie Roberts, the class gift to the College will be on of three things. These are flood lights for Oller Hall, a concrete walk to the new gym or a clock for the gym.

Pres. Walt Bush reports that the final selection will be made by a vote of the seniors sometime next week.

Serving on the gift committee under Miss Roberts are Bee Ann Hanks, Jack Baldridge and Jack Middour.

Auction Is Tonight

In the market for some fun? Then stop in at the Juniatian-sponsored auction which will be held after supper tonight outside the old entrance to the dining hall.

Don "Sold American" Robinson and Phil "Silver Tongue" Norris have been engaged to put on the block all the unclaimed lost and found items collected during the year at the information window.

All proceeds go to the JWSF.

Music Prof. To Deliver Address

Rounding out the variety of Commencement events centered around the theme of music will be the address by Paul Lang, professor of musicology at Columbia University. He will speak at the Commencement Exercises to be held in Oller Hall Monday, June 4 at 10:30 a. m.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, Mr. Lang studied at the Royal Academy of Music at Budapest and at the University of Paris. He received his Ph. D. from Cornell and since 1933 has been at Columbia. At present, he is also serving as editor of the Musical Quarterly and musical editor of the Saturday Review of Literature.

First on the schedule of final events for seniors is Miss Edith Spencer's breakfast for resident women Sunday morning.

Picnic Will Be May 31

May 31 will find the seniors relaxing after exams on their class picnic at Paradise Furnace. In case of rain, it will be held June 1.

Formal induction into the Alumni Association will take place Saturday, June 2 at the alumni luncheon. Dr. Raymond Sollenberger, '25, will preside and Dr. Miles Murphy, '23, will be the guest speaker.

Saturday afternoon activities will include the Juniata—Frostburg, STC baseball game and the Friends of the Library Tea. At the latter, Pres. Will Judy, '11, will speak and the Varsity Quartet will sing. That same day, all classes graduating in years ending in one and six will hold reunions.

June 2 Is Class Day

Senior Class Day exercises will be held Saturday at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall. Following the orches-

'50 Resolutions Are Acted Upon

by Bob Bridenbaugh

"All the resolutions from the 1950 Leadership Conference were acted upon by the proper chairman or committee," reports Vernon Showalter, president of the 1950-51 Senate.

Showalter said that while most of the recommendations had favorable results, there were two in particular which needed further action. "Investigation of English conference and a complete overhauling of the wiring in the old gym are still needed," he stated.

He pointed out that a new switchboard was installed in the gym but wiring renovations must await the completion of the new gym.

No Roller Skating

In the area of social activities the possibility of having roller skating in the gym was investigated. However, it was decided that the gym was too small. Records show that skates had been purchased for use in the gym several years ago. The following year the school was trying to sell the same skates.

The possibility of building a snack bar on campus was taken to the administration. The administration replied that it definitely has a snack bar in mind for future building.

Better Intramurals

In the athletic department, a program for better understanding and appreciation of football and a system of training intramural officials were inaugurated but neither proved too successful. Intercollegiate tennis was continued and rules were printed for intramural sports.

Spring Festival was the result of the recommendation that the

3 Publications Positions Filled

Three major publications posts were filled this week by the Publications Committee, Dr. Harold Binkley, chairman has announced. These are the editor and business manager of the Alfarata, and the business manager of the Juniatian.

Bob Wagoner, '53, will edit the yearbook next year. A Johnstown chemistry major, he succeeds Quayton Stottlemyer. Wagoner is president of his class for the second consecutive year, after serving as vice-president during his freshman year. He is also a member of the J Club.

Assisting Wagoner will be Ron Cherry, '53, who was named business manager for the annual. Cherry is a business administration major who plans to become an accountant. He is a member of the Tycoon Club, IRC, Masque and the Spanish Club.

Business manager for the Juniatian is to be Carrie Lou Greene, '52, a business administration major planning to enter foreign service. She is secretary-treasurer of the Tycoon Club and treasurer of the Masque. She also assisted with the Alfarata this year.

6 Seniors Get Distinction

Six seniors passed their comps with distinction. They are Jay Benedict, history and political science; Gerald Hartzel and Vernon Showalter, economics and business administration; Audrey Campbell and Ivan Washabaugh, music; and Lois Ann Wagner, Spanish.

13 Seniors Will Do Grad Work

Thirteen seniors are definitely going to graduate school. Three of them—Fred Keene, Ed Marscha and Jack Baldridge—have been given assistantships. Keene has enrolled at Purdue, Marscha at Duke and Baldridge at MIT.

Other seniors going to graduate school are: Jay Benedict and Coy Hicks, Dickinson; Hilton Hines, Temple; Tom Gates, Jefferson; Walt Bush, Rutgers; Gerry Hartzel, University of Pennsylvania; Don Robinson, Bethany Biblical Seminary; Dave Armacost, Westminster Theological Seminary; and Lois Wagner, University of Pennsylvania.

Quayton Stottlemyer is going to graduate school, but he has not yet decided which one.

Board To Honor Prof. Rowland

See page 2 for an interview of Prof. Rowland.

Prof. Charles Rowland will be named Professor Emeritus June 4, Commencement Day.

This is an honor conferred by the College board of trustees, usually upon the retirement of a long-time professor in recognition of his years of service to the institution.

Instructors so honored may, with the approval of the trustees, continue to serve the College after their retirement year on a year-to-year contract basis. This is the plan Prof. Rowland expects to follow in continuing to teach music here next year.

The professor will be the fourth of Juniata's living professors emeriti. The others are Charles Shively, mathematics; Fayette McKenzie, sociology; and N. J. Brumbaugh, chemistry.

Quartet Gives $25 To C. C. Ellis Fund

After a season of 63 appearances, the Male Varsity Quartet has earned enough to contribute $25 of their income to the C. C. Ellis Memorial Fund.

Representing the College at alumni banquets as well as private engagements, the quartet, composed of Clair Schaffner, Ben Newcomer, Gerry Hartzel and Bob Landes, traveled as far east as Philadelphia and as far west as Cleveland, Ohio. Tentative plans for the foursome include a singing tour to California in the latter part of June.

170 Will Take 1st Draft Test

One hundred seventy students have been assigned to take the selective service college qualification test at Juniata May 26, according to word received by Dean Morley Mays, local supervisor of the test.

Students assigned to take the test May 26 will report to the old gym at 8:30 a. m. Preliminary procedures, including fingerprinting, will last from 8:30 to 9 a. m. with the test proper beginning at 9 a. m.

Tests will also be administered here June 16, June 30 and July 12. Deadline for application to take the test any of the three dates is May 25.

Women Honor Miss Spencer

Women resident students gave a surprise party Wednesday night for Dean Edith Spencer, who has been granted a year's leave of absence. At that time, the Women's House Committee presented a gift

College Gave 10 Degrees Till '38

by Jim Streiner

Until 1938, when Juniata's curriculum underwent a thorough revision, the College granted ten different degrees. Now only the bachelorates of science and arts are being offered.

The Catalog of 1936 lists these degrees then offered: Bachelor of Arts; Bachelor of Music; Bachelor of Science in Economics; BS in General Science; BS in Pre-Medical; BS in Elementary Education; BS in Home Economics; BS in BS in Home Economics; BS in Foods and Nutrition; and BS in Public School Music.

In the same catalog is the statement that "a candidate for a degre is required to complete one major and two minors, or two majors . . . Each department reserves the right to decide what courses shall constitute a major and what correlated minors will be accepted."

Under the heading "Requirements For Graduation," the 1936 Catalog says 120 hours is the minimum for graduation, although only one curriculum of the ten offered listed less than 124 hours worth of required courses.

Academic Dress Dates Back To Monks

By NORY EDWARDS

The orgin of academic dress according to an English writer is stated thus: "The scholars are supposed in their dress to have imitated the Benedictine Monks, who were the chief restorers of literature."

Institutions of higher learning in the United States before the year 1895 used any style robe that fitted their needs. They often imported robes from England. In 1895 an Academic Code was formulated to standardize American style.

Colleges Adopt Black Robe

Every college and university must adopt a black robe. Each Bachelor's robe is the same, every Master's robe is identical and each Doctor's robe has a velvet trim each institution of higher learning.

The Bachelor's robe has long flowing, pointed sleeves. Masters' gowns are made exactly like the Bachelors' only the sleeves have square ends with an arc of a circle near the bottom. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow of the sleeve. Doctors' gowns are worn open, and the sleeves are loose and bell shaped.

Real meaning is provided to the academic costume by the hood. Originating with the begging friars of the Middle Ages, the hoods were designed to provide a sort of pocket for alms.

Velvet Indicates Degree

While velvet on the edge of the hood indicates the degree, the color spcifies the department. The reading of the degree rather than the area of major work governs the color. Lining colors of a hood represent the university or college conferring the degree. A scheme has been devised to represent each institution of highr learning.

Doctors' degrees are indicated by the following colors: blue for philosophy, gold for science, white for letters, red for divinity and purple for law.

In 1769 the present mortar board caps were adopted. The tassel is always worn over the left front quarter of the cap, and sometimes colored tassels are used to represent degrees.

From The Editor's Notes:---

Books, Songs, Mothers, Etc.

● BOOK PRICES this semester showed a rise of 15 to 50 cents per unit, Prof. J. Clyde Stayer, bookstore manager, has revealed. This means that even though wages, etc., have been frozen, it is still likely that you will have to pay more for texts next Fall term than the same tomes cost last September. A used book exchange under the direction of the Senate might help holve this problem. On other campuses it works thus: you deposit a book with the exchange, listing your asking price; if it is sold during the 2-4 week period of the exchange, you collect your money, less a certain percentage for operating expenses; if the book is not sold, it is returned and there is no charge. The advantages are obvious.

● A LITTLE KNOWN FACT is that the hymn "Farewell Juniata" which was sung today was dedicated by the authors to Miss Edith Spencer, dean of women. Composers Ralph Harrity, '47, and Lee Miles, '46, called their song "a personal offering in return for (Miss Spencer's) friendship toward us and (her) faithful service through the years at Juniata."

● ATHLETICS are expensive. For example, the present budget calls for more than $5000 worth of travel. And $1180 is budgeted for officials. Then there's $1000 set aside for care of fields and gym. But it's worth it.

● IT WAS WITHOUT a doubt the most impressive Spring-Greeting ceremony we've ever seen. There were the usual behind-the-scenes worries which straightened themselves out in the end, as such things usually do. Aside from that, two things were learned from the Spring Festival: (1) on the positive side, it proved to be the finest trick yet tried for getting the most people into the act; (2) negatively, the judges found (and docked points for) a surprising lack of courtesy shown by many of the booth attendants.

● A NEEDED INNOVATION was that used on the schedule of classes issued Monday for registration: for the first time, courses requiring prerequisites were marked. Thanks.

● THE MOTHER of Prof. G. Wayne Glick was named Virginia's Mother of the Year last week. The honor stems from the fact that her 12 children have been busy: 18 degrees, including a PH. D. and an M. D., are held by 10 of them, and the other two are working now for theirs. All are alumni of or students at Bridgewater College, Va.

SOLDIERS THREE — Another one of Rudyard Kipling's adventureous stories such as we saw recently in "Kim," will be the screen's focus of attention next week.

The subject matter deals with the British Army and is definitely comedy. Led by Stewart Granger, the plot gives us the exploits of three rugged fighting men and their attempt to break every regulation that the Crown could have possibly made. Walter Pidgeon (Colonel) and David Niven (Captain), their superiors, tolerate them only because of their record and . . .does their patience run out?

Well, we'll see, but anyway with those names on the marquee and the author's record, MGM just might have some entertainment in these "Soldiers Three." Grand Theatre.

FOURTEEN HOURS — Reports on this filmadrama are all good, so expect a little more than meets the eye. The idea is simple: Richard Baseheart has a mental disturbance and stands on the ledge of a high building contemplating suicide.

The movie revolves completely on what goes on around him with no flashbacks. Everybody is doing their darndest to convince him to "come in off of that ledge man; life can't be that bad." Paul Douglas (cop) and Debra Paget (sweetheart) support nicely and it ends in the usual film fashion. Clifton Theatre.

After 31 Years Of Teaching, 'Prof' Looks Ahead To Hobby

"I haven't any bunions," genially revealed Charles Rowland when asked for an interview. In a more sober mood he added, "(But) I do have the privilege of having worked with some very wonderful people in my 31 years here."

Now in his retirement year, the 65 year old A Cappella Choir director can look back on a song book full of memories—memories of a lifetime devoted to music—and wood working.

Father His Inspiration

Both interests began when "Prof" was a youngster on a farm near Hagerstown, Md. "My father was interested in music. We all learned to sing at home," the professor says. His father also operated a blacksmith and woodworking shop, and it was here that "Prof" produced his first wood creations.

Prof. Charles Rowland
● Retiring Musician ●

● Hobbyist At Work ●

In 1908 he was graduated from Blue Ridge College, Md. Later he received his bachelor's degree in music from the Brandon Institute School of Music . . .an institution he never attended! "A number of my former teachers had gone there, and so I was able to get credit for work I had done elsewhere," Prof. Rowland explains.

Directed Two Glee Clubs

In 1902, "Prof." became one of the two members of the College music faculty. Until 1932 he directed two separate musical groups, the men's and women's glee clubs. Both of these "sang a Cappella a great deal" he recalls.

An increasing trend toward this singing without accompaniment began among Colleges in the early 1930's, and in 1932 Prof. Rowland formed Juniata's first mixed A Cappella Choir. "And it's been my baby ever since," he asserts, happily.

Heavenly Discourse

Two thoughtful angels all alone
Sat on a billowy cloud.
They were discussing the human race
And they weren't exactly proud.
The bigger angel said with ire,
"These humans are all of them bad.
"They thrive upon their fellow friends,
"And take what can be had."
The little angel said, "Not so,
"The humans are just growing.
"They're only a million years of age,
"And still too young for knowing."
They went to the Supreme Commander
And spoke of their joint dispute.
The Big Man said, "At heart they're good,
"But their Grace they tend to refute.
"It was a gift of the Great Divine
"To make folks full of love.
"But its something—they all think the same—
"Which needs only be used here above."

Juniata Cops Second Annual Tourney

Bud Kreider Wins I-M Golf Tournament; Bob Fahrney Second

The Intramural Golf Tournament, held May 9 and 10 at the Huntingdon Country Club, ended with Bud Kreider gaining the championship. Second honors went to Bob Fahrney in the 36 hole medal tourney.

Kreider played the local lay-out with three 44's and a 46 for the four trips around the nine hole circuit, or a total of 178. Fahrney's card showed 43-47-90 and 44-45-89 for a 36 hole total of 179.

Kreider, a senior, has been associated with college golf for the past two years, while Fahrney is a freshman.

Leader at the 18 hole mark was Ray Siren with a 44-43-87. Erratic play the following day led to his withdrawal from the competition.

Other scores:
Gould: 98-96-194
Howe: 106-100-206
Mervis: 107-105-212
Rocco: 114-110-224
Forward: 94-withdrew Rosenberger: 109-withdrew

Softball Playoffs Proposed

Playoffs are being planned for the top four teams in the intramural softball league.

The first and third teams and the second and fourth place finishers will play each other, and the winners of these games will meet for the championship.

Awards will be given to the team winning in regular season's play, however. No special recognition has been planned for the playoff champ.

Juniata's golfers covered the course in only 627 strokes, 19 less than their closest competitor, as they walked away with the title in the second annual Juniata College Invitational golf tournament at the American Legion Country Club in Mt. Union last Saturday.

Art Allen, Tom Cherok, Ray Korody and Bob Rhodes toured the greens for the Indians. Tom Sanders and Dave Bayer also played, but their scores were not added to the team totals.

Korody Paces Indians

Korody was top man for Juniata and second among all the individual scorers as he carded a 38-39-38-38—153. Other JC entries, their rankings and scores, were Tom Cherok (3) 155; Allen (8) 158; Rhodes (10) 161; Sanders (30) 176 and Bayer (32) 177.

Lehigh Takes Second

Lehigh University, pre-tourney co-favorites with the Indians, finished second with a 646 total. Temple, Muhlenberg, Rutgers, St. Joseph's, St. Francis, Indiana STC, Alliance and Western Maryland rounded out the top ten.

Six of the 21 colleges entered in the tourney withdrew at the last moment while three others did not post cards.

The tourney was held in unseasonably cold weather. Threatening skies hung over the course in the morning, but no rain fell.

Rutgers, whom Juniata defeated a day previously, finished fifth in the meet. Susquehanna University, the Indians' traditional rivals withdrew from the tourney.

Feldkircher Wins 2nd As Indians Beat Susquehanna, 8-4

The Indians again evened their 1951 baseball record by scoring their sixth win of the season. They beat Susquehanna 8-4 at Selinsgrove last Saturday. Ed Feldkircher went the distance in recording his second win of the campaign.

Juniata jumped off to a two run lead in the first inning. Bob Simon led off with a single and moved to second when Kensinger walked. Duke Schetrompf sacrificed both men along.

Leonard Drives In Two Runs

Fran Zimmerman was hit with a pitched ball to load the sacks. Simon got picked off third but Ken Leonard scored two men with the first of three singles.

Leonard then drove in another run in the third with a two out single.

Tribe Bats Around

Three runs scored in the fourth when the Tribe batted around. Feldkircher singled and Simon drew a base on balls. Successive singles by Kensinger and Schetrompf then drove in two runs. Leonard drove in his fourth run with a single after Tom McNeal got hit with a pitch.

Tom Green scored the Indians seventh run and Feldkircher the eighth in the seventh inning.

Two For Crusaders

Susquehanna scored two runs in the eighth inning on a walk to "Moose" Menapace, a double to Don Berninger and a single by Gene Festamacher.

Two walks, two singles and a long fly produced the last Crusader runs in the ninth.

Netters Face E-town

The Indians tennis team will take on E-town tomorrow at Elizabethtown. Possessors of a 2-3 record the netmen hope to bring their record back to .500.

According to Ray Hollinger, team captain, "the chances are about 50-50 to finish the season with a 4-3 record."

Indians Equal To Pitt Panther

According to Pitt News, "One of America's GREAT Student Newspapers," the Panther baseball team met a diamond squad of their own caliber when they took on the Indians.

Hollinger Is Third Mickle Award Winner

by Bob Asan

Ray Hollinger is the third man to win the Stanford Mickle Athletic Award. The first two were John Henderson in 1949 and Squeeze Long last year.

This award is the most coveted sports award that may be had on Juniata's campus. "The purpose of the award is to recognize that graduating senior male who, like Stanford Mickle, loved athletics, participated and manifested in sports and contributed to the promotion of athletics at Juniata College."

Stan Mickle drowned while he was still in College. His parents, however, wanted to have a memorial to him and so instituted this award. It was established June 6, 1949.

The award itself is a loving cup with this inscription:

Stanford Mickle Athletic Award
Juniata College
Awardee's Name and Year

A piaque will hang in the physical education building which will bear the names of all the winners.

In making the selection for the award the selection committee considers the person who has made an outstanding contribution to intercollegiate atheltics and/or outstanding contribution to intramural competition and/or outstanding contribution to the administration of athletics in general at Juniata College.

On Other Campuses

by Joyce Bernard

La Vie Collegienne of Lebanon Valley College printed this classic, entitled Eight O'clock Classes.

Eight o'clocks are an awful thing,
You never can tell the trouble they'll bring,
You oversleep and miss a few,
And half you make, you sleep through too.
You sit in class and try to think,
You start to nod, you're on the brink,
And then the prof. will call on you,
You answer wrong, this makes you blue.
The rest of the day does not go well,
And when you hear the final bell,
You grab your books and with a sigh,
You leave the place with no "good-by."
When next year comes you can be smart,
Pick classes by the time they start,
Make sure that none begin 'til ten,
Then get some rest, some sleep, Amen.

Home Ec Club Wins 1st Festival Prize

An estimated crowd of 1500 witnessed the crowning of Queen Gladys Gehman at Juniata's first Spring Festival last Saturday.

Following the coronation and entertainment, various clubs presented their programs and displays. The Lambda Gamma took top honors for the best booth while the Spanish-French Club received an honorable mention.

Judges for the booths were the Rev. A. Alderfer, Robert Anderson, Mrs. Cuppett, Mrs. Carl Schmittel and Mary Ono.

Commencement—

tra concert, the graduating class will participate in the traditional Candle Lighting and Mantle Ceremonies.

Pres. Calvert Ellis will preach the Baccalaureate sermon in the Stone Church Sunday, June 3 at 10:30 a. m. That afternoon at 2 p. m. Swigart Hall will be dedicated. (See story on page 4.) From 3:30 to 5 p. m. graduates and their parents are invited to a reception at Pres. and Mrs. Ellis' home in Taylor Highlands.

Traditional Sing Planned

The traditional step singing will take place that day at 6:15 p. m. on Founders Porch. From there the seniors and visitors will go up to Round Top for Senior Vespers. The Rev. Robert Croyle, '31, will represent the alumni as speaker on this occasion, while Vernon Showalter, '51, past president of the Senate, will represent this year's graduating class.

Climaxing Sunday's program will be the presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," directed by Prof. Charles Rowland.

Costs $115 To Cross Atlantic

Students who wish to travel to Europe this summer will be able to cross the Atlantic for as little as $115 one way, on either of two American-built C-3's. Reserved by the Council on Student Travel, each ship will accommodate 1,350 students.

One unique aspect of the student ships is the free orientation program to be conducted by college professors and other student leaders. The daily schedule will include educational movies, language classes, lectures and round-table discussions on American foreign policy and European culture and problems.

The ships will leave for Le-Havre and Bremerhaven from a North American port, probably New York, June 8, June 25 and July 6. Returning students will leave Europe August 25 and Sept. 27.

Any students interested should contact the Council on Student Travel, 53 Broadway, New York 6, N. Y.

Resolutions—

May Day Committee "make every effort to obtain maximum participation in planning and staging May Day exercises."

Table heads were selected by an appropriate committee, individual service was continued and waitresses were instructed concerning proper procedure as a result of a resolution concerning dining room program. The administration approved the suggestion that waitresses should only be required to pay individual breakage provided that an effective method of reporting breakage could be developed. So far, such a method has not been devised.

The elections committee established procedures for class elections and rejected the suggestion that unsuccessful Senate presidential candidates comprise a slate from which the vice-president would be chosen.

Audible grace was instituted at the main meal as a further direct result of Leadership Conference.

Six Juniata Alumni Attend Party Given By Miss Doyle

Thurman Grossnickle, '50, reports from Harvard that he attended a get-together last Friday sponsored by Miss Esther Doyle. Others there were these alumni: Betty Ruth Hess, '49, Jack and Kitty Padget, '50, Howard Long, '50, and Al Crease, '50. Gunther Ruff, '49, also joined the group via telephone.

W. Emmert Swigart
• Donor of Music House •

Dedication Will Be Held June 3

A gift of the late W. Emmert Swigart on Nov. 25, 1949, Swigart Hall will be dedicated June 3 at 2 p. m. as one of the Commencement weekend events.

Mr. Swigart, a graduate of Juniata in 1906, past president of the Alumni Association and trustee, specified that the building, purchased with his gift of $28,000, be given in honor of the Swigart family.

Formerly the residence of Francis McSherry, the building was vacated Jan. 1, 1950 and in use by the College as the new music hall by Feb. 1, 1950.

Extensive remodeling and repairs have been made to the building and it now contains a large recital room, faculty offices, music classrooms, private studios and vocal and instrumental practice rooms.

Manners Guide For Frosh, Awaits Administration's OK

A guide for incoming freshmen to aid them in developing proper attitudes and manners at college has been prepared. The material now awaits the action of J. Melvin Rhodes, dean of men, and the administration.

Working on the committee headed by Chuck Allison and Prof. Alfred Goetschuis were Don Bracken, Diane Bramhall, Marian Brightbill, Dottie Hummer, Jack Rothenberger and Connie Sherman.

Jack Brammer, Jean Bailey and Mrs. John Strait. The complete program has not yet been announced.

Preceding the candle lighting and mantle ceremony Saturday, June 2 at 8:15 p. m. will be the College Symphony Orchestra Concert.

Program Is Listed

Numbers on the program are "Coronation Concerto in D major," Mozart, with Helen Rosengren at the piano; "The Synopated Clock," Anderson; "The King of Yvetot Overture," Adam; "Over the Rainbow," Harburg and Arlen; and "Running off the Rails," Richardson.

Under the direction of Prof. Charles Rowland, Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah" will be presented Sunday, June 3 in Oller Hall at 8:15 p. m.

Since 1928, with the exception of three war years, an oratorio has been presented each year under Prof. Rowland's direction. This will be the sixth presentation of "The Messiah" over that period of time.

To date, 101 alumni have accepted Prof. Rowland's invitation to sing in the oratorio with 100 campus singers, including the A Cappella Choir and Chapel Choir, students and faculty members.

9 Alumni Soloists

Nine of the returning alumni will be soloists for the performance. They are Evelyn Springer Kriebel, '44, and Hazel McMunn, sopranos; Peggy Bluck, '42, alto; Philip Holsinger, tenor; Greer Bailey, '41, Philip Fletcher, '48, Franklin Perkins, '49, William Blough, '36, and Robert Brashear, '48, baritones.

Soloists from the campus will be Joan Weaver, '52, and Audrey Campbell, '51, sopranos; Helen Wentzler, '51, and Doris Orner, '51, altos; Clair Schaffner, '51, and Charles Redenberger, '53, tenors; and Gerald Hartzel, '51, baritone.

Accompanists will be Prof. Donald Johnson, organist and Doris Mickle and Joanne Shelley, pianists.

Diamond Dust

Mike Christie, a sophomore business administration major, and Katherine Plank, a former student at JC have announced their engagement. They plan to be married this summer.

Ray Kann, a senior from Huntingdon, became engaged to Carol Ann Brubaker, a senior at Huntingdon High School, April 21. Kann is a physics major here.

Rhoda Clemmer, sophomore music major from Souderton, Pa., recently became engaged to George Gaugler, '50. Gaugler is from Port Trevonton, Pa.

The marriage of Betsy Wright, '50, and Dick Young, a former student here, will take place in Mt. Union June 5.

'49 Graduate Writes Organ Composition

"Canticle of Comfort," an organ composition by Franklin Perkins, '49, was played April 29 in St. Bartholomew's Church, Park Ave. and 51st St., one of New York City's largest churches.

The composition was also played May 7 on the Alumni Day program of the School of Sacred Music, Union Theological Seminary, N. Y., where Perkins is doing graduate work.

While at Juniata, Perkins studied organ under Prof. Donald Johnson and was organist at the Stone Church. He is now minister of music and organist at the First Baptist Church in Asbury Park, N. J.

Vol. 28 No. 1 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | September 17, 1951

President Greets New Class Of '55

Juniata's Class of 1955—nearly 160 freshmen—was welcomed to the college today by President Calvert N. Ellis at the opening of the three-day orientation program.

The contingent of frosh was augmented by about 15 transfer students coming in with advanced standing.

The President greeted all newcomers in Oller Hall and introduced the deans of his administrative staff. However, the formal opening of the college does not take place until the all-College Convocation next Thursday at 9 a. m.

Although the freshmen enrollment does not measure up to last year's record high, the college will open its 76th year with a better enrollment "than we thought possible in the spring," according to President Ellis. Some 530 are expected by Thursday.

Earlier in the spring, it had appeared that enrollment figures might sag below 500. However, the upperclass registration remained "reasonably unchanged" during the summer in spite of occasional withdrawals for the draft or volunteer duty.

The number of veterans is diminishing—only a few are listed as GI's in the new crop of freshmen. And only about 50 will be enrolled in the entire college.

Men outnumber women by a close margin of about 85 to 75 in the Class of 1955.

Leadership Conf. Busy

Early reports from the Leadership Conference at Camp Kanesatake, near Spruce Creek, indicate that a large number of issues have been carefully considered by the student leaders.

A complete listing of the recommendations of the group to the Student Senate, faculty and administration will be carried in the next issue of the Juniatian.

Nearly 40 organization and student leaders attended the three day conference as guests of the Senate. They began their work of studying campus issues Friday evening and brought it to a close Sunday afternoon.

All campus organization presidents or comparable officers are automatically invited to attend this annual parley to represent the interests of their respective groups.

In addition the Senate invites a number of delegates-at-large from the student body to join with them in considering student problems.

Students Plan Sat. Eve Doin's

Saturday night is the biggest night of the week!

Reason: the social committee of the Student Senate is responsible for planning big doin's for each and every Saturday night on the College calendar.

It may be a movie in Oller Hall (front row, balcony seats are recommended), a basketball game in the new memorial gym, or a formal dance with music provided by the campus combo.

Opening the year is the Frosh Mixer (organized get-acquainted maneuvers). This is followed by the All-College Mixer (OGA on a larger scale).

The Faculty Reception provides students with the opportunity of seeing their profs in something other than the standard classroom light.

College Is Rated Highly In Chemistry By Report

Juniata College is eighth in the nation among colleges from which students go on to get their doctor's degrees in chemistry.

This point is made in the famous Trytten Report, which covers 719 colleges and universities awarding doctorates between 1936 and 1945.

Only four Pennsylvania colleges rate mention in this report. And of these, only Juniata and one other are on the approved list of the American Chemical Society. (The other school is $1000 a year more expensive than JC—and it is number nine on the list.)

Juniata Builds— Now And Later

"Juniata Builds!"

Alumni will recognize that as the title of a recent Juniata promotional pamphlet asking for money to finance a building campaign.

Benefits New Arrivals

But to new arrivals to the College campus, this slogan need only mean that a long range building boom is operating here to their benefit.

Set to open this Fall is the latest in the "Juniata Builds" campaign, a $300,000 Memorial Physical Education Building. (See page three for drawings and details.)

Before this on the construction schedule was enlargement and modernization of the dining facilities and a new music hall, the latter made possible by a $28,000 gift.

And There Is More

All these improvements to the College physical plant came in the last year and a half. But there is more on file for the future.

Oldest on the list, and most often delayed for various mechanical and financial reasons, is what used to be called the Student Union. It is now listed simply as a "social center."

Original plans once on the drawing boards called for a special student union building complete with coke bar, post office substation from which packages could be mailed, recreation area and much more. But the war cut off materials, funds became tight and the dream was dropped.

Currently Pres. Calvert Ellis envisions a center "adjacent to the dining hall."

Scout, Dink Help Create 'Feeling Of Belonging'

Attention, wearers of the green dink.

There is a purpose behind this wearin' o' the '55 beanies and carrying o' the Scout. It's not to make you feel like the peasant class of some feudal society, but rather to create the feeling of belonging to a group.

At JC the emphasis is on orientation rather than initiation. The name cards serve a double purpose, identification and introduction. The Scouts contain information it is wise to know.

The function of that great tribunal, the Freshman Court, is to keep this orientation program among the students rather than involving the administration.

Composed of seniors and juniors, the Court is headed by the chairman of underclassmen.

Student Number Limited To 600

"We do not want Juniata to grow any larger than it already is," is the firm policy of Pres. Calvert Ellis.

The student body is purposely limited as far as possible to the capacity of the dormitories and selected homes adjacent to campus, about 600 students. A few freshmen men are boarded off campus.

One result of this policy is that, in the words of more than one student, "you soon get to know everyone on campus including the profs. And they all know you too, usually by your first name."

Smaller classes and more personal attention is also made possible by this limitation.

Another policy is to keep Juniata a Christian College. The small size of the student body makes possible this ideal.

GREETING SPRING with a student planned and directed ceremony is traditional at Juniata. And climaxing the whole show is the equally traditional crowning of the student-elected queen by the prince consort.

Traditions Highlight College Year; Sadie Hawkins Starts Ball Rolling

What would college life be without a number of annual traditions? "Not much!" pipes up a typical JC student.

Here at Juniata we are fortunate in having Mountain Day, Homecoming, Parents Day, Moving Up Day and May Day (or Spring Festival as it was known for the first time last year)—all celebrated annually on College Hill.

And of course, when speaking of traditions, a coed will always think of Sadie Hawkins Day. For a whole week before this day, girls are given the privilege (?) of asking that shy freshman hero or that dashing muscle-bound senior for a date—of course, with one stipulation, that the girls pay the check.

No more lessons, no more books—at least for Juniata's traditional Mountain Day when everyone takes to the hills for hiking, games and food. The site schedule is planned on a four year cycle

Students Choose JC 'Because It's Small'

Haven't you often wondered why all of the students on College Hill chose Juniata above other colleges?

Studies show that since 1942 the top two reasons were these: because it is a small college and because of its scholastic reputation. Superiority in a particular field and proximity to home run a close third and fourth respectively.

The fact that Juniata is a church college (not necessarily Brethren) has fallen in rank on these studies from seventh (average from 1942-49) to tenth in 1950.

Other reasons in the order of their rank were the following: ideals of the College, scholarships, Church of the Brethren college, relatives attended Juniata, low cost, quality of students and faculty members, friends attended the College and athletic program.

AN ANNUAL ACTIVITY which involves large numbers of students and attracts crowds of relatives and friends is the play produced by one of the campus' extra-curricular groups, the Masque. Shown is a scene from "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

Clubs, Publications, Musicals Provide Outlets For Activity

In providing educational opportunities for a well-rounded student, Juniata offers a wealth of extra-curricular activities.

The Chemistry Club and Scalpel and Probe are two organizations which aim to spur interest in developments of science and medicine. The latter club is composed of biology and pre-medical students.

Serving as a united voice for future teachers, the FTA meets monthly to discuss teaching trends in the field of education. Alpha Beta Gamma meets these needs for elementary education majors, while Lambda Gamma does the same for home economic girls.

The student interested in languages can learn about his neighbors by attending meetings of the combined Spanish-French Club.

To learn about practical aspects of business, the Tycoon Club engages guest speakers who analyze

EDITORIALIZING

On Courses And Shoes And Some Other News

Don't let the act that this is an editorial scare you. We always try to keep our edit page scribblings confined to short paragraphs bounded on all sides by readability.

This time we want to touch on some of the many things we wanted to get into this issue but couldn't.

This is something new and different, this Juniatian. An experiment, in a way.

Generally the first edition of this student newspaper is published about three weeks after the first football players and Leadership Conference people descend on campus, like robins heralding the coming of a new term.

But this time the staff, at the suggestion of the administration, decided to create a "special" Juniatian which would tell what Juniata is, from the viewpoint of students who have been here three or four years.

We were free to tell the story as we saw it, no strings attached. We hope we succeeded.

One very vital aspect of Juniata life is "Mac."

"Mac's" the night watchman. You'll meet him before you're here too long.

His last name's MacCracken, but we defy even most seniors to relate his front monicker. Many don't know his last, let alone the first. He's just "Mac" to all.

On duty from dusk to dawn, he makes the rounds occasionally but not at regular intervals. Warning: don't stay up all night to trace his habits. It's been tried. 'S not worth it.

Integration Courses—Bugaboo or Benefit?

That's one the frosh debate every year between themselves, their instructors and upperclassmen.

By definition the integration courses are designed to integrate you with college. There's no choosing the pie and leaving the spinach in the way of education. Ya takes the bitter with the better and ya likes it. see.

If you come to college because either you or the old man thought it might be a good idea, but you still don't know what you want to be when you grow up—then the integration courses are a swell way to get the lay of the land before making a decision.

If you came here knowing exactly where you're going and what you want out of life, you still won't lose a thing by being made to spend a year with the integration courses before tackling the subjects dearest your heart. Those required courses represent Liberal Arts with a vengeance—best blamed general education on the market.

The only way you can lose is if you figure on cutting out of here after a year or two to head for the Ivy Leagues. Some other schools are leery of transferring the integration credits. But even that ticket can be fixed if you approach it right.

About Tuesday a week from now, we're going to offer you a crack at working for this newspaper.

"You Too Can Be An Editor" is the motto this year, what with student teaching, etc., opening all kinds of jobs in the top brackets to be filled.

Experienced men and beautiful women especially wanted. Can you spell Kat?

How To Kiss A Coed

Three years have gone into research of the most super-secret sort. Now at last the results are ready for release.

Financed by the Stay Pure Club, Lodge Branch, the investigation was carried on with strictest adherence to the Scientific Method and with the close cooperation of the men of the science department of Juniata College.

Scene of the research was the corridors, towers and social rooms of the aforementioned College. The final breakdown of the investigator's findings will not be released for several decades, but indications are that the discoveries were substantially these:

1 Let Her Kiss You

This method is resorted to be very dominant chaps who, pillowed on some portion of their date's anatomy, attempt to look soulful. The girl thereupon kisses them upon the forehead or on top of the head, depending on whether they've washed their hair recently. It helps somewhat if the man has been reciting poetry and is carried away by the sound of his own voice.

2 You've Got Her Cornered

Sometimes referred to as "the wall press," this style demands a rigid surface behind the girl. Walls are preferred, but nearly anything will do. This kiss is used most often by disappointed men, or those who fear rebuff. They simply back the girl up against the wall of their choice, and that's that. If she doesn't cooperate, she gets a crack on the skull.

3 It's Right There For You

This procedure is nearly always used by either neophytes or advanced students. The face of the girl is grasped firmly in both hands and the kiss planted firmly upon her. Known also as "the set-up," it eliminates the bobbing and weaving target which is so troublesome to the beginner. The past master, adjusting the coed by her ear lobes, knows what he wants from experience, and usually has it made to measure by his method.

4 Look! No Hands

In this circumstance the male is on the defensive until the last, but finally submits to the biological urge. But he doesn't become agressor. He simply stands there and lets her kiss him (see method 1) without the slightest response on his part. Splendid self-control is here evident. He does no work—just so much velvet.

5 You Won't Miss A Thing

Social awareness plays a big part in the execution of this particular style. The man is usually on the lookout, and glances around the room during the kiss. Potency of the kiss is registered by the rapidity with which the eyes revolve.

6 Wrestle Your Way To It

When the girl straightens up from this one, you can hear the vertebrae crack. This is very dangerous because sometimes the male comes up for air in a permanently bent condition. It is also risky when the man leans a little too far forward, and loses his balance. The trick of the whole thing is to see how far the girl can be bent without snapping something.

7 Tag, You're It

This is only for the very patient man, and involves a great deal of manuevering. Finally the girl lets him kiss her—but not for long. Just as he is beginning to light up on the forehead and say "Tilt," she discontinues the act and turns away. It is considered good form for the girl to giggle at this point. Sometimes she buries her face in his lapel to avoid kissing. This, though, is apt to be rather tough on the lapels. Lipstick is hard to get off tweeds.

8 The Pick-Me-Up

This technique seems to be a ridiculous waste of power, which might otherwise be used in the kiss. The man, carried away by the emotional consequences of kissing, tightens his grip on the girl and begins to straighten up. If the girl is much shorter than he, she soon finds herself a few inches off the floor. Then she's apt to kick him in the shins until he lets go. If the man is shorter than the girl, she yanks him off the floor, it is considered unmannerly to kick her. He just waits until she gets out of breath.

A SATIRE

The Little Puppets Of Monsieur Sage

There is a little village in France
Where puppets are carved from precious woods.
Everyone in the village
Is a puppet maker
But Monsieur Sage is the master of them all.
His shelves are filled with hundreds of tiny dolls.
Yet he does more than carve mere puppets.
He teaches them life-like ways.
Some he has taught to count upon their wooden fingers.
Some to sing a song that he composed.
Some to pretend that they are real.
Every doll is happy upon the shelves of Monsieur Sage.
But one time long ago,
He carved a puppet of white wood.
A doll that seemed quite different from the rest.
And then went off to bed.
In the middle of the night, the white doll came to life.
And turned to waken every shelf about the room.
One by one they came down to listen.
Some he taught to dance.
Some to think.
Others he taught a new song. (One they had not heard before.)
And so the puppets of Monsieur Sage danced and sang and lived
One night.
The morning came.
The puppet maker opened up his eyes to see
Rows of dolls upon his bed.
He screamed aloud.
"Back to your shelves! I am still master here!"
And in a moment all had fled.
All but one.
The white puppet remained upon the bed post.
"You hear my voice . . . back to your shelf!"
The doll replied:
"Never."
"The others fled for they have a heavy heart of wood.
They have never felt the pulse of life.
But I,
I have a heart of lighter stuff.
I am a doll no longer."
"How dare you speak!"
"I speak because I wished it so.
Some may be content to be a puppet but I
Will never be content until I am a man.
And see with my own eyes. And know what it means to be real."
And with these words he leaped upon the window sill,
Addressed the shelves and said:
"Farewell . . .
You will soon forget me.
But you will never forget the song I taught you.
You will remember it in the night.
You will remember how we danced.
You will remember the only freedom that you ever had.
But you will only remember." And then he disappeared.
All this happened long ago.
Now the puppets never think of him.
Nor his song.
They only listen to the puppet maker.
And count upon their fingers.
And pretend that they are real.
But at night . . .
They sometimes hear a melody.
A song upon the breeze that makes them wonder.
But not for long. The night is short.
And they have forgotten the doll
That learned to live.
And one day
A proud man passed their window.
And smiled at them.

That's Logic For You

Been wondering what College courses are like? Maybe this little story will help:

"It is difficult to explain what a course in logic will do for a person's thinking, but let me illustrate," the professor told a student.

"Suppose two men came out of a chimney—one is clean, one is dirty. Which takes a bath?"

"The dirty one, naturally," answered the student.

"Remember," chided the professor, "that the clean man sees the dirty one, and vice versa."

"Now I get it," said the student. "The clean one, seeing the dirty companion, concludes he is dirty too—so he takes a bath. Am I right?"

"Wrong!" said the professor nonchalantly. "Logic teaches this: how could two men come out of a chimney, one clean and one dirty?"

'May I Help?' Asks Sen. Chm.

by Jack Rothenberger

To the members of the class of 1955 I extend a cordial welcome to the campus of Juniata College. I hope that beginning now each of you will find a grand new life unfolding before you.

Worth The Trouble

At times you will become discouraged and want to call it quits, but take it from me, it is worth all the trouble in the end. You just can't beat having college experience, especially Christian College experience such as Juniata offers.

I hope to meet each one of you personally within the coming weeks. Feel free to come to me at any time for help in solving any problems which might arise. I know you all have plenty of questions right now, but that's only because everything is so new and strange.

Everyone A Neighbor

Always remember that at Juniata everyone is a friendly neighbor to everyone else.

Good luck! I'll be seeing you around campus.

Dean Lists Plan For Frosh

(Editor's note: J Melvin Rhodes, dean of students, has set up a program of freshmen orientation for this year which promises to be both profitable and interesting. In this article he describes his plans.)

Building a Successful College Career is to be the theme of this year's series of weekly freshman assemblies.

To Meet Mondays

Each Monday at 1:45 p. m., all students attending Juniata for the first time will be required to meet in Oller Hall for this orientation program. Weekly discussions will be led by various members of the faculty as well as guest speakers.

The aim of each week's session will be to help new students understand better the life at Juniata and to make a faster adjustment to college.

Topics Listed

Some of the topics which will be "kicked around" will be How to Live at Juniata College, The Art of Selecting Courses, Planning a Work-Study Schedule, How to Use the Library, On Watching a Football Game, Growing Up Emotionally, The Trick of Spending College Funds Wisely, The Secret of Taking Notes You Can Use, Reading Effectively.

Interesting Programs

The programs each week will be made as interesting as is possible through the use of varied discussion techniques. An effort will be made to develop class spirit by having special offerings of music and/or recitation by talented members of the class.

Freshman Assembly is the forerunner of the class organization. Sometime during the term there will be an election of class officers.

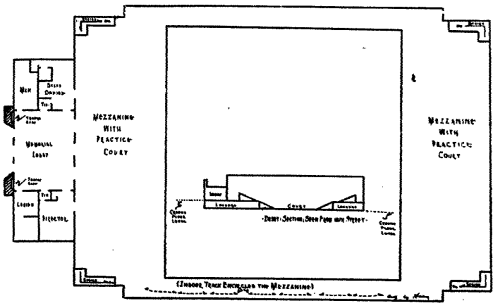
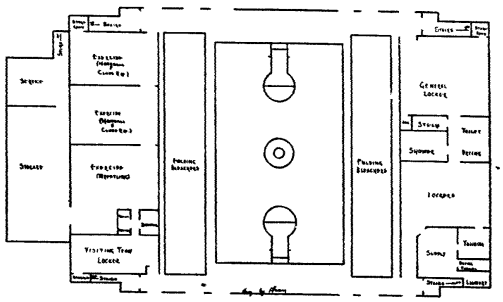
Completed Memorial Phys. Ed. Building Is $300,000 Giant



Lettering by Asan

MEZZANINE FLOOR—The floor plan of the mezzanine floor of the new gymnasium and a view of the gym as it would look cut exactly through the center. The lobby is a $30,000 memorial to the son of one of the residents of Huntingdon.

GROUND FLOOR—The plan for the ground floor of the new Memorial gymnasium showing the main playing floor and the locker rooms. Also to be seen are the class rooms and exercise rooms. The bleachers are the folding kind.



Drawing by Volpitto

The new Memorial physical education building is a $300,000 giant compared to the building it replaces. This new building has a floor space almost seven times the size of the old gym.

There are two floors in the just-completed building. The lower floor contains the locker and equipment rooms and also the main playing area. Three classrooms and exercise rooms are also on the lower floor.

On the mezzanine floor are two practice basketball courts and in indoor track, measuring 11 laps to the mile. At the Memorial lobby are the offices for the staff.

The main playing floor will measure 95 by 50 feet, while the practice courts are 84 by 34. Bleachers are erected on the lower floor, while plans for the future call for additional bleachers on the mezzanine. The present bleachers seat 1200 people.

Extensive I-M Program At Juniata College

While much attention is centered on the intercollegiate sports picture at Juniata, there is another phase that is just as important. More so if numbers mean anything. That phase is the intramural program.

Intramural sports include football, basketball, bowling and softball. Tennis and golf were added to the program last Spring and plans are made to initiate soccer, volleyball, ping pong and wrestling.

The whole intramural system is under the control of a student, the senate chairman of athletics. He is elected by the student body and sets up all the leagues. Anything concerning intramural athletics is his baby.

Intramural rivalries are keen. Several of the clubs have been playing together for years, gaining new members from the incoming classes.

WAA Organizes Coed Sports

Any woman student of Juniata is also a member of the WAA. This club is the main spring in women's athletics.

Monthly meetings are held and a program is set up for the sport of the month. To operate, the club maintains several concessions and also collects nominal dues.

In addition to the intramural program, the most important phase of the club, the members take part in "Sports Days" at other colleges. A Sport Day is planned for Juniata this fall.

The intramural program includes hockey, basketball, volleyball and softball as major sports. Minor sports are badminton, table tennis, archery, and tennis. Points are awarded for participation in these sports and awards are made. These are the WAA emblem, and J and then the star.

Best Diamond, Gym Head Athletic Plant

The newest addition to the athletic plant at Juniata is the new Memorial physical education building.

This building is part of a plant that includes College Field, as the football field is called; the old gymnasium, which is now the women's gym; a practice football field; two hockey fields and several other areas which are used in the intramural program.

College Field also contains the baseball diamond and track oval. The diamond at College Field is one of the best in the state for a school the size of Juniata.

Five tennis courts round out the athletic plant on College Hill.

Dentist, Professor Of Education Among Coaches

Included on the Juniata coaching staff are a dentist and a professor of education. Also on the roster are a former JC record holder a Penn State football great and another Penn State grad. A graduate of Juniata works with these five as trainer and general assistant.

P. M. "Mike" Snider

P. M. Snider, "Mike" to everyone on campus, has been connected with the administration of athletics at Juniata since 1930. Before that he was a four letterman when he was graduated in 1926.

In 1930 Snider became assistant football and basketball coach. The position of head track coach also came his way in 1930.

After serving as assistant for 10 years, Snider was named to the post of director of physical education in 1941. In 1942 the coaching reins of the football and basketball teams were turned over to him.

After several years of Navy service, Snider returned to JC in 1945 and resumed his duties as head coach of football, basketball, track and tennis.

Snider is now Director of Athletics. One of his duties in this post is the scheduling of all athletic contests for Indian teams.

Bill Smaltz

Bill Smaltz is the head coach of football and baseball in addition to being the JV basketball mentor.

In Smaltz' four seasons here on the Hill his teams have won 16 games, lost 12 and tied one. It was under Smaltz' tutelage that "Meteor Mike" Dzvonar bloomed. Dzvonar wrote and then rewrote the football record books on campus.

DR. KIRACOFE

Smaltz' baseball record also shows a mark that is above .500. His best year was 1947 when the team won 10 out of 14 games.

Smaltz was graduated from Penn State, where he was one of State's top passers. He took part in the East - West Shrine game in 1942. While in the Army Smaltz played and coached football at Camp Edwards, Mass., and Fort Bliss, Texas.

Signing on as assistant football coach in 1946, Smaltz was promoted to head coach in 1947.

Dr. Edgar Kiracofe

Dr. Edgar S. Kiracofe—professor of education. That is how the record names the Indian golf coach. And well it might because he is the head of the department of education.

Kiracofe's record as golf mentor shows 34 wins, two losses and a tie in four years. Prof. Jack Oller handled the team to a 2-2 record in its first season.

JUNIATA'S PHYS. ED. DEPARTMENT of Miss Jane McCormick, Dr. T. Arnold Greene, Mr. William R. Smaltz, Mr. William Germann and Prof. P. M. Snider.

Kiracofe prefers to be known as the "chaperone" rather than coach, for, as he says, "all I do is make the trips with them." But he shoots a good game of golf, too!

Dr. T. Arnold "Doc" Greene

The newest member of the Juniata coaching family is Dr. T. Arnold Greene, or "Doc" as he is better known. He was named to the head basketball post in 1949.

Greene also serves as assistant football coach to Bill Smaltz.

Greene played for Pitt in 1934, '35 and '36 under Jock Sutherland. He was the quarterback for the backfield that consisted of Marshall Goldberg, Bob LaRue and Frank Patrick.

The first coaching position Greene had was at the Walterboro, South Carolina, Air Base. In his first season, the team captured the Southeastern United States Service basketball championship. In 1944 his record was 18 and 3.

Besides being head basketball mentor, Greene is a practicing dentist in Huntingdon.

Miss Jane McCormick

Miss Jane McCormick, Penn State '49, is the distaff side of the athletic picture at Juniata.

This will be her third year as head of the women's phys ed courses. In addition to these duties she is also in charge of the cheerleading squad and is the faculty advisor for the WAA.

Now she is serving as acting dean of women.

Bill Germann

Bill Germann, class of '49, is the head, and only, trainer for Indian athletic teams. He's also director of Huntingdon's Radio Station WHUN.

Without him the Indians would be in a pretty sorry fix at times. In the 1949 football season it was estimated that Germann used more than a mile of tape holding the team together.

Six Sports On Intercollegiate Schedule Here

Intercollegiate athletics are important at JC, with Blue and Gold teams competing in six sports, football, basketball, baseball, golf, track and tennis.

Competition is with colleges comparable in size and athletic policy to Juniata. Most of the teams are from Pennsylvania, with occasional games scheduled with teams from New York, New Jersey, Virginia and Maryland.

Football is the big sport at JC as it is almost everywhere. It was started here in 1920. In its early days there wasn't much to write home about, but since the war things have been looking up.

Basketball—Sport Middleman

Basketball is the "middleman" of sports, coming between football in Fall and Spring sports. Over the last few years the team has been having a rough time, but with the new gym to work with the outlook is brighter.

Baseball is another sport that has been around for a long time, 47 years to be exact. And seldom has the team fallen below the .500 mark. Last year the school's first no-hitter was twirled.

Golf is the newest and winningest sport at Juniata. Since its organization in 1947 the team has won 36 matches, lost four and tied one. And it is also the champion of both the Western Maryland and Juniata Invitational tournaments.

Tennis On Comeback Trail

Tennis is making a comeback after it was abandoned during the war. After a winless season in 1950 the team came back to record a 4-4 mark last year.

Track is another spring sport that is big on campus. It begins with the P. M. "Mike" Snider gold medal cross country run. Then comes the interclass track meet and the regular season.

Athletes Get Many Awards At Juniata

There are more than a few athletic awards made each year to Juniata athletes, both intercollegiate and intramural. The intramural awards were just established last Spring.

In addition to letter awards there are seven trophies that are presented.

The most coveted trophy is the Stanford Mickle Athletic Award. It is awarded to the outstanding senior male who has contributed most to the overall athletic picture at Juniata College.

Other trophies include those given for outstanding performance in the following phases of sport: football back, football line, track, golf, basketball and baseball.

Intramural awards in the form of charms are given to the championship team in each of the major sports. Each team member is given a charm and the team roster is lettered in a leather book that is installed in the gym.

Tidbits Of Information Listed To Help Guide You Around Campus

Here are some odds and ends of information which will help you find your way around Juniata more easily:

● Bulletin boards are located in Founders, Students and women's dorm. The first two are maintained by the calendar committee headed by the Dean of Women, the third is in charge of the Women's House Committee. Announcements should be typed, must be removed as soon as out of date.

● The business manager handles all replacements and repairs, keys and the College truck. He gives permission to move furniture, except in the women's dorm.

● Furniture in the women's dorm is under the care of the dietician.

● The central treasurer of the Senate handles all bills and money connected with student activities.

● Permission to use Founders Chapel or rooms in Students Hall must be obtained from the Dean of Women. To use Oller Hall, see the secretary to the President.

● The night watchman may be signaled by turning off the front walk lights. The switch is by the door of the treasurer's office. Stay there until he comes.

● Publications and alumni offices are in the ground floor of Founders Hall.

in order to allow a student to visit each of four state parks during his four years at Juniata.

Who will be Miss Homecoming of 1951? Whoever she is, she will reign over that day's activities this autumn. Alumni will return on Homecoming to see the campus displays, the frosh vs. soph contests, the varsity football game and finally the J Club frolic that night.

Parents Day is just what the name implies—a day when all parents are invited to College Hill. Buffet lunch is served in the dining hall. There is a football game in the afternon and some College planned activity that night.

Installation of the new Senate for the following year, procession from Oller Hall to Founders and singing of the alma mater as freshmen line Founders steps is the usual schedule for the annual Move-Up Day, held sometime in March.

Winding up the year's traditional activities is May Day (better known as Spring Festival this year) and the girls annual breakfast preceding this event. Students vote for the court which is composed of a queen, prince consort, maid of honor and two attendants from each class.

Extra-Curricular—

present-day problems in their field.

During the past year Juniata gun enthusiasts founded the Sportsmen's Club. Aiming to promote better sportsmanship, this group someday hopes to enter intercollegiate and national matches.

Another new organization is the Sigma Gamma. During its first year this group of sociology majors sponsored outstanding speakers and aroused interest by offering experimental comprehensive tests to prepare seniors who expected to take these exams later.

The Varsity J Club is made up entirely of letter winning athletes from the College male sports program. Functioning as the voice of women athletes is the WAA. And serving as "spurs" at all varsity games are JC's cheerleaders.

The Juniata Christian Association and the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship chapter provide the spiritual life for the JC student. Bible study and a discussion of religious and social issues are stressed at weekly meetings.

Several organizations provide outlets for musical activity. Among these are the College band, dance band, orchestra, Chapel Choir and the widely known A Cappella Choir.

For those interested in dramatics, the Masque offers its members a wealth of opportunities. Each year these actors produce at least on student drama, plus several script-in-hand plays.

Publications provide another vent for energy. The Indian, Scout, Alfarata and Juniatian are among the printed matter planned and produced by students.

Scholars Earn $27,000 Yearly

Approximately one third of JC's students last year held some type of job on campus or in Huntingdon. These students together earned approximately $27,000.

The following campus positions are open to students: waitress, librarian, lab assistant, office assistant, and campus worker (mowing lawn, marking tennis courts, etc.).

Positions on campus must be applied for in advance by the student and are given by the dean of students, J. Melvin Rhodes, on the basis of need and the individual's ability to do satisfactory academic work while carrying employment.

Students wanting to earn coke-and-movie money by doing odd jobs (baby sitting, car washing, and the like) for individuals in town should sign their names in the odd-job book at the information window.

Laundry Facilities

Laundry facilities at Juniata are easily accessible to its students. In the basement of Founders Hall there are two automatic laundry machines which can be used daily, except Sunday, by both men and women students. One dime is deposited for each washing.

Last Spring a recommendation was made to the College budget committee that two more automatic laundry machines be purchased and installed in the two men's dorms.

The facilities in the equipment room in the gym are strictly for the Athletic Department.

Homecoming Date

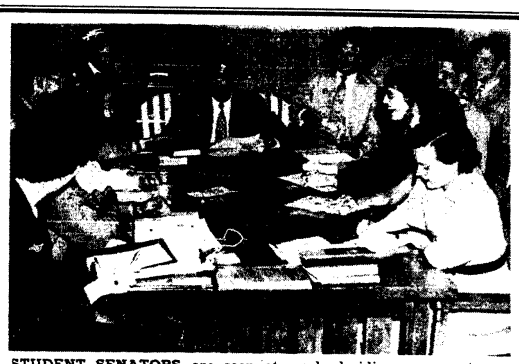
Susquehanna will be the Homecoming Day opponent for Juniata on its 1951 football card. The traditional contest is set for Nov. 3.

STUDENT INITIATIVE built this. As though social committee planned entertainment and extra-curricular activities aren't enough to keep them busy, the students flood the campus tennis court and spend hundreds of winter hours on skates. Profs love to remark on the amount of student energy available for scraping the ice and racing around, and how little "oomph" remains when study time comes.

Many Here Learn Of JC Through Alumni

Alumni of the College can be given credit for being number one on the 1950 list of media through which students hear about Juniata. In the past, literature sent out by the College held first rank, but by 1950, this medium had dropped to fourth place.

All others have held the same rank through the years. They are: Juniata representative, high school, church, magazine advertisement and lecturer or student club.



STUDENT SENATORS are seen at work deciding campus issues. Elected annually by the students from the student body, these campus leaders work to serve student interests. In addition they strive to correlate faculty-student-administrative aims and plans. Much of their annual program of action is born at leadership conference.

Juniata Grads Make Out Well In Worlds Of Business, Medicine, Etc.

records, Juniata graduates have distinguished themselves in many fields.

Success in Sociology

A sociology major, 1940 graduate, is now No. 3 man in the New Jersey penal system, and has originated a method of prisoner rehabilitation through group activities. This method was the subject of a Reader's Digest article, May, 1950. Another student who took his comprehensive exams in sociology is an instructor of sociology at the University of Pittsburgh.

Two of the three members of Juniata's first graduating class head the long list of those students who went on to med school for M. D. degrees.

Grads in Journalism

Though JC does not have a department of journalism, several graduates have successfully entered the field. A '31 grad is editorial assistant of The Saturday Evening Post: another JC sheepskin receiver edits the Quarterly Spectator and Dog's World. The editor of the Gospel Messenger is also a Juniata graduate.

Several of the students who passed their comps in psychology are now professors in psychology. A '27 graduate teaches at Penn State; a '24 at Rutgers University. Two psych majors hold associate professor positions, one at Stanford University, the other at the University of Pennsylvania. Another grad is now with the Veteran's Administration as a chief clinical psychologist.

In the area of diplomatic and consular service, a recent history major was awarded a Rotary International fellowship to study at the Institute of International Studies of Geneva, Switzerland.

He adds, "The first floor of Founders and Brumbaugh Halls is ideally suited for these purposes when we can (relocate the women living there) and have sufficient funds to remodel . . ."

Also on order for the future is expansion of the Carnegie Library and additions and improvements to the men's dorms.

Cabin Constructed For Use Of Clubs

"A student takes pride in what he produces."

That statement well describes the Outing Club members, who as amateur architects, carpenters and painters, worked together building a College cabin. Located a quarter mile from the Raystown branch of the Juniata River, Camp To-Ke-Sta may be used by any campus organization.

According to Outing Club members, "parts of the cabin are still under construction." However, this was no hinderance to the many students who shared in the outdoor recreation at the weekend outings.

Medical, Dental Schools Attract

Approximately nine out of ten Juniata graduates who applied for entrance to medical and dental colleges last year were admitted. The national ratio is one out of six.

First Class Mail Only

Only first class mail may be sent from the campus. Laundry and other packages must be taken to the post office in downtown Huntingdon.

The Juniatian

Vol. 28 No. 2 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | September 27, 1951

Leadership Conf. Advises Senate, Administration

Better than half a dozen suggestions which will have a strong effect on campus life in the future came out of the three-day Leadership Conference at Camp Kanesatake Sept. 14-16.

Among these were resolutions proposing the following:

- The establishment of an Intra-Mural Athletic Association.
- A program of constructive, rather than destructive, initiation for freshmen.
- The formation of a permanent safety committee, whose first assignment is to "investigate where (additional) lights are needed on campus."
- A Senate study of "the possibility of instituting an honor system" here.
- In bad weather, the men to enter the dining hall through the social rooms.
- Training tables to receive "firsts on seconds" at meals, "conditional on their good behavior."
- The hope that some interested group such as a graduating class or local club would erect a sign or signs signifying that "this is Juniata College."

Twenty-six additional proposals —more than any Conference in the past several years has offered —were passed by the campus leaders.

Heated debate marked the discussion of several issues.

More than 50 student leaders attended the Conference at a campsite near Spruce Creek. In addition to members of the Student Senate, top officers of all campus organizations and a number of delegates-at-large were present.

The Conference is called annually by the Senate to lay the groundwork for the coming year's activities. Resolutions passed by the Conference delegates have only the force of suggestions; they are not laws.

Administrative and Senate officers are free to act on the resolutions as they see fit.

Next Juniatian Oct. 6

The Juniatian will get back onto normal publication schedule Friday, Oct. 6, when the next issue of the student weekly will be distributed.

Faculty Reception To Open Social Year Saturday Evening

by Rainy Belle Linn

Wondering what you're going to do Saturday nights?

Don't worry, the Social Commitee has been busy planning social events for the first semester. Although the plans are not yet complete, the general idea has taken form.

Saturday night will officially open the social calendar for the year with the annual semi-formal faculty reception in the women's gym. A receiving line, a short musical program, refreshments, and dancing will be the main attraction. All girls will be permitted 12:00 lates.

(See Social—, Page 6)

Seniors To Begin Placement Course

Dean J. Melvin Rhodes will again offer his job placement course for seniors. To be held weekly throughout the semester, it will begin Monday in Founders Chapel from 7 to 8 p. m. The purpose of the course, according to the dean, is to give the student job-hunter "tools for his employment search." Among topics covered wil be Writing the Letter of Application, Appearance, Training Requirements, etc.

Pep Rally Tomorrow

The pep meeting this Friday night will be under the direction of the sophomore class. All freshmen are required to attend.

Senate Discusses Honor System; Table Heads Named

Action on some Leadership Conference resolutions and several appointments were major items on the agendas of the past two Senate meetings which were held last Thursday and Monday nights.

Action on the resolution that this year's Senate investigate the possibility of instituting an Honor System at the College was also taken. The following Senators were selected to serve on a committee to conduct the initial studies on the subject: Phil Norris, chairman, Betty Longwell, Jack Rothenberger and Joe Thomasberger.

Permanent table heads were also chosen. They are: Dottie Hummer, Betty Longwell, Kay Wright, Sarah Keller, Janet Boland, Mary Lou McKee, Shirley Nell, Jo Chiodi, Lois Miller, Barbara Warner, Marjorie Alleman, Nancy Shiffler, Rhoda Clemmer, Dott Taylor, Carrie Lou Greene, Betsy Dively.

Tom Greene, Senate treasurer, will have office hours Tuesdays and Fridays from 6:30 to 8 p. m. in the Women's Day Student Room.

Election Monday For Senate Job

Due to the resignation of Bob Asan, an election for a new Senate Chairman of Athletics will have to be held.

All petitions were returned to vice president, Joe Thomasberger, last evening. The election will be held Monday. Polling hours will be 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., 1 to 2:45 p. m., 5:30 to 6 p. m. and 6:30 to 8 p. m.

Cloister Lounge Open

A new addition to the Cloister is the refurbished lounge in the basement.

Formerly the J Club room, this L-shaped room with tile floor and beamed-crossed ceiling will be "ideal for stag sessions and genuine fellowship," according to College officials.

Operetta Selected

Naughty Marietta Set For Nov. 9, 10

Victor Herbert's comic opera Naughty Marietta will be presented Nov. 9 and 10 by the students of Juniata College under the joint direction of Prof. Donald Johnson, Miss Esther Doyle and Student Manager Janet Boland.

Formerly given in the Spring, the All-College Musical date had to be exchanged with the Masque play, which is now set for March 14 and 15. This switch had to be made because Prof. Johnson this year takes charge of the A Cappella Choir, which has a statewide tour slated for March.

Johnson is replacing Prof. Charles Rowland as director of the Choir. Professor Emeritus Rowland, who retired last June, will however return to the College for one year to instruct in voice and conducting.

The story of this year's student musical deals with the adventures of Countess Marietta, daughter of a noble family. Unhappy at home, she runs away and disguises herself as a marriageable casquette girl sent by the king of France to New Orleans.

There she gains the affections of an American frontiersman, the son of the Lieutenant-Governor, who is know to the underworld as a pirate.

Boland Named Student Manager

Janet Boland, a senior from West Orange, N. J., was recently appointed Student Manager for the All-College Musical, Naughty Marietta, to be presented Nov. 9 and 10.

An elementary ed major, Miss Boland's activities include freshman committee, FTA vice president, Alpha Beta Gamma and Masque.

In former years this position was refrerred to as Student Coordinator. However, the Senate, who made the appointment, felt that the title was misleading. Therefore, it was decided that the name be changed and the person appointed be told her duties by the faculty directors.

As Student Manager, Miss Boland will now head all student committees and positions connected with the production of the show. This includes the following: stage manager, stage crew, set construction, lights, costumes, properties, program, advertising, tickets, prompters, business manager, make-up and ushers.

26 Picked For Cappella Choir

Twenty-six members of this year's A Cappella Choir have been named by Professor Donald Johnson.

The sopranos are Helen Rosengren, Mary Shearer, Joy Truxal, Audrey Weber, Jo Chiodi, Jane Garver, Joan Lenhardt, and Donna Vasbinder.

Those selected as altos are Carol Lowdermilk, Ruth Walker, Wilda Widdowson, Rhoda Clemmer, Barbara Lape and Joanne Siemon.

The tenors include Ronald Herpster, Ben Newcomer, Herman Pabst, Harold Bowser, Wesley Diemer, and Robert Parsons.

The basses are Clyde Johnson, Robert Yanssens, Dan Ziegler, Robert Landes, Ray McHenry, and Steve Musto.

Those who tried out and have not been chosen have been put on a reserve list possibly to be used in the future.

Conference Resolutions Listed

Here are the complete resolutions as passed by the delegates to the Senate-sponsored Leadership Conference at Camp Kanesatake Sept. 14-16. These have only the force of recommendations to various Senate and administrative officers. It will be up to these officers to determine what is to be done. Each resolution will be refrerred to the Senate chairman handling that area of interest. Special Issues are to be taken under consideration by the entire Senate, as will be many of the other issues in time. The disposition of other resolutions is listed before each one.

Conf. Stopped By Some Problems

Of the 33 issues tackled by Leadership Conference, perhaps half a dozen involved some phase of student attitudes—attitudes in the library, toward freshmen, in the dining hall, in Chapel, etc.

And the most notable thing about these particular resolutions was that not even the delegates to the conference were convinced they had proposed real solutions.

For example, noisy training tables had been discussed before many times; the present offer of a bribe of extra food is just "one more attempt to solve a problem which is sure to come up again next year and the year after," as one delegate put it.

And the same for the problem of library noise. The delegates simply threw up their hands and tossed the question into the lap of the head librarian.

The fundamental fact is that some people are going to buck the established order of things no matter how the society is organized.

Is there a solution? Yes.

An Honor System, in time, could alleviate all of the problems of this type.

FROM THE EDITOR'S NOTES

● TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: The piano in the dining hall has a very fine Solovox attachment. We've heard it played less than half a dozen times in our three years here. We enjoyed the results every time. We hate to see it continue to be so neglected. So we propose that (1) the Solovox equipment either be moved to a more frequently used spot such as Oller Hall or (2) some interested group work out some plan which will let us hear it more often in the dining hall.

Foreign Student Says Thanks

(Editor's note: This letter to the Student Senate was written by a German student, one of those whose education at Juniata was made possible by the Juniata World Service Fund, a student project.)

Dear Studentfellows,

Winding up my time in this country I would like to express my deep gratitude toward the student body. Your help made it possible for me to come over to America, to stay here and become acquainted to this great country and its nice people.

Returning home I shall work for better understanding between America and Germany, which could be very easy if everybody would have the possibility to see and to learn about each other's home country.

Again my gratitude for my time at JC which I shall always remember as a friendly place and its students as very fine fellows. With best wishes to you all

Sincerely yours,
Chris Kaltenborn

Movies: To Look Or Not To Look

by Frank Harlacher

Movie dates are a universal practice. We on college hill are certainly no exception to this rule. In fact we are more fortunate than most citizens of a town the size of Huntingdon in that we get the best motion pictures. Just a tip and then I'll give you a little insight into whats coming up and why.

If you want to really take advantage of the best entertainment offered, make your movie night Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday cause that's when the best shows hit Huntingdon. However, if you're going to be juvenile and look at your date instead of the screen, then try the double feature ruff-and-tuffs that hit town at the week's end. Every man for himself, and have fun!

PEOPLE AGAINST O'HARA—A courtroom drama, this movie furnishes the usual detective story and no more. But then a motion picture needs only one outstanding feature to make it worth seeing to the people that prefer its type. In "People Against O'Hara" that feature is Spencer Tracy.

Hollywood often builds a picture around a star instead of finding a star to cast into the character. In fact some stars are so individualistic that they seldom vary from this pattern.

Briefly Tracy retires from the criminal lawyer profession because of the worry involved. He is persuaded to defend a John O'Hara who is accused of murdering his boss, a fish market proprietor in New York City. The plot ties together the manner in which he plays the part of detective, pursuer and defender.

Supporting Tracy are Pat O'Brien, Diana Lynn and John Hodiak. The movie offers action, complication and mystery and, above all, superb acting in the manner in which MGM may always be relied upon. Grand Theatre.

THE LAW AND THE LADY—This comedy really gives its principal, Greer Garson a new twist from some of her former roles such as "Mrs. Miniver." Hilarious will be your word for the way she and her side-kick Michael Wilding prove Barnum's theory that all people are suckers.

The story is that of a nobleman's servant (Garson) and the black sheep brother of a lord (Wilding) joining forces to pull off swindels that amazed the most snobbish of snobs in such places as London, Monte Carlo, Italy, Shanghai and San Francisco.

Watch this Wilding fellow because from all reports he's a master of comic timing and glib delivery. Holding her end of any comedy is Marjorie Main, who heads the supporting cast. If you like comedy and want to see disproved the old theory that "crime doesn't pay"—then put your money on "The Law and the Lady." Clifton Theatre.

Secrets Of A Steel Mill Worker

by Ray Siren

After a long vacation, one would think that any columnist should be loaded with facts, observations and miscellaneous drivel fit for publication; but this particular columnist worked in a steel mill and any observations in that hallowed place must go for naught, as most of the gab was decidely unfit for print.

One thing of interest though—I know why mill-workers carry their paychecks in their hip pockets. Apparently, it is the only part of their anatomy that does any work. And I speak from experience. U. S. Steel paid more cash to sleeping manpower than any mattress-testing company on record.

My experience there taught me the value of a college education, however. Those employees who sported class rings and degrees certainly stood head and shoulders above their co-workers in the art of intelligent blasphemy.

Never regret your days at Juniata, friends. Even you may end up as an educated laborer, and your background will be invaluable. Who knows, you might even become a bricklayer's helper in time.

JUST PLAIN BILL—Bill Wright, who has the very distinguished title of Assistant to the Dean of Students, has already fallen heir to several other handles. For no known reason, Tom Green tagged him with "Murph", and it caught on. So now loud cries of "Hey, Murph!" bellow across campus. The freshmen and even the sophomores, who don't seem to realize that Bill is old enough to be their big brother and not their father, refer to him as Mr. Wright, Dean Wright, and even Dr. Wright. Such names "make me feel old before my time. Let's make it Bill's titles is Resident Councilor. Bill." Incidentally, another of

THE UNINVITED GUEST—Sunday evening there was a woman's house meeting (alias, a pajama party) in the social rooms. Maurice Henry accidentally crashed the party. TSK! TSK!

HEY JUNIOR!—Our Senate President, Art Allen, must just hate the thought of leaving us come next June. At the first freshman mixer, when everyone was telling their personal statistics, Art, not yet used to his exalted status, unthinkingly said he was a Junior.

HMMMM—No sooner had D. D. Silldorff exploded onto campus that she began tracking down her old friends of last year. Missing Dallas Duffield—she inquired of this newspaper's editor, "Has Duffy settled down to married life?" Innocently Jim replied, "I understand he's going to body school." First Korea Veteran Returns To Campus

by Bob Volpitto

"I was never so surprised in my life as when they stuck me on that plane" (from Japan to the States), smiled Bob Keim, '52, first Korean vet to return to campus.

Staff Seargeant Keim enrolled in the Fall of 1948 as a freshman here. Last September he was activated with his group of reservists. With his two older brothers he spent eight months in Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Hurried To Frontlines

"They sure can hurry you up front," was his comment on the short hop from Japan to Korea which his group made after training in the states.

Before seeing any front-line action as an L Company squad leader, Keim and his fellow members of the 187th Airborn were pulled back for further training. This was in preparation for a combat jump which was held up because of the peace negotiations.

Was Chm. of Athletics

Previous to his re-induction Keim had held the chairmanship of athletics in the Senate. He is running for that same post now.

As for the future, he expects to complete his education here and then attend law school.

Old Records Prove Times Have Changed

The following gems were taken from the Rules and Regulations of the Brethren Normal School, 1877-78.

● All students, unless excused, must remain in their rooms during evening study hours.

● Students of the two sexes, other than relatives, must not meet privately unless on business, and then only by permission.

● All students are expected to join the Literary Society and to discharge faithfully all duties connected therewith.

Assistant To Dean Among New Group

Three assistants—one in the Registrar's office, one in the Treasurer's office and one to the Dean of Students—and three secretaries have been added to Juniata's administrative force.

William Wright, '50, has been named assistant to Dean of Students J. Melvin Rhodes.

Wright concentrated in psychology here to receive a bachelor of science degree. Attending the Teachrs College of Columbia University last year, he earned a master of arts degree in student personnel and administration.

Wright Won't Travel

During the first semester, Wright will aid in counseling freshmen and will serve as proctor of the Lodge. Maintaining high school contacts, usually one of the duties of the assistant to the dean, will be handled for the first semester by Professors G. Wayne Glick and Philip Bedient.

Beverly Williams, '51, has been apointed recorder in the office of the registrar and assistant in the College news bureau.

In both positions Miss Williams will serve under Registrar A. William Engel, Jr. processing student academic records and preparing local news copy.

Other Staff Additions

New secretary to Dean Morley Mays is Barbara Miller, who just graduated from the Huntingdon Secretarial School.

Mrs. Lucille Schmittle, of York, Pa. has assumed her duties as secretary to Dean Rhodes. A resident of the Village, she attended the Huntingdon Secretarial School.

Dolores Bush, '51 graduate of Huntingdon High School, is the new secretary to Harold Brumbaugh. Previously she worked for the AAA.

Telford Knepper, a freshman from Lewisburg, is assisting in the Treasurer's office. Knepper, a science major, has had a year's banking experience at the New Enterprise Bank.

Alumni Hit Record In 1950-51 Giving

Juniata's alumni contributed an all time record of $58,597.24 to the 1950-51 fund raising campaign. Contributions far exceeded the $45,357.64 which has stood as a record since the 1946-47 drive.

Another record was set when the average contribution climbed to $56.95. There were fewer contributors than there have been in previous years, however. The previous record in this respect was 1,202. This year there were 1,029 alumni who added their donations to the drive.

Despite the size of contributions, the College was able to devote only 2½% of the amount to current expenses, according to Harold B. Brumbaugh, alumni secretary. Much of the total was used to help finance the new physical education building. This structure cost $300,000.

The total contributions to the College for the 1950-51 fiscal year were $100,854.88 of which the Alumni Fund was a major part, the financial report revealed.

MAKE MINE MUSIC

4 Juniatians On Singing Tour

by Louise Gehman

Two of Juniata's present students, Ben Newcomer and Bob Landes, and a pair of 1951 graduates, Whitey Schaffner and Gerry Hartzel, made a personal appearance tour to California this summer.

Starting on June 13, in a trailor borrowed from a friend of Landes, the trip lasted until July 3.

Almost Missed One

During the tour they sang in Hutchinson, Kansas, where they arrived a half an hour late due to floods; Denver, Colorado; and Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Arriving in San Jose, California, just in time for the annual conference of the Church of the Brethren, the quartet was immediately scheduled to appear at several of the main sessions.

Audience of 1000

On the way back they stopped for the night in a redwood forest thirty miles from San Jose. When the word was spread that they were the "famed" Juniata College quartet, they sang in the camp's large outdoor amphitheater before nearly 1000 people.

The final appearance of the quartet on the tour was in Twin Falls, Idaho.

Naturally, they did as much sight-seeing as possible. Included in their itinerary were Pike's peak, the Grand Canyon, the Painted Desert, and Yellowstone Park.

Whitey Meets Bear

While visiting the park they had an interesting experience with a bear who, trying to be friendly, stuck his nose through the car window, whereupon Whitey shouted, "They smell us," and dived under the seat. The cub, thoroughly unnerved by Whitey's behavior, lumbered meekly away.

The boys also managed to fit in two baseball games. They attended the contest between the Cardinals and the Phillies in St. Louis on the way out, while going to see the Browns play the White Sox on the return trip.

Three New Scholarship Funds Created To Aid Students Here

Three new scholarship funds have been created to aid outstanding Juniata students. Among these is a memorial fund honoring the late Dr. Charles C. Ellis, who served the College from 1894 until his death last year.

Over $13,000 has been contributed to this fund, from which awards will be given students "who have demonstrated unusual competence in scholarship and good citizenship."

The other two funds are the Robert E. Miller scholarship and the John T. Ryan Memorial scholarship.

The Miller fund will pay for the educations of students preparing for the ministry or for missionary work will have first preferance.

The remaining fund was established by John T. Ryan, Jr. in honor of his father, a co-founder of the Mine Safety Appliance Company. This scholarship will aid students from Huntingdon and Blair Counties, with preference given to those from the Broad Top area.

Top Waitress Named

Joanne Pentz has been named to the position of head waitress in the College dining hall. A junior elementary education student, she replaces Ginny Tyson who was married on Sept. 2 to Holmes Ulsh, a 1950 graduate.

Helen Stutzman, a sophomore, is the assistant head waitress.

543 At Juniata Now

Registrar A. William Engel, Jr. estimates that the number of students now enrolled at Juniata totals 543.

Of the 168 new registrants, 149 are freshmen while the remaining 14 are transfer students.

Work on the roster will begin Monday and should be completed shortly.

17 On Spring Dean's List

Seventeen students were named to the Dean's List last semester. Heading the group were senior Gerald Hartzel and Douglas Martin, a junior, each on the list for the fifth time. Both had a straight A average.

A 2.75 quality point average is required of any student to be included on the honor list. Nine of the 17 named had a 3.00 average, obtained by attaining A grades in all courses.

Ten men and seven women were included in the group. They are:

Marjorie Alleman, Sylvia Barnes, George Blechschmidt, Richard Creps, James Giordano, Gerald Hartzel, Lorena Hebrank, Naomi Kulp, Douglas Martin, Lois Miller, Howard Montgomery, Wilfred Norris, Carol Shoemaker, Vernon Showalter, Lois Wagner, Jack Walter and Roger Wiley.

Richard Creps, '53, and Phyllis Riley, Williamsburg, Pa., became engaged "at 11:17 p. m. the night of August 11" at his home in Sparrow's Point, Md.

The engagement of Mary Lou Wagner, formerly a nurse here, and Bob Frain, '53, was announced August 12. She is now nursing at Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia. Frain is a biology major at Juniata.

Local Murphy Store Planning Open House

(Scene: a dark alley. Figure of man comes slouching from corner, sidles up to unsuspecting Juniata freshman, and whispers in his ear.)

"Big bargain, bub. Ticket to the big affair down at Murphies 5 and 10 tomorrow? They're so scarce, you won't find another one around. Better grab it now."

(Frosh forks over wad of currency. Walks away smiling happily.)

Don't let this happen to you!

According to official word the Juniatian has received from the Murphy store, the Open House there this evening will be absolutely free. No tickets are necessary.

Designed to introduce the College crowd to the Huntingdon department store, this year's Open House will feature a treasure hunt with valuable prizes, dancing in the aisles and Ray Siren as master of ceremonies. Siren is a senior here.

"Surprise" prizes and door prizes are also on the give-away schedule.

The big evening begins promptly at 7 p. m. tonight and will end about an hour and a half later, so studies won't be interfered with.

All Juniata students are invited to attend.

Dean, Two Instructors Join Faculty This Fall

Additions to the College faculty include a new Dean of Women, an instructor of classical languages and an instructor of psychology.

Miss Anna Benjamin

Dr. David Warriner

Miss Jane McCormick has been named Acting Dean of Women for the coming year. A graduate of Pennsylvania State College, she joined the faculty at Juniata in Sept., 1949, as instructor in physical education, and will retain that position in addition to her new duties.

McCormick Succeeds Spencer

Miss McCormick is replacing Miss Edith Spencer, who has been granted a one year leave of absence. On Oct. 1, Miss Spencer will begin work as an Instructor of Occupational Therapy at the Pilgrim State Hospital, West Brentwood, N. Y.

Other additions to the faculty are Miss Anna Benjamin of Philadelphia, and Dr. David Warriner, Jr. of New Orleans.

Miss Benjamin, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, was awarded a Thomas Day Seymour fellowship in Greek literature and history. This enabled her to attend the American School of Classical Studies in Athens, Greece. She remained there another year when she received a Fulbright Grant. Miss Benjamin has been named instructor in classical languages here and will teach courses in Greek and Latin.

Doctor Joins Staff

Dr. Warriner received a bachelor of science degree in chemistry from Tulane University. Then, after changing his major field to psychology, he completed his graduate study at Cornell University. He has served as graduate assistant at Harvard, Cornell and the University of Colorado, and was assistant professor of chemistry at Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

Both Miss Benjamin and Dr. Warriner are members of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's highest academic honor society.

Lt. Ralph D. Harrity, '47, has been injured in Korea and has been forced to leave the front lines. Harrity was one of Mike Snider's better track men and it was he who established the cross country record broken by Joe Beyer a few years ago.

Golfers In NCAA Tourney

Two Indian par busters, Art Allen and Ray Korody, took part in the NCAA golf tourney at Ohio State this summer. It was the first time anyone from Juniata ever participated in the event.

Allen lost out in the qualifying round by two strokes, while Korody got two matches of play in before he was beaten.

Records

An undefeated record goes on the line this year when the Indians take on the Golden 'Gators of Allegheny at Meadville October 13. In the two year series between the schools Juniata has come out on top both times.

And More Records

Another record, but this time in reverse, comes with the Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley. In an 18 game series, the best the Tribe can show is one win and one tie. Time for a change.

Intramurals To Varsity

Juniata now has a line coach working with Bill Smaltz, head football mentor. He is William Scott, four-sport star at Juniata. Scott is also on the faculty of Huntingdon High School.

Advice To Linemen

Have any of you intramural athletes ever considered trying out for varsity posts? We're asking this because the coaches think that there are more than a few of you who might be able to win varsity "J"'s.

Why not give the varsity first crack at your abilities? Then, if it's too tough, get into the intramurals.

Pheasant Or Crow

Throwing good judgement out the window this writer is going to give a whirl to football predictions on Indian games this year.

This first week I'm going to call the turn for Westminster to top the Indians. Westminster's team is the best they have had in long time while the Indians are a little shallow and inexperienced.

'Indians Lack Experience This Year'—Smaltz

Westminster Team Best In 33 Years

ACE WINGBACK of last year's team Phil Chabody is assisting Bill Smaltz with the back field corps of the latest edition of our football Indians. Chabody had one of his best seasons last year and topped it with a great game at Grove City.

17 Lettermen Among 28 Returning Players

Westminster College will come to College Field this Saturday with what the Westminster coaching staff considers the best Titan football team in the last 33 years.

Returning from last year's team which won two games and tied one out of nine starts are 17 lettermen and 11 men who saw action but not enough to gain monograms. Added to this list are 11 freshmen candidates.

Two Letter Winners Missing

Only two letter winners are missing from last year's team which means that coach Mel Hetzler can field a starting line up with lettermen in every position.

Running Hetzler's T formation from quarterback is Dick Banick. Banick is a 175 pound junior who won his letter last season. Backing up Banick in a reserve spot is Bob Sistek.

Sistek, a sophomore, lettered last year and played defensive safety in addition to kicking the points after touchdown. He made good on nine out of 14.

High Scoring Fullback

The fullback spot is handled by Paul Campbell. Campbell is 5-10 and weighs 165 pounds and was one of the team's top scorers last year.

Running from the halfback slots are Carl Mantz, Tom McGrath and Larry Verone. Mantz and McGrath are both sophomore letter holders while Verone has won letters in his first two years out.

Hetzler has three veteran ends to chose from. Vic Bianchi is the team's best pass receiver and has won three football letters. He is six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds.

Six Foot End

The other terminal will be manned by Chuck Nicholas or Jack Welty. Nicholas is six feet tall and weighs 175 while Welty is a 190 pound 5-10 senior.

Weight in the center of the line is supplied by Roy Eckstrom, Walt Cleary, Jack Ramsey, James James and Ralph Veights. All these men top the 190 pound mark with Eckstrom going 240 and Cleary 220.

Eckstrom, Cleary, James and Ramsey are tackles while Veights is a guard. All are sophomores except Ramsey who is starting his last season.

Veteran Guards Available

Other veteran guards include Pat Riazzi and Ted Lorence. Riazzi, a sophomore, is 5-10 and weighs 185 pounds. Lorence is a junior with two years of experience under his belt.

To complete the lettermen line up, Hetzler will call on Jim Bowser at center. Bowser is a 185 pound sophomore who stands six feet tall.

The Titan line up will average 183 pounds to the man with the backfield averaging 171 pounds and the line 190.

In their opening game of the season last Saturday the Titans lost to Slippery Rock 19-13.

TRIPLE THREAT backfield mainstay from Ambridge is Lundy Loschiavo. This is Loschiavo's third year with the team and he is all set to lead the Indian attack from the tailback slot in Bill Smaltz' single wing offense.

Physical Education Building Dedicated On Homecoming Day

As a part of the Homecoming Festivities on Saturday, Nov. 3, the new Physical Education Building will be dedicated with formal ceremonies.

However, the locker and equipment rooms are to be put into use for the first football game of the season this Saturday.

Individuals May Work Out

In addition to its use for the intercollegiate and intramural athletic program and the physical education courses, the gym will house facilities for individuals to work out and get their exercise by themselves or as a team.

"The physical education classes won't get into the gym much before the middle of November as they will be doing their work outside until the cold weather moves in", says Mike Snider, director of athletics.

Gymnastics On Program

Mr. Snider plans a larger program of indoor sports this year including the teaching of basketball and volleyball along with gymnastics and tumbling.

He is also willing to conduct a class in officiating but believes that it should be apart from the regular physical education program.

Included in the equipment that will go into the gym are wrestling mats, rowing machines, punching bags, chest weights and parallel bars. New equipment will be added as funds for their purchase become available.

4 Handball Courts

In addition to the main basketball playing area there are two handball rooms on the lower level and two handball courts on the mezzanine floor. Also on the mezzanine floor will be facilities for tennis, badminton, volleyball, and paddleball.

The basketball courts have been marked out on the mezzanine but the baskets have yet to be hung.

Indoor Track Practice

Upon the completion of the basketball season the trackmen may make use of the indoor track, measuring 11 laps to the mile.

"This new building will not be used for social functions on so large a scale as was the old gym. Perhaps only three social functions will be held in it; the Homecoming Dance, the Faculty Reception and the annual hospital Charity Ball." These are the words used by Mr. Snider concerning the use of the gym for social purposes.

Nothing is definite concerning the use of the gymnasium for social purposes however.

Hockey And Dancing Headline Expanded Girls' Sports Program

"We will have an expanded program this year, but we will go ahead slowly." With these words, Dean Jane McCormick, faculty advisor to the WAA, told of the general plans for the coming year.

The first meeting of the WAA will be held October 4. Plans will be discussed concerning the Field Day that is in the tentative stage at the present time.

Hockey Played First

First on the sport schedule is field hockey. This sport is conducted on an interclass basis. Play will begin after a week of practice.

The climax of the season is the game on Homecoming between the sophomore and freshman women to help decide whether or not dinks are to be worn for an additional week.

Other sports on the docket for fall include archery and tennis, weather and other conditions permitting.

Individual Sports and Dancing

"More individual sports will be had as a result of our getting the Women's Gymnasium," said Dean McCormick. "There will be a big basketball program and an expanded dance program.

"The dance program includes folk dancing and the more modern types of dancing," she added.

In connection with the basketball season, another officials class will be conducted. The girls will take part in it to earn points toward their WAA awards.

Siren Named Editor Of 1951 Indian

The 1951 edition of the Indian, the J Club football program, will be edited by Ray Siren. This announcement came from J Club president Bob Frain.

Frain will act as business manager for the program while John Cook is the sales manager.

Injuries Keeping Team From Full Strength

by Bob Asan

"We're a lot shorter in experience this year than last but if our injured players get into shape we could field a starting team of lettermen."

That is the way Bill Smaltz describes his latest edition of the Juniata Indian football squad.

"The team is real shallow this season. If we get any injuries, we'll be without experienced reserves to put into the game," concluded Smaltz.

15 Lettermen

There are 15 lettermen on the 38 man squad but half of them earned their letters on the defensive platoon. Nineteen of the squad are freshmen.

At the present, injuries have kept several key men on the shelf. On the injured list are Frank Ollweiler at tackle and Harry Martin, Don Ostrowski and Tony Segalovich at end.

Wingbacks Injured

Wingbacks Fred Hamor and Ed Gould are also on the injured list.

The squad isn't big enough to permit the two platoon system to be used so many of the men will see both offensive and defensive action.

A possible starting line up might show Bob Wagoner or Ostrowski, if his legs improves, and Segalovich at the ends. If Segalovich's hip isn't in shape Paul Kruzlock will take over.

Experienced Tackles

Three experienced tackles are available in Burt Hackett, Chuck Knox and Joe Thomasberger.

Bill Waryck and Bob Muchoney are in as offensive guards. Earl Edwards, Al Kuhni, Myron Sevich and Bill Rutter will be used to spell off Waryck and Muchoney.

Starting offensive center is a toss up between Ron Clapper and Dave LeFevre. Both will be used defensively and will be alternated on offense.

Running from the wingback slot if they get in shape will be Hamor or Gould. Francis Wampler will step in if they aren't ready to go.

Blocking Back Slot Thin

At the blocking back position is Dick Young, a three year veteran. Behind him is no one with experience. Smaltz has been experimenting with Waryck, a guard, and Tom McNeal, a fullback, as blocking backs.

McNeal, however, is the only experienced fullback on the team and will see most of his action from that spot.

Lundy Loschiavo and Don Patricelli are a close one two for the tailback job with Loschiavo having the inside track as he was used more on offense than Patricelli last season.

That it's a good team but shallow and inexperienced is the way Smaltz analyzes it.

IM Sports Delayed 'Til After Election

There will be a delay in the organizing of the intramural football league this fall due to the fact that a new Chairman of Athletics will have to be elected.

Plans will be made soon after the election to get the league under way.

JC Program Starts Oct. 4

Bill Germann, '50, has been appointed manager of Huntingdon's radio station WHUN.

The new manager states that the station's policy toward JC will be only slightly changed, and that "for the better."

Bob Champion and Margie Alleman, co-chairmen of the radio committee have announced that Juniata-On-The-Air will be broadcast over WHUN every other Thursday night from 8 to 8:30. A talent show on Oct. 4 will begin the series of programs.

Turntable Terrace has been discontinued for the time being due to the broadcasts of football games.

Members of the Radio Committee are Peggy Barrington, Gene Felix, and Ruth March plus three more who will be announced later. Anyone interested may contact the chairmen.

Germann has been a full-time announcer for three years but got his start in radio work while he was still at College Hill.

Clubs Now Planning Full Activities

"The Masque," declares Miss Doyle, club advisor, "is not a closed group, reserved only for natural-born actors."

This year the Masque intends to prove this by providing a greater variety of programs of interest to the student body. These plans include several workshops; entirely student productions, these give everyone a chance to be director, actor or technician.

Also on the year's agenda are two Juniata graduates—Bill Fegan, '49, and George Parsons, '50—from the Neff Mills Players. They will produce a short play for the Masque at a meeting open to all students. In addition there is scheduled a demonstration of new plastic makeup techniques and an evening of excerpts from famous plays.

Masque president Phyl Link sums the club's aims up by saying, "anyone who can drive a nail, paint a board or put on lipstick will find work and fun in the Masque."

Work To Be Done On Cabin

Several major items of construction must be completed before the College cabin can be used this year, according to members of the Outing Club. This group, original sponsors of the cabin, is maintaining the building, with the help of the student body.

Among the needed construction is outdoor plumbing, a bricked-up water supply and the completion of the fireplace. Before mixed outings may be planned, either a partition must be erected across the single room of the cabin or a spearate "rough shack" for the men must be built nearby.

Sigma Gamma To Meet Tue.

The Sigma Gamma will hold a meeting Tuesday Oct. 2 in Room C at 7 p. m. All prospective members are urged to attend.

Miss Evans Sees Sea

Librarian Takes Bermuda Tour

by Jo Pollack

Only three hours after being told to take an ocean trip for her health, Miss Lillian Evans left on the "Ocean Monarch" for Bermuda. When her doctor told her to take a trip at 11 one morning, Miss Evans called a friend and was told to catch the one p. m. train for New York. She arrived in New York and took the liner at five.

If you are of a romantic nature (and what JC student isn't), you'll be interested in her trip to Bermuda. The first thing to strike her eye was the beautiful coral formations. Her nose, however, had a different story to tell. It immediately told her why Bermuda's perfumes are so famous.

Speaking of things Bermuda is famous for, she couldn't forget the gorgeous flowers, fish and birds. You may like to know that the English type of car is used exclusively, and they drive on the left side of the street.

Golf courses are one of the leading attractions for sportsmen. Of course, there is always shopping for the ladies. Miss Evans was no exception; she had a hard time deciding between all the beautiful linens, perfumes and hand-woven articles.

The rest of her Summer was spent here on campus during Summer school with a few brief days squeezed in in Philadelphia. While there she visited the Library of the Pennsylvania Hospital which is celebrating its 200th anniversary this year. Benjamin Franklin was one of the founders of the hospital.

Miss Truxal will take the role of Marietta, an Italian singer, while Johnson will appear as Captain Dick, the American Frontiersman.

Truxal Shares Lead

Miss Truxal, a sophomore concentrating in music education, sang the leading role in last year's musical "The Firefly". She was a member of the A Cappella Choir, JCA, Masque and the French Club. In Greensburg High School, she appeared in three operettas, singing the lead in her senior year.

Johnson, also concentrating in music, teamed up with Miss Truxal last year in the "Firefly." A senior, he also appeared in "Sweethearts" and "Pirates of Penzance." A member of the A Cappella Choir for four years, he is now the president and also sings in the Varsity Quartet.

Supporting Cast Named

The supporting cast includes: Helen Rosengren as Lizette, Betty Shearer as Adah; Ray Siren as Etienne Grandet; Clem Rosenberger as Silas Slick; and Rolland Taylor as the Lt. Governor.

Other small speaking roles will be assigned later.

Prompters, Carol Lowdermilk, Lila Englehart, Sue Jamison. Program; Jim Streiner, editor; John Long, Art Shriver, Paul Good.

Pfitzinger New College Postmaster

One of the people whom most students here meet everyday is Jim Pfitzinger, College postmaster. A sophomore, he hails from Springfield, N. J. and is concentrating in business administration.

A chief task of his is sorting mail. This is done daily at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Another job is selling stamps for a half hour after each meal, with the exception of Saturday nights.

The post office is open from 10 to 10:30 p. m. Monday through Saturday, and from 6:30 to 7 p. m. every evening but Saturday.

Postmaster Pfitzinger has one assistant at the moment. He is Fran Zimmerman, of Annville, Pa. Zimmerman is concentrating in math and physics.

Scotch Party Planned For Tomorrow Eve.

A "Scotch" party sponsored by the Social Committee is on the agenda for Saturdy night from 8:15 until 11 in the Girls' Gymnasium.

Everything at the party will be typically Scotch. There will be two to one chair, only one half a glass of punch, and half of a cookie. Decoration will be in Scotch plaid. Those who attend the party should have some type of plaid in their attire so that the doormen will readily admit them.

Nightclub Style For Gym

The gym will be arranged in nightclub style with one side of it occupied by chairs and tables. However, there will be plenty of room for dancing to selected records. Besides dancing, there will be a program the nature of which cannot yet be revealed.

Host and hostess for the evening are Frank Harlacher and Joyce Bernard.

In entering the gym on Saturday night students should use the left door so the new coat-checking system may operate. This means that your coats will be hung in the exercise room at the back of the gym.

The hayride originally planned for tomorrow evening had to be delayed until some future date, says Senate chairman of social activities Betty Longwell. High insurance costs and a Penn State hayride accident last Friday make the local farmers reluctant to provide tractors and wagons.

Grad. Record Exam Set For Oct. 26, 27

The first administration of the Graduate Record Examination for 1951-52 has been set for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26 and 27.

Applications for this examination must be received by the Princeton Office not later than Oct. 12.

Blanks and copies of the bulletin of information are now available in the office of Dean Mays.

Students interested are advised that the nearest center of examination is State College.

Bolet Begins Community Concert Season Wed.

Jorge Bolet, internationally known pianist, will play at the season's first Community Concert, to be held in Oller Hall next Wednesday evening at 8:15.

A native of Cuba, Bolet was a scholarship student at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. After completing his training there he toured Europe for two season and, after his return to the United States, he was awarded the Naumberg and Josef Hofmann Awards. The first of these honors carries as its prize an appearance at the Town Hall in New York.

Has Been Orchestral Soloist

Bolet's musical experience has included numerous appearances as an orchestral soloist with many of this country's symphonies. He has appeared with the National Symphony of Washington; the New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Tulsa symphonies; the Chautauqua Symphony and the Boston Symphony at Tanglewood.

He has toured Mexico, Central and South America, Europe, Canada, and the United States during his professional career.

Presents "Mikado" in Japan

Among his other achievements, Bolet holds the distinction of being the first person ever to conduct a performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" on Japanese shores. He accomplished this while serving with the American occupation forces in that country.

Selections which Bolet will play at the concert include "Andante in F major," Beethoven; "Intermezzo in C major" and "Rhapsody in E flat major," Brahms; seven preludes and "Ballade in A flat major", Chopin; Prelude, Choral and Fugue, Franck; Liebesleid, Kreisler-Rachmaninoff and "Schwanda" Fantasy by Chasins.

JC Musical Talent on Air

Returning to the air Thursday over station WHUN was our own "Juniata on the Air." A talent show was featured with performances by Joy Truxal, Johnny Johnson, Ray McHenry and Helen Rosengren.

Miss Truxal sang "Gianina Mia" by Rudolph Friml from the operetta "Firefly." Johnson chose "It's a Grand Night for Singing" from "State Fair" for his solo, and McHenry played two selections on the trombone.

The duets "You Are Love" from "Show Boat" by Jerome Kern and "Sweethearts" from the operetta of the same name by Victor Herbert were sung by the team of Truxal and Johnson. Helen Rosengren was the accompanist.

A series of programs will be presented every two weeks in the future under the direction of Margie Alleman and Bob Champion.

Senate Will Meet Monday

The regular meeting of the Senate will be held Monday at 8:15 p. m. in the Day Students Room.

Reports will be made by Jack Dickey on the Concessions Committee and by Phil Norris on the Honor System Committee.

New business will consist of the possibility of transferring Kat Club money to the cheerleaders, the appointment of committees to investigate flaws in the Constitution, a discussion of the advisability of a Senate luncheon on Homecoming Day, and a discussion on the means of limiting congestion at the girls' entrance to the dining hall.

The meeting will conclude with a discussion on the appointment of dining hall announcers.

The photo-essay, "People of India," now on display in the Pennsylvania Room of the Library, will remain here until tomorrow. Prepared by a Life Magazine photographer, the display deals with the various peoples involved in the "Indian Problem."

New Late Permission Policy Announced

A new policy of lates for women resident students has been announced by the Women's House Committee.

During exam weeks, all girls will be allowed 11 o'clock lates. Senior girls, during the second semester, will have unlimited 11:30's.

Sophomore and junior girls can accumulate their lates, although no more than two a week will be allowed.

Girls, leaving the campus for weekends, are not requested to be in the dorms by 10 p. m. Sunday, although they must give their expected time of return.

TRAVELLING FACULTY

Dean McCormick Visits Continent

by MARY ANNE BAILEY

On the 22nd of June, after many days of planning, Jane McCormick, dean of women, and three of her friends boarded the "Empress of France" in Montreal and sailed for Europe. After five days of smooth sailing they landed in Liverpool, England. From Liverpool they went to Edinburgh, Scotland.

The quartet went next to London and across the English Channel to Amsterdam, Holland.

Party Visits Cologne

From Holland Miss McCormick and party traveled to Cologne, Germany, which was 96% destroyed in the last war. They visited the beautiful Cologne Cathedral and climbed 501 steps to the highest tower. No complaints from the girls on the fourth floor!

Heidelburg was Miss McCormick's favorite spot on the whole trip. She commented that it was just like a small piece of Switzerland set down in the middle of Germany, untouched by World War II.

Attend Scout Dinner

The next stop was a Swiss Girl Scout Chalet where Miss McCormick and company attended a dinner for scouts from sixteen different countries. Fortunately the language spoken was English.

Miss McCormick stated about the trip back through the Alps, "They weren't hair pin curves, they were bobby pin curves."

Dean Jane McCormick
● Traveller in Europe ●

After the cold of the Alps they were glad to get to the comparative warmth of Luzerne where they swam in the famous lake.

Fog Mars Jungfrau

They went to see the Jungfrau, supposedly the most beautiful Alpine mountain. Unfortunately the fog impaired the view.

Next came a three week tour of Italy. Here was Miss McCormick's second favorite spot, Venice. There was a gondolier strike reruling from the fact that the motor boats were going too fast on the canals and were splashing the gondolas, and because of this they waited two and a half hours to get to a hotel, since one cannot travel except by foot or boat in Venice.

Florence Visited

After seeing the art galleries of Florence and spending six days in Rome the foursome spent three days at Capri. They tore themselves away because time was growing short and traveled to Paris where they spent fifteen days and a lot of money.

After leaving Paris they crossed the English Channel and saw the White Cliffs of Dover. They also saw Winston Churchill standing on the bridge of their own ship. Back in London they saw the Festival of Britain, some plays, and a ballet. Then off again for Stratford-On-Avon.

Stone of Scone Gone

In London again they saw the Changing of the Guard, the tower of London, and Westminster Abbey, but no Stone of Scone. At the completion of the 63 day trip they boarded an airplane from Glasgow, Scotland, and within 12 hours were in New York, terminating a trip which will provide them with remembrances for many years to come.

FROM OUR NOTES

● ELECTIONS: With all due respect to the new Senate chairman of athletics, Bob Keim, we submit that the election Monday involved some injustice. We feel that (1) Paul Good, who was invited Thursday afternoon by the Senate to run on the ballot, was given too little time to campaign had he so desired and (2) it can hardly be considered a fair election with only two names on the ballot. The Senate Constitution requires that body to "nominate (additional) candidates . . . in case that no more than one petition is filed for a given office." The use of the plural on the word "candidates" would seem to indicate that the original authors of the Constitution believed in giving the voters a larger panel than two to choose from.

● NEED SOME HELP?: He calls it a Study Clinic, but no matter what the name it is still a good idea Bill Wright inaugurated Wednesday. The aim is this: Bill will meet with any and all students who have any problems connected with studies, the time and place being every day between 1:30 and 2:30 p. m. in I. Harvey Brumbaugh House. As the new assistant to the dean of students put it, "All we want to do is kick around their problems, whatever they are, in hopes of finding a solution. If necessary, we'll even adjourn to Skip's after 2:30 and talk it over until the fellow or girl is happy."

Protests JV's In I-M Games

To the Editor:

While most of the resolutions adopted at the Leaderhip Conference are worthwhile, there is one in particular which I think should be partially excluded. I am referring to (the one) which states, "resolved that JV basketball players be permitted to participate in intramural basketball."

To my understanding, the I-M program was designed to allow those not participating in intercollegiate athletics to have a chance to take part in the various sports. If this is so, the resolution is in direct opposition to the purpose of the I-M system.

Another point to be brought out is that JV players already have their own schedule, make trips and even have the benefit of coaching. To allow these players . . . in the I-M league would be to give them an unfair advantage over the other participants.

In addition to their regular practice games and their trips, if the JV's were to spend two nights or so a week in I-M activities would it not be possible that their studies might suffer?

Furthermore, there is a logical capacity to the number which may play I-M basketball. It is entirely possible and also probable that if JV players participated, some of those who otherwise would be able to would not receive the chance of playing to which they are entitled.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER

"By George, Ace, for the last two months I thought you'd swiped my copy of "Love Light"—an' all the time it's been up here with my text books."

War Declared By Movies Here

by Frank Harlacher

FLYING LEATHERNECKS—Here's a Technicolor story about the fly-boys of the Marine Corp in some war-torn action over the South Pacific. Realism is the keynote, for it is very evident to the viewer that RKO had adequate privileges in the Dept. of Defense film library. No trick photography could be responsible for some of the spine-chilling combat displayed.

John Wayne heads the cast as the heartless C. O. who is military down to his toenails. Second in command and in charge of the resentment crew is Robert Ryan.

The plot is strictly war adventure with just enough sentiment to warm and not mar the tale. It's the old story of a military group with minus enough equipment and a leader whose driving discipline pays off in the end. Grand Theatre.

FORCE OF ARMS—We switch now to the other side of the world but the mood is the same war. Here we see men fighting and dying in the mud and sand of San Pietro.

The story, however, has a deeper side in that it portrays a romantic angle. William Holden plays an army sergeant whose platoon has just been pulled from the front lines. Promoted to lieutenant, he meets a WAC of the same rank and a great love is born.

A new will to return makes him shirk duty. He thinks this is responsible for the death of his superior, and the rest of film deals with his attempts to overcome a guilt complex.

I think that the performances of Nancy Olson (WAC) and Holden will make you overlook the improbability of some of the romantic incidents. If the WAC lieutenant seems out of place remember that Warners is merely trying to duplicate the original story by Richard Trekaskis. Clifton Theatre.

. . . Away We Go

Just for laughs let's take a trip into the future and see what makes time tick. We can't lose anything except our heritage so . . . step into our year-o-passer machine so that we can see into those thrilling days of tomorrow.

Just a word on the technical operation of our machine. It's based on the principle that time passes as the earth rotates. Our year-o-passer has a cylidrical roter which anti-gravitates the sun's power which in turn frees the earth of its control and leaves centrifugal force to rotate the earth at a tremendous speed. This passes the years at a rate which is controled by our selector.

Where are we going you ask? Its up to you. What year would you like to visit? Don't be bashful, just step up and work the selector. Here's a fellow with a green hat moving toward our control panel. What will he pick? He's moving it, the number is . . . nineteen-fifty . . . five. Well "55", you must want to see yourself as a senior.

Hold your hats, here we go—wooop-e-doo. Here we are on the Juniata campus of 1955.

Lets take a tour and see what's new. Here's the new gym. Why, women are playing hockey on the new floor! But what's that monstrous building up on round top? It's a newer gym. I guess Mike got another idea.

What else is new? There are some girls in shorts. Escalators on Founder's steps and elevators to Fourth Brumbaugh are also additions.

And are those pinball machines on the dining hall steps? No, they are new pill-o-feeders invented by Miss Francis Mathias. Just put a nickle in and presto, lunch. All kinds of improvements.

Guess our space is up, so crawl in and do-e-woop, we're back.

INDIAN SCALPS

Time Will Tell

by Bob Asan

There's a saying that "Time will tell." It sure told a lot in the second half of Saturday's game with Westminster.

The first half was as good a brand of football as could be seen anywhere.

Then the second half roof caved in. Lack of depth sure hurt the Tribe. Westminster had the reserves to spell their regulars and that made no little difference.

The fact that the Indian pass defense was shot by the loss of Eddie Gould, Fred Hamor and Paul Hepak didn't help either. Once these men were out the passes began to fly, and connect.

There's just one comment we'd like to make now and it is, "Start all over again and BEAT SWARTHMORE."

Congrats In Order

We'd like to take this opportunity to congratulate Bob Keim on his election as Chairman of Athletics. This will give him the chance to make up for his shortened first term, shortened due to the call of an uncle named Sam.

Good luck, Bob, and may all your plans work out.

Laborin' Lundy

They say that the tailback makes any single wing team go. Figures from Saturday's game sure bear this out.

Lundy Loschiavo, Indian tailback, carried the ball 28 times out of 46 running plays and picked up 105 yards, second only to Larry Verone, who racked up 107 for the Titans.

Lundy also completed nine passes out of 20 attempts for 97 yards.

Tasty Bird, Pheasant

Maybe it was luck last week in calling the turn on the Indian-Titan game and then maybe it wasn't. Anyhow, we're gonna try again this week. The cracked crystal ball says Juniata will top Swarthmore's "Little Quakers" in a real close game.

The score might be 26-20.

Alphabetical Offense

Latest in the way of offensive formations is the Notre Dame "T". The Fighting Irish used it three time against Indiana and on the first try it went for a 40 yard pass completion.

In the "I" the backfield men line up directly behind each other.

The Mighty Have Fallen

LV, 25-6 conquerors of F & M two weeks ago, got dumped by Indiantown Gap last Saturday. The score was 12-7 for the Soldiers.

Allegheny College, whom the Indians meet next week, opened their season with a 10-6 defeat at the hands of Rochester last Saturday. Two safeties cost them the game.

To Whom It May Concern

Wanted: Three, two if there aren't three available, bowlers who own averages of about 130 or 135. If you're interested in bowling on one of the teams in the Intramural League get in touch with this writer.

If you don't have the aforementioned average but like to bowl come around anyhow.

Indians Travel To Take On Swarthmore Sat.

CO-CAPTAINS—Joe Thomasberger and Dick Young have been elected as co-captains of the 1951 Juniata football team. At a meeting preceeding the Westminster game, the pair were unanimously chosen by the squad to lead them this season.

Thomasberger, a Johnstown, Pa. senior, is playing his fourth year of varsity ball for the Blue and Gold. Holding down a tackle position, he is counted on to strengthen the Indians forward wall.

Young is also playing his fourth year on the varsity. He started out as a center but has since been changed to the blocking back slot from which he calls the plays for the Juniata offense.

Both these men have earned three varsity letters for the Indians.

Rival School's Little Quakers Have Depth; Indian Injuries Won't Hamper Squad

Juniata's once beaten Indians will help the "Little Quakers" of Swarthmore College open their 1951 football season at Swarthmore tomorrow.

Fourteen lettermen will be back from the team that won only one game last year, while losing six. Other returning players will give the "Garnet" depth that they did not have last year.

215 Pound Center

Heading the returning veterans is captain Bob Asplundh. The front line is built around this 215 pound center. Flanking Asplundh at guard are Bob Howell and Bill Fitts.

Both these men are the lightweights of a line that averages 190 pounds. Howell tips the scales at 160 pounds while Fitts is 170.

Tom Simkin and Dick Kohls, two freshmen, have made the line up at tackle. Simkin is a 6-1 200 pounder, while Kohls drapes 195 pounds on a six foot frame.

6 Foot Ends

Both ends are handled by men who reach into the sky better than six feet. Dick DeCharms, 6-2 180 pounds, operates from one and position, while Bunky Blake mans the other. Blake stands 6-3 and weights 210 pounds.

Coach Lew Elverson's offense is the straight single wing.

164 Pound Backfield

The backfield averages 164 pounds when Dana Swan is in. Swan goes 170 pounds and won his letter as a freshman last year.

Dave Hansen's 190 pounds brings the average up to 168 pounds when he is operating. Hansen is a senior.

Others in the backfield include Frank Oski at quarterback., Oski tips the beam at 170. Nick Cusano, 155 pound scat back, operates one half back slot, while the other is manned by John Miller.

Injured Ready For "Garnet"

The Indians suffered several injuries in the Westminster game, but most of the men are expected to be in shape for the "Garnet". Lundy Loschiavo is nursing a charley horse but is expected to take over at tailback Saturday.

Dino Patricelli and Paul Hepak, the remaining tailbacks, won't see much action, if any at all. Patricelli is definitely out, while Hepak may play if his ankle comes around.

Eddie Gould and Joe Thomasberger also will get in their share of action but it is doubtful if they will play the whole game.

Keim Re-elected As Chairman Of Athletics

Trained officials is the primary goal of the recently re-elected Chairman of Athletics Bob Keim. This plan is going to be worked out in conjunction with P. M. "Mike" Snider who plans to offer a course in officiating.

Other sections of his program include: state exams qualifying officials of refereeing positions, continuance of the commission plan of league organization and as many sports as there are facilities and interest.

Construction of Football Field

Chairman Keim will petition the Senate for a reconditioning of the Sherwood football field and construction of a new one across the creek.

Also on the 1951-52 intramural sports schedule is the placement of ping pong tables in the Women's Physical Education Building for general and tournament use.

Football Begins Today

Intramural football begins today when the M. A.'s meet the Vikings, Lodge Monks play the Bears, and the 1950 champion Trojans take on the Whiz Kids.

At a managers' meeting this week Herbert Law, Nick Rocco and Fran Zimmerman were elected as commissioners of the league.

Westminster Beats Tribe In Opening Grid Contest

by Ted McGwire

The Westminster Titans helped the Indians open their football campaign by soundly trouncing the Tribe 38-13 at College Field last Saturday in perfect football weather.

Juniata scored first to take a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. After "Bear" Waryck intercepted a Titan pass, the passing combination of Lundy Loschiavo to Ed Gould took over.

Four successive passes were the high point of a 66 yard drive to the five. Loschiavo then cracked over tackle for the TD. Ken Mummah kicked the extra point.

Loschiavo Passes For TD

In the second quarter, Gould intercepted a pass and rambled 44 yards to the nine. From there, Loschiavo uncorked a pass to Dick Young in the end zone to give the Indians a 13 point lead.

Juniata moved forcibly once again but were stopped on Westminster's 13. At this point the Titans took complete control.

Westminster took possession on the 22 and after a double reverse, Carl Mantz was well on his way to the longest run of the day, a 78 yard touchdown sprint.

Titans Tie Score

With two minutes left in the half, Dick Banick, Titan quarterback, passed to Bob Sistek who took the ball on the 21 and scored the second Westminster TD, the play covering 52 yards.

The point was kicked to make the half time score 13-13.

The second half was all Westminster as they registered four more touchdowns. With the Indian pass defense crippled due to injuries, Banick tried the air lanes.

He broke the tie with an 11 yard flip to climax a 69 drive.

Double Reverse Scores Again

A one yard plunge by co-captain Paul Campbell gave the Titan's their fourth TD. The double reverse was pulled again for the next Blue and White score. Larry Verone carried this time and went 76 yards to pay dirt.

The successful placement made the score 32-13.

A pass, Banick to Jack Welty, went for eight yards and the final Westminster tally, making the final score 38-13.

Basketball Starts Mon., Says Greene

"Practice for the 1951 basketball season will open Monday," says Coach Doc Greene. "Practices will be held in the new Memorial Physical Education Building if possible.

"If it isn't ready they will be in the women's gym. And if we can't get into the women's gym, we'll practice outside as practice will definitely begin Monday," concluded Greene.

New American Likes Juniata's Freshman Rules

by Ruth Reid

A new student on the Juniata campus this year is Lina Galusko. A native of Yugoslavia, Lina has been a resident of the United States for two years—first in Maryland, later in New Jersey.

Lina moved from Yugoslavia to Austria in 1944 when she was 12 years old. Before this she had attended Russian elementary schools for four years. Her education included another four years of high school in Austria.

Europe School Different

Schools in Europe are somewhat different from those in America, Lina revealed. In high school 13 subjects are prescribed, and there is no element of choice on the part of the student. School is in session for six days a week, only Sunday being a holiday.

In the schools she attended coeducation was not practiced, the girls had to go without makeup, and boyfriends were not permitted.

High School In 2 Years

Lina decided to return to high school upon her arrival in this country. She spent only six weeks in the freshman class and the rest of the year as a sophomore. The second year, she was a junior for one day and a senior for the remainder of the year.

She found the United States strange at first, and the language difficult to learn and understand. Now, however, she is able to read, write and speak four languages. She spoke German with her mother in the home, Yugoslavian with the children with whom she played and Russian in school.

When Lina went to the College dining room to learn her duties as a waitress, she asked Anastasia Shchirow about the regulations. They discovered that they were both from Yugoslavia and, after talking for almost a whole day, Anastasia showed Lina some pictures. On one of the photos they saw themselves standing side by side!

Had Met In 1942

It so happened that, in 1942, they had met in a small Yugoslavian town, had played together, and thrown snowballs at each other. They hadn't heard of each other since, and now they find themselves together at Juniata.

Says Lina, "I haven't had time to get homesick since I came to Juniata. The freshmen regulations are fun—there is nothing like that in the European schools I attended." She thinks that the nametags look silly, but she feels lost on Sundays when she is allowed to relax the rules.

On Other Campuses

by D. D. Silldorff

And our frosh think they have a rought time! From the Bucknellian of Bucknell University, we discover that any poor unfortunate freshman who may be so foolish as to cross the senior path joins his other wayward buddies in scrubbing all traces of their contaminating presence from the hallowed ground. Fiendish thought number 999: does our diagonal look dirty to you?

When the newly elected president of Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla. went on an economizing spree, he went at it with a vengeance. He dropped intercollegiate football, turned off the air conditioning unit, put stew on the menu and worked out a plan to cut the faculty by 30 per cent.

Since this meant that 23 out of 75 teachers would have to go, and by means of a seniority system some of the top men would depart, students began to get a bit hot under the collar. Nothing being done, they got hotter, declared a walk-out and the net result was the rapid dismissal of one overenthusiastic college president.

18 Capture Prizes At Murphy Party

Eighteen JC students took home prizes from the G. C. Murphy Open House Party last week.

Winning cash awards were John Long, $15; Bill Wright, $10; Jo Pentz, $5; and Ed Feldkircher, $5.

Fountain pens were handed out to Carl Rutherford, Ben Newcomer, Richard Hollinger, Leslie Friedline, Connie Sherman, Jane Abel, Pat Henry, Bob Folk, Bob Champion, Gary Swenson, Dot Gingrich, Mary Lou McKee, Mary Lou Neikirk and Sarah Keller. Miss Keller won two pens.

Frosh To Entertain Selves

A ten minute period of entertainment provided by the group will close each regular Monday meeting of the freshmen, it was decided Monday. Steve Musto and ten girls from First Brumbaugh were first to try out the idea when they presented a song session. Dr. Harold Binkley and William Engel, Jr. also spoke at the Monlay get-together.

Johnson To Give Recital

Prof. Donald S. Johnson will give his eighth annual vesper organ recital this Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in Oller Hall. Assisting him will be his wife, Margaret Grim Johnson, who will sing a group of songs.

Included in Prof. Johnson's program are "Rigaudon", Campra; "Adagio", Purcell; "The Fifers", d'Andrieu; and "Toccata and Fugue in D minor", Bach.

"Imagery in Tableaux", Edmundson; "Magic Harp", Meale; "In Tadaussac Church", Chadwick; and "Piece Heroique", Franck, will also be presented by Prof. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson's selections will be "All Soul's Day", Richard Strauss; "Dedication", Schumann; "Bagpipe Man", McKinney; "Birthday", Cowen; and Quilter's musical setting of Tennyson's "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal."

A graduate of New York University and holder of both bachelor and masters degrees, Prof. Johnson has been on the staff of the college for the past seven years. He has directed five annual Christmas choral-pagents and comic-operas, and now is training both college choirs and serving as chapel organist.

The recital is free and open to the public.

Schlegel Tours South America

by Peg Barrington

Another member of JC's travelling faculty toured the world this summer. Miss Miriam Schlegel traveled through part of the United States and Guatemala.

She and a friend started from Juniata at the beginning of August, and drove to New Orleans. Fleeing the heat of that city, they next flew to Guatemala.

Mountains Impress Prof.

Miss Schlegel "just never saw so many mountains." She characterizes Guatemala as an ideal country to visit. It is cool because of its high altitude, and unspoiled by a large tourist trade.

She found Guatemala to be an extremely clean country, too. In the capital, Guatemala City, there is a street cleaner for every two blocks, and one can be found there twenty-four hours a day!

Native Culture Studied

Miss Schlegel became interested in this particular country while travelling in Mexico last year. She was studying the ancient Mayan culture, when she heard of the Indians in the interior of Guatemala. They are descendents of the Mayas.

After studying the costumes and customs of these natives, she returned home. It only took three weeks to sell her on the country. For, besides the beautiful scenery, quaint customs, an excellent climate and clean cities, there is no shortage of excitement. To quote Miss Schlegel, "earthquakes and revolutions come regularly in Guatemala."

Honor System

Phil Norris, chairman of the honor system committee, reported that letters requesting information about such a system in action were sent to such colleges and universities as Haverford, Oberlin, Princeton, West Point and Bridgewater.

After a discussion of possible means of alleviating congestion at the girl's entrance to the Dining Hall, the Senate decided to send the following resolution to Joanne Pentz, head waitress: that reservations for tables be carried out Friday night through Sunday night instead of Sunday noon only. It was also suggested that freshmen be told to remain on Second Brumbaugh and that the subject be brought up at Women's House meeting.

The following committee was named to investigate possible flaws in the constitution: Art Allen, Bob Keim, Marj Seidel and Kay Wright.

Money To Cheerleaders

Two other motions were passed at the meeting: one, to transfer the money in the account of the Kat Club, a former cheerleading club, to the cheerleaders; and the other, to stress the need of housecleaning on campus, especially the interior walls of Oller Hall.

The next Senate meeting will be Monday, October 22 and will be open to the student body.

Students May Charter Bus

A bus will be chartered to Philadelphia over Thanksgiving vacation, provided enough students are interested.

Please sign the list posted in Founders Hall if you would be interested.

Students Asked To Keep Infirmary Hours

"Except in case of emergency, no student should come to the infirmary except during office hours," requests the nurse, Miss Nancy Rogers. Too many students have been appearing there at odd hours and disrupting infirmary routine, she adds.

The women's physician, Dr. W. B. West, is always in the infirmary each Monday "around 5 p. m.," according to the nurse. Dr. William Patterson, men's physician, is here each Friday from 5 to 6 p. m.

Infirmary office hours will be as follows:

Monday & Friday—7:30 to 8:30 a. m.; 1:15 to 2:15 p. m.; 7 to 8 p. m.

Tuesday & Thursday—7:30 to 7:50 a. m.; 10 to 10:30 a. m.; 1:15 to 2:15 p. m.; 7 to 8 p. m.

Wednesday—7:30 to 8:30 a. m.; 7 to 8 p. m.

Saturday—7:30 to 7:50 a. m.; 1 to 2 p. m.; 6:15 to 7 p. m.

Sunday—1:30 to 2:30 p. m.; 6:15 to 7 p. m.

Committee Sets Social Agenda

A French party and an outing at To-Ke-Sta will highlight Juniata social activity for the next two weekends, according to Betty Longwell, Social Committee chairman.

Wilfred Norris will act as master of ceremonies and will be full of French Quips. Joy Truxal will sing in that language.

On October 20, the Social Committee and the Outing Club will collaborate on a weiner roast which will be held at the latter organization's cabin, To-Ke-Sta.

Transportation will be furnished for all those who wish to attend. There will be a fare of 30 cents per person. Harvey Miller, president of the Outing Club, will be in charge of the entertainment which will consist of group singing and campfire stunts.

Two Named To Receive Ellis Award

Recently the Charles C. Ellis Memorial Scholarship was awarded to two seniors —Douglas Martin and Lois Miller.

This scholarship was established as a memorial to the late President of Juniata College and is awarded to students who have demonstrated unusual competence is scholarship and good citizenship.

Douglas Martin, from Colver, Pa., has served on the Honor Society and as Treasurer of the class of 1952. His field of concentration is Biology and he plans to become an M. D.

Lois Miller, from Tuckahoe, N. Y., is a sociology major. Among the many extra-curricular activities in which she has participated are the JCA and the JWSF, of which she is now the Secretary. She was class secretary during boh her Freshman and Sophomore years.

New Draft Test Set For College Students

The second nation-wide series of Selective Service College Qualification Tests has been announced for Dec. 13, 1951, and April 24, 1952.

Any students who have not taken this test are urged to do so in order that their local boards may have a score on file to determine deferment.

All local selective service boards now have a supply of information bulletins and application forms.

Juniata students wishing to take the test, no matter what their local board of jurisdiction, may obtain this information from the Huntingdon County Board, Wagner-Mierley Building, 707 Washington St.

However, "no student who has once taken this test may do so again," says Morley Mays, local draft supervisor and dean of the College.

IN PRIISON CAMP

Nurse Tells of Imprisonment

by Louise Gehman

Juniata's new nurse, Miss Crim, spent over three years in a concentration camp in the Philippine Islands.

On December 29, 1941, a Japanese caravan of twenty-six trucks rolled into a small defenseless town called Bagairo which is located on Luzon Island in the Philippines. The drunken Japanese soldiers captured all the foreigners, most of whom were missionaries and schoolteachers, and then proceeded to move them to a prison camp. They were moved three times before finally ending up in Bilibid Prison, Manila.

Rules Strict

Here the regulations were very strict, although Miss Crim said that "as long as you obeyed every rule and regulation that there was, you were treated fairly." The most important regulation stated that if anyone escaped from camp all the prisoners would be shot.

This regulation was broken on a rainy night in July, 1944, when two men escaped to join the Guerillas in the nearby hills. Upon discovering this the next morning, the prisoners told the Japanese officials at once, hoping to appease them somewhat.

Fear For Lives

The next forty-eight hours were passed in fear and suspense while the prisoners prayed that death would not be their punishment. Finally the officials announced the verdict—to cut their food rations in half.

Up to this time their food consisted mostly of rice with some meat and vegetables, but no bread or potatoes. After this, they lived on carnmeal mush and one vegetable per day.

Their sleeping quarters were abominable. Each person was given twenty-five square feet of space on the floor and absolutely no bedding. However, most of the prisoners had brought at least a sheet with them.

Unhealthly Conditions

For the first few weeks men, women, and children slept side by side in the same crowded, unsanitary building. Later the men were transferred to another building.

Miss Crim was kept quite busy in the prison because of her training as a nurse.

On Saturday nights the prisoners provided much-needed entertainment by using whatever talent they possessed. Once several of the teachers got together, rewrote a play from memory, and then directed the children in staging it.

Hold Church Services

After the first four months they were allowed to hold religious services on Sundays. The missionaries took turns in conducting these which, incidentally, were very well attended.

Miss Crim remarked that among the missionaries particularly there developed an attitude of patience, cooperation, and understanding of people. Although they did not know from day to day what was going to happen to them, they did not lose hope. "We learned what it was to be hungry," she said, "and to go without what Americans call necessities."

Finally Liberated

On February 6, 1945, American troops reached the concentration camp, releasing the prisoners. Miss Crim shook hands with General MacArthur and was among the forty to be removed immediately by the troops.

Miss Crim then came home to the states for one year, after which she went back to China to continue her work for four years. Last year she again returned to this country.

PJ Party Success; 200 Girls Attend

On Thursday, Oct. 4, about 200 girls invaded the social rooms clad in pajamas and carrying a varied assortment of stuffed animals. They were gathering for the annual PJ party held for the freshmen girls and their big sisters.

The party consisted mostly of entertainment by members of the group and group participation. Jean Baker, freshman soprano, sang "A Heart That's Free" and "The Laughing Song" from "Die Fledermaus." She was accompanied by Allegra Forney.

A trio composed of Helen Rosengren, Rhoda Clemmer, and Jo Chiodi sang two selections. Joy Truxal sang "My Hero" at the request of the group. Betty Shearer gave a humorous reading and Mim Smith led the group in singing, with Mary Ann Bailey as accompanist. Mary Lou McKee led a group participation skit, "The Lion Hunt".

Next the crowd ate ice cream and cookies, while a group composed of the more morbid in nature gave their rendition of "National Embalming School." After this masterpiece, it was decided to stop the party, so everyone retired to her room where the party continued informally until exhaustion set in.

Novelist To Speak Oct. 15

Elizabeth Bowen, distinguished English novelist, will speak in Oller Hall Wednesday at 8:15 p. m.

Miss Bowen is visiting the United States for two months for the purpose of speaking to college and literary groups here.

Born in Dublin at the turn of the century, Miss Bowen showed early promise of literary success. Her first book, Encounters, a collection of short stories, was published when she was twenty-three. Miss Bowen's critics have placed her among the greats of English and American literature. She is referred to by her colleagues as the "writer's writer".

Among her works are the well-known novels, The Death of the Heart and The Heat of the Day, and the recent series of critical essays, Collected Impressions.

Miss Bowan's discussion will include comments on her own works as well as those of her contemporaries.

This year's outing will be held at Spruce Creek camp.

The entire Juniata family—students, faculty, administration, and their wives and children—are invited to attend. Buses will leave Founders Hall at 8:30 a. m. In case of rain, the trip will be taken Thursday, Oct. 18.

Students needing transportation should give their names in Chapel Friday, Oct. 12. Anyone planning to drive is encouraged to take other students.

Hill, Jamison New Frosh Officers

Russell Hill and Sue Jamison were elected temporary president and secretary of the freshman class at the regular orientation assembly Monday.

Dean Rhodes spoke on the importance of a study schedule and other points of interest to the Freshmen.

Entertainment for the day featured Fred Dick at the organ playing "Now Thank We All Our God" and Mary Anne Bailey at the piano with "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue." The singing of the Alma Mater closed the program.

Musical Test Postponed

The Seashore Musical Test, which was scheduled for last week, has been postponed until later in the year.

Anastasia Finds "Hot Dogs" Are Not Bad To Eat

by Doris Wilson

"How about a hot dog for lunch?" This simple suggestion which everyone hears quite frequently brought a horrified look to the face of Anastasia Shchirow. At first she did not think she was hearing correctly, then when she was assured that her ears were not playing tricks on her, she murmered a polite refusal.

It was not until later that Anastasia found out that Americans do not actually eat dogs. The English she had learned in Europe had taught her that a dog was an animal.

Arrives Last Year

Ever since she came to the United States in January of 1950, Anastasia has been orientating herself to the American way of life. She was born in Ravna-Reka, Yugoslavia, but is not sure what nationality she is, for her father is Russian and her mother is German.

Anna has attended school in many countries including Austria, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Yugoslavia, and Germany. When she was ten years old, she went away to school and stayed for six years. During that time, she saw her mother but once.

Speaks Seven Tongues

Through her extensive traveling Anastasia has been able to learn to speak seven languages and write five.

After Anna arrived in the United States, she went to Maryland. From there she journeyed to Huntingdon where she attended high school last year. Now she is a freshman at Juniata majoring in languages.

She does not have as much trouble now as she did at first, but those words with double meanings are still slightly confusing. She hesitates before saying a person is "swell", but she is now an avid fan of the American "hot dog".

3 Named Editors Of Juniatian

Miss Tait has been a Juniatian reporter and was club editor before her promotion. She is also a sophomore. As news editor, she is responsible for obtaining complete coverage of campus news.

As new club editor, Bailey will write "Club Column" and handle all stories concerning campus organizations.

Truxal Stars On Own Show In Greensburg

by Jean Mahood

"Would you like to star in a fifteen minute radio program?"

What would your reaction have been to a phone call like that? Well, then you can imagine Joy Truxal's surprise and high spirits upon being asked this question this Summer.

Without too much undue deliberation the answer was definitely "yes." Thus began a series of nine radio shows over station WHJB in Greensburg, Pa.

The songs chosen varied from "pop" to classical, but her show always ended with a sacred song. Miss Truxal was accompanied on the piano by her sister, Beverly.

Although not planning to make radio her career, Joy said, "I enjoyed it very much."

Club Data Requested

If you are in charge of your club's publicity, this is how you can contact the Juniatian about your organization.

Type the details of the event you wish publicized, giving time, place, date, and any background material of any importance. List all the information you can and be sure your name appears at the top of the paper.

Bring the story to the Juniatian office and place it in the box on the door. If it is of major importance, the Juniatian will send a reporter for more information.

The Juniatian will cooperate with any campus organization in order to keep the student body well informed with its activities.

After her return to America, she made her professional debut in her father's production of Blood and Sand. She appeared in number of additional plays before deciding to specialize on character sketches.

After several such seasons, she took regular tours from coast to coast, to Canada, and to London, where she wrote and performed The Wives of Henry VIII.

Miss Skinner is the author of Family Circle, Our Hearts were Young and Gay, and Soap Behind the Ears.

Lodge Adopts Honor System

Quietly, without fanfare, the boys in the lodge are experimenting with an idea.

At the beginning of the year, with the help of resident councilor Bill Wright, they voted themselves a set of house rules covering the problems of rowdyness, study hours, etc.

Early this week, at a similar meeting, they chucked the rule book and unanimously adopted the Honor System.

"If a guy asks ya in a nice way and without cussin' to turn down y'r radio, then ya oughta be honorable enough to agree. Ya don't need a big lot of rules to work it, neither," seems to be the general attitude of most.

Since this is the first spontaneous student movement to implement the leadership conference proposal and the work of the Senate committee investigating Honor System elsewhere, many interested people will be watching the Lodgers as they test their idea.

Good luck with it, fellows. A lot of people are behind you all the way.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Suggests Plan For TV In New Men's Lounge

Here's an idea. Now that the former J Club Room is finally being turned into a men's lounge, I'd like to offer further inovation. I suggest the student body buy itself a television set for use in this new Cloister recreation room.

Such a cultural and amusement-provoking addition to Juniata's campus need not drain the College treasury in the least. John Keener, '50, reports that Western Seminary men collected from among themselves enough cash to purchase a TV set. We may either adopt this plan, or perhaps arrange for a meter-system allowing those who use the machine to pay for it.

The next step, then, is for those with ideas, questions and arguments along this line to walk up to the nearest Senator and express their views.

THOUGHT AT CHOW: Why is it that the waitress always ask that classic question, "Through with y'r large dishes," just when the head has filled his mouth and can't talk back? One waitress has suggested waitresses and heads might get together on some signal to indicate when the table is done, thereby saving time and trouble all round. Sounds good to us.

BLEACHER BLEATS: At the Swarthmore game last week we were disturbed to notice that the Swarthmore cheerleaders had absolutely no trouble at all getting the bleachers to cheer their eleven on. In hopes that the gals at home might want to utilize the information, we jotted down these Swarthmore tricks of the trade: (1) Before the game began they passed around mimeographed copies of the cheers so the non-College crowd could join in, and (2) they made a point of cueing the crowd by chanting several times the opening words of each cheer before actually getting that cheer underway. This chanting overture formed a kind of very effective cheer in itself.

Men, Maids, Morals, Mishaps Make Movies More Memorable

by Frank Harlacher

PEOPLE WILL TALK—From the looks of the starting lineup and the record of the coaches, this play-game on the screen ought to be worth spectating.

Cary Grant and Jeanne Crain are the stars with many entertainment touchdowns to their credit. With Joseph Mankiewicz (director of "All About Eve") writing and calling the plays, together with 20th Fox's technical record, what can we look for but another victory.

The plot is spelled "Scandel" from the word go. Cary's the doctor and Jeanne's the patient—together they paint the love story. All manner of complication evolves into one guy digging up another's past, which causes the defendent to expose the prosecutor's past in order to bury his own.

From the last sentence you can see the complexity of the script. It includes satirical remarks about medicine, underpaid schoolteachers and even the problem of pregnancy. All of this Mr. Mankiewicz handles in good taste.

Different is the word for this slightly heavy comedy about a doctor's love and how "People Will Talk." Clifton Theatre. .

HIS KIND OF WOMAN—Just because you see Jane Russell's name on the marquee, don't expect another "Outlaw" because believe me RKO can't afford it. Now as far as we know Bob Mitchum isn't smoking marijuana any more, and the two of them have come up with a thriller that makes you shake one time from fear and the next time from laughter.

We don't figure, however, that Miss Russell doesn't have one any more and that Bob can't make the love scenes worth watching, but the emphasis here seems to be on adventure in the Cops and Robber's style.

Gambler Mitchum finds the US too hot and jumps from the frying pan into an expense-paid vacation in Mexico, which proves even hotter. Temptress Russell awaits him south of the border, and does her bit to warm the climate.

Mr. Vincent Price is the man who keeps the humorous part of the plot going. Comedy combined with mystery and suspense makes well-rounded bit of entertainment worthy of consumption. Grand Theatre.

Odd Facts Of Life Rediscovered

by Ray Siren

This week, your everpresent columnist is seeking to enlighten a few of you in the more obscure facts of life. The following are the result of a highly scientific examination of life on this spheroid called Earth.

Did you know that:

● Ice is not really ice at all, but a vegetable organism which forms on the surface of water to prevent it from freezing solid?

● An ordinary hen's egg is the result of hypnotism?

● If you take a ton of anthracite coal (ordinary anthracite) and press it, you can use it as "pressed anthracite" for blacking up in minstrel shows?

● Mount Washington, of the Presidential Range, is really a depression in the earth's surface which looks high only because the surrounding country is so much lower?

● The great general Hannibal was really a woman and a five-foot-two woman at that?

● One year's supply of that other condiment that comes in the second jar on a horse-radish cruet would not cover one square foot of a city the size of Rochester, N. Y.?

● No one has ever actually seen Brooklyn Bridge? It is merely an action of light waves on the retina of one's eye.

● Eel-grass, such as is now used to entagnle oars, was once a delicacy in Egypt?

● If you were to inhale steadily for fifteen minutes, without once exhaling, your head would touch the floor in back of you?

● Frederick the Great once gave a walking stick to Voltaire which bent double every time he leaned his weight on it, which was the reason Voltaire was such a cynic?

● The reason why it always says "twenty minutes past eight" on those big watches that hang outside jewelers' shops is because that is actually the time at the particular moment when you are looking at?

These and 4,000,000 other fascinating facts you will find in a little booklet called "How to Roll a Hoop," which I am preparing for a few friends as a birthday surprise to myself. I am verifying each fact as I write it in, which explains why it is taking me such a terribly long time to get it done.

Or hadn't you noticed that it was taking me a long time?

At any rate, with all due respects to the late Robert Benchley from whom most of this stuff has been stolen, I must eagerly admonish you to sample some of his better columns which appear in some of the newspapers and the library has hidden away in their stacks in the basement. And while you're down there, would you see if there isn't still one of our earlier students down there studying for his comps in plagiarism, or journalism as it is sometimes called.

HIMS AND HYMNS—Even if Steve Musto doesn't gain any recognition on the gridiron he'll surely be taken on all trips. He's a member of the Varsity Quartette, so the boys had him singing hymns as well as popular songs all the way home from Swarthmore on Sunday. (What else would you expect of Juniata boys?)

GARBLED GABBLE—While discussing a proposed radio show, assistant radio committee chairman Bob Champion unthinkingly came up with this bright phrasing: "Bob Brumbaugh can't do it and Miss Thomas can't do it with him."

After setting up a contraption full of bottles and tubes he found it didn't work like it should'a. He examined it thoroughly and finally determined the trouble. Instead of using glass tubing, he had used glass rods. Liquids don't flow through solid objects, do they Bob?

The women patrons constantly insisted that he was the same size as their husbands. Therefore, they reasoned, hubby must wear the same size. How About A Li'l Brown Jug?

by Bob Asan

More than a few of the schools around the country have a big traditional game each year. Indiana and Purdue battle for the "Old Oaken Buckett". Stanford and Southern Cal go all out for a fireman's axe, while Minnesota's Gophers and Michigan's Wolverines tangle for the "Lil Brown Jug". Here at JC we just play football.

Asan

Rivalries of this nature are usually the result of an overly enthusiastic fan's keen desire to take home a souvenir of a football game. Frequently the game is a Homecoming game with the whole campus dolled up and "trophies" are really abundant. However, these acquisitions have been made on ordinary football afternoons. Take for example the "theft" of an old football shoe from the locker room that resulted in the battle for "the shoe" between Bucknell and Temple.

Juniata almost had a traditional game of this sort. It all happened several years ago at a Susquehanna Homecoming. The whole campus was rigged out in Indian fashion and one display had a perfect war bonnet as a center piece. Another Indian, JC style that is, latched on to it and brought it back to College Hill. However, as soon as word reached the administrators the bonnet was located and very apologetically returned.

We might just mention that Juniata is Haverford's Homecoming guest this year, next week to be exact.

Pitt Has A Panther

The University of Pittsburgh and Southern California not only have Panther and Bruin as their nicknames but also as their mascots. And both these animals attend classes disguised as cheerleaders.

The Pitt Panther turns out strong for every football game and most of the basketball games. He doesn't detract from the game and he certainly adds to the enthusiasm and entertainment of the fans.

Juniata has Indian as its nickname. We wonder how much it would take to get an Indian mascot.

Lunch Is Served

The J Club, acting on a suggestion by Mike Snider, is recommending to the Student Faculty Athletic Council that a light snack or some similar type of refreshment be served to both football teams after the game has been played. This snack is to be served to the teams as one body.

This snack, probably no more than milk and a sandwich, will certainly help foster sportsmanship between the opposing teams. It will also afford former high school team-mates, now on opposite sides, a chance to talk with each other for a while after the game.

It used to be done back about 1920 or so and the idea gave Juniata a pretty good reputation for being sports.

Personally, we'd like to see the idea go through as much as it can. There is no reason why two teams should be hostile to each other after the game. And besides, there's no telling when you might make a pretty good friend out of one of those guys across the line from you.

Congrats to the J Club.

Indians Upset Garnet

When the Indians beat Swarthmore last Saturday the Philadelphia area sports fans considered the result an upset. The papers must have too, as they carried a halftime score and story on page one of the early editions.

Quick Kick

A helmet dispenser, manager at Geneva College, found himself dressing for the Grove City game last week.

Howard Stewart, assistant football manager, amused himself after practice by getting off 65 yard punts. When Head Coach Walt West noticed this, Howard Stewart, manager, became Howard Stewart, punter.

Coffee and Donuts

Mike Snider, faculty advisor for the J Club wants the club to sponsor a "coffee hour" before and/or after the football game. The idea behind the whole thing is to provide old grads who were athletes in their days a chance to get together and "rehash" old memories.

Good idea, Mike.

High Scoring Machine

The biggest score ever recorded by a Juniata football team was run up against the New York Aggies in 1938. They stomped all over the Aggies in scoring a 66-0 shutout.

That year the Tribe won three out of seven games. Every game the Indians won was a shutout; 45-0 over Washington, 66-0 over New York and 13-0 over Hartwick.

They were also dumped in the whitewash once. LV pinned a 6-0 defeat on them.

Short Odds

It's time to try to call the winner again. Allegheny or Juniata? That's a good one. Allegheny has yet to win while the Indians have split in two starts. Allegheny has a potential powerhouse at Meadville and the Indians don't have too much backfield strength.

Therefore, we've got to pick the Golden 'Gators to top the Indians by something like a 32-20 score. Hope we're wrong.

Hard On The Captain

Here's a story on Paul Brown, Cleveland Brown coach, that's being told by Ted Fritsch, Green Bay Packer Fullback.

"I know several of Brown's players and they tell me that he even bawls out his captain when the latter loses the toss before the game!"

No wonder the Browns have won five straight pro championships.

Winners And Losers

Susquehanna, Homecoming opposition, opened their season last week with a 47-32 win over Johns Hopkins. LV also hung up a win, their second, as against one loss, by beating Muhlenberg.

Allegheny got dumped by Oberline and Haverford, next week's "fish", also got dumped. Ursinus upended the Fords.

Tribe Faces Experienced Team

THE OTHER HALF of the linebacking team is Ron Clapper. Clapper won his letter as a freshman last year and hails from Altoona. Clapper stands 5-10 and weighs 170 pounds. If the need arises, he also plays defensive half-back.

'Gators Starting Veteran Team

The Allegheny football team that the Indians meet at Meadville tomorrow is an experienced team. Juniors and seniors comprise the starting line-up.

Allegheny's line, which averages 181 pounds to the man, is almost the same line that ranked high defensively among the small colleges of the country last year.

At end, Coach Bill Daddio can call on Charlie Bowser, 6-2, 200 pounds, Ed Snyder, Paul Roese or John McCrea. These last three men all stand six feet tall and weigh about 165 pounds.

195 Pound Tackle

Six tackles, all weighing 195 pounds, provide the beef in the 'Gator line. Offensive tackles Bob Mason and Bill Oehmler both stand six feet high. Mason weighs 195 pounds, while Oehmler tips the beam at 200.

The defensive tackles are Clyde Richard and Al Frazier, both of whom weigh 220 pounds.

Running from the guard slots are Ray Pawlak, Hank Zimmerman and "Hub" Ocamb. Pawlak is the lightest of the trio, weighing 170 pounds.

Ocamb is 185 pounds, while Zimmerman adds 210 pounds to the defensive line.

Center Is Villanova Transfer

Jim Henne, a transfer from Villanova handles the center spot. Henne stands 5-10 and weighs 185 pounds.

Daddio has two top flight quarterbacks running his T formation. Carl Hermann is a left handed passer who packs 205 pounds on a 6-2 frame.

The number two quarterback is freshman Dave Reed. Reed is a slight of hand pigskin magician who also plays safety on defense.

Four Men For Half-Backs

There are no fewer than four men vying for a starting berth as half-backs. Leading the way are Jerry Watson and Dave McMahon. Watson weighs 175 while McMahon scales 180.

Close behind these two are "Skip" McIndoe and Jack Sapper. Both these men are double duty ball players, working on both offense and defense.

Full-back is in the hands of "Monk" Meyers, 195 pounds of beef on a six foot frame.

Two Defeats For 'Gators

So far this year the 'Gators have lost to the University of Rochester, 10-6, and to Oberlin, 20-0.

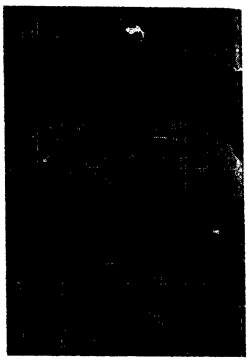
Concerning the shape of the Indians Bill Smaltz says, "We're certainly no worse off than we were last week at this time."

Joe Thomasberger aggravated his ankle at Swarthmore but will be able to play tomorrow. Dino Patricelli is still out of action, while Paul Hepak may get into the game.

Musto And Grove At Tailback

To make up for the weakening of the tailback spot due to the loss of Patricelli and Hepak, Smaltz has been using Steve Musto and Clerf Grove as tailbacks.

In a line-up change, Paul Kruzelock will take over Tony Segalovich's offensive end position, while Segalovich will move over to defensive half-back.



HALF of the Indian line-backing team this year is Dave LeFevre of Hanover, Pa. LeFevre also shares the offensive center's duties with Ron Clapper. LeFevre is a letter winning junior who spreads 165 pounds over a six foot frame.

Probable Starting Line-ups:

Juniata:

LE	Kruzelock
LT	Thomasberger
LG	Waryck
C	LeFevre

21 Frosh Turn Out For Initial Basketball Tryouts This Week

Basketball again makes itself felt at Juniata as varsity tryouts for freshmen start. Twenty-one candidates turned out for "Doc". Greene's initial workout Tuesday.

The men chosen from this roster will combine with the veterans from last year and begin regular practice as soon as the tryouts have been completed.

Coach Greene expects a lack of height to be his biggest problem this year, as has been the case in the past. "However, we expect to overcome this deficiency with a snappier, smoother ball handling team," explains Greene.

In regards to the schedule Greene predicts that the opposition will be similar to that faced last year.

3 Teams Lead IM Football At Week's End

The seven team intramural football league got into operation last Friday. The league will operate on a round robin basis with each team meeting all the others.

A three game playoff series between the two top teams will climax the season.

Trojans, Bears Win

Friday's action saw the Trojans beating the Whiz Kids, the Bears topping the Lodge Monks and the Chimpos taking a forfeit win over the Vikings.

The Trojans and Whiz Kids were a well-matched pair as they battled for three scoreless periods. In the final minute of the game Jack Dickey passed to Bob Keim to give the Trojans a 6-0 win.

In an overtime game, the Lodge Monks succumbed to the Bears, 13-7. Bob Yanssen and Larry Hartline heaved tosses for Bear scores, while a Garry Swenson to Joe Suter pass accounted for the Monks' lone tally.

Bears Win Again

The passing combinations of Yanssen to Herb Law and Gene Rothenberger to Hartline led the Bears to a 13-0 win over the Vikings Monday.

In the Trojan-FM&M tilt, passes from Dickey and Earl Detrick to Dale Zimmerman accounted for both Trojan scores as they beat FM & M, 13-6. Joe Hinish intercepted a Trojan pass and ran it back 75 yards for the FM & M TD.

The Lodge Monks forfeited to the Chimpos in the third game scheduled for Monday.

Standings of the teams:

Juniata Soph and Grad Enter 40 Mile Canoe Race

by Dick Bowker

A 40 mile canoe race down the Susquehanna River sounds like an event that would provide plenty of thrills and excitement.

However, Sy Dubbel, '54, can tell you that all such contests are not the type pictured by popular fiction, races through rapids, whirlpools and sundry other perils.

Dubbel and Allen Fletcher, '49, entered the Flaming Foliage Festival canoe race along with 33 other two man teams.

The 34 teams launched their canoes on the strip of the Susquehanna that passes Renovo, Pa. and were off when the starter's signal was given at 8:30 a. m.

Due to the unusual shallowness of the river, the race was shortened 20 miles. Ordinarily the race is scheduled to run between Emporium, Pa. and Lock Haven.

The only trouble encountered by Dubbel and Fletcher was due to the shallowness of the river and not any rapids or other such treacherous passages as portrayed in popular fiction.

After a few miles the pair began to worry. They didn't worry so much about winning the race as they did worry about being able to avoid catching penumonia.

As Dubbel commented, "you get awfully chilled sitting in an open canoe for 20 miles wearing a pair of wet pants".

Although they did cross the finish line, the pair isn't sure in just what position. Since no one pressed them to accept the $100 prize money, they're fairly certain that it wasn't first.

About entering the race again next year . . . well, Dubbel isn't too sure about that. One thing is sure, however.

If he does enter another canoe race, he's going to be very sure that the river will be deep enough to allow him to paddle all the way.

Juniata Girls Play Hockey At Bucknell

Juniata College will be represented at the Bucknell University Hockey Sports Day tomorrow.

A team of seventeen girls and the instructor will leave in the morning for the contests which are to be held on the Bucknell campus.

The team consists of Joan Sharp, Bobbie Warner, Jody Siemon, Rhoda Clemmer, Dot Taylor, Janet Wiltshire, May Ikeda, Joan Walker.

Joyce Butts, Betti Brumbaugh, Nancy Vaughn, Nancy McCahan, Nancy Blanck, Joyce Gibble, Joan Lenhardt, Helen Rosengren, and Polly Fowler.

Janet Wiltshire Is WAA Vice President

At a recent meeting of the WAA, Janet Wiltshire was elected to the office of vice president.

The vacancy was caused by the promotion of Virginia Yohn to the Presidency.

Commissioners Named

At the same meeting the commissioners for the intramural sports program were named. Those named were Nancy Blanck, hockey; Rhoda Clemmer, basketball; Joan Walker, volleyball.

Jean Link, bowling; Martha Petre, badminton; Barbara Snively, ping pong and Jody Siemon, softball.

Commissioners Form Cabinet

These commissioners, combined with the officers of the association, make up the WAA cabinet. All problems concerning these sports should be directed to the commissioners.

Miss Yohn and Dagmar Silldorff were elected to represent Juniata at a conference to be held at West Chester State Teachers College the weekend of Oct. 26.

Loschiavo And McNeal Team Up In JC Win; Pass Interception Sets Up Winning TD

by Paul Good

The running and passing of Lundy Loschiavo and Tom McNeal spelled defeat for the "Little Quakers" of Swarthmore College last Saturday at Swarthmore. The Indians won 13-7 in the season's opener for Swarthmore.

Juniata scored the winning TD in the last quarter after Jack Sweitzer set up the drive with a pass interception. Loschiavo scored the six pointer on a one yard smash off tackle.

Swarthmore Threatens

Swarthmore threatened first in the game with a persistent drive from their own 35 yard line. The drive bogged down and Juniata took over on downs on their 17.

Late in the first quarter Juniata took over and pushed the ball down to the three. Passes by Loschiavo and running by McNeal and Dick Young did most of the moving.

Loschiavo went off tackle from the three for the first score. Ken Mummah's try for the extra point was good, making the score 7-0 in favor of the Indians.

Swarthmore Takes JC Fumble

Swarthmore scoring came as a result of an Indian fumble on the Tribe 27 yard line. On the next play Bill Jones passed to Bunky Blake who went to the one yard stripe.

Dave Hansen then carried the ball over for the score. Jones kick for the extra point was good making the score read 7-7.

Neither team did any scoring in the third quarter. One Indian threat died when Young dropped a pass in the end zone.

Breaks Favor Indians

The breaks of the game came Juniata's way in the final stanza and they meant the ball game.

The first break came when Swarthmore lost the ball on Juniata's 20 yard line. On the second play, Loschiavo's pass was intercepted by Bill Bruce and run back to the 18.

Three plays later a Jones pass was taken in the end zone for an apparent TD. However, offensive pass interference was ruled against Swarthmore and Juniata got the ball on the 20 yard line.

Sweitzer Intercepts

Juniata was forced to kick and the ball was returned to the Tribe's 41 yard line. The "Garnet" tried a pass on the first play and Sweitzer got in front of it for an interception which carried to the 48.

Loschiavo carried for 13 yards and then passed to Young on the 13 yard line. McNeal then rammed to the one.

Loschiavo Scores

An off tackle slant by Loschiavo was good for the score. Mummah then missed the conversion attempt.

The game ended with Mummah intercepting a Swarthmore pass on the mid-field stripe; the final score reading 13-7 Juniata.

AN INTERVIEW

'Sit And Sweat With G. Bolet'

Friends Use Slogan In Kidding Pianist

by Margie Alleman

Beautiful country . . . an enthusiastically receptive audience . . . nice campus—these, revealed pianist Jorge Bolet, were some of the memorable features of his trip to Huntingdon.

In an interview following his Oller Hall concert Wednesday evening, the young Cuban pianist continued, "I have about 70 concerts a year, with appearances scheduled almost every other day. The day before yesterday, I was in Freeport, Long Island. The day after tomorrow, I will return to New York for a performance at Glen Falls."

Little Time to Practice

Such a busy schedule doesn't allow much time for practice, says Bolet. "Even when not on tour, I don't practice much," he added laughing. "But don't tell anyone that—everybody thinks I practice so much."

Bolet's first piano teacher was his sister. Then, at the age of 12, he went to study at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. He received his academic schooling at Stonybrook School for Boys, where he has often returned to give concerts for the undergraduates.

Attendance Required

"The boys were required to attend all such concerts," recalled Bolet. "They used to have a slogan 'Sit and sweat with George Bolet.' I remember telling them once that I hoped they didn't sweat half as much as I did."

A native of Cuba, Bolet served for awhile as military attache to the Cuban Army. During this time, Bolet was living at the Cuban Embassy in Washington so he had some opportunity to play. Later, when he became a United States citizen, and served in the Infantry of the United States Army, he found little time for his music.

Staged 'Mikado' In Japan

"Then I went to Japan," said Bolet. "Thank God the war was over by the time I got there." He added that while overseas, he had opportunities to give concerts for the servicemen and while in Japan, he conducted the first production of the "Mikado" ever staged there.

Unlike many pianists, Bolet displays little of the so-called "artistic temperment." During the program intermission last Wednesday (which lasted the length of one Pall Mall) he spent his time in conversation with some friends back stage. After a concert, his first concern is about getting something to eat. "I always seem to get hungry when I play," said Bolet.

JORGE BOLET, noted Cuban pianist, who performed in Oller Wednesday night was the first in a series of artists who will be in Huntingdon as part of the Community Concert program.

Need $75,000 To Finish Gym

$75,000 must be contributed for the completion of the Memorial Physical Education Building.

All alumni are being contacted with the hope that this sum can be raised by Nov. 3 when the gym will be dedicated as a part of the Homecoming Ceremonies.

Henry B. Gibbel, President of the Board of Trustees, believes that it is not impossible to have that much on hand. "At least with Juniatians, it is not impossible. I have seen them rise to the occasion too often to believe otherwise."

Miss Mathias Attends Convention of Dieticians

Miss Frances Mathias, school dietician, attended an International Convention of Dieticians this week. Held in Cleveland, Ohio, the convention started Monday and lasted throughout the week.

Mother of Asst. To President Dies

Mrs. Nancy B. Brumbaugh, mother of Harold B. Brumbaugh of the College administration, died at her home at Artemas Wednesday night.

Mrs. Brumbaugh, a Juniata graduate in 1899, is survived by her husband, three sons and a daughter.

The funeral will be held in Artemas Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The Rev. D. I. Pepple will preside.

CLUB COLUMN

Debate Club Organizes

"Resolved: That the flow of the Juniata River should be reversed."

This was the topic used in the organizational meeting of the Juniata College Debating Society Monday to demonstrate some of the good and not so good techniques of debating.

This physical debate was a preliminary to more serious ones to come. During the year the debators will argue the national collegiate debating question, "Resolved: That the government set up a permanent system of price and wage controls."

Next Monday at 7 p. m. the club will hold a brief meeting in order to begin study of this question.

Galen Fryfinger, president of the society, has recently attended the conference of the Debating Association of Pa. Colleges. Concerning the coming season, he reports that "the interest shown in our organization meeting was good" and he looks forward to a "good year."

Members of the Lambda Gamma met for a short business session last night. After the meeting, held in the Clothing Lab, they toured the home of Dr. Todd on the Cold Springs Road.

Late Dates For Women New Policy

All girls may have 12 o'clock lates on Saturday nights. This policy and several others were decided upon at the Women's house Committee meeting Tuesday night.

The Social Rooms may be used until 11:30 for dates and until 12 p. m. for studying and chatting among the girls. The Women's Day Students Room may be used from 10 to 12 p. m. for studying.

Weekend Policy Set

Girls going home on weekends are asked to be back by 10 p. m. However, if conditions are such that they are unable to meet that deadline they should sign out for the time they expect to return.

Girls will sign out for All-College programs such as concerts and must be in the dorm one-half hour after the close of the program.

Baby-Sitting Arranged

If girls go baby-sitting, they must state the time of their expected return. If it is later than 11:30 p. m., they should speak to the Dean of Women. Boy friends may accompany them, if it is agreeable to the people for whom they are sitting

If girls are off campus and decide to take a late, they should contact the Dean of Women who will then sign them out.

Half Hour For Noise

It was decided that girls may have a half hour period for noise and chatter after they come in at night.

There will be open house in the girls' dorm on Homecoming and Parents Day.

"No Formula For Writing" - - - Bowen

by Louise Gehman

"There is, as we know, no formula for creative wiriting". Thus Elizabeth Bowen began her talk in Oller Hall on Monday evening, October 15.

The novelist, who is strictly Irish even to her delightful accent, is an authority on the subject of writing as she has been in the profession for the past thirty years. "However," she went on to say, "there is one pre-essential—absolute concentration."

Writes Six Novels

Author of six novels and as many short stories, Miss Bowen writes every day beginning at 9:00 A. M. because she "likes to have the freshness of the day before the fatiguing elements have set in," and works until 5:00 P. M. While she writes, she has a "fanatical preference for being alone."

In planning a novel the famed writer said she first devises the plot "in very simple language as though relating it to a small child." Secondly, she builds the characters; and then she begins to write, spreading out the plot as she goes. The idea which, of course, she must have first of all, "is a sort of . . . spark from which the rest of the story grows".

Likes Juniata

Of Juniata College she said, "It is a beautiful college, set in some of the loveliest lands I have ever seen. I was enthralled by the sight of it piled up on the hills in such a free and easy atmosphere."

She was particularly impressed by the bright, colorful clothing the students wore on campus and the friendly attitude of Americans in general. "They're much more reserved in England," she said.

Arriving here in the States only last week from England, Elizabeth Bowen will tour the country until December 11, when she will return to her husband in Ireland and a new novel of which she has written four chapters.

Firelighting Service Sunday

The Annual Firelighting Service for the girls will be held Sunday evening at 10 p. m. in the Social Rooms. The original log which was first used in 1936 will again be lighted. The program will consist of singing and poetry centered around Indian traditions.

Requests Made For Cloisters By Committee

Requests for an automatic washing machine and dryer, a telephone booth and a new ping-pong table—all to be added to the Cloister—were included in a list of eight resolutions which have been adopted by the Men's House Committee, according to chairman Jack Dickey.

No official reply to these suggestions has been received from Pres. Calvert Ellis.

The resolutions are as follows:

● The janitor shall not be taken from the Cloister to work elsewhere. When he is taken, the report says, "the cleanliness of the whole building suffers."

Paint Permits Asked

● Students shall be allowed to paint their rooms. An oil base paint is to be used, and the student painter is to assume all responsibility.

● The dean of men shall inspect the men's dorms once or twice a year at his convenience.

● Cloister recreation room is to be cleaned and a new ping-pong table added.

Want Phone Booth

● A telephone booth shall be installed in the Cloister for long distance calls, which are difficult to hear under present circumstances. Also the restoration of the inter-communication system between wing and arch is asked.

● An automatic washer and dryer shall be installed in at least one of the men's dorms.

More Open House

● "Open House" shall be held on Homecoming and May Days in addition to Parent's Day.

● The chairman of men's house shall be given a master key since present authorized key-holders often cannot be reached when needed.

Pianos, Library Create Busy Day For Dot Humphries

by Joyce Grove

You'll have to look far and wide to find a busier person these days than Miss Dottie Ann Humphries.

Humphries

Miss Humphries who graduated from Juniata last June with a B. S. degree in music, is a resident of Huntingdon, and is now teaching piano here at Juniata. Her pupils consist of six non-music major students.

Piano Nothing New

Actually, teaching piano is nothing new to Dottie Ann for she has been giving private lessons for the past six years at her home. The only difference is that her students at home range from ages five to sixteen. This is the first time she has taught any one past high school age.

Helps In Library

However, these are only a few of Dottie Ann's activities for the day. In the morning she assists Miss Lillian Evans in the library. When she is finished there she goes to Swigart Hall and gives piano lessons. Then she goes home and gives lessons to 30 private students a week.

You think she's not busy? Well, suppose you try all this sometime and see how you can work in a sandwich for lunch.

Good, Long To Head Comm.

Paul Good and John Long have been named co-chairmen of the Juniatian's Homecoming Planning Committee.

"There's Always Juliet" On JC Stage Wednesday

There's Always Juliet, a comedy by John Van Druten, will be presented Wednesday evening in Oller Hall by the Brookside Playhouse group.

Lois Ramsey and Dick Warren will appear as leads, while Irma Lewis, and Bill Fegan, Juniata '48, will play the two supporting roles.

Miss Lois Ramsey

● Top Female Part ●

Dick Warren

● Shares Lead ●

Warren Leading Man

Warren has been with the Players as leading man since the theatre's first season last spring. During the summer he starred in such plays as "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Ten Little Indians," "Born Yesterday" and "Blithe Spirit."

Previous to his Brookside experience, he was leading man for some of the major stock companies in New England.

Miss Ramsey has been featured with the New Canaan Town Players and the Plainville Players in Connecticut. She has had leading roles in "Three's a Family," "Night Must Fall," "Watch on the Rhine," and the musical "Bohemian Girl."

Comedy of Love

"There's Always Juliet" is a comedy concerning the early stages of love by a young English lady and a handsome American. John Mason Brown, after viewing the opening night, wrote "It provides the most agreeable and ingratiating evening Broadway has offered to its patrons in many a blue moon".

The modern setting for the show is being designed and constructed by George Parsons, Juniata '49. Assisting on the technical crew will be Juniatian Bill Patterson and Ronald Taylor.

Juniatian Keeps Its First Class Rating In Press Competition

The Juniatian still retains its rating as a First Class small college weekly newspaper, according to Associated Collegiate Press judging of papers produced during the Spring semester of last year.

Four papers in the 500-999 enrollment group received the highest rating, All American, while 41 including The Juniatian were in the next highest division of excellence.

Papers are judged on news coverage, style, makeup, feature material and editing.

Most points were lost in the judging of feature material and general writing. Judges remarked that feature material seemed to be lacking, while writing "fails often to follow style and needs better organization."

IRC To Plan Chapel Friday

UN Week will be celebrated by the International Relations Club in the regular Chapel period next Friday. Monday and Wednesday Chapels will have the Rev. John Middlekauff and Pres. Calvert Ellis respectively as speakers, according to Dr. T. F. Henry, who is in charge of arranging Chapel programs.

JV Cheerleaders Chosen

Four girls have been chosen junior varsity cheerleaders after a week of tryouts. They are Nancy Blanck, Mikey Mick, Allegra Forney and Anna Lee Over.

The JV squad will make its first appearance on Homecoming along with the regular varsity squad.

OnFunCalendar Weiner Roast, Dance, Movie

Informal dancing in the gym and a weiner roast in Sherwood is planned for tomorrow eve. Next Saturday's social activity is to be the movie "Anna and the King of Siam" in Oller Hall.

The dancing in the gym will be followed by an all-College weiner roast at 10 p. m. in Sherwood Forest has been planned by the Social Committee. Committee chairman Betty Longwell announced that these plans are due to unfortunate circumstances which caused the cancellation of the original program at the Outing Club Cabin.

Starring Irene Dunne and Rex Harrison, the movie is a comedy based on eastern manners vs. western. Plot deals with the problem that confronts Anna, a native of western civilization, when she attempts to play nursemaid to the 67 children of the polygamous King of Siam.

Never approaching the romance angle, "Anna and the King of Siam" proves that a movie can be interesting even if the boy doesn't get the girl. Screen time 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall Saturday, Oct. 27th.

Radio Group Lists Schedule

A College radio program will be presented every Thursday at 8 p. m. over station WHUN, the Radio Committee has announced.

Plans for the whole semester have not been completed but open dates will be sponsored by various clubs and the girls' trio.

The program for last night, under the direction of Jack Ulsh and Ruth March, consisted of the Varsity Male Quartet.

The following week is an open one. Nov. 1 the Juniatian staff and the Radio Committee are combining their ideas in a Homecoming program.

A preview of Naughty Marietta will be presented Nov. 8. Margie Alleman and Bob Champ-Barrington and Gene Felix. ion will interview Joy Truxal, Clyde Johnson, and other players in the operetta.

In keeping with Twirp Week, on Nov. 18, a Sadie Hawkins Day play will be presented. The script will be written by Peggy

Music Representatives Meet

Presidents of the Pennsylvania Federation of Music Clubs will meet tomorrow in Swigart Hall.

From The Editor's Notebook

● MEN'S HOUSE: Although the President has not yet announced a decision on the men's house resolutions (see story, page 1), the College business manager has released some information. Investigation is going forward, he says, on a Laundromat automatic washer for the Cloister. A location has not yet been selected, but the arch trunk room seems most likely. No location, however, can be found for the proposed long-distance telephone.

"Until three years ago, students were permitted to paint their own rooms," he went on to say, but "for every three good jobs, one was bad; so the trustees decided to order student painting stopped." Another trustee complaint was that paint went on floors and furniture as well as walls. No official order, however, was ever given students to stop painting.

● DINING HALL HELP: The dining hall help will get a break as a result of two developments this week. Miss Frances Mathias, College dietician, is considering placing a mat on the floor of the dishwashing room in anwser to the complaint that water makes that floor "slippery and dangerous." And for the waitresses, business manager Paul Friend has agreed to have the collapsable tray-holders in the new dining hall braced. The holders tend to fold up occasionally when loaded with a tray, say the waitresses.

● OPEN SENATE MEETING: We've been in enough bull sessions around here to know that a lot of people have a lot of ideas about what this campus needs. Yet human nature is such that given the chance to sound off where it will do some good, the exponent of change becomes much more reticent. Frankly, we'd like to call the bluff of the whole lot of them—the gripers, the complainers that "this campus is dead," the crowd from Skip's—by inviting them all to the open Senate meeting Monday (see story, page 1). What a hot meeting that could be!

● KNOTTED NOGGINS: Too many important heads have collected knots on top from bumping the underside of Founders porch, according to Presidential Assistant Harold Brumbaugh. So the steps to the right of Founders Hall leading under the building have been removed and replaced by a couple of Texus Hatfield Spreaders, a species of pine tree. Students are supposed to walk around the building now, not through the trees. However, in view of the tremendous amount of traffic those steps saw every day, we believe it would have been far wiser to have cut the wall and lowered the steps than it was to have them entirely removed and the entrance blocked.

'Place In Sun', 'Prince Who Was Thief' Reviewed, Found Pleasing

A PLACE IN THE SUN—A dramatic love mix-up with its share of emotion, the success of this Paramount tragedy is based on performance. Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor and Shelly Winters share the marquee. The way they tell their powerful story will stick deep.

Briefly, Clift is the ne'er-do-well nephew of a rich uncle. The plot deals with his unsuccessful attempt to find "A Place In The Sun." His trouble lies in conflicting passions which leads to the murder of his first love (Shelley Winters). This love was carried on by darkness and the murder was to open a way to a brighter love by day (Elizabeth Taylor).

He goes the way of all murderers but not before his life gives you a feeling that life sometimes denies an individual "A Place In The Sun" when vaulting ambition over-rules principle. Grand Theatre.

THE PRINCE WHO WAS A THIEF—Here's "Arabian Nights" adventure in Technicolor. Universal integrates into an old story two new personalities and comes up with a film well worth watching.

The new talent is in the form of tall, dark and handsome Tony Curtis and the very active and beautiful Piper Laurie. The old story is that of a prince, (Curtis) raised among thieves. He displays his second-story talent by robbing the royal treasury, but finally overthrows the wicked prince in power and regains his rightful throne.

Strictly with emphasis on charm, action and Technicolor, "The Prince Who Was A Thief" should please. Clifton Theatre.

SPECTATOR:

You, Too, Can Be A Great Golfer-- If You Heed These Easy Lessons

Golf, as a sport, is one among many. Almost everyone who has tried it has gotten the "bug" in some form or other. Below, I will try to explain some of the reasons why it is so popular.

Golf is a form of work made expensive enough for a rich man to enjoy it. It is physical and mental exertion made attractive by the fact that you have to dress for it in a $200,000 clubhouse.

Golf is what letter-carrying, ditch-digging and carpet-beating would be if these three tasks had to be performed on the same hot afternoon, in short pants or knickers and colored sox, by gouty-looking gentlemen who require a different implement for every mood.

Look: It's Easy!

Golf is the simplest-looking game in the world when you decide to take it up, and the toughest-looking after you have been at it for 10 to 12 years.

It is probably the only known game a man can play as long as a quarter of a century and then discover that it was too deep for him in the first place.

A golf course has 18 holes, 17 of which are unnecessary and put in to make the game harder. A "hole" is a tin cup in the center of a green. A "green" is a small parcel of grass costing about $1.98 a blade, surrounded by a lot of unfinished excavations.

Cuss It

The idea is to get the golf ball from a given point into each of the 18 cups in the fewest strokes and the greatest number of expletives.

The ball must not be thrown, pushed or carried. It must be propelled entirely by about $200 worth of curious-looking instruments especially designed to provoke the owner.

Each implement has a specific purpose and ultimately, some golfers get to know what that purpose is. They are exceptions.

Higher Math

After each hole is completed, the golfer counts his strokes. Then he subtracts six and says, "Made that in five. That's one over par. Shall we play for 50¢ on the next hole too, Art?"

After the final or 18th hole, the golfer adds up his score and stops when he reaches 87. He then has a swim, a bottle of - - - -, sings "Sweet Adeline" with six other liars and calls it the end of a perfect day.

That, my friends, is golf. Well, see ya on the links, cats!

Frosh Initiation Elsewhere

Freshmen at the University of Holland are required to have their heads shaved to a high polish and, to make matters worse, are not permitted to use doors in entering school buildings their entire first year!

TEEPEE TOPICS

"ZEE FEETS TOO BIG"—The freshmen have done quite well a getting to know each other. Pa Henry was telling us, very innocently, "Jack Claus is 24. Just look at his feet and you can tell."

MUSIC MASTERS—Mountain Day antics started bright and early Wednesday. While driving out to Spruce Creek, Dr. Kenneth Crosby used one hand to steer the car and the other to hold a harmonica he was playing. He was accompanied by his wife, Jane, who was playing a recorder, a musical instrument which looks as if it were made from a table leg.

"SEEK AND YE SHALL FIND"—Birthdays are celebrated in all sorts of odd manners but we've got a new one. Connie Sherman fixed up a gift for Caryl Custer, her ex-roommate. After unpacking a huge box, she found a slip of paper that started a train of further pieces each indicating a different place to look. A long hard search finally was rewarded with the present. They say "Everything comes to he who waits."

MEOW!—The cat belonging to Dr. George Clemens has an interesting biography. His name is the combination of two mythological characters, Galahad (of The Knights of the Round Table fame), Bobjeca (the name of the Cid's horse) Cat (which he inherited from his own ancestors). The initials of this handle, G. B. C., are the same as his owner's. This feline also wears a tag saying "This dog belongs to . . ." And to top it off, the cleaning lady at Geiger House took a dislike to the Clemens' last cat so now they are teaching Galahad to spit at her in self-defense.

INDIAN SCALPS

Off the Scorecard

by Bob Asan

Allegheny Ties Indians 20-20 In Thriller Sat.

Tribe Plays Haverford Tomorrow– Homecoming Tilt

We had the chance to see the Allegheny game last week and would like to make some comments "off the reporter's scorecard".

Asan

The Indian defense inside the 15 yard line was a little short of terrific. Earl Edwards, Chuck Knox and Myron Sevick did a great job in holding off the 'Gators with the rest of the team.

Lundy Loschiavo had his best punting day in a long time. One of his boots was a quick kick that traveled 60 yards in the air. All in all he averaged 42 yards per boot.

Lundy's passing to Paul Kruzelock was near unbeatable too.

Ken Mummah comes in for comment with his place kicking. Every kick of Ken's was dead center, even the third which was a bit low. And, we believe he would have made the field goal good in the last period.

Running the reverse in fine fashion was Fred Hamor. On one trip he got away for 44 yards.

Last comment on the Juniata side of the program, we should have won.

The Allegheny field was really a beaut. Permanent stands with dressing rooms underneath them, a small but enclosed press box and a fine field to play on.

End sweeps and screen passes really clicked for the Blue and Gold of Allegheny. And, "Monk" Meyers was one solid full back.

Meyers picked up 129 yards on 23 rushing plays. He also racked up three TDs.

Pretzel Bowl

Latest on the list of bowl games is the Pretzel Bowl to be played Nov. 24 at Reading, Pa.

Albright College will meet an unidentified Eastern Pennsylvania College for the benefit of the Shriners' crippled children's hospital.

Fords Winless; And R-Macon U Bow To Ursinus

After playing their best game of the season, the Blue and Gold travel to meet a winless Haverford College football team at Haverford tomorrow. Haverford has lost to Ursinus and Randolph-Macon.

While not having too much depth the Scarlet and Black will field a starting line-up of lettermen.

Phil Vance and Don Chandler, both 6-1, are at the end posts.

190 Pound Tackles

The tackles are handled by Carter Blescoe, 6-2 190 pounds, and Leo Dvorken, 6-2 185 pounder. Backing these men up are three more tackles each weighing over 190 pounds.

Bob Collins, 5-10 175 pounds, and Ed Hollingsworth, 5-6 180 pound sophomore, are at the guard slots.

Co-captain Walt Young takes care of the pivot duties. Young tips the beams at 180 pounds.

Single Wing Offense

The Fords single wing offense is built around Dick Bourne at full back and Ted Hibberd at the tailback post. Bourne is a 190 pounds of beef, while Hibberd goes 165 pounds.

At the blocking back post is co-captain Andy Briod, 5-9 170 pound senior.

The Indians are out for win number two of the season and are also out to even the series with Haverford. This game is the sixth of the series, with the Fords having a three to two edge.

Emerging from the Allegheny game without serious injury, the Tribe is expected to be in generally top condition.

The only injury of consequence at Allegheny was Tony Segalovich's being kicked in the face. However, this is not expected to keep him out of the line-up.

The line-up will be the same as that which started at Allegheny.

INDIAN SAFETY MAN this year is Eddie Gould of Freedom, Pa. Could is a sophomore this year who won his letter as a freshman.

6 Lettermen On 15 Man Basketball Squad

Juniata's varsity basketball squad began practice last week under the supervision of head coach "Doc" Greene. Although 15 men are now working out, Greene expects to carry only 12 players this season.

Heading a list of six letter men who are returning are seniors Jack Dickey and Tom Green. Both men stand five feet eight.

4 Lettermen Above 6 Feet

Other letter-winners include Dave Bayer, 6-3, Leo Kuhn, 6-2, John Cook, six feet even and Ed Weirauch at 6-1. Bayer and Kuhn are both juniors, while Cook and Weirauch are sophomores.

Ed Feldkircher and Fran Zimmerman, both members of last years team, and Bob Rauch are also included on the present roster. All three are sophomores.

6 Freshmen Trying Out

There are six freshmen vying for varsity positions.

These six include Herb Law and "Swede" Swenson, both at 6-4, Dick Croft, 6-2 and Jim Boulton at six feet even.

Joe Hinish and Dave Pollock round out the freshmen candidates. Hinish goes 5-11, while Pollock is 5-9.

3 Games Played In IM League; Trojans Ahead

Three games were played in the intramural football league last week with the FM & M team winning two of them. The FM & M beat the Chimpos, 9-0 and the Whiz Kids, 13-6.

In the third game, the Chimpos beat the Bears by a 12-9 count.

Chimpos Lose First

The Chimpo loss to the FM & M was the first in three starts for the team. FM & M registered the only touchdown of the game when Dick Bowker went 25 yards with an intercepted pass.

A 30 yard pass from Joe Hinish to Bob Fahrney set up a 20 yard field goal by John Thomas in the fourth period.

Last Friday the Chimpos bounced back from their earlier defeat to edge the Bears 12-9.

Yanssen Boots Field Goal

Bob Yanssen put the Bears ahead with a field goal. The Chimpos came back in the second quarter with a pass play from Bill Winans to Harry Sanders good for 50 yards and a TD.

Ed Weirauch scored the second Chimpo touchdown on a lateral from Charley Mills. In the closing minutes of the third period Gene Rothenberger took a 30 yard pass from Yanssen for the Bear TD.

Hinish Passes For 2 TDs

The FM & M team rode to a 13-6 win over the Whiz Kids on the passing of Hinish. Hinish passed to Thomas and Fred Wian for touchdowns.

Another of his passes was responsible for the Whiz Kid score as Fran Zimmerman intercepted and went 50 yards for the score.

The league has been cut down in size to six team with the withdrawal of the Vikings.

Schedule of today's games:
Chimpos vs. Whiz Kids
Bears vs. FM & M

League standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Trojans	3	0	1.000
Chimpos	3	1	.750
Bears	2	1	.667
FM & M	2	1	.667
Whiz Kids	1	2	.333
Lodge Monks	1	2	.333

Alright, We Missed One

Any one who can call a tie is a pretty good swami so we don't feel too bad about missing the call on last week's game. Gonna try to get back on the track this week by calling Juniata over Haverford by a 26-14 score.

Exciting Plays Abound On 4th Quarter TD As 'Gators Tie Tribe

In a game that had all the thrills of a Hollywood production, Juniata and Allegheny played to a 20-20 deadlock at Meadville last Saturday. Juniata led at the half by a 14-7 score.

The Indian attack sputtered throughout the first quarter. Allegheny was also unable to do much until late in the period. Then the 'Gators began to drive.

A 20 yard pass from Dave Reed to Dave McMahan put the ball in scoring position at the start of the second quarter. Several plays later "Monk" Meyers split the Indian line to score. Jack Sapper converted.

Hamor 44 Yards On Reverse

Later in the same quarter Fred Hamor took the ball on a reverse and raced 44 yards down the sidelines to the Allegheny six. Lundy Loschiavo went through tackle for the score, Ken Mummah converting.

The Indians scored again as the half neared the end. Loschiavo passed to Paul Kruzelock for 46 yards to set up the TD. Loschiavo then passed the Eddie Gould for the six pointer.

Allegheny tied the score early in the fourth quarter. Carl Hermann passed to Ed Snyder on the first play.

Snyder lateralled to Jerry Watson who was stopped on the Tribe 15 by Mummah in a last ditch tackle. The play covered 49 yards.

Meyers Scores

Hermann passed to Meyers for the score on fourth down.

With 13 minutes left to play in the game, Juniata went 73 yards in ten play to go ahead once more.

Loschiavo scored and Mummah's kick hit the crossbar and bounced back into the field of play; score Juniata 20, Allegheny 14.

Watson Runs 84 Yards

Watson took Joe Veto's kick on the 12 and headed for the sidelines. At the mid-field stripe he cut across to the center and raced to the Indian four before Gould nailed him from behind.

Meyers then crashed through for the score. Jack Sweitzer and Ray Clemens came through to block Sapper's try for the point.

Loschiavo Goes 42 Yards

On the Allegheny kick off Loschiavo took the ball on the ten and got to the Allegheny 48 before he was stopped. The Indians got to the 13 in three plays and then were penalized for delay of the game.

Johnson Faces Problem In Naughty Marietta

by Jeanie Tait

"I wake up at 2 a. m. singing 'The Italian Street Song'," laughs Professor Donald Johnson, co-director of "Naughty Marietta".

This observation may give you some idea of the many problems which face the directors of such a musical. First of these is selecting the operetta and listening to try-outs for cast and chorus.

Operetta Hard Job

"You may not think choosing an operetta a hard job. Merely reading a few and saying 'This is it', but it requires much more than that", comments Prof. Johnson. The people available for cast parts, the audience, and of course the budget are all to be considered.

"I chose Naughty Marietta because it is a costume show and will give the audience more variety, since last year's operetta was a modern dress one", adds Director Johnson. However, costumes will cost approximately five times as much as in Firefly, since the setting is in 18th Century New Orleans.

Prof. Donald Johnson

Trains Chorus

The scope of his activities includes training the chorus in their songs and routines and working individualy with the cast members. Contracting for the costumes and conferring on stage business also falls under his direction.

During the last rehearsals when the cast, chorus and orchestra join their efforts, Prof. Johnson encounters the difficulty of "balancing the orchestra tone with the soloists and chorus." This situation is due to the amateur status of the participants.

"Blocking" the actions on stage also creates something of a problem. "After all, the cast and chorus can't all rush on stage from the same entrance," states Prof. Johnson. He added that the directors are responsible for scattering the actors over the entire state and creating an orderly production.

Finding People Problem

A specific problem in the production of Naughty Marietta is finding enough people to take the numerous bit parts in this comic opera.

Prof. Johnson feels that an All-College musical such as Naughty Marietta is "good for Juniata's public relations" since it draws people from town and local areas. Despite the amount of work, producing a musical is still "lots of fun" for Prof. Johnson.

Frosh Hear Talk Monday From Class Chm., Dean

The freshmen assembly was opened Monday with a pep talk about the Homecoming Day activities by the temporary chairman Russ Hill.

The importance of note taking and how to study them helpfully was discussed by Dean Mays.

Allen Barefoot and his guitar provided the entertainment for the day. He played the Guitar Boogie and sang "Something Old, Something New." The assembly was brought to a close with group singing, led by Allen and four others. Joe Henish, Bill Dilling, Fred Dick and Don Brumbaugh.

By BOB BAILEY

Looking over the agenda of the newly organized clubs we find a week filled with activity.

Next Thursday at 8 p. m. in Oller Hall the Brookside Players will present two one act plays under the auspices of the Masque.

Featuring George Parsons and Bill Fegan, J C graduates, the players will enact "If Men Played Cards Like Women Do" and "The Still Alarm". The college and community are invited and there will be no admission charge.

Preceeding the presentation of the plays the Masque will hold its regular meeting at 7 p. m. Members are requested to check the bulletin board for copies of the amendments to the constitution.

The Chapel period next Fri. will be sponsored by the IRC, and will be a special United Nations Week program.

The FTA is now engaged in its membership drive. Anyone in the education department is eligible for membership in this organization.

At the 26th annual convention of the Pa. State Educational Association held Oct. 4 and 5 in Altoona, Miss Janet Boland was elected president of the Central Convention District of the FTA. This is a new office in the FTA organization—an organization which is growing larger in Pa.

Next Wed. at its regular meeting the JCA will present Dr. Homer Will who will speak on the subject "Evolution and Christianity".

Last Mon. the Debate Club began discussion of the elementary economics included in their question on wage and price controls.

Dorcas Mertz and Martha Petre will represent Lambda Gamma at the Province Worship, Jackson Mills, W. Va., Oct. 25-27. Also attending the conference will be Ruth Armentrout who is state president of the Pa. College Home Ec. Clubs. Co-advisor for the conference is Miss Helen Fisher.

The Juniatian

Vol. 28, No. 6 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Oct. 26, 1951

Old JC Policy Upsets Plan Of Women's House

An unwritten, long-time Juniata policy was quoted by the College Personnel Committee this week in turning down the request of the Women's House Committee that "boy friends be permitted to accompany girls on baby-sitting jobs, if it is agreeable to the people for whom they are sitting."

The College does not feel it can pass on its responsibility for the girl to local citizens, the members of the Personnel Committee felt.

However, several recommendations of the Women's House Committee have already gone into effect, according to Miss Jane McCormick, acting dean of women.

Lates Usable At Will

The policy on lates has been revised to allow sophomore and junior girls to use their year's quota of lates when they choose, so long as not more than two are used in a week. These girls are entitled to one and two lates each month, or nine and 18 per year respectively. This policy is retroactive to Oct. 1, so that September lates do not enter the picture this year.

There is no change in the policy for seniors. They still will get three lates per month, and may not accumulate them. However, during the second semester senior girls will have unlimited lates.

Social Rooms Close At 10

At 10:30 p. m. on week nights the social rooms will be closed to all men except those with girls having late dates. They may use these rooms until 11:30. Girls may use the social rooms for studying and conversation from 10:30 until midnight.

The Women's Day Student Room will also be open from 10 p. m. to midnight for girls to study. This is a new policy, the dean of women says.

Lawn Displays To Be Exhibits November 3rd

The Juniatian and the Public Relations Office will award $10 in prizes for the two most original and appropriate campus decorations for Homecoming Day.

First prize will be $7.50; second is $2.50.

Contest rules are as follows:

- Exhibits may be placed in any prominent place except front campus.
- Contestants should designate which of these residence groups they represent: Geiger House, the arch and wing of the Cloister, the east and west wings of the Lodge, the Village, I. Harvey Brumbaugh House, the Faculty Club, Founders, Brumbaugh, Oneida or the day students.
- Contests closes at 9 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 3.
- All exhibits must be taken down by 5 p. m. Sunday.

Judges for the contest will view the exhibits Homecoming morning from 11:30 to 12. They are to be chosen by Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the President.

Hints On Reading Feature Monday's Frosh Assembly

Hints on "The Proper Way To Read" were offered by Dean Morley Mays in freshman assembly Monday. Following this, acting secretary Sue Jamison spoke, urging the girls to try out for hockey.

The entertainment was presented by Jean Lockhart, who sang Jerome Kern's "All the Things You Are". Allegra Forney was the piano accompanist.

Class Dues To Be Collected

Tuesday is dues days.

Representatives from all classes will be on duty either in front of Students Hall or on Founders Porch for the purpose of collecting class dues.

AMONG THEM STANDS A QUEEN! We've lined up eight of Juniata's prettiest, and today The Juniatian gives you the privilege of choosing which shall wear the crown as Miss Homecoming V. Lined up in the newly-opened Men's Lounge in the Cloister, they are, l. to r., Rhoda Clemmer, Jo Chiodi, Sarah Keller, Norma Gene Sinclair, Connie Sherman, Janice Wenger, Janet Boland and Joyce Grove. Chaperoning the beauties in their invasion (purely for the sake of photographic art) of the male domain is resident councilor Bill Wright, center.

Eight Juniata Coeds Compete For Homecoming Title In Student Elections

Eight JC coeds are vying for this honor, and one of them will be chosen by you in the election sponsored by The Juniatian.

The candidates are Jo Chiodi, Janet Boland, Rhoda Clemmer, Sarah Keller, Norma Gene Sinclair, Connie Sherman, Jan Wenger and Joyce Grove. They were nominated by the male members of The Juniatian staff on the basis of their queenly potentialities.

Biographical Information

Following is brief biographical information on the candidates:

Jo Chiodi, a senior from Hot Springs, Va., is concentrating in music education and is a member of the A Cappella Choir, Masque, Women's House Committee and JCA.

Another music major is junior Rhoda Clemmer. Active in all intramural sports, she is in the A Cappella Choir and Varsity Girls' Trio.

The other junior candidate is Jan Wenger, concentrating in education. She has served on The Juniatian staff and is active in Chapel Choir and band.

Janet Boland, a senior concentrating in elementary education, is an active member of the Masque and FTA. She appeared in "Berkeley Square," the Christmas pageant, and is now the student manager of "Naughty Marietta."

Polls for the election of Miss Homecoming V will be open today at the following hours: 1:15 to 3, 5 to 5:45 and 6:45 to 8 p. m.

Penn State President To Speak At Local Ladies' Night Dinner

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the Pennsylvania State College, will be the guest speaker at the joint Ladies Night Banquet of the Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs of Huntingdon.

The meeting is scheduled for Wednesday in the dining hall of the College. The appearance of Dr. Eisenhower will be his first in Huntingdon. He accepted the invitation last June from President Calvert Ellis.

In addition to Dr. Eisenhower, Professors Hummel Fishburn and Frank Gullo, of the Penn State Music Department, will present the entertainment.

The banquet will be served by the staff of the dining hall under the supervision of Miss Frances Mathias. A half-hour reception is planned in the social rooms prior to the dinner.

Arrangements for Ladies Night have been made by a committee composed of two members of each club working in co-operation with Juniata College.

No Listening Hour Sunday

There will be no Listening Hour this Sunday, since electric power will be off during that time.

New Light To Be Installed on Campus

A street light at the entrance walk to Oller Hall will be one of nine new lights to be installed in residential sections of Huntingdon.

Two other lights are to be placed near campus. One will be at the corner of Moore and 16½ Streets and the other will be at the corner of Oneida at 16½.

At a meeting Sept. 4, the Huntingdon Borough Council authorized the Pennsylvania Electric Company to proceed with the street lighting project at their convenience.

Penelec informed The Juniatian that other, more pressing projects must be completed before the new lights can be installed.

Most important of Penelec's projects is the installation of a new sub-station. Electricity will be off from 1:30 to 5 p. m. in the whole west end of Huntingdon Sunday afternoon to facilitate work on the sub-station.

Besides the nine new street lamps to be installed, 110 old street lighting fixtures are being replaced with lamps of stronger intensity. An important part of Huntingdon's modernization of street lighting, the new lights will give over double the intensity of the old.

Open Meeting Sees Senate Revise Rules

Revision of the Senate constitution and progress made on the honor system were the two reports given at the open Senate meeting Monday evening.

Several obsolete clauses in the constitution were deleted, while other recent duties of several chairmen were added to their respective sections. The Senate approved all revisions.

Honor System Heard

Phil Norris, chairman of the honor system investigation committee, reported on the letters received from colleges where the system is in effect. He said that the committee now plans to write to the college newspaper editors and other students to get their opinion on the effectiveness of the honor system.

After discussing the possibility of beautifying the area around the heating plant, it was decided that Jack Rothenberger should consider this as a possible phase of the constructive initiation for freshmen. Out of this discussion arose the possibility of establishing an annual Clean-Up Day on campus, when classes would be called off, and students would help "houseclean" the campus. This recommendaion was sent to Pres. Ellis.

Student opinion on personalizing audible grace in the dining hall was heard at the meeting. It was agreed that the system had achieved its purpose in making that period more worshipful and quiet.

Reservation Discussed

Joanne Pentz, head waitress, was at the meeting to make several comments on the dining hall situation. She was given the Senate's approval to have printed forms filled out by students wishing to reserve tables over the week ends. These should be handed to her by Thursday evening and must contain eight names. Miss Pentz also asked that students be told not to place their salad plates on their dinner plates.

Chairman of Athletics Bob Keim received the Senate's approval for the adjustment and altering of several of the athletic fields and for the construction of two new ping-pong tables.

J Club Dance To Top Sat. Events

Climaxing the Homecoming celebration on Saturday will be the annual J Club dance to be held in the new Memorial Gymnasium.

Chairman of entertainment is Bob Brumbaugh who is also directing the 16 piece dance band. Bob Frain, president of the J Club, emphasizes that the orchestra is strictly for the J Club and is not a school band.

Members of the band are as follows: saxes—Gene Markel, Abe Finton, Bev Chemberlain; trumpets—Holmes Royer, Chuck Pagano, Dwight Mischler; trombones—Ray McHenry, Ray Siren, Wes Diemer; piano—Mary Anne Bailey; bass—Walt Bandurak; drums—Harry Vineberg.

Steve Musto and Joyce Grove are vocalist for the aggregation. The Varsity Trio—Jo Chiodi, Rhoda Clemmer and Helen Rosengren—will also appear.

Beginning at 8:30 p. m. the dance is formal and corsages are in order. Couples should enter the main lobby where coats may be checked.

Refreshments will be served in separate rooms from 9:30 to 11 p. m.

Movie In Oller Hall

The movie Anna and the King of Siam will be shown in Oller Hall tomorrow night at 8:15 p. m.

Starring Irene Dunn and Rex Harrison, the movie is a comedy based on eastern manners vs. western.

Open House Set For Dorms

Open House will be held in men's and women's dorms from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. on both Homecoming and Parent's Day.

UN-Success Or Failure?

Since this week marks the sixth anniversary of the birth of that organization, we add our estimate of UN progress to the wordage already tossed off. We see it as both good and bad, successful and unsuccessful, in that it has met one and one half of its three announced goals.

3 Goals Listed

The goals are these: to fight cooperatively against hunger, illiteracy and disease; to provide the machinery for adjusting differences between nations when ordinary diplomatic relations fail; to build collective security.

Of these, the first has been successfully implemented by such groups as WHO and FAO, described this morning in Chapel. The second has been partially met, though the current Iranian oil question points up the fact that it is yet too early to tell just how great the scope of this success will be. And the third ideal has degenerated to the old power politics idea between nations and has failed of purpose miserably.

Social Success, Political Flop

In sum, then, it may be said that on the social and relief levels, the UN has been successful, but on the political level it has not yet begun to fulfill itself.

But then, World Government is only now entering its seventh year. May it live to reach maturity!

FROM THE EDITOR'S NOTES

● CLEANUP CAMPAIGN: The Homecoming and Parents Day Committee, which includes the deans of men and women and campus leaders representing several areas of student interest, passed a resolution last week suggesting that "the main halls in both the men's and women's dorms should be painted" before Parent's Day at least if it cannot be done in time for Homecoming. In the words of one of the deans, "I wouldn't take guests of my own through halls looking like those do." The Juniatian wishes to add its weight to this suggestion, for it is one we have heard expressed many times by the student body.

Laughter, Lewis Keynote 2 Movies

by Frank Harlacher

PAINTING THE CLOUDS WITH SUNSHINE—This week the local screen attempts to lighten the student's burdened hearts with that magical duo: comedy and song. Filling well the boots of such recent hits as "Lullaby of Broadway," Warner's offers an old and accepted formula of song and dance talents, laugh-laden lyrics and pretty girls.

Breaking this formula into its component parts, we could let Song equal Dennis Morgan; Dance equal Gene Nelson; Beauty equal Virginia Mayo and Laugh should equal that master of the Chuckle, S. Z. "Cuddles" Sakall—and it all totals up to a Good Time.

For the plot, let geometry take command and we can retreat to that ancient geometrical figure, the Triangle. It covers considerable more Areas than is to be expected of a musical; given: such favorites as "Man Is A Necessary Evil". "Birth of the Blues" and "Jealousy"—answer unknown. All in all, if you give it half a chance, we think it'll paint your heart the same color as the clouds, which might be just what your psychologist ordered. Clifton Theater.

THAT'S MY BOY—For those of you who missed its first run in the city this Summer, here's your last chance to see the latest Jerry Lewis picture.

You say you thought Dean Martin is the missing link in the team I forgot to mention? With all due respect to Mr. Martin's smooth and handsome style with a pleasing voice, let's face it—as the title implies, The Boy is Jerry. And he's not only on the ball, but kicks it all over the screen.

The structural routine is based on a light story which has Jerry cast as the puny son of a robust ex-All American football player. A tale of college life that goes hogwild with reality is the setting for the Lewis hilarity. You'll laugh at the gags of the gridiron and the accepted practice of boys and girls wandering leisurely through each other's dorms. Grand Theater.

15 Basketball Games!!

by Bob Asan

A 15 game basketball schedule has been announced for the Indians this season. They start the season Dec. 1 at Lycoming and finish up at home against LV on March 5.

Asan

On the schedule are nine home games, and six away tilts. That's fine, for this year. But how about next year. As the schedule stands there will only be six home games that season. It will take a lot of six game seasons to pay for a $300,000 gym.

5 Months Practice

We wonder also if the size of the schedule is fair with the players. Certainly a man wants to play more than 15 games when he practices for almost five months. After all, the actual playing is the satisfaction of all the practice.

The basketball schedules for the last four years have been constantly decreasing in size, from 18 games in 1948 until the present 15. In the past the Indians have played such schools as Allegheny, Baltimore, St. Francis, Ursinus and Drexel, none of which are on the present schedule.

The excuse might be given that they are out of our class, but if that is the case why do we continually play Bucknell, Albright and F & M. Certainly they too are out of our class.

Snider Asked To Increase Card

Director of Athletics Mike Snider was asked by the Student Faculty Athletic Commission to increase the size of the schedule to a maximum of 20 games. It would be next to impossible to get any more games on this year's schedule but certainly there is plenty of time for next year.

With a $300,000 gymnasium on campus it shouldn't be hard to see the reason for an expanded schedule. Besides, the students want one.

This isn't intended to push Juniata into "big time" basketball. It is just to get more complete use of the facilities at hand. The gym is nice to look at, but it's an expensive look.

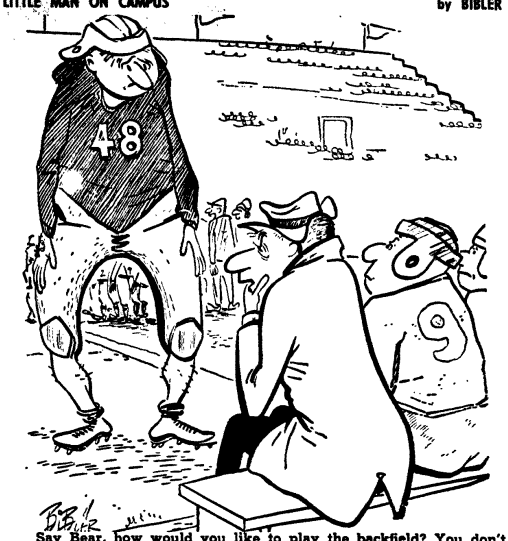
Haverford Homecoming?

They called it the Haverford Homecoming last week. You couldn't tell by looking at the west stands though. They were practically all Juniata, including a pep band and cheering section.

Among the Juniata fans were some of the guys who wore the "J" on campus; George Kensinger, Joe Beyer, Donnie Howett and George Sprague.

Indian Team Swamps Haverford By 34-6 Count

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER



Say Bear, how would you like to play the backfield? You don't seem to stop those line plays too well.

Loschiavo's Three TDs Set Scoring Pace; Segulovich, McNeal Each Count One Time

In a game in which the first half was straight football and the second a scoring spree, the Juniata Indians swamped the Mainliners of Haverford 34-6 at Haverford last Saturday. It was the Fords Homecoming Day.

Lundy Loschiavo chipped in with three touchdowns, while Tom McNeal and Tony Segalovich each scored one. Ken Mummah made four conversions out of four trys.

Dull Beginning

At the start of the game it seemed that neither team would do much scoring. After an exchange of punts, Mummah got in front of a Wayne Hurtibise pass and carried to the Haverford 22.

Before the period ended Loschiavo drove to the ten. At the start of the second quarter, Loschiavo went off tackle for the TD. Mummah converted.

On the first play from scrimmage after the kickoff, Andy Briod raced 72 yards on a reverse tackle. The try for the extra point was no good.

Loschiavo Scores Second

It was Juniata's ball again and they marched 58 yards in 13 plays. Loschiavo carried again for the score.

Mummah's try for the point was nullified by a holding penalty and the ball was put back to the 25. Mummah again split the uprights to make the score 14-6.

After kicking off to start the second half the Indians gained possession of the ball when Eddie Gould intercepted a Hurtibise pass and carried 33 yards to the Haverford 35.

McNeal Goes 35 Yards To Score

McNeal on a spinner took the ball all the way on the next play for the third TD. Mummah made it 21-6.

The Indians got their next score in the third period on a series of 12 plays that covered 67 yards. Loschiavo carried over from the six. Mummah's kick was good, making it 28-6.

Haverford moved into scoring territory three times in the final stanza. They were stopped twice when Dave LeFevre intercepted passes and one when the Indian line held for downs.

Young Passes For 47 Yards

The last Tribe score came in the last period with Segalovich carrying the mail. After holding the Fords, the Indians took over on their 32. Dick Young took a handoff from Clerf Grove and passed to Paul Kruzeock. The play carried to the Mainliner 21.

Loschiavo and Segalovich carried to the five from where Segalovich counted. His try for the extra point was no good.

At this spot the subs took over and held the Fords in the two plays they had time for.

FM & M Up In IM Race

The FM & M copped two wins last week to move from fourth place to second in the Intramural football league. The Trojans retained their league lead and extended their perfect record by beating the Lodge Monks.

Passing by Fran Zimmerman evened the Whiz Kid record as they beat the Chimpos by a 13-12 score.

Fred Wian and Joe Hinish shared scoring honors as the FM & M tamed the Bears 30-0. Wian scored twice on passes from Hinish and once from John Thomas. Hinish provided the other scores with a 20 yard run and a 100 yard sprint with an intercepted pass.

The second FM & M win came over the Lodge Monks, 38-0. Hinish started the scoring with two touchdown sprints. Then Wian took over with a pass to Thomas.

A 50 yard runback of a pass interception by Wian added another score for the FM & M. He then passed to Dick Bowker for 40 yards and six more points. Bob Fahrney added the final six points on a five yard jaunt.

Passing by Earl Detrick and Jack Dickey provided the scoring punch as the Trojans racked the Lodge Monks 35-10. Dickey tossed to Bill Eicher for two scores, while Detrick connected with Dale Zimmerman twice and Dickey once. "Hobe" Heistand added two points with a safety.

In the Whiz Kids-Chimpo game Zimmerman's arm meant the difference. In the first quarter he passed to Al Kite for the TD and point. Then after his team was down 12-7 he passed to Dick Hollinger for the clinching score.

The Chimops scored on passes to Vince Loschiavo and Harry Sanders.

Symposium Featured by IRC

By BOB BAILEY

Next Thursday evening the IRC at its regular meeting will feature a symposium panel on the topic of "Economic Development."

The panel will consist of Ronald Cherry, Ray Fowler, Galen Frysinger, and Bob Bailey. These men have recently attended an American Friends Service Committee sponsored seminar held at the United Nations on the subject and will speak from knowledge gleaned at the seminar.

Held in the I. Harvey House, the meeting will begin at 7 p. m. Anyone interested is invited.

Draft Test Set For December

Applications for the Dec. 13, 1951 and the Apr. 24, 1952 administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country. Applications for the Dec. 13 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, Nov. 5, 1951.

Eligible students who intend to offer this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Return Form At Once

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the testing date he selects. The results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

Writing to Dean Mays, who is the local administrator of the examination, Col. Henry M. Gross, State Director of Selective Service, says:

Gross Makes Suggestions

"It is suggested that you recommen to the student body that all those who have not previously taken the College Qualification Test do so as soon as they become eligible. At the present time, numerous college students are deferred for reasons other than attending college, such as belonging to a reserve component, dependency, etc. However, changes in the regulations which may result from the diminishing manpower pool, might also result in a situation where these students would have to depend on a deferment as a student to remain in college, and we think it advisable for you to present this matter to your student body in this manner."

Marvin To Speak

At its regular meeting next Tuesday the JCA will present Rev. John Marvin of Lewistown. Students who were here last year will remember Rev. Marvin's inspiring talks as the leader of Spiritual Emphasis Week.

Emery Zook, Sam Gehrett, Dorothy P. Wagner and Harry Wagner, members of the first sociology class at Juniata, will speak to the Sigma Gamma on Tuesday evening in Room C. They will commemorate the 50th anniversary of sociology at the College.

Camera Club To Meet

The Camera Club will meet next Thursday at 7 p. m. in Room B. Earl Fowler will give a lecture on proper dark-room technique and good picture composition.

Alva Walton, personal director at Fiberglas, will address the Tycoon Club next Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the I. Harvey House.

Waitresses Get P. A. System

"We have installed a P. A. system loud speaker in the serving room so that waitresses can hear announcements," reports business manager Paul Friend. The speaker is similar to those already in operation in the dining hall.

Browsing Room Now Open

A browsing room devoted to "reading for pleasure" has been opened in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House. An attendant will be on duty there from 3 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. every day during the week.

Daughter Born To Alumni

Doyle Tells Of Part In Operetta

by Jeanie Tait

"The characters must be painted very broadly — in big, bold strokes," says Miss Esther Doyle concerning her part in the production of Naughty Marietta.

She adds, "The actors must all overplay their parts so that they develop into the stock characters, such as the hero and villain, which are found in this comic opera." Miss Doyle's main task then is rehearsing all speaking lines.

General Duties Listed

Among her general duties are advertising, publicity, programs, costumes, lights, and house management. She is responsible for getting the stage set up for a new show and making the final details work.

A great deal of research on 18th century New Orleans was done by Miss Doyle and the set construction committee which, on Nov. 9 and 10, will transform the stage of Oller Hall into a city square, a marionette theatre, and a governor's ballroom.

Need Gay Scenery

"Scenery must be gay and effective, not realistic as in a play," states Miss Doyle. She adds that there is no set formula for mixing the paints to be used. The paint, glue, and water are combined, and "you must feel" the mixture to see if it has reached the right degre of stickiness.

One of the prime difficulties in producing Naughty Marietta is getting enough people to carry out the technical end of the work. Miss Doyle emphasises that "no one is specificaly chosen for this; there is work available for all who are interested."

Washington Seminar Set By Friends Service Comm.

Ray Hartsough, College Secretary of the Middle Atlantic Regional Office of the American Friends Service Committee, has announced a seminar for college students in Washington, D. C. from Oct. 25 to 27.

The topic of the seminar will be "The Political Use of Information." One session will be with a member of the United States Information and Exchange Service on "The Voice of America."

Another meeting will consider "Political Pressure on the News" with a member of Drew Pearson's staff. Another will meet with Clyde Miller, author of the book "Propaganda Analysis."

Actress Is Woman Of Few Words

by Phyllis Link

"Miss Skinner, how long does it take you to prepare one of your monologues?"

"Ages" was the candid reply. Backstage Miss Cornelia Otis Skinner is an attractive woman of very few words—perhaps the result of so many words on stage.

Since Oct. 1 Miss Skinner has been on her tour of the midwestern states; her next stop will be Columbus, Ohio. Tours occupy her Summer and Winter seasons as well. With all these engagements, plus writing and rehearsing the monologues, Miss Skinner finds her time pretty well filled. When asked of any hobbies, she replied, "Hobbies? I haven't time. I work and I have a family too, you know."

Her family consists of a husband and son who make their home in New York. Here Miss Skinner lives a "normal" life on her vacations, observing people and events. From these observations she writes occasional essays for the "New Yorker", which last year were collected in the book, "Nuts in May." Asked if she wished to relate any amusing incidents, she replied with a laugh, "I save all those for the 'New Yorker'."

Miss Skinner will open a new show of modern monologues, "Paris in the Ninties" in New York soon. To prepare the show, she will first take it on tour. In preparing her monologue, she confided, she tries them first on her family and other unsuspecting friends."

Connie Sherman Named Miss Homecoming

The Juniatian

Vol. 28, No. 7 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Nov. 2, 1951

Sinclair, Keller To Serve In Maid Of Honor Posts

Connie Sherman was elected Miss Homecoming V in a Juniatian-sponsored election Friday.

Norma Gene Sinclair and Sarah Keller were runners-up in the close election. They will serve as maids of honor to the queen during the coronation ceremonies at half-time of the football game tomorrow.

At this time Lois Miller, Homecoming Queen last year, will pass the royal crown to her successor. The new queen will then accept on behalf of the student body a key to the new Memorial Gymnasium from Henry Gibbel, chairman of the College board of trustees.

Tomorrow evening Miss Homecoming V will end her big day when she appears as guest of honor at the J Club-sponsored Homecoming Dance.

Queen Connie is the second from her class to win the royal mantle, and, having already been elected Senate chairman of women's house, should be used to winning elections. However, all she could say when informed of her new royal status was "Oh, gosh!"

In addition to her Senate duties, Miss Sherman is a member of ABC, FTA, JCA and WAA. She has been a cheerleader for four years and was also an attendant in last year's Spring Festival.

Nearly 60% of the eligible student voters appeared at the Homecoming Queen election polls this year, casting 326 ballots.

Rally, Dedication, Frolic Top Homecoming Events

Juniata's 30th annual Homecoming Day kicks off tonight with a junior class-planned pep rally and reaches its climax with the J Club Frolic tomorrow night.

Between these two events will be a full day's program of activities, including the traditional frosh-soph struggle for supremacy, the dedication of the new Memorial Gymnasium, a football game between JC and Susquehanna, the crowning of Miss Homecoming V and a pre-dance variety program in Oller Hall. There will be no classes tomorrow.

Pep Rally

Tonight at 7 p. m., a pep rally, sponsored by the junior class, will get underway to help cheer the Indians on to a victory over Susquehanna.

Students will meet in front of Founders Porch for cheering led by the cheerleaders.

Bob Wagoner, junior class president, and Lundy Loschiavo will speak briefly.

The evening will close in Sherwood Forest with a bonfire and refreshments and possibly some more entertainment.

Morning Activities

The activities of Homecoming Day proper will get underway at 9 a. m. with the frosh-soph class games on the athletic fields. A registration booth for campus visitors will also be open in Founders Chapel at this time. Tickets for the afternoon's football game will be on sale here, according to Harold Brumbaugh, chairman of the Homecoming Committee.

Opening the underclass battles at 9 will be the traditional hockey game between freshman and sophomore girls. This will be accompanied by the men's frosh-soph touch football game and followed by a tug-of-war. The class winning two of the three contests has the privilege of emblazoning their numerals on Lion's Back.

Juniata's new Memorial Gymnasium will be dedicated in a short special ceremony outside the building at 11:30. (See page 5 for details.)

Lunch will be served at 12:30.

Big event of the afternoon will be the varsity football game at 2 p. m. At half-time, the Susquehanna band will perform and Miss Homecoming V will be crowned as part of a sports history program planned by The Juniatian.

Variety Program

Tomorrow at 7:45, entertainment in Oller Hall will consist of a Home Varieties Program presented by the students, alumni, and faculty of the college.

First on the program will be Miss Marion Thomas, piano teacher, who will play three selections from Bach, Mozart, and Chopin.

Last year's Varsity Quartet consisting of Clair Schaffner, Gerry Hartzel, Ben Newcomer, and Bob Landes, will again appear on College Hill to render some of their popular songs. Shaffner is now in the Navy, stationed at New York, while Hartzel is studying at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. Newcomer and Landes are both sophomores.

Phyllis Link and Janet Boland, active members of the Masque, will then present a dramatic skit, entitled "See You Homecoming".

Closing this year's variety show will be several songs from Victor Herbert's comic opera Naughty Marietta, sung by the operetta chorus under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson.

J Club Frolic

The big day will end in a blaze of lights and music in the new Memorial Gymnasium with the J Club-sponsored formal dance. This traditional affair will begin at 8:30 p. m. and will feature a 16 piece orchestra directed by Bob Brumbaugh.

In order to protect the finish of the main playing floor of the gym, Pres. Calvert Ellis has requested that the dance be confined to the mezzanine. This, however, includes nearly twice as much floor space as the old gym, where all dances have been held until now.

According to club officials, the orchestra will be located across the right front corner of the mezzanine, with dancing to be held on both the front and back areas. Couples should enter through the main lobby where coats will be checked.

Homecoming Queen Connie Sherman has been invited as guest of honor and will be presented at an intermission program beginning about 10 p. m. Refreshments will be served in separate rooms from 9:30 to 11.

HER ROYAL HIGHNESS. Miss Homecoming V, is Connie Sherman. Elected to rule over Juniata's 30th Homecoming Day, she will be crowned tomorrow at half-time of the Juniata-Susquehanna football game. In the evening she is to be guest of honor at the J Club Frolic.

Pres. Improving After Accident

The condition of President Calvert N. Ellis has been improving gradually since his automobile accident on Monday, according to Harold B. Brumbaugh, assistant to the President. Dr. Ellis is now expected to be able to leave the J. C. Blair Hospital tomorrow.

For a time it was feared that the President would be unable to participate in the dedication of the new gymnasium Saturday morning, but his physicians now think that he will be able to leave the hospital in time to take part in the ceremony.

Six Rules Listed For Meal Announcements

According to the Senate, the following rules must be observed in connection with dining hall announcements:

- An event may be announced twice, but not more than once per day.
- Announcements must not include lists of individuals' names, nor shall any announcement be read which involves less than six people.
- There will be only one reading of announcements at each meal.
- Announcements must be presented within ten minutes after the start of the meal to the head waitress, her assistant or, if necessary, to the table waitress.
- The president of the Senate or other Senate members will review announcements and consider emergencies which necessitate an exception to the rules.
- All announcements must be typed or neatly printed.

Initiation Rules For Frosh Established; To Begin Fri. Noon

Flappers, football players, babies, angels and boy scouts will be at JC in force Friday afternoon and Saturday. All Freshmen will be "permitted" to dress in one of these costumes for the Homecoming weekend.

This evening the Freshmen and Sophomores will eat dinner together, four from each class at a table. However, the main "treat" will be given the Freshmen after the pep rally in the Women's Gym. There the Sophomores will "entertain." Refreshments and dancing will complete the program in the gym.

Freshmen will dress in one of the above-mentioned costumes and will act in character from Friday noon until after the football game. Girls, whose last name starts with A-I inclusive, will be dressed as football players. If stopped by a Sophomore girl, they must do calisthentics.

The remainder of the Freshman girls will be flappers. When requested they must do the "Charleston." All Freshman girls must travel in groups of four, two football players and two flappers. At the football game they will wrap blankets around themselves and march on the field.

Dressed as boy scouts will be Freshman boys from A-G. They must do kind deeds for the sophonores including polishing shoes and brushing clothes.

Boland Sees Musical Running Well; Brammer Compliments Orchestra

"Everything is running quite smoothly" reports Miss Janet Boland, student manager for Naughty Marietta, while Prof. Jack Brammer feels that "the orchestra has cooperated very well."

Miss Boland, who was chosen by the Senate, represents the students' point of view and heads all student committees and positions connected with the production of the All-College musical.

Prof. Brammer feels that one of the prime difficulties in conducting an orchestra is "getting the members to play softly." This is always true when the participants are amateurs.

He explained "The music for the orchestra is written by hand on manuscrips, which is often hard to read. There are some mistakes, which must be found and corrected."

"The orchestra hasn't had as much time as usual to practice but the people have worked very hard for the good of the show."

JC On The Air To Present Naughty Marietta Preview

A prevue of the Victor Herbert musical comedy "Naughty Marietta" will be presented Thursday on "Juniata on the Air." Set for 8 to 8:30 p. m., the program is to feature interviews with and songs from the show by several of the cast members.

Orchestra Chosen To Play In Marietta

The orchestra for Naughty Marietta has been announced by Prof. Jack Brammer. The members are:

Pianists, Mary Anne Bailey, Vada Jean Roof, and Fred Dick; Violins, Herman Pabst, Kay Wright, Roy Rollman, Louetta McIlroy, Prof. Brammer.

Aid On Parent's Day Lodgings Offered By Public Relations

"The Public Relations Office is prepared to help find lodgings for student's parents who are visiting the campus on Parent's Day," Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president, has announced.

Operetta Tickets Available Now

Tickets for Naughty Marietta are now on sale in the Public Relations Office and Steel's Drug Store.

Prices are $.98 Friday and $1.30 Saturday. Students will be admitted on activities cards. The cards will be punched on presentation to prevent students from attending twice.

Tonight from 6:45 to 7:30 tickets will be sold in Founders Lobby. They will also be sold next week in the lobby, and tomorrow after the Homecoming game.

Students whose parents will not be here for the all-college musical are urged to attend Friday.

Exam Deadline Set For Monday Midnight

Deadline for applications for the Dec. 13 College Qualification Selective Service Examination is Monday at midnight, according to the local administrator, Dean Morley Mays.

"Students may obtain their applications for this test at the Huntingdon board, regardless of whether or not they are under that board's jurisdiction," the dean said.

He added, "Students who have not take the test before are urged to get their application in early, whether they plan to take the test in December or April 24."

From Our Notes

● HOMECOMING: The other day we heard an idealist, or possibly a fool, say "What we ought to do is ask all the alumni to toss the money they spend getting here for Homecoming into a big box. To help pay for the new gym." He'll apologize later.

His idea, perhaps, was that this isn't our Homecoming; we've never been away. The day really belongs to the alumni. But so it should. Our only connection with the thing is to smile sweetly and do our best to help these seekers after a memory find what they're looking for—the friendliness they use to feel in the old buildings and classrooms when, as students, they were part of the picture.

After all, someday it's going to be us.

● JUNIATIAN BIRTHDAY: Nov. 6, 1924. The Juniatian was born, which means that Tuesday we enter our 28th year as "the voice of the students of Juniata College." The student newspaper supplanted a literary magazine, The Juniata Echo, which was begun in Nov., 1890 and was first edited by Dr. A. B. Brumbaugh.

● TABLE HEADS: The Senate, which appoints table heads and makes out seating assignments, has decided to move table heads each time they change assignments for students. Last year the policy was to keep heads at one place through several changes in student assignments. The reason for the new system, they say, is that "heads like changes in scenery as much as students do."

● MAIL: You can't save 3¢ by sending your weekly letter home in the laundry, says the local post office. This turns the bag of dirty clothes into first class mail, at a higher postage rate.

● INITIATIONS: Leadership Conference proposed to the sophomore class that initiations be in a constructive vein. We note that this same principal is followed at Albright College.

Editor To Take 3 Week Leave

With the completion of this issue, the Editor takes a vacation. For the next three issues, including next week's special six page Parent's Day number, the acting editor will be Jim Holsopple.

Feature page material and makeup will be in the hands of Frank Harlacher and Joyce Bernard; however, editorials for these issues have been prepared in advance by the Editor.

Ultimately, we hope to accomplish two aims through this editorial leave of absence: (1) increase the experience of the staff members involved and (2) use the time thus gained to develop several Juniatian projects which have been delayed until now.

Letters

TO THE EDITOR

Hits Film Projection Here

To the Editor:

I must compliment those who chose "Anna and the King of Siam" for showing here (last) Saturday night, but can't the school deal with a company that rents films that are in at least decent condition? As long as I can remember, we've never had a film here that we didn't have some trouble with.

A lot of money was spent to give us a very fine projector. Why can't we get the performance out of it that it is capable of giving?

Ronald Hausman

(Editorial reply: Apparently you're not the only guy with a gripe. The projection people had their problems with that movie too. According to Prof. Paul Yoder, who has charge of the projector, they ran into several difficulties.

There had to be three breaks for change of film. The film itself is so old that it broke twice. And finally, two fuses blew, cutting off the sound.)

The dime isn't entirely worthless—it makes a good screwdriver.

HONOR SYSTEM:

Early Findings Of Senate Honor System Investigating Comm. Discussed By Group

1st of a series by the Senate Honor System Investigating Committee

"Resolved, that this year's Senate investigate the possibility of instituting an honor system at the College."

Action was taken on the above Leadership Conference resolution and an investigating committee was chosen to write to various schools employing honor systems.

This committee—composed of Phil Norris, chairman, Betty Longwell, Jack Rothenberger and Joe Thomasberger—has already received a number of pamphlets and personal evaluations from interested colleges. Now, although more information is periodically coming in, the committee feels it is ready to begin to publicize its findings.

Entirely Student Controlled

Honor systems and honor courts are entirely run by students in most schools, but they have the cooperation of the faculty members. At the outset of this series, it needs to be stressed that honor systems have their geneses in the student body. No honor system can be super imposed on the students with any expectation of success.

It has been discovered however, that in schools where academic honor systems are in effect, neither students nor faculty would seriously consider going back to the old proctoring system for examinations.

Personal Integrity Important

Pervading any honor system is a high regard for the personal integrity of the individual. Also, because man is a member of society, he must abide by certain legal and ethical standards established by that society His word of honor, then, indicates his acceptance of the responsibility to abide by those standards.

More specific information regarding honor practices and codes will appear in subsequent issues of The Juniatian. Students questioning any phase of honor systems are urged to get in touch with the committee. These inquiries will be discussed in The Juniatian.

Technicolor Comedy Slightly 'Slapstick'

by Frank Harlacher

LITTLE EGYPT—The dancing girl (in the form of Rhonda Fleming) as painted on the screen by Universal Technicolor is the key note of this light comedy.

Opening in Egypt this filmplay has sly-like-a-fox Mark Stevens obtaining money in swindle fashion.

The American business man who is the object of Mark's venture is in Egypt to transport a group of Egyptians of the Chicago World's Fair. Mark ends up helping him and the remainder of the story deals with Steven's romantic actions toward the Fair's Egyptian princess (Miss Fleming)

Rhonda winds up being a fake princess, but her love turns out like all fairy tales.

Stevens and Fleming are kept busy maintaining a comedy movement with the material on hand. Although they have to resort to "slapstick" you might have to resort to your imagination, it turns out to be fairly entertaining. Clifton Theatre.

Some Fun

Oops! Flooded Again!!!!

A strictly practical pre-ministerial student of our acquaintance one day this summer found himself obliged to remain in a small hotel because of a landslide on the railway, caused by a deluge of heavy rain which was still falling. The potential friar turned to the waitress with: "This certainly looks like the flood."

"The what?"

"The flood. You've read about the flood and the ark landing on Mt. Ararat, surely?

"Mister," she returned firmly, "I haven't seen a paper in three days."

TEEPEE TOPICS:

Poem Answers Tale Of 2 Kittens

by Joyce Bernard

(Editor's note: In a recent Teepee Topics column we ran a story which, among other things, suggested that Dr. George Clemens' cat, Galahad, and the Geiger House janitress were not on the friendliest terms. In fact, Galahad had been learning to spit at her. Moreover, we hinted that the same lady and Galahad's predecessor had also been at odds. The following poem is her answer to our story.)

"Self Defense"

One moment please, Mr. C., I have a crow to pick with you.
You blamed me for disliking your other cat, something I wouldn't do.
That kitty wasn't house-broken,
And many words under my breath never spoken,
A deed like this is mighty provokin'.
I'll agree with you I really did
snort,
When the girls used my rags, mops and cleaning things of that sort.
I had 12 little Geiger girls just as sweet as could be,
But I let them all know they couldn't pull this on me.
What brings this to my memory, in The Juniatian I happened to see
That little sketch that seems to involve me,
In the first place, I didn't know
the kitty belonged to you;
In the second place, I wasn't hired for these jobs to do,
It was up to the kitty or me to skidoo.
If you teach this intelligent cat to spit back at me,
You'll get in dutch—just wait and see.
Kind friends, if I have been in the least way offending,
Will you please accept the apology to you I am sending?

Stravinsky, Pianist, To Be In Oller Hall Wed.

by Rainy Linn

Soulima Stravinsky, son of the eminent composer Igor Stravinksy, will present a piano recital in Oller Hall Wednesday. This recital will be presented under the auspices of the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges.

Mr. Stravinsky was born in Lausanne, Switzerland in 1910. At the age of twenty he made his debut after studying piano and composition under several noted teachers.

Covers Continent

Before coming to America, Mr. Stravinsky's European engagements covered most of the continent except Russia. In America he has appeared as soloist with the CBS, Boston, Denver, Nashville, New Haven, Reading, Seattle and Toronto Symphony Orchestras.

In Europe as well as in this country, Soulima Stravinsky has been recognized as an interpreter of Scarlatti, Bach and Mozart.

Firmly grounded in the classic tradition through his extensive studies with leading European teachers, Stravinsky quite naturally is accepted also as the most authorized performer of his father's works.

Chapel Speaker

Wednesday morning in Chapel Mr. Stravinsky will talk about and play some of his father's compositions. A master class will be held Wednesday afternoon for piano students. They will play for Mr. Stravinsky and he will give his criticisms.

Teaching holds much interest for Mr. Stravinsky. He is head of the piano department at the Music Academy of the West for its summer sessions. Now a permanent member of the music faculty at the University of Illinois, he has been acknowledged as a "top man" in music instruction.

Brumbaugh Writes Article On Public Relations Work

Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president, has written a 12 page article which appears in the Christian Education Journal.

The paper, entitled "A Public Relations Program for Church Colleges," was prepared for a meeting on higher education attended by staff members of the various Brethren Colleges. The meeting was held at Manchester College, Manchester, Ind.

'Braille Easy To Master,' States Hedi

by Ruth Reid

Hedi Osswald, talking about the Braille system, says anyone can learn to use it without getting mixed up. The symbols always mean the same thing when in the same positions.

The Braille system is based on the varying positions of six dots. These are punched into paper with a stylus. Straight lines are achieved by a gadget with several cells each having three grooves on the sides. She writes from right to left and then turns the paper over and reads from left to right as we do.

Takes Class Notes

Hedi takes her notes in class on a Braille slate and regular notebook paper. This goes faster and is quieter than the heavier paper she copies them onto later. This paper is more durable than the notebook sort which gets worn down, and notebooks for it are sent from the Institute she formerly attended.

There are a few books on records and a few more in Braille that Hedi is able to use when studying. Her other work is read to her by another student.

Themes Done in Braille

When writing a theme or doing other work to hand in, she first does it in Braille and then types it.

Many of the Braille books are printed in Louisville, Ky., and these are printed on both sides of the paper. However, Hedi says she is able to use only one side of a sheet when writing out her notes.

Hedi was about nine years old when she first began to attend Braille classes in Brooklyn. She went to school with other children who could see. Until she learned Braille she had to make up her own system of shorthand.

IT'S A TRADITION!

30th Homecoming Celebration Planned Tomorrow; Began in 1922

Thirty years have rolled by since the establishment of the first Juniata Homecoming Day in 1922. In that time, a number of traditions have attached themselves to the day, to make it one of the most lively on the College calendar.

Among these traditions are the Homecoming Queen, established by The Juniatian five years ago; the J Club Frolic, which several years ago replaced Homecoming evening entertainment varying from masquerade balls to movies; and the frosh-soph atheltic contests, begun in their present form in 1930.

Queens Added Color

The Juniatian-sponsored queen election and decoration contest were inaugurated as a device to arouse pep and enthusiasm among the students, as well as add color to Homecoming Day activities.

Original Homecoming Queen was Betty Kiracofe, daughter of the College's present doctor of education. She was followed by Queens Mary Lou Cannon, Gladys Gehman and Lois Miller.

First Hockey Game In 1930

The first frosh-soph Homecoming hockey game was played in 1930; only then the women wore long black stockings as an essential part of their athletic equipment. Since that time the underclass Homecoming games have included speedball, basketball and the now well-established touch football game, as well as a tug-of-war.

Without the traditional varsity football game, Homecoming Day would be nothing! It all began in 1924 when the Indians were fielded against Davis and Elkins College of Virginia. Juniata lost, 21-10.

Financial Aid Offered 4 Ways To JC Students

Four types of financial aid are available to the student at Juniata College. These are part-time work, scholarships, grants-aid, and loans.

At present nearly 22% of the student body is employed in part-time work. These jobs break down into 51 dining room waitresses, 18 science assistants, 15 library assistants, 13 office workers which include those in the offices of the teachers, 8 readers, 6 switchboard operators, 6 employed in Janitorial duties, 5 assistants in the athletic department, 2 postmasters, 2 book store employees and several doing odd jobs.

Scholarships, awarded on the basis of academic performance and promise of potential usefulness, are given annually.

Grants-and-aids are also given to students who need assistance but do not receive scholarships.

Loans are granted as a source of assistance to those in need. Repayment of these is arranged on a reasonable basis after graduation.

Modern Music Set For Listening Hour Sunday

The regular Sunday Listening Hour will be held in Swigart Hall at 2 p. m.

Emphasized this week will be modern music. Don Juan (tone poem for orchestra) by Strauss and Symphony No. 1 by Shostakovitch will be heard.

Students may enter requests for numbers to be offered later at Listening Hour by contacting Mim Smith or Miss Marion Thomas.

Work Problems Helped By Wright Study Clinic

Found: A solution to that "How to study in comfort and quiet" problem.

The I. Harvey Brumbaugh House located two doors below the College library offers not only a quiet atmosphere but an hour a day of supervised study from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m.

This time has been designated especially for those students who are finding difficulty in methods of studying, lack of previous background or for those who just find the distractions of dorm life too much.

Assistant to the Dean Bill Wright is there to answer your questions or help you solve your problem in any way he can.

Indians Meet Undefeated Crusaders In Homecoming Tilt

by Bob Asan

The Juniata Indians will be looking for their third win of the season as they meet the undefeated Crusaders of Susquehanna University in the annual Homecoming game. This is the 20th renewal of the series, with Susquehanna holding a 9-8 edge. Two games were 0-0 ties.

Led by halfback Rich Young, who has scored 46 points this year, the Crusaders have beaten Johns Hopkins 47-32; Wagner 37-20 and National Aggies 34-6. Young has also passed for seven other scores.

Wide Open Offense

Susquehanna employs a wide open offense featuring the spread formation with flankers. The starting line-up with the exception of left end and guard is made up of lettermen.

The Crusaders use fullback Gene Fenstermacher to supplement the running and passing of Young. Fenstermacher, who weighs 171 pounds, also plays on the defensive platoon.

Freshman end Mike Rising is the favorite receiver for Crusader passes. Rising stands six feet tall and weighs 180 pounds.

200 Pound Tackles

Harold Carr, 220 pounds and Bob MacNamara, 215 pounds, add weight to the offensive line as tackles.

Fred Hamor is the wingback on this Indian team. However, he does play defensive half-back also. Fred is a sophomore letterwinner who hails from Harrisburg. He weighs 165 pounds and stands five feet 10 inches tall.

Handling the blocking back spot again this year is Dick Young of Mt. Union. Dick is a junior who has won three letters. He is co-captain of the Indians this year. 180 pounds of beef is spread on his 5-11 frame.

Young, 77

McNeal, 72

Key man in the backfield is Tom NcNeal, the fullback. It is the fullback who starts almost all the plays in Bill Smaltz' version of the single wing. McNeal is a sophomore from Mifflin. He stands six feet tall and weighs 190 pounds.

Loschiavo, 18

Leading the team offense from tailback this season is "Lighthorse Lundy" Loschiavo. Lundy has scored 48 points this year already and has passed for two other scores. He is a junior who won his letter last season. Coming from Ambridge, Loschiavo weighs 150 pounds and stands 5-8 in height.

At the guard spots are 181 pound freshman Norm Livermore and junior Tom Balchen at 212 pounds. Jim Hazlett, 188 pound senior, handles the pivot duties for the Crusaders.

The defensive line for Susquehanna averages 189 pounds. Defensive halfbacks are Kay Campbell and Jim Dell, both fast men. Ken Lenker is in the safety spot.

Loschiavo Leads Indians

Against the offensive spread of Susquehanna Bill Smaltz will match his powerful single wing and a good passing game. Leading the offense is "Lighthore Lundy" Loschiavo, the triple threat tailback. In four games this year Loschiavo has scored 48 points.

More power in the backfield comes from the running of fullback Tom McNeal and wingback Fred Hamor. Ends Paul Kruzelock and Bob Wagoner give Loschiavo, McNeal and blocking-back Dick Young two good targets to throw to.

Wagoner, 76

Hackett, 67

T'berger, 78

Muchoney, 73

LeFevre, 32

Waryck, 62

Bob Wagoner handles the other end slot for the Indians this year. This is Wagoner's third year on the team and he has won two letters. He is a junior who puts 160 pounds on a 5-11 frame. Wagoner is from Johnstown.

Burt Hackett from Lampeter is 190 pounds of rough offensive tackle. He stands six feet tall and is a sophomore. Burt won his letter last year as a freshman. His tough play helps the Indian attack click.

Co-captain Joe Thomasberger is the only senior on this Indian team. Joe is called T'berger for short and comes from Johnstown. T'berger packs 195 pounds of aggressive tackle on a 6-2 frame. Joe has also won three football letters.

Bob Muchoney from Greensburg is a double duty guard. He is ordinarily an offensive guard but he also fills in on defense. Muchoney is a junior who won his letter last year. He stands 5-11 and weighs 165 pounds.

The number one offensive center is Dave LeFevre of Hanover. He also plays defensive line backer with Ron Clapper. Dave is a junior, won his letter last year, is six feet tall, weighs 165 pounds and is a deadly tackler.

"Bear" Waryck from Aliquippa is another double duty guard. He plays offensive guard and then when needed to spell the defense moves onto the defensive platoon. "Bear", a letterwinning junior, weighs 190 pounds and is 5-10 inches tall.

Kruzelock, 70

Operating from the offensive end position is Paul Kruzelock. Kruzelock, a freshman from Fair Oaks, is fast becoming the favorite receiver of Indian passes. His 6-1 frame which carries 180 pounds is a good target for Tribe passers.

Tony Segalovich, defensive halfback, started out the season at offensive end. He also has played the fullback slot. Tony is a junior who earned his letter last fall. He is 5-9 tall and weighs 160 pounds.

Segalovich, 64

Eddie Gould, a sophomore letterwinner from Freedom, has been the Indians' safety man for the last two seasons. Eddie stands five feet 10 and weighs 160 pounds. A wingback on offense, Gould scored a six-pointer against Allegheny.

Dino Patricelli, sophomore letterwinner from Ambridge, is another defensive half-back. He also spells Lundy Loschiavo at tailback when Lundy comes out. Dino, who has been out with injuries most of the season, stands five feet ten inches and weighs 165 pounds.

Gould, 63

A letterwinning sophomore from Altoona holds down the number two offensive center job along with that of defensive line backer. He is Ron Clapper, five feet 10 inches tall and 170 pounds of hard football.

The other half of the defensive end team is Jack Sweitzer from Ambridge. Sweitzer packs 177 pounds on a 5-10 frame and teams up with Ray Clemens to bolster the outside of the Indian defensive line. Sweitzer is a freshman.

Playing defensive guard and tackle is another freshman from Ambridge, Earl Edwards. He plays the tackle spot mostly where he teams his 200 pounds up with Chuck Knox. Earl is five feet 11 inches tall.

One of the smallest but most aggressive linemen this year is defensive guard Al Kuhni. Al stands five feet seven and weights but 159 pounds. His spirit makes up for any lack of size however. Al is a freshman from Ambridge.

Myron Sevick, another freshman from McKees Rocks plays at defensive guard. "Sev" packs a solid 180 pounds on a 5-7 frame. He and Al Kuhni form a strong center for the Indian defensive line.

After winning his letter as a freshman last season in the defensive tackle spot, Chuck Knox is back at it again. He uses his 185 pounds and five feet 11 inches to good advantage. Charley is from Sewickly.

Half of the defensive end team for the Indians this season is Ray Clemens. This is the freshman year here at JC for Ray who comes from Mt. Union. He is five feet 11 inches tall and weighs 185 pounds.

Another offensive tackle on this year's team is Joe Veto of McKees Rocks. Veto is a freshman and spreads 220 pounds of beef on a six foot frame. In addition to his offensive tackle job, Joe also does the team's kicking off.

Kicking the extra points this year is freshman Ken Mummah of Mifflintown. So far this year Ken has kicked eight out of 11. When the Tribe is on the defense Mummah operates from a halfback slot. Ken is 5-11 in height and weighs 175 pounds.

The fourth freshman from Ambridge this year is safety Paul Hepak. Hepak also plays at the tailback post. Paul is 160 pounds and stands five feet 10 inches tall, and has been on the injured list most of the season.

A hometown boy from Huntingdon operates at defensive guard for the Indians this season. He is junior Bill Rutter, who is playing his third season for the team. Bill is 160 pounds heavy and stands five feet seven in height.

Gould May Play

The Indians are in good shape with the exception of safety man and wingback Eddie Gould. Gould suffered a shoulder injury last week during practice. However, he may get into the game for limited action.

INDIAN SCALPS

Juniata Invitational

by Bob Asan

We've been wondering about the basketball season and the new gym for a bit now and would like to offer a suggestion to provide more basketball for Juniata.

Asan

Last fall Lebanon Valley finished construction of a new physical education building. Then, to christen it, the school held the Lebanon Valley Invitational Basketball Tournament. The tourney was considered a success and brought no little publicity to LV.

Why can't there be a Juniata College Invitational Basketball Tournament on the same basis? We can think of no reason why there can't be one and won't believe it until proven otherwise.

And, if such a tournament is to be held, plans ought to be made soon. To that end, we'd like to offer the facilities of the Juniatian sports department in any way possible.

"Lighthorse Lundy"

Bill Engel, publicity director, has come up with another nickname for an Indian back. It was Bill who tagged Mike Dzvonar with the monicker, "Meteor Mike.".

After the Haverford game, Bill told of "Lighthorse Lundy" Loschiavo in his weekly report to alumni. The name comes from the fact that Lundy goes only 5-8 and weighs but 150 pounds.

It sounds like a good name and will probably stick.

Hopin' For An Upset

It's time to try calling the winner of Saturday's tussle between undefeated Susquehanna and once beaten, once tied Juniata. It ought to be a red hot battle between half-backs Rich Young of SU and "Lighthorse Lundy" of Juniata.

The Crusaders feature a strong passing attack built around Young and freshman end Mike Rising. But, with a sloppy field the passers won't have too easy a time of it. Therefore the team with the stronger running game ought to cop the win.

Seeing as how we think the Tribe has a good running team, we've got to call the Tribe to beat SU by a 26-21 count.

Chuck Knox
● Defensive Tackle ●

Sewickley Soph Is Tough Tackle

by Bob Volpitto

Meet Chuck (Daddy-O) Knox, Sewickley's tough, smiling and be-freckled contribution to Juniata's football squad.

For the record books, Knox puts 185 pounds of bone and muscle onto a five foot, 11 inch frame. Along with a determined spirit, this makes him hard to stop by enemy gridders.

Lettered Last Season

Knox's aggresive play at the tackle slot netted him a letter last season as a freshman. And the same is holding true this year as a sophomore.

As for other sports, Knox lettered in high school basketball, track and baseball. All these were just the means "to keep in shape," as he put it. He was also on the track team here last Spring.

Ran A Steam Roller

This past summer Knox kept in condition by operating a steam roller. Maybe Susquehanna will feel as though he were still running that machine when he breaks from his defensive tackle spot tomorrow.

Speaking of the Haverford game, Knox quoted Bill Smaltz as, "It seemed as if we were all pulling together." His roomies, Vince Loschiavo, Tom McNeal and Dino Patricelli, applauded Knox's "We all wanted to win and we just put out a little extra."

SU To Be "Tough"

Number 80 expects Susquehanna to be just plain "tough." Knox expects the spread formation and trapping of Amos Alonoz Stagg to produce an interesting game, as was the case last year.

Secondary education is Knox's field of concentration off the gridiron. Someday he hopes to nail down a coaching position.

Meet F M & M In Title Series

The undefeated Trojans will meet the once beaten FM & M team in a playoff series to determine the intramural football championship for this season. The FM & M team finished with a 4-1 record, while the Trojans swept through undefeated.

In a one game series, abreviated by mutual consent, the Trojans beat the FM & M for the league championship. The score 19-6.

Last Friday the Trojans swamped the Bears 28-0 to end the regular season. The passing of Earl Detrick proved too much for the Bears. Detrick three three touchdown passes and tossed for two extra points.

Jack Dickey scored twice on passes. Bill Eicher and Dale Zimmerman also scored on pass plays.

Final standings of the league:

A Quarterback's Soliloquy

To punt or not to punt? That is the question.
Whether it is nobler in the end to take
A chance and rush and perhaps make
A first down, or to play it safe and kick:
To rush—only to fail! Aye, there's the rub;
For in that last down rush, what ills may come
When we have failed and given the ball away
Must give us serious pause. There's the thought
That brings a gray hair to a quarterback's noggin.
For who would bear the dull humility
Of being removed by the coach from the game,
When by some care he might bring glory to his name
And victory to the school.

Ambridge Frosh Defensive Tackle

by Dick Bowker

Earl Edwards, freshman from Ambridge, is doing a creditable job in holding down a defensive tackle position of the Indian team this year. Opposing teams soon learn to respect his prowess on the field.

Standing five feet 11 inches tall and weighing 195 pounds, this frosh gridder packs a lot of weight and knows how to use it. Edwards has played in all the games thus far in the campaign.

Susquehanna Is Unorthodox

Edwards feels that tomorrow's tilt with Susquehanna should be one of the most rugged of the year. The unorthodox formations employed by the Crusaders always pose unusual problems.

This season Susquehanna is emphasizing passing and Edwards feels that the Crusaders have come up with a back who can really pitch the pigskin. A wet field would aid the Indians by cutting down the effectiveness of the Susquehana razzle-dazzle, says the frosh tackle.

History Major

A history major, Edwards hopes to get into the teaching and coaching profession.

As for other athletic interests, he says that he might try out for some other of the varsity teams, baseball in particular. He pitches and plays the outfield in the diamond sport.

Frosh To Meet Sophs Saturday

The annual frosh-soph football game is scheduled for Saturday morning on the practice field. This game will help decide whether or not freshman customs remain in effect for the next week.

Both teams have been practicing for two weeks. Regular collegiate football rules will be followed except that a two hand touch instead of a tackle will down the ball carrier.

Zimmerman Is Coach

Coached by Fran Zimmerman and his staff, the sophs are expected to have a strong forward wall and a fast backfield. Zimmerman is using the single wing offense with a two platoon backfield.

John Thomas at end will provide a tall target for the left handed passes of Al Kite. Ed Feldkircher and "Hooch" Hoover will handle the kicking chores for the sophs.

Frosh Are Faster

Although less rugged in line strength, the frosh feel that they have the speedier backs. They plan to run their offense from the short kick formation with an unbalanced line. About 20 men have been working out under the coaching of Russ Hill and his assistants.

The sophs are co-captained by Vince Loschiavo and Kite, while Dick Ikeda and Joe Hinish lead the frosh. Officials for the game have not been announced.

Memorial Gym Dedication Set

Juniata's new Memorial Gymnasium will be dedicated in a short ceremony at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow. Open House for visitors is planned from 9:30 until the start of the dedication program, which will be held in front of the building.

The College band will announce the start of the ceremonies by playing the national anthem.

Folowing the invocation, D. M. Ritter, representing Ritter Bros., Harrisburg contractors who constructed the gymnasium, will present the building keys to the College. They will be accepted by the chairman of the College board of trustees, Henry Gibbel.

However, this does not necessarily mean that the College has accepted the building itself, since there are several minor adjustments which must still be made by the contractor, according to Pres. Calvert Ellis.

This ceremony will be followed with acknowledgments to contributors by the College president and a dedicatory prayer by the Rev. G. Wayne Glick.

Civil Service Math, Science Exams Offered

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Student Aid positions in the fields of chemistry, physics, mathematics, metallurgy and engineering.

This examination should be of special interest to students in their junior year. This is because the Student Aid program offers an opportunity to participate in special training programs within the federal agencies while still attending school.

To qualify for the examination applicants must pass a written test and must have received ¾ of the total credits required for a degree. Age limits are from 18 to 35. Salaries range from $2,650 to $2,875.

More detailed information about this test may be obtained from the College placement office. Applications are available in most post offices.

The remainder of the boys will be angels. Wearing wings, they must flap them and jump around when requested to "Make like an angel."

Two angels and two babies should travel together while the boy scouts should march in groups of four.

Mr. Speck is a '51 graduate of Juniata, while Mrs. Speck is the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Tobias Henry.

From the MacCollege (MacPherson to you greenies) come some comments on the state of the freshman dink. At the University of Kansas, where apparently dinks were once compulsory but since abolished, the wearing of the green has returned but on a strictly voluntary basis. No more of the "murder the frosh because he forgot his bonnet" deal, says them. At Wayne State Teachers College, Nebraska, dinks have been completely dropped.

"We hope to have the halls on the main floor of the Cloister cleaned and painted by Homecoming Day and the halls of the entire men's dorm finished by Parent's Day," business manager Paul Friend reported early this week.

Consideration is also being given to painting the halls in the women's dorm, probably during some vacation period, he added.

Two crews of student labor recruited by Bob Frain are handling the work in the Cloister. Scrubbing the walls have been Russ Sharbaugh, Bob Keim, Bill Forward, Art Allan and Glenn Felix. Painters are Bob Frain, Hobart Heistand, Fred Stauffer and Dick Hollinger.

Frosh Told Of Initiation Rules

Monday's freshman assembly was high-lighted by John Cook and Nancy McCahan's presentation of the rules for freshman initiation. Chairman of underclassmen Jack Rothenberger spoke, saying he hoped everyone involved in the initiation would keep a friendly attitude.

Dean Rhodes stated that severe punishment would be inflicted on anyone who violated the rules concerning damage to property and clothing on Homecoming.

A discussion concerning dues was led by Russell Hill, who also urged more freshman boys to report for football practice.

Entertainment was provided in the form of group singing led by Steven Musto accompanied by Fred Dick at the piano.

Herman Feels At Home; Likes Our Ice Cream

by Louise Gehman

It is now thirteen months since Herman Pabst first set foot on American soil. During that time he has come to feel very much at home among us. Among the things he particularly likes about America, ice cream comes first. "Of course we do have ice cream in Germany," he said, "but not nearly as much or as good."

When asked what he though was the biggest difference between American and German schools, he said, "The spirit among the students. Here there is a feeling of belonging and lots of fun and social life. But in Germany each student keeps more to himself, living a life in which study is the most important thing."

He said, too, that from his observations in America, it seemed to him that German schools have higher scholastic requirements, broader areas of study, and more intense specialization than American schools.

His future plans include returning to Germany, possibly next July, to continue his schooling in either Heidelberg or Cologne University. He plans to be an English, Latin, and Music teacher, as German schools require their teachers to have two majors and one minor.

4 Seniors In Honors Courses

Four seniors, Don Treese, Roger Wiley, Harry Houtz, and John Shoop, are now enrolled in Honor Courses.

An Honors Course, which is directed by a member of the faculty, provides for independent study or research beyond the scope of listed courses.

Such courses are offered only to seniors who have demonstrated their ability to do superior work in their department. Admission to the Honors Courses is granted by the curriculum committee upon application of the student.

Phil Norris and Don Sikes have the distinction of being the only students enrolled respectively in second year Greek and advanced Latin.

Noise In Library Discussed In Senate

Library noise, the need for trash disposal units, and an investigation into the operations of all campus clubs were discussed at the Senate meeting Monday night.

A letter from Miss Lillian Evans about the resolution passed at Leadership Conference concerning noise in the Library was discussed at the meeting. She reported that the Library staff is willing to cooperate in reducing the number of distractions by issuing slips which may be handed to a student to sign his name when he makes too much noise. A second slip by the same person will necessitate a talk with the Librarian or the Dean.

Asks Disposal Units

After a discussion of the need for trash disposal units on campus, the Senate passed a recommendation to Paul Friend for the purchase of such units. They also suggested several places where these units are especially needed including outside of Oller Hall, Students Hall and Cloisters.

It was decided that Kay Wright, Chairman of General Activities, and Joe Thomasberger, Vice-President, should act as a committee to investigate all clubs on campus. The purpose of this investigation will be to determine whether or not clubs are functioning according to their respective constitutions.

Class Dues Discussed

As a follow-up to Dues Day, it was suggested to Miss Wright, that she tell class treasurers to contact personally those members who have not yet paid their dues.

Reports on the intercommunication system in Cloisters, the possibility of having an All-Campus Cleanup Day during the second semester, and the progress of the Fire Marshall's committee by Stan Wass will be presented at the next meeting.

JC Sociology Celebrates 50th Anniversary

Exactly fifty years ago, the first Sociology class was started at Juniata under the direction of Professor Carman Johnson.

At this time sociology was included in the Social Science and History Departments, and the only courses offered were Practical and Theoretical Sociology.

In September, 1909, eight years after the field was begun at Juniata, there appeared in the American Journal of Sociology the folowing comment by Prof. Johnson. "Sociology is one of the most prominent lines of work in our institution. This is the sociology age, and our students are fully alive to the most advanced movements that make for civic, social, economic, political and religious uplift."

Mr. Harry Wagner and Mr. Samuel Garret were members of the 1901 class. At a recent meeting of the Sigma Gamma Club, they discussed the early aspects of sociology at JC. They told how the first class met in Oneida Hall and the study was concentrated on five topics—the individual, the family, the community, the state, and the government.

During the past fifty years, sociology at Juniata has expanded rapidly. There are now eight regularly offered courses, a Sociology Department, a club, and classes averaging 25 to 30 people as compared with first class of eight.

JC On Network Show

Station WHUN will be the point of origin for the program, which will be carried on the Mutual Network

The broadcast will be composed of recordings.

College Operetta Opens Tonight On Oller Hall Stage; Truxal, Johnson Star

French belles, American frontiersmen and pirates invade the stage of Oller Hall tonight at 8:15 p. m. when the curtain rises on Victor Herbert's comic opera Naughty Marietta.

Under the joint direction of Miss Esther Doyle, Prof. Donald Johnson and student manager Janet Boland, this musical stars Miss Joy Truxal as Marietta and Clyde Johnson as Capt. Dick.

Marietta Runs Away

Unhappy and bored with her unexciting life, Marietta, daughter of a noble Italian family, runs away and disguises herself as a marriageable casquette girl to be sent to the settlement of New Orleans by the King of France.

The first scene takes place in the city square where Marietta has hidden herself. Here she meets American frontiersman Captain Richard Warrington, who befriends her, and a mutual attraction develops. However, they vow to be no more than friends and as proof of their intentions sing "It Never, Never, Could Be Love".

Gains Love Of Pirate

Marietta also arouses the affection of the Lt. Governor's son, Etienne Grandet, who is known to the underworld as the pirate Bras Pique. Ray Siren is cast as this villain, while Roland Taylor will play the role of the Lt. Governor.

Etienne recognizes Marietta as the missing countess and is eager to win her hand, but he has troubles of his own in getting rid of a former attachment, the quadroon Adah, played by Betty Shearer.

All Saved In Due Time

Marietta, in order to escape detection, disguises herself as the son of Rudolfo, keeper of a marionette theatre. Here Etienne visits her and persuades her to attend a mask ball. She is on the point of accepting his hand in marriage when Capt. Dick arrives and reveals Etienne's true identity.

All ends happily as Capt. Dick and Marietta are reunited. Of course, no show is complete without comedy. In Naughty Marietta it is provided by Helen Rosengren as Lizette, the girl who ardently desires a husband, and Bob Flory as Silas Slick, Capt. Dick's sidekick who is constantly looking for an opportunity to improve his social position.

JOY TRUXAL and CLYDE JOHNSON will be sharing the leading roles for the second time in two years when they appear on the Oller Hall stage tonight in the opening performances of Naughty Marietta.

Open House, Game, Musical To Feature Parents Day Agenda

by Louise Gehman

On Saturday here at Juniata every Joe and Joanie College will be on his or her extra special good behavior—or perhaps we had better not make such rash promises, and say instead that they should be.

Why? The occasion is Juniata's annual Parent's Day—the day when parents come to try to improve the relationship, as such, between their Joe or Joanie and the faculty, administration, and whomever it may concern.

Program Elaborated

The program for the day will begin with registration at 9:00 a. m. which will continue until 1:30 p. m. Also at 9:00 the parents may begin visiting classes if they wish, according to Mr. Harold Brumbaugh.

Open house in both the men's and women's dormitories is scheduled from 10:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. during which time the rooms will be judged.

Lunch Free To Parents

Luncheon will be served free of charge to the parents from 11:45 to 1:00 p. m. in the college dining room.

At two o'clock in the afternoon they may attend the Juniata-Grove City football game with complimentary tickets.

The operetta, "Naughty Marietta", to be presented at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall, will provide a fitting climax for Juniata's Parents Day.

Grads Give Generously, JC History Indicates

Contributions to the Juniata Alumni Fund totaled $58,597.24 last year, according to Harold B. Brumbaugh, assistant to the president and Alumni secretary. The source of this money presents an interesting story.

Given by 1209 contributors, a large part of the fund comes from the 119 members of the One Hundred Club and the 17 members of the One Thousand Club.

Hundred Club Founded 1939

The One Hundred Club originated in 1939 when the Alumni Fund was instituted to replace annual dues in the Alumni Association. Total contributions to the Alumni Fund were a little over $8,000 that year.

The objective was to secure 100 Alumni and friends who would pledge to give $100 annually. An enthusiastic response resulted in 27 charter members.

By 1947 the Club had increased to 69, still short of the $100 goal.

Judy Starts Thousand Club

In October of '47, Chicago publisher Will Judy presented an intriguing challenge to Harold Brumbaugh. It was in the form of a $1,000 check, payable only on certain conditions.

Mr. Judy had been president of the Alumni when the One Hundred Club was established. His $1,000 check was payable only if membership in the One Hundred Club reached the 100 mark, and if ten persons could be rounded up to establish a One Thousand Club.

President Calvert N. Ellis and Harold B. Brumbaugh set out on this objective and by the end of 1947 the goal was reached.

Charter Members Named

The original charter members of the One Hundred Club were: Mr. and Mrs. Donovan R. Beachley, E. L. Brougher, Dr. Gaius M. Brumbaugh, Dr. Norman J. Brumbaugh, Dr. and Mrs. Calvert N. Ellis, Dr. (now deceased) and Mrs. Charles C. Ellis, Mrs. Florence Gibbel, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Gibbel, Dr. George Griffith, Mr. J. Lloyd Hartman, Dr. J. W. Hershberger, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Hess.

William Jamison, Joseph V. Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Chalender H. Lesher, Dr. and Mrs. C. V. Mierley, Will Judy, Martha Mentzer, Jack E. Oller, Rello Oller, Dr. Clarence Pentz, Bessie Rohrer, Daniel N. Slip, John W. Swigart, W. Emmert Swigart, Sr. (now deceased), C. P. Wenger, Mr. (now deceased) and Mrs. W. Clay Wertz.

Students Receive $32,000 Annually In Scholarship Funds

Students of Juniata now receive approximately $32,000 of financial aid per year in the form of scholarships and grants-in-aid, Harold B. Brumbaugh, assistant to the president, has announced.

Around two-thirds of this financial aid represents income from endowments specifically marked for scholarships or grants-in-aid.

Recipients Named

Recipients of endowment scholarships for this year are:

Chalender Lee Lesher Scholarship, Merrill A. Green, Jr.; Annie B. McPhail Scholarship, Jo Chiodi; Malcolm A. Long Scholarship, Phyl Link; Robert E. Miller Scholarships, Don Bracken and Helen Stutzman.

Oscar R. Myers Scholarship, Marj Alleman; Mary Eliza Buckley Fund Scholarship, Joyce Mullan; Flora C. Kirk Scholarship, Marian Brightbill; David Maurice Wertz Scholarship, Phyllis Kuhn; Henry R. Gibbel Scholarship, Phyllis Kulp.

Further Scholarships

Jennie C. and Francis Baker Scholarship, Anna Holderbaum; Ida R. Gray Scholarship, Robert Flory; King Science Scholarship, Ray Siren; J. Walter Engler Fund, Mary Lou Neikirk, Martha Petre, Charles Dunbar, Alethea Hoff, Joy Rinehart and Virginia Yohn.

From The Editor's Notebook

● DUES: In spite of Dues Day, class treasuries are low, according to reports; the constituents simply haven't all come through with the cash. One aid to unbalanced books might be that proposed at Albright College: ". . . if (dues) are not paid in full by April 1 of the year the student hopes to graduate, the treasurer's office will be asked to intervene." However, one Juniata class treasurer has a more realistic view of the problem. He says, "No dough, no dance; and they like to dance. They'll come through."

● INITIATION: Like many others, we felt some misgivings before the sophomore initiation program swung into action last weekend. We had held (and still hold) great hopes for the idea of constructive initiation, and when we saw that abandoned by vote of the sophomore class, we feared the beginnings of a return to the days of '47 and '48 when much more than personal dignity was destroyed by over-zealous initiators. Happily, our fears were false, for the entire program last Friday and Saturday apparently never went beyond the level of mere good (if sometimes wild) fun.

However, we believe that there is still much merit in the idea of constructive initiation, which we define as "a program which makes the individual feel useful, as opposed to one which merely makes him feel ridiculous." We feel that the idea was voted down this year because it was badly presented and therefore misunderstood, rather than because it was inherently unwise. We hope the present freshmen, when they plan initiation next year, will have courage enough to adopt a positive program, rather than go along with the purely negative proposal, "Let's give 'em everything we got, PLUS!"

● REHEARSAL RATINGS: We took in a rehearsal early this week of "Naughty Marietta" and were surprised at the new talent backing the old standbys Johnson and Truxal. We predict Bob Flory's wobbly-kneed comedy will pull down the house. Look for a surprise too when Betty Shearer, a mezzo-soprano we haven't heard before, sings "'Neath a Southern Moon"; she's good. Designing the set isn't enough for Homer Evitts—he takes on a part as well, and does a fine job of it, as do Nick Bruno and Roland Taylor. All are new to the acting ranks. Keep your eye on Ray Siren tonight too; it's his first supporting role, and it fits his personality like a glove. All in all, it looks like a very promising opening night is in the cards for this evening, even though the cast and crew had to contend with mid-terms right in the middle of preparing the show.

● BUSY WEEKS: Says here on our calendar that this is National Cat Week. Also, we're told that American Art Week ended Wednesday. Thought maybe you'd like to know.

The kitchen on Friday night was a madhouse with the frosh helping (?) the waitresses. Some of the oddly dressed lads barely made it to the kitchen with the heavy trays of dishes. The girls do it three times a day!

Embarassing Moments

Some of the boys in Cloisters weren't prepared Saturday when their female guests arrived. A group of girls knocked on one closed door. After much noise and commotion Mike Patuszek and Phil Halicke emerged looking like they just fell out of bed. They had! That's not the worst. Also Chet Gomeringer was caught in the bathroom with not enough clothes to cover the situation. Sorta caught in the act!

by BOB VOLPITTO

General Dwight D. Eisenhower cannot be a Republican presidential nominee unless he becomes a stab-in-the-back politician, refuting policies which he has religiously followed.

In contrast, Louis Johnson (ex-Sec. of Defense), Gen. MacArthur, and Henry Wallace have stepped down in opposition to White House dictates. Not Eisenhower, who is apparently in accord with the Administration's foreign policy.

The best bet in this circle is that Kansas' favorite son will accept the Democratic vice presidential nomination immediately after Pres. Truman again accepts the party standard.

Liberals Boom Ike

There are several supporting factors. In the first place, those eager-for-victory Republicans who are booming Ike are liberals Dewey, Driscoll, Duff and Stassen. Thus, even they agree that the General is of the same frame of mind as the President in this respect.

Also, by 1952 the Democrats will have lost more ground in Rebel country, and a Republican-Dixiecrat union seems likely. Here, then, is a good chance to strengthen a lax grip on the mid-West.

Vice Pres. Post Open

Who else could run with Truman? Former Sen. Scott Lucas of Ill. and Millard Tydings of Md. were logical choices until 1950's Congressional elections. Sen. Paul Douglas is at odds with the administration, and Minn. Sen. Hubert Humphries needs about six more years experience. Alben Barkley will no doubt retire after 1952, and Sen. Tom Connelly appears to have no aspirations to become vice president.

Finally, Pres. Truman needs someone with enough glamour to push his foreign policy. Thus with Ike steering the Senate in this

Deserts And Rivers On Screen

by FRANK HARLACHER

THE DESERT FOX—Out of World War II 20th Century Fox has pulled a story about a Nazi who was respected by his enemies. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel by his expert direction of German forces in North Africa during the war earned for himself the name of Desert Fox.

This film, by putting a sympathetic light on a Nazi, may cause the motion picture industry to be accused of being influenced by enemies of our government. Maybe the picture has been released too close to the past world war, but history proves that in any war there are great generals on both sides. Admiration of Lee by northerners today exemplifies this.

The screenplay traces Rommel's life under Hitler through the eyes of a British General who was held as a prisoner of war. The picture opens with the general's capture and shows him compiling facts to be used in the biography of Rommel.

The rest of the picture is based on this biography written by the Englishman and is supposed to be factual. It deals with the Field Marshal's escapades in Africa and includes his hand in the anti-nazi plot to assasinate Hitler.

James Mason is cast as the "Desert Fox". His acting is reported to be good and the film, if viewed in an unprejudiced light, should prove interesting. Clifton Theatre.

ACROSS THE WIDE MISSOURI—In this movie Mr. Clark Gable portrays the part of a rough-and-tough trapper who is eking out an existance in Indian country. We all know that Clark isn't getting any younger and we can't help admiring his never-say-die-guy spirit. Just how spry the old boy still is rests in your judgement.

In the plot, Clark, having been defeated by Ricardo Montalban and his Blackfoot Indians, decides that good will relations are in order if his trapping business is to survive. He succeeds in marrying up the Chief's (Jack Holt) daughter.

Relations are good for a while, but when a bad trapper kills the good chief, trouble really blows up. In the skirmish Gable's Indian bride is killed, but in the end friendly relations are again established. Grand Theatre.

Honor System Probe Gives Pro-Con Data

Minneapolis, Minn.—(I. P.)—Meeting on the campus of the University of Minnesota, representatives of 51 student bodies in American colleges and universities voted 36 to 15 in favor of the controversial "honor system."

"An honor system should be the basis of education; it should teach the student how to conduct himself and stand on his own for what he believes," according to Thelma Stevens of the Duke University student body. She believes that "an honor system should be the basis of an individual's honor, self-discipline, and self-control."

Not in favor of the honor system, Cyril H. Wecht from the University of Pittsburgh said: "I be-

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

'54 Meetings Questioned

To the Editor:

We are writing this letter as a protest against the methods by which the affairs of the Sophomore Class have been handled, the following being examples:

● The Sophomore Pep Rally, which involved expenditure of funds, was staged without a class meeting authorizing these expenditures. A committee was appointed without the knowledge or consent of most class members.

● We have seldom, if ever, heard minutes or treasurer's reports read in any class meetings.

● The list of initiation regulations was not approved by either the class or the Initiation Committee.

● The amount for the class dues was "established" by a verbal vote of a group (approximately 20 of a possible 180), far from a majority of the class, without knowing the amount in the treasury, or hearing an estimate of needed funds.

This should not be construed as an attack against individuals but should be taken as constructive criticism for the class as a whole. The laxity in management of class affairs is simply a reflection of the attitude of almost the entire class and demands the attention and thought of every interested sophomore. We believe that these conditions may be remedied by more co-operation and better attendance at class meetings.

Twirp Week Starts Female Dragnet — Boys Beware!

by Joyce Bernard

This is it, gals! At last you can do something about that crush you've had for the last month the object of which didn't even look your way. Next Week is TWIRP (The Woman is Requested to Pay) Week. Although the occasion is designed to give the females a fightin' chance in this one-sided society of ours, the boys benefit too. After a whole week of footing the bills the girls might realize just what a hole this courtin' business digs in a budget. So you girls better start saving your pennies.

The Twirp Week idea isn't a JC invention. We've received a set of rules and regulations from the national committee on Sadie Hawkins Day. The fellas had better take special note so the girls don't try to put anything over on them.

● Gals are expected to pay expenses and Skips will only take money from the feminine member of the couple.

● To get their muscles in good shape the girls must carry the boys' books.

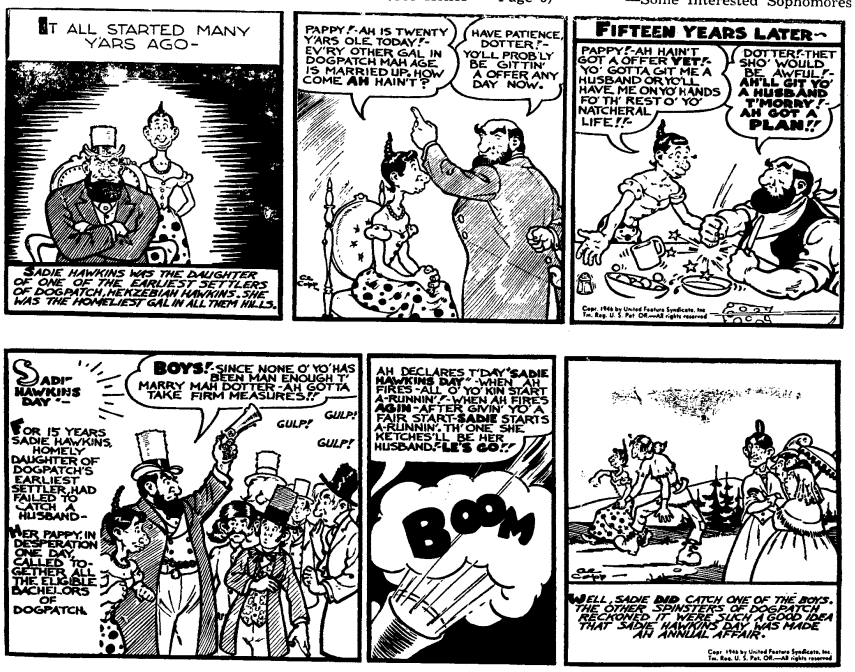
● If you aren't acquainted with the male of your choice, no introduction is necessary. Just inform him that you are Sadie Hawkins and carry on from there.

● No boy may ask a girl for a date. (You can do that the rest of the year.)

Don't Be Bashful Girls

Gal, it doesn't matter whether you take him to the movies or for a walk, just so you take him! Monday and Thursday you can drag him to the gym to dance. Wednesday is desginated as big date night, when you can take him to the movies or do whatever you think comprises a big date. As a climax, you can ask the boy you liked best of all your dates to the Sadies Hawkins Dance on Saturday night.

So eat your Wheaties faithfully, lads and be prepared to run 'cause our co-eds are going to chase like mad. And you lasses, don't be bashful, 'cause this is your only chance this year. May the best gal win!



Benjamin Tells Of Greek Classical Studies, Tour

by Ruth Reid

Miss Anna S. Benjamin, newly appointed assistant professor of classical languages at Juniata, has recently returned from a two year tour of Greece and its environs. Part of this trip was financed with a Fulbright Scholarship.

Miss Benjamin's base of operations in Greece was the American School of Classical Studies in Athens. Although her primary interest was in literature and history, she did a considerable amount of field research, studying archaeology and archaic inscriptions.

Gets Classical Background

She feels that her travels through Greece and its adjacent areas supplied her with a good classical background. After seeing the places, their names bring a live impression to her mind, and literature and history are easier to understand.

When Miss Benjamin went to Greece the civil war was going on, and the communist movement was at its peak. For the first year she and her fellow students lived under wartime conditions, there being a lack of water, food and heat.

Sees Marshall Plan At Work

The Marshall Plan was observed at first hand by Miss Benjamin, and she is able to graphically relate how its inception meant the difference between life and death for the Greek people.

When the tide of war turned in favor of the anti-red element and when Yugoslavia again became friendly to the west, the war came to a halt. Its scars remained, however, as did those of the German occupation. The hatred for the Germans is vividly illustrated by th fact that it was not until last year that any person of that nationality was even admitted to the country.

Accompanied By Guards

Perhaps the edgy state of affairs in Greece at the time of Miss Benjamin's visit may be shown by the fact the everywhere that the American group went there were Greek guards. Officials claimed that they wanted to avoid any possible trouble for the Americans.

Miss Benjamin declares that she and the students accompanying her saw a lot of the war, worked very hard, but that the trip, taken in its entirity, was really the cause of a very good time.

This is taken from the La Vie Collegienne of Lebanon Valley College who took it from the Setonian who reprinted it from the Technician.

"A patient teacher was trying to teach a young pupil how to read with expression.

"Where-are-you-going," read Bill laboriously, with no accent whatever.

"Try that again,' said the teacher. 'Read it as if you were talking and notice the mark at the end of your sentences.'

"Billy studied the 'question mark' a moment and an idea seemed to dawn upon him. Then he read triumphantly: "Where are you going, little buttonhook?"

This little gem having been reprinted by so many papers, we have but one question. Why?

The Seton Hall University Setonian has come up with the following statistics.

"Excuses for neglect of studies are of great variety and originality, but a recent survey shows the underlying causes of this unpreparedness are as follows: 72 per cent are due to women, 18.6 per cent originate through laziness, 8 per cent because of television and 1.4 are true as related by the student."

Selective Service Exam Reported By Hershey

Sixty-three percent of the 339,000 students who took the Selective Service College Qualification tests last spring and summer have attained satisfactory scores of 70 or better, it has been announced by Major General Louis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service.

KEYS to the new Memorial Gym are shown being presented to Mr. Henry Gibbel, president of the Board of Trustees, by Mr. Dale M. Ritter, representative of the Ritter Brothers Construction Company, which erected the building.

Students who did not score over 70 in the tests "may have a very difficult time indeed" in convincing their local boards that they should be granted deferments, General Hershey added.

Congress Revises Act

Congress, in the 1951 revision of the Universal Military Training act, authorized the President to provide for the deferment of those persons whose activities in study are found to be necessary to the health, safety, or interest of the nation. In granting this provision, the Congress saw the need for conserving the national intellectual resources

A student may be deferred from military training if he achieved a satisfactory score of 70 or more in the test, or has a satisfactory ranking in his class. Those with "satisfactory rank" are in the upper half of the freshman class, upper 2/3 of the sophomore class, or upper 3/4 of the junior class. All seniors are eligible for deferment.

Grad School Qualification

Members of the senior class who wish to enter graduate school may be deferred for that purpose if they stand in the upper half of their class, or scored 75 or better in the qualification test.

It should be noted that local boards are not bound by law to defer a student for any of the reasons mentioned here. The criteria are to be used only as guides, and the local board is given the final say in determining whether a student should be granted deferment.

Deferment Is Not Exemption

General Hershey announced that the intent of Congress was not to render any student ineligible for military service but only to delay his induction until he has completed his college training.

The 1951 amendments to the UMT act provide that any student who was in a deferred classification on last June 19, or who was thereafter placed in a deferred category, shall remain liable for training and service until he reaches the age of 35. Because of this, any registrant who is now deferred as a student will be required to serve two years in the armed forces sometime before he becomes 35.

Safety Comm. Duties Listed

The Permanent Safety Committee, supervised by the Senate and under the chairmanship of Stanley Wass, a junior, has the following duties to perform:

- Conduct a safety program each year.
- Check periodically on all fires and safety hazards and equipment, and report them to the proper authority with recommendation for improvement. For the women's dorm Lois Miller has been chosen as fire chief with Virginia Yohn as assistant. Their committee is planning on having a fire drill once a month, plus checking the fire equipment on each hall.
- Investigate where lights are needed on campus and see that existing lights are turned on at night. The committee for this has been chosen as follows: Jack Walters for Students Hall, Library, Old Gym; Russ Sharbaugh for the Cloister, Lodge, Oller Hall, Swigart Hall; and Sid Clark for Science Hall.
- Investigate the possibilities of having the Red Cross conduct a first aid course on campus. This duty can not be taken care of until this winter, Wass says.

Indians Bow To Crusaders By 21-12 Count

Young Of SU Steals Offensive Show As McNeal And Hepak Lead Indian Offense

by Ted McGuire

In the annual Homecoming game last Saturday the Indians took the field with high hopes of knocking the highly touted Susquehanna Crusaders from the undefeated ranks. These hopes proved to be in vain, however, as the Tribe was outscored 21-12.

It was strictly a second half ball game, as far as scoring was concerned. The Indian defense was at its best in the first two periods, which saw the half time score read 0-0.

Young Paces Crusaders

It was all halfback Richey Young for the Crusaders as he ripped off a total of 245 yards in rushing and passing plays. Tom McNeal of the Indians led their offense with 88 yards rushing and one 23 yard pass.

McNeal and Fred Hamor were the workhorses of the game for the Tribe as "Lighthorse Lundy" Loschiavo was used as a decoy for the most part. Loschiavo was sidelined just before the end of the first half with a rib injury.

Three Juniata scoring threats were stymied in the first half. Twice they lost the ball on downs and once Loschiavo fumbled.

Intercepted Pass Sets Up Score

The first score of the game came in the second half when Jack Takach of Susquehanna intercepted a McNeal pass and went to the 15. After a penalty set them back to the 39, the Crusaders needed only two plays to score.

A flat pass and a lateral netted 16 yards. Then Young pitched to end Dick Herr in the end zone for the score. Young made the kick.

To make it 14-0, Young chucked a 50 yard aerial to Steve Torok who went the rest of the way from the 25. The play covered 61 yards.

Passes Set Up Score

The Crusaders final score came on a one yard plunge by Don Walter. Three passes by Young set up the score.

On the kickoff following the second SU score, Paul Hepak took the ball on the 19 and ran 81 yards for the Tribe's first score. It was the longest and most spectacular run of the day.

The placement was blocked and the score was 14-6, Susquehanna.

A six yard pass from Hepak to Eddie Gould in the end zone resulted in the final Indian score. Three plays earlier Gould took a Hepak pass on the 32 and went all the way only to have it called back to the 12.

"O. K. men—This grassy field will give us a good chance to try our hidden ball play."

Indians Top Team In US

In spite of the defeat at the hands of the Susquehanna Crusaders, the Juniata Indians are still the best team in the country. Yes, even better than Tennessee, which is rated number one by all the "professional" sports writers. And they are considerably better than the Volunteers, about 53 points worth..

Figures and statistics compiled by Bill Carpenter, senior here at JC, show that the Tribe is 53 points better than Tennessee, 22 better than California and 51 better than Princeton. Pennsylvania should fall before the Indians by 57 points and Alabama by 67. Before you people think this is a little far fetched we now present proof positive, as shown by Bill Carpenter, that such is the case.

Indiana, Shippensberg State Teachers To Play JC Hoopsters

Three basketball games have been added to the 1951-52 schedule so that the Tribe courtmen now have an 18 game season. The games have been added with Indiana State Teachers College and Shippensberg State Teachers College.

Three teams have been dropped from the schedule. These teams are Allegheny, Drexel and St. Francis.

Only one over-night trip is in store for the courtmen this year in contrast to the two of last season. On December 14 the hoopsters play at Elizabethtown and then move on to Annville to play Lebanon Valley the fifteenth.

There are five teams whom the Indians will play in a home and home series this year. These teams are Lycoming, Elizabethtown, Susquehanna, Lebanon Valley and Indiana Teachers. All these teams except Indiana have been met on this basis before.

Although not a new opponent, Geneva will be met for the first time in several years.

Frosh Haul In Football Event By 7-6 Score

by Dick Bowker

The freshmen won their traditional Homecoming football game from a sophomore team that was superior to them in everything but spirit by a 7-6 count.

Freshmen victory must be attributed to the defensive play of its linemen. The frosh certainly cracked the heavier sophomore forward wall to stymie the soph offense.

Block Punt For Score

They finally capitalized on their aggresive play be recovering a blocked soph punt in the end zone for their lone TD. A successful boot of the extra point provided the margin of victory.

During the first minutes of the game, the sophs made it look as though it was going to be their day .They scored on the fourth play when Bill Winans caught an Alan Kite pass and raced 40 yards to score.

The conversion was short.

Frequent Interceptions

After the early soph score, muddy field conditions and frequent interceptions limited both offenses and the game lapsed into a punting duel.

During the third quarter, the freshmen threatened twice. A drive to the 23, featured by Joe Hinish's catch of a Larry Hartline pass, was nullified when Fred Wian intercepted another pass on his eight.

Frosh Threaten

Minutes later the frosh were again deep in sophomore territory after they recovered a block kick on the 26. The soph defense held and they took over on downs.

Not to be denied, the frosh forward wall threw the sophomore backs for three consecutive losses. George Pote crashed through the soph line to block Clem Rosenberger's fourth down punt from the end zone.

Bob Godshall fell on the ball and the freshman had their touchdown. Jim Settle provided the winning point with a perfect place kick.

The Distaff Side

by Kaydonna Bubeck

After Saturday's victories freshmen are again looking like normal Juniata students. The frosh girls would like to thank the frosh fellows for the fine work done on Saturday. They knew you could do it.

Myron Sevick's remark, "You have to win, fellows—I threw my dink away already!" urged the frosh into pulling the sophs into the ditch three times, thereby winning the tug of war.

The sophomore girls were victorious in the hockey game, but only after a hard fight to the finish. The score was 2-2 until Joan Chase, a sophomore, drove the ball through the goal with five seconds remaining.

In the football game, the sophomores led at the end of the first half, 6-0. But the freshmen fought back in the third quarter as George Pote blocked a punt for a frosh TD. Jim Settle clinched the victory by kicking the extra point.

When Larry Hartline and Gene Rothenberger received slight injuries, the spectators began to wonder whether the game was "touch" or "tackle".

The big game between JC and Susquehanna was exciting, especially the first half. However, Susquehanna lived up to its name as a second half team.

It seemed as if Saturday was the freshman's day after Paul Hepak made his sensational TD run on a kick off runback.

INDIAN SCALPS

Odds n' Ends

by Bob Asan

Did you people notice the two Juniata pennants above the new gym? They're the start of what we think is a good idea. When an intercollegiate athletic event is taking place on College Hill one of the pennants will be replaced with a pennant of the school playing the Indians.

Asan

In Memoriam

In the lobby of the new gym are two plaques of bronze. One of these plaques is there to show that the lobby is in memoriam to Chalendar L. Lesher, while the other indicates that the gymnasium itself is in memoriam to those Juniata students and graduates who died while serving their country.

Included on the plaque recognizing those who gave their life are J. R. Ake, M. W. Bair, K. W. Baker, L. E. Bergstresser, P. E. Byer, F. A. Cramer, D. H. Crosby, Jr., L. W. Davis.

Missed It

We missed it last week; calling the right team to win that is. Still we're gonna try again. It ought to be easier this week.

Seeing as how the Wolverines of Grove City have only won one game, a 20-18 verdict over Allegheny, and lost four games, we're going to say the Indians will win. The score? Whatever they want it to be, we hope.

Free Dinners

Blocked enemy punts are worth chicken dinners for Manchester College (Kansas) gridders and their dates. An old MC grad runs the college hang-out and makes the offer every season.

Try, Try Again

One of the Army's crack conversion experts once needed five trys at the ball before he finally converted on a touchdown in one of Army's patented routs of Fordham.

The Kaydets had rammed over a TD and Jack Mackmull came out to add the point. He booted it through the uprights and started off the field.

The kick was ruled no good though, as Army drew a 15 yard penalty. Thereupon Mackmull booted another one from the 23.

Another penalty set him back to the 39 from which spot he missed. This time Fordham was offside and he got another chance. Finally after another Ram penalty set the ball on the 11, Mackmull converted on his fifth attempt.

Four out of five conversion attempts for one point.

Pushover

Juniata has met 48 different teams on the gridiron and against one of them has a perfect record. In four games against Bridgewater College (Virginia) the Indians won four games and were not scored upon.

The scores of the series are 63-0, second highest on record, 18-0, 25-0 and 26-0.

Cagers Travel To Lock Haven For Scrimmage

by Harold Gray

The Blue and Gold basketeers hit the road tonight to meet Lock Haven State Teachers in a preseason scrimmage. This scrimmage will climax the fourth week of varsity practice.

Lock Haven was here last week for a similar workout. At that time, the Indians went through their first practice under game conditions.

Freshman Dave Pollock is expected to see considerable action tonight. Against the Maroon and Grey he hit sharply on his outside shots.

He also showed well on defense. As drills continue, he promises to be one of the squad who will bear watching.

Coach Greene has stressed fundamentals thus far in these practice sessions. Greene is stressing this to back up the team's smooth ball handling to make up for the Indians' lack of height.

Football Basically Same As In '89

by the sports editor

Football is still the same as it was in 1889. Oh, it's changed some; but it's still the same game. At least that is the impression that is gained in listening to a player of those days reminisce.

There were no downs in the game back then. The team either carried the ball for a touchdown or the other team got the ball. And the runner wasn't stopped until he couldn't move.

Few Reserves

Instead of playing the game in quarters as it is now, it was played in two 30 minute halves. And there was no platoon system either. The fact is that there were very few reserves.

"However, there were some "extras" on hand in case someone was thrown too hard." They didn't permit substitution except for injuries in those days. Injuries got to be convenient at times.

Different Scoring

The scoring is a little different this season too. In 1889 the touchdown counted four points and the conversion two. The conversion wasn't as easy to get as it is now though.

The conversion had to be made from where the runner went over for the score.

Faculty Played

Even faculty members played on the college teams in 1889. A fellow by the name of Sampson played for Iowa when he wasn't teaching.

And yet the game is still the same as it was back in the old days. As our old grad said, "I can't see any real difference between football in 1889 and now. Different techniques, yes, but the main thing is still to get that ball across the goal."

T. Green Named As Court Capt.

Tommy Green has been elected captain of the 1951-52 edition of the Juniata court Indians. Green takes over the place of Ray Korody who was graduated in June.

This is the second year on the team for Green. Last year he was the second highest scorer on the squad. In 16 games Green scored 167 points. This total came on 57 field goals and 53 fouls.

Good Foul Shot

Green is a good foul shot, making 53 out of 66 last season for a percentage of .803. He racked up 18 points against Albright for his season high.

Besides lettering on the hardwoood, Green earned a "J" on the diamond. He pitched and played the outfield for Bill Smaltz' diamond crew.

Senate Treasurer

In addition to his athletic interests, Green is also active in campus politics. He holds the post of treasurer of the Student Senate.

Green is a senior from Burlington, N. J. His major field of study here at JC is business administration.

Grovers Visit Indians Tomorrow

TAILBACK Paul Hepak, freshman from Ambridge, who stepped into the breach last week when "Lighthorse Lundy" Loschiavo was injured. Hepak returned a Crusader kickoff 20 yards for one score and passed to Eddie Gould for another. A 55 yard pass play by the same pair set up the second TD.

Wolverines Have Heavy, Experienced Team While Tribe May Be Without Loschiavo

by Bill Dilling

Sporting a record of two wins, two losses and a tie, the Indian gridders will tangle with the Wolverines of Grove City on Parent's Day tomorrow. Of the five previous meetings with the Grovers, the Tribe holds a three to two edge in games won.

So far this season Grove City has won only one game out of five played. They have beaten Allegheny 20-18, while losing to Westminster, Hiram, Thiel and Geneva.

T Offense

The Grovers use the T formation on offense. Their system is much the same as that of Westminster.

Experience is the big weapon of the Wolverines. Seniors fill five of the starting positions. Several outstanding freshman are also in the starting eleven.

The offense backfield has senior Walt Kelley, 170 pounds, under center and John Supancik, another four year man, at left half. Supancik weighs 155 pounds.

All-Star At Half

At right half is Sam Restivo, who made the district all star team last season. Restivo is a senior. The fullback is 190 pound Mike Vongrey, a freshman.

Bill McNary and "Firp" Winland, both seniors, provide targets for Kelley's passes at end. Winland weighs 202 pounds and stands 6-4. "Moose" Stauffer, 212 pound junior, operates at the center slot.

At tackle are freshman George Bobo and Paul Cuffari, 195 pound sophomore. The guard spots are handled by Dave Bestwick, 175 pounds and Marlin Getty, 190 pounder.

Heavy Defensive Line

On defensive, 205 pound John Polish at end and Elmer Metzger, 170 pound linebacker, bear watching. They are standouts for the Wolverine defense. The entire defensive line packs a lot of beef, averaging 192 pounds.

Fast men work out of the safety and halback slots. Soph Dick Koitzch, 155 ponder, is the safety man, while Bob Coates and Ralph Christy are the defensive halfbacks.

Loschiavo May Play

The Indian team is in top condition with the exception of "Lighthorse Lundy" Loschiavo. He suffered a rib injury in the Susquehana game and may see only limited action tomorrow.

Coach Bill Smaltz does not expect an easy battle tomorrow. "The boys will be facing speed in the backfield, height at end, weight in the line and all around know how," says Smaltz.

IM Basketball Begins Monday

The call for men interested in playing intramural basketball has been announced. It is hoped by Chairman of Athletics Bob Keim that league play will begin Monday.

A meeting was held this week to elect a three man commission to act as a board of governors for the league. This commission is made up of three team managers and the chairman of athletics.

It is the duty of the commission to set up the policies of the league and also act on disputed contests.

Plans were also announced concerning the formation of a soccer league. If enough show interest, such a league will be formed.

Frosh Win Interclass Games

In the intraclass games last Saturday, the Class of '55 beat the sophomores in two out of three events that were scheduled. The frosh won the football game (see story in this section) and the tug of war.

The girls of the Class of '54 won their hockey match, 3-2.

Stravinsky Likes JC Informality During Stay

by Paul Good

"Juniata is my kind of school," was the comment of pianist Soulima Stravinsky after his concert in Oller Hall last Wednesday evening.

After his last public appearance in Huntingdon, Mr. Stravinsky mentioned his enjoyment of the College food and the informality of both the faculty and the student body as the things to strike him most strongly about JC.

Leaves JC For New York City

Mr. Stravinsky visited the campus while on a two week tour sponsored by the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges. Immediately following his concert here, he left for New York, where he will make an appearance this evening.

In addition to frequent tours, Mr. Stravinsky teaches 19 hours of piano at the University of Illinois. He usually limits his tours to two weeks so that he will not force his students to miss too much work, he stated.

On his current circuit, Mr. Stravinsky plays in such diverse places as Rochester and Schenectady, N. Y., Baltimore, Md., and Columbus, Ohio.

Busy Fall For Pianist

"This fall has been particularly busy," said the noted artist, "and I could be on tour about all of the time if I weren't teaching."

On Wednesday afternoon the piano students of the College gave auditions before Mr. Stravinsky. Although he was by no means without constructive criticism, he viewed these numbers with satisfaction and comments of praise were given to both the students and their teachers.

"I am all worn out" were Mr. Stravinsky's words following the concert, but he was quick to add that his visit here had been most enjoyable.

N. Y. College Exams Set For January 12

The New York State government's annual "college series" of examinations will be administered January 12. Applications for the test are now being accepted, and may be filled any time before Dec. 10.

Included in the testing program are ten examinations in the professional and technical fields, an accounting assistant test, and a competitive exam for public administration internships.

It should be noted that residence in New York State is required for all except the engineering specialty in the professional and technical assistant examination. This is open to residents of other states. The entering salary in this field is $3,237.

Applications forms may be obtained from the State Department of Civil Service, Albany, N. Y.

lieve the entire idea of the honor system is vastly overplayed. Setting up a plan which is supposedly based on personal integrity and individual honesty will not make better students."

Many of the delegates pointed out difficulties such as the size of their school, the necessity from student enforcement of the system, and the problems of starting the system in their schools. "We are investigating the system in hope of eventually instigating it; however, we wonder in such a large and assorted student body if it would be a success," explained Jeannette Watson of Syracuse University.

Vol. 28, No. 9 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Nov. 16, 1951

Ten Seniors Named To Who's Who In Colleges

Ten Juniata seniors have been selected to be included in the 1952 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Those named are Art Allen, Betty Longwell, Mary Lou McKee, Lois Miller, Jack Rothenberger, Marj Seidel, Connie Sherman, Ray Siren, Joe Thomasberger and Kay Wright.

Selection to the group was based upon a student's scholarship, his leadership and cooperation in educational and extra-curricular activities, his general citizenship and his promise of usefulness in later life. The nominating committee was composed of representatives from the faculty and administration.

Seven of the ten members are of the Senate. Art Allen golfer from Greensburg, is president of that body. Prior to his election to the Senate post he served as treasurer of his class for two years, and as vice president of the class of 1951 for one year. He is vice president of the Tycoon Club, a member of the J Club, of which he was president last year, and a JCA participant.

He has also been on the Juniatian staff, business manager of the Indian, and twice attended Leadership Conference. Allen's field of concentration is Business.

Betty Longwell, Senate Social Committee Chairman, has also been a delegate to Leadership Conference on two occasions. In addition, she belongs to the Alpha Beta Gamma, JCA, and Future Teachers of America.

In the past she has been co-chairman of the Junior-Senior Reception, a Debate Club member, chairman of the Radio Committee, a member of the staffs of the Alfarata and the Juniatian, and an IRC affiliate. Miss Longwell is concentrating in elementary education and is a resident of Tyrone.

Mary Lou McKee is active in the JCA, FTA, Lambda Gamma and Outing Club. She was a member of the YWCA for two years and treasurer of that organization as a sophomore. She has appeared in the College musicals Firefly, Sweethearts and Naughty Marietta. In addition, she has been a member of the Chapel Choir,

Senate Should Rule On Charge For Reserved Table Absentees

This week opened with louder student rumblings than have been heard in some time. Cause of the excitement was a dining hall administrative regulation making heads of weekend reserve tables financially responsible for maintaining a full table of eight during the reserve period. Like most stories, this one has two sides.

As seen by the dining hall staff, the new ruling is the answer to what has been a rapidly worsening food-production and distribution problem as each week more and more tables were reserved, food prepared, waitresses called on duty—only to find that large numbers of the reserved places were unused.

The climax came two Sundays ago when 40 vacancies appeared in a total of 26 reserved tables.

Reasons For Absences

According to the staff, many of these absences can be accounted for because those reserving tables either (1) duplicated names of people sitting elsewhere or (2) in order to "get more food," listed people they knew intended to leave campus over the weekend.

The dining hall staff reports that only five vacancies appeared last Sunday under the new plan, and since all could be accounted for, no-one was charged. This, it was pointed out, meant that several waitresses received some

Sunday Radio Schedule Ready

The tentative schedule has been released for the JC musical show which will be produced Sunday over the Mutual Network. The program, half an hour in length, will be heard in Huntingdon over radio station WHUN. It will be broadcast in the east at 12 noon.

Groups to be heard on the program include the cast and chorus of "Naughty Marietta" and last year's A Cappella Choir. Clyde Johnson will be heard in two solo parts, and Joy Truxal in one.

Opens With Lord's Prayer

Opening with the singing of the Lord's Prayer by the A Cappella Choir, the program will continue with three songs from "Naughty Marietta."

These will be the solo by Joy Truxal, "Naughty Marietta;" the chorus and Johnson in "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp;" and the chorus in "Tesaux Voux."

Choir Concludes Program

Three songs by the choir will conclude the program. Two of these are "I Am Music" and "There is a Balm in Gilead" in which Clyde Johnson will sing his second solo of the day.

The songs to be sung by the choir are those which were heard on their tour last year.

Men Asked To Dial Dorm Pay Phones

Fellows, when you want to call that special girl, Dean Rhodes advises that you use the two pay phones rather than the exchange numbers.

Because of complaints from the local telephone office and from male students who are losing their nickels, the following night schedule has been suggested.

9955 is the number for the pay phone in the girls' dorm while 9960 will give you the phone in the Social Rooms. Exchange numbers are 310 for Pres. Ellis, Public Relations Office and Dean McCormick; 311 for the infirmary and kitchen; 312 for the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House, Library, and Home Management House.

Colloquy Set For Weekend At Penn State

An intercollegiate colloquy on the general theme "The Loyalty of Free Men" is being held at Penn State this weekend. The opening session, a banquet and address at 6 p. m. on Friday will be followed by meetings all day Saturday and Sunday morning and afternoon.

Subjects under discussion will include those of individual rights in a free society, the religious basis for freedom, and the use of power in a free society.

A variety of outstanding speakers will be presented during the conference, including Mr. Richardson Dilworth, City Treasurer of Philadelphia; Mr. J. R. Wiggins, Managing Editor of the Washington Post; Dr. John Bennet of Union Seminary; Colonel Francis Miller, Consultant to the State Department; Dean Liston Pope of Yale Divinity School, and others.

The program promises to be an interesting one. The I. R. C. and J. C. A. urge any interested members to contact Jack Ulsh or Phil Norris immediately. Transportation to Penn State will be provided for any of the three days on which meetings will be held.

Musical Called "Best Student Entertainment Here In Years"

by Marj Alleman

An enthusiastic Oller Hall audience witnessed one of the best student entertainments of recent years in last weekend's production of "Naughty Marietta."

Joy Truxal, as Naughty Marietta, daughter of an Italian nobleman, displayed all the vivacity and charm which was necessary for the role. The brilliance and exhuberance of her singing will long be remembered by those who witnessed the production.

In spite of the fact that Clyde Johnson was fighting a cold and an attack of laryngitis, (almost enough to discourage any singer), he likewise did an admirable performance playing opposite Joy in the role of Captain Dick.

Helen Rosengren and Bob Flory came close to running away with the show, however, with their comedy scenes. In character from beginning to end, they managed to keep the audience laughing for a good part of the evening.

Several of the newcomers to the Oller Hall stage showed signs of real talent. Betty Shearer, as Adah, promises to be one of the important personalities in future musical productions.

Homer Evitts also did his part to introduce plenty of humor into the show with his portrayal of the stooped, nervous and feeble Florenzo, Secretary to the Lieutenant Governor. Likewise, Ray Siren much-appreciated free time and the kitchen was saved from preparing extra food needlessly.

Reserved Table Fracas Has Several Facets

Student argument against the new plan is threefold:

- The wrong person, it appears, is made responsible for delinquencies. Assuming the proper care has been taken in filling out the reserve slip, and the head has checked with his table-mates before reserving a table for them, he can hardly be made "his brother's keeper."
- Any collection of cash from a head would be a duplication of charge, since the students claim that meal cost is included in board. Students feel they should therefore be entitled to "cut" a meal any time they choose. This argument fails to consider the fact that when any appreciable number of students register for a given meal several times over and/or fail to show up, they foul up the kitchen's estimate of food requirements by just that much.
- Students felt several absence-producing factors—parental invitation to dinner, sudden and unexpected ride home, illness, or simple desire to sleep—should have been taken into account before making such a stiff penalty a part of the "attend-or-pay" rule. Headwaitress Jo Pentz, however, has since indicated that she intends to accept some of these excuses, at least.

In the light of these facts, we believe the dining hall staff acted much too hastily and much too arbitrarily in their attempt to place responsibility for reserved table attendance.

Senate Should Act

Admittedly they have a problem, but it is properly one for the student Senate to act upon; in fact, in view of the still evident student belief that the matter is not yet settled satisfactorily, we strongly believe that it is still a matter for an open Senate meeting where all the facts can be viewed by both parties.

One point which will surely appear at such an airing will be the need for a plan to put responsibility for appearing at a reserved table (once the student has agreed to sit there) upon that individual, not the table head.

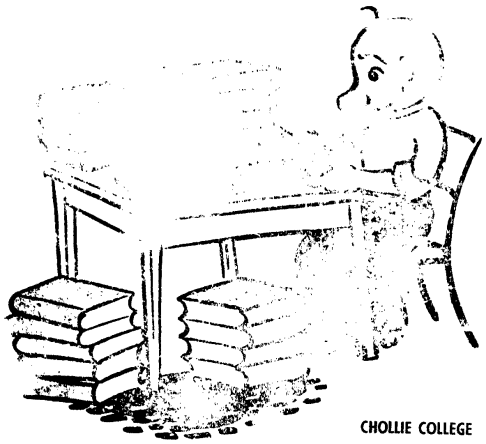
. . . Ah, The Idle Hours Of Youth . . .

by D D. Silldorff

Why Chollie, I'd love to go out with you tonight . . . but it just sort of seems that . . . well I have that economics exam tomorrow and I sorta got behind a little over Homecoming because of the dance and the games and things and . . . well, as a matter of fact, it sort of shot the whole weekend . . . and with my German test coming up I hardly feel as though.



CHOLLIE COLLEGE

But Chollie, really, I'd love to . . . it's just that with that speech due and then I have to be at rehearsal every night almost, I'm in the chorus, ya know. Well, I know we don't have practice that night but I did want to hear that musician in Oller Hall, and I have three different club and committee meetings for then, too.

But . . . blut . . . well, really Chollie, if I didn't want to go I'd say so, but with those two quizzes in chem to check over, and I have to read that stuff for my term paper that was due yesterday and I didn't get in because my history map was due, and then you know Parent's Day is coming and I ought to go babysitting, too, since they did ask me last week and I can use the money, I haven't gotten ma and pa their tickets for the operetta yet and they gotta see the thing so I can prove I'm in it . . . I gotta have some excuse for those mid-semester marks.

Now really Chollie, if I had just one spare night, now don't be like that . . . just because you only have three tests, band practice, A Cappella rehearsal, JCA cabinet and two themes due is no reason to try and convince me I don't have work to do . . . but Chollie, really . . .

Watch That Ohioan!

by Bob Volpitto

Ohio's Sen. Robert A. Taft thus far is the only self-committed candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. Thirty-nine years ago the Senator's father left this high office, and Bob, now 62, has attempted to bring it back into the family since 1940.

In that year he had 189 delegates lined up, but a dead-lock between him, the late Sen. Vanenberg and Gov. Dewey brought about ex-Dem. Wilkie's dark-horse nomination.

Taft gave way to his fellow Ohioan, Gov. Bricker, in 1944, but in 1948 he sought in vain to "stop Dewey."

Now the task seems to be "Stop Ike," another of "glamour-boy" type. The greatest asset Taft has to date is that Eisenhower has not committed himself, and therefore the draft movement may be headed off before it gets started.

Honor System Would Strengthen College

(Edit Note: Submitted as 3rd in a series by the Senate Honor System Investigating Committee)

Mutual Trust

A feeling of mutual trust is essential to the ideal honor system. The students must have confidence in each other's willingness to abide by the standards of the honor code. The confidence of the faculty and administration is also essential and is desired by the students.

Trust must be placed in the ability and willingness of each student to discipline himself. Faith in the moral integrity of the individual is the indispensible condition of any honor system.

Mutual Responsibility

To be a meaningful institution, an honor system must not be only an ideal concept but a working reality. Mutual responsibility, therefore, is necessary and expected of all persons affected by the system.

The student must assume responsibility for himself, and in the ideal practice, report himself for violations of the honor code. He must also take initiative to encourage his fellow students to abide by the code.

An honor system will strengthen the institution of self-discipline both in theory and in fact as the student demonstrates his ability to use the authority vested in him. Mutual trust and mutual responsibility are key concepts. Although they are prerequisites to an honor system, the institution itself is of such a nature that it fosters these virtues.

CINEVIEWER

Music, Comedy Lightens Screen Subjects

by FRANK HARLACHER

DARLING, HOW COULD YOU? —Here's a comedy that touches on melodrama because of slightly slow action.

Lacking action the film compensates by plot which involves John Lund and Joan Fontaine (Dr. & Nurse) returning from the Canal Zone where the Panama Canal is under construction. The couple's attempt to regain the confidence of their children who have forgotten them is the keynote of the movie. Mona Freeman and Dave Stollery give the leads favorable support as the two children. Grand Theatre.

TEXAS CARNIVAL—In the Technicolor Musical Comedy line Metro has shined in the past. Here's their latest which seems to balance these ingredients in an entertaining style.

Marquee names such as Esther Williams, Red Skelton, Howard Keel and Ann Miller would be enough to lure any movie-goer.

The plot, however, is simple which in my books makes for greater musical comedy success. It merely has Skelton and Williams posing, because of mistaken identity, as the wealthiest man in Texas and his sister with Lone Star grandeur as the setting. Your imagination can probably tell you how Red will handle such a situation.

Esther and Howard, of course, get together on the love angle and Keenan Wynn can always be depended upon for laughs. What do you think? Clifton Theatre.

INDIAN SCALPS

Professional 'Amateur'

by Bob Asan

The state of Colorado recognizes scholarship athletes as paid workers. This was proven in the case of Nemeth vs Colorado. Ernest Nemuth sued to receive workman's compensation for a football injury received while playing football for Denver University.

Asan

Nemeth claimed he lost his $26 weekly salary (campus job plus room and board) after a football injury.

Under the workmen's compensation laws, ruled the state industrial commission referee, Nemeth is entitled to $13 a week from the time of his injury until it no longer keeps him from the job for which he was hired: playing football.

Making Them Count

Up until midway in the season, Valparaiso University in Indiana scored 23 touchdowns on only 53 first downs. That really is going for the breakway run.

After Saturday's game, the Indians have made 85 first downs in registering 16 TD's. Tribe opponents have made only 69 first downs while scoring 15 six pointers. All this goes to show that you either go all the way against the Indians on your first crack or you don't go.

Murder

Lebanon Valley's Flying Dutchmen come to town tomorrow for a football game. It will probably end up as a pier six brawl though. LV plays rough and the Tribe won't take too much from them.

The Dutchmen have one of the finest small college teams in the east this year and they don't particularly care who they rub into the dirt to prove it. They have a six and two record.

We're picking LV to win for any number of reasons, not the least of which is quarterback Lou Sorrentino. Sorrentino, according to Bill Smaltz, could step into any big college or university backfield and feel right at home. And that's high praise indeed.

Congrats

We think congratulations are in order for Tom McNeal's fine display of running Saturday. Tom picked up 143 yards on 33 carries through the center of the heavy Wolverine line. That's averaging better than four yards per carry.

The 143 yard total is the highest since Phil Chabody and Joe Dobal each picked up 140 yards last year against Grove City.

Juniata Defeats Wolverines 13 - 7

Indians Meet LV In Final Tilt On Sat.

Dutchman Seek 7th Win; Tribe Ready For Upset

In the season's finale for both teams, the Indians will play host to the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley tomorrow. The Tribe will be looking for an upset win while LV will be out to garner their seventh win as against two losses.

The Dutchmen's two losses have come at the hands of the Indiantown Gap military reservation and Western Maryland. Indiantown won by a 12-7 count while the undefeated Terrors won on a second half rally 20-12.

Held PMC To 3 Yards Rushing

During the season Lebanon Valley has downed such teams as F & M, Muhlenberg, Albright, Upsala, Moravian and PMC. Against the Cadets of PMC the Dutchmen defense gave up only three yards rushing.

In eight games this season the Dutchmen have scored 132 points, while limiting the opposition to only 56.

Soph Leads Offense

Lebanon Valley's offense is led by sophomore quarterback Lou Sorrentino and half-back Don DeBenedett. Spelling Sorrentino on offense and playing defensive ball is co-captain Fred Sample.

The backfield has eight lettermen from last year's team, including Sorrentino, Sample, Ralph Giordano at fullback and Joe Oxley at a half-back slot.

LV has a big defensive line with 14 men tipping the beams at 190 pounds or better. Nine of these men are letterwinners.

The Dutchmen come to town with the team in good shape with the possible exception of letterwinning guard Bob Gustin. The rest of the team is ready to go against the Tribe.

Tom McNeal Stars, Gains 143 Yards As Indians Win Third

The Indians broke a 7-7 tie by scoring at the opening of the fourth quarter and defeated Grove City 13-7 last Saturday before a large Parents Day crowd. A two yard plunge by fullback Tom McNeal capped a 28 yard drive started by Ken Mummah's pass interception.

Playing without the services of "Lighthorse Lundy" Loschiavo, the Indian offense was led by the running of Tom McNeal. McNeal gained 143 yards, mostly on trap plays "up the middle".

Indians Score First

The Indians gave the Parents Day audience a thrill by scoring first. A 58 yard drive was climaxed by an 11 yard jump pass by Paul Hepak to end Paul Kruzelock. Mummah raised the score to 7-0 with a perfect conversion.

This score came in the opening minutes of the second quarter. After this neither team was able to start an effective offensive drive. Grove City once got as far as the 20 before losing the ball on downs.

Hepak returned the second half kickoff back 32 yards to the 42 yard line before he was run out of bounds.

Restivo Goes 33 Yards For TD

Minutes later Grove City scored on a 33 yard dash by Sam Restivo. "Moose" Stauffer converted to tie the score at 7-7.

Midway in the quarter Fred Hamor went 42 yards on a reverse, carrying to the Wolverine 30. The drive finally ended on the 21 when a fourth down pass fell incomplete in the end zone.

In the final minutes of the third period, Mummah intercepted a Grove City pass on the Wolverine 28. In ten plays, led by McNeal who accounted for 23 of those yards himself, the Indians scored.

McNeal Scores

McNeal carried over from two yards out on fourth down. Mummah's try for the point was wide and Juniata led 13-7. After this, the game settled down into a matter of time before the Tribe picked up their third win of the season.

The entire Indian line played great ball. Particularly outstanding was the defensive work of Dave LeFevre and Earl Edwards. Both consistently helped turn back the Wolverine offense.

Asan To Edit New Publication Due December 5

A new publication will make its initial appearance at the first home basketball game of this season. It is to be a basketball program. A contest is to be held to name the publication.

This program, a Juniatian service project, is to be edited by Bob Asan. Paul Good is the business manager. Others on the staff include John Long and Jim Streiner.

Contest Ends Nov. 27

To enter the naming contest, which closes Nov. 27, all you must do is write your title for the program and sign your name on a slip of paper. Then deposit the slip in the box on the door of the Juniatian office.

The office is below Founders Porch, across from the Public Relations Office of Mr. Harold Brumbaugh.

Winner Guest At Dinner

The winner of the contest and his guests are to be the guests of the program staff at a dinner at the Town House before the first home game.

Judges for the contest are "Doc" Greene, basketball coach; Mike Snider, Director of Athletics; Bill Engel, school publicity director and Bob Keim, Senate Chairman of Athletics.

Juniata Music Collection Donated By Andrew Carnegie; Used In Listening Hour

A number of years ago, Andrew Carnegie donated music collections to high schools, colleges, and universities over the country. Juniata was fortunate in receiving one of these collections of approximately 700 records and a phonograph.

In this collection any type of classical music can be found. Among the many records are Choppin Etudes; "American in Paris," by George Gershwin; Handel's "Messiah"; "Barber of Seville," by Rossini; "Madam Butterfff," by Puccini; and symphonies by Tschaikovsky. Anything from vocal solos to symphony compositions are included in the collection.

Since the time of this donation the school has added more records to the collection making a total of aproximately 1000. Any that may be worn or get broken are replaced by the college.

These records are kept in a room in Swigart Hall in cabinets. They are kept under a card file so that every record has a certain place and can be easily obtained.

Miss Thomas is in charge of the collection with Mim Smith as her assistant.

Students cannot play the records unless there is someone there to look after them. But with special permission from Miss Thomas they may be taken out for use in a student's room.

The records used in the dining hall on Sundays are not the records from this collection.

Every Sunday afternoon at 2:00 a listening hour is held in the Recital Room in Swigart Hall for students to enjoy these records. The history and content of the music is given before playing each record. If anyone would like to hear a certain record played he may give his request to Mim Smith and it should be heard the following Sunday.

When the curtain first rises all appears to be quiet and peaceful. It soon becomes apparent, however, that Manningham is attempting to torture his wife out of her sanity under the guise of kindliness.

Rough Enters Scene

On one occasion while he is out of the house, Mrs. Manningham is called on by Inspector Rough of Scotland Yard. He is convinced that Manningham is a man wanted for a murder committed in the Manningham house 15 years in the past. He managers to give Mrs. Manningham confidence, and together they work to build up evidence against her husband.

Some of the finest suspense in the modern English theater is seen as the pair work to convict Manningham.

Students may obtain tickets to this production in the usual manner, by presenting their activities card at the information window.

and Nick Bruno, as Etienne and Rudolfo respectively, were more than satisfactory in their roles, though Ray appeared so gallant that one found it a little difficult to be convinced of his treachery.

The colorful singing and acting of the supporting chorus contributed, on the whole, to the excellence of the performance. However, at times it was almost impossible to understand the words of the songs that were being sung.

The orchestra got off to rather a cold start, probably because of limited time to practice. However, with the playing of "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" in the Overture, they warmed up sufficiently to do a satisfactory job for the rest of the performance.

France to confer with the General in an attempt to force the issue just as Taft backers hoped.

Such questions as : Is Ike a Republican?, Is he another me-too candidate?, and Can the General be pursuaded by Taft forces that the race just is not worth the effort?, must be answered before the first of the new year before the Eisenhower camp can get into full swing.

What of Taft's policies? A representative struggle in 1950 Ohio Congressional elections vindicated the Senator's stand on domestic issues. Now, in June, 1952, at Chicago his foreign views will be given examination.

In a recent speech the mid-Western conservative flatly asserted that we could never rely on the UN to prevent aggression. It appears that 100,000 causulties in Korea alone demonstrate this point.

Taft Policies

In Congress Taft voted against NATO and refuted Truman's Far Eastern policies as being tainted with resignation and defeatism.

Some say he will imperil our present "operations rathole" in Europe, and others state that the stumping nationalist will merely cut down and economize.

Whether Mr. Republican can defeat the policies of corruption, irresponsibility and socialistic tendencies on the domestic scene, and the diplomatic double-talk bungling on the foreign, depends entirely on North-eastern "win-at-any-price Republicans.

Opposition to Sen. Taft lies only in the field of petty jealousies which seek to find another Dewey in a general's uniform.

Tonight at 7:15 the FTA will present a panel discussion at its regular meeting held in Founders Chapel, the panel consisting of two elementary and two high school teachers. The educators will discuss such questions as loyalty oaths and discipline problems and will give their own opinions concerning the value of their college courses, the value of extra-curricular activities, the value of student teaching and the like. The meeting will then be thrown open to discussion and questions by the students.

The JCA in conjunction with the IRC is sponsoring delegates to an intercollegiate colloquy on "The Loyalty of Free Men" which is being held today through Sun. at Penn State. Thirteen students are attending the meetings which will include such topics as "Individual Rights in a Free Society", "Religious Basis of Freedom" and "The Use of Power in a Free Society".

Next Mon. the Debating Society will hear a short lecture by Dr. Booth concerning some basic economics.

Vol 28 Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. Nov. 30, 1951 No. 10

Explanation Given For Failure Of Sun. Show

The U. S. Post Office apparently was the gremlin which snafued the Mutual Network-WHUN broadcast of the A Cappella Choir originally scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 18.

According to two reports from Mutual's New York offices to WHUN and Harold Brumbaugh, the tape recording of the show was "probably crushed in the mails and so developed undertones which made it unfit for broadcasting."

Another Chance Not Likely

"We probably won't get such an opportunity again soon," both Mr. Brumbaugh and Bill Germann, WHUN representative, believe.

Germann pointed out, however, that both Mr. Brumbaugh and Pres. Calvert Ellis had heard the tape recording several days before the scheduled broadcast and had expressed their approval.

Permission Granted Year Ago

Permission to do the network broadcast was originally obtained from Mutual by WHUN about a year ago on the basis of a KDKA recording of last year's A Cappella Choir.

Because of Prof. Donald Johnson concentration on the student musical "Naughty Marietta," Germann was unable to secure the participation of this year's A Cappella group, which Johnson also directs. So the network show was finally made up of the recordings of last year's choir plus a taping of songs from the Victor Herbert musical.

Typical Student Penna. Native; Lives In Dorm

by Jeanie Tait

Have you ever wondered about the male-female ratio at Juniata? Or how many resident students there are? Or the number of different states represented? Or which church most of your classmates attend?

Naturally you may have some vague idea but here are the actual facts and figures as released by the registrar's office.

78 Percent From State

Four foreign countries, 11 states and the District of Columbia are represented but Pennsylvania dominates 78 percent of Juniata's fall term enrollment of 541.

Of the 121 out-of-state students, sixty percent come from New Jersey, to make a total of 72. Maryland ranks next with 18 students while New York sends 14.

Other states represented are Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Massachusetts, Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

Four From Abroad Here

One student each from West Africa, Brazil, Germany and Panama comprise the foreign student contingent.

Of the 541 classified students, 332 are men, making the ratio of three men to every two women.

The freshmen class is the largest with 169 members while the sophomores run a close second with 167. 110 juniors, 95 seniors and 22 unclassified bring the grand total up to 563.

The dorm students outnumber the non-resident group 455 to 86.

Students From 47 Counties

Among the 47 counties in the distribution report, Huntingdon and Blair are the highest ranking with 72 and 51 students respectively. The other top ranking counties are Cambria 28, Mifflin 23, Allegheny 21, Bedford and Montgomery 20, Westmoreland 19, Philadelphia 13, Chester 12.

The Church of the Brethren have the largest number of students on campus, 120; with the Methodist and Presbyterian running close behind. 34 Church creeds are represented with only eight students stating no religious preference.

All-Class Night Directors Appointed

Phyllis Link
● Assists Miss Greene ●

Greene Heads Annual Event

Carrie Lou Greene and Phyllis Link have been chosen to serve as chairman and assistant chairman for this year's All-Class Night. Both were chosen by the Senate.

Miss Greene, a senior from Middletown, is concentrating in Business Administration. She is treasurer of the Masque, secretary-treasurer of the Tycoon Club, and a member of the Women's House Committee. She is also serving as business manager of the Juniatian.

Link Is Masque President

Miss Link is a junior from Johnstown and is concentrating in English preparatory to a career in teaching. She is president of the Masque and has appeared in such productions as "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" and "Berkeley Square." She is a member of the Juniatian staff and FTA.

The 16th Annual All-Class Night program will be presented April 3. Each class will prepare and present an original twenty minute skit which will be judged according to an established standard based on performance and direction, scripts, and staging. Keener competition will be urged and each class is asked to keep its production plans secret.

Classes To Meet Tuesday

Class meetings will be held Tuesday in order to select directors and committees. The Script committees should be organized as soon as possible and writers are asked to limit their skits to 20 minutes.

A student-faculty committee will select the most suitable scripts from all of the entries. After the scripts are chosen, a schedule or rehearsals will be posted. Most rehearsals will be staged in Oller Hall.

Each class may spend no more than 15 dollars on its production.

Senior Class To Hold Winter Party Saturday

The gymnasium will be transformed into a "winter wonderland" as the seniors take over on Saturday night with their annual class party to which all faculty and students are invited.

Scheduling their party for 8:15 in the old gym, the senior class, under the direction of Jo Chiodi, has planned a full evening of informal dancing and entertainment. According to Shirley Nell and Ray Siren, co-chairmen of the entertainment committee, the program for the evening will include selections by the Varsity Male Quartet, a reading by Miss Nell, and numbers by Phyllis Frederick, a piano and song stylist of Philadelphia.

Glenn Felix and Ginny Masemer head the decorating committee, while Ruth Armentrout and Esther Weaver are in charge of refreshments.

Party chairman Jo Chiodi requests the cooperation of the seniors to help make the party a success. They are asked to come to the gym on Friday afternoon or evening, and anytime Saturday to help decorate. For those who feel that they have no artistic talent, there will be plenty of opportunity to help with the clean-up on Sunday afternoon.

Class To Give Demonstrations

The College foods laboratory on Nov. 30 will be the scene of the first in a series of food demonstrations given by the Home Economics students.

Planned by the members of the food demonstration class under the supervision of Miss Helen Fisher, the demonstration will be open to the public free of charge and visitors are welcome to attend any of the four in the series.

Anne Webber, a senior from Basking Ridge, N. J. will prepare "holiday cookery" this afternoon at 2 p. m.

The other members of the class —Ruth Armentrout, Jo Anne Barksdale, and Mim Barnes—will be featured in the following demonstrations on Dec. 7, Jan. 4, and Jan. 11.

The class spent the first half of the term learning how to demonstrate food preparation. Now they will begin to put this knowledge to practical use. The public demonstrations will serve as final exams for the students in Miss Fisher's class.

Longwell Named To Madamoiselle College Board

Betty Longwell, senior from Tyrone, has been chosen to be a member of Mademoiselle's national College Board.

She is one of 700 students who competed with applicants from colleges all over the country. She will represent Juniata and report on College life and happenings. She will complete three assignments in competition for one of the twenty Guest Editorships to be awarded next June.

The Guest Editors will journey to New York next June for four weeks to help write, edit or illustrate Mademoiselle's College issue.

Miss Longwell is concentrating in Elementary Education. She is the Senate Chairman of Social Activities and was recently elected to Who's Who in American Colleges. She has also been chairman of the Radio Committee and attended Leadership Conference for two years.

Frosh Elections To Be Held Monday, Hill States

Russell Hill, chairman of the freshman class, has announced that permanent class officers will be elected at the next freshman orientation assembly.

At the last meeting Miss Esther Doyle spoke to the group on the subject, "How to Give a Short Talk." Following this, Alan Barefoot with his guitar led the class in group singing.

Link To Head JC Christmas Show, Dec. 16

Phyllis Link, a junior from Johnstown, has been chosen student director of the sixth annual Christmas Pageant to be given Dec. 16 at 3:30 p. m. in Oller Hall.

This year's pageant will be The Nativity, a Christmas mystery play by Ralph Marryott. It will be presented by the members of the Chapel Choir under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson.

The Masque will be responsible for the technical end of the production, while the men of the A Cappella Choir and a dozen faculty children will be included in the program.

Home Economics students under the supervision of Mrs. Kenneth Crosby will make authentic costumes for the children.

Miss Link is concentrating in English, preparatory to a teaching career. She is the president of the Masque and has appeared in "Our Heart Were Young and Gay," and "Berkeley Square." She is a member of the Juniatian staff, FTA, and Women's House Committee.

The class in Child Development is helping to sponsor a Nursery School for children of the faculty, administration, and town.

Under the direction of Mrs. Houtz, the nursery school meets every Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a. m. behind the women's dorm.

From 9 to 9:45 a. m. the children engage in group play. Next on the agenda is supervised play—singing, games, and stories. Time out for refreshments is taken at 10:30, then more outdoor play follows.

Equipment for the children includes books, records, easels for painting, plus the swings and jungle gyms outside.

Nathan Thomas, Lodge Janitor, In Hospital

Mr. Nathan Thomas, Lodge janitor, has been a patient in the J. C. Blair Hospital since Nov. 18. Mr. Thomas, better known as "Pop" to Lodge residents, was stricken with a severe pain in his leg while climbing a flight of stairs.

Doctors suggest that he may be suffering from a pinched nerve.

A donation of about $15 was made by the men of the Lodge in order to buy Mr. Thomas a gift which was given to him before Thanksgiving.

A petition to have a full time janitor provided for the Lodge during the absence of Mr. Thomas was submitted to Paul Friend, business manager of the college.

FROM THE EDITOR'S NOTES

Senate Posts For Prexies?

● CLASS PREXIES: It has long been our opinion that the class president, as such, has very little to do. Oh, there's an occasional class meeting to call and preside over, and the annual class party to appoint committees for; what we're concerned about is that though they are supposed to be the official representative of their respective classes, they wield less actual campus influence than the presidents of many campus clubs, who represent far less people.

The answer might be found in a trick employed at George Washington University. Their student council just voted to admit the class presidents to student council as non-voting members "to provide good-will and to keep the classes informed about Council activities." An additional benefit to such a plan here, of course, would be that the Senate would then be in a position to hear opinions from the four largest interest-groups on College Hill. And as for precedent for such a move, consider that it has already been seen fit to recognize freshman class interests by electing a chairman of underclassmen.

● NEW FEATURE—Another new feature was launched last week by the feature staff. Written by Charlie Dunbar, the Car Corner is designed to keep car fans up to date on the latest trends. A business major, Dunbar's lifelong interest in cars keeps him well informed in automotive matters.

World Ends But Kelly Dances On

by Frank Harlacher

AN AMERICAN IN PARIS—Musical interludes featuring George Gershwin's songs and Gene Kelly's feet will describe the contents, but there's more behind it than that.

This is Mr. Dance's biggest role and its all his from start to finish. The tide of dance sweeps throughout the film and just about drowns out the thin plot. Newest dancing discovery, Leslie Caron is introduced opposite Kelly. Both her feet and her figure are expected to please.

Another interesting factor is MGM's method of putting across the music, namely Oscar Lavant. The humerous piano player is recognized as the day's number one interperter of Gershwin's music.

If your're not discouraged by fantastic technicolor tactics and trick photo-play then "An American In Paris" is a good musical risk. Clifton Theatre.

After much suspense the film's principals evacuate via rockets to the new planet and live happily ever. Realistic photography puts the picture in the "A" bracket. Grand Theatre.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Senate Rules On Reserved Tables

To the Editor:

Several weeks ago an administrative ruling was issued to the effect that table heads would be held financially responsible for maintaining a full table during the reserve period. Due to student resentment against the ruling an open Senate meeting was held last week to air the opinions of the students along with the opinions of the administration and dining hall waitresses.

Limited space prohibits a lengthly discussion of the pro's and con's presented at the meeting, but after hearing both sides of the issue the decision was made to continue with the present ruling.

Here's why.

● It was pointed out that the ruling was not made to strictly impose a financial penalty on the table head whose table was not completely filled, but rather as a means to make table heads feel the responsibility of having their tables filled with eight students.

● Headwaitress Jo Pentz said that legitimate excuses for absences will be accepted.

● It was felt that the reserve table is a privilege and the person reserving a table should feel it his duty to maintain a full table. Partially filled tables result in added work for both the waitresses and those preparing the food.

● To abolish the privilege of reserving tables would revert back to the "stampeding era" of getting there first to save seats for roommates or friends, a condition I am sure none of us would welcome.

We students should understand the spirit and feeling behind the ruling, regarding it not as a "weapon" to make us pay double for meals, but as a move to promote better dining hall procedure by eliminating extra work, confusion, etc.

At least for the present the ruling seems to have eliminated the problem of half-filled tables. No-one has felt bankruptcy by so-called "double taxation" for meals. So let's look at the ruling objectively and give the new plan a try.

DINING HALL DILEMMA—Sunday night supper was served amid much scurry and confusion. Only five faithful waitresses returned to school; Marian Brightbill, Carol Loudermilk, Ginny Yohn, Anastasia Shchirow, and Mary Ann Moyer. They handled eight tables in the dining hall through every process including dish washing. Despite vacations, the show must go on!

THE AGE OF SPEED—Art Shriver and his '39 Buick willingly collected 5 people to transport to South Jersey for Thanksgiving. But as a result of flat tires, a lazy generator and a leaky radiator, many hours were spent repairing the buggy en route. Sixteen hours was the speed record set for the return trip. (And Shriver's Dad works for the railroad!)

INDIAN SCALPS

This Hoop Season

by Bob Asan

Tomorrow marks the beginning of another basketball campaign here at Juniata, the third under Doc Greene. And, from what we've seen, we think it will be one best.

Asan

We think the Tribe is going to take more than their share of ballgames from teams their own size and give the taller teams a real battle. And don't be surprised if one of the bigger teams gets bumped.

We'd like to go on record as saying that this edition of the Indians will win half their games, or close to that mark. And, we pick them to start out with a win over Lycoming tomorrow.

Missing from last year are Karl Park and Ray Korody. It's hard to replace as good a shot as Karl was but we think Dave Pollock will do okay. Doc has got several scrappers to use under the boards replacing Korody. All in all we think the team will do alright for itself.

The Tomahawk

Tommy Green was the winner of the basketball program name contest. Tommy entered the name The Tomahawk. Sometime during the season he and a guest will have dinner as the guests of the program staff.

Bowled Over

Lebanon Valley met up with a pretty good Morris-Harvey team in the Burley Bowl and came away with a 27-20 defeat. However Lou Sorrentino was named the most outstanding player of the game.

Jayvees Open Sat.; Face Lycoming Away

Coach Bill Smaltz' junior varsity basketball squad began drills this week. The first game on their schedule is tomorrow night when they travel to Williamsport to take on Lycoming.

Smaltz has stressed offensive drills in the early practices. He is trying to develope a team with smooth ball handling and shooting.

18 men turned out for the early practices including three men from last year's team. These men are Dave Hackett, Bob Rauch and Bob Simon. Freshman Jim Boulton who will dress for the varsity games also is on the jayvee team.

12 games have been scheduled for the team.

The probable starting line-up for tomorrow's game will be will be sophomores Rauch and Simon, Boulton and another freshman, Joe Hinish and Hackett, a junior.

Trojans, FM & M, Bridgers, FS & C Lead IM Loop

Four teams have perfect records in the intramural basketball league with the Trojans and FM & M setting the pace with two wins each. Harry Sanders is leading the scorers with 56 points in two games.

The Trojans overwhelmed the Wild Woodsmen, 104-14, in the opener for both teams. Sanders led the scoring with 36 points. Against the Sherwood Globe Trotters, the Trojans won by a 59-30 count.

Bottomley Leads FM & M

Don Bottomley led the FM & M to a second half rally to beat the YHO's, 43-41, after being down 27-16 at the half.

In the opening game for both teams, the Bridgers swamped the Coal Crackers, 67-10. Another opening game saw the FS & C come from behind a 18-16 half time score to beat the District No. 3, 36-33.

Rockets Win Two

The Rockets picked up two wins in beating the Fubars, 42-28, and the Bookmakers, 59-31. Bouncing back from their first defeat, the Fubars notched their second win by beating the Sackhounds, 35-27.

In a close game, the Bookmakers edged the Sackhounds, 39-36. Another tilt saw the Wild Woodsmen beat the Hunters, 34-29.

LATEST—The new scoreboard for the gym is one of the latest models manufactured.

New Scoreboard To Be Ready Soon For Basketball Contests

The new basketball scoreboard and timer to be installed in the gym is a Scoremaster and is manufactured by the M. D. Brown Co. Outstanding on the scoreboard is the flasher-timer.

Time remaining in the game is shown on two banks of green lamps. As each second and minute goes by the flasher-timer lops off the second and minute from the appropriate bank.

Score is kept on another set of two banks of lamps. These lamps are red in color as compared to those for the time which are green. All the banks, both time and score, are four lamps wide and six high.

The overall size of the scoreboard is 72" by 34" with the number banks measuring 6½" by 10". The scoreboard is black in color with the name of the teams playing lettered on translucent plastic which is lighted from within.

An electric horn automatically sounds off to designate the end of each period of play. The entire scoreboard and timer is run by remote control from a single set of controls.

DISCUSSING the past football season are co-captains Dick Young and Joe Thomasberger along with coach Bill Smaltz.

1951 Was A Good Year For Indians

We had a good team this year. That is the way Coach Bill Smaltz and Co-captains Dick Young and Joe Thomasberger summed up the 1951 football campaign.

All three men are of the opinion that this was a good building year and Smaltz says that in a year or two Juniata ought to have a great football team if these men stay in school.

"The offense was good this year, especially with the one-two punch of Lundy Loschiavo and Tom McNeal," said Smaltz. This was seconded by Young who added, "the defensive line play was outstanding."

Also coming in for high praise was the line-backing team of Ron Clapper and Dave LeFevre, as was the defensive work of Earl Edwards. Bear Waryck's fine all round play also was outstanding.

According to Young and Thomasberger, the Allegheny game was the best the Tribe played. Smaltz said they were all okay.

Tribe Opens Campaign Faces Lycoming At Wmsport Tomorrow

The Indian basketeers inaugurate the 1951-52 campaign tomorrow night against Lycoming College at Williamsport. After this game, the Blue and Gold have two home tilts next week when they meet Bucknell and Grove City.

Coach Doc Greene has promised "Juniata will put on the floor a well conditioned team with an organized attack". Greene also said that the Indians will be in the game all the way and although not going out on a limb predicting victory, he stated that the team might come home with a win.

Frosh To Start

The starting line-up shows four lettermen and one freshman. Freshman Dave Pollock will team up with captain Tom Green at the forward positions. Ed Feldkircher will jump center and Leo Kuhn and Ed Weirauch will handle the guard spots.

Green, a senior, stands 5-10 and was the second highest scorer on last year's team with 167 points. Feldkircher stands 6-2 and is a sophomore. Both Kuhn and Weirauch are 6-1. Kuhn was the number four scorer last season.

As first line substitutes Greene has John Cook, Dave Bayer and Jack Dickey. All these men are letterwinners, with Bayer and Dickey each winning two. Completing the squad are Herb Law and Fran Zimmerman.

Tallest Man Is 6-4

Bayer is the tallest man on the team, measuring 6-4. Law follows at 6-3. Cook is a southpaw shot who stands 6-1. Dickey and Zimmerman are set shot men who stand 5-10 and 5-9 respectively.

Zimmerman is a sophomore who will probably team up with Dickey as a replacement platoon for Green and Pollock.

Another freshman, Jim Boulton, will play junior varsity ball but will also dress for varsity games.

"All Of Equal Ability"

The team is well balanced and all the men should see action. As Greene said, "All of my boys this season are of equal ability and anyone could break into the lineup."

Not much is known about Lycoming this year except that they are tall. The team is built around Vince Leta, returning letterman. In a pre-season scrimmage against Penn State, Lycoming dropped a 117-31 decision.

Last year the Indians lost to Lycoming by a 70-63 score. Karl Park led the Indian scoring with Green and Cook right behind.

Mystery Cake Recipe Told By Head Cook

by Louise Gehman

Three decades ago Alda Beer was a cook in JC's kitchen; today she is the head cook. That's a pretty good record—thirty years of putting up with student gripes and idiosyncrasies.

During that time Alda has seen quite a few changes take place in the dining hall. For example, the tables used to be rectangular instead of square, with three students sitting on either side, a faculty member at one end, and a freshman at the other. It was the "greenie's" responsibility then to pour the water and attend to any other necessary menial tasks.

Six Meals A Day In Past

The change Alda appreciates the most, however, is that of serving only one small meal each mealtime instead of two—as they did until two years ago. This of course, resulted from the addition of the new dining room.

Would anyone like to have the recipe for mystery cakes—to give to your mother, perhaps, so she can make them during vacations? Well, here it is: mashed potatoes, left-over meat that hasn't been served, eggs, sometimes milk, and onions. These ingredients are carefully ground and mixed, and presto, we have mystery cakes!

New Name Now Needed

That's all there is to it. But now somebody will have to think up a new name for them.

As for determining how many tables should go up over weekends and managing to be right so often, Alda must be given credit. Thirty years have given her the experience and a kind of "sixth sense" which enables her to estimate so remarkably close.

Waitress Lists Tables For 'Knocking Down'

No dining hall tables will be "knocked down" for the noon meal Monday, since new table assignments go into effect then. However, according to head waitress Jo Pentz the following tables are scheduled to be taken down during next week:

Monday night, 31, 32, 33; Tuesday noon, 27, 29; night, 30, 56, 57; Wednesday noon, 54, 55; night, 51, 52, 53; Thursday noon, 48, 49; night, 46, 47, 50; Friday noon, 44, 45.

Miss Pentz emphasized that such a list must be considered somewhat tentative, because "there are sometimes last minute developments." She has promised, however, to release each week to The Juniatian the list of tables to be taken down the following week.

Students Requested Not To Remove Hall Lights

Students have been removing light bulbs from the fixtures in the hall of first floor Founders, according to Mr. MacCracken, Juniata night watchman.

Persons who have been engaging in this practice should be aware of the fact that they are violating one of the state fire laws, and their actions should be guided by this knowledge.

Diamond Dust

Jo Anne Barksdale, '52, has announced her engagement to Gene Calderwood, '50.

Miss Barksdale, from Chatham, New Jersey, is concentrating in Home Economics while Calderwood, from Tyrone, is a graduate student of chemistry at Rutgers University.

John Malenke, '52 and Betty Alderfer, '49, have announced their engagement. Both are from Parkerford, Pa.

Dolnikowski; To Lead IRC Discussion; Mays Tells JCA Of Faith And Reason

by BOB BAILEY

Tonight at 7 p. m. in the I. Harvey House George Dolnikowski will lead a discussion on the topic "Freedom and Security" for the regular meeting of the IRC.

Dolnikowski attended an American Friends Service Committee sponsored conference on this subject at Washington, D. C., last weekend and will base his discussion on information acquired there. All who are interested are invited to attend.

At the regular meeting of the JCA next Tuesday evening at 7:15 p. m. in Founders Chapel, Dean Morley Mays will speak on the subject "Faith and Reason."

Last evening in Oller Hall the Masque presented its first workshop production: the one act comedy "Box and Cox." Directed by Gene Felix and Hobart Heistand, this "romance of real life" included in its cast Bob Champion as Cox, Gene Felix as Box and Peggy Barrington as Mrs. Bouncer.

Next Monday at 7 p. m. in room B, the Debate Club will hold its first intra-club debate. Defending wage and price controls will be Ron Cherry and Charlie Kipp, while opposing them will be Ray Fowler and Clem Rosenberger. Anyone interested in this debate is welcome to attend.

"Five brands of soft drinks will become available to the men at 2:30 this afternon," reports J Club president Bob Frain. The Saxton Bottling Co. is to install machines in the telephone room of the Lodge and in the basement of the Cloister. These will dispense Pepsi Cola, root beer, Seven-Up, and orange. Coke will continue to be sold by the club.

Girls Trio On JC On The Air

The Warblers, a girls' trio composed of Joy Truxal, Jody Siemon, and Barbara Lape, will be featured on Juniata On The Air next Thursday night.

They will sing popular selections as well as some Christmas numbers.

On Tuesday, Carrie Lou Greene will spin the records on Turntable Terrace in the second of a series of a new type of show. These performances are written by Jim Streiner and Judy Shanabrook.

Each broadcast is devoted to a study of the styles of different composers or instrumentalists. They are research programs rather than request performances.

Dino Patricelli and Chuck Knox will be featured in Thursday's program.

Senate Establishes Committee Of Ushers

The appointment of a head student usher and a motion to eliminate patrons lists in campus publications were two of the actions taken at the Senate meeting Monday night.

After consideration of a letter received from Frank Harlacher proposing a permanent ushers' association, the Senate passed a motion appointing Harlacher head student usher. It will be his duty to choose a committee to work with him to take care of the duties of ushering and coat checking at College and community functions in Oller Hall when requested.

Volunteers To Help

Persons wishing to usher will be given the opportunity to do so. Under this system, the house manager of any production can go to Harlacher for ushering service.

Since it was felt that the parents of students have been approached too frequently to pay for the placement of their names on patrons lists, a motion was passed by the Senate recommending that campus publications avoid the use of patrons lists.

Senate Clarifies Duties

The Senate also decided that the duty of supervising club activities on campus belonged to the Chairman of General Activities. Thus, this duty was added to the appropriate by-law of the constitution.

The Senators will gather together next Monday at 8 p. m. for a Christmas party in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House. A gift grab bag, singing of carols, games and refreshments are on the agenda for the evening.

Occupational Guide Ready, Tobin States

Are you undecided about your major or your next semester courses? According to Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin, what you need is the 1951 edition of the Occupational Outlook Handbook.

Government Publication

This publication, prepared by the U. S. Department of Labor and the Bureau of Statistics in cooperation with the Veterans Administration, contains up to date information and facts on more than 400 occupations. The material on the long-range employment outlook will be of special interest to college students since American's mobilization has changed the prospects for every job in the country.

Following are a few highlights from the Handbook:

More than 75,000 new elementary teachers were needed for the 1950-51 school term and only 35,000 qualified for certificates.

Need Engineers

The demand for engineers has increased greatly even though engineering school's 1950 graduating classes reached a record of over 52,000.

There is a shortage of scientists, while the legal profession is overcrowded.

These are only a few of the points covered in the Handbook which will soon be available in libraries, counseling offices, and the public employment service office.

Unused Tables Noted

The following tables will not be set up next week, according to head waitress Joanne Pentz:

Monday noon, 27, 29; night, 4, 25, 26; Tuesday noon, 23, 24; night, 6, 7, 8; Wednesday noon, 21, 22; night, 9, 19, 11; Thursday noon, none, banquet; Friday noon, 15, 16.

Armentrout To Demonstrate Cookery

This afternoon at two p. m. Ruth Armentrout (right, above) will present the second in a series of food demonstrations in the College foods laboratory. Miss Armentrout is a senior from Harrisonville, Va. The demonstration is open to the public, and is planned by members of the foods demonstration class under the supervision of Miss Helen Fisher. Others in the picture are (l. to r .) Mim Barnes, Ann Webber, JoAnne Barkesdale, and Miss Fisher. Miss Barkesdale will demonstrate her cooking skill on Jan. 4; Miss Barnes on Jan. 11.

Yule Spirit Is Encouraged By JC Decorations

Has the Christmas spirit caught up with you yet? If not, wait until you see the Social Rooms after they have been decorated Monday by Bernie Petrusky and his committee.

To create the Christmas feeling chains of pine cones and acorns will be hung from the ceiling. Beside Miss McCormick's office will be the traditional Christmas scene with the manger. Back in the corner will be a decorated Christmas tree with an old fashioned village beneath it.

Wreaths To Be Hung

Large wreaths will hang from each window and birch logs and candles will be placed on the window sills. Every table will have a basket of pine cones, evergreens, and snowballs. The table lamps will have red bulbs in them and on each side will be a little silver tree, candles and birch logs.

The arch way will be trimmed with evergreen with a lantern hanging from the middle.

On each side of the mantle will be an old fashioned lamp post, while of winter bouquet will be over the fire place.

Carolling Scheduled

Every evening right after dinner, there will be informal Christmas carolling for everyone. Special features are being planned for the evenings. One of them is the annual reading of Dickens' Christmas Carol by Dr. Harold Binkley.

To start off the vacation, a Community Carol Sing will be held Dec. 19 at 5:30 a. m. Upon returning to the Social Rooms, a log fire will help to thaw everyone out.

Doyle To Speak At Tea

Miss Esther Doyle will be the speaker at the Library Tea to be held in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. She will give a selection of Christmas readings.

Students and faculty are cordially invited to attend.

Honors At Graduation Clarified

"Just what does it take to graduate Cum Laude (with honors)?"

According to Morley Mays, dean of the college, the primary requirement is "a four year average of at least a high B, though several other factors also are considered before honors are awarded."

An Honors Committee, composed of the administrtive officers and the department chairmen, makes the decision on who shall be graduated cum laude, magna cum laude (with great honors) and summa cum laude (with highest honors.)

This committee can decide "impartially and objectively," the dean pointed out, because it does not know the names of the people upon whom it is passing judgment. Instead it studies three reports on the grades of senior candidates for honors. One report covers average grades for the junior and senior years, the second lists average grades in the student's field of concentration and the last shows the overall or four year average.

"Under the old numerical grading system, at least an overall average of 87 was needed to be even considered for honors," the dean added.

Alfarata Offers New Ad Service

The Alfarata will feature a new service in its 1952 issue.

A section of the book will list all the professional men and firms who do not advertise but nevertheless desire to come to the attention of the readers.

Names will be listed alphabetically under the various professional headings; business addresses and special branches of practice will be included.

Forms have been sent out to the various local business men by business manager Ron Cherry.

Contracts for the Alfarata have been signed with the Canton Engraving Co., Kurtz Brothers Printing Co., and Henry Horton, photographer.

Name Staff, Cast For 1951 Yule Pageant

The cast and the production staff have been chosen for the sixth annual Christmas pageant to be presented in Oller Hall Dec. 16.

The Chapel Choir under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson will give "The Nativity," a Christmas mystery play by Ralph Marryott.

Cast Named

Assisting the choir will be the following cast members—Mary: Carol Shoemaker; Joseph: Hobart Heistand; shepherds: Don Brinton, Earle Grover, and Homer Evitts; Wise men: Phil Norris, Don Bracken, and Fred Bratton; angels: Rhoda Clemmer, Jody Siemon, Jo Chiodi, Audrey Weber, Naomi Kulp, Betty Shearer, Mim Smith, and Mary Lou McKee.

Also appearing in the program are twelve faculty children and the male members of the A Cappella Choir.

Masque Sponsors Production

The technical end of the production will be supervised by the Masque. The staff includes: student director, Phyllis Link; stage manager, Bob Bailey; Assistant stage manager, Ron Cherry; lighting, Paul Good; wardrobe, Virginia Masemer; make-up, Janet Boland; properties, Jeanie Tait; publicity, Jim Streiner; head usher, Barbara Lape.

The public is invited to this annual pageant to which no admission is charged.

Hill Heads Freshman Class; Hepak, Jamison, Ikeda In

Russell Hill was elected president of the freshman class at the orientation assembly this week.

Vice-president is Paul Hepak, secretary, Sue Jamison, and treasurer Dick Ikeda. Allegra Forney was chosen All-Class Night Chairman.

A short discussion of the rules for registration and final examinations preceded the elections.

Innovations To Appear At Formal Thursday

Several innovations will appear at the annual Christmas formal, the Snow Ball, to be held Thursday night in the Women's Gymnasium.

Chief of these is to be a huge snowball of paper mache rolled into the center of the floor. When this is broken by the fellows, there will appear small cotton snowballs which "will take the place of ordinary dance programs which no one seems to use," says Miss Betty Longwell, chairman of the Social Committee.

Snowballs As Souvenirs

These snowballs may be autographed by favorite dancing partners or dates and will serve as souvenirs of the 1951 Winter Formal.

The stage will be transformed by Phil Carr and his decoration committee into a large bay window through which dancers will see Ray McHenry and his combo.

Student Gives Entertainment

Entertainment will be provided by the Warblers—Joy Truxal, Siemon and Barbara Lape—who will sing Winter Wonderland, and the Varsity Quartet which will sing Sleighride. As an encore, the combined trio and quartet will render 'Twas the Night Before Christmas, an arrangement by Fred Waring.

Refreshments will be provided by Lois Robinson and her committee.

Reception Line Scheduled

There will be a reception line of members of the faculty and administration at the dance following a formal dinner in the dining hall.

Flowers for the dance ore optional.

Harvard Offers Grad Students Aid To Business

110 awards are being offered by Harvard University for graduate work in Business Administration.

The fourth annual nationwide competition for Regional Financial Aid Awards was announced by Dean Donald K. David, who said "No man who is otherwise qualified need feel unable to attend the Harvard Business School because of financial limitations."

Awards under the Regional Financial Aid Program for 1952-53 provide a maximum of $2,600 for a married student and $2,000 for a single student, the amount being adjusted to individual need. Similar aid will be available for the second year of study to those whose work has been satisfactory.

A candidate may apply either from the region in which he is attending college or where he resides. The deadline for applications to the Committee on Student Financial Aid is May 1.

Requests for further information and for application blanks should be addressed to the Director of Student Financial Aid at the Harvard Business School.

Club Sponsors Show

The Chemistry Club will present next week's edition of Juniata on the Air.

On Dec. 20, which is during Christmas vacation, the program will feature a tape recording of the Varsity Trio and Quartet singing Christmas songs.

The music of Vincent Youmans will be spotlighted on Turntable Terrace Tuesday. Carrie Lou Greene and Judy Shanabrook tell the story behind the songs, using a script prepared by Jim Streiner. In addition to recorded numbers, a feature of the show will be Steve Musto singing Youman's "Without a Song."

GUEST EDITORIAL

Mystery Surronds Founder's Lighting

It is against state fire regulations to tamper with or remove corridor lights, according to Mr. MacCracken, Juniata night watchman.

Nevertheless, certain students have been rather consistantly tampering with the lighting fixtures around the campus, particularly on the first floor of Founders Hall.

Epidemic Suggested

It is possible that an epidemic of bulb snatching has spread throughout the student body, but informed sources consider this unlikely.

All agree, however, that these crimes, for so they are, are not premeditated affairs. Instead, it is felt that they are rash acts promped by momentary surrender to weakness.

It is not likely that offenders will be apprehended because the area in which the criminal acts take place is well frequented. Indeed, perhaps only the post office sees more students daily than the area here in question.

Darkness Preferred

One suggestion which has been offered in an attempt to solve the mystery of the disappearing lights is that students at certain times prefer to operate in darkened surroundings.

Whatever the cause of the trouble may be, it is recommended that students either resign themselves to saying goodnight in lightened surroundings, or move their base of operations to a place to which the miracles of modern science have not yet penetrated.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT—The arrival of Christmas may not be too noticeable elsewhere on campus, but the kitchen is just bursting with the yuletide spirit. There is continual singing of Christmas carols which the waitresses join upon entering and cease upon leaving. Maybe this is their method of asking Santa to replace broken dishes!

SCAVENGER—In preparation for decorating the social rooms Bernard Petrusky and his crew have been madly collecting all sorts of twigs and acorns. The result will probably be a treeless campus and the eternal hate of the Huntingdon squirrels who can find no nuts for winter!

Is That Shadow Of Yours Red?

Pending in the Pennsylvania state legislature is a bill attempting to flush-out Communists on the state pay rolls.

Volpitto

The Pechan Loyalty Oath Act, if passed, will require all state employees to swear that they are not a member of the Communist Party or any of its allied organizations.

Fundamentally this piece of legislation is theoretically sound, however practically useless. (Unless its "use" is intended to be a vote-getting measure.)

● It is based on emotional hysteria. Uncle Joe has now met with partial success in his attempts to create, or recreate, the "Red-scare."

● A true Communist would have no compunctions in swearing allegiance to the United States, because he owes no loyalty to our government. Therefore, he would betray no one. In fact, he would be doing his duty to Russia by remaining in the state's employment where he will be most useful.

● There is a serious ramification to this act. Would it not be as logical to pass a law demanding of state employees the oath, "I am not, and never was, a member of the Democratic party or any of its affiliated organizations?" But, alas, you say, those Reds are enemies of the United States. However, if the trend continues either Democrats or Republicans may also be so judged.

How far we have come from that great American principle, "I may disagree with what you say, but I would defend to the death your right to say it."

Yes, Mr. Pechan, your bill pleases both Moscow and the irrational voters who fear even their own shadows. It may suit those who cling to the slightest bit of security even though it be as ignorant and feverishly feeble as yours. As for us, we want none of it.

HONOR SYSTEM

Idea Found Workable By Dr. Davis

4th of a series by the Senate Honor System Investigating Committee

The idea of an academic honor system is not new at Juniata. For some years certain instructors have given tests on an honor basis. The most outstanding recent example is the mid-term exam given by Dr. Raymond T. Davis to the Physical Chemistry class.

After handing out the exam questions, Dr. Davis requested that although the class may study for the exam after they had seen the questions, they were not to seek each other's counsel nor were they to spend more than three hours on actual calculations.

The students were permitted to take the exam papers to their rooms that Monday and they were requested to submit them the following Friday.

When asked about cheating in this exam, Jack Walter said: "To my knowledge there was absolutely no cheating or fudging of any kind in this test. However, a course such as thie is taken because the students want to learn the course material. Cheating, therefore, would be diriculous."

A similar testimony by Ray Fowler states: "I did not know of anyone cheating on that exam. It should be remembered, however, that it was given to a small class, seven students, that it was an open book test, and that much of the test was of such a nature as to make it evident to the professor if students had worked together."

When Dr. Davis was asked about honor systems, he declared that he has maintained this practice for at least four years without any suspicion that any of his students had cheated. He has, however, so attempted to make the exams that cheating would be difficult.

Coming from a school that employs an academic honor system, Dr. Davis sees no reason why one wouldn't work at Juniata.

Some other exams which were given on an honor basis are advanced physical chemistry, differential equations, New Testament Greek, Christian Faith, History of Religion, theory of equations, and all the advanced organic tests.

Bible Love Story Keynote, Realism

DAVID AND BATHSHEBA—Last year this columnist reviewed "Samson and Deliah" produced by Paramount. In that column I spoke of the way in which the educated person should view such a film. David and Bathsheba by 20-th Fox follows the same line of spectical, sex and the ultimate triumph of good over evil. So, I shall once again relate my attitude toward the Hollywood Biblical Movie.

In the first place we must give the somewhat hypocritical producers credit for recognizing the greatness of biblical stories. With realism their goal, they set out to make a picture which will appeal to the modern eye as real. It requires too much imagination for the modern person to believe that a Bathsheba in a concealing dress we just the "hotest" temptress of that time.

The harm comes when they overemphasize the sex angle in order to appeal to the somewhat hypocritical American public. The story, however, is still there and the mature viewer should look at it in that light.

The picture is a Cinematic Perfection which grasps the grandeur of the rein of King David. The plot is played up and tells of the wayward king, warned by Nathan the prophet of the wrath of God, and finally repents in an impassioned, yet humble prayer to God before the Ark of the Covenant and is forgiven. Grove City Has Veteran Five To Start Against Indians Sat.

Bucknell Beats Tribe In Home Opener, 65-50

by John Dale

A highly touted Bucknell five showed Juniata fans why they are considered one of the kingpins of Pennsylvania small college quintets as they put on a second half drive to down the Indians, 65-50.

Rebounding superiority under both backboards spelled the difference as 6-4 Connie DeLoca and 6-4 Jim Poff gathered in all sorts of rebounds. The Bison's superior bench strength also took its toll as can be seen by the second half walk away.

Halftime score was 31-29, Bucknell, but the Bisons, led by sophomore sensation Jim Poff, outscored JC 18-9 in the 3rd period and 16-12 in the last quarter.

The Indians, with careful play and hard driving for the bucket, were outscored from the field by only three two-pointers. They were outscored 15-6 from the foul line, however.

Scoring honors were taken by Poff with 18 points. Ed Feldkircher and Dave Pollock followed with 14 and 13 points respectively. Juniata captain Tommy Green and DeLoca also hit double figures with 11 points.

Pollock Leads Tribe In Lycoming Defeat

by Bill Dilling

The Indian hoopsters bowed to the Warriors of Lycoming at Williamsport in the season lid-lifter for both teams. Poor backboard work and tension were the main factors in giving Juniata the short end of a 61-46 score.

Vince Leta, 6-4 sophomore, led the individual scoring with 20 markers. Team-mate "Moe" Mosher placed second with 14 points.

Lycoming operated a man-to-man defense, while the Blue and Gold countered with a shifting zone. The teams were almost even in goals from the field, with Lycoming netting 20 and Juniata 18.

Freshman Dave Pollock led the Indian scorers with 13 points. He got off to a nervous start and was ridden by the Williamsport fans, as was the whole team.

Tribe To Face Team With Equal Height

by Dick Bowker

The Juniata Indians will be seeking their first win of the current season when they meet the Wolverines of Grove City tomorrow night.

Grove City will start a veteran quintet led by diminutive guard Danny Hill. Although standing only 5-8, Hill has been consistently high scorer for the Wolverines. He netted 286 points for a 16.4 scoring average last season.

6-4 Center

Backing Hill are four more lettermen. These men are Mike Robertson, Emerson Weaver, Clair Winters and Bob Panner. Robertson, 6-4 center, is the tallest man on the team.

He is also a scoring threat, having poured 244 points through the nets last year. Weaver also is a dead shot, while Winters and Panner are the team's playmakers.

Green Substitutes

Coach Jim Loveless faces the problem of developing substitutes for his starting five. Secondary material for the Wolverines is an unknown quantity. Four freshmen, two sophomores and an untried senior round out his squad.

In the 1950 contest, Grove City walked away with a 57-37 decision. Tomorrow night however, the Wolverines will floor a much smaller squad.

The probable line-up for the Indians will show Tom Green and Dave Pollock at the forwards, Ed Feldkircher at center and Leo Kuhn and Ed Weirauch or John Cook at the guard spots.

Football Squad To Be Honored

Dr. Edward B. "Eddie" Baker, gridiron star for Pitt in the early 20's and present coach at Carnegie Tech, will be the main speaker at the annual football banquet. This banquet is to be held 6:30 Tuesday evening, Dec. 11 at the VFW home.

The main course of the dinner will be turkey. Added entertainment will be had in the form of movies of the Michigan State-Penn State game this year.

Heavy Agenda Faces Clubs As Christmas, Vacation Draw Near

by BOB BAILEY

"Romeo and Juliet" will be the major production of the Masque this year. The reading committee decided upon this Shakesperian tradgey at a meeting held after the last regular meeting of the Masque.

Usually presented in the fall, the play this year was moved to the spring because of the change of date of the operetta. Tryouts will be held sometime in Jan.

At its regular meting next Tuesday the JCA will present a Christmas program using the familiar Christmas Hymns and the Biblical account of the birth of Christ.

Holding its annual Christmas meeting next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Women's Day Student Room, the Lambda Gamma will use as its theme new methods of wrapping gift packages. A special invitation is given to the freshmen home economics students.

Next Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the I. Harvey House the Tycoon Club will hear a talk by Mr. Dale Detwiler who is president of the New Enterprise Stone and Lime Co. and a trustee of the college.

Tonight at 7:15 p. m. the FTA will present a panel discussion at its regular meeting held in Founders Chapel, the panel consisting of two elementary and two high school teachers. The educators will discuss such questions as loyalty oaths and disipline problems and will give their own opinions concerning the value of extra-curricular activities, the value of student teaching and the like. The meeting will then be thrown open to discussion and questions from the students.

Next Monday in Room B at 7 p. m. the Debate Club will hold its second intra-club debate on its question concerning wage and price controls. Defending these controls will be Phil Norris and Bob Bailey, while Galen Frysinger and Jo Pentz will oppose them. Anyone who is interested is invited to attend.

The Outing Club will hold its regular meeting tonight at 7 p. m. in Room C.

The Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship will hold its weekly meeting next Wednesday, the twelfth, at 7:15 in Room A.

Miss Ruth Stewart, the Inter Varsity representative for Central Pennsylvania, will speak on "The Principles and Purpose of Inter Varsity."

This will be an excellent opportunity for all those students who have been wondering just what the function of Inter Varsity is to come and discover for themselves. The meeting will be open for questions and discussion.

Someone at the U. of Oklahoma DAILY office apparently got a little hot end bothered over that prime suggestion that all and sundry "everyone likes to see their name in print." Amen." And they did!

Christmas Party To Be Held For Town Children

Santa Claus is coming to town early this year for 39 children from needy families here in Huntingdon. The children, ranging in ages from four to 12 years, were chosen by the Salvation Army Agency of Huntingdon. The scene of Santa's appearance Saturday evening will be the girls' gymnasium, which will be appropriately decorated by Alan Kite and his committee.

Students who are taking a child to the party should pick him up at his home before 7 p. m. and see that he gets back after the party which will last until 9 p. m. Names and addresses of the children have been posted on the bulletin board in Founder's Hall.

Schedule Explained

Also, if you are taking a child to the party you should be familiar with the following program of activities for the evening so that you can tell your child (adopted for the evening) what to do. From 7 to 8:15 p. m. recreation under the direction of Phyllis Kulp; from 8:15 to 8:45 p. m.; refreshments planned by Dorcas Mertz and committee; and from 8:45 to 9 p. m. Santa will distribute the gifts which should have been placed in the gym sometime before 7 p. m. Saturday. In order not to confuse Santa the child's name should be written on the gift.

After the party until 11:30 p. m. there will be informal dancing in the gym. "However, don't forget to take your child home first," the party planner suggested.

Santa Exposed

For those who no longer believe in Santa Claus—Joe Thomasberger will be the man inside the red and white suit Saturday night.

Chairmen of the invitation committee and the clean-up committee are, respectively, Clare Nolan and Bob Learn, and Frank Jarrett.

Social Calender Ready For Coming Semester

Plans for the Social calendar of the second semester are well underway, according to Social Committee Chairman Betty Longwell.

Miss Longwell

Starting off the season with a bang will be the freshman class party Feb. 2. Feb. 9 and 23 will feature basketball games, while on the 16th, the movie "How Green Was My Valley" will be shown in Oller Hall. There will be informal dancing in the old gym after all basketball games, Miss Longwell has announced.

Basketball, Parties Planned

March 1 will be the basketball game with Lycoming, while the Lambda Gamma and Science Clubs are scheduled to entertain on March 8.

Big doings are set for the weekend of March 15 when the Masque will present their annual play. This year it's Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

The JCA will entertain March 22, and the 29th will find the sophomores in charge of social festivities.

Class rivalry is to be the keynote April 3 when the classes will put their best foot forward in order to win the All-Class Night trophy.

Movie, Reception Slated

A movie, "The Seventh Veil," will be shown April 19, while April 26 is the big campus event—the Junior-Senior Reception.

In the spotlight May 3 are the traditional May Day celebrations. The French and Spanish Club will provide entertainment May 10, and to close the social activities of the year will be a Talent show May 17.

Men's House Plans To Issue Student Directory Next Year

Excessive printing costs due to the holiday rush put the skids to a men's house committe plan to put student directories on sale before Christmas vacation. "We still are considering publishing a directory early next semester, even though we've missed getting them out in time for students to use them to prepare Christmas card lists," men's house committee chairman Jack Dickey says.

Grad Record Exam Deadline Approaches

The next administration of the Graduate Record Examination will be on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 1 and 2, 1952. Applications to take the test on these dates must be received by the Princeton office by Jan. 18, 1952.

The Graduate Record Examinations will be required of candidates for admission to certain graduate schools. The student should inquire of the graduate schools in which he is interested whether or not he will be required to offer scores on the Graduate Record Examinations in partial satisfaction of admission requirements and, if so, which tests he should offer and at which administration he should take them.

The Examination will be given this time at Penn State as well as at other places in Pennsylvania. Application forms and bulletins of information are available in the Office of the Dean of the College.

Binkley To Give Carol Reading In Social Rooms

The traditional reading of Dickens' Christmas Carol will take place Monday evening in the Social Rooms, reports Kay Wright, Senate Chairman of General Activities.

Dr. Harold Binkley, chairman of the English Department, has been asked to give the reading this year. He will read the Carol following the evening meal.

Closing out the round of Christmas festivities on College Hill will be carolling Wednesday at 5:30 a. m. Carollers will leave Founders Porch to sing at the homes of faculty members and friends of the College.

Decorations in the Social Rooms were under the direction of sophomore Bernard Petrusky. Assisting him were: Juanita Carfora, Lolita Carfora, Howard VanSiclen, Al Kite, Betti Brumbaugh, Bob Bridenbaugh, Edie Talbot, Jeanne Snively, Sally Apel, Marge Ferguson, Millard Taylor, and Clark Heppler.

Gene Felix was in charge of the outside decorations on Founders Porch. On his committee were Bob Champion, Donna Vasbinder, and Ann Sulenke.

Soloists Named For Pageant, Johnson States

Soloists for the sixth annual Christmas pageant have been announced by Prof. Donald Johnson.

They are: Jean Baker, Jean Lockhart, sopranos; Barbara Grim, alto; Galen Keeney, Clem Rosenberger, tenors; Rolland Taylor, Charles Williams, baritone-bass.

The pageant briefly describes the traditional Christmas story. Beginning with the journey of Joseph and Mary into Bethlehem, it then depicts the joy of the shepherds and wise men when the angels appear, proclaiming glad tidings.

The pageant will be presented Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in Oller Hall by the Chapel Choir, under the direction of Prof. Johnson. Assisting the Chapel Choir will be the men of the A Cappella Choir and a dozen faculty children. Student director is Phyllis Link, a junior from Johnstown, Pa.

No Listening Hour Sunday

There will be no Listening Hour Sunday because of the annual Christmas Pageant.

MERRY CHRISTMAS—The formal, stylized Christmas decorations in the Social Rooms are the work of Bernard Petrusky and Committee, and involve some very interesting statistics. For example: some 200 feet of acorns are strung about the rooms, while 15 feet of fence and hundreds of icicles decorate the tree. Petrusky himself built the eight houses and the church which Lolita Carfora points out to her sister, Juanita. Members of the committee have been preparing the project for months.

Next Juniatian Jan. 11

The next edition of The Juniatian will be published Friday, Jan. 11. This long jump between publication dates is brought about, of course, by the intrusion of Christmas vacation into the normal course of events.

Dean Warns Of Illegal Phoning

Switch board operators have been instructed to refuse the use of College office phones to students for long distance calls "other than official College business."

A memorandum from J. Melvin Rhodes, dean of students, states that "investigation indicates that most . . . calls pertain to group or student organization business, but . . . the treasurer's office must follow up each of these calls in order to receive payment . . ."

This is not only inconvenient, the dean says, but is also sometimes awkward because "in some cases calls can not be identified."

The dean suggests that students use pay telephone booths, even when their calls are for club business.

Book Costs Set For Spring Rise

A 50¢ average rise in book prices seems likely for next semester, Prof. J. Clyde Stayer has announced. The bookstore manager says that current price lists indicate increases ranging from 10c to $1.50 will take effect Jan. 1.

"I haven't checked our particular orders against the new price lists," Prof. Stayer says. However, he sees no reason to suppose Juniata will be exempt from current trends.

The expected increases will be in addition to similar rises which took effect last Summer.

Tables To Be Taken Down Named By Head Waitress

The following dining hall tables are slated to be taken out of use next week by the head waitress, Jo Pentz:

Friday noon, 15, 16; Monday noon, 41, 39; evening, 12, 36, 37; Tuesday noon, 34, 35; evening, 31, 32, 33.

The dining hall staff reserves the right to make any changes in this listing which they deem necessary.

New Process Lets Juniatian Get Pix Faster

A 24 hour photo deadline is now a possibility for The Juniatian, thanks to the installation of a Fairchild electronic engraving machine at the Huntingdon Daily News.

Until now it has been impossible to publish photos of anything happening after 10 a. m. Monday, since prints have to be mailed to Johnstown to have metal "cuts" made. With this new equipment available, The Juniatian can carry pictures of sports events, etc., happening as late as Wednesday evening.

In emergencies, engravings can be ready within an hour after photos are taken.

The picture appearing on page one of this issue is the first Fairchild engraving to be used in The Juniatian. First campus publication to make use of the new process was Saturday's "Tomahawk."

JC Musical Talent Pinch Hits At H. S.

A story in a recent issue of The Bucaneer, student newspaper at Williamsburg High School, indicates that Juniata College musical talent gets around.

According to the school paper, seven JC music students were hurried down to Williamsburg Nov. 16 to fill in when the scheduled entertainers couldn't make it. The occasion was parent's day for the high school.

Bob Brumbaugh, Jo Chiodi, Rhoda Clemmer, Helen Rosengren, Mim Smith, Steve Musto and Joy Truxal were the Juniata representatives.

Terrace Winds Up '51 Slate With Cole Porter Program

"Music by Cole Porter" will be the keynote of Turntable Terrace Tuesday. Joy Truxal is slated to sing one of the Porter melodies, while Judy Shanabrook and Carrie Lou Greene will introduce the recorded tunes. The script will be written by Jim Streiner.

A drama, "Our City," will be presented on "Juniata on the Air" Jan. 10, the first scheduled program for the new year.

Pres. Ellis To Lead Chapels

Pres. Calvert Ellis will lead the final chapel service of 1951 on Monday. He will also speak Jan. 4 at the first scheduled service after vacation.

St. NICK EXPOSED

Schroeder Tells Of Troubles And Fun As WHUN Radio Santa Claus

by JIM HOLCOPPLE

Dear Virginia:

Yes, there is a Santa Claus . . . .

All of us have heard of this letter, now a part of the Christmas tradition, which appeared in the Baltimore Sun many years ago.

Saint Nick

The editors of that paper went on record to support a little girl's belief that Santa did exist.

The Juniatian can perhaps do a little better than that.

Not only will it argue that Santa is real, but it will point to a living, breathing Saint Nick to prove its point.

Many, many things have come out of the Lodge in the past. Why, then, should it be considered odd that Santa, too, can be a resident of that place?

Schroeder Is Santa

Our Santa, of course, is the WHUN Kris Kringle. Shorn of his beard and red trappings he assumes the alias of Paul D. Schroeder, senior pre-ministerial student at JC. For two years Santa at the local radio station, he relates some of the incidents and anecdotes which go to make up his yuletide employment.

All is not milk and honey in the work, even with people liberally endowed with seasonal cheer at Christmas time. Santa must be a combination diplomat, linguist and censor.

Diplomacy is necessary because all gifts asked for by the youthful letter writers cannot be promised. "At first," recalls Schroeder, "I used to promise to bring the children whatever they asked for—and this was often far too much!" A number of telephone calls from irate parents soon caused him to cease this, and he now tempers each promise with an admonition to be good.

Kids Embarrassing

Too, the large number of children who attend the show each night can cause some embarrassing situations. For example, he asked one boy where he got the Policy, Finances of Juniatian Service Project, 'The Tomahawk,' Discussed

Apparently the announcements of Juniata's newest publication didn't carry enough statistics to suit some folks. Judging from the questions concerning "The Tomahawk" heard at the two initial home basketball games last week, we gather that several people are concerned about the parentage and purposes of the new basketball program.

"The Tomahawk" is a Juniatian service project, service being defined as "the operation of a public benefit."

Juniatian Given Concession

It began as a proposal from publicity director Bill Engel to the J Club suggesting the need for printed programs at the home basketball games. When the J Club showed a lack of interest, The Juniatian sports staff, in the name of the editor-in-chief, applied for and received permission from the concessions committee to handle the project.

The letter from The Juniatian to the Senate committee stated that the newspaper was interested in performing this public service because it was already in possession of the necessary trained staff, data and pictures.

Profits To Stay At Minimum

Profits from the venture, the letter went on to say, are to be "kept at a minimum. Should any accrue, they will be used for a Juniatian staff party, an annual event which this year would otherwise be impossible since all funds have been earmarked for a schedule of six page papers."

The following points of policy have been agreed to by the staff:

- An effort is made to steer away from "regular" College advertisers. Instead, those who advertise irregularly or not at all have been contacted.
- Attempts will be made to either increase book size or decrease price if these objectives can be met without overburdening advertisers.
- A separate "Tomahawk" account is kept with the central treasurer and accounts are kept by the "Tomahawk" business manager. Juniatian interests in the project are maintained by The Juniatian editor and business manager.

A few abortive attempts have been made in the past to produce a basketball program but generally failed, Harold Brumbaugh reports. The current effort is both ambitious and experimental, but on the basis of the first two issues it appears that "The Tomahawk" will probably break even financially and can expect to appear at every home game this year.

Forsight Of Holiday Films In Your Locale

by Frank Harlacher

With vacation almost upon us, movie interest leaves Huntingdon to dwell at theatres in the vicinity of home. Keeping this in mind I've compiled some data about the titles you're likely to see on the marquees of first-run houses in your locale over the holidays.

Comedy

My Favorite Spy—a Bob Hope comedy with Hedy Lamarr as the villianess and Bob as an unwilling spy. WB.

Weekend With Father—a family comedy with Patricia Neal and Van Hefflin. UI.

Callaway Went Thatway—sarcasm directed at movie westerns and their use on TV. Leads: Fred MacMurray and Howard Keel. MGM.

Elopment—Clifton Webb's hilarious action here deals with an angry father's flight after daughter. 20th-Fox.

Girl In Every Port—Groucho Marx is the funny man with my-friend-Irma girl, Marie Wilson, suporting. RKO.

Adventure

Distant Drums—With the everglades for background, Gary Cooper fulfills his reputation as an Indian swamp fighter. WB.

Ten Tall Men—Burt Lancaster in the Foreign Legion. Col.

Fixed Bayonets—The best film so far on the Korean War. Star—Richard Baseheart. 20th-Fox.

Flame of Araby—Just another shiek on white horse rescues alluring maiden. Maureen O'Hara will be at home in this setting, but Jeff Chandler on the horse ought to add. UI.

Jet Pilot—John Wayne and Janet Leigh in the top air adventure film. RKO.

Other Attractions

That's the way it looks. Comedy and adventure for the majority of Christmas and New Year's attractions. There's a new version of Dicken's The Christmas Carol out. It's a British film and from all reports overplays the depressing Schrooge and waits till the end for any note of the yuletide cheer.

The $7,000,000 Quo Vadis will only reach the bigger cities over vacation at advanced prices. The greatest Biblical spectacle of our time, the critics say, sacrifices acting and plot for splendor and photographic realism.

BED BREAKDOWN—In trying to make their twin beds a double-decker, Kay Kuehne and Nancy Blanck ran into a bit of trouble. After putting the beds on top of each other Kay tried the top one for size and quickly found herself plus mattress on the bottom bed. Good thing she didn't drown in the spring!

FOR EXAMPLE—The Dr. Nye fan club in the Lodge has been collecting the jokes he tells in class. They type them up and post them over the drinking fountain, for example!

ARTS AND INSANITIES—Showing a slide of Venus de Milo, Dr. Harold Binkley asked sleeping Don Targan, "What is unusual about this?" The startled reply was "Why, the two muscles in back are rather predominant." Dr. Binkley: "Those are in front!" When a similar picture appeared on the screen later the same question was asked of Jim Settle. Answer: "On this one you can tell the front from the back." Not very subtle, Settle!

BUS BREAKDOWN—On her way back to campus laden with packages from Christmas shopping, Marilyn Walters decided the bus was the best way home. She hastily revised her opinion, however, when big puffs of black smoke began engulfing the bus. The driver stopped to let all the passengers off, but noticing Marilyn's plight, he obtained another bus and they proceeded on their way. It's not every JC coed who can get her own private bus and driver!

SENIOR SERENITY—Five of our most illustrious senior girls spent a night on first Brumbaugh to donate their rooms to the subfreshmen. At 2 a. m. they started a pillow fight with Connie Sherman throwing pillows handed to her by Betty Longwell over the transom at Marg Loetzbeier, Phyl Kulp and Esther Weaver. ● OUR GRIPE! After the FM & M-Trojan game in the IM loop last week, which caused a storm of protest due to a claim of faulty scoring, it appears that the IM league needs trained scoring officials. The Trojans won the game but it was protested. We're not taking sides on that issue, but something must be done about scoring these games correctly.

As was the case before the game, a person was asked to score the game who had never done this task before in his life. It wasn't his fault as he warned them of this fact but they were quite satisfied BEFORE the game.

This was probably the most important league game thus far and we feel that trained and reliable score keepers and timers would abolish a big majority of the trouble.

Indians Drop 3d Lose To Grovers

by Dick Bowker

The Wolverines of Grove City showed their fangs last Saturday night and vanquished Juniata by a count of 78-64. They achieved victory by their outstanding ability at the free throw line, for they delivered 30 conversions on 39 attempts. Grove City scored only one more field goal than the Indians and as Juniata made only 18 out of 32 free throws, the game was lost.

As in previous contests, Juniata made it close in the first half, trailing only 31-27. But the Grovers exploded in the third quarter for 27 points and Juniata began to fade as the tempo of the game increased. Both teams hit in the final frame, but the disasterous third quarter was too much for the Indians to overcome.

Mike Wesver, Grove City guard, was the big gun in the Grovers' attack with 29 points. He netted 27 of these in the second half, hitting the cords for 18 in the third quarter. Weaver was well supported by teammates Danny Hill and Mike Robertson who had 20 and 18 points respectively.

Scoring honors for Juniata went to freshman set shot artist Dave Pollock and 6-3 Dave Bayer, each of whom collected 15 points. They were the only members of the squad to hit for double figures.

F M & M, Trojans Tie Bridgers For Lead

The Intramural loop was active again this past week and found the Trojans, Bridgers and FM & M remain on the top of the pack. The Trojans defeated the FM & M last Friday night 38-36, but the game was protested and this was allowed and the contest will be replayed at a later date.

Also Friday night the Rockets defeated the Sackhounds 60-46, the Globetrotters whipped the Wild Woodsmen 5-40. The other remaining contest saw the Bookies down the Coal Crackers 53-44. Jack Sweitzer led the lossers with 21 points.

Monday night featured the Bridgers defeating the Fubars 43-34, while the FS & C swamped the Bookies 96-54. In the late games, the Rockets won out over the District 3 team 51-47 and the YHO's squeezed by the Globetrotters 44-42.

Wednesday night the FM & M continued on their undefeated ways by trouncing the Hunters 73-37. Don Bottomly gathered 17 for the winners. The Bridgers poured it on the Wild Woodsmen 90-40 and the FS & C clubbed the Sackhounds 53-46. Chuck Knox was high for the winners with 27 points. The Trojans just managed to squeeze by the Coal Crackers 41-38.

THE HARRIS CLIFTON THEATRE WISHES THE STUDENTS OF "JC" A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Indians Away Fri., Sat.; Encounter E-Town, LV

The Indians make their only over-night trip of the 1951-52 basketball campaign this weekend when they face two formidable opponents on successive night. Still searching for their initial victory the men of coach Greene are eager to return to College Hill with a duo of wins under their belts.

The tribe will attempt to overcome their "jinx quarter." In the three games played thus far this season the Indians have made a fine showing in the first half only to succumb to the murderous attacks of opponents in the third period.

Late Bulletin

Tonight's game with E-town has been postponed due to an epidemic of food poisoning among the Elizabethtown team.

Meet Blue Jays Fri. At E-Town

by John Dale

Tonight the Braves will travel to Elizabethtown in an attempt to gain their first win of the still-young season. They meet the Blue Jays of Elizabethtown College. Last season the teams each gained a win as JC won the first 41-39 and the Blue Jays snared the second 57-47.

The Blue Jays are about equal with the Braves when the matter of height is studied. Senior Ed Brunner is expected to play a big role in the E-Town offense as he was third high scorer on the squad last season.

Six returning lettermen will dress for tonight's tussle and five of these men are seniors.

John Brunner, brother of Ed, a set shot artist and Jim Meminger, ace rebounder, are expected to be the nemisis of the Indians this evening. Bill Schneider, 5-10 playmaker, is a big cog in the offensive drive of the Blue Jays.

JC Moves To Annville On Sat. To Face LV

by Bill Dilling

The JC courtmen complete a two game overnight trip tomorrow night when they move into Annville for a game with Lebanon Valley. The Flying Dutchmen, coached by alumnus Ralph Mease, have defeated Indiantown Gap and Western Maryland in their first two encounters this season.

Last campaign the two squads split as LV won the first 74-60 and Juniata gained revenge with a 74-72 win in the second meeting. The Dutchmen had an overall record of ten and 13.

Juniata will be free of their worst enemy—opposing height—as the Dutchmen have only one starter over the six foot mark. He is Don Langstaff, lanky 6-3 pivotman, who was the second highest scorer on the squad last season.

Lebanon Valley was jolted earlier this season by the news that Al Murawski, second highest scorer in small colleges last season, was forced to leave school because of financial difficulties. Murawski scored 617 points last season and had an average of 26.8 per game.

The Indian JV's will travel to Annville Saturday to meet the Dutchmen Junior Varsity in a preliminary tussle.

Thirteen Wins Tops For JC Cage Teams

The best basketball years enjoyed at JC were in 1924-25 when the Blue and Gold won 13 and lost five and again in 1945-46 when the Indians snared 13 wins and dropped six. In the cage sport Juniata has won more games than any other sport on College Hill and also has lost more. Including the first three games of this season the record stands at 285 wins and 334 losses.

Preview Of Masque Production Heads Club Calender Jan. 3rd

by BOB BAILEY

A preview of the Spring play, "Romeo and Juliet," is in store for those attending the open Masque meeting Jan. 3.

Dr. Harold Binkley and Miss Esther Doyle plan to read scenes from the Shakespearean comedy "primarily to help those interested in acting in the play to become better acquainted with it."

Tryouts for parts in the comedy will begin Monday, Jan. 7.

Miss Doyle, who will direct the show, emphasizes that "Romeo and Juliet" is to be an all-College production, though the Masque will produce it and handle technical details. However, she says, "we expect the largest part of the sizeable cast to be non-Masquers."

Dr. Vaclav Mares, native Czechoslovakian and professor of economics at Penn State, will speak to the IRC tonight at 7 p. m. in Swigart Hall on the topic "Communist Overrunning of Czechoslovakia." The second part of the meeting will consist of folk singing by members of his family who will be in costume. Everyone interested is invited.

Monday evening the four debate teams will travel to Penn State for their first intercollegiate debate. Each Juniata team will face two State teams and the debates will be non-decision.

Inadvertently this columnist scheduled an FTA meeting for last Friday evening when actually it is being held tonight at 7:15 in Founders Chapel. A panel consisting of two elementary and two high school teachers, will discuss such questions as loyalty oaths and disipline problems and will give their own opinions concerning the value of extra-curricular activities, the value of student teaching and the like. The meeting will then be thrown open to discussion and questions from the students. Any student who is interested in these problems is invited.

For some deep unfathomable reason no club meetings are scheduled after Tuesday.

Carolling To Be In Library

There will be carol singing tonight and Tuesday at 9 p. m. in the library.

All students and faculty members are encouraged to attend the song fest.

pretty balloon he was clutching, and received the shocking reply, "You gave it to me!" Of course, the child was referring to a competing Santa in one of the local stores who gave a balloon away to each young visitor.

Santa receives a rather heavy volume of mail. Until shortly before Christmas he receives about 100 letters daily. He can only read about 25 on each show, but the last few programs will be lengthened enough to permit all letters received to be read.

Mail Censor Needed

It might better be said all but a few letters. Each year, it has been necessary to censor or eliminate a few pieces of mail which regulations make unfit for broadcast purposes. Oddly enough, most of these letters come from the College!

Sometimes the correspondents show remarkable acumen for their age, Schroeder reveals. Although the average age of the children who write is only about four or five, some come up with rather fine sentiments. One small girl requested that Santa bring her brother home for the holidays. The brother in question is in the service in Korea. Unselfish letters wanting Santa to bring gifts to others are not uncommon.

Price List Included

On the lighter side was a note requesting only four items—and information was given as to where they could be bought, and even their purchase price! Schroeder suspects this letter of being a ringer because the sender didn't even bother to put a salutation in it.

Many of the letters are written by parents or older children, and often they have post scripts attached telling Saint Nick not to promise too much, or containing some other message. Schroeder tries to heed these messages, but he sets a limit at notes like "stop beating your little brother!"

He finds that the job is good training for anyone desiring to become a commercial expert. Greatest demand this year is for Bonnie Braids dolls. These replace record players, which were tops last season.

Schroeder finds reading some of the handwriting and ad-libbing constantly to be his main problems, but on the whole he declares that he "likes the job very much."

Vol. 28, No. 13 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Jan. 11, 1952

Community School Starts

Courses Given To Townsfolk

Juniata's first community educational services program, initiated last Monday night, got underway with an enrollment of 64 men and women from The Huntingdon County area. Six courses are being offered within the framework of the program.

Non-credit courses offered during the six week program "are designed to serve the needs of those whose formal education may have been incomplete as well as those who may feel the need to be better equipped to cope with current problems," according to Dean Morley Mays, director of the program.

Course Fails To Open

One scheduled course—Modern Theater—failed to draw the minimum number of ten needed to continue a subject. The deadline for registrations has been extended until tomorrow, however, in order for late registrants to apply for entrance. The Modern Theater program may be inaugurated if enough new applications are received.

Largest opening night enrollment was in the Public Speaking course, taught by Miss Esther Doyle. 21 attended the opening session in Students Hall. Another course, Business English taught by John W. Swigart, drew 11 applicants.

Further Subjects Named

Other subjects being offered and their instructors are Parliamentary Procedure, Dr. T. F. Henry; Personal Finance, Dr. S. Lees Booth; Home Decoration, Miss Gertrude Butler; Foreign Language Review, Dr. George B. Clemens.

A directed recreation course failed to materialize at the Monday session, but it is said that a group of local men plan to participate in that program, which will be directed by P. M. Snider.

Classes will not meet at any particular time, but are to meet at times mutually satisfactory to both participants and instructors.

Juniata Offers Special Course To Fiberglas Workers

In cooperation with the Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation, Juniata College is conducting a special elementary course in accounting. Herbert A. Miller, assistant professor of Economics at JC, is the instructor.

The 15 week, non-credit course is being attended by 21 Fiberglas employees, as a part of their plant training program.

The course is a part of Juniata's attempt to provide an educational program for citizens of the Huntingdon area, although it should be stressed that the course being given at Fiberglas is not a part of the community educational service now being administered on campus.

Late Enrollment May Cost $5

Previously enrolled students who failed to register for Spring term classes before Christmas vacations must now obtain permission to do so from their respective deans. A fee of five dollars will be charged those who wish to enroll without this permission.

FTA Sets Meeting For Tonight

There will be an FTA meeting tonight in Founders Chapel. At the gathering, student teachers will discuss their teaching experiences.

Senate Acts On Honor System, Day Of Prayer

A report by Phil Norris, chairman of the committee investigating the possibility of establishing an honor system at Juniata, and a letter concerning a World Day of Prayer were the two major items discussed at the open Senate meeting Monday night.

According to Norris, a large amount of material has been received from the colleges to which the committee wrote. He reported that the committee feels there is now a need for the formation of an educational, promotional committee to carry on the job. It was decided to await the outcome of the panel discussion Tuesday night before selecting this new committee.

President Art Allen reported on a letter received from the Methodist fraternity at the University of West Virginia asking that Juniata join all other colleges and universities in the United States in a World Day of Prayer. The Senate agreed that on the designated date, February 29 at 11 a. m. a minute be devoted to prayer on the whole campus.

Table Assignments To Go Off Tonight

Table assignments will not be in effect after supper tonight. Students may sit wherever they wish during exams, head-waitress Jo Pentz has announced.

New assignments will begin with the first meal of the second semester Jan. 28.

Work Starts On All-Class Skits

"The All-Class Night program seems to be progressing satisfactorily," reports Carrie Lou Greene, chairman of this activity.

All the classes have ideas for their skits and two have begun to work on them.

Miss Greene expects the finished scripts to be handed in sometime in the early part of February.

Prof. Glick Attends Conference

Prof. G. Wayne Glick, assistant professor of Biblical studies, attended a faculty conference on Christianity in Higher Education last Friday and Saturday at Dickinson. He served as secretary for the conference.

No Paper Next 2 Weeks

The Juniatian staff takes finals too, so this issue is the only ne scheduled for this month. Feb. 1 is the next date to look for your Juniatian.

Illness Traced To Vacation, Change In Eating Habits

The illness which was first reported on campus over the weekend, and which felled more than 30 people by the middle of the week, was termed "not serious" by Dr. William Patterson, school physician.

According to Dr. Patterson, "the sickness is a seasonable form of intestinal grippe which is not unusual after vacations. If enough people pick up the bug while they are home and then come back and change from home to institutional cooking a contagion is bound to start," the Doctor added.

He went on to say that the situation has not reached epidemic proportions, for in order to be so designated at least 10% of the population must be infected.

The sickness has not been restricted to the College alone, and many cases have been reported in town. This, combined with the fact that it is not universal among College students, refutes the rumor that food has been the direct cause of the malady.

Siren To Be Teaching Aide

Ray Siren, '52, has accepted a position as teaching assistant at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, beginning next September. He will also begin studies then for a Ph. D. in organic chemistry.

Gladfelter, Temple Provost To Speak At Convocation

Millard E. Gladenfelter, Vice-President and Provost of Temple University, will be the speaker at the Winter Convocation Jan. 28 at 9:30 a.m. in Oller Hall.

A graduate of Gettysburg College, Dr. Gladenfelter served as principal and teacher of history in the West York High School. In 1930 he joined the Temple staff as director of the institution's high school.

He became University registrar, then vice-president, and in 1946 was asked to assume additional duties as provost.

In addition to his degree from Gettysburg, Dr. Gladenfelter earned the Master of Arts degree from the University of Wisconsin and his Ph.D from the University of Pennsylvania. He has been honored with Doctorates of Law by Muhlenberg and Gettysburg Colleges.

In 1950 he was elected president of the Board of Education of the United Lutheran Church of America. In addition to his educational duties, he is a leader of boys' work and an authority on the history of the Pennsylvania Dutch. He is also an artist and has held several exhibitions of his paintings.

Jan. Grads Named

Ten Juniata seniors are candidates for degrees in the Jan. 1952 graduation.

They are Joyce Dore, Bachelor of Arts: Stephen Dolak, Glenn Felix, William Hanson, Alethea Hoff, Harry Houtz, Joseph Hulgus, Pauline Bane Shaffer, John Shoop and Sarah Stewart. Bachelor of Science.

The convocation will take place Monday, Jan. 28 at 9:30 a. m. in Oller Hall.

Cast Chosen To Participate In Romeo & Juliet

The tryout committee for the Masque production, Romeo and Juliet, has announced the cast and understudies for their coming play. In making the announcement the committee noted that the tryouts for the leading roles were among the best that we have had at Juniata. It was revealed that the choices were difficult. Following are the names of those chosen to participate in the drama, as well as the names of the understudies and the roles they are to portray:

Last week Mim Barnes showed her skill in Pennsylvania Dutch cooking.

The public and students are cordially invited to these demonstrations, which are free of charge.

Changes Emphasized In Spring Term Class Schedule

Four important revisions have been made in the Spring term schedule of classes, the registrar reports.

Biology 9, a course in botany, has been dropped due to insufficient interest. The Tuesday, 10:30, section of fundamentals of speech has been deleted. And the Monday 8 and 9 sections of child psychology have been combined for presentation Monday at 11:30.

Binkley Speaks At Frosh Meeting

The final meeting of the Freshman Assembly was held Monday, at which time a film entitled "Overdependency" was shown.

Dr. Harold Binkley, chairman of the English Department, spoke briefly on the procedure of granting English competence.

Students Warmed By 'Forgotten Men'

by Jim Holsopple

Harry Ambrose and Karl Crownover, forgotten men of Juniata, are actually quite important personages on the Campus. This pair tend the boilers in the heating plant, and although Mr. Ambrose himself asserts that "they never know whether we're alive or dead except on payday and when they don't get any heat," the importance of their task cannot be underestimated.

Working nine hour shifts, turn and turn about, Messrs. Ambrose and Crownover are responsible for seeing that all campus buildings except the Lodge and Swigart Hall are heated. To do this, one man or the other must see that fourteen tons of coal daily find their way into the hopper.

"Just Like Solitary"

The heating plant is tended 18 hours a day—from 4 a.. m. to 10 p. m.—and, as Mr. Ambrose says is "just like solitary." Everything except the shoveling is automatic, though. Of course, after the coal has been shoveled in, it must be shoveled out, and this seems to present a measure of injustice.

Small Schools Lose Tussle With Uncle Sam's Money

IN EDUCATIONAL circles there is considerable concern over the fact that small private schools are being squeezed out of existence by the current tight national financial situation.

No longer are there big private fortunates giving generously; taxes have swept them out of existance for the most part. And the small private school generally is in no position to pick up anything from the various national foundations, since these usually demand reserach talent and equipment which the small school simply doesn't have.

Most Small Schools Broke

In short, most small private colleges are now broke or over-extended on new buildings, etc., and are only operating on the hope that enrollment will pick up and the alumni will be generous in the immediate future.

Something we came across the other day made us wonder if perhaps the end of this problem isn't nearer than we think, and not necessarily to the advantage of the small school. We quote from The Valparaiso Torch, student newspaper of Valaparaiso University, Valparaiso, Indiana:

Army Is Educational Competitor

"We were relaxing by the radio, listening to our favorite commercials, when we caught one of those half hour shows the army puts on. Strictly top talent. The pitch was, of course, to join the army—not because the girls go for the uniforms, but because of the splendid educational opportunities offered by the armed services!

"The exact sum the government sinks into this particular brand of propaganda is no doubt restricted material, but we are quite certain that (Juniata) would be hard pressed to offer competition on an equal basis. (We're having difficulty paying for a new gymnasium) much less buying a network show.

"It is doubtful if all of the colleges combined could attempt to match happy spending Harry and his hirelings at this sort of thing. The end is in sight."

And to clinch the case we have this item in a recent New York Times:

"An educational program to enable Tactical Air Command personnel to earn college degrees has been inaugurated at the Langley Air Force Base in Virginia. The program is the beginning of a project which will ultimately, it is hoped, bring the university to American youth at military bases throughout this country and abroad."

The end of individualism and the small college is indeed in sight.

FROM THE EDITOR'S NOTES

● FILM PROBLEMS: The announcement that a movie, "The Lost One," is scheduled for two Saturdays hence (see story elsewhere) prompted us to ask some questions about the film situation on campus.

Social committee chairman Betty Longwell said, "We order the latest films we can find in the catalogs furnished by Ideal Films Inc. (a New York outfit). But even these are about the vintage of 'Anna and the King of Siam', which was offered earlier this year."

Part of the problem seems to be that only older movies are printed on 16 mm film, which is all that can be handled by Juniata's projector.

Two other technical problems face the projectionist (usually Prof. Paul Yoder). This old and much-used film tends to break often, but the College does not own a splicing machine. Also, these films always come in several reels, and since only one projector is owned delays must be expected while changes are made.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER

"Well, guess we may as well get ready—here's Professor Snarf with the Exams."

TEEPEE TOPICS

by Jo Pollock

DAGGER LADY—Men and coeds, beware! Peg Barrington is armed. Seems a sick aunt of Peg's gave her some of the family treasure's including a set of hat pins that could easily run you thru, (about 9 inches long). Just goes to show you that one never knows what they'll return with after vacation.

CAR TROUBLE—What would you do if the horn in the car in which you were riding suddenly started blowing and refused to stop? That's exactly the predicament Jean Rowland, Barb Yoeman and Ron Clapper found themselves in the other day while driving downtown. However, never underestimate the power of a man when he's mad; Ron solved the problem neatly by pulling out the horn wires.

HECTIC HOLIDAY—Girls, a little advice. Never get in your p. j.'s, set your hair, and kick off your slippers to settle down to addressing Christmas cards in complete comfort. Your fellow might drop in unexpectedly! For pertinent information on what to do if such a catastrophe ever befalls you, see June Lewis.

MISER MUSTO—Seems Steve Musto's attempt to "not put another dime's worth of gas in it" caused a slight delay in our troupe returning from the radio show Tuesday. At first his engine responded to the starter and he uttered the above quote. He spoke too soon for it promptly coughed, sputtered and died. To avoid the temptation of buying too much, a glass jug was provided to get gas from a nearby gas station. John Long dropped this so pushing seemed the only solution. A train, locked bumpers and heavy women hampered this attempt. Better bust your piggy bank Steve.

On Other Campuses

by D. D. Silldorff

And the Daily Californian, from U. of Cal., decided to add their little bit to the cause of defense.

In every copy of the paper they inserted a short message about what to do in case an atom bomb blew up in the vicinity of the campus.

About mid-day sirens began ringing, police didn't know what was happening, fire department said they weren't responsible, and on blew the sirens. It finally was discovered that the sirens were just an air raid practice warning. In answer to the city officials query about the effectiveness of the siren, the students announced: "Quite!"

Transylvania College has developed a new point system for activities, allowing certain amounts of points for various activities. Each student is allowed only so many points; this supposedly will limit each stude' to only a few activities and insure higher academic standings among amateur office holders. (Now hobby among students, collecting offices.)

Ohio State University has apparently found a good way to cure cheaters. Minimum punishment is the failure of the course and five hours onto requirements for graduation.

Car Corner

The battle of the horsepower is starting. Madly trying to outshine competitors, car builders are upping engine horsepower ratings by terrific figures; Example: Cadillac will probably claim at least 185 horsepower for its '52 models.

Ford, Mercury, and Lincoln, completely new from the ground up, won't be out until mid-February at the earliest.

A Definite Improvement?

FOR YEARS we've been listening to the argument between the science hall boys and the liberal arts scholars on the question man's accomplishments in the field of social studies as compared to his advancements in technology. We suspect this little bit of Maxwell Anderson says it as well as anybody:

Hi-yo, Hi-yo, Discernable Today

(A Song After Reading Toynbee)

Has it come to your attention how the race of man
Has been climbing upward since time began,
How it's been climbing steady, and it's climbing there still,
But every time you notice it, it's going down hill?

Chorus

Going down hill is the natural way,
For the old folks work and the young folks play,
And the pioneer morals universally decay—
Yet a definite improvement is discernable today!
Hi-yo, hi-yo, discernable today!

Now there's been a quite demonstrable and healthy gain
In higher mathematics and the size of the brain,
Between us and the oyster there were great strides made—
But every time you look at us, we're slipping down grade.

Chorus

Going down hill is the natural trend,
For the old folks gather and young folks spend,
Yet line up all our forebears on the path that we descend
And a definite improvement is apparent at this end!
Hi-yo, hi-yo, apparent at this end!

The Egyptians, the Assyrians, the Greeks and Romans, too, Hung up some fancy records when their world was new,
And some they hung so high the boys are shooting at them still,
But they saw themselves continually going down hill.

Chorus

Going down hill is the way things run,
For the old have illusions and the young have fun,
And our manners and religions everlastingly decay,
Yet astonishing improvements is discernable today!
Hi-yo, hi-yo, discernable today!

Movie Medicine For Exam Break

by FRANK HARLACHER

BRIGHT VICTORY — Recently winning the New York Film Critics award, this motion picture offers you no well known stars, but an unforgetable story. The tale of a man, blinded by war and his readjustment to a dark civilian life, is one that will touch pretty close to each of us in these troubled times.

The plot begins with his wound and as it unwinds we find his former fiance willing, but unable to accept his new condition. His struggle to overcome his handicap and become self-supporting is rewarded by the love of a girl who offers her lifelong partnership. The cast: Arthur Kennedy, Peggy Dow and others perform outstandingly. Clifton Theatre.

MY FAVORITE SPY—Not much has to be said about a Bob Hope comedy cause we all know the boy is unpredictable and always good for a laugh. As in others, plot, in this black and white film, takes a back seat.

A little insight to let you know possibilities. Bob, vaudeville comedian, is elected because of his resemblance to a dead international spy to play spy for our government in Tangiers. Hedy Lamarr is on the other side, but when she discovers his identity she falls in love with him.

Enter the Great Lover. It all ends in the chase with Hope, Lamarr, microfilm and slapstick. Grand Theatre.

DISTANT DRUMS—Here's old fashion adventure in perhaps its highest form. Warner Bros. have omitted no actions which would add to the excitement in this story of a band of American soldiers driven into the swamp.

Filmed in the everglades of Florida, Gary Cooper and company fight everything from Seminole Indians to wild beasts, snakes, crocodiles and every other form of terror they could dream up. Its above average so if its action you like. Clifton Theatre.

TEN TALL MEN—Adventure on the Sahara with color, girls, fights and the works plus the French Foreign Legion and you have it. The only thing that we can hope for is that Burt Lancaster as the head Legionnaire and the story will put it above average.

Reports from leading critics would imply that this has been the case. Often a good producer will take an old story, put some new twists in it and turn it over to a dependable actor result; success. Here's hopin'. Grand Theatre.

Tribe Meets Albright Home Jan.30; Lions Have Strong Squad

by Dick Bowker

Juniata will play host to the powerful Albright basketball team Wednesday evening, Jan. 30. This will be the first game scheduled for the second semester on College Hill.

Albright coach Eddie Gulian was faced with a mammoth rebuilding job this season, having lost four of last year's players via graduation. Outlook for a winning year seemed dim since most of the candidates for varsity berths were inexperienced.

2-2 Record

Under Gulian's able tutorage, the Albright quintet has developed rapidly and currently boasts a 2-2 record. Their most impressive win of the season was a 70-65 triumph over Lafayette.

The team has been built around returning veteran Gerry Potts. The 6-5 center is an excellent rebounder and thus far leads the squad in scoring. Teaming with Potts on the double pivot is equally tall Connie Bettling who, by netting 70 points in the first four games, proved to be a sharpshooter in his own right.

Hopes High

The remaining varsity berths are held down by forward George Amole and guards Dick Whitman and Dick Leitham. These men had never played varsity ball before this season, but their unexpected poise and improvement have brightened Albright's hopes of retaining its Western Division Middle Atlantic States Conference Championship.

Although losing a tilt to LaSalle of Philadelphia by a 76-68 score, the Lions gained great acclaim due to the fact that they gave the Explorers a real battle. LaSalle has one of the top basketball powers in the entire nation.

E-town Match Rescheduled; To Be Played There Feb. 18

The game with Elizabethtown originally scheduled for Dec. 14 has been rescheduled for Feb. 18. The tilt was postponed earlier because of an epidemic of food poisoning among the members of the E-town team. The game is to be played away as originally scheduled.

Green & Pollock Star For Indians Despite Size

Running from the Juniata Indians' forward positions are two small men as basketball players go. However, their height gives no indication of their ability. One is senior and captain Tommy Green of Burlington, N. J. and the other is freshman Dave Pollock of Berwick.

Tommy is 21 years old. He stands five feet ten inches high and is in his second year with the Indians. Previous to his arrival here, he played basketball and studied at the College of South Jersey. He earned letters in both his years there.

Cited Most Valuable Player

Greenie prepped for college at Burlington High School where he made the varsity his junior and senior years, captaining it his last year. He also received the Burlington County Most Valuable Player award in 1948, his senior year. Both years he played with teams that reached the state playoffs.

The Most Valuable Player award, the Naismith Memorial Trophy, is presented to the basketball player who is picked by the officials and coaches in Burlington County as displaying ability, sportmanship and leadership.

Another award, the Ezra B. Martee III Athletic Award came his way when the faculty and administration of Burlington High School selected him for athletic leadership and activity.

Lettered in Baseball

Tommy also lettered in baseball at Juniata last year. He pitched and played the outfield. He also played baseball in high school.

After graduation, Tommy hopes to land a coaching job or to get work in the field of business administration.

Last year Tommy finished second in the scoring derby. He did have the best foul shooting average, however. This season he is again near the top, standing third behind Pollock and Ed Feldkircher.

Pollock, the second half of the forward combination, is another player who has a high rating. Dave, who stands five feet eight and is 18 years old, has played only one game of junior varsity ball in his career which covers five years.

Scored 1298

He played one jayvee game in high school and then moved to the varsity where he played for four years, setting school records left and right. In four years, during which his team 81 out of 98 games, Dave scored 1298 points, 458 coming in his senior year. Both of these totals are school records.

Dave made the league's All-Star team his last two years and won the league's Most Valuable Player award his final year. In addition, Dave was given an honorable mention spot on the All-Pennsylvania high school team his last year.

Right now Dave is leading the Indians in scoring with 57 points in four games for a 14.2 average per game. His high of the season came against Grove City when he hit the nets for 15 markers.

Dave has no particular major but he is inclined to coaching after he leaves school.

Survey Indicates That Basketball Most Popular Sport At JC

As revealed in a poll taken among students on campus by Bob Asan, member of The Juniatian Sports Staff, basketball reigns as the most popular sport on College Hill. The poll was divided into two groups, athletes and non-athletes, depending on whether or not the person interviewed participates in varsity sports.

When asked, "What sport can Juniata College publicize the most?", 49% non-athletes selected football while 52% athletes picked the cage sport. Basketball showed a comfortable majority when the topic, "If only one sport was allowed on campus, which would you prefer?" was asked. A total of 38% of the non-athletes and 62% of the athletes preferred basketball.

"What sport can publicize Juniata the most?" Thirty-nine per cent non-athletes and 70% of the athletes chose the cage sport. In view of all questions polled together it is apparent that basketball is the most popular varsity sport at JC. Football, baseball, golf, and track follow in that order of popularity.

Altoona Center Trips Junior Varsity 60-38; Settle Leads Tribe

The Indian Junior Varsity dropped a 60-38 decision to the Penn State Undergraduate Center of Altoona on the Altoona YMCA court. The home team got off to a comparatively slow start but poured it on during the second and third quarters to emerge with a decisive victory.

Jim Settle, leading JV scorer, once again led the squad with 11 points. The freshman jump shot artist sparked the squad during the early part of the game to what was being considered as an upset in the making.

George Pote got things under way for the Blue and Gold with five straight points and at the end of the first quarter the score was knotted at 13 all. But the Altoona Center boys outscored Juniata 13-1 in the second stanza and led at halftime 26-14.

Juniata just couldn't seem to hit until the final period and by that time it was too late. The fast breaking attack of the Blue and White and the deadly outside shooting of Burch, former Altoona High School star, proved too much for the men of Coach Smaltz.

Jim Boulton was second high man for the Indians with six markers. The next Junior Varsity game will be tonight when the Indian Juniors travel to meet the reserves of Indiana State Teachers. The Altoona Center will journey here for a game on January 30.

Indians Home Jan.19 Encounter Crusaders; Saturday Night Game

by Ted McGuire

The Crusaders of Susquehanna College invade College Hill to meet The Juniata Indians on Saturday night, January 19. At the time of this issue Susquehanna has a record of no wins and three losses.

The Crusaders have met and lost to Lycoming 75-39, a team that has also beaten Juniata. They also lost to Ursinus 60-59 and to the Wilson Teachers of Washington, D. C. 72-53.

Coached by A. A. Stagg, Jr., Susquehanna has a record of two wins and 12 losses last season. The Indians whipped the Crusaders twice last year, 61-50 and 64-59. The Maroon and Orange closed out last season with an amazing upset over powerful Elizabethtown 50-43.

The Staggmen boast four returning lettermen and among these is Charles Zloch, a stalwart last year. Three men on the squad tip the six foot or better mark. Among these is 6-3 Stewart Tomlinson, a sophomore and first string center. Other standouts on the squad include Robert Deibler, 6-3 center, Ned Condon, 5-8 forward, and James Hazlett, 5-10 guard.

The Indians will be out to repeat their verdicts of last season. Juniata is expected to be "up" for this one as the squad really wants to whip the boys from Selinsgrove.

● FAMOUS DAD—Few know it, but Walter Grove, father of Remle Grove, was a star basketeer back in the year of 1926. Rem, currently a member of the Indian Junior Varsity, will have to go quite a distance to gain the honors that were bestowed upon his famous dad.

"Wee Walter" Grove was the defensive mainstay of the famous 1926 team, which was the tallest team to represent the Blue and Gold. The Juniatian of that same year had this to say of Grove's ability: "Too much cannot be said of Grove's ability to snatch the ball out of the altitudes. 'Wee Walter' was the defensive mainstay of the team."

Against Penn State, Grove fouled out and the State team immediately caught fire and rolled to a 29-18 win over the Indians.

His abnormal height put him in a class of a skyscraper with the "midgets" of the opponents. Here's hoping that some of the great abilities of Mr. Grove have been sent to Coach Smaltz in current JV center, Remle Grove.

● BEST AROUND—The Tomahawk, official basketball program on College Hill, has impressed all as one of the finest publications of its kind anywhere. It has been vastly superior to those seen at our opponents' home courts. Up to the minute scoring statistics, complete info covering our opponents, and many more great features make The Tomahawk one of the best game programs we've ever seen.

● BISONS THIRD—The high scoring basketball squad of Bucknell won third place in the Boston Invitational Basketball Tournament which was held over the Christmas holidays. The Bisons managed to edge Arizona State to capture the number two runnerup position.

● MORE FOOTBALL—Well, even though the bowl games are seemingly finished the 1951-52 football season will finally come to a close this Sunday when the annual Pro Bowl Game is held in Los Angeles. The all-stars of the two conferences of the National Football League meet in the second year of the bowl game held on the west coast.

● 22 YEARS AGO—1930 was the year to which we turn back the calendar for the Juniata-Bethany game. The Blue and Gold droped this one by the score of 62-15. Glancing thrugh a copy of The Juniatian for Jan. 9, 1930 the game story was highlighted by this note, "first blood was drawn by Bethany when Rush in a 'spectacular dash' down the floor scored two points."

This also was the year the Indian baseball team made a Southern trip through Virginia. The Blue and Gold tossers met such opponents as Washington & Lee, William & Mary, and the Quantico Marines. Our enrollment at that time was nearly 500.

● BLIND MEN—In case you're wondering where Juniata gets the officials that work the contests on College Hill, here's the answer. Asa S. Bushnell, head of the ECAC, is the man responsible. As a service to its members the ECAC provides "competent" officials for their athletic events. The ECAC stands for Eastern Colleges Athletic Conference, in case you're interested.

Newest Juniatian Picture Process Built On Plastic

Details of the operating principle of the new machinery used to prepare photographs for reproduction in The Juniatian are interesting enough to delight the heart of any physics major.

To make an engraving with the Fairchild equipment just acquired by the Huntingdon Daily News, the operator fastens the photograph on one cylinder of the machine and a special plastic sheet on another opposite. The cylinders are synchronized to revolve together at 33 1/3 rpm. A tiny electric light is focused to shine on the photographs and reflect back on a photo-electric "eye." On the other cylinder, a red-hot stylus is set to cut into the plastic.

After the operator has made his settings and the machine is running, it will automatically make the engraving and shut itself off. As the cylinders rotate together, the spotlight flashes on and off 500 times a second. Each time it flashes, the photo-electric cell measures the brightness of a spot as small as a pin-point.

This measurement is converted into a tiny electrical impulse which is amplified so that it becomes about three billion times stronger. The strengthened signal is fed to the cutting head. Here it activates a glowing pyramid-shaped stylus, causing it to burn a crater into the plastic.

If the light reflects from a white area of the photo, the signal is strong and a deep crater is burned; if it reflects from a dark area, the signal is weak and the crater is shallow. As the cutting head moves along the cylinder, rows of these craters burn away the surface of the plastic leaving large and small dots. These will later collect varying amount of ink and thus enable the printer to reproduce the photograph.

ECAC Lists Rules of Athletic Eligibility For Varsity Players

Asa S. Bushnell, Commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, has listed several ways which students can become ineligible for competition in varsity sports. This list has been sent to all members of the ECAC.

"Listed are some of the most common cases in which students become ineligible through ignorance of the rules of the Eastern College Athletic Conference. The purpose of this list is to caution students interested in athletic competition regarding some of the situations in which they may unwittingly become involved."

Situations Listed

You may become ineligible through the following situations: if you permit the use of your name or picture in commercial advertising, if you practice or try out with a professional team even though you receive no expenses or payment therefore. You may be ineligible if you receive payment or accept a gift or loan for playing, coaching, officiating or teaching in any sport.

The next rule is probably unknown by most people. You may be ineligible for varsity sports if you have ever participated in an athletic contest under a false or assumed name.

Boxing Rules

Concerning boxing the poster sent out by the ECAC states that a student can become ineligible if he has ever boxed against a professional or if he has ever participated in a public boxing contest which was not under intercollegiate or interscholastic auspices. Of course these rules do not directly apply to Juniata as we have no immediate plans for a boxing team.

You may become ineligible if you write a sports article in a periodical other than the one of your institution. Or if you appear on a radio show and are compensated for your appearance.

Of course most everyone is familiar with the transfer rule. This rule states that if a member of a varsity team transfers to another college he must give up a full year's eligibility. This however does not hold true in the cases of those transfering from a junior college or a prep school.

"Frosh Rule" Out

This past year due to the Korean conflict mostly all small colleges and even some of the larger ones have thrown out the "freshman rule." This rule forbids freshmen to compete on varsity teams during their first year at college.

The NCAA, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, has been trying this fall to restore the freshman rule, outlaw spring football practice and abolish post season bowl games. These are all under consideration and as it appears to us the only one of these likely to pass is the return of the freshman rule.

The ECAC poster concludes with this message, "If any of the situations described concern you, please refer your questions to your Director of Athletics for clarification or interpretation."

Bridgers, FM&M Lead IM Loop

The Intramural Basketball League this past week showed the FM & M and Bridgers remain undefeated while the Trojans dropped the first game of the year. The Bridgers have won one more game than the FM & M and consequently lead by a half game.

The Sherwood Globetrotters defeated the Coal Crackers 46-34 and on the same night the FM & M continued on their winning ways with a 66-41 win over the Rockets. The Sackhounds succumbed to the District Three team by a 47-32 count. The Trojans dropped their second game in as many starts by losing to the YHO's 38-22.

Chuck Knox droped in 22 points to lead the Bridgers to a smashing 63-42 victory over the previously unbeaten Trojans. It was a close contest until the final quarter when the Bridgers poured it on to walk away with an easy victory. The Fubars were edged 44-35 by the FS C and the Bookmakers notched a 42-37 win over the Hunters. In the final game the Wild Woodsmen outscored the Coal Crackers 32-24.

The Hunters and the Coal Crackers have yet to notch a victory in league competitions. As it looks now the Bridgers loom as the team to beat and their game with the FM&M should be their toughest obstacle to the championship.

Dickinson Jv's Trip Indian Juniors 70-37; Settle Scores 20

The Junior Varsity of Dickinson College swamped the Juniata JV's Wednesday night to the tune of 70-38. The Red Devils made it a complete runaway and were never headed.

Jim Settle, freshman scoring ace of Coach Smaltz's Little Indians, netted 20 points. This was Settle's high mark for the season and raises his scoring average to 11 points per contest. Joe Hinish was second high for the Indians with a total of nine points.

No Frosh Can Play

The loss to the Dickinson Junior Varsity by such a score wasn't really as bad as it appeared. At Dickinson there is a freshman rule, which prohibits freshmen from playing varsity sports. Most of the Red Devil Junior Varsity are at college on basketball scholarships and are playing on the JV's only because of the previously mentioned rule. The Dickinson varsity could use many of these men badly and must wait until next season. So it was by no means a disgrace to lose by such a score to so talented a team.

Many Ill

Coach Smaltz used his entire bench and many of the squad were hampered by illness which struck the campus on Wednesday afternoon. JV regular, Jim Boulton, was out of action for both games on Wednesday night and his absence was felt heavily. The Junior Varsity travels with the Varsity this evening to meet the JV's of Indiana State Teachers College.

JC Cagers Travel To Encounter Indiana Teachers Five Tonight

HIGH SCORING VISITOR in Wednesday night's game was Dickinson guard, William Stark. This Red Devil ace hit the nets for 28 points but the Indians won 86-84.

by John Dale

Tonight the local cage aggregation travels to Indiana, Pa. to face the Indiana State Teachers College in the first meeting in history between the two schools.

Boasting one of the finest teams in recent years, the ISTC five is supposedly one of the better teams in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference. Last season the Indiana five failed to win the Conference title after dropping their final two games of the season. Their final season record was a fine 12 wins and 5 losses.

4 Players Return

Back from last year's team for the Teachers are Skip Harp, 5-9 guard who lead the team in scoring, Earl George, 6 foot guard, Ray Morgen and 6-3 J. C. Swauger at forward. Two juniors are starting for the Indiana quintet this season, 6-3 Chet Gurski and 6-4 Bill Stoehr, former Dormont ace.

Gurski netted 18 points in Indiana's 77-45 triumph over Steubenville, Ohio. This contest was the Teachers only pre-Christmas victory while they were handed two setbacks, Grove City 82-62 and Lock Haven State Teachers 68-44.

No Bench Weakness

The Indiana five will not be handicapped by bench weakness as they have five men up from last year's JV squad and 15 freshmen, many of whom are seeing plenty of JV experience this campaign.

The Tribe will be somewhat handicapped by playing on a strange floor and participating in only their second contest after the long Christmas vacation. But the team has been working on a new offense and will be strengthened by the return of John Cook, who was out before vacation with a shoulder injury. However, the Indians should be able to break the ice and return home with a victory.

Tribe Wins 1st, 86-84; Beat Dickinson Cagers In Final Seconds

A perfect set shot by Ed Feldkircher as the buzzer sounded in the background gave the Indians their first victory of the season over a hard fighting Dickinson team 86-84. A near capacity crowd viewed a contest that was a breath-taker from start to finish. The Wednesday night game was played on the home court and saw the Blue and Gold play their finest game of the season.

Dave Pollock hit on a set with the score tied at 82 all with 40 seconds remaining on the new scoreboard clock. But a bad pass on an out of bounds play cost the Tribe possession of the ball and the Red Devils struck quickly to knot it at 84-84. But the Tribe playing cautious ball worked the ball down the floor with only a few seconds remaining on the clock. Then Feldkircher's game winning shot brought down the house and the entire Dickinson team. The Red Devils claimed the shot was made after the buzzer had sounded but the officials ruled otherwise and the Indians had win number one of the season.

Green and Dickey Star

Brilliant set shooting from the corners by Tom Green helped the Indians by scoring 16 points. Capt. Green kept the team in the game time after time with perfect shots from the sides. The entire Juniata team played terrific ball but especially outstanding was the brilliant all around game played by senior Jack Dickey. Dickey ran, stole the ball, scored and showed terrific team spirit to pace the Tribe in the contest all the way.

The new fast breaking offense of the Indians never let up and the men of Coach Greene went wild as the shot by Feldkircher split the cords.

Freshman Dave Pollock's outstanding floor play and set shots brought down the house time after time. Pollock played probably his finest game of the year and this is hard to say because he has performed brilliantly all season. Dave hit a new personal high for the season with 17 points.

Kuhn Sets Record

Leo Kuhn, a favorite of the Indian fans, set a new gym record by making ten free throws. Ten out of twelve was Kuhn's foul performance and this could have well been the difference between victory and defeat. Leo totaled 16 points for the evening and rebounded in excellent fashion.

Another fine performance should be credited to Ed Feldkircher, who besides swishing the game winning basket played one of his better games of the current season. Ed snared rebounders time after time to set up the fast breaking attack of the Blue and Gold.

Fran Zimmerman and John Cook, although not figuring heavily in the scoring gave creditable performances and helped sell the crowd on the firehouse brand of attack that Coach Greene used in the game.

In view of what happened Wednesday night the Susquehanna game on Jan. 19 should bring the largest crowd of the season to the Memorial Gymnasium when the fans get their next opportunity to see the Indians in action.

Lois, Campus Bell Ringer Finds Excitement In Her Job

by Louise Gehman

The other day I was calmly walking down Second Brumbaugh when suddenly a sweater and skirt streaked past me, vanishing around the corner. Moments later the bell rang. I knew then that the flash of lightning had been Lois Bratton on her way to the bell tower to ring the dinner bell.

Surprisingly enough to some of you, the main purpose of the bell tower is to house the bell which Lois rings five minutes before each meal, at 7:55 a. m. and 9:55 a. m., and also at 1:40 p. m. on weekdays. Sundays she rings it before the President's Bible Class.

"Happens All The Time"

Well, I walked on out into the Social Rooms. There was Harold Keener standing with a look of bewilderment on his face.

"This happens all the time," he said. "All of a sudden Lois looks at her watch and without a word dashes frantically toward the bell tower. You just can't win."

It's a good thing there's only one bell, isn't it, fellows?

Lois is becoming an expert bell-ringer by now. She's been on the job ever since the second semester last year. In fact she's so good she even tipped the bell over once with an extra-strong tug on the rope. The bell stopped ringing. The rope kept coming down, down, down until it lay there in huge coils.

Day Begins At 6:55 A. M.

The only disadvantage to the job is the fact that she must drag herself out of bed at the unfashionable hour of 6:55 a. m. to ring the breakfast bell.

One morning near the beginning of this school year Lois tore out of her room, Dagwood-fashion, still in her pajamas, at seven minutes till the hour. Although she was more than ⅔'s asleep she became aware of a couple—ah, shall we say, talking, in the social rooms.

Janitor Meets Pajamas

But that isn't all. As she rounded the corner, the janitor materialized in front of her. Let me remind you that Lois was still in her pajamas. From that day on she has made it a practice to go the other way, by Third Brumbaugh, to ring the morning bell.

In spite of these little incidents Lois likes her job and plans to keep it for the remainder of her stay at Juniata.

From the Rider News from Rider College, through the Seton Hall Sectonian by way of the Lebanon Valley La Vie Collegienne, we finally arrive at the following set of statistics.

"Excuses for neglect of studies are of great variety and originality, but a recent survey shows the underlying causes of the unpreparedness are as follows: 72 per cent due to women, 18.6 per cent originate through laziness, 8 per cent because of television and 1.4 are true as related by the student."

Mrs. Carter, Village Resident Tells Of Mission Experienent

by Bob Bridenbaugh

"It's a very interesting life if you don't mind moving around a lot." That was the comment of Mrs. Eleanor Carter, in speaking of her mission work in India.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter, now living in the Village, have served five years as evangelistic missionaries for the Church of the Brethren in Jalapor. Now, Mr. Carter is working on his M.A. at Penn State, while Eleanor is occupied by caring for her two young sons, Elvin, 5, and Donald, 2.

In India For Independence

The Carters were in India at the time her independence was recognized, and also at the time of Ghandi's assassination. In commenting on the present state of affairs there, Mrs. Carter stated that the elections to be held this month will probably be decisive. If Nehru is elected the situation will remain unchanged, but if he is defeated India may turn to communism, she believes.

She pointed out that India is slowly growing and improving, but that when she received her independence she fell back a little because there was a lack of trained men to fill positions. Now, however, she is becoming steadily more advanced.

Manages Village Schools

At Jalapor, Mr. Carter was in charge of village evangelism and managed the village schools. Mrs. Carter was primarily a housewife, but she also worked with the Indian women.

The Carters expect to return to India in the fall. They will go to Vyara this time, a station 40 miles further from civilization. Mrs. Carter asserts that this time, at least, they will be more adequately equipped. Last time they failed to take many things with them which they could well have used.

Heating—

Aside from the shoveling duties, the attendants must care for the two 200 horse power boilers which keep the steam coming. Busiest time of the day is around 10 p. m. when the fires are banked. At that time the furnace room is a scene from Dante's inferno, with smoking cinders, stifeling heat and blazing fires.

The task is complicated by a number of outside factors. Aside from the need for extra time and more shoveling during unusually cold weather, there is the problem of bad coal and the need for a new boiler to cope with the addition of the new gym to an already heavily crowded line. It is necessary to keep pressure high much of the time now in order to adequately heat the more distant buildings, such as Cloisters and Oller Hall.

Ambrose Is Senior Partner

Mr. Ambrose is the senior partner. He has been keeping the home fires burning since 1930, and was a painter for the College for 15 years before that time. Mr. Crownover, a newer man, has only been on the job for six or seven years.

Mr. Ambrose, not content with having worked for the College for such a long time, has also had two sons attend JC. One of them, now a resident of Texas, only recently returned from a tour of duty with the army in Korea.

Senate Considers Two Committees, JWSF

Formation of two committees and deciding upon JWSF recipients were the two major items on the Senate agenda at the meeting Monday night.

Ten students were chosen by the Senate to serve on the new honor system investigating committee. Still headed by Phil Norris, the committee will be composed of one senior, four juniors, three sophomores and two freshmen in addition to the Senate members, Betty Longwell, Jack Rothenberger and Joe Thomasberger.

Comm. Members Listed

The appointed members are Doug Martin. Bob Hower, Jody Siemon, Don Bracken, Jo Pentz, Dagmar Silldorff, Clem Rosenberger, Ben Newcomer, Pat Henry and Gene Rothenberger.

Another committee was appointed to reclassify campus offices, a duty of the Senate as stated in the Constitution. Joe Thomasberger, chairman, Connie Sherman and Marj Seidel will serve on this committee.

JWSF Discussed

JWSF recipients were then discussed, and a revision was made. Since it was felt that the Red Cross conducts its own national drive, this recipient was removed from the JWSF. In its place the Senate moved to help the Christian University in Tokyo with funds received.

Other efforts aided by the drive are the World Student Service Fund, Student Aid and the Brethren missionaries, H. Stover Kulp and Paul Hoover. The drive will begin February 17.

Bus Prices Go Up; Head Trend

Inflation came home to roost on the pocketbooks of Joe and Jane Jaycee this week, as the price of bus rides, haircuts and books all climbed a notch on the price spiral.

Rohm Transit Co., operators of Huntingdon's local bus line, announced that beginning today a new schedule of rates is in effect. Single cash fares rise from seven to 10 cents and three tickets are now 25¢, a nickle boost.

The local barber's guild followed the national trend by upping the cost of haircuts to $1 Monday. And Prof. Clyde Stayer, bookstore manager, announced that the price of texts had jumped an average of 50¢ since last term.

Lingenfelter, Injured In Auto Crash, Reported Better

Wesley Lingenfelter, Juniata freshman injured in an auto accident near Lilly Saturday night is reported to be in a much improved condition in a Johnstown hospital. His condition had been previously reported to be 'critical'.

Also injured in the accident were Lingenfelter's parents and two younger children. All are expected to recover.

No Grades Before Thursday

Grade reports will not be released to students before Thursday, registrar A. William Engel, Jr. has announced. It takes at least 10 days after the close of a term to process and multilithograph the forms, he added.

All Class Night Scripts Due Soon, Chairman States

"The final All Class Night script for each class should be in my hands by Feb. 15," Carrie Lou Greene, All Class Night general chairman, has announced.

"This means," she added, "that the committee (which includes Dr. Donald Rockwell and the dean of women) will have about a week to approve them, and the classes will have nearly a month to prepare their shows."

The Masque production of "Romeo and Juliet" March 14 and 15 will cut into the time classes will be able to work on their All Class Night skits, the general chairman pointed out. All Class Night is April 3.

Miss Greene added the reminder that skits can be no more than 22 minutes in length from bare stage to bare stage, and that they are to be completely written, produced and directed by the students themselves.

Valentine Dance Set; Replaces Frosh Party

The following changes have been made in the social calendar, according to Betty Longwell, Senate Chairman of Social Activities.

Tomorrow night a Valentine dance will be sponsored by the Social Committee, instead of the previously scheduled Freshman Party. Dancing will be from 8:15 to 11:30 p. m. in the Women's Gym.

The freshmen will entertain either May 3 or May 10, depending upon the date of May Day.

Spiritual Emphasis Week To Begin Feb. 11

Spiritual Emphasis Week on Juniata Campus will begin Feb. 11.

Edward K. Ziegler, director of Evangelism in the General Brotherhood Board, will be the speaker. He will appear in chapel, at JCA meetings, and at the Stone Church.

JC Students Speak At Civic Functions; Music Featured

Under the direction of Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the President, Juniata musical groups and speakers have been providing entertainment for various civic organizations.

On Tuesday, Jan. 29, George Dolnikowski and the Warblers Trio entertained the Men's Brotherhood of the Juniata Valley in the Lutheran Church at Petersburg. The trio, composed of Joy Truxai, Jody Siemon, and Barbara Lape, sang six numbers, while Dolnikowski spoke on the "Forces of Communism in the World Today."

The Church of the Brethren in Everett, during the past week, dedicated an addition to its plant. Dr. Tobia Henry spoke Tuesday, while Dean Morley Mays and the Varsity Quartet participated in the ceremony Wednesday.

Four international students will speak at the Rotary Club meeting in Lewistown Feb. 7. They are Herman Pabst, Dick Ikeda, Sam Apprey, and George Dolnikowski. The Warblers will sing the same night with the Music Club of Lewistown.

On Thursday, Feb. 14, Juniata College will present a program for the annual Ladies' Night entertainment at the Rotary Club in Roaring Spring. Alumnus Robert Hoover will be master of ceremonies, the Varsity Quartet will sing, and Janet Boland and Phyllis Link will give short dramatic skits.

Pearce Named New JC Faculty Member

One new part-time instructor, Charles Pearce, has been added to Juniata's faculty. The art supervisor of Tyrone Public schools, he will teach applied art here. This course is designed primarily for students preparing to be elementary education teachers.

Pearce is a graduate of Indiana State Teachers College and has done graduate study at The Pennsylvania State College. He has been conducting extension education courses in arts and crafts for the last two years.

With the addition of Pearce, Juniata's staff now numbers 38 instructional faculty, including Miss Nancy Rodgers, who is teaching a course in home nursing in the home economics department.

1924 Scout Reveals Old Rules For Juniata Students

by Jeanie Tait

The average JC student can usually find a variety of things to complain about. But you really are pretty well off. The following gems were gleaned from the 1924-25 edition of the Juniata College hand book, The Scout.

- Young men may accompany young women to functions held on the campus, conditioned upon return to Ladies' Hall immediately at the close of the program.
- Young men and young women may associate after lunch until 1:15 p. m., from 4:15 to 6 p. m., and in the designated season after dinner in the Social Rooms until study hours. The limits are the top of Round Top, 14th Street, Scott Street and Mifflin Street.
- Women may be permitted to go auto-riding with men in the afternoon with an authorized chaperon, who must be approved by the President or Dean of Women.
- Freshmen shall not appear in public with their hands in their pockets.
- Young women shall conduct themselves in a dignified manner while on the campus. Reclining and half-reclining positions are not considered dignified.
- If you are a Freshman, conduct yourself accordingly. If you can do anything worth while, it will soon be found out, so bide your time.
- When you are asked to do anything, do it cheerfully. You may have to do it anyway.
- If the meals don't suit, awake to the fact that you're not at home and thank your lucky stars that you're not at certain other institutions.
- If you smoke, chew, dance, or play cards, just cease the habit during your stay here—or it may be a mighty short stay.
- If you get a poor grade, don't blame it on the professor—you made it.

And remember, all of these came from the 1924 Scout.

Hershey Reveals New Selective Service Data

Students graduating this June will not receive the 30 day grace period for enlistment which was the privilege of their colleagues last June, Major General Lewis Hershey has announced. Hershey is Director of Selective Service for the nation.

Maj. Gen. Lewis Hershey
• Issues New Draft Data •

He pointed out that the 1951 amendments to the draft law make this grace period unnecessary.

Under the 1948 law, students became liable for immediate induction at the close of their academic year, since the law instructed draft boards only to give postponements until graduation. Under the new amendments, deferments are granted instead of postponements.

Ample Chance To Enlist

Students "will, therefore, have ample opportunity after the completion of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice," Hershey said.

Whether a man is classified I-S or II-S, it is a deferred classification, not postponement of induction, Hershey emphasized. This means that at the end of each academic year, the local board must reopen the classification to see if a man qualifies for anything other than I-A.

If the board doesn't defer a man for another year, he has the right to enlist in the service of his choice, a right which continues until he is ordered for induction. However, the Selective Service law prohibits a man from enlisting once he has been ordered to report for induction.

Don't Get Panicky

A student who is ordered for induction should not be thrown into a panic, Hershey added. "All that is necessary is for him to request the dean or registrar to immediately give his local board official notice that he is a full-time student doing satisfactory work and that such actually commenced prior to the date the order for induction was mailed."

In June of last year, the Department of Defense rescinded an agreement between the Army, Navy and Air Force not to take any man for enlistment in any of the services after he has been notified to report for his Selective Service preinduction physical examination.

As a result, any graduate desiring to enlist now in the service of his choice will have the opportunity. In addition, Hershey added, "it appears probable that those students completing their academic year in June will also have the chance to enlist in the service they desire.

Church Education Programs To Be Offered In Feb.

A new series of courses in the community educational program for people of this area will begin Feb. 25, Dean Morley Mays has announced. The new series will begin after the close of the present community school. First sessions will be held Feb. 25.

The new group of subjects will contain five courses in religious education. They will be directed at church leaders and lay workers. This program supplants the Community Leadership Training School, previously sponsored by the Huntingdon County Sunday School Association.

Classes will be conducted weekly in Students Hall. Total length of the program will be six weeks.

No college credit will be granted for the courses. However, it has been pointed out that persons may obtain credit for the courses with the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches.

A minimum of ten students will be required in order for a course to be offered. They will be given as follows: Jesus and His Teachings, Prof. G. Wayne Glick; The Purpose and Program of the Church, Dr. T. F. Henry; The Church Through the Centuries, Dr. Kenneth W. Crosby; Ways of Teaching, instructor to be announced; Dramatics in Christian Education, Miss Esther M. Doyle.

G. I. Q. Contest Set For Feb. 20

This year's general Information Contest has been scheduled for Feb. 20 at 4 p. m. in the library.

Miss Lillian Evans is the general chairman of the contest. Her committee consists of Dr. S. Lees Booth, Dr. George Clemens, Prof. G. Wayne Glick, Dr. Homer Will, Miss Anna Benjamin, and Miss Margaret McCrimmon.

The contest was instituted some years ago by Joseph Biddle. Prizes of $15 and $10 are awarded to the first and second place winners.

The questions will be of a general nature and should be of interest to all college students. The papers are identified by number rather than the student's name, and the identity of the winners is known only by the committee. The scores are announced by number so that everyone who enters the contest may know what score he makes without anyone else knowing.

Oller Travels Abroad

Prof. Jack Oller is on leave of absence for the Spring term. He has gone to Switzerland.

Speaker, Worship Set For Chapel

Chapel speaker for Monday will be Rufus Bowen. Worship services will be conducted Wednesday and Friday.

5 Frosh Among 17 New JC Students

Eight transfer students, five freshmen and four returning students have been added to the college roster for the spring term of 1952.

Six of these, however, have not yet arrived on campus. One is held up at the Canadian border by visa troubles, four are attending high schools which have not yet ended their first semester, and one is a student at Grove City College, which also has not yet reached the end of the first semester.

The freshmen are Robert Gottlieb from the West Philadelphia High School, John Gobs from Carlisle, Bruce McKinley from Cambria Heights, N. Y., Frank De Russo from Central High in Philadelphia and Benjamin Kevitch from the Olney and Temple High Schools, Philadelphia.

Advanced students include David Alcorn of Orbisonia, Evelyn Ardies of Toronto, Canada, Mildred Brocker of Newfield, N. J., Douglas Carl of Saltillo, Ralph Godshall from Penn State, Lena Hostetler from Goshen College, William Miller from Grove City College and James Singer from the Altoona Center of Penn State.

Returning to Juniata are Frank Dolce, Eleanor Formwalt, John Freymuller and Robert Motisher.

Spring Recess Is April 9-17

Easter vacation this year will extend from Wednesday afternoon, April 9, to 8 a. m. Thursday, April 17. The catalog listing of the vacation as being from April 12 through 21 is incorrect.

Screen Offers Killer Kahn Or Art Thief

by FRANK HARLACHER

THE GOLDEN HORDE—The 13th century Genghis Khan whose army swept out of Asia and dealt destruction to all in its path is the story of this technicolor pageant.

Harlacher

In it we find a very clever Persian princess (Ann Blyth) saving her people from the Golden Horde by trickery. She uses her charm to play the leader of the threatened western nations (David Farrar) against the son of the ruthless Kahn (Henry Brandon) and thus save the Persian city. She also tricks herself right into the arms of Crusader Farrar and all ends per usual.

Here's an escapist picture for those who only wish to look and like. The film is a swashbuckler and a blood-thriller using technicolor to best advantage. Clifton Theatre.

THE LIGHT TOUCH—Plot of this screen-drama revolves around a very clever art thief, Stewart Granger ("King Solomon's Mines"). His escapades in trying to elude a revengeful art dealer and his henchman occupy a goodly portion of the time. Hiring the beautiful Pier Angeli ("Teresa"), however, leads to love along the Mediteranean in all its moonlit splendor.

The picture is overlong, but let's hope that Miss Angeli's performance and the authentic location shots of scenes in Italy and Tunis will be sufficient to hold our attention. Grand Theatre.

● SCHOOL SPIRIT—For the first time this year we have seen school spirit show itself at Juniata. All during football season, the fans sat in the stands as if deaf and dumb. No noise, no cheering for our hard working gridsters. And now during the current basketball season our team needs all of the cheering and support the school can give it.

Gray

The same goes for the Junior Varsity games when you can almost hear a pin drop at some games. Most of the time it sounds like a morgue. Both squads are representing YOU and although they don't have winning records they are out there battling every minute to give Juniata a good name in Intercollegiate sports.

It seems safe to say that most high schools have more school spirit for their athletic teams than do some colleges. It gets discouraging for any ball team to know that the other students in school don't care if you win or not.

● DUE CREDIT—The managers of the varsity and junior varsity basketball teams who are due for a lot of credit are Charlie Towns, Bill Dilling and Bill Braunwarth. It takes good managers to help put a ball team on the floor and these boys are doing a fine job, especially on the road trips.

● ANNOUNCE SCORES—To inform the campus of the scores of the Indian road trips why couldn't the tallies of the varsity and junior varsity games be announced in the dining hall at lunch the day following a game? In many cases students never learn of the scores of games that are played away from home.

Brumbaugh Babes Lead Girls IM Loop; T-D's Close

The women's intramural basketball tournament rounds the midway mark with the Brumbaugh Babes, captained by Nancy Blanck in the lead. The Babes have won three games and lost none. They are closely tailed by the Tri-Delts who have won three and lost one. The T-D's are headed by Sue Jamison.

High scores for the tourney are held by Joyce Gibble and Ruth Armentrout with 51 points apiece. Next, also splitting honors, are Lee Englehart and Mary Louise Neikirk who have racked up 42 points each so far.

The games are officiated by the members of the Officials Club.

Jim Settle, JV Star, Ruled Ineligible; Led Team In Scoring

JV scoring ace, Jim Settle, has been ruled ineligible for further athletic competition because of scholastic probation. This is a serious blow to the Little Indians as Settle was leading the squad with 87 points.

Jim was expected to nail down a spot on the Indian baseball squad this spring. He is a catcher and has received offers from several major league teams. Settle is an education major and hails from Centre Hall, Pa. The JV's were just beginning to "roll" at the time of the news after winning three straight.

Rules Changes Listed For Girls Basketball

The current basketball season has brought forth several changes in the rules of girls basketball. Miss Jane McCormick, Women's Athletic Director, has announced that these rules have already been put into effect in the girls intramural league on campus.

The main rule change has been the "limited dribble", which allows a player only two bounces of the ball instead of the previous continuous dribble as used in mens' basketball. Miss McCormick states that the main reason for the rule change was that it was effecting the foul rules. Rather than do this the rules makers decided on changing the dribble rule.

Other minor rule changes for this season include the right of an offensive player to "roll" or "hand" the ball to a team-mate instead of the previous rule which declared that passing was the only way that the ball could change from one offensive player to another. These three changes in girls' rules for this season are the only ones of any importance.

Albright Downs Tribe 95-53; Capt. Potts Leads Lions With 34

The towering Lions of Albright College led by center Gerry Potts trounced the Indians 95-53 in a game played Wednesday night in the Memorial Gymnasium. Potts set a new gym record by hitting the nets for 34 points, smashing the old record of 29 set by Mike Weaver of Grove City earlier this season.

The Indians made a battle of it the first quarter but the Lions were still in front at the end of the first stanza by a score of 25-18. Leading Indian scorer, Dave Pollock, had 25 to set a new seasonal high for the Tribe. Pollock was "hot" on his set shots during the first stanza when he accounted for 16 points.

Potts Had 18.3 Average

Potts, team captain, went into the game with a 18.3 average. His previous high was against Bucknell when he dumped in 29 counters. He also lead the football team in scoring this past season. His pivot partner Connie Dettling hit the cords for 23 points. Both Potts and Dettling are 6-5.

The Tribe had a rough time of it against the height advantage of Albright and could only manage to get in one or two shots before one of the Lions snared the rebound. Smallest man on the Albright roster was a mere 5-11. The Lions were particularly rough and they had several technical fouls called against them.

John Cook stole the ball many times early in the game and helped set up many Indian scores which held down the Lions' margin. Cook accounted for four points and played good defensive ball.

Kuhn Second High

Pollock was followed on the Indian scoring ledger by Leo Kuhn with 8 points and Jerk Dickey with 6. Capt. Tom Green was held to 2 points and Ed Feldkircher had 3.

The Albright basketeers impressed Juniata fans as the finest team to appear here this season. Their smooth ball handling and sharp shooting kept them in the lead all the way after the Indian attack burned out in the first quarter. The only reason that the Lions didn't reach the century mark was the fact that Coach Eddie Gulian played his reserves during the final quarter.

The Indians next opponent will be Elizabethtown on next Wednesday evening. Coach Greene will floor a ball team that is eager to rack up victory number three for Juniata.

JV's Beat AWC 51-49: Third Straight Win

The Indian Junior Varsity rolled to its third straight win downing Altoona Undergraduate Center of Penn State 51-49. Jim Settle, playing his last JV game, led the squad with 14 points. It was a close game all of the way and the AUC team nearly caught the Indians in the final minutes but a successful freeze put the game in the bag for JC.

Joe Hinish enjoyed his best night this season as he hit for 11 points and was followed by Jim Boulton with 10. Herb Law and Glenn Burket had 8 apiece. Burch led the Altoona squad with 22 points and his fine shooting nearly turned the tide in the final quarter.

The men of Coach Smaltz play their next game Wednesday night when they entertain Pitt-Johnstown Center. The Indian Juniors will be after their fourth straight and are beginning to play the ball expected of them.

E-Town Meets Tribe Here Wed. Night As Indians Seek 3rd Win

The Blue Jays of Elizabethtown invade College Hill Wednesday night to meet the Indian varsity. The teams were to have met earlier in the season but the game at E-town was postponed because of an epidemic of food poisoning among the members of the E-town team.

Last season the two teams split even as Juniata won the first encounter 51-39 and the Blue Jays snared the second 57-47. E-town will not present a problem in height as they are about equal to the Indians in that department. Senior Ed Brunner, third high scorer last season, is expected to be one of the big guns for the Jays.

Elizabethtown was defeated by Albright last Saturday night 73-57 in a game played at Reading. Last season E-town upset Albright 55-45 but this season the Lions had too much power.

In recent outings the Jays beat Susquehanna 49-32 and dropped verdicts to Millersville 45-35, Lebanon Valley 54-44 and Mt. St. Marys 50-47. The contest with Mt. St. Marys found the Jays leading through out the game but they dropped the contest in the final minute.

This will be the first of two games at home this week for the Indians as they face Geneva at home next Saturday night. The team is expected to be "up" for this one and they feel they can come through with another win. The Indians have added some bench strength in Don Bottomley, freshman who will play both varsity and JV ball. Bottomley was off the squad because of ineligibility the first semester.

Juniata Student Gets Radio Ham Operator's Credentials

by Jeanie Tait

WN3TBE calling. WN3TBE . . .

The above signal belongs to Mim Smith, Juniata's first girl to receive her ham operator's license.

A ham is an amateur radio operator authorized by the Federal Commission of Communications to send short wave messages. Miss Smith on Dec. 28 took an exam in radio theory and international Morse Code and on Jan. 23 received her license, which permits her to contact other hams.

Plans To Set Up Station

"I plan to set up my own station in Room 300 of Founders Hall", reports Mim. "It will be the first authorized station at the College". At present she has a short wave receiving set in her room and will get the rest of her equipment soon. She plans to operate in code at first.

WN3TBE is the call which identifies Mim on the air. The N stands for novice—a new class with less strict requirements. After a year's experience she hopes to try for a higher class license.

"Very Fascinating Hobby"

"It is a very fascinating hobby," reports Mim, since there are hams all over the world. Tex Beneke and his wife are ardent fans and she hopes sometime to contact them. Calls have been received from as far as New Zealand and one fortunate ham even contacted the men on the famous Kon Tiki trip. Mim will be able to send and receive calls from a distance of about 250 miles.

The ham operator switches on his set, calls CQ (seek you), and, according to Mim, "the big thrill comes when somebody calls you back."

Mim feels that her hobby is "both fascinating and educational, since the code is quite useful."

Other Distinctions

In addition to being the first woman ham at Juniata, Mim also has the distinction of being runner-up for the title Miss Susquehanna Valley.

In September Mim represented Juniata County in the Beaver Community Fair Contest and was only two points behind the winner.

As an award Mim received a $100 scholarship and gifts of jewelry and furniture. "The most highly paid evening I'll probably ever spend," she remarked.

Unmatched Earings Among Lost Articles

One cushion, one raincoat, two unmatched rhinestone earrings, one leather glove, one pair of white wool socks, glasses—where else but at the lost and found department could one find such a conglomeration of unusual articles?

Statistics prove that the JC student is a trifle absent-minded about his belongings. Posted on the bulletin board in Founders Hall is a current list of lost and found items, numbering 30 in all.

Any number of pens and pencils are waiting to be claimed, to say nothing of the coats, jackets, gloves, socks—enough to make a complete wardrobe for any college joe.

Necklaces, bracelets and earrings (not matching of course) are there in plenty for the members of the fairer sex. Such miscellaneous articles as flashlights, a wallet, a clothes brush, and textbooks galore complete the list.

So if you recognize any of these various and sundry articles as yours, why don't you check at the information window?

At present Strittmatter is continuing study at Harvard University in biological chemistry.

The Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies granted 343 of the fellowships altogether, in an effort to give "promising young scientists the opportunity to continue their research and study."

Former Alfarata Editor Hailed For Algae Studies

A former Alfarata editor and track captain, Dr. Jack Myers, BS in chemistry, '34, has been hailed by the New York Times for his experimental work with algaes as a possible source of food, fats and oils.

A professor of zoology at the University of Texas and one of the grantees of Carnegie Institution, Dr. Myers is working with the chorella species of algae, studying "the theoretical or biological problems which need to be solved in order to make any industrial attempts actually feasable."

Algae are described as nutritious, prolific and simple plants growing on the surface of ponds and lakes and in the sea as seaweed. Dr. Myers, who holds a master of science degree from Montana State College and a PH. D. from the University of Minnesota, explains that "the mass culture of algae as a source of food . . . has received considerable recent popular attention."

Music Test To Be Given Today

The Seashore Test of musical talent will be given this afternoon at 4:30 in Room C, according to an announcement from Miss Marion Thomas.

Designed to determine in-born or natural musical ability, this hour long test does not require any musical training or knowledge on the part of the participants. It is open to any Juniata student interested; new music students are especially urged to take it, however.

The test is given with a series of records. From these, the testee is asked at different times to identify or contrast rhythms, timbre (quality of notes), and intensity of notes.

A member of the music faculty will score the tests according to an established standard. Results will then be available to each participant.

Lab Hours Force Change In Spring Recess Dates

The reason for the change to an afternoon adjournment hour for Easter vacation is that otherwise laboratories would suffer from the loss of two Wednesday afternoon sessions, the President's Office has announced.

In addition, for the first time in several years students will be at home on Good Friday, instead of attending classes.

Last weeks' Juniatian reported that this year the Spring recess will begin the afternoon of Wednesday, April 9 and classes will resume Thursday morning, April 17. This is a change from the dates listed in the catalog.

Speaker Tells How French View American Politics

by Jim Streiner

"The French people look on the United States as something of a dictatorship . . . her President is too powerful," commented Nicholas de Rochefort, former instructor at the University of Paris and currently a professor of political science at Georgetown University.

Speaking to the International Relations Club here last week, Mr. de Rochefort pointed out additional differences between the French and American political set-up.

Parliament Rules

"In France," he said, "the real government is in the hands of the Parliament, generally led by the middle-of-the-road parties and the cabinet. The president is a creature of parliament; he is not elected."

The party platform is more important in France than here, the political scientist said. Government is possible even with a multi-party political system, because the parties disagree only on certain fundamental domestic issues.

Coalitions Formed

Since they generally see eye to eye on international policies, it is possible to form coalition governments which work until one party decides it can no longer compromise on a certain domestic question.

When this happens, the cabinet resigns and a new election is held. Though this may happen several times in a year (and has recently), it is no indication that the French government is collapsing, Mr. de Rochefort said.

He explained this by saying, "France has 100% civil service. As a result, only about 30 people (generally parliamentarians not re-elected and their staff) change when a cabinet falls. This is hardly enough change to upset a government."

Dean Of Women Speaks Before Juniata League

Miss Jane McCormick journeyed to Johnstown Jan. 28 to speak before the Juniata Women's League. Dean McCormick spoke about her adventures and experiences in Europe this past summer.

The meeting was held in the home of a former Juniata graduate, Mrs. E. A. Hower. Mothers of several Juniata students were present.

The Juniata Women's League is a group of women in and around Johnstown who are interested in the welfare of the College. During the year it carries on money-producing activities and turns the proceeds over to the College. Last year the League dedicated its proceeds to a future Student Union.

College Choir Opens Season Tonight, 7:30

A "Critical Review Recital" will be given by the Juniata College Choir tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the Stone Church, Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the President, has announced. This recital will serve as a sort of "dress rehearsal" for the 1952 tour.

Each choir member is "supposed to bring a student friend to the recital." Other interested persons are also invited to attend, Mr. Brumbaugh said.

For many years the College sent out in the Spring an A Cappella Choir, so called because it's members sang without accompaniment. In recent seasons the Choir has utilized piano and organ accompaniment more and more. Finally, under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson this year, it was decided to recognize this change by officially calling the group simply The Juniata College or Touring Choir.

Another inovation instituted this season by Prof. Johnson was the addition of a six man orchestral section to accompany the choristers on certain numbers. Included will be three violins, a cello, a flute and a clarinet.

The Juniata College Choir will go on its annual tour Mar. 1 to 9. This year they will head for the Eastern part of the state and New Jersey. The schedule is as follows: Mar. 1, Pottstown; Mar. 2, Philadelphia, Haddon Heights, N. J., and Carney's Point, N. J.; Mar. 3, Penn's Grove, N. J., West Philadelphia; Mar. 4, Ambler; Mar. 5, Allentown; Mar. 6, Emmaus, Soudertown; Mar. 7, Reading, Ephrata; Mar. 8, York; Mar. 9, Harrisburg, Newport, Mifflintown.

Sunday, Feb. 17, the Choir, under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson, will present three concerts—New Enterprise, Everett, and Saxton.

Their other trips are Mar. 23, Greencastle, Waynesboro, Hagerstown; Apr. 20, Williamsburg, Leamersville, Altoona; and May 6, Philipsburg.

Florida Trip Fun; Alligators Sleepy, Travellers Say

by Louise Gehman

They threw their luggage into the two cars which stood waiting for them, waved a fond farewell to the Juniata campus, and were off for the land of oranges, sunshine, and alligators.

"Where are you going?" yelled a passerby.

"Destination Florida!" shouted Chuck Needy, Bill Rutter, Tony Segalovich, Henry Jarra, Tom Sanders, Ron Clapper, Tom Cherok, Ted Colross, Ed Weirauch, Dave Baer, and Harry Winans in an exuberant chorus.

No wonder these lads were gay for on this day, January 23, 1952, they began a rollicking vacation in which they sun-bathed on such beaches as Jacksonville, Tampa, Daytona, and Clearwater; picked oranges and grapefruit from trees right outside their motel windows; and all in all forgot about Plato, electrons, and Miss Mathias' cooking.

They were often hailed by shouts of "Yankees", but why complain, you-all, when it's from those gorgeous southern belles?

Ziegler Guest At Spiritual Emphasis Week Observation

The Rev. Edward K. Ziegler, of Elgin, Illinois, will be the guest speaker during the annual Spiritual Emphasis Week at Juniata.

Spiritual Emphasis Week, which will begin Sunday, is arranged "in order to deepen and strengthen the spiritual life of the student body."

Rev. Ziegler will speak at three chapel services during the week and at evening services in the Stone Church. He will be available for individual or group discussions with students and faculty members.

Topics Announced

Topics of the chapel addresses have been announced by Rev. Ziegler as follows: God: Starmaker and Friend, Living by the Light of the Eternal, and Quo Vadis.

Services will be held every night at the Stone Church. Rev. Ziegler will discuss such subjects as Christ Confronts Communism, The Fellowship of Concern, The Renewal of Discipleship, The Story of Seed and Soil, The Beauty of God, and The Church in Your House.

Music at the evening services of the Stone Church will be provided by the following College individuals and organizations: Joy Truxal, the Varsity Quartet, the Varsity Trio, the Warblers Trio, Clyde Johnson, Steve Musto, Helen Rosengren and Prof. G. Wayne Glick.

Paving the way for the Spiritual Emphasis Week program will be discussions held in faculty homes on Sunday evening. These student-led discussions will be centered around the topic, Where Are You Going?

Has Missionary Experience

A graduate of Elizabethtown College, Bethany Biblical Seminary and Gettysburg Theological Seminary, Rev. Ziegler served as a missionary to India for eight years. He was also assistant professor of Bible and Religion at Manchester College.

At present he is Director of Evangelism and Rural Church-work of the General Brotherhood Board. He was a member of the Federal Commission of Churches from 1941 to 1945 and is the author of several books on rural worship.

Enrollment Drops For New Semester

Enrollment for the spring term has shown only a 3% drop from fall figures, Registrar A. William Engel has announced. Only 17 students here last semester have left for personal or academic reasons, he added.

Enrollment statistics show a total of 536 full-time, part-time and special students. A full-time student is defined as one who is carrying at least 12 credit hours.

432 Students Residents

Among the resident students there are 234 men and 181 women attending Juniata on a full-time basis. In addition, there are 9 men and 8 women part-time resident students. Total number of resident students is set at 432.

Of a total of 83 day students, 56 men and 21 women are attending classes full-time, while 4 men and two women are here part-time.

21 Unclassified Special

In addition, 9 men and 12 women are listed as unclassified special students.

Total enrollment figures show that there are 312 men and 224 women, continuing the usual 3:2 man to woman ratio.

Unset Tables Listed

The following dining hall tables will be taken down next week, reports head waitress Jo Pentz:

Monday noon—54, 55, 4, 6; evening—56, 57, 7, 8, 27, 29; Tuesday noon—9, 10, 30, 31; evening—11, 12, 32, 33, 13, 14; Wednesday noon—35, 37, 15, 16; evening—39, 41, 44, 45, 17, 18; Thursday noon—19, 20, 46, 47; evening—21, 22, 23, 24, 48, 49; Friday noon—25, 26, 50, 51.

Care To Come With Us?

Never before have we reprinted an editorial from an outside source. In this case, however, the following edit from the March 2, 1951, edition of the Pitt University News sums up completely our personal convictions regarding Spiritual Emphasis Week.

IN EVERY inhabited square yard of the world today, including that one you're standing or sitting on right now, a human being stands at the last fork in a long road in which he has taken too many wrong turns.

At the end of one road, the downhill one that gravity is already dragging him toward, lies destruction and anarchy. At the end of the other one, a long steep hill, lies the goal of the whole long journey—Peace.

The choice doesn't seem difficult, except that somewhere along the way left and right have become hopelessly confused, and the traveler can't figure out which way to turn. And he has to go on.

OTHER MEN, travelers like himself, haven't been able to find the right fork either, and it looks as if they're surrendering to gravity; these people named Truman, Acheson, Stalin, and a lot of others who get their names on Page 1 every day.

You'll have to look in the back pages of the Saturday paper to find the only one who still has a map and a compass that isn't deflected by things like iron curtains. Most of us call Him God.

ALL THIS is leading up to the fact that next week, Dr. Edward Ziegler and the JCA will get togther to help try to find the Man with the Compass for us travelers. Beginning Monday, the first day of Spiritual Emphasis Week, they're going to be taking over pulpits, rostrums and faculty living rooms, setting up a sort of information booth at that last fork in the road.

Care to step across the street with us?

Sam Sez . .

Latest figures show that 25% of the men who get married proposed while driving a car, which only goes to show that more accidents happen on the road than anywhere else.

Men still die with their boots on—but usually one boot is on the accelerator.

CINEVIEWER

Modern Ghost Vs. Generous Spouse

by Frank Harlacher

ROOM FOR ONE MORE—All reviews of this family picture seem to reveal an element of human warmth and generosity that is sometimes hard to find in this world of "survival of the fittest." The thought that the story tries to put across is that there are some people who desire to help others overwhelms the hardships that seem to be the consequences of such a life.

Cary Grant's wife (Betsy Drake) is an example of this type and proves it as the picture progresses. The Grant home is, at the beginning, already overcrowded with the couple's two children. As the plot unfolds we find stray dogs, cats, an unwanted child of divorced parents and a cripple finding a haven in the Grant family.

Grant's satirical nature, a married life love affair, and complications which arise should prove both humorous and pleasing in "Room For One More." Clifton Theatre.

PANDORA AND THE FLYING DUTCHMAN—As the title would indicate, the fantastic fable of the Flying Dutchman who was doomed to travel the world as a ghost until a woman proves her love by dying for him is the story.

The movies make it more unbelievable by having the events happen in modern settings with modern characters.

Some pleasing aspects of this over long, over-dialogued film are the use of technicolor and the fact that the picture was shot completely in Spain. Ava Gardner and James Mason perform in the title roles. Grand Theatre.

Today, being the deadline for the truce talks, finds things very quiet on the front. Maybe they will get this police action settled.

At the present I am living in a bunker about ¾ of a mile on the side of hill 385. It is a very crude home but very comfortable at times. I made my own stove which does suffice as the heating system.

Every time I think of Juniata I always remember that I am forgetting the Alumni Association, but I made a New Year's resolution that I will put so much aside each month for that purpose. However, up to this time I have received nothing from them either, so I thought that maybe someone could be able to locate me a position by the time I get discharged, which is in October.

I was always desirous of getting located with some oil company—(but) anything would be satisfactory for the time . . .

Will History Repeat Itself If Our Policy Arms 500,000 Germans?

by Bob Volpitto

The West German Republic is beginning a trip down the road of national status.

Volpitto

Federal Chancellor Konrad Adenauer stated flatly that West Germany's membership in NATO, and "satisfactory" solutions of the Saar problems, would be the price of a West German army.

It appears that Germany is now in the position to bargain with her former adversaries. Once again this area is ready to feel its oats among the sovereign states of the world.

Herein lies the conflict: Are we to support a program that potentially endangers the already shaky position of our French allies?

First Line Of Defense

Or, on the other hand, are we to assume the attitude that Germany is the first geographical line of defense, and that 500,000 armed Germans must be had on our terms?

Someone should have spunk enough to tell Adenauer that his country is still in an occupation status, and that support of all types will be required. Why must we soft pedal?

Let's Set Policy

Now that we have been foolish enough to try to save what is left of free Europe, let's set the policy.

Our prestige is at stake. We must either offend a long standing ally, or appease a former enemy. French Communists could make great capital if we blunder. "See," they could say, "the nation who ravaged us now becomes the favorite in America's eyes. Your idol has feet of clay."

TEEPEE TOPICS

by Joyce Bernard

ACCIDENT—Bob Flory (alias Silas), while disecting a shark in vertebrate anatomy lab, dissected a few of his fingers. While administering first-aid he spilled the mercurachrome, but insists his fingers are merely blushing! Maybe we should ask the shark what happened?

UNCLE HAROLD—Harold Brumbaugh, who has an "uncle" relationship with the faculty's children, was taking Bill Engel's little ones home from the basketball game. It must have been the excitement of the game that caused them to peer up at him and address him as "Daddy."

BABY, IT'S COLD INSIDE—Things have been rather chilly on campus lately. One morning when the janitor opened the library the temperature was a cold 42 degrees. The thermostat didn't know this cause it registered 85! And then there's the bonfire method!

Car Corner

The freshest development on the American scene is the new Muntz Jet sports car now being made at Muntz TV factory in Chicago. Features: 160 horsepower Lincoln V-8 engine: 4 passenger custom-built convertible body with a lift-off hardtop; Hydramatic Drive: top speed around 115 m.p.h., and terrific acceleration. Price? $5500.

SPORT FLASHES

● INTRAMURAL FANS—Student interest in the Intramural Basketball League was displayed Tuesday night when a large crowd turned out to see the FM & M-Bridgers game. Although the crowd was definitely for the FM & M team, it showed that students do have an interest in athletics other than varsity or junior varsity. Maybe it was because of the fine style of ball played by both teams, but I think it was because the students have a definite interest in who will lead the league this season. The race has been very close all of the way and should be even warmer from here on in.

● LOSES JOB—Mel Hetzler, football mentor at Westminster College, has been released from his position after coaching the Titans to their best season. Reason? The college administration has announced that because of the decreased male enrollment there may be no football team next season. Spring football at Westminster has definitely been dropped.

There have been no arrangements as to naming a successor for Hetzler. Another odd point of the news is that if football is dropped, all football scholarships will be honored for the student's entire college career. This past season the Titans came from behind to beat the Indians 38-13 in a game played on College Hill.

● GYM ADVANCEMENTS—Each afternoon the new gymnasium can be seen crowded with basketball, handball and other sporting enthusiasts. Since the official dedication of the gym in November there have been many new addition. Handball courts, weights, rowing machines and paddle ball courts are in continuous operation. Each afternoon there are regular drills for the varsity and junior varsity basketball teams and informal practice for the track and tennis hopefuls. If you're looking for any of the fellows in the afternoon it's a good bet that you can find them in the gym.

JC Travels To Meet Westminster Titans This Monday Night

by John Dale

This coming Monday night the Tribe cagers will face probably their stiffest competition of the campaign when they meet the Westminster College Titans at New Wilmington, Pa.

The Titans, perennially the basketball power of the Tri-State district, are again sporting a powerhouse ball club with nine of the first ten members of last season's squad returning.

Included in this year's team are 6-3 Pat King, captain of the quintet and one of the best ball players in the East; 6-4 Ed Halas, who finished only 20 points behind King in scoring last season with 438 points; and six foot guards Johnny Abraham and Don Meyers, each of whom scored well over 300 points last year.

The fifth member of last year's Titan quintet, Jerry Sybert, was fatally injured in an automobile accident early in the season.

Other lettermen returning from the 1950-51 squad, which ran up a record of 22 wins and six losses against top-flight competition, are 6-5 center Bob Dugan, Dave Hawbacker, and 6-2 guard Bob Demyan.

Also included on this season's team are three outstanding sophomores from last year's freshman quintet, 6-3 Jerry Neff, 5-10 guard Bob Jones and 6-1 Donald Reed.

Last year the Indians fell beneath the onslaught of the Titan's attack by a 83-62 count. Only once in the 15 games played between the schools have the Indians been able to score a victory, that being in 1943.

The locals will be out to make a game of it this season and will floor the same five that has started most the games thus far this season.

TOM GREEN scores a driving layup from underneath in the final quarter which saw the Indians outscore the E-town team. Also in the photo are Bill Schneider, number 34, and George McCue, number 22. The two defensive players seem uninterested in the action and as the unusual action photo shows, McCue and Schneider appear to be holding hands.

Indians Take Third Over E-Town' 54-51; Green & Pollock High

Once again playing thrilling ball in the final quarter, the Indians notched their third win of the season by downing Elizabethtown 54-51 in a game Wednesday night played in the Memorial Gymnasium. It was the third win against six losses thus far this season for the men of Coach Greene.

Brilliant shooting in the final quarter by Dave Pollock and Leo Kuhn put the Indians in the lead and they were never behind in the final three minutes. It was close throughout the entire game but E-town was in front most of the way until the final stanza. A perfect set shot by Dave Pollock put the Tribe in front 47-46 but a double foul resulted in a knotted score. Tom Green, who had 15 points for the evening, sent the Blue and Gold in the lead for good with a driving layup to make it 49-47.

The game was particularly rough in the final minutes as the boys of E-Town tried in vain to gain possession of the ball. Scoring honors for the Indians were shared by Pollock and Green as each hit for 15. Boulton of Elizabethtown gained top honors for the game by swishing 16. Other Indians in the scoring column were Leo Kuhn, who played fine ball with 11, Jack Dickey with 6, Ed Feldkircher scored 3 and John Cook accounted for 2, Fran Zimmerman also had 2.

The Indians go into tomorrow night's game with hopes of matching last season's entire win total of four victories. However the Indians will face considerably more height under the boards than they met Wednesday night.

Tribe Faces Geneva Here Saturday Night; Meet Tall Covie Squad

by Bob Asan

The Covenanters of Geneva College and Cliff Aultman come to town tomorrow night to battle the Indians on the local hardwood. It will be the first meeting of the two teams in several years, the last game being an Indian loss. That game was played at Beaver Falls in 1950.

Aultman is building his team around a nucleus of seven returning veterans including three men who saw action in almost every game last year when the team won 12 out of 30 games. Real teamwork is expected to make up for the lack of individual offensive stars.

6 Lettermen Return

Returning lettermen include John Galagaza, third highest scorer last year, Pete Kinkead, Bob McCracken, Dace McIsaac, Tom Skinner and Paul Stevens. Skinner is the only man under six feet on the team, standing five feet nine inches tall.

Kinkead is the defensive ace on the team and is the playmaker. He stands an even six feet. McCracken stands 6-4 and handles the center spot of the Covenanter attack.

The tallest man on the squad is John Glasgow. Glasgow is a six foot five inch center who is playing his first year of varsity ball after playing for the junior varsity last season.

McIsaac Is Guard

One of the guard spots is held down by McIsaac, six foot two senior. McIsaac played in 22 games last year.

Skinner and Stevens also play in the guard spots for Geneva. Skinner is the team captain and holds the squad together. Stevens is a good defensive player but doesn't escore too many points.

The line up for Juniata will probably be the same as it has been for the last few games. This lineup shows Dave Pollock, Indian high scorer, and Tom Green, Tribe captain and number two scorer, at the forward posts. Ed Felkircher jumps at center and the guard spots are held by Jack Dickey and John Cook, Dave Bayer or Leo Kuhn.

FM&M Leads IM Loop Sanders High Scorer

The Intramural Basketball loop rounds into the final weeks with the FM & M team still undefeated and leading the loop after defeating the Bridgers 50-41. The current leaders played steady ball all the way to dump the Bridgers in the most exciting game of the season. A large crowd witnessed the affair which saw the FM & M boys lead all of the way. Hootch Hoover hit the cords for 15 points and the brilliant rebound work of Dick Bowker paced the team to victory. Chuck Knox hit for 18 to keep the Bridgers in the contest.

In games played before the exams, the Trojans beat the FS &C 36-30, YHO's lost to District 3 56-31, the Bridgers downed the Sackhounds 56-35. The FM&M team walloped the Coal Crackers 71-35. Hoover had 26 for the winners and Sweitzer 28 for the losers.

On Tuesday night, Jan. 29th, the YHO's tripped the Sackhounds 52-32 with Newcombe hitting for 20. The Bridgers nosed out the Trotters 62-56 as Motisher had 22 for the losers and Loschaivo hit for 26 for the Bridgers. FM&M beat the Bookies 49-27 as Dick Bwoker gathered 23. The Fubars poured it on the Coal Crackers 52-27.

On Thursday, Jan. 31, the FM &M team walloped the Sackhounds 76-46. Hoover had 25 and Bowker 22 for the winners. FS&C downed the Wild Woodsmen 34-29. The Trojans came from behind to beat the Rockets 49-37 as Dale Zimmerman had 17. The Trotters outlasted the Fubars 43-42.

Feb. 1 saw the Bridgers beat the Sackhounds 56-35 and the YHO's smash the Wildwoodsmen 33-29. The Rockets slaughtered the Hunters, as Monk Simon had 38 and Gene Biddle 32, 80-46.

Tuesday night besides the FM &M-Bridgers game, the Trojans downed the Hunters 66-30. Ray Siren and Dale Zimmerman each had 18. The FS&C got past the Trotters 40-37 as Bob Motisher led the losers with 17.

Jv's Down Bridgers 53-45; 4th Straight Win For Juniors

The Junior Varsity won its fourth straight on Wednesday night by downing the Bridgers 53-45. The JV's got away to a big lead but were forced to come from behind to notch the verdict.

Jim Boulton and Glen Burket led the winners with 12 each, while John Thomas had 16 for the Bridgers. Herb Law had 10 for the Little Indians and Joe Hinish had 8. The JV's meet the Pitt-Johnstown Center here tomorrow night and will be out to extend their win streak to five.

The Earlham Post apparently has one observant reader. Someone happened to notice that although the paper was founded in 1951, and this is only 1952, Volume 29 seems to have been published this year. They then checked with various and sundry records and discovered that one year instead of issuing volume 12, someone managed to issue Volume 20 and no-one ever corrected it. Now if the pattern had been followed up, Volume 30 would be in swing now, but it seems that Volume 29 has been going strong for two years. Oh, well, as of now they're back to normal and volume 22 is issuing forth from the Post Offices.

Initiating a "Be Kind to Professors Week," the Dynamo, Mount Union College(Ohio), suggests a few points to students:

- Don't sleep during exams. The chairs are awfully hard and might give you a stiff back.
- Don't take off your shoes in class unless your mother has darned your socks recently.
- Don't hold hands with your "true love" in class. It makes life difficult for the seven people sitting between you.
- Don't take notes on a typewriter. This is terribly distracting to the students trying to sleep.

And above all, remember; Professors are just like people.

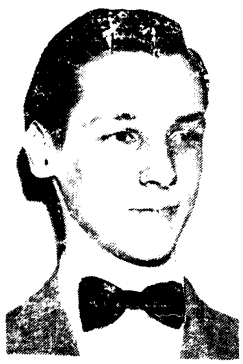
JWSF Drive Gets Underway Monday

The Juniatian

Vol. 28 No. 16 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Feb. 15, 1952

Senate Sets Goal At $1952 For Year

"The Juniata World Service Fund Drive will get underway Monday morning in Chapel," Ray Siren, general chairman of the campaign has announced.



Ray Siren
• JWSF Chairman •

He added, "One big push should do it, so we are aiming to reach our goal of $1952 in a week." The drive will officially close March 8, though it is hoped that most of the solicitation will be completed by the end of this week," the chairman said.

The Juniata World Service Fund Drive is the only Senate-approved fund drive permitted on campus. Held annually, the push is designed to raise funds through student solicitation and other means for the benefit of five agencies of charity and relief.

Students Give $2 Each

In past years, average student contributions have been $2, records show.

A committee of 29 students is backing Chairman Siren in his solicitation program. At the top are Dave Bayer, treasurer; Earl Detrick, publicity; Lois Miller, secretary; and Jack Ulsh, chairman of solicitations.

Helping Ulsh contact student contributors are the following committee members (asterisks indicate area chairmen):

In the girls' dormitory, Janet Wiltshire will solicit Second Oneida, Nancy Slonaker*, Third; Donna Croft, First Brumbaugh; Della Fulton*, Second, Pat Henry, Third, and Mary Lou Neikirk, Fourth; Ginny Masemer*, Third Founders, Ruth March, Fourth.

Further Representatives

Helen Huntley will be JWSF representative in Geiger House, while the Home Management House drive will be handled by Anne Weber.

Contacting the Cloister Wing will be Charley Towns, basement and first floor; Hobart Heistand*, second floor; Dick Hollinger, third and fourth. The Cloister Arch is slated to be hit by Doug Martin*, first floor; Don Treese, second;

14 Juniata Students Named To Dean's List For Fall Term

Fourteen Juniata scholars "made" the Dean's List of Distinguished Students for the Fall term, two for the sixth time, a release from the office of the registrar shows. To appear on such a list here, a student must attain an academic average of 2.75 or better, the equivalent of four A's and a B under the old literal grading system, the registrar said.

This is somewhat higher than the 2.25 and 2.5 averages common at many colleges, but the registrar pointed out that "we feel it is better to keep the Dean's List exclusive. If we lowered the requirement to 2.5, too high a percentage of students would be classed as 'distinguished.'"

3 On For Sixth Time

Those listed for the sixth time are Doug Martin and Don Treese, both seniors. Martin, a pre-med student, had a 2.8 average, while Treese, pre-ministerial, pulled 2.75.

Jack Ulsh, a junior concentrating in modern languages, appears for the fourth time with a 2.8 average.

Five names show for the third term on the List. They are George Blechschmidt (pre-med) and Wilfred Norris (chemistry), both sophomores with a 3.00 average; Ron Cherry (business administration), junior, 2.81; Jim Giordano (history) and Lois Miller (sociology), both seniors having 3.00 averages.

First-Timers

Appearing for the first time this term are the following:

Margaret Hershey (sociology), freshman, 2.80; John Martin, Jr., freshman, 3.00; George Condos (business administration) and Phyllis Link (English), both juniors with 2.80 averages; Jack Rothenberger (psychology), senior, 2.80; and John Shoop (business administration), a senior graduated in January, 2.83.

Men Warned To Register For Test

All eligible students who plan to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test should file applications at once for the April 24 administration, Selective Service National Headquarters has advised.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any local board.

The address of the Huntingdon County Board is the Wagner-Mierley Building, 707 Washington St.

Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, Mar. 10, 1952. "Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage," Headquarters said.

Results of the test will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

General Information Quiz To Be Administered Wed.

The General Information Contest will be held Wednesday at 4 p. m. in the library.

Instituted some years ago by Joseph Biddle, the contest offers $15 and $10 prizes to the first and second place winners.

Bloodmobile Set To Visit Campus Thurs., March 17

by D. D. Silldorff

Blood? Science has proven you can make up in no time flat the little amount you give in the average blood donation! If you are the usual healthy specimen of humanity it won't faze you in the least and there is no reason to go into the oft told story of how much the elixer of life is needed today. Anyone who doesn't have the full story of how much blood is needed is obviously in no fit condition to give any.

Bloodmobile Coming

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be on the JC campus Thursday, March 27, from noon to six p. m. or until they are finished. It has been brought in cooperation with the Huntingdon County drive for blood as a special Juniata Day for the convenience of the students and faculty, and under the sponsorship of the Women's Athletic Association.

For all those donors (prospective donors, that is) who are under 21 years of age, it is necessary to have a parental permission blank. The filing of these, appointment details, publicity, and general organizing of the campaign is under the direction of Joyce Mullan, the W. A. A. representative for the drive.

Permission Needed

Get your permission blanks now, send them immediately and make your appointments early. You can pick up a blank in the Office of the Dean of Women, the Information Desk, or the Post Office. The appointments will be scheduled so that everyone including those with labs can donate. It will be extremely important for all appointments to be kept on time because of the very tight schedule necessary to get all the work done in a limited time.

Any special issues should be directed to Joyce Mullan or Virginia Yohn; the preliminary work and general coordinating will be carried out by the members of the Women's Athletic Association.

Romeo And Juliet To Hold Matinee

An afternoon matinee has been scheduled for the Masque Spring play, "Romeo and Juliet," Thursday, March 13 at 2:30 p m.

This unprecedented move was made "in order to permit high school students, faculty and student wives, and students to attend in the afternoon at reduced rates as well as to give the cast the advantage of a final run-through before a live audience," according to business manager Chuck Barklow.

About 12 area high schools have been invited to participate in the matinee.

Students may pick up their tickets for the evening sessions of the Shakespearean tragedy on or after March 1 at the information window by showing their activity cards. Married students and faculty members may also obtain tickets for their wives at this time at the reduced rate of 33c each, Barklow said.

JC Listed By Magazine Study As Top College

Juniata has been included in the Good Housekeeping magazine's annual list of 125 top schools "earnestly recommended to parents and prospective college students." Listed colleges are limited to a maximum enrollment of 1200 students and a top annual tuition of $1300.

Judging was based on financial stability, quality of faculty, adequacy of library facilities, and percentage of students continuing their studies in graduate work.

Fifteen Pa colleges were among 32 eastern schools receiving accreditation. Other schools in the state receiving Good Housekeeping listing were Albright, Allegheny, Cedar Crest, Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall, Geneva, Gettysburg, Grove City, Haverford, Lebanon Valley, Muhlenburg, Swarthmore, Ursinus, and Wilson.

Three specific references were made to Juniata in a supplementary booklet to the magazine. One pointed to cordial relations existing between the College and the community. Cited as an example of this was the enthusiastic response of the local businessmen to the fund raising campaign for the new Memorial Gymnasium.

Also listed were the 3-2 plan Juniata has entered in cooperation with Columbia University as an engineer training program, and the "phenomenal" record of the JC golf team which has compiled a 36-4-1 record in the five years since the sport was inaugurated here.

Popular Film To Be In Oller Hall

Main event of campus social activities this week will be the presentation of the movie "How Green Was My Valley" Saturday evening at 8:15 in Oller Hall.

The picture, presented on campus by the social committee, was produced by 20th Century Fox studios in the early 1940's. At that time the movie was a boxoffice champion and very popular to public opinion.

The cast is as follows: Roddy McDowall, Walter Pidgeon, Maureen O'Hara, Barry Fitzgerald. John Ford directed it.

Action and story in the movie have to do with an aging man's remembrance of his boyhood among a "lyric, godly race" of coal miners. (See details in Cineviewer, Page 2)

Masque Play To Be Discussed On Radio

The official publicity campaign for Romeo and Juliet will begin on Thursday's edition of Juniata on the Air, according to Joyce Grove, chairman of publicity.

Under the direction of Ruth Reid, the program will consist of talks by Miss Esther Doyle and Dr. Harold Binkley. Miss Doyle will speak about the International Drama Association, while Dr. Binkley will discuss Shakespeare.

The music of Victor Herbert will be featured on Turntable Terrace Tuesday. Judy Shanabrook and Carrie Lou Greene will spin the discs while the script will be prepared by Jim Streiner. Soloists will be Joy Truxal and Steve Musto.

Alleman Named Senior Rep.

Margie Alleman was named alumni representative for the class of 1952 at a class meeting Tuesday. Chiefly, her duties will be to contact members of the class whenever a reunion is scheduled and to help keep the Alumni Bulletin informed on the doings of alumni.

JWSF Program For Fund-Getting Stated By Siren

The Juniata World Service Fund Drive staff has a four point program planned for prompting solicitations, according to general chairman Ray Siren.

• Several members of the committee will serve as salesmen for Time Magazine. A special student rate of four issues for $1 will be offered in circulars which are to be distributed Monday in the mail boxes. Day students may get their copies in the Day Students Rooms. Proceeds from this sale will go to JWSF.

• The 10:45 p. m. to midnight Night Watch program on WHUN Monday will be turned over to the JWSF solicitors. "We plan to keep the regular Night Watch format," Siren emphasized, "but we do expect to accept phoned requests for records. Our sole aim on this program will be to promote the drive, both on College Hill and throughout the Huntingdon area."

• In Chapel Monday the committee plans to conduct a vote "to determine whether students will agree to forego deserts at three meals, the purpose being to emphasize both the needs of students in foreign lands and the aims of the drive itself."

• The personal solicitation method will also be followed. Each student will be contacted at least once by a JWSF representative.

Choir To Depart Sun. For Opener

The Juniata College Touring Choir will leave Sunday for the first of its spring concerts.

Under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson, the choir will appear at the church of the Brethren in New Enterprise and Everett and at the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church at Saxton.

Members of the choir are: sopranos, Helen Rosengren, Mary Shearer, Joy Truxal, Audrey Weber, Jo Chiodi, Jane Garver, Joan Lenhardt and Donna Vasbinder; altos, Carol Lowdermilk, Ruth Walker, Wilda Widdowson, Rhoda Clemmer, Barbara Tipe and Joanne Siemon; tenors, Ben Newcomer, Herman Pabst, Harold Bowser, Wes Diemer, and Don Brinton; basses, Clyde Johnson, Dan Ziegler, Bob Landes, Ray McHenry, and Steve Musto.

Gov. Fine To Speak Sun.

Pa. Gov. John S. Fine will speak in the Clifton Theater Sunday at 8:15 p. m. This meeting is in connection with Huntingdon County's 14th annual county-wide Brotherhood Day celebration.

Steve Musto, JC Freshman, Begins Own Radio Show

by Jim Streiner

It all began when he was a sophomore in high school. They said, "Can you sing?" and he said he'd never tried it, but was game for anything. And from that bit of bravado the Steve Musto musical career kept on rolling and growing like a snowball on a hill.

The latest episode in the story unfolds Tuesday at 7:45 p. m. when WHUN initiates a new 15 minute, twice-weekly broadcast to be called "Steve Musto Sings . . ." This show will also be heard Thursdays.

"Mostly I'll sing semi-classics and hymns," the Juniata freshman baritone says, "but the show will be informal because I want to reach all types of listeners. We'll accept requests, too, if they're mailed."

For three years while in high school Musto sang with "The Jubileers Quartet." In the Summers this group went on tours arranged by the Brooklyn Youth Jubilee.

During this period he also picked up his first radio experience over WAAT, Newark, N. J. "I got up at 4:30 every morning to get

Unset Tables Listed

The following tables will be taken down in the dining hall next week:

New table assignments will go into effect Monday.

From Our Notes

● FOR CHOWHOUNDS: We finally got the "big dish" rules straightened out. "Table heads should pass all big dishes to the corner of the table for the waitress, since this is easiest for all concerned. However, students are asked not to stack salad plates on dishes because, contrary to popular opinion, this makes the waitress' job harder, not simpler", the head waitress said.

She added that only the table head should make requests of the waitress since it is confusing if several different persons at a table try to signal her.

● DELAYED ACTION: The other evening six telegrams and special delivery letters were left locked in the information office when it closed. This is not the first time this has happened.

Admittedly, the switch board operators make an attempt to call each of the addressees of such mail, but in many cases they fail to make direct contact. The job of passing the word along is left to some unknown voice on the other end of the wire, who, like as not, can't make contact either until after the office has closed.

Perhaps the wisest solution to the problem thus created is one which has been used intermittently in the past. It should be made standard practice to place all such obviously important mail in the always-open office of the dean of women. If possible, it might also be a good idea to have the switchboard people send notices to the dining hall to inform mail owners whom they have been otherwise unable to contact personally.

● GYM POLICY: Several people have asked us about the College policy on the new Memorial Gymnasium, indicating at the same time that they felt it was not being used nearly as much as it should be.

According to publicity director Bill Engel, it takes at least one year (and preferably longer) before a gymnasium floor is "set." During this period it is not considered wise to use the floor more than necessary, he added. Hence the College policy which limits the use of the floor to varsity and JV games and one party sponsored by the supporters of the Blair Memorial Hospital.

And Pres. Calvert Ellis once told us: "It is College policy that the Memorial Gymnasium shall be used for student parties only when such parties will involve a larger number of people than can be comfortably handled in the old gym." No one has defined just exactly how many people that means.

Harry Gives 'Joe Public' Licking In $85.4 Billion Budget Proposal

by Bob Volpitto

Each year on Jan. 21 the president recommends to Congress a budget for the coming fiscal year. Prior to this presentation, his Council of Economic Advisers does the actual midnight oil burning.

Volpitto

In explaining the proposed budget for fiscal '52-53 Mr. Truman used 81 pages of the current five pound 1222 page report.

As Harry sees things we're going to spend $85.4 billions which is an increase of 14.5 over fiscal year '51-'52. Over fiscal year '50-'51 (prior to the Korean mess) it is an increase of $45.3 billions.

See Future Debt

Spend as we go is a pretty phrase, but if Truman's estimates are accepted we would be $14.4 billions further in debt.

"Where is it coming from," you ask? The Internal Revenue Department expects Joe Public to kick in $32.2 billions in income taxes. Corporations must forfeit $27.8 billions in income and so-called excess profits taxes.

The rest of the estimated $71 billion income comes from excise, customs, estate, gift, and employment taxes. Another $15 billions will be procured by proposed legislation.

Now all you would-be members of the House Ways and Means Committee probably want to know where the money is going. Some of the bigger chunks are:

Military, $51.2 billions; International and security and foreign relations, $10.8 billions; Veterans' services, $4.2 billions; Interest on the debt, $6.2 billions.

Other Departments Aided

Various other departments come in on the grab to consume the remaining $12 billions plus.

Not that this is enough, Harry wants Congress to create obligational authority which would allow the government to spend $84.3 additional billions if it is deemed necessary.

It all boils down to a few simple hard cold facts: (1) Everybody will pay higher taxes and (2) Prices will go up to absorb higher taxes on industry resulting in (3) Lower purchasing power. Four, the debt will rise, and (5) with the expanded military budget, I'll be drafted.

Silent Action And Welsh Mining Struggles Keynote Of Campus Movie In Oller Hall

HOW GREEN WAS MY VALLEY—This picture is very unique in that during the picture the actors remain almost entirely silent. Except for occasional dialogue sequences the cinedrama is one big narrated flashback.

Throughout the film, director John Ford has the offscreen voice of an elderly Welshman watch and comment on recollections of his younger self, portrayed by Roddy McDowall.

The setting is a small Welsh mining community. Providing the musical background for the movie is a complete Welsh choir discovered in Los Angeles. These people, many of whom remembered the old country, made reconstruction of the community in Southern California easier and more authentic.

Interwoven in the plot is a love affair between Maureen O'Hara and Walter Pidgeon. But in the end she marries . . . ?

The main thread, however, is quite emotional and tells of the struggles of family life in a mining community. But just when you think you're going to cry Barry Fitzgerald comes along with a little humor. Oller Hall.

DECISION BEFORE DAWN—True that Hollywood has had a run on war stories, but here's another one with a new twist. Comments by word-of-mouth have been favorable so we think it's a pretty good risk.

The screenplay has been taken from the Christopher Award novel by George Howe, "Call It Treason." Little deviation has been made in this story of German PW's in World War II.

The decision of a PW (Oskar Werner) to become a "Joe" and work against his country with the honest desire to aid it, is the theme. Action and acting with Richard Basehart provides the rest. Clifton Theatre.

LONE STAR—Here's a bit of fiction almost based on fact with Clark Gable in rough-and-tough and Ava Gardner in her usual form. The issue is whether the "great country of Texas" will honor the United States by annexation.

Now Gable is all for it as long as he gets his cut, but Miss Gardner, publisher of a newspaper, is strictly for isolation. Andrew Jackson (Lionel Barrymore) and Sam Huston (Olsen) along with Broderick Crawford get into the act before its all over. Garnd Theatre.

FIRE, FIRE!—Sound the alarm, the hall's on fire! These thoughts flashed through the minds of the girls on Third Brumbaugh Sunday night when they smelled that definate burning odor. The all clear sounded when they discovered that there had been a shearing party with Allegra Forney the guest of honor. "Mickey" Mick, Anna Lee Over, Rainey Belle Linn, and Jeanne Baker, being cold, proceeded to warm their hands by burning Allegra's shorn locks. Please don't scare us again like that, girls!

MYSTERY?—The mystery is solved at last. That small growth on the bottom of Ron Cherry's chin was a beard. We know this because it had to be shaved off. For details on how this was done, with Ron unwillingly cooperating, see Tom Green.

"FORSOOTH THY SOCKES"—Shakespeare might not have had Betsey Dively and Jo Pentz in mind when he penned these words but they sure apply. The girls sit there and knit and crochet respectively. Dr. Harold Binkley wants to help too. As witness his remark, "Hm, I should time these lectures so that they'll end at the end of a row." That's mighty obliging, Doctor!

FS&C, Bridgers, FM&M Tied For IM Loop Lead

The Intramural Basketball League which was quiet this week because of the Spiritual Emphasis Week Services is currently deadlocked in a three way tie among the Bridgers, FM&M, and the FS &C. The FM&M, league leaders last week, dropped their first game of the year to the Trojans in a 40-35 game. Earl Detrick paced the Trojans with 12 points and Ray Siren added another 10 for the winners. Dick Bowker was high man for the losers with 8 points.

Other games last week saw the Sackhounds easily down the Coal Crackers by a score of 67-32. John Thomas hit the cords for 28 points, Stan Schrok accounted for 14. The FS&C had an easy time of it with the Hunters as they poured it on to the tune of 62-20. The scoring was evenly divided as Tom Sanders was high with 19, Charlie Mills had 15, while Bob Rauch and Bill Winans each had 14.

The game between District Three and the Bookies proved to be another runaway as District Three won by a 79-35 score. Dave LeFevre led the winners with 20 points, John Gates had 16 and Gary Swenson was high for the Bookies with 16. District Three once again showing a high scoring attack downed the Wild Woodsmen 55-17. Nick Rocco was high for the winners with 15. In the final game, the Bridgers squeezed past the Rockets 52-48. Ed Weirauch led the Bridgers with 25 points and Monk Simon had 19 for the losers.

Geneva Downs Tribe 94-73; Capt. Green Hits For 26 Points

by Bill Dilling

The towering Covenanters of Geneva College downed the Tribe 94-73 in a game played last Saturday night in the Memorial Gymnasium. Led by sharp shooting Tom Skinner, who had 24 points, the Covies pressed during the first half and pulled away to a comfortable lead immediately following intermission.

Tom Green enjoyed his best night of the season as he accounted for 26 points mostly on set shots from the corners. Dave Pollock also hit well on set shots and had 23 points. A large crowd saw the Tribe play steady ball during the first half and consequently they trailed Geneva by 46-40 at halftime. The Covies hit for eight straight points as Skinner began to hit from the outside on sets.

Geneva had a very good shooting percentage and many times broke the Indian's zone defense with timely shots from the corners and from the outside. Previous to the Saturday night game the Covies met LaSalle College, one of the top basketball teams in the nation, and were trounced by a 103-74 score.

Titans Beat JC 94-73; Indians Led By Pollock

The Indians, after matching the Titans of Westminster College basket for basket in the opening quarter, fell under a 29 point barrage in the second stanza and consequently dropped their eighth game of the season by a 96-61 score in a game played in New Wilmington Monday night.

The Titans have made a complete runaway in the series since it began and now hold a very comfortable 17-1 margin over the Tribe.

Pollock Leads Tribe

Once again Dave Pollock led the Indians in the scoring column as he hit the nets for 22 points, on nine field goals. He also had a perfect night at the charity line with four free throws.

High man for the game was 6-4 Ed Halas of Westminster who dunked 23 points. For Juniata, Tom Green followed Pollock in the scoring column with 13, Ed Feldkircher had 10 and Jack Dickey hit for 5.

Titans Score On Fouls

The Titans were particularly hot at the foul line as they swished 36 out of 41 free tosses. Enjoying perfect evenings at the line were Pat King and Johnny Abrahan each of whom made six foul shots in as many tries.

The win for Westminster gave them a record of ten and six for the current season. They finished strong in the final two quarters scoring 25 and 22 points respectively in those stanzas. The Titans were the third team this season to hit the 90 mark in the scoring column against the Tribe, the others being Albright and Geneva.

Pitt Center Snaps JV Win Streak; Defeat Little Indians 53-44

The JV's meet the Pitt Center boys in a return battle this Wednesday night in Johnstown. During this coming week the Little Indians have three contests scheduled in four days. The JV's meet the Junior Varsity of Shippensburg State Teachers College this evening when they make the trip with the Indian varsity.

The Indian Junior Varsity had their four game winning streak snapped last Saturday night, 53-44, by the boys of Pitt Undergraduate Center of Johnstown. It was a close contest all of the way until the final three minutes when the visitors pulled away to a comfortable margin.

Joe Hinish, southpaw artist, led the Little Indians with 13 points. Bacha of Johnstown hit the cords for 11. Only five men made the scoring column for Juniata as Herb Law and John Thomas each had ten, while Glen Burket had six and Jim Boulton hit for five.

Interpretive Dance Classes To Begin

Miss McCormick has announced the beginning of a group in rythmics on Friday evening, Feb. 22. The group is beginning as a result of enthusiasm in the field as many girls who have had a taste of it in physical education have shown interest in it. Any girl who is interested in it may join by appearing at the Women's Gym at 7:30 on the 22nd. The first meetings will revolve around simple rythmic exercises, later there will be an opportunity for girls who are interested in working in self expression and interperative dancing.

Indians Away Sat., Mon.; Meet Teachers & E-Town

The Indians will once again play two games on sucessive playing dates as they did this past week when they meet Shippensburg tonight and Elizabethtown Monday night in two road games. The Elizabethtown game is actually a make-up contest as the Tribe was scheduled to meet the Blue Jays in an away game earlier in the season but the contest was postponed because of an epidemic of food poisoning among members of the Jays. The Indians defeated Elizabethtown in their previous meeting on College Hill by a 54-51 count.

Shippensburg

The Blue and Gold take to the road once again this evening in an attempt to snap a two game losing streak and gain their fourth win of the season. After dropping tilts to Geneva and Westminster, the Tribe goes into the clash trying to win their first road game of the campaign.

Actually little is known about the Teachers with the exception of their games played thus far this campaign. Their record stands at four won and ten lost. They play in the Pennsylvania State Teachers League which is currently being led by Millersville State Teachers. Shippensburg lost to Millersville in a game earlier in the season by a score 74-67. The only team that they have played which is on our schedule is Indiana State Teachers College whom they defeated last Saturday night in a 85-82 upset win in overtime. But earlier in the season they lost to Indiana by a 83-49 score, the Tribe lost to the same team by an 87-67 count.

Other wins on the Shippensburg record include a 73-58 triumph over Wilson Teachers, a 65-64 win over California (Pa.) Teachers. 64-52 in a hard fought contest. Defeats have been to Lock Haven They are sporting a two game winning streak and are anxious to begin rolling after a slow start this campaign.

Juniata will probably floor the same combination which has concentrated on the fast breaking style of ball which Coach Greene has installed to make up for the Indian's lack of height under the boards. The starting lineup should include Green, Pollock, Feldkircher, Dickey and Cook.

Elizabethtown

For the second straight week the Indians play an away game on a Monday night as this time they face Elizabethtown on the latter's home floor. Coach Greene is eager to make it a clean sweep over the Blue Jays this season.

In Juniata's 54-51 victory here on College Hill, the Jays showed a very fine defensive team but let the game get away from them in the final quarter. E-town played semi-possession type ball in the first half and made the Indians go to them. But the Tribe should be ready and are hoping to return to Huntingdon with victory number two over the boys from Elizabethtown.

Juniata Reunion Schedule Uses New Dartmouth Plan

This Spring Juniata College will inaugurate a new timetable for scheduling class reunions, the Alumni Office has revealed.

Until now, Juniata has used the quinquennial system, which calls for a class reunion on campus every five years. The disadvantage of this plan, however, is that alumni are not generally too well acquainted with those in classes five years away from them.

Dartmouth Plan Set

This will be overcome, alumni officials feel, when the College puts into practice the Dartmouth Plan for the first time on Alumni Day, May 31.

Under this program, classes will meet according to a mathematically determined formula, though the average will still be about every five years. This plan will enable a class to meet at the same time as those which graduated a year or two before and after itself, so that returning alumni will be among as many friends as possible.

The tenth and twenty-fifth reunions—generally considered the most important—will always be held exactly ten and 25 years after graduation. These years the class will meet alone; that is, no neighboring classes will be scheduled to meet with them.

An Illustration

To illustrate the new system, the Alumni Office listed the classes which will hold reunions this Spring for the first time under the Dartmouth Plan:

Combined reunions: classes of 1906-07-08 and of 1931-32-33.

Single reunions (all held simultaneously on the College campus during Alumni Weekend): classes of 1887, '92, '97, 1902, '12, '27, '42, '47 and '51.

Election Dates Set

A schedule of election dates has been released by Senate vice-pres. Joe Thomasberger.

Petitions for both Senate officerships and chairmanships will be available from either Kay Wright or Thomasberger Feb. 25. Those for the four top offices must be signed by 10% of the student body and returned March 2.

Elections for the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer are slated for March 10, with run-offs set for the next day.

March 13, petitions are due for chairmanships. The elections will be held March 20, run-offs the twenty-first.

Herman Pabst To Return From Hospital Today

Herman Pabst will return to the infirmary this afternoon from the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital. He was taken there Friday with stomach inflamation and a nervous condition.

According to Dean J. Melvin Rhodes, "The doctors have found the thyroid to be mal-functioning. They don't know whether this is a cause or a result of his condition."

Last Fall Steve teamed up with Juniata to see if he couldn't learn the rules of this music game. "I never had any formal training in music at all until I came here," he said.

But he still believes in the value of personal experience. In addition to his new radio venture, Steve is a member of both the A Cappella Choir and the Varsity Quartet. Books Mislead Observers Of Ed. Majors

by Mary Ann Bailey

Every weekday at about 4:30 in the afternoon a casual observer at JC will notice a group of students arriving carrying note books, music books, books for children and sundry other articles which would lead one to believe that the students had suddenly reverted to their childhood. These people have not, however, succumbed to the charms of "We Are Neighbors" or "Rusty the Dog." Instead they are student teaching in many of the school in the Huntingdon area.

There are three main fields of student teaching for education majors from JC; these are elementary education, home economics, and music education.

Those students in the field of elementary education are Jane Baker, Janet Boland, Betty Carpenter, Mary Jo Clark, Dorothy Hummer, Kenneth Kyper, Jeanne Link, Betty Longwell, Marj Loetzbeier, John Malenke, Shirley Nell, Connie Sherman, Norma Sinclair, Ivah Lou Yoder, Robert Yoho, and Peggy Dell.

Music education majors are Bob Brumbaugh, Jo Chiodi, Earle Grove, Clyde Johnson, Holmes Royer, and Mim Smith.

The smallest group, home economics majors, consists of Caryl Custer, Phyllis Kulp, and Lois Robinson.

Brumbaugh, Mullan Head Conf.

Peggy Brumbaugh and Joyce Mullan are supervising this year's program of career conferences for sub-freshmen. Kay Wright will be the consultant.

The following schedule for conferences and the events of the day, has been posted: Mar. 1, basketball with Lycoming; Mar. 15, Romeo and Juliet; Mar. 29, Sophomore party; April 5, All-Class Night; and May 10, May Day.

Never Before a gift to please so many on your list!

Beneficiaries Named

The five beneficiary agencies of the current JWSF Drive have been selected by the Student Senate. They are as follows:

Foreign Student Aid Fund—this agency sponsors the training of international students here; currently it is aiding Herman Pabst. In addition, this fund benefits from the proceeds of the student musical produced by the College each year.

World Student Service Fund—administers to needy students all over the world.

H. Stover Kulp—a missionary to Africa, he has a son, Philip, and a daughter, Naomi, here.

Paul Hoover—a missionary to India.

Christian University of Tokyo—added this year by the Senate as a replacement for the Red Cross, which was dropped because that organization conducts its own drive.

23% Of JWSF Goal Met As First Week Closes

Total contributions to the 1952 JWSF drive had reached $430 by yesterday evening. This figure may be broken down into a cash collection of $265 and $165 in pledges.

Ray Siren, JWSF drive chairman, reports that these totals are "as good as can be expected" this early in the campaign.

These contributions exclude gifts from campus clubs because these have not yet been turned over to the Central Treasury. That office will not be open until next week. Also excluded are gifts from the trustees and friends of the College, and the savings made by relinquishing desserts.

The $430.00 thus far received accounts to 23% of the total goal of $1952. As further contributions are made, the total will be shown on the chart on the bulletin board in Founders Hall.

Original hopes were for most solicitations and pledges to have been gathered the first week of the drive. However, the campaign will officially remain open until March 8. Two weeks therefore remain for contributions to be made and the goal reached.

It is expected that the drive will "go over the top" by the end of next week." Student contributions seem to be adhering to the $2.00 average that prevailed last year.

JCA GIVES TO JWSF—Two hundred dollars is added to the money collected this week by the Juniata World Service Fund Drive, as Galen Keeney hands over a check for that amount from the Juniata Christian Association. Receiving the contribution are three directors of the Drive, (l to r) treasurer Dave Bayer, chairman of solicitations Jack Ulsh and general chairman Ray Siren. Keeney is chairman of social responsibilities for the JCA cabinet.

Senate Classifies Campus Offices; Few Changes Made

In order to prevent students from holding too many positions on campus, the Senate has again released classification of campus offices.

Last year's Senate redefined the major and minor positions, but several changes have been made this year, by the Committee on Reclassification, composed of Joe Thomasberger, Connie Sherman and Marj Seidel.

The Senate Constitution limits the number of positions a student may hold to the following combinations: One major, one minor and one unclassified; two minor and three unclassified; three minor and one unclassified; one minor and five unclassified; or seven unclassified.

More Positions

Major positions consist of the following: president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer of the Senate; Chairman of Religious Activities, Underclassmen, Athletics, Social Activities, General Activities; editor-in-chief of the Alfarata and Juniatian; and managing editor of the Juniatian.

Listed as minor positions are Chairman of Men's House, Women's House, Publications; president of the senior class, A Cappella Choir, J Club, Lambda Gamma, Masque; manager of the A Cappella Choir; Chairman of the Christian Heritage Commission, the Personal Campus Affairs Commission, the World Relatedness Commission, the Social Responsibility, Bible Study and Worship, the Radio Committee.

More Named

Head manager of football, track, basketball, baseball, editor of the Indian; business manager of the Indian; president of the I. R. C.; assistant editor of the Alfarata; business manager of the Alfarata, Juniatian, Scout; editor of the Scout; chairman of JWSF; student manager of the musical; All-Class Night chairman; publicity director of the JCA; editor of the Tommahawk; business manager of the Tommahawk.

All other positions, including class and club officers not mentioned, are designated as unclassified.

The committee has also made the following suggestions: no major officer can work under another major officer through an appointed position, and no Senator shall serve under another Senator on the following committees: Social, Underclassmen, Men's House and Women's House.

JC On Air Features Talent

Thursday's edition of Juniata on the Air will feature a talent show by students of the college.

Ellie Formwalt will spin the discs on Turntable Terrace Thursday.

Juniata Students Did Not Meet JWSF Goal in 1951

Juniata students did not meet their JWSF goal last year.

As a result, the drive met its $1951 goal only by accepting an unprecedented $200 pledge from the "Firefly" program. Normally, contributions from the student musical are kept separate and are not included in figuring the goal.

Last year's drive chairman, Jay Benedict, pointed to "a marked reduction in student interest and participation over previous years." Of a goal of $1150, the students actually gave in cash only about $800.

Traditionally, the overall JWSF goal corresponds to the year, so that this year the aim is to collect $1952 to aid four charities. The student share of this goal is $1100.

Anna Russell To Perform On Oller Hall Stage

Miss Anna Russell, Canadian comedienne, will appear in Oller Hall Friday, Feb. 29 under the auspices of the Huntingdon County Soroptomist Club.

Her program will include satires on opera stars, concert performers, pianists and singers of folk music.

Miss Russell, born of a prominent military English family, studied at the Royal College of Music in London. She appeared on the British Broadcasting Company in a series of folk song programs and then joined a small opera company. She then entered the comedy field.

During the war she toured Canada in a troop show; it was at this time that she became Canada's leading lady of laughs.

Students will not be admitted on their activity cards, since the program is being sponsored by the Soroptomist Club alone.

When the College arranges programs in joint sponsorship with local, civic, and community organizations, it makes a contribution for the privilege of having students admitted free, explains Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the President.

However, according to Senate president Art Allen, Pres. Calvert Ellis explained that most of these arrangements are made a year ahead. In this particular case, he added, the Soroptomists were unable to arrange Miss Russell's appearance until after the College had made plans for all of its funds.

Tickets are available at Steele's Drug Store, Kurtz's Gift Shop and Snyder's Up-Town Cut Rate.

Cherry Tells Of Yearbook Change

Ron Cherry, business manager of the Alfarata, has announced that the plan to advertise professional services has been discarded.

The Alfarata has planned to carry a section under the heading of professional services, where would be listed all the professional men and firms who do not advertise but nevertheless desire to come to the attention of the readers.

The Huntingdon County Medical Society announced its policy held that in any journal, magazine, or yearbook other than a professional publication would not be within the ethics of the profession." Also expressing the same opinion were the legal men of the area.

According to Cherry, "Other solicitations are coming along very well."

Alfarata editor Dot Taylor reports that, while somewhat behind schedule now, "the staff expects to meet all deadlines."

Recital To Be Given Sunday By Students

The first in a series of recitals will be presented Sunday at 3 p. m. in Swigart Hall by the voice students of Prof. Charles Rowland and the piano students of Miss Marion Thomas and Miss Dottie Ann Humphries.

Those participating will be: piano, Bonnie Lou Speck, Janet Binkley, Helen Rosengren, Mary Lou McKee, Mim Smith, Don Brinton, Mary Anne Bailey, Martha Mallow and Mitzi Osbourne.

Voice: Barbara Grim, Allegra Forney, Jean Baker, Dan Ziegler and Steve Musto.

Other recitals will be presented throughout the semester, according to Miss Thomas.

The seventh annual competition for college photographers has been announced by Kappa Alpha Mu, national collegiate honorary fraternity devoted to photo journalism.

Students regularly enrolled in any college or university are eligible to enter up to ten prints with no more than five entries in each of the four classes—picture story, news, feature and sports.

Judging will be done in two divisions—amateur and professional.

All persons who place in the show, in addition to national recognition, shall receive a certificate of merit. Two major awards will be given. The 11-volume encyclopedia of Photography will be awarded to the winner of the professional class.

The winner in the amateur class will receive a scholarship to the University of Missouri Photo Workshop.

Entry blanks and contest rules may be obtained by writing to Vernon Miller, National Executive Secretary, 18 Walter Williams Hall, University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri.

Petitions Ready For Senate Jobs

Petitions for Senate offices and chairmanships will be available Monday from Senate vice-pres. Joe Thomasberger or chairman of general activities Kay Wright, Thomasberger has announced.

He has also agreed to a change in the date set for the chairmanship elections. Originally slated for March 20, with run-offs the next day, these elections have been pulled back to March 19 and 20 so that The Juniatian may carry the names of the winners.

According to the Senate vice-president, no candidate may begin his campaign, if any, until all petitions are filed. This means campaigns for top-office candidates may begin March 3, chairmanships March 13.

Instructor Added To Town Program

Miss Miriam A. Schlegel, instructor in elementary education, has been named to the staff of the new community educational services program scheduled to begin Feb. 25.

Miss Schlegel, fifth faculty member to be named to the project, will teach the course, Ways of Teaching.

USAF Needs Qualified Help In Meteorology

College graduates and second semester seniors with one year of college physics and mathematics are now eligible to apply for USAF Air Weather Service.

Successful applicants will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve and will take a twelve month meteorology course at one of seven participating colleges and universities.

During their initial tour after training, new weather officers will be assigned as forecasters in Air Weather Service Stations.

Providing weather support for such important projects as the Atomic Energy Tests and air operations will be part of the duties of the officers.

Interested young men and women who will graduate before August are urged to write immediately to the Chief, Air Weather Service, Andrews Air Force Base, Washington 25, D. C. for application forms and detailed instructions.

Rowland Directs Local Program

Prof. Charles Rowland directed the Huntingdon Music Club's presentation of "A Waltz Dream" by Oscar Strauss. It was presented in the Huntingdon Community Center last Monday and Tuesday.

Included in the cast of characters were freshman Rolland Taylor and Margaret Johnson, wife of Prof. Donald Johnson.

Miss Dorothy Ann Humphries of the faculty was one of the accompanists.

William Fegan, '48, of the Neff's Mills Players directed the dramatic end of the production.

Mar. 1 is the deadline for application, states Dean Mays, and the big universities are eager for applicants.

Seniors interested in knowing what is available in particular institutions should see the Dean.

Grad Now Army Statistician

Pfc. James Brumbaugh, BS, '49, is now an assistant statistician at the Army Chemical Center, Md. This is part of the Army's Scientific and Professional Personnel Program, designed to "provide a means for best utilizing the civilian training, education and technical skills of its enlisted men."

Office States Policy On New Laundromat

"There isn't enough hot water in The Cloister to handle the extra load of an automatic washer," according to business manager Paul Friend, "and we have the biggest tank in the building that will fit through the door." The men's house committee requested such a machine earlier this year.

The College decided instead to keep all the washers together in the basement of the girls' dorm, and a new laundromat was installed there recently along with two automatic dryers. This makes a total of two Laundromats and one Bendix automatic washer and two Westinghouse dryers available to the students.

"The income from these machines (10¢ per wash, 15¢ for drying) pays for maintenance, long-term replacement and the use of electricity and water," Friend said. The reserve fund built up through income from the original two washers was used to purchase the additional washer and two dryers.

The business manager also explained why the timing on the little Bendix often seems out of kilter. "This machine gives 40 minutes service for a dime. Yet some items, such as a blanket, takes less time. If someone does a seven-minute job, then turns the washer over to a friend, the new user finds himself paying near the end of the operation instead of the beginning."

The other washers do not do this. Friend said, and so he advised that users of these machines be careful to set the dial properly before inserting their money. The two Laundromats need only 30 minutes to complete a wash, while the dryers take a full hour.

JWSF Predecessor Was 'Student Aid Society'

The Juniata World Service Fund had its roots in one of the first student organizations on campus, the Aid Society.

This Society, through the cooperation of the student body, supplied clothing to needy children in the vicinity of the College. The garments were made from old clothing by the coeds, to measurements gathered in house to house canvases conducted by the men.

As a result of this work, a "Home for Orphans and Friendless Children" was established. It was supported for many years by College students and local citizens, until it went out of existence.

From Our Notes

Hot water: a commodity customarily required for bathing. Without it life gets teejus, the girls say, and it's been a mighty scarce article in their dorm after 11 p. m. lately.

How come, we asked business manager Paul Friend and dean of women Jane McCormick? They report:

- There is no mechanical difficulty. However, the heat goes off at 10 p. m.
- Two tanks, with a total capacity of 1600 gal. supply the girls' dorm. The heating equipment can (and does) raise the water temperature 120 to 180 degrees in an hour, but will be turned somewhat higher in an effort to solve the problem. Of course, each gal. drawn off means a new gal. of cold water is added to the supply, cooling it that much.
- The rule book say "Girls should not take showers after 11." Too noisy.

Possible answer: too many girls trying to wash at the same time.

Dessert Loss Beneficial?

To the Editor:

In Chapel services last Monday, it was proposed that the resident students vote to abstain from dessert with meals on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week for the duration of the Juniata World Service Fund drive. The savings thus accruing to the food budget would be donated to this Fund.

The results of the vote showed that the student body was overwhelmingly in favor of such a course. This is believed to be due to several reasons; popular sentiment was in favor of helping needy students and institutions; and, as the author of the proposal implied, the desserts weren't worth a darn anyway.

Less Dessert, More Chow

The question is here advanced whether a proposal to augment the fare of main courses in our dining room with supplementary funds derived by eliminating desserts entirely would be as enthusiastically received by both the dining room management and the student body.

If the savings in this instance are sufficient to warrant their being raised in this manner for the JWSF drive, then, on a year-round basis they should prove a welcome addition to those concerned with the planning of menus. No drop in nutritional standards is discernible here because the replacement of desserts by the addition of staple foods would more than equal the deficiency.

Improvement Desired

It is stressed that this suggestion is offered only in an honest desire to see an improvement in the dining room fare. It should not be construed as pointless sniping at the administration or Miss Frances Mathias. Though not well acquainted with this particular situation we are aware of the difficulties of maintaining high standards in these days of high prices.

It is respectfully requested that all concerned give this suggestion the consideration it merits.

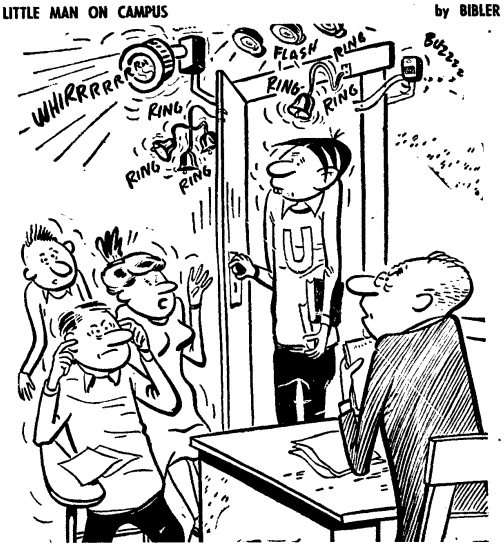
LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER



"Like I say, Worthal—when you come in late you disturb the whole class."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Grad Discusses Merits Of UMT

In a few weeks Congress will decide whether we are to have universal military training—a program in which each young man would be trained for six months and then placed in the military reserves for some seven years. To the young man this may seem the lesser of two evils, for at present he is subject to a draft call which usually means two years active duty. This might seem an understandable preference were there not more vital preferences.

Many arguments are posed against UMT—its cost, the moral effect upon the trainees, the peace position of the Church—but my opposition springs chiefly from a fear of America's growing military bureaucracy, which gets just about anything it wants from Congress and the President these days as compared with the civil bureaucracy which is constantly harried and scrutinized by Congress.

Military Gets Top Priority

In an atmosphere in which everyone's patriotism is suspect, military requests get top priority and defense leaders are our sacred cows. UMT would be a boon to this menace.

Under selective service, local draft boards composed of citizens have the power of selection in calling men to duty. Under UMT, there would be no civilian selection—each man would be at the disposal of the military for seven years regardless of family or profesional responsibilities.

The prospects of this system, if I understand internal power politics here in Washington, is a grim threat to civilian direction and control of national affairs, a precious component of our democratic way of life.

Write Your Congressman

The election year affords a particularly opportune time for registering our opinions with members of Congress. Many of them are wavering on UMT and will be blown by public sentiment which they will appraise by reading their mail. It may not be possible to defeat UMT, but stacks of mail and phone calls to Congressmen can make UMT an issue too hot to handle this election year. And that would be more than a moral victory.

I am urging all my friends to write their Representatives and Senators, for UMT will be blocked now, or never.

Battle Of The Mind Traced In Tragedy

DEATH OF A SALESMAN—All his life the salesman had lived in a world of imagination. To his family and friends he was a success and to hear him talk one would think he had a claim on real greatness. His life ambition was success and on the surface he had attained it, but he just couldn't fool himself.

Harlacher

Thoughts of the real success attained by his brother and which always seemed just out of reach kept racing through his mind. What a fate. Thirty-four years of service and now discharged as a has-been.

Throughout this tragedy you watch the salesman's (Frederick March) inner-self expose to his conscious mind the pathetic fraud and failure he really is. Slowly the sub-conscious wins out and insanity and suicide results.

The Arthur Miller play from which the tragedy was taken won a Pulitzer Prize and a Drama Critic Award. The screenplay has little diviation and March should be a strong contender when they are giving out "Oscars". Grand Theatre.

THIS WOMAN IS DANGEROUS—If you still like the old story of the woman who leads all admirers to "rot and ruin" then this should please. Joan Crawford is the decietful creature in this case.

I would imagine that the greater part of the picture will be used to try to make you pity this poor unfortunate character who is torn between two men.

She is loyal to cruel gangster David Brian because he got her out of prison, but she's in love with eye doctor Dennis Morgan who saved her sight. Thus it goes with Joan getting everybody in hot water until finally the FBI cools things off. Clifton Theatre.

Being freshmen, they didn't know that this is a signal to Huntingdon's Fire Co. that there's a fire up here on College hill. Oh well! live and learn.

Braves Trip SSTC 50-48; Teachers' Rally Fails

by Bob Asan

The Juniata Indians squeezed out a 50-48 decision over the Red Raiders of Shippensburg State Teachers at Shippensburg last Friday night. Tom Green and Dave Pollock paced the Indians with 13 points each as the Tribe led for most of the game.

The game was won at the foul line as Juniata converted 16 charity tosses to 14 for the Teachers. Both teams had 17 field goals.

Nicholson, McClelland Lead

Bob Nicholson and Bob McClelland led Shippensburg scoring with 17 and 14 points respectively. McClelland had been averaging 18 points per game previous to the Juniata tussle.

Shippensburg scored first on a set shot by Nicholson. The score was tied at 2-2 and again at 4-4. Then the Indians moved out and had a ten point lead midway in the period. Juniata led at the buzzer, 18-10.

The Indians were outscored, 17-14, in the second period as the Red Raiders narrowed the margin to 32-27. Juniata lost an eight point spread in this stanza.

Both Hit For Ten

Both teams counted ten times in the third quarter. In the fourth period the Raiders caught fire and pulled to within two points of the Tribe. They tied the game at 45-45 and then moved ahead at 48-47.

Ed Feldkircher's field goal made it 49-48. A foul made it 50-48 and that was the ball game as it ended seconds later.

Two Point Spread

The Indians scored only one field goal in the final period as the teams were never more than two points apart. Shippensburg outscored the Indians 11-8 in the last quarter.

Feldkircher threw in ten points for Juniata on two field goals and six out of seven fouls. Green went five for five on fouls as the Tribe hit for 16 out of 21 tries.

JV's Lose Game; Face F&M Away

Juniata's Junior Varsity suffered their eighth loss of the season to Pitt Johnstown Center Wednesday night. They have won five games. Score of the contest was 82-65.

Joe Hinish and Herb Law scored 19 and 17 point respectively for the Indians while Zack was high man for the winners with 28 markers.

Juniata held a 35-34 half time lead but a smoothly working fast break enabled Pitt Johnstown to outscore the Indians 24 to 11 in the third quarter to sew up the ball game. The contest was marked by personal fouls with Law, Hinish and John Thomas all fouling out for the Juniata Jayvees.

Tonight the little Indians go on the road again to face a strong Franklin and Marshall contingent.

IM Volleyball Loop Opens; FM&M Leads Basketball League

Intramural sports opened activity this Tuesday night after a lay off of a week because of Spiritual Emphasis Services. The Intramural Volleyball League began operations on Tuesday night and found two games played, with another postponed.

In the basketball division, the Rockets, led by Gene Biddle and Monk Simon with 23 and 22 points respectively, downed the Wild Woodsmen 53-48. Sharbaugh was high for the losers with 18.

In a close game all of the way, FM&M squeezed past the Fubars 36-31. Hooch Hoover's 11 points led the winners while Galen Keeney was high for the Fubars with 14. The Globetrotters had an easy time in beating the Bookies 69-34. Bob Motisher once again paced the Trotters, this time hitting the nets for 28.

In the final game of the evening, District 3 walloped the Trojans by a 85-46 count. District 3, led by Dave Hackett with 23 points, once again showed a high scoring attack. Dave LeFevre with 19 and John Gates with 18 followed Hackett in the scoring column. High scoring honors for the game, however, went to Earl Dietrick of the Trojans who dumped 26 through the nets.

The Volleyball League began operations as the two contests played saw the Bridgers defeat the Reformers 2-1 and the Neversweats shut out the Slowpokes 2-0. Volleyball matches are decided on the best out of three sets.

Next week we hope to bring you the standings of both leagues and also the leading scorers of the Basketball League.

SSTC Juniors Down Little Indians 39-37; Burket Hits For 12

The Indian Junior Varsity dropped a 39-37 decision to the Junior Varsity of Shippensburg State Teachers College in a game played on the latter's court last Friday night.

Juniata led all of the way until the final minute when the Teachers' rally caught the Tribe. With less than a minute to go the score was knotted at 35 all.

Shippensburg went ahead but the Indians tied it up on Glen Burket's long set shot. But the Teachers' rally continued and they scored the winning two pointer with only ten seconds remaining.

Burket lead the Indians in the scoring column with 12 points and was followed by Herb Law with 11. Law working well off the pivot, here he teamed with John Thomas to provide the JV's with a duo of tall men under the bucket.

THE INDIAN SENIOR who led the scoring Monday night at E-town pictured above is Jack Dickey. Dickey hails from Berlin, Pa., and this season will win his third letter for his ability on the hardwood. He is a fine playmaker and is one of Coach Greene's race horses on the Indian's fast breaking offense.

Jays Beat JC 72-42; Dickey High With 11

The Blue Jays of Elizabethtown opened a 20 point barrage in the third quarter and as Juniata was able to score only five in this stanza the Jays pulled away to a comfortable margin and subsequently defeated the Indians 72-42. The game, played Monday night in Elizabethtown, found the Tribe unable to hit throughout the entire contest.

The first quarter found the Indians within striking distance as the score read 14-12, E-town, after the initial period. But in the second round the Jays opened up a ten point lead and even widened their gap in the third quarter and by that time the Indians were left in the dust.

Jack Dickey, playing one of his finest games, led Juniata in the scoring colum with 11 points, his high mark for the year. John Cook was next in the Juniata column with 8, Leo Kunn hit for 5, Dave Pollock, Jim Boulton, and Ed Feldkircher had 3. Tom Green also had an off night as he accounted for only 7 points, Fran Zimmerman finished out the Indian scoring with 2 points.

The 42 point total was the lowest number of points scored by the Tribe this season. The previous low was in the opening game of the campaign at Lycoming when JC could only account for 46.

The split in the duo of games between the two schools followed the same pattern as last season as Juniata took the home encounter 41-39 and lost the following contest at E-town by a 57-47 count. The series standing now reads 32 wins for the Jays and 11 on the Juniata side of the ledger.

Tribe Faces F&M Away Tonight; Meet ISTC Sat., Crusaders Thurs.

The largest week of basketball activity for the current season comes to a close tonight and tomorrow night when the Indians meet two formidable opponents. Tonight the Blue and Gold take to the road to meet the Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall College. Tomorrow evening the Indians close out the week's activities when they play host to the quintet of Indiana State Teachers College. The Teachers own an 87-67 win over the men of Coach Greene in an earlier game. The Tribe plays its final road game of the season next Thursday night when they travel to face the Crusaders of Susquehanna College. After the Crusader game the Indians round out their season with two home contests against Lycoming and Lebanon Valley.

Franklin & Marshall

Coach T. Arnold Greene and his Indian basketeers face probably their biggest obstacle to win number five this evening when they face the Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall College in a game to be played in Lancaster. F&M is enjoying one of its most successful years on the hardwoods and holds wins over many top ranked quintets.

The Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley pulled one of the biggest upsets of the current basketball season last Saturday night when they downed the Diplomats 80-70 in a game played at Annville. Earlier in the campaign JC lost by an 85-65 count.

Beat Navy

One of the biggest notches in the Diplomats' belts is a 79-76 win over Navy in a game played last week at Annapolis. Other wins registered by the Dips over teams on our schedule were over Albright and Dickinson.

Before entering the Lebanon Valley clash the Diplomats were the highest scoring small college team in the country with an average of 83.3 points scored per game. Of course their average dipped but they are still a high powered ball team and can hit from almost any spot on the floor.

The Diplomats have one man in the giant class and he is 6-6 Carson Levitt, a sophomore center on Coach Woodrow Sponaugle's quintet. There are three men tipping the 6-3 mark, they are forwards Dick Dunn and Warren Piersol, and center Henry Eberle. The smallest man on the F&M roster is 5-10 Ken Kratz, a junior guard. The team of six footers consists of two seniors, three juniors, four sophomores, and three freshmen.

Dunn High

With the release of last week's official statistics, Dick Dunn, sophomore forward, ranked as number 16 scorer for small colleges in the entire nation. Dunn's average per game was 20.2 and teammate Carson Lovett ranked as number 17 high scorer with an average of 20.1. Both averages were before the Lebanon Valley game last Saturday night.

The Tribe goes into the clash tonight looking for victory number five against nine defeats and are up against probably their stiffest opposition of the season. After the defeat at Elizabethtown on Monday night the Indians are even more determined to go out and snare their fifth win of the season tonight.

Indiana

The JC Indians play their second game in as many days tomorrow evening when they entertain Indiana State Teachers College in the new Memorial Gymnasium. Earlier in the campaign the Indians were victims to a 87-67 defeat in a contest played at Indiana, (Pa.)

The Teachers recently were victims to Shippensburg State Teachers 85-82 in an overtime contest on the latter's court. However the Indiana Teachers were victors over the same squad in a game earlier in the season. Juniata defeated SSTC in a game last Friday night 50-48.

In the Indiana game earlier this year the Indians were hampered by repeated fouls and lost Tom Green and Ed Feldkircher early in the game because of five personals each. The visitors court was much smaller in size than the one the Indians are used to playing on here at home. Consequently there wasn't much space for "driving" or for Tom Green's favorite shot from the corner.

Coach Greene has expressed his thoughts for tomorrow night's contest with the words that he really wants this one. There was no doubt that Juniata didn't play their usual brand of ball in the Indiana game and they hope to be able to run better on our floor than they could on the cramped spaces of the Indiana gym.

The Indian Junior Varsity meets the JV's of Indiana State in a preliminary game tomorrow evening. The men of Coach Smaltz hold a win over Indiana by a 53-45 score in a game played on the Teachers floor. The Little Indians are in hopes of duplicating this feat and notching win number two in as many tries over ISTC.

Susquehanna

The Indians play their next to last away game next Thursday night when they travel to Selinsgrove to meet the Crusaders of Susquehanna College. The Tribe defeated the Crusaders 72-41 in a contest played early this season in Juniata's new Memorial Gymnasium.

The Indians found the Crusaders no problem that evening and got away to a fast start with Tom Green and Ed Feldkircher running wild in the first quarter. This stanza found the Tribe in front by a 17-4 count. The Indians poured it on as the game progressed and Green continued to mark them up and hit for 20 points.

The Crusaders present no real height as they have only two men over the six foot mark. These are 6-2 Stewart Tomlinson and 6-1 Bob McNamara. Charles Zlock is regarded as the Crusaders' best shot. However, he found the Indian's zone defense quite a problem and couldn't get set in the game played earlier this season on College Hill.

Dr. Miles, '46, Describes JC In Just-Published Poem

A touch of Juniata College has been included in the latest edition of "Hill Thoughts," a literary anthology of Hanover College. Dr. Leland Miles, '46, chairman of the department of English at Hanover, submitted a poem to the anthology entitled "To Virginia (his wife, also a Juniata grad): Reflections on Graduating."

Scattered references to Juniata are found throughout the poem, written here in June, 1946. In the opening two lines, Dr. Miles refers to the Juniata library, social rooms in Founders and Oller Hall. In addition, he describes Round Top and "the glassy frozen pond" which is only about two blocks

Kiwanis Club Sponsors Play

The Neff's Mills Players will again return to Juniata's campus Wednesday to present the comedy "John Loves Mary."

Cast in the leading roles are Tony Bowman and Ellen Troutman as the sergeant and his fiancee.

Mr. Bowman is a graduate of the Drama Department of Penn State. While there he appeared in a Penn State Players' production of "John Loves Mary." Last summer he played leading roles in Brookside productions of "Claudia", "Ten Little Indians", and "Born Yesterday".

A graduate of Waynesburg College, Ellen Bennington Troutman there played leading roles in "Twelfth Night", "See How They Run", and "The Tow Orphans". Last summer at the Brookside Playhouse she appeared in "The Man Who Came To Dinner", "George Washington Slept Here", "Personal Appearance" and "Blithe Spirit".

Others in the cast include Irma Lewis, Dick Warren, George Parsons and Bill Fegan. Jim Richmond, Glenn Gress, Jane Zoghibe, and Joanne Secoy will be featured in comedy character roles.

The play is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and will be presented Wednesday at 8:15 in Oller Hall. Students will be admitted on presentation of their activity cards.

Debators Travel; Meet Mt. Mercy

by Bob Bailey

Next week will be a week of great club activity.

Tomorrow the Debate Club will journey to Pittsburgh to participate in the Mount Mercy Debating Tournament at (needless to say) Mount Mercy College. Two teams—one affirmative and one negative—will make the trip and will debate the national question concerning wage and price controls.

Each team will have three debates. Making the trip will be Ron Cherry and Phil Norris, affirmative, and Bob Bailey and Ray Fowler, negative.

During last week's trip the debate teams had only one judged debate in which Juniata's negative team won a decision over Duquesne's affirmative.

Tonight at 7 p. m. in the I. Harvey House the IRC will hold a student led discussion concerning the foreign policy of the various presidential candidates. Anyone who is interested is, of course, cordially invited.

The JCA will hold its weekly meeting next Tuesday at 7:15 p. m. in Founders Chapel; the topic will be announced.

Next Thursday at 7:15 p. m. in Founders Chapel the Masque will hold its regular meeting.

Applications For Draft Test Due By March 10

March 10 will be the deadline for applications for the April 24 administration of the Selective Service qualification test, Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of the system has announced.

It is estimated that as many as 100,000 students will make application for the April test. This will be the last examination to be given during the present academic year.

Applications Ready

Application blanks for this administration may be obtained at the nearest local board, in this case in Huntingdon. It is not necessary for the student to make his application through his home board.

Eligibility requirements applicable to this test are three. To take the test a student must be registered and must intend to request student deferment, must be pursuing a full-time college course, and must not have taken the test during a perivous administration.

61% Pass Last Test

It has been announced by National Headquarters that 61% of the students taking the test in December made a score of 70 or better. Of the 340,000 students taking the first four tests, 63% made a similar score.

Criteria for deferment now requires a test score of 70 or above, or a class standing among the upper half of the male members of the freshman class, uper 2/3 of the Sophomore class, or upper ¾ of the Junior class. If in the senior class, a standing in the upper ¾ of the class is required for deferment to continue with graduate work.

Boards Have Option

These criteria are only guides, and local boards are not required to follow them. However, a student may appeal any classification within ten days of the time it is assigned.

The Selective Service System has pointed out that of 1,258,735 men now enrolled in colleges, approximately 891,000 are deferred or exempt from the draft. Of the remaining 367,735 students many are exempt because of reserve or National Guard attachments while 40% of the remaining number will probably fail to meet physical or mental minimum standards.

Blood Donation Slips Now Ready For Contributors

by D. D. Silldorff

Have you picked up your blood blank yet? Be sure to get that permission blank in early; it's necessary to have the schedule extremely tight in order to get everyone in during the short time the Bloodmobile will be on campus.

The latest reports show that the response from the men students is excellent while the girls seem to be slower in participating.

The blood that is collected will be divided between two sources. 42% of it will remain in Huntingdon County while 58% will go to the Armed Forces and general emergency use.

Blood To Two Areas

There is no charge made for the blood when it is administered but a small charge is made to defray the cost of the administration collection and clerical work connected with the directing of the blood.

Here For P. M. Only

Remember, the Bloodmobile will be on campus for only one afternoon. The Red Cross can use a pint of your blood a lot more than you'll miss it.

You can get your blank in the Dean of Women's Office, the Postoffice, or the Information Window. Pick it up and send it home now if you haven't already done so.

Public School Plan Succesful

Prof. G. Wayne Glick and Prof. Philip Bedient, who spent last semester testing and interviewing prospective students, report that Juniata's three-two plan in cooperation with Carnegie Tech and Columbia is particularly attractive to high school students.

During the 13 weeks that Prof. Glick was doing this work, he visited 94 schools and in addition taught classes on Friday and Saturday.

Prof. Bedient traveled over the Eastern Pennsylvania area visiting about 74 schools.

The two Juniata professors administered the American Council of Education Psychological Test to high school juniors and seniors. Pamphlets concerning the College were distributed and interested students were interviewed.

Both men reported that results were promising and the college preparatory students welcomed the opportunity to take the tests.

Women's League Gives JC Records

The Juniata Women's League recently presented $25 to the College to be used for the purchase of recorded dinner music for the dining hall.

According to Miss Marion Thomas, $18 of the original amount has been used so far.

The records include a series of Jerome Kern numbers played by Freddy Martin; Chopin Favorites by the First Piano quartet; The Waltzes You Saved For Me by Wayne King, the Waltz King; and the Cole Porter Review played by David Rose and his orchestra.

Rosengren, Newcomer Named Consultants

Helen Rosengren and Ben Newcomer have been chosen to serve as "Sub-freshmen Consultants" on the Juniata College Choir tour.

Their responsibilities will be to carry a moderate supply of Juniata literature and act as contact persons for all students interested in the College and admission to it.

OCS Announces Readiness For Student Trainees

College students may apply for the U. S. Naval Officer Candidate School anytime within six months prior to graduation, according to a release from that agency.

The only Naval Officer Training School was opened last June in Newport, Rhode Island and already is turning out more officers than the Naval Academy and all the NROTC's combined.

Two courses of instruction are offered at the school. One, for graduates with higher training in electronics, economics, architecture, and various fields of engineering, takes only two months. After graduation the new officers are sent all over the country for two month's additional training in their specialties.

The great majority of officer candidates train four months for commissions as ensigns in the general line, receiving instruction in all the basic sea-going skills.

While undergoing training, all officer candidates are in an enlisted status. Applications may be made to, or detailed information on the school received from, any Naval Recruiting Station or Office of Naval Officer Procurement.

Grades Must Be Adjusted

All Fall term grades which were listed as incomplete must be adjusted by next Saturday, Mar. 8, if the student desires a grade in the course, the office of the registrar has announced.

Snively Wins GIQ By 1 Point

Jean Snively, '55, nosed out Roger Wiley, '52, by one point to win the General Information Contest last week. This is the second year Wiley has taken second place in the quiz.

The first place winner received $15, the runner-up $10. Judges were Miss Lillian Evans, general chairman, Dr. S. Les Booth, Dr. George Clemens, Prof. G. Wayne Glick, Dr. T. F. Henry, Dr. Homer Will, Miss Anna Benjamin and Miss Margaret McCrimmon.

"These contests were established about 24 or 25 years ago by the late Joseph Biddle," according to Mrs. Sara Hettinger of the Library.

Fellowships Open In Public Affairs

Students interested in public affairs are offered an opportunity to apply for fellowships in the Southern Regional Training Program in Public Administration.

Recipients of the fellowships study at the Universities of Alabama, Kentucky or Tennessee.

Before the school term, students will serve an internship with a public agency such as the Tennessee Valley Authority. Completion of the twelve months training program entitles students to a certificate in public administration.

For elegibility requirements and other information, write to the Educational Director, Southern Regional Training Program in Public Administration, University of Alabama, Alabama.

What Is Red China's Next Stop?

by Bob Volpitto

Where in Asia will the Chinese reds strike next? Speculation says either Indo-China, Burma, Thailand, Malaya, or Indonesia.

French and nationalist forces in Indo-China dug in 20 miles from the capital city of Hanoi. Red China's forces poised across the border number 290,000.

Volpitto

Burma is quite weak and could be over-run in a matter of days. Buddhists in Thailand would fight bitterly any invasion by Red China. It too, would be a futile attempt.

Fear Of Revolution

Tin mines and rubber plantations of Malaya are temptations to the Reds. English General Sir Gerald Templer commands 40,000 troops here.

In Indonesia fears of revolution far surpass those of invasion.

Southeast Asia may well become the Balkans of that area. Unrest from within prodded by promises and supplies from without, seem to be the matches to be used to light the fuse.

Aid Would Drain NATO

When invasion by Red China into these critical areas comes, what should our policy be? Economic aid with guns, munitions, tanks, planes, and supplies would drain our NATO store-room. The sending of troops seems out of the question.

A tongue lashing by Ben Cohen, Warren Austin or Mrs. FDR in the UN seems more likely. This could be followed by another "white paper" explaining why Asia wasn't worth saving anyway.

With the impending crisis the Great Debate is given new impetus. Even though Red China may conquer these near defenseless areas, the words of Longirus reminds us, "In great attempts it is glorious even to fail."

Lonely Hearts In City Of Sin

THE MODEL AND THE MARRIAGE BROKER—Here's a laugh-riot with a human interest angle which explains why people seek the help of a lonely-hearts club. The characters you meet in this picture are so funny you'll pity them.

Harlacher

Chief life-patcher Thelma Ritter knows why some people need a boost. A broken heart of long ago put her in business. It sounds pretty sad, but if you're acquainted with Thelma Ritter's satirical manner, you may know humor will reign.

Her most important accomplishment in the film is saving model Jeanne Crain from becoming a home-breaker. No commission either! Clifton Theatre

THE LAS VEGAS STORY—This one smells strangely like a flop. If you think Jane Russell can act and sing, then that'll help.

But like the title, the film's story is the old thrill-seeker type. Murder, gambling and romance with Victor Mature add drawing power.

Supporting actor Vincent Price just might pull it out of the bag with his unusual style. And then there's the usual chase only this time with a helicopter instead of a horse or car. Dialogue's a bit suggestive too, but the proof will be in the seeing. Grand Theatre

Bridgers Lead V-Ball Loop In IM; FM&M Beaten By District 3

The Intramural Basketball and Volleyball Leagues saw plenty of action this past week as the cage loop pounds down the home stretch. The biggest news of the week was the game which saw District 3 down the league leading FM&M by a 60-43 score. Leading the winners was Fred Hamor with 18 points. He was followed closely by John Gates and Nick Rocco of the winners who each had 12. Don Bottomley collected the same number for FM&M.

Other games this week saw the Coal Crackers drop a pair of games. They forfeited to the YHO's and dropped a 36-21 decision to the Hunters. John Martin and Merill Green were high for the Hunters with 12 each.

The Four Shots and a Chaser, led by Bob Rauch with 23, beat the Rockets 64-51. Tom Sanders followed Rauch for the winners with 14. The Bridgers found the Hunters no trouble as they soundly whipped them 64-26. The scoring was well divided for the Bridgers as Ken Mummah and Chuck Knox each had 15. Paul Hepak and Dino Patricelli each swished 10.

The Wild Woodsmen just managed to get past the Sackhounds by a 48-47 count. The Woodsmen outscored the losers 17-9 in the final quarter to emerge a one point victor.

In the Volleyball League, games played last Thursday saw the Bridgers beat the Sackhounds 2-0 and the Neversweats beat the the Fubars by the same score. The next evening, Friday, the Bridgers won over the Slowpokes by a forfeit as the Reformers shut out the Neversweats 2-0.

Tuesday night the play continued as the Fubars notched their first win of the loop by downing the Trojans 2-1. The Neversweats edged the Sackhounds by a 2-1 count. The Sackhounds have replaced FM&M on the roster of teams and shall play all games where the FM&M is listed to play.

Volleyball League Standings:

Neversweats	3	1

Tribe Meets LV Here Wed.; Last Game Of Season

The Tribe rings down the curtain on the 1951-52 basketball campaign next Wednesday night when they play host to the Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley. The two squads met earlier in the season and the Dutchmen emerged an 85-65 victor.

The Dutchmen are enjoying a very successful season and have notched victories over many larger schools. One of the biggest upsets of the season was registered just last week when LV was dumped by the Blue Jays of Elizabethtown by two points in the final seconds.

Lebanon Valley has recent victories over Albright 84-67, Dickinson 69-52, Lincoln 72-59 and downed Franklin and Marshall 80-73. The victory over Franklin and Marshall came at a time when the Dips were maintaining a 83.3 average to lead the nation.

The LV team is not tall but combines a blistering fast break and accurate shooting from outside to down most of their rivals. However the Dutchmen has no trouble in rebounding against their opponents and many of their points scored at the Annville game this season were on tap ins.

Last season the Indians pulled a big upset when they defeated the Dutchmen in a home game 74-72. The Tribe will have to play their best ball to do the trick this time. Here's hoping that they can end the season with a major win.

JV's Lose To ISTC Juniors 58-40; Hinish And Burket Get Nine

The Indian Junior Varsity dropped their tenth game of the season last Saturday night when they lost 58-40 to the JV's of Indiana State Teachers College in a game played on College Hill. The Little Indians were unable to hit during the first half and although they did settle down and play better ball after the intermission they were still outscored by the visitors.

Joe Hinish and Glenn Burket led the Juniors with nine apiece. Harold Gray hit for six and Jim Boulton for five. The inability of Herb Law and John Thomas to hit was a major factor in the Indian loss as the two pivot men could only account for four points apiece.

The JV's had defeated the Teachers 53-45 in a game played at Indiana earlier in the season. The next JV game is tomorrow evening before the varsity tilt when they meet the reserves of Lycoming. Lycoming JV's have already defeated the Little Indians 46-29 in the opening game of the season.

Little Indians Dumped By F&M Jv's 66-56

Once again having a rough second half, the Junior Varsity of Juniata College lost a tough ball game to the Franklin and Marshall JV's 66-56. The game was played last Friday night as a preliminary contest to the varsity struggle.

The Little Indians, leading at halftime 35-22, got off to a slow start in the second half and never did catch the Dips. John Thomas led the JV's with 17 points, Joe Hinish and Glenn Burket contributed 15 and 13 respectively.

The Blue and Gold hit on their first six shots from the field and got away to a fast lead but the Diplomats were never far behind and once the second half began they poured points through the nets. The Little Indians put on a desperate rally in the last quarter, cutting the home team's lead to four points, but the Dips put on a spurt and were never again headed.

Girls Attend Play Day Held At Penn State

Four teams of girls were the representatives of Juniata College on Saturday at the Sports Day sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association of Penn State.

The Sport's Day was held in White Gymnasium at State and Juniata competed with teams from State College, Mansfield and Lock Haven STC's, Lycoming College and Bucknell University.

The Basketball team consisted of Rhoda Clemmer, Connie Sherman, Joan Sharp, Ginny Yohn, Janet Wiltshire, Micky Monks, Dott Taylor, Martha Petre and Jody Siemon. Lee Englehart and Jean Link comprised the bowling team and Sue Jamison, Kay Bubeck, Jane Abel and Jo Pollock swam. Joan Walker, Barbara Snively, and Bobby Warner competed in the badminton tournament.

Similar teams with a slightly different personnel will travel to Lycoming College in Williamsport to compete in another Sports Day tomorrow.

Indians Face Lycoming Warriors Here This Saturday Evening

F&M Downs JC Indians 84-61; Green Nets 17

The Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall College found rough going in the first half but began to hit in the second half and downed the Indians 84-61. The game was played last Friday night at Lancaster.

The contest resembled a football game more than basketball and nearly got out of hand at one point. The highly partisan crowd showed no favor toward the Indians who to them appeared to be doing injustice to the F&M boys.

Three Juniata players were ejected from the contest. These were Dave Pollock, Jack Dickey and Dave Bayer. Two members of the Dips were also waved to the bench .The steady fouling was caused primarily by the Indians' slow, possession type ball and the Diplomats's eagerness to roll up a high score. F&M has been leading the nation in average points scored per game.

Tom Green led the Tribe in the scoring column with 17 points. Right behind him were John Cook and Fran Zimmerman with 12 each. Lovett, 6-6 pivot-man of the Dips hit for 22 points, mostly on tap ins and jump shots from in close.

The Indians made a battle of it the first half and only trailed F&M by eight points at the intermission. But in the second half the superior shooting ability of the Dips made itself known and they coasted to victory.

ISTC Outlasts JC 68-62; Dave Pollock High Indian With 22

The Indiana STC Indians snapped a five game losing streak at the expense of Juniata's Indians last Saturday night. They beat the Tribe by a 68-62 count to sweep the season's series.

Center Chet Gurski scored 21 points for Indiana as they led all the way. Dave Pollock was high for the game with 22 points.

The fourth quarter saw Juniata outscore the teachers by a 27-11 count but this still left them six points down. Indiana led at the quarters by scores of 16-12, 35-21 and 57-35.

Juniata scored only eight field goals in the first half of the ball game as compared to 14 for Indiana. Pollock had six points for Juniata in the first half as did Tommy Green who finished with 13 for the night.

John Cook, who totaled 10 points, scored five in the first half.

For Indiana, Gurski had 11 points in the first half on five field goals and one foul. Tex George had six point at the half and a total of ten for the evening. J. C. Swaugger matched George's point production.

Harry Danielson scored six points in the last half to go with five the first for a total of 11 to take second place on the Indiana team.

The Blue and Gold play their last Saturday ball game of the season tomorrow night when they play host to the Warriors of Lycoming College. Juniata opened the season on Dec. 1 with a 61-46 loss to the boys from Williamsport.

Lycoming began the season slowly but have picked up steam as the season has progressed. After downing the Indians in their opening encounter the Warriors lost to Ursinus 67-61 in overtime and dropped a 79-57 decision to Moravian. Lycoming then bounced back to defeat Susquehanna 83-39 and Wilson Teachers 72-65.

Beat Wilkes

Other wins on Lycoming's record have been over Wilkes College 75-56, Geneva College 73-56. Lock Haven State Teachers College downed the Warriors 94-57 and Mansfield Teachers also turned the trick 59-52. In a return contest Lycoming defeated Susquehanna by a rather surprising score of 70-62.

The Indians will be faced with a height problem against the Warriors as the visitors have many men in the "giant" class. One of these is 6-5 Ron Moore, and three men at the 6-4 mark, Tom Brennan, Vince Leta, and Bob Coley. Leta was high scorer against the Tribe in the Warrior's victory earlier this season. He hit the Williamsport nets for 20 points. Teammate "Moe" Mosher, a junior forward, was second high with 14.

Last season the Indians dropped their only encounter with Lycoming by a 70-63 count. The Warriors had a season's record of 16 wins and only 3 losses for the 1950-51 campaign. Coach Bob Smith had few lettermen return this season and was faced with a more difficult schedule.

Downed Tribe

Lycoming, once known as Dickinson Junior College, took advantage of many Juniata mistakes in the opener this season and consequently opened up the second half to roll to an easy victory. Dave Pollock was high man in the Tribe defeat with 13 points. The Warriors won the game at the free throw line as they outscored the Tribe 21-5 at the charity stripe.

The Indians are hopeful of taking their first home win since the Elizabethtown game almost a month ago. Since that time they have lost two in succesion on the Memorial Gymnasium floor. Coach T. Arnold Greene will send his boys on the floor in hopes of upsetting the Warriors who gave the Blue and Gold a difficult time "under the boards" at Williamsport. The starting lineup for the Indians should read, Pollock, Green, Cook, Dickey, and either Feldkircher or Kuhn.

The Susquehanna U. paper unfolds a tale with a morale!

Two little amoebaes who were swimming around in the veins of a horse decided that they were hungry. So they wandered into the horse's arteries, a most fatal step, as both of them died. The moral of this story is that you shouldn't change streams in the middle of a horse.

CLUB COLUMN

Debate Club To Compete In Pennsylvania State Tourney

by Bob Bailey

As mid terms and the Masque production of Romeo and Juliet draw near we note a slackening off of club activities.

A week from next Thursday afternoon the Masque will present a special showing of Romeo and Juliet especially for students of neighboring high schools. Friday and Saturday nights will mark the regular presentation of this tragic Shakespearian story of young love.

Today and tomorrow the Debate Club is making its annual trip to the Pennsylvania State Debate Tournament held this year at Lehigh College in Allentown. Two teams will attend—one negative and one affirmative. The teams will be composed of Ron Cherry and Charlie Kipp, affirmative, and Jo Pentz and Galen Frysinger, negative. They will argue the question, "Resolved: that the Federal Government should establish a permanent system of wage and price controls."

Consisting of four debates for each team, the tournament is perhaps the most important one in the debating season. Last year at this tournament Juniata compiled the enviable record of winning five and losing three. Juniata's affirmative team won all four of their debates defeating, among others, the University of Pennsylvania.

At last weeks tournament at Mount Mercy College the debate teams amassed a record of two wins and four losses, each team winning one and losing two.

Next Tuesday at 7:15 p. m. in Founders Chapel the JCA will hold its regular meeting. Wendell Flory and Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Bright who are missionaries to China will address the club on the topic "Christianity in China."

Holding a special meeting next Wednesday at 7 p. m. in Room D, the Tycoon Club will elect officers for the coming year.

Shakespeare Goes To The Library

It's probably a coincidence, but the Masque production of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" (Mar. 14 and 15) and the middle of the term (Mar. 19) with its accompanying tests are very close together.

Which leads us to the writings of the bard of Avon and the discovery that Mrs. Shakespeare's little boy Bill had quite a bit to say about examinations. Here are some of his comments on:

- Studying in the library: "More light, you knaves; and turn the tables up, And quench the fire, the room is grown too hot." Romeo and Juliet.
- Cramming at 3 a. m.: "How weary, stale, flat and unprofitable seem to me all the uses of this world." Hamlet.
- Cramming at 7 a. m.: "It is not for your health thus to commit your weak condition to the raw cold morning." Julius Caesar.
- Teacher hands out tests:: "O most pernicious woman! O villian, villian, smiling damned villian!" Hamlet.
- Composition exam: "Why, I will fight with him upon this theme until my eyelids will no longer wag." Hamlet.
- Fountain pen leaks: "Out, damned spot! Out, I say!" Macbeth.

Mexican Liberator Fights War, While Women Battle Frontier

by FRANK HARLACHER

VIVA ZAPATA! From the torn pages of Mexican history, with all its dictators and revolutions, John Steinbeck has written a novel with purposeful characters, each designed to show the overall cause of such a bloody history.

Harlacher

After seeing the movie however, I had the feeling that 113 minutes was a little too short to enable director Elia Kazan to get these characters sufficiently close to the audience.

The purpose of the movie is not lost because the conflict is brought front and center by emphasizing the conflict in the mind and life of the main character.

Emiliano Zapata is a common man who becomes a leader against his will because of his desire for justice to his people. The conflict in his life is the story of the Mexican people. His mind is torn between a peace-loving, stay-at-home nature and a passion to right existing wrongs. His desire for justice wins out.

Thus, we have the victorious general finding the presidents whose cause he fought turning victory into power and corruption. His martyrdom leaves with the viewer the principle of Steinbeck's story: that one man cannot change a country, but his spirit and that of other heroes changes the spirit of the people. This spirit, if sparked enough, will inevitably win.

Marlon Brando, who is leaning on his recent success in "Streetcar Named Desire", plays the title role. His performance is acceptable, but overrated; as is the supporting cast headed by Jean Peters. I think you'll find it's the script that makes the picture.

Grand Theatre

WESTWARD THE WOMEN— The MGM lion is quite convinced that women aren't the weaker sex—either that, or he is an advocator of the saying that "women wear the pants that contain the wallet that buys the ticket."

The women characters who make the trek from Chicago to California, over every obstacle imaginable, to find husbands in a womanless valley, make you wonder who is the "weaker sex."

If you have a strong male ego, then remember it's a movie. The gals lose all their men protectors on the journey in the dust, save Bob Taylor, who has to stick around to marry Denise Darcel.

Personality portrayal and good dialogue round off this implausible plot, however, to make it pleasing entertainment.

I'm still in love with my high school sweetheart.	These college girls are really the greatest.	I'm really in love at last.	I've gotten so many shafts lately I'm going to start selling bows and arrows.	Maybe my high school sweetheart will have me again.
Money is what my father has to pay to put me through school.	My monthly allowance isn't going as far as it used to.	The amount of money I'm spending is astonishing.	What the devil, you can't take it with you.	I'm broke. It's darn lucky I'll be out of school soon.
I came to college to study and improve myself.	The work is a lot harder that I had expected, but it's worth it.	This studying is getting me down. I think I'll live a little more next year.	Why study, I'm going in the Army this time next year anyway.	You know, I wish I had spent more time studying, and less time at Skip's.
Sex is something that can wait until after I get through college.	I've been hearing that girls have a lot more to offer than intellectual conversation.	Sex is all right. In fact, I really need more of it.	Now this is an activity that is really worth-while—it certainly beats studying.	Why get married? I'm happy.
I want to be a chemist.	I think I want to be a chemist.	Why worry about it; it will take care of itself.	The devil with chemistry. I'm going in the Army anyway.	Hey, I've got to go to work—it sneaked up on me before I realized it.
I shall marry only a sweet, intelligent woman.	I'll marry only a good-looking woman.	Sometimes, I hope to marry a woman.	I think that I better marry a rich woman.	Darling, sometimes I wonder why I asked you to marry me.
Someday I'll have $1,000,000.	Having tangled with college difficulties, I think I'll be happy with $100,000.	You'll die an early death if you're continually worrying about your future financial success.	What the devil, Uncle Sam is going to feed and clothe me anyhow.	Can you imagine United Garbage Can Co. offered me only $350 to start.
I'll stay out of activities until I get settled.	I joined a club and I really like it.	I'm in so many activities, I can't find time to study.	After all, activities are really more important than studying.	But, sir, I tell you my grades are low because I did so much extra-curricular stuff.

Do You Lose Sleep At Night? The Fault May Be The Window

by Joyce Bernard

The question of the open-window-at-night has perplexed people ever since windows were invented. There are such definite views on the subject that a group study of the problem was made.

First there is the fresh air fiend. Despite the weather he opens every window in sight, and he's a firm disbeliever in blankets or pajamas. This type of sleeping produces two results—the strong healthy he-man or the fellow whose constant companion is a box of kleenex for his cronic cold.

The hot-house plant is the opposite extreme. This guy turns on the radiator full blast before retiring, shuts the windows and stuffs rags in them so they won't leak. Every blanket in sight is on his bed and he wears wool pajamas in the middle of the summer. You'll usually find this fellow to be the hypochondriac who takes pills for every ailment and is afraid fresh air carries germs.

Those two types live happily—until the college authorities make them roommates! Retiring at night becomes a constant race to the window. Each tries to stay awake until the other falls asleep so he can control the situation for the rest of the night.

This makes for lots of exercise, but not much sleep. There never has been a fool-proof solution to the problem, so you've just wasted your time reading this when you could have been catching up on your 40 winks while your roommate was out.

Senate Officers & Their Duties Presented

Officers Duties Are Classified

Monday, the four top officers of the Juniata College Student Senate will be elected. Here is a run-down of their respective duties as listed in the Student Association Constitution of April 19, 1949:

● THE PRESIDENT: The main job of the Senate president is coordination. He must recognize the interests of the students, the administration and the faculty, and promote the best possible relationship between them all. In addition, he must preside at all meetings of the Senate, unless absent for good reason; appoint all committees; sound out student opinion for the Senate and the administration; and vote when necessary to break ties.

● THE VICE-PRESIDENT: The vice-president must be an organizer, for his duties are to organize student elections, plan Leadership Conferences, keep tabs on all club organizations, coordinate class activities, and administer the Foreign Students Aid Fund. He presides over the Senate in the absence of the president, and represents the classes on the Senate in those activities not under the jurisdiction of Senate chairmen.

● THE SECRETARY: Here is a job where shorthand and typing ability will come in handy, for the secretary must keep the minutes of all Senate meetings, write and type letters, send out Senate agendas before each meeting and write Leadership Conference resolutions in their final form (with the help of a committee).

● THE CENTRAL TREASURER: The only Senate officer who must be approved by the College president and the heads of the business department, as well as the only one who is bonded and paid for his work, is the central treasurer. This is because he handles funds for all campus clubs and organizations, in addition to Senate disbursements. He prepares the Senate budget and advises them on all financial moves. This job requires an interest in accounting and an understanding of debiting and crediting.

These four Senators, plus the eight chairmen, have a multitude of duties, the constitution reveals. Some of these are as follows:

Senate Duties

The Senate may grant and revoke charters of student organizations, determine student policies and programs, approve all appointments made by Senate chairmen, authorize all student fund-raising campaigns, conduct the annual Leadership Conference and appoint the student dining hall announcers.

This body is also required to elect one faculty member to serve as advisor and to hold three open meetings each semester of the school year.

Impeachment Possible

By 2/3 vote of the membership the Senate may impeach any member for neglect of duty or conduct detrimental to the Senate. However, the impeached Senator's name is automatically placed on the ballot in the special election to fill the vacated position. Senators automatically lose their position when placed on probation.

The Senate has all powers relating to student affairs which are not otherwise delegated by the faculty and administration to clubs or other organizations.

To be chosen March 19 are the Senate Chairmen. Their duties are listed in the Student Association Constitution as they appear below:

● CHAIRMAN OF ATHLETICS: The entire program of intramural sports is in the hands of the chairman of athletics. The Senate constitution says he must "formulate and carry out a comprehensive program of student sports activities."

Automatically, this chairman is the student representative on the Faculty Athletic Council, the only Senator to be so connected with a faculty committee in his field.

● CHAIRMAN OF UNDERCLASSMEN: Along with his two committees—one for each sex—the chairman of underclassmen is constitutionally responsible for the supervision of a "program of orientation for all new students."

If initiation programs are practiced, they are under the supervision of the underclass chairman. He is in charge of the student counseling program (big-brother, big-sister plan), with the advice of the dean of students and the underclassmen faculty advisor. In addition, he is "to aid in advising the freshmen in organizing their classes and class activities."

● CHAIRMAN OF MEN'S HOUSE: "It shall be the duty of the chairman of men's house, through his committee, to see that proper order and quiet in maintained in the dorms study hours, and to promote the maximum amount of cooperation in dormitory life." the Senate constitution says.

This chairman is associated with the men's house committee, which is made up of representatives of each of the men's dorms, appointed by the chairman, subject to Senate approval. The dean of students is also a member of this committee. Only the men students vote for the chairman.

● CHAIRMAN OF WOMEN'S HOUSE: Constitutionally, the chairman of women's house has duties similar to the chairman of men's house. She is elected by the women students only.

● CHAIRMAN OF GENERAL ACTIVITIES: Presidents of all authorized campus clubs form the committee on clubs with which the Senate chairman of general activities associates. It is the duty of this chairman and his committee to supervise All Class Night, May Day, the Christmas activities and Move-Up Day.

He assists faculty and administration committees in planning for Mountain Day, Homecoming Day and Parent's Day. General club activities also are under his care. The chairman of the student life calendar and he are co-chairmen of the calendar committee.

● CHAIRMAN OF PUBLICATIONS: Says the Senate constitution, "It shall be the duty of the chairman of publications to maintain high standards in student publication and to publicize the activities of the Senate." This is done through close association with the radio committee chairman and editors of the Juniatian, Alfarata and Scout.

His only active connection with any of these publications, however, is the constitutional requirement that he "recommend for appointment the editor, business manager and advertising manager of the Scout to the faculty publications committee by the beginning of the Spring term." These appointments are subject to Senate approval.

● CHAIRMAN OF RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES: Spiritual Emphasis Week is the biggest annual responsibility of the Senate chairman of religious activities. He plans and executes this in cooperation with the faculty chairman of religious activities.

In addition, this Senate chairman is required to "supervise all student religious activities on campus and to stimulate the spiritual life of the students." He is assisted by a committee of five students he appoints, subject to Senate approval.

● CHAIRMAN OF SOCIAL ACTIVITIES: Providing "a varied and adequate program of social activities for the student body" is the constitutional duty of the Senate chairman of social activities. Aiding him in the job is a committee composed of "not less than seven students, appointed by the chairman subject to Senate approval." He also serves on the calendar committee.

Warriors Trip Tribe For Second Time 83-70; Tom Green Has 18

The Warriors of Lycoming College fought off a late rally by the JC Indians to score a 83-70 victory last Saturday night in a game played in the new Memorial Gymnasium. The victors, led by Moe Mosher with 25 points, outscored the Tribe 43-27 in the second half.

Tom Green, senior captain, was high man for the Indians with 18 points to raise his season's total to 222 points. Green hit on his set shots and sparked the rally which burnt itself out in the final two minutes.

George Fortner's rebounding helped the Warriors to start many a fast break and he also came through with a timely 23 points to aid the visitor's scoring total. He played an outstanding game under the boards and his 6-4 height gave him a definite advantage over the smaller Indians.

The Warriors hit on 40.7 percent of the shots which is above average and they seemed to have little difficulty in controlling the sphere but managed to hit the hoops for 11 points.

Dave Pollock, going into the fray with a 15.4 average kept consistant with this as he hit for 15 counters. Off on his set shots, he managed to hit for only 7 out of 29. John Cook came through with timely shots and also had 15.

Two Juniata players reached the 100 mark for total points this season in the contest as Cook raised his total to 114 and Jack Dickey just reached the century mark, sprinkling the nets for nine points.

The victory gave the visitors a season's record of 15 wins against 6 losses while JC suffered its 12th defeat against 5 wins. Thus the Warriors swept the season's series winning the opening encounter 61-45 and then taking the return engagement 83-70.

Tom Green And Jack Dickey End Careers As Indian Cagesters

Seniors Tom Green and Jack Dickey played their final game for the Blue and Gold Wednesday night in the Tribe's 102-78 loss to Lebanon Valley. This fact was overshadowed by the brilliant performance of Dave Pollock. Nevertheless the fact remains that next season the Tribe will be without the services of these two fine ballplayers.

Capt. Green accounted for 14 points in his final outing and finished the campaign with a total of 236 points. Last season, the Burlington, New Jersey set shot artist hit for 167 points and once again was runnerup for high scoring honors. Tom is 5-10 and weighs 160 while being 21 years of age. He is expected to see action for Juniata on the diamond this spring.

Jack Dickey, this season, won his third basketball letter for the Blue and Gold. Jack is from Berlin, Pa., weighs 150 while standing 5-10. Jack is noted as the playmaker of the ball team and accounted for 103 points this season as compared with 38 last season. Dickey was a regular all of this season and played particularly well against Dickinson and in the return battle with the Blue Jays of Elizabethtown. Jack also expected to nail down a position on the Indian baseball squad this spring.

These two helped the Indians to a successful season, although the Tribe did not have a winning season they won the hearts of the fans and won five games for the first time since 1945. Tom Green and Jack Dickey will be remembered as two fine ball players whenever Juniata basketball is mentioned in the future.

IN FINALS—The Penn State Center of Altoona is currently in the finals of the Pennsylvania Junior College League. This team split its season series with the Juniata JV's during the 1951-52 campaign. The first encounter saw Altoona win 60-38, but in a return engagement, in a game played on College Hill, Juniata upset the league leaders 51-49.

Bill Burch, former Altoona High School star and high scoring ace of the Blue and White, led the Junior College League in scoring this season. Burch was high man in the Altoona defeat against the Little Indians with 22 points.

CORRECTION—After many inquiries, we would like to correct our error of last week's issue when we said that Lycoming College had defeated Geneva by a score of 73-56. This of course was wrong and it should have read, "Lycoming defeated Genesco, N. Y., by a 73-56 score.

TRIBE TOPICS—The Indians are headed for a new average per game scoring record this year in spite of a losing season. Entering the game Wednesday night against LV the Tribe was sporting a 61.6 average points scored per game. This shaped up as much better than last season's 56.5 average points per contest.

For the first time in five seasons, the Indians have had two men above the 200 point scoring total in one season. Dave Pollock and Tom Green, starting forwards are well ahead of this total.

The all-time point total for one Juniata game was established this season when the Indians defeated Dickinson 86-84, for a total of 170 points at the new Memorial Gym.

Little Indians Lose To LV Juniors 51-36

The Juniata Junior Varsity saw its final action Wednesday night with a 51-36 loss to the JV's of Lebanon Valley. LV led all of the way and was paced by Laur and Beebe who had 15 and 8 respectively. It was the 12th defeat for the Little Indians against 5 wins.

The game was climaxed by a "showtime" which was a la Harlem Globetrotters and which also brought down the house. This presentation by the Juniors of Lebanon Valley came in the final minutes of the game, which saw the visitors repeatedly break through the Indian defense for easy shots.

John Thomas led the Indians with 14 points and was followed by Joe Hinish with eight. The visitors had won 13 out of 17 prior to Wednesday night's contest and were as good a team as the JV's faced all season.

FS&C & Bridgers Meet In IM Playoff Contest

The Four Shots and A Chaser battled it out with the Bridgers last night for the 1951-52 Intramural Basketball Championship. The two squads ended the regular season in a tie and met last evening in the playoff game for the title. District Three squad were the second runnerups and were followed by the FM&M in fourth place.

The final week of the regular season saw the title race come down to the wire and FM&M after leading the race for the better part of the season lost their big opportunity to challenge the Bridgers for the title by dropping a 55-45 decision to the FS&C. Tom Sanders ran wild over FM&M by dropping in 25 points for high scoring honors. For the losers, Hooch Hoover and Dick Bowker each hit for 14.

Record Set

The Trojans beat the Sackhounds on a 2-0 forfeit. Ed Weirauch set a new season's scoring record as he dropped in 40 points to lead the Bridgers to a 97-41 triumph over the YHO's. Weirauch accounted for 20 field goals and thus broke Monk Simon's old record of 38 established earlier this season. Chuck Knox dropped 17 and Lundy Loschiavo had 16 for the winners.

District Three, third place holders, found easy going and slaughtered the Hunters 76-39. Dave Hackett hit the nets for 18 points and was followed closely by Nick Rocco with 15. District Three showed a high scoring attack all season and often was high in the 70's and 80's.

The Fubars nearly pulled a big upset against the Trojans but their late rally failed as they lost 34-31. Earl Dietrick kept the winners in it all the way with 12 points. Frank Jarett sparked the losers with eight.

The Rockets won another, this time via the forfeit route as they won a free one from the Coal Crackers. The same evening District Three paced by Dave Hackett with 26 points romped over the Globetrotters 83-45. The winners had three men in 20 point totals as Hackett was followed by Fred Hamor and Dave LeFevre with 25 and 22 points respectively.

The Wild Woodsmen won over the Fubars by the 2-0 forfeit score. The YHO's set the Fubars reeling with another defeat, this time by a 42-32 score. John Richman, last season's leading scorer, paced the winners with 15.

Motisher High

Bob Motisher paced the Globetrotters to a 48-45 win over the Rockets. Motisher once again was high man for the Trotters this time with 17 points. Gene Biddle was high for the Rockets with 15.

Next week's Intramural column shall present a final standing and if possible the high scorer for the season. Also next week a complete resume of the championship game and player sketches of the champs.

In the Volleyball League, last Thursday night the Neversweats beat the Globetrotters, the Sackhounds beat the Reformers 2-0, and the Slowpokes downed Ernie's All-Stars. In the only contest played last Friday evening, the Sackhounds once again posted a shut-out, this time pasting one on the Slowpokes, 2-0.

Tuesday night, the Trojans blasted the Bridgers 2-1, and the Neversweats shut-out Ernie's All-Stars 2-0.

Derry-Burnham Meets H-Burg In JC Gym This Tuesday Night

Although the Indians have ended their 1951-52 basketball campaign, the Memorial Gymnasium still has one more contest to offer the fans of Huntingdon. The major attraction is the District Six, Class A high school playoff game to be held in the Juniata Memorial Gymnasium Tuesday night, Mar. 11.

The contest features Hollidaysburg against Derry-Burnham. The former is the newly crowned champion of the Mountain League. They won this honor by downing Tyrone High School in a thrilling 45-44 contest played two weeks ago on the Huntingdon High School floor.

The contest should bring a large crowd to College Hill and it has been announced that additional bleachers will be erected if needed for the championship tilt. College students will not be admitted to the game on activity cards but must pay admission to the contest.

Dave Pollock

• Sets Record •

Pollock Set Records During Past Season

As Dave Pollock truged wearily but happily off of the Memorial Gymnasium floor Wednesday night, he left with a hand full of Juniata records to his credit. Pollock shattered almost every individual scoring record in the Blue and Gold history.

A total of 43 points in a single contest broke the previous mark of 42 set by Dick Wareham against Elizabethtown on Dec. 16, 1944. Dave also exceeded the individual high total for a game in the new Memorial Gymnasium as he shattered the mark of 34 set by Capt. Gerry Potts of Albright which was set earlier this season.

Other marks to fall included the total for individual field goals scored in a single contest as Pollock hit the nets for 20. This broke the former record of 13 held by Bill Stark of Dickinson and Potts of Albright.

Dave finished the season with a grand total of 304 points and a 16.9 average per contest. This fell short of Karl Park's record of 18.5 which was set just last season. Pollock, however, now ranks as the third all-time Juniata scorer for one season. Pollock racked up his 304 points on 137 field goals and 30 fouls in his first season for the Tribe.

JIM BOULTON, JV regular and varsity reserve, who hit for 11 points against the Lycoming Junior Varsity last Saturday night. Boulton is a freshman and hails from Burlington, N. J. which is also the home of Indian Capt. Tom Green. Jim was captain of Burlington High's team last season and stands 5-11, while weighing 145. He has seen limited action in the varsity scraps but is counted on as a likely prospect for next season.

Lycoming JV's Defeat Little Indians 40-38

Bill Smaltz' Little Indians suffered their 11th loss of the season last Saturday night when they dropped a hard fought 40-37 decision to the JV's of Lycoming. The Juniata JV's have won five so far this season.

The visitors put on a late rally to catch the Tribe at 33-33. After that point Juniata fought desperately to regain the lead but the try was futile. This marked the fifth time in the past six games that the Little Indians have had a halftime lead only to lose the contest late in the second half.

Set shot artist Jim Boulton led the Tribe with 11 points. Most of these came in the first half when Boulton found the range against the zone defense employed by the visitors. Joe Hinish hit the cords for nine important points and Rem Grove plyaing fine ball both offensively and also on defense, swished in eight more for Juniata. Others to hit the scoring column were George Pote with five, John Thomas and Don Targan with two apiece.

Lycoming Junior Varsity had a previous victory over the Little Indians 46-29 in the opening game of the season. This time however, Juniata was without the services of high scoring Glen Burket, who was out of the fray due to a leg injury.

Pollock Smashes Scoring Records With 43 Points

The sharp shooting Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley were the first team to hit the century mark in the new Memorial Gymnasium Wednesday night as they downed the Indians 102-78. But, the big news was Dave Pollock, the freshman set shot artist, who broke a handful of Juniata records as he blasted the hoops for 43 points. Playing his best ball of the season in the final game of the campaign, Pollock surpassed the all-time high game mark of 42 points set by Dick Wareham against Elizabethtown on December 16, 1944.

Tribe Wins 5th; Downs Susquehanna 72-56; Top Last Year's Mark

The Juniata Indians led by Tom Green and Ed Feldkircher with 16 points apiece captured their fifth victory of the season last Wednesday night by downing Susquehanna 72-56. The game was played at Selinsgrove and saw the men of Coach Greene jump into an early lead which they never relinquished.

This marked the first season since the 1945-46 campaign that Juniata has won five games in one season. The low ebb was in the 1946-47 season when the Tribe had a 2-15 record. In succeeding years the records read 4-17, 4-14, 4-13 and last year 4-12.

The Indians had a 21-12 lead at the quarter and although outscored by Susquehanna in the second stanza, managed to lead at halftime 30-24. The third quarter reading of the scoreboard was 47-40, but the Tribe outscored the home team 25-16 in the final quarter to walk off the floor with a decisive victory.

Dave Pollock followed Green and Feldkircher with 13 and was in turn followed by John Cook who managed to account for 12. High scoring honors for the game however went to Charlie Zlock of the Crusaders who pounded the cords for 19 points.

The victory was the second over the Crusaders this season as the Tribe defeated them 72-41 earlier this year. It also was the second road victory this season, the previous being the 50-48 triumph over Shippensburg State Teachers. The Junior Varsity did not make the trip.

The Indians made a battle of it during the first half, but it was quite evident after the intermission that the visitors were in the lead to stay. It was the final game in the collegian careers of Capt. Tom Green, who had 14 points, and Jack Dickey, who was able to gather only 3.

Albright and Geneva were the other teams to come near the century mark but they could only gather 95 and 94 respectively. The Dutchmen took their time to get a good shot to hit the 100 mark and a one handed stab by Bob Bowman netted the highly cheered two pointer.

Pollock had a field day as he was hot on his shots throughout the game and particularly in the second quarter when he kept the Tribe within striking distance of the visitors. It was the first doubted whether or not he could reach the gym record of 34 set by Gerry Potts of Albright, then after he hit his 36th point, some "uneasy" ball handling by the Dutchmen set up the necessary opportunities for Pollock to establish a new record.

Dave Bayer enjoyed his best night of the season also as he banged in nine points. He was closely followed by John Cook with 6. Bayer played heads up ball and was "robbed" on some beautiful shots which refused to go in.

Coach Greene used the entire bench in the final outing and the Indians definitely set up Pollock on many an opportunity as the contest drew to a close. But Pollock's deadly outside shooting was not to be denied.

This climaxed a great season for the Berwick, Pa. freshman who lead the Tribe in total points scored for the 1951-52 campaign with 304.

For the visitors Lou Sorrentino, of football fame, was high scorer with 22 points. Sorrentino was followed by high scoring ace, Howie Landa, who hit for 19. The visitors displayed great sportmanship throughout the contest and especially at the end when Pollock broke the record.

Community Concerts To Be Monday

'Little Orchestra' Of N. Y. To Be Featured

The Huntingdon Community Concert Association will present on Monday evening, March 10, "The Little Orchestra Society" in Oller Hall at 8:15. This is the third in a series of concerts presented here by the association this year.

The Little Orchestra plays music especially written for small orchestras by Bach, Mozart, Haydn, Handel, Beethoven and other masters.

Music Seldom Heard

A great portion of this music has seldom been heard by American audiences simply because it has never become established in the repertoire of the large symphony orchestras.

Inspired by this idea, Thomas Scherman, veteran of the last war, founded the Little Orchestra Society. The enemble contains exactly the same instruments as a large modern orchestra. However, it is about one third the size, having only 30 musicians. Thus, it plays not "arrangements", but works originally composed for an orchestra of this size.

Public Sees Rehearsals

The program to be presented here includes the Brandnburg Concerto No. 5, in D Major, by Bach, the Septet in E flat by Beethoven, Variations on a Theme of Tschaisovsky for Strings by Anton S. Arensky, Dammer music for Small Orchestra by Hindemith and Carnival of Animals by Camille Saint-Sanes.

It is said that the "Little Orchestra" became so popular in New York that the public actually pays to attend its dress rehearsals.

THE LITTLE ORCHESTRA SOCIETY of New York, conducted by Thomas Scherman, will be on campus Monday as part of the Community Concert Series. It is the third of a series presented by the Huntingdon Community Concert Association.

Team Has 4-4 Tourney Record

by Bob Bailey

At the state debating tournament last weekend the Juniata Debate Club compiled a total record of 4 victories and 4 defeats. Two of the team's losses were the result of forfeitures as snow blocked the roads and the debaters were unable to get to two of their debates.

Of the six actual debates Juniata's affirmative team, consisting of Charlie Kipp and Ron Cherry, won 3 and lost none, while the negative team, consisting of Jo Pentz and Galen Frysinger, won one and lost 2. The affirmative beat Swarthmore, Cedar Crest and Seton Hill; the negative beat Geneva and lost to the University of Pennsylvania and Allegheny.

Next Thursday at 7 p. m. the Masque will hold a very short business meeting.

The JCA will hold its regular meeting next Tuesday at 7:15 p. m. in Founders Chapel.

Romeo —

"Mercutio deals in high comedy —that is, he uses his clever wit to comment on the various situations and thereby attain humor," Miss Longwell says.

"On the other hand, Shakespeare has made the nurse an unwitting master of low comedy. She is a very common sort of person, vulgar, illiterate, talkative, who is funny without trying to be."

Cast Varied

Several other interesting aspects of the Masque production have been pointed out by various cast members.

As Romeo, Norris kills his older brother, Phil, who plays Juliet's cousin Tybalt.

And there are four minister's sons in the tragedy, two of whom portray friars. They are Wilfred Norris, Romeo; Hobart Heistand, Friar Laurence; Phil Kulp, Friar John; and Rolland Taylor, Paris.

Second Career Conference Weekend Begins Tomorrow

This week-end will see another sub-freshman career conference here on Juniata's campus under the new plan, whereby any sub-freshmen may visit regardless of course preference. This means, however, that someone from each department will have to be on duty each Saturday afternoon.

Conferences with the departmental faculty members will be held according to the following locations between 3:00 and 4:00 p. m.:

Arts and Literature, I. H. B. House; Business Administration, Room D; Education, Room C; Home Economics, Home Economics Building; Music, Swigart Hall; Science, Science Hall; Social Studies, Founders Chapel.

The schedule for the week-end begins with registration in the Social Rooms. Until dinner the sub-freshmen may visit classes. After dinner there will be a General Assembly in Swigart Hall at which Dean Mays or someone from the faculty will give a talk on the character of Juniata. Following this, there will be campus tours until time for the departmental conferences. Before supper a reception in the Social Rooms is scheduled. The guests are invited to see "Romeo and Juliet" in the evening.

Students from a wide range of high schools are expected to be on campus this week-end.

J C A Entertains Mission Speaker

John Moss, traveling for the Student Volunteer Movement, will be the guest of the College Tuesday evening.

A student of Yale Divinity School, Mr. Moss will speak to the JCA on the problem of Christian Missions around the world.

He recently returned from three years in Japan where he helped organize the Student Christian Fellowship in Tokyo University. He taught in the Union Theological Seminary in Tokyo, spent his summers in International Work Camps, and has visited churches in Thailand, Iraq, Egypt, and Europe.

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, Mr. Moss also attended Edinburgh College.

3 Dinners Set For J C Alumni

Three annual alumni dinners are scheduled for next week, two Friday, one Saturday.

Pres. Calvert Ellis will speak at an alumni dinner next Friday at Bethany Seminary, Chicago. The dinner is for the association's honorary president, Prof. William Beery, '82, who will celebrate his one hundredth birthday April 8.

Also set for Friday is a dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh association. The speaker will be Harry Struhldreher, one of Notre Dame's famed Four Horsemen in the 1924 football team.

Next Saturday Pres. Ellis is to speak at another alumni dinner in New York City.

Eastern Choir Tour A Success, Members State

by J. Shanabrook & M. Smith

In spite of snow and stormy weather the 26 member JC touring choir and a six piece instrumental ensemble climbed aboard a Pioneer Trail bus March 1 and were off on a long awaited choir trip. This year the choir went east, and traveled through Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey.

First stop of the tour was made in the Coventry Church of the Brethren in Pottstown. After the concert the choir was entertained in different homes, as was the custom throughout the trip. An early start was made Sunday morning in order to meet three concert engagements at Philadelphia, Carney's Point and Haddon Heights.

JC Grads Met

A spirit of homeliness was added to the engagements by the presence of Juniata graduates at each.

Monday began with an appearance of the choir at Penn's Grove high school near Carney's Point. During each day of the trip appearances were made in high schools, with the exception of a radio broadcast in York. That evening the choir sang in the Oak Park church in West Philadelphia.

And so the week continued—into the bus, on to another locale, a concert, making new acquaintances, and on to the next day in much the same way. There was no monotony, however, with Rev. Eek Bowser acting as self appointed good humor man with Ray McHenry as his side-kick. Before the trip was long underway they had made a big hit with a special arrangement of "I Don't Know Why."

Rohm Careful Driver

In addition to Max Rohm's careful driving, we had two co-operators along with us. Their duties were not specific, but they showed great ability at tightening screws and calling out miles to our destination.

Ben Newcomer did a fine job of confusing a girl who was helping with dinner at one of the churches . . . When asked, "Coffee or tea," Ben replied, "Yes, please." We discovered two things on the trip. Ronnie Harpster has a beaming smile and Eek has trouble with horses when trying to bathe.

The trip was most successful musically, spiritually and socially. To Prof. Donald Johnson we owe a debt of thanks, for he helped to make it so.

JWSF Campaign Goes Over Top With New Funds

The Juniata World Service Fund Drive has gone over its $1952 goal, according to Ray Siren, general chairman.

The total cash collected was $1985.87. However this includes the proceeds from Naughty Marietta and the money saved on desserts.

The student body fell short of its goal of $1100 since it contributed only $537.50. $100 dollars in pledges must still be collected from the students.

The only group going over its goal was the faculty who gave $170.50, of a goal set at $162. The administration met $108 of an expected $150, while the organizations and clubs donated $333 of their $350 goal.

Friends of the college sent $95 to the drive out of a possible $190.

Siren was satisfied with the progress of the drive, but emphasizes that without the money from the operetta and dining hall, the goal would not have been met.

He feels that the traditional goal is too high because of the decreasing student body.

The $1985 will be divided among four organizations; Foreign Student Aid, The World Student Service Fund, the Christian University of Tokyo, and two brethren missionaries, Paul Hoover and H. W. Kulp.

Sollenberger Will Not Run Again

D. Raymond Sollenberger, acting dean of men here two years ago and at present a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in Harrisburg, will not be a candidate for re-election this year, according to a recent announcement.

He plans to enter the teaching profession, preferably in college. Juniata has not been mentioned as a possible location, though Sollenberger is a 1925 graduate from here.

In addition to his legislative duties, Sollenberger is an instructor at Williamsburg High School and carries a half-time teaching load in evening classes for Pennsylvania State College.

In the state assembly, the former dean is serving as chairman of the committee on education. He is also a member of these committees: appropriations, banking and building and loan associations, cities and counties—second class, counties and state government.

Candidates Enter Race For Senate Positions

Eighteen candidates have entered the race for Senate chairmanships. Elections will be held Wednesday. In the running for Chairman of Athletics is Bob Asan. From Sewickly, he was elected to the same position on the Senate in last year's chairmanship balloting.

He has been Juniatian sports editor, baseball manager, a member of the J Club, outing club, and active in intramural athletics. He is concentrating in business administration.

Ray Allen Hoover, from Hollidaysburg, has been active in intramural athletics for two years. He is a member of the JCA, FTA and is majoring in biology. He intends to be a teacher.

Opposing Asan and Hoover is Charlie Towns. From Pittsburgh, Towns has taken part in intramural football, baseball and basketball, and has been a member of the Freshman Committee. Concentrating in Business, Towns plans to enter personnel work.

Underclassmen

Four candidates are in the running for the position of Chairman of Underclassmen. Wes Diemer, coming to Juniata from Royersford, has been in the band, orchestra, A Cappella and Chapel Choirs. Active in intramural athletics, he is a music major and intends to enter the field of music education.

Frank Jarrett, from Huntingdon Valley, is also campaigning for this position.

Leo Kuhn is from Hollidaysburg and has been active in track and varsity basketball. He is concentrating in history and he plans to teach.

The fourth candidate for Chairman of Underclassmen is Jody Siemon. From Greensburg, she has belonged to the A Cappella Choir, Alpha Beta Gamma, WAA and has been active in All Class Night. An elementary education major, she plans to teach.

Men's House

Running for the post of Chairman of Men's House is Dave Bayer of Woodbury, N. J. He is a member of the J Club, has participated in varsity basketball and golf, and has been active in intramurals. Concentrating in math, Bayer plans to become an actuary.

Opposing Bayer is Paul Good of Youngstown, Ohio. Good is a member of the Juniatian staff and has belonged to the JCA, Masque, Outing Club, Orchestra, and Tycoon Club. He was business manager of the Tomahawk and is lighting technician in Oller Hall. Good is majoring in business.

Women's House

Ginny Yohn comes from New Windsor, Md. and is in the running for Chairman of Woman's House. She has been president of the WAA, and is a member of the Chapel Choir and Alpha Beta Gamma. She has belonged to the JCA, and has been a member of the Women's House Committee for two years. Her major is elementary education.

General Activities

Phyl Link, from Johnstown, is a candidate for General Activities Chairman. She has been active in the Masque, Women's House Committee and FTA and has been on the Juniatian staff. An English major, she plans to teach.

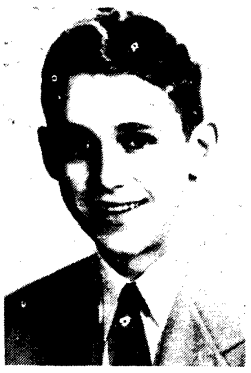
Wagoner Wins; New Sen. Prexy



Bob Wagoner

● New Senate President ●

At the elections held Monday and Tuesday for major Senate offices Bob Wagoner, Jack Ulsh, Dott Taylor and Ted McGwire were elected to head the group for the coming term.

A comparatively small crowd of about 370 turned out Monday to sweep Taylor and McGwire into office as secretary and treasurer respectively, but no candidate for either president or vice president received the necessary absolute majority required for election.

Run-off voting for the presidency took place Tuesday between Paul Good and Wagoner, with Wagoner capturing the victory. At the same time, Jack Ulsh defeated Don Bracken for the vice presidential chair.

At Tuesday's election only about 400 voters came to the polls. Percentages of eligible voters participating in the election were well below last year's figure.

Marches, Trio On Juniata Radio Shows This Week

Turntable Terrace this Tuesday will survey march music from Wagner to Sousa, with Jerome Kern and Frank Loesser thrown in for good measure. The show, scripted by Jim Streiner, will be presented by Judy Shanabrook and Carrie Lou Greene.

The girls' Varsity Trio composed of Jo Chiodi, Rhoda Clemmer, and Helen Rosengren will present a half hour program of semi-classical music on Juniata-on-the-Air this coming Thursday, March 20.

A REVIEW

First Evening Performance Of Masque Play Is Tonight

By JIM STREINER

"We must have done all right," said one member of the "Romeo and Juliet" cast yesterday afternoon in the post-mortem discussion following the matinee performance.

"We held the interest of more than 300 high school kids . . . and I'll bet a lot of them came here not liking Shakespeare because they've been required to read his stuff."

This performance was the first before an audience for the cast and was witnessed by students from Warriors Mark, Mt. Union, Tyrone, Saltillo and Huntingdon high schools.

One problem to be worked out yet is clarity and distinctness of speech. One entire scene and parts of others were lost yesterday because actors forgot a crowd creates the need for more vocal volume. Miss Esther M. Doyle, who is directing the tragedy for the Masque, expects to have this difficulty ironed out by tonight's performance at 8:15 in Oller Hall.

One warning to audiences. Watch out for this guy Mercutio (Ray Siren). He's a wise one who always has a fast answer ready when a bull session is in progress. If you're not careful you'll begin to like him, and then find yourself feeling sorry when he's run through with a sword early in the play.

His death is the result of a fued between the Montague and Capulet families, the same fued which stymies the love affair of Romeo (Wilfred Norris). He's a Monta, gue, Juliet (Nancy Newman) is a Capulet, and according to the rule books the twain are never supposed to meet.

As a matter of fact, they never do get together except long enough to marry. Shakespeare stacked the deck against them from the very beginning, because in the prologue he makes them "star-crossed lovers." According to the philosophy of the late 1500's (when the play was written), if the stars weren't on your side, you mighty as well hang up and call it quits.

Romeo cuts down Juliet's cousin Tybalt (Phil Norris) to revenge Mercutio's death, and is banished from Verona. Juliet, ordered to marry Prince Paris (Rolland Taylor) by father Capulet (Bill Patterson) and her mother (Janet Boland), runs to Friar Laurence (Hoby Heistand) for advice.

The Friar arranges a pseudo-death for her with drugs and she is buried, but the wires get crossed when he tries to let Romeo in on the secret. Not knowing that Juliet can be revived, Romeo kills Paris and himself at Juliet's tombside. Juliet, seeing no future without her husband, follows soon after.

As Shakespeare says, "Never was a story of more woe, than this of Juliet and Romeo."

NAM Scholarship Open To Students

The National Association of Manufacturers will award a $1,200 scholarship to a sophomore student who is preparing to be a teacher.

To inaugurate the program, two scholarships will be awarded this year, one honoring the recently retired president, William Ruffin, and the other named for the 1952 president William Grede.

The association's purpose in offering the scholarship was "to stimulate our 17,000 members and business generally to set up many more scholarships for deserving young people."

Women and men are equally eligible and the only requirements are that the candidates be American citizens who plan to enter the teaching profession, and are doing satisfactory work as second-year students in institutions offering bachelor's degrees in education. Nominations are to be made by college presidents before April 1.

Election Rules Proposed

What about these elections?

Almost everybody has an opinion about them. Were they as unsavory as many are trying to make out, or were they the epitomy of perfection without any questionable issues? What was the cause of the apparent ill will that now seems to be rearing its head? Let us see.

Charges and counter-charges are being hurled, but few publicized steps are being taken to straighten out the tangle. Nevertheless, Senate President Art Allen and a number of interested students have made efforts to resolve the existing conflict. Perhaps it would be well to clarify student opinion. Let us examine the issues in controversy from the point of view of the two armed camps which have been established in the last few days.

One group, composed principally of the Senate, and particularly of the elections committee, points out that there is little valid basis for objecting to any aspect of the election, if only because of the fact that the constitution is hazy on many matters. Indeed, it is said that panzer tactics are necessary to get out the 2/3 vote that the constitution calls for.

The opposition believes that if certain of the practices that went on in the campaign are not unconstitutional, they are certainly unethical. They believe they of rights should be unconstitutional. Major points of controversy are certain alleged unethical procedures at the polls, the policy of withholding numerical results of the election, and the immediate destruction of the ballots.

These are the major grounds on which the election is being questioned. Now, the point arises, are these legitimate bases upon which to attack the election in general? The answer is not difficult. They may be sufficient to brand the Senate handling of the affair as poor and without foresight, but unless we accuse the Senate of out-and-out bad faith there seems to be no real reason to attack the election procedure with regard to its honesty.

It cannot be disregarded that

Marines, Sailors Invade Theatres

by Frank Harlacher

RETREAT HELL!—I sort of get tired of writing about war pictures, even seeing them, but then there's a war on they tell me. There's not much to say about this one that hasn't been said about others. Its action, suffering and dying are in typical realistic film style.

Harlacher

This one tells of the 1st Marine Division in Korea, their outnumbered situation, their heroism and their bloody retreat to the sea.

Frank Lovejoy is the principal as the Marine commander. The script covers the usual: training, goodbyes and combat. Photography is supplemented by some excellent newsreel inserts of planes diving and Chinese attacking. Clifton Theatre

SAILOR BEWARE—Good for laughs but leaning on their reputation are Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis in their latest. Jerry, as usual, carries most of the laughload. As to his being a comedian, we have no disputes, but when screen-writers have good material they have a tendency to relax the pen.

This seems to be the case in "Sailor Beware." Slapstick drags as only slapstick can and situations sometimes become too involved for the solutions. Grand Theatre

Elect An Experienced Man; Com. Urges 'Vote For Asan'

"Experience Qaulifies" is the slogan for Bob Asan's campaign for Chairman of Athletics.

Bob was forced to resign from that office this fall.

Many intramural sports have attracted him. Bowling, softball, basketball and vollyball teams have profited by his services.

Valuable assistance to Coach Smaltz's baseball squad have earned Bob a golden J. As a former sports editor of The Juniatian, he has gone on to edit The Tomahawk, and has recently been appointed editor of The Indian.

Bob still proposes the campaign winning platform of last year. Recognition of intramural champions and expansion of sports as much as possible.

Here is your candidate, Bob Asan, whose aggressive spirit will spotlight the unsung intramural athlete.

Bridgers Win IM Title By Downing FS & C; Sanders Top Scorer

The Bridgers are the newly crowned champions of the Intramural Basketball League. They won this honor by defeating the FS&C in a playoff game last Thursday night by a 34-26 count. The champions ended the regular season in a deadlock with FS&C and thus the playoff game was necessary.

The sharp shooting of Lundy Loschiavo in the second half sent the winners into a lead which they never relenquished. With the score deadlocked at 24 all, Loschiavo began to hit and the Bridgers ran up 10 straight points to put the contest on ice.

Loschiavo High

Loschiavo led the Bridgers with 16 points and was followed in the scoring department by teammates Chuck Knox with 7, and Paul Hepak and Red Mummah wth four apiece. Ed Weirauch rounded out the Bridgers' scoring with 3 counters.

Tom "Hoagy" Sanders and Charlie "Bud" Mills were high for the losers with eigh apiece. Mill's rebound work along with Bill Winans, who also played the boards in fine fashion, helped the the FS&C maintain a 14-11 halftime lead.

Sanders Leads

The Indians under Coach Greene played their first season in the new Juniata Memorial Gymnasium. The Tribe won five games this season, for the first year since 1945.

Captain Tom Green and Jack Dickey, both seniors, played their final games for the Blue and Gold this year. As regular starters they helped Doc Greene sell the fans on the coach's new offense. Greene emphasized the fast-break to make up for the Indian's lack of height.

Next season the Tribe will lose only two men via graduation when Dave Bayer and Leo Kuhn step into the ranks of seniors. With four sophomores and three freshmen gaining experience this past season, th Indians are expected to put an improved team on the floor next year.

Indian Golfers Open April 8; Face Pittsburgh

The linksters of Juniata College will defend two tournament championships and compete in eight dual matches during its 1952 schedule beginning on April 8. The Blue and Gold face Pitt in the opening match of the season in an away contest on the previously mentioned date.

Dr. Ed Kiracofe's golfers will engage in three home and five away contests. Heading the schedule will be the third annual Juniata College Invitational Tournament to be held at the American Legion Country Club near Mount Union.

The Indian teeman carry a record of 36 wins, 4 losses, and one tie into the 1952 season. This is Juniata's best record in intercollegiate sports. The Indians won both the Western Maryland and Juniata College tournament last year, and have never been beaten on their home course in five years.

The 1952 schedule includes: April 8, Pittsburgh (Away); April 23, Dickinson (Home); April 25, Gettysburg (Away); May 2, Bucknell (Home); May 5, Dickinson (Away); May 9, Johns Hopkins (Home); May 10, Juniata Invitation (Mt. Union); May 12, Albright (Away); May 13, Franklin and Marshall (Away); May 17, Western Maryland Invitation (Westminster, Maryland).

Juniata Tossers Begin Informal Practices

Coach Bill Smaltz's 1952 edition of the Indian tossers have begun informal workouts indoors, in the new Memorial Gymnasium. The Tribe sluggers have been taking advantage of the new constructed batting cage in the gym and are sharpening their eyes against actual pitching.

Battery practice is also being held on informal basis and the squad is expected to move into ful scale outdoor workouts within the next few days, depending on old man weather. The season opens on April 8 when Juniata faces Albright in a road tilt.

Baseball Candidates Called

Baseball candidates are requested to make an appearance in the Memorial Gymnasium any week day afternoon at 3 p. m.

Informal practice is being held until the weather breaks and outdoor practices are slated. Batting practice, pepper games and battery practice are included in the current events.

Pollock & Green Led Tribe Scoring During 1951-52

With the official statistics for the Tribe's 1951-52 basketball season released we present to you a summary of just how the Blue and Gold fared in the past season. The Indians chalked up five wins on the scoreboard against 12 losses, the first time since 1945 that they have won over four games in one season.

The Tribe set a new Juniata record with an average of 62.5 points scored per game. Dave Pollock also set a College Hill record by swishing 20 field goals in one game and also a new high for a single contest with 43 points against Lebanon Valley.

Two team records were set during the 1951-52 campaign, as Lebanon Valley marked a new point total by opponents with 102 in one contest. This same contest set the Juniata record for most points scored in a single game by both teams, 180.

Pollock Leads Scoring

Dave Pollock, Berwick, Pa. freshman, led the Indians in scoring during the past season with 304 points. Pollock also was low man among the regulars for personal fouls with 30. Dave accounted for 137 field goals and swished 30 out of 45 foul tries to conclude the campaign with a 16.9 average. His best performance of the season came against LV when he hit the nets for 43 points.

Tom Green, senior captain from Burlington, N. J., was second in the scoring department with 236 points. Tom's favorite set shot from the corner helped him rack up 85 field goals and this along with 66 out of 87 foul tries gained him a 13.1 average.

Ed Feldkircher, hailing from Bromall, in his second season for the Indians accounted for 128 points for a 7.1 average. This 6-2 center committed 52 personals while appearing in 18 contests. Ed is 21 years old and weighs 170 pounds.

Cook Jump Artist

John Cook, while appearing in only 17 games, tied Feldkircher with a 7.1 average as he gathered 120 points. "Cookie" is from Greensburg and finished the season playing his best ball in his second year for the Tribe. The left-handed jump shot artist hit for 50 field goals and 20 out of 45 fouls.

Jack Dickey, senior from Berlin, played his third season for the Blue and Gold and averaged 5.7 points per game. The total for the season read 103 points for Jack. Dickey committed 53 personals, only one under the team leaders in this department.

Leo Kuhn, 6-1, 175 pounds, from Hollidaysburg, along with Capt. Green led the Indians in most personals committed with 54. Kuhn in his junior season had 93 points on 34 field goals and 25 fouls. Kuhn is expected to be an important cog in the Blue and Gold squad next season.

Fran Zimmerman, 5-9 guard hailing from Annville, was next in the scoring column with 61 counters. "Zimmie" another of Coach Greene's sophomores committed 48 personals while swishing 13 out of 28 from the 15 foot mark.

Bayer Future Material

Dave Bayer, 6-4 junior from Woodbury, N. J., saw limited action in his third year for the Tribe but hit the cords for 40 points. Bayer accounted for 13 field goals and 14 foul shots made good out of 27 attempts. Dave is another who is expected to strengthen the Tribe during his senior year.

Herb Law, freshman center from Lilly, saw action for both the varsity and JV's this season. The 6-4 center managed to account for 22 points on 10 goals from the field and two out of nine foul tosses. Law saw considerably more and more action as the season progressed and his height should give Coach Greene something to build upon next season.

Score 1,126 Points

Jim Boulton, freshman forward from Burlington, N. J., along with Law played for both Juniata squads this season and with the varsity he accounted for only five points on two field goals and one out of three foul attempts. Boulton is expected to see more action next season after picking up experience with the team during the 1951-52 campaign.

The Indians as a team accounted for 1,126 points during the season against 1,350 for their opponents. At the foul line they converted 232 out of 408 tries for a 57% average. This was considerably lower compared to the 65% rating of the opponents.

Individual highs for the season went to Dave Pollock for the most points in one contest, 43, to Leo Kuhn for the most free throws good in a game, 10, and again to Pollock for the most field goals in one game, 20.

Masque Produces One Act Plays In English Settings

The Masque is currently the producer of two touring plays both of which are one act comedies set in England. The plays are "Box ond Cox" and "The man in the Boler Hat".

"Box and Cox", which has already been presented at Mount Union High School and at a Lion's Club meeting, is the story of two English gentlemen. Box, played by Chuck Barklow, and Cox, played by Bob Champion.

Double-Duty Room

One of the these men works during the day and sleeps during the night. The other works during the night and sleeps in the same room during the day. Neither gentlemen knows the room is being occupied by the other and they both pay rent to the ingenious and thrifty landlady Mrs. Bouncer, played by Ellie Formwalt.

The director of the play is John Long who reports that the comedy was "enthusiastically received at both presentations."

Phyllis Link Directs

The second play, "Man in the 'Bowler Hat'", is still being rehearsed, but director Phyllis Link asserts that it will be ready for production at a Masque meeting a few weeks hence. This play is set in an ordinary English home inhabited by ordinary English people, with ordinary English names—John (Bob Gottlieb) and Mary (Carol Shoemaker)—who talk about ordinary English subjects until some rather extra-ordinary things begin to happen.

A strange man (Bob Bailey) attired in a "Bowler Hat" enters, walks across the living room, and seats himself nonchalontly in a chair.

Bewildering Events

Then a quick secession and much to the bewilderment of John and Mary, a heroic hero (Richard Godshall), a virtuous heroinne (Ginny Masemer), a villianous villian (Don Sikes) and a not-quite-so-villianous bad-man (Ron Cherry) dash in and dash out in a desperate search for the Rajah's Ruby.

Though it looks dark for our Hero at times, this reporter is happy to report that virtue triumphs and all is well.

Open Senate Meeting Set

An open Senate meeting has been called for Monday evening at 7:00 p. m. Possible revision of the section of the Senate Constitution pertaining to elections will be discussed, as well as any other business which might come up.

the Senate, as such did not violate a single constitutional provision. In the main, they followed established precedent, with the unfortunate exception of immediately burning the ballots.

It does not seem possible that anyone, no matter what their affiliation or emotional leaning, desires to see this situation repeated. Much of the argument against the conduct of the election was based on what was thought to be violations of ethical practice rather than breaking of the constitution. The only way to effectively block the recurrence of a similar situation is to incorporate prohibitions against "unethical practices" into the constitution itself.

After a study of the current situation was made, it became apparent that most student complaints center around four points of dissention. The following four resolutions, if adopted, should satisfactorily eliminate these conflicts from any election difficulties that might appear in the future. Suggested constitutional incorporations designed to keep a situation such as this from again taking place are:

- Resolved, that there shall be nothing which may be construed as promotion or discrediting of a candidate within sight of the polls.
- Resolved, that any candidate for election to a Senate post shall have the privilege of establishing one watcher at the polls to protect his interest. Said watcher may not electioneer in any way.
- Resolved, that the exact number of votes cast for each candidate be made public at the same time and in the same manner as the results of the election are made public.
- Resolved, that all ballots shall be held for at least two weeks by the Senate faculty advisor. Should any legitimate question arise concerning the count or the methods of obtaining it, the Senate elections committee shall appoint a three man committee to recount the ballots. Said committee shall not include any member of the original counting committee. Legitimate question shall be defined as any charge which is so designated by the Senate president and the Senate faculty advisor after a hearing to determine the facts.

Sammy Kaye, Orchestra To Be Here In Hospital Charity Ball

Sammy Kaye and his orchestra will be on campus on Wednesday, April 30.

News of the "Swing and Sway" aggregation's appearance here comes from John B. Brown, chairman of the Third Annual J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital Charity Ball. Mr. Brown has announced that the above date is official and the contract has been signed.

The price for the ball has been set at $2.50 a person and will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium.

Features TV Line-Up

This price, however, is not paid just to dance to the music of the popular orchestra. It also includes 1½ hours of additional entertainment.

Kaye will present his regular television show line-up featuring singer Barbara Benson, drummer Ernie Rudisill, 350-pound sax-man Chubby Silvers, the Kaydets and the Kaye Choir.

The "Swing and Sway" troupe comes here directly from a scheduled tour in Florida and other southern states.

3500 People Expected

Sammy is a native of Cleveland, Ohio, where a low-hurdle state championship won him a scholarship to Ohio University. He turned to music as an additional means of financing his education, and before he knew it he was a succesful orchestra leader.

Eleven clubs of Huntingdon County are combining to bring the 42 year-old maestro and his group to the Charity Ball. They are expecting the entertainment to draw some 3500 people.

He employs the help of a knight named Fuddy Duddy, who speaks in rhymes, and a hot-rod driver named Fol-de-Rol, and together the three set forth into the magic forest to see "what gives" with the postal system. For the results tune in and listen.

Tuesday's Turntable Terrace will also be scripted by Jim Streiner. The program featuring a fairy story in music with themes from the fantasy movie, "Alice in Wonderland," and the musical comedy, "Brigadoon" will be read by Judy Shanabrook and Carrie Lou Greene.

Thursday's Turntable Terrace will be popular music presented by Marj Alleman.

If the campus quota is not reached town's people will be brought in to fill the 210 requirement. It was hoped, however, that the students can meet their own quota. Most of the difficulty has arisen from refusal of parents to sign applications.

Appointments for those already signed up will be posted by Monday, March 24. The Bloodmobile is scheduled to visit campus Thursday, March 27.

The recent removal of trees from the campus is, according to Paul Friend, business manager, "part of an overall campus-relandscaping plan." Details of this plan will be released at a later date.

New Senators Chosen; Class Officers Named

Elections for the new Student Senate were completed Wednesday and Thursday with the selection of eight people to fill chairmanship offices. Four of these positions required run-off balloting.

Chosen to serve under the officers elected March 12 are: Charles Towns (Athletics); Wes Diemer (Underclassmen); Dave Bayer (Men's House); Ginny Yohn (Women's House).

More Named

Also: Phyl Link (General Activities); Jim Holsopple (Publications); Don Bracken (Religious Activities); Mickey Monks (Social Activities).

In special run-off elections held yesterday, Towns defeated Rayallen Hoover, Diemer won over Leo Kuhn, Holsopple topped Nancy Stephens and Miss Monks defeated Wilfred Norris.

The new Senate will take office on Move-Up Day, next Wednesday.

Class Officers Chosen

Also elected on Wednesday were class officers.

Chosen to head the senior class was Dave Bayer. Don Bracken will be his vice-president, while Nancy Stephens and Wes Diemer will act as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The junior class will have John Cook filling the presidential chair for the third successive year. Vice president will be Bob Bridenbaugh, while Dagmar Silldorff will be Secretary and Ben Newcomer, treasurer.

Sophs Need Run-Off

A special election was required to break a tie between the candidates for vice president of the sophomore class. Jack Claus won the presidency, while Dick Ikeda defeated Russ Hill in the special election for the second spot. Sue Jamison was named secretary while Joe Hinish was elected treasurer.

Elections Drive Discussed In Senate Meeting

Discussion on the controversy concerning Senate elections drew approximately 50 students to the open Senate meeting held Monday night in Room C.

Proposed resolutions printed in last week's Juniatian were discussed. President Art Allen reported that the Senate had agreed prior to the election to do electioneering. Further, the rumor that the ballots were not in alphabetical order was false, he said.

Concerning the actual count of the ballots, it was pointed out that in close elections they are always counted three times. Also there is a faculty advisor present at the time of all counting sessions.

Votes To Be Secret

The question of revealing the numerical results of elections was discussed. A majority of the Senators expressed their belief that this would only result in hard feelings and would no more prove the validity of an election than simply revealing the winner.

Two motions resulted from this portion of the meeting: first, that the Senate suggest to Joe Thomasberger, Chairman of Elections, that he put a note in his black book requesting that in the future all rules and regulations concerning election procedures be publicized, and second, that the Senate drop the matter of recording ballot counts and hope that students will give support to the incoming Senate during the next Senate elections.

Two reports were presented to the Senate. Chairman Ray Siren in his J. W. S. F. drive report said that his final financial statement would be ready for the first meeting of the new Senate. However, he submitted the suggestion that a new goal be set next year rather than the traditional once corresponding to the year. With a decreasing enrollment, Siren feels that the goal is too high per person.

New Extinguishers In Dorm

Safety Marshall Stan Wass reported that new fire extinguishers had been placed in Cloisters. However, the safety program is still "bottled up" in Science Hall. Refills for the first aid kit have been ordered but have not been received.

Along this line, Dean J. Melvin Rhodes stated that a rule prohibiting the misuse of fire extinguishers would appear in next year's campus regulations.

The Senate passed a motion that the expenses of Herman Pabst's recent illness be paid from the Foreign Student Aid Fund.

After discussing the recent lack of reverance in Chapel, the Senate went on record as supporting President Calvert Ellis's recent remarks urging better Chapel conduct.

Kay Wright, Chairman of General Activities, explained the plans for Move-Up Day. A story about this appears elsewhere on this page.

JCA To Present Barn Dance Sat.

The Juniata College Christian Association will take the lead in social activities this week. That organization is sponsoring an old fashioned "Barn Dance" in the girls gymnasium tomorrow night, Saturday, March 22 at 8:15.

Dr. Donald M. Rockwell will call for the square dancing which is to be the main activity of the evening. The committee in charge promises other surprises such as games, folk dancing and entertainment.

Refreshments will be served. The girls are encouraged to wear cotton skirts and blouses and the men sport slacks. The gym will be decorated according to the "Barn Dance" theme.

Organ Recital By Bill Wagner, '44

W. William Wagner, '44, will present an organ recital in Oller Hall Sunday, March 30, at 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Wagner is a former Juniata organist and was the first to play on the organ in Oller Hall.

Since leaving JC, Mr. Wagner has held many positions. He has been organist and choirmaster of the Chapel at U. S. Naval Hospital in San Diego, California; minister of music at the First Congregational Church in Battle Creek, Michigan; music director of the Pine Street Presbyterian Church of Harrisburg and organist and choirmaster of the Central Presbyterian Church in Buffalo, New York.

The program will consist of: Charles H. Rinck's "Floeten Concerto"; Cesar Franck's "Pastorale"; Bach's "Toccata and Fugue in D minor"; Leo Sowerby's "Carillion"; "Andante from Sonata in C" by Edward Elgar and Paul Maleingreau's "Symphony of the Mystic Lamb."

Fire Extinguishers Added

The 10 new fire extinguishers recently installed in the Cloisters have little to do with snow-ball battles.

This fact has been revealed by Paul Friend, business manager, who says, "the extinguishers were recommended by the fire underwriters last spring."

There are already extinguishers in the girls' dorm and the lodge. The new extinguishers will supplement the hoses which will continue to be in use.

Choir Tours Again

The Juniata College Touring Choir will be away from campus Sunday on a second weekend tour.

The choir will present programs of sacred music at the Church of the Brethren in Greencastle, Waynesboro and Hagerstown.

Wednesday the choir, under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson, will appear in Huntingdon High School at 1:50 p. m.

Portrait Of A Moviegoer

by Paul F. Heard

Executive Secretary, Protestant Film Corporation, Inc.

When we criticize films, we are told that inferior films are what you want—you pay millions of dollars for them in quarters, nickels and dimes. And what happens when a good picture is produced? Very often you simply do not go.

You want escape. You do not want a film to have anything to do with life—that life which frustrates and inhibits you and of which you are unconsciously afraid. You do not want a film which makes you feel too deeply or think very much.

You like typed characters, the obvious plot and pat phrases. There are stock situations over which you may be counted on to laugh or cry with infinite regularity.

Evil Satisfies Desires

The hero who marries the boss's daughter, the poor girl who becomes rich yes, even the criminal who breaks jail—these, in truth, are your delights. Purring motor cars, vast houses, beautiful clothes, sexy women and virile males, the attentive butler and the easy drink—it is by the portrayal of these that the movies satisfy the alleged desires of your secret heart.

You pretend to be shocked, but you really love the brittle talk, the suggestive innuendo of gay dialogue, for these elements glamorize and make "right" the kind of life you want but cannot have.

Happy Ending Approved

And how you love the happy ending! It must—it simply must—turn out all right, at least on film. For the days of your life are deadly, monotonous and dull, and neither gregariousness and solitude, industry nor leisure, morality nor vice, nor all your scoffing or all your piety, can quite banish the deep despair which clutches at your heart.

Your idols are money, sensation, and a brand new car, whatever lip service you may give to other creeds. You have no faith. You have no real God.

This is you, the moviegoing audience. Or is it?

Public Doesn't Back Good Films

If it is not, why have many good films been colossal flops in terms of box office? Films like "Abe Lincoln in Illinois"? This was certainly a good picture. And where were you? If this is not the kind of audience you are, why have you dissapprovingly gone to bad films and let the good films fail?

Do you really want better films? The only way to prove to producers that you mean business is to stay away from bad films and support the good films in terms of paid admission.

FLAME OR ARABY—Filmed in "Arabian Nights" style, this picture is for those with a love of flashing blades and dashing damsels of the desert.

Dashing enough is princess Maureen O'Hara who feels and looks at home in the "sand and technicolor" setting.

The appearance of Jeff Chandler's name on the cast of a usual desert tale adds a new light. We think he'll give the white stallions a new twist and perhaps Maureen as well.

Wild horses, races, captures by wicked North African Corsair tribes and love, are all the elements involved.

Clifton Theatre

I WANT YOU.—You'll soon see a resemblance in this Samuel Goldwyn picture to his "Best Years of Our Lives" which delt with returning soldiers of World War II.

This one deals with the Korean situation. The stigma attached to deferment, the conflict of young lovers parting, the exagerated remarks of veterans and the sadness of the patriot who enlists and is killed: all threads which make up this emotional plot.

Stress is placed sometimes on dramatically insignificant content, but given a chance "I Want You" will "hit home" to many people.

An outstanding performance is rendered by Dorothy McGuire. Other principals are: Dana Andrews, Farley Granger and Peggy Dow.

SPORT FLASHES

by Harold Gray

FOULS—Here are more statistics which we thought you might like to notice on fouls committed by Juniata's cagesters this season. The Tribe was on the wrong end of personal fouls more times than not. Juniata had 417 fouls called against them, with only 358 whistles blown against opponents.

The average per game was 25.2 for the Tribe compared to 19.9 for opponents. Juniata's high for one contest was the Westminster game when 32 were called against the Blue and Gold. In five contests the Tribe had 30 or more personals called against them.

Fran Zimmerman had the dubious distinction of being tossed out of four games with five personals. Following closely with three contests were Green, Dickey, Feldkircher. Kuhn, Cook and Bayer left two games with Pollock and Law being evicted from one apiece.

CROWD—A new record for attendance in the Memorial Gymnasium was set on March 11 at the Hollidaysburg-Derry Burnham playoff clash. Official statistics revealed that 1400 people viewed the contest. However it was not included in the total how many gained admission to the game other than by the front gate.

CONGRATS—To Bob Muchoney as newly elected president of the J Club. Muchoney stars for the Indians on the gridiron, stands 5-11, weighs 165 pounds. He is a junior and hails from Greensburg, Pa. Vice-President is Dave Bayer and Secretary-Treasurer is Fran Zimmerman.

THEY LOST—Reading through a copy of The Susquehanna College paper I came across an article written by Sports Editor Richard Stout. His article read as follows; "Davey Pollock, Juniata freshman and classy cager, tried some fancy antics on the hardwoods, many of which didn't take too well with the spectators who like to watch basketball." This was Stout's description of Pollock's preformance in the second Crusader game. Maybe he should have seen our boy in the Lebanon Valley contest with "his fancy antics."

INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONS. The Bridgers, are composed of varsity football players, with the exception of Ed Weirauch, former varsity courtman. They had a 13-1 record for the season, including a 34-26 victory over FS&C to give them the loop crown.

Led by playing manager Lundy Loschiavo, the Bridgers were beaten by FM&M for their only loss. Chuck Knox was high scorer for the team with 180 points, not including his seven in the playoff game.

All members of the squad who preform on the football team are backs with the exception of Knox, who is a defensive tackle. The fast breaking attack of the champions left many an IM team far behind on the scoreboard.

Ambridge, Pa. is the home of Loschiavo, Hepak, and Patricelli. Knox hails from Sewickley, Pa. while Mummah and McNeal are from Mifflintown. Young is from nearby Mount Union, and Weirauch hails from Camden, N. J.

1952 Track And Tennis Schedule Announced

The 1952 Track and Tennis schedules have been released by athletic director P. M. Snider. The Track schedule includes four dual meets, one triangular contest, and two invitational meets. The netmen will have eight contests, including three home engagements. Snider is coach of both sports.

The four dual track meets are listed for College Field against Dickinson, Albright, Lebanon Valley, and Shippensburg. The annual Bucknell-Gettysburg-Juniata meet is scheduled at Bucknell. Also listed for competition for the Blue and Gold thinclads are the Penn Relays and the Middle Atlantic Championships.

The Track schedule reads: April 23, Dickinson (Home); April 25-26, Penn Relays (Philadelphia); April 29, Shippensburg (Home); May 3, Bucknell-Gettysburg-Juniata (At Bucknell); May 6, Albright (Home); May 10, Lebanon Valley (Home); May 16-17, MAS CST Championships (Lehigh University at Bethlehem, Pa.)

The schedule for the netmen is as follows; April 22, Elizabethtown (Home); April 24, Lycoming (Away); April ??, Albright (Away); May 7, Dickinson (Home); May 10, Bucknell (Away); May 16, Ursinus (Away); May 17, Elizabethtown (Away); May 24, Lycoming (Home).

Indian Baseball Drills Hampered By Weather; Practice In Gym

The 1952 edition of the Juniata baseball team has been hampered by the poor weather and has been forced to remain indoors for practice. The indoor practices have been held daily in the Memorial Gymnasium. Batting practice and battery drills have highlighted the indoor sessions. The batting practices have been held in the unique batting tunnel constructed to allow the sluggers get their eyes in shape before outdoor drills begin.

Chief problem of Coach Smaltz at the moment seems to be the lack of an adequate catcher. With last season's regular, George Kensinger, lost via graduation, the Tribe is desperately seeking a replacement. Smaltz has had Burt Hackett, Chuck Knox, Rem Grove, Fred Hamor, and Joe Veto battling for the job.

Veteran Infield

The infield shapes up the same as last season with the exception of first base. Ray Tesi was also lost through graduation. However, with Joe Hinish and Wes Lingenfelter showing up well in practice, the Indians may have plugged the gap. The remainder of the inner defense finds Dave Hackett at second, Duke Schetrompf at short, with Monk Simon at the hot corner.

The Tribe's outer garden crew is filled with pitchers who see action in the pastures when not toiling on the mound. Among the outfielders are Jack Dickey, Tom McNeal, Fran Zimmerman, and Ken Mummah.

Strong Mound Staff

The mound staff seems to be particularly strong and is led by Earl (No-Hit) Detrick, Dave LeFevre, Ed Feldkircher along with Dickey, Mummah, and Hinish. They should form a working corps sufficient enough to lead the Indians to another successful campaign.

Wednesday's snowfall put the skids on hopes that outdoor workouts would commence this week. With warm weather, the diamond hoopefuls will be on the College Field diamond each afternoon for valuable practice, as the opening game of the season is only two and a half weeks away.

Daffy-Dills, Pigimies Lead In Girls Volleyball

The Girls Intramural Volleyball Loop is currently paced by the Pigimies and the Daffy Dills with two wins and no losses apiece. Games are played under league rules each Tuesday and Thursday nights in the Women's Gymnasium. Girl's participating in league competition are kept in the know with the rules of the game by scoring the contests when their team has an off night in the schedule.

Miss McCormick is league director and supervises over league competition. The standings of the loop as of Wednesday:

Team	W	L
Daffy-Dills	2	0
Pigimies	2	0
Hammerheads	2	1
Shoe Strings	1	1
Volletes	1	1
Tri-Delts	1	1
Team 6	0	2
Senior Smoothies	0	3

Limpep Girls Win IM Crown

The Limpeps, led by captain Nancy Blanck, rolled undefeated to the championship of the Girls Intramural Basketball League. They were followed by the Oneida Hot Shots. The Limpeps won eight and lost none, the Hot Shots won six and lost two. The Hot Shots were led by Mickey Monks.

Janet Cline was high scorer for the season with 102 points in seven games she played for 14.5 average. She played for the Day Students team which challenged the loop winners to a game and were beaten 26-24.

Nine teams competed in league competition this season and the games drew a large focus of attention from the students. Miss McCormick was in charge of the league and her officials club did a good job in officiating league play.

Production Of Romeo & Juliet Is Personal Triumph For Doyle

by Jim Streiner

The Masque presentation of "Romeo and Juliet" last Friday and Saturday evenings was a personal triumph for the director, Miss Esther Doyle, as well as for the cast, if the word of those whose theatrical memory runs back to 1946 is to be accepted.

This is the year Miss Doyle began her directional work here, as well as the birth-year of the Masque as we know it.

"It was terrific," the post-curtain, outer-lobby critics proclaimed to each other. "Miss Doyle's best yet."

Audience Comments Listed

Here are some of the aspects of the Shakespearean tragedy audience comment seemed to touch on most often:

The simple set conceived by Evitts-Kite-Petrusky and Co. was the first item to catch the audience's eye. It permitted all of the more than 20 scene changes to be accomplished effectively with nothing more than lights and curtains.

This element of simplicity which the set keynoted was carried on throughout the play itself as well. Miss Doyle's careful cutting held the show to a "two hour's traffic of our stage," and yet left it to tell its tale of star-cross'd lovers clearly and with plenty of time for the actors to develop character.

Mercutio Self-Confident

Perhaps one of the most clever instances of character development was that shown in Ray Siren's Merrutio, who was played as a fellow so self-confident as to be at home in any situation. In every scene in which Mercutio appeared, he was seen leaning against the set or lying on the stage, completely relaxed.

Another example of character was Nancy Newman's own. Though her stage experience until now has been very limited, "she rose to the occasion magnificently as Juliet," as one audience critic put it.

The director managed to almost rival Shakespeare in the epilogue to the play, which she wrote out of phrases in the last act. At least, several persons closely connected with the show never realized until later that Shakespeare himself did not pen the words with which Jim Giordano's voice closed the final scene.

Ushers Efficient

"Too many people have been told Shakespeare is 'good for them'," was the reason one person offered for the unexpectedly limited house for "Romeo and Juliet." According to house manager Frank Harlacher, who set up the most efficient ushering system we have ever seen in Oller Hall, attendance figures break down as follows:

Thursday—11 students, 324 paid (at reduced matinee rates), total 335; Friday—122 students, 142 paid (90¢ plus tax), total 264; Saturday—196 students, 179 paid ($1 plus tax), total 375; grand total—974.

Blough Conductor For Co. Festival

William M. Blough, '36, was guest conductor for the Butler County Coral Festival at the State Teacher's College Chapel in Slippery Rock, Pa., on March 7.

The program was presented by the Slippery Rock High School in conjunction with the Slippery Rock Arts Festival.

Blough is Director of Music in Sharon Public School and in great demand as singer, festival conductor and adjudicator. Here's proof of what JC's music department can turn out.

High School Will Present 3-Act Play

The senior class of Huntingdon High School will present the three-act comedy play "No Place Like Home" on Thursday and Friday evening, March 27 and 28 at the Grand Theatre.

Written by Donald Payton, the play deals with the problems of a five-member family in deciding "how to spend father's vacation."

Gilbert Johnson and Doris Moser play the leads as "mother" and "father". Tickets can be purchased at the High School.

Library Shows Exhibition On U. S. Revolution

Beginning March 17 and continuing through March 22, the Juniata College Library has arranged to show "The American Revolution," an exhibition prepared by the editors of Life Magazine.

This exhibition offers a full account of the situations and events which marked the most vital years in our national history, and attemps to show their relation to the changing scene in 18-Century Europe.

Hundreds of pictures, assembled by researchers for the special article in Life, July 3, 1950, have been carefully studied and sifted for the display. The 24 panels contain reproductions of paintings, portraits, cartoons, handbills and other facsimiles, engravings and a map.

Most of the illustrations are period works, and the few that are not have been selected with an informed and scrupulous care for historical accuracy. Eight reproductions are in color.

The pictorial story is revealed chronologically, beginning with the causes of the Colonies' revolt and ending with Washington's inauguration.

Soph Class Party To Feature Band

The "Strutters Ball" sponsored by the sophomore class will be held next Saturday, March 29, in the old gym at 8:15.

It has been reported that the sophs will stray from the usual "canned music" to the use of a band. It is just possible that it will be a "dixieland" band in harmony with the "Strutters Ball" theme.

A variety of entertainment is promised. Scattered throughout the evening's program will be musical renditions by Steve Musto, the Varsity Quartet and Trio and the Warblers.

Refreshments will be served and "dressy" clothes are in order.

Grover Attends Conference

Earle Grover will represent Juniata at the National Music Educators Convention in Philadelphia this weekend.

Special features of the convention will be the University of Michigan Band, the Westminster College Choir and the Philadelphia Symphony.

Types of classroom procedures in music education will be discussed.

CLUB COLUMN

Campus Clubs Feature Speakers, Elect Officers As Move-Up Day Nears

by BOB BAILEY

Tonight at 8:15 p. m. in Oller Hall the FTA will present Dr. Margaret Lindsey who will speak on the topic "Present Problems of the Teaching Profession."

Dr. Lindsey taught at Juniata in 1940 and initiated the present chapter of the FTA. She is now teaching in the Teachers College of Columbia University. All FTA members and anyone else who is interested are urged to attend this discussion.

At its regular meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:15 in Founders Chapel the JCA will hear Stewart Kauffman of Everett speak on "The Use of Music in Worship." Since the committee chairmen do not participate in move up day, their election was postponed until next week in order that defeated Senate candidates may have the opportunity of serving as committee heads.

This week the Debate Club elected Ron Cherry as its new president and Galen Frysinger as its manager.

The new officers of the Tycoon Club are as follows: President, Ted McGwire; Vice-President, Dick Hollinger; Secretary-Treasurer, Dick Myer. Paul Good was elected as May Day Chairman.

Former Faculty Member To Speak Tonight

Dr. Margret Lindsey, former member of JC faculty and a national leader in teacher education, will speak in Oller Hall this evening at 8:15.

Miss Lindsey is now a member of the education department of Columbia University.

Student leaders of the Future Teachers of America chapter here are extending an invitation to all teachers throughout the Huntingdon area to hear Dr. Lindsey speak on "Present Problems of the Teaching Profession."

Students Told Of Summer Service Opportunities

Mr. Ora Huston, Director of Social Action for the Brethren Service Commission visited campus last Friday, March 14, for the purpose of talking with students about summer projects with his organization.

The Brethren Service Commission, explained Mr. Huston, "is one of 30 agencies securing volunteers for service opportunities during the summer to carry out the program set up by the national organization, "The Commission of Youth Service Projects."

Mr. Huston outlined three projects in which students can participate: Work Camps (campers pay their transportation and share in living expenses), International Service (participants must pay expenses but are usually backed by churches or service groups) and Mental Hospitals (volunteers receive regular pay and contribute to the expenses of the group).

Booklets, information and applications can be obtained by seeing Dr. Tobias F. Henry, Prof. G. Wayne Glick and Phil Norris.

Listening Hour Back

The Listening Hour is back again. At 2 p. m. Sunday, March 30, these programs will resume operations.

The newly-furnished lounge formerly used for the Listening Hour is now primarily to be used for informal recitals. Therefore, those wishing to attend will meet in the recently decorated basement classroom of Swigart Hall.

Tuition Hikes Go Into Effect With Fall Term

Effective next semester, tuition will be raised to an average of $30 per semester and board will be upped an average of $15 per semester, according to Pres. Calvert N. Ellis.

The president added, however, that next semester will see a change in the method of charging for tuition, from the present "hour basis," to an overall charge for pursuing a "normal course of study."

Pres. Ellis defines "normal course of study" as a regular program of from 12-17 credit hours. The blanket charge for a semester for this normal number of hours will be $225.

Special students taking less than 12 hours will pay $18 per hour under the new plan. Students having permission to take more than 17 hours will pay $15 per hour.

Room Price Same

Board will increase as stated above and no addition will be made to the price of rooms. Music charges will be raised to five dollars and lab fees will remain the same.

This new plan is due to action by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees of the College. The board, according to the president, cites several reasons for the increase:

- The college has been operating on a deficit for the past two years. Figures for 1951 reveal a $29,153 deficit with the expectation of a similar amount for 1952.
- There will be adjustment in faculty salaries due to the rising cost of living.
- The increase will be accompanied by a larger appropriation for the scholarship funds.

JC Tuition Listed Low

It was also pointed out by Dr. Ellis that in the Good Housekeeping Magazine's Feb. 1952 listing of 32 middle state small colleges, Juniata's charges were the lowest. He went on to say that in spite of the fact that many colleges are upping their tuitions $100, Juniata has increased the tuition only $60 per year and still keeps the grand total under the $1000 mark or $960.

This summer's term will remain on the present hour system. The tuition will be $15 and the board will be raised from $8.50 to $9.00 per week. Room charge will remain the same.

Yearbook Out May 23

Dott Taylor, editor of the Alfarata reports that if things go as scheduled the yearbook will be available to students by Friday, May 23, at the latest.

The only picture not yet sent to the engravers is the one of All Class Night. Details of layout will be released at a later date.

Trees Removed As Part Of Landscape Plan

Pres. Calvert N. Ellis announced this week that the College has employed an architect, Arthur W. Cowell of State College, who has prepared a landscape for general campus improvement.

This plan is made possible through Miss Bessie Rohrer of Waynesboro, Pa., who is a member of the Board of Trustees.

Plan Not Fully Adopted

Although the plan has been authorized by the Board of trustees, Dr. Ellis pointed out that the plan has not yet been adopted by the College in full. The president said, "we have secured the plan in order that planting can be in harmony with the plan if it is adopted."

Immediate plans, the president added, call for removal of soft maple trees which are hindering the growth of the younger and better oaks and elms. These plans also call for the planting of a half dozen "pin oaks" between the sidewalk and the road along Moore Street directly in front of the campus. A "planting screen" of trees around the power plant is in the making too.

Walks To Be Relocated

Other phases of Mr. Cowell's plan include: the enlarging of the bus stop, ground planting near the buildings, additional campus lighting (lights in the parking lot area, the path to Oller Hall and the path to Cloisters off 18th have been recommended), and the relocation of certain roads and walks.

Pres. Ellis said that although no definite plans have been made as to which roads and walks will be relocated, they will follow more nearly students' natural line of travel.

Mays And Rhodes Evaluate Schools

Dr. Morley Mays and Dean Melvin Rhodes are serving on evaluating committees for the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Participating on a committee headed by Dean Stanton Crawford, University of Pittsburgh, Dean Mays spent a few days at Moravian College for the evaluation of the institution and its theological seminary. His responsibility is evaluating the program of the college.

Dean Rhodes is serving on a similar committee for the evaluation of the program at Shippensburg High School.

U. S. Must Accept Humanist Theory To Defeat Communism, Says Barwick

by Frank Harlacher

"I have changed my approach to communism entirely since I have seen communists in action," answered John Barwick when asked to compare the Marxian theory to democracy.

Mr. Barwick said, "unless the U. S. adopts a logical development of the humanist theory it hasn't a 'dog's chance' of defeating the enemy." Mr. Barwick, who spoke on campus last Sunday and Monday, is in charge of the YMCA work in the Near East and has recently returned from that area.

People Respect Devotion

"Those people do not understand the intelligence theory of 'comparative values' of the two systems of government," he went on to say. "It's the people who are living the life of example, service and devotion right in their midst that they will follow and respect."

The YMCA executive secretary cited an example of an old woman who broke up a well organized communist discussion group. Until the time she arrived the people were eating the 'red' propaganda without chewing it. But when this woman began to speak of the simple gospel of Christ, the communists hadn't a leg to stand on.

Woman Respected

They knew her to be a person who had served them for some 50 years. They knew she had just recovered from an illness acquired while carrying clothes to refugees over mountain terrene in the rain. They believed her when she told the 'reds' that to talk of helping people without believing in God was ridiculous.

"In ignoring the value of the 'old service' missionaries," Mr. Barwick added, "our government has made its greatest mistake. Unless the U. S. changes to an anti-imperialistic policy of service to these people, the devotion that the communist organizer gives to his party, will inevitably win the favor of the people."

Miss Evans To Retire In June After 33 Years

Miss Lillian M. Evans, College librarian, will retire in June after 33 years of service to the library.

Prior to accepting her position here, Miss Evans was branch librarian at Wilmington, Del., and library assistant at the University of Chicago. During World War II, she took a leave of absence from 1943 to 1946 to serve as librarian at Army and Navy bases in California.

Has Other Interests

Miss Evans is a native of Huntingdon and was graduated from Huntingdon High School and Juniata Academy. She has degrees from Juniata College, Drexel Institute and University of Chicago.

The head librarian retires with many other interests to occupy her time. She is a collector of antique furniture and glassware and has become widely known in this area.

A World Traveler

She is also a national and European traveler and a lover of the arts. The library chief was instrumental in establishing the Huntingdon County Library and resigned as its president when she went to the West Coast in 1943. She is still a member of the library board and at present fiills the position of secretary.

This will be the fifth time that this cantata will have been sung in Oller Hall under the direction of Prof. Rowland. The choir sang in 1941, 1943, 1946 and 1948 as a community project under the management of John C. Horn, director of the St. James Lutheran Choir of Huntingdon.

The solo roles in the cantata will be sung as follows: baritone, Mr. C. Greer Bailey '41 (director of music in First Presbyterian Church in Irwin, Pa.) and tenor, Mr. Philip Holsinger, '48 (vocal music supervisor at Somerset, Pa.).

May Queen To Be Nominated Tues.

Nominations for May Queen and attendants will be made at class meetings Tuesday at 10 a. m. Elections will be held April 22; the breakfast, at which time the queen and her court will be revealed, April 24; and May Day, May 10.

In keeping with the traditions of Leap Year the May Queen will choose her Prince Charming from the names of senior men nominated by the class, rather than his being elected by the student body as in former years.

The class meetings will be held at the following places: seniors, Room C; juniors, Room A; sophomores, Founders Chapel; and freshmen, Women's Gym.

Acting as general chairman of May Day will be Kay Wright, ex-chairman of general activities. Assisting her will be her successor on the Senate, Phyllis Link. Others on the planning committee are: Jody Siemon, breakfast; Juanita and Lolita Carfora, set construction; and Marj Seidel, publicity.

Organ Recital Sunday

W. William Wagner, '44, will give an organ recital in Oller Hall Sunday, March 30, at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Wagner was the first to play the organ in Oller Hall.

All-Class Night Skits Accepted

All Class Night will be held Saturday evening, April 5, at 8:15 p. m.

Chairman Carrie Lou Greene has announced the names of the skits from the various classes to be as follows: freshman, "Honeymoon U. S. A.; sophomore, "Bangalore"; junior, "Forsooken Willie"; and senior, "Daddy's in the White House."

The order of appearance has been reported by the chairman as: senior, freshman, junior and sophomore.

This year's performance will mark the 15th annual All Class Night. The idea of class competition was originated by the Camp Myler group at Leadership Conference in 1937.

These students felt that this activity should be added to the student calendar to take place of the stunts formerly given at the Hallowe'en party.

Seniors To Give Recital

Tonight in Oller Hall three seniors: Jo Chiodi, Mim Smith and Earle Grover will present a music recital.

Miss Chiodi will sing, Miss Smith will play the piano and Mr. Grover will assist as organist.

Recess Begins Apr. 9

The spring recess will begin at the end of afternoon lab periods or 4:45 p. m., Wednesday, April 9, the registrar's office reports. Classes will convene 8 a. m. Thursday, April 17.

JC Students Suggest Requisites For May Queen And Prince Charming

by Marj Seidel

Who do you think will be May Queen this year? And whom will Her Majesty choose to be Prince Charming?

Since nominations will be made Tuesday for the queen, prince and class attendants, it would be good to note how Juniata's Indian Joe and Jo picture their respective ideals.

"A May Queen," says Indian Joe, "should be sweet and lovely! When choosing her, look for a captivating smile and signs of a pleasing personality. Would she look like a queen walking gracefully up to the throne to receive her crown? The Juniata girl with these qualifications plus beauty will be our May Queen this year."

"Well, you can worry about the queen," says Indian Jo. "What I want to see is a handsome prince beside her. On Tuesday the seniors should nominate men who are neat in their appearance and always wear a smile on their faces. Prince Charming should be dashing and suave."

These are just a few suggestions from the May Day Planning committee to keep in mind at the class meetings Tuesday. (See story on nominating meetings.)

EDITORIALIZING

Move-Up Has Meaning; Grades Are Nuisance

Move-up day is not just an occasion for new officers to assume duties, nor is it merely a day of warning that comps are not far off. It is also an occasion on which to reflect upon the responsibilities which are, in effect, redistributed throughout the entire campus population.

Even more, it is a time when the administration, the faculty, and various segments of the student body are seen in their true interrelation to one another. The doffing of dinks and exchange of black books are merely symbolic of a deeper exchange of responsibility and values.

It is not to be viewed as a day when chapel cuts go unrecorded, or a day when the diagonal and front steps become open territory. The intent behind move-up day is to ceremonially illustrate the change in quite intangible, but equally real, sentiments, values, responsibilities and traditions that are so much a part of college life.

Congratulations are due to all who participated in the program in any way, and who helped to make the day a success. Especially to be complimented are those members of the class of 1955 who bothered to attend the exercises.

The simutaneous arrival of mid-term grades and spring weather should cause many a conflict among members of the student body. Perhaps this presents an exception to the general rule about those who aren't doing so well profiting by the example of those who are prospective Dean's list scholars.

On the other hand, it may be that those who are out playing baseball (or engaging in other non-academic sports) are not the prospective academic award winhas the most fun," but remember that the U. S. Army can always find more room for available manpower, and those that are not draft bait may replace those who are in such superior occupations as ditch digging.

SPORT FLASHES

by Harold Gray

NO NETS—Isn't it a shame that a $300,000 gymnasium is going to waste these afternoons? Yes it's true. The nets on the baskets in the new Memorial Gymnasium have been removed because "basketball season is over." This statement is about as close to nothing as one can get.

Basketball isn't a sport like baseball or football that is limited to one season or to certain weather conditions. It is a year 'round sport enjoyed and played by millions the world over.

Most of the better basketball players play the sport the year around. So why should our Athletic Department deprive our boys the privilege of playing basketball on weekday afternoons especially on Saturdays. After all, we have no "super" players on our squads that can't stand the practice. Should our Athletic Department then take their current stand and not allow basketball to be played in the new gym during the spring months? One would think that they would be tickled to death that their boys were getting extra practice and showing a keen interest in the sport. Remember, we won only five games this past season, Mr. Snider.

RALPH'S DAD—Glancing through an issue of "The Juniatian" of April 14, 1950 I found some news that I had never known and probably some of you had never heard also. It seems that Ralph Kiner's father, the late Ralph Mackin Kiner, Sr., was once a student at Juniata College.

Mr. Kiner attended JC from the fall term of 1901 till the summer term of 1903. It was reported that Mr. Kiner moved west after attending Juniata and his son was born in the western section of the country.

And now it is his son, Ralph Kiner Jr., who is smacking four-baggers for the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League. The discovery of this interesting fact was made by the Pittsburgh sports writers who informed the college and the fact was found to be correct.

Interclass Meet To Be Held April 19

The annual interclass track meet will be held April 19 as announced by P. M. Snider, athletic Director. In previous years, the class of 1952 has won the crown in their first three years on College Hill, but they were upset last year by the class of 1954.

The 1954 group was paced by John Cook and Bob Flory. Joe Hackman, a senior last year, was high scorer for the meet with 20 points.

This meet is scheduled each season to give Coach Snider a view on his future varsity trackmen and, as it is scheduled just before the opening meet, it gives Snider ample time to select his top candidates for each event.

Anyone from his class is invited to compete on the respective teams. The meet will be held on College Field.

Towns Elected As Senate Chairman Of Athletics On Campus

With the recent elections for Senate chairmanships, Charlie Towns has been elected as the new Chairman of Athletics. Towns replaces Bob Keim, senior, who held the post during the past year. Towns defeated Rayallen Hoover in a special runoff election to win the position.

Charlie is a business major from Pittsburgh, Pa. He was manager of the varsity basketball team during the past season and has competed in the intramural leagues in his three years on College Hill.

Playoffs In All Leagues

"Playoffs will be held in all leagues," says Towns, announcing his policy of office. These playoffs will be among the top four or six teams in each league after the regular season has been completed.

Towns also has announced that he will follow the policy of Keim and have each intramural championship squad's picture placed in a trophy album to be kept in the memorial gymnasium as a memento of that team's winning the title in its respective sport.

Weather Holds Sports

"I will not attempt to buck the faculty policy of not issuing individual trophies to the members of winning intramural teams," says Towns. "That has been the policy in past years and I see no reason to change it." This reply was in answer to many questions about the former situation which was a major issue in the election campaigns.

The intramural softball, tennis and golf campaigns will begin as soon as the weather breaks. This was the announcement by the new chairman. The intramural program is at a standstill at the moment because of between-season break due to unpredictable weather conditions.

Spring Sports Program Awaits Warm Weather For Valuable Practice

With the baseball, track, golf and tennis seasons right around the corner, the respective squads are hard at work practicing indoors due to the weather. Recent rains have made muddy conditions which have hampered all outdoor workouts.

By the time this issue is in your hands, the outdoor practices may have begun. With the baseball and golf schedules indicating opening day as April 8, the time is passing rapidly without any actual practice sessions taking place.

Coach Smaltz has been forced to remain indoors as of Wednesday but has had his eyes on College Field many times only to have his hopes drowned by the recent downpours.

The golf squad has been out on the Huntingdon course almost every afternoon and is rapidly shaping up as another top notch squad for the Indians. Let's take a look to see how the Juniata teams have been progressing as April draws near.

Baseball

The Tribe tosers have spent the past week indoors working out with batting prictice daily in their indoor batting cage. As the weeks pass by, the hurlers are begining to put some zip on the ball and are starting to break off a few jug handle curves. The hitters are moaning anxiously to get outdoors and show the pitchers just how far they can tag their offerings and not just hit them into a big net as the indoor cage dictates.

LeFevre Ineligible

The loss of Dave LeFevre will be a tough blow to the Indians this season. LeFevre has been placed on the ineligible list because of scholastic difficulties. He had been showing fine form in practice. His curve and fast ball had many a Tribe prospect fanning the breeze during the indoor practice sessions. Dave was expected to pace the Tribe's mound staff this season as he had done for the two preceeding campaigns.

The battle for second base proves to be an interesting one between Dace Hackett and Ken Leonard. Both are fine defensive performers and they should battle it out right down to the wire to the nod to open the season at the keystone sack.

Coach Needs Catcher

The necessity for a catcher still is the main problem of Coach Smaltz. He has had Jack Dickey working behind the plate during the past few days. Dickey, normally an outfielder, has shown some surprising form behind the platter. The ineligibility of Jim Settle left a wide open scramble among candidates to bag the job. The likely candidates at the moment seem to be Dickey, Rem Grove, Joe Veto and Fred Hamor.

Track

Coach P. M. Snider has been holding informal practice sessions each afternoon in the Memorial Gymnasium. All track candidates are invited and Snider has stated that actual practice will commence outdoors as soon as weather conditions are suitable.

Returnees will be expected to play a big role in the Tribe's track and field campaign this season. The returning lettermen include Don Brinton, a senior who specializes in the long distance events, Bob Flory, another distance man and only a sophomore, and Jack Rothenberger, the sprint ace of the team.

Three Not Back

Others include Wilfred Norris, who is a candidate for the mile and half-mile events, Clem Rosenberger, injured during last season, Jerry Heinecke, Frank Jarrett, Bob Keim, Lowell Hackman and several freshman round out the squad thus far.

Last season's high scorers, Coy Hicks and Joe Hackman, were both lost through graduation and will be sorely missed this campaign. Fred Stauffer, considered an excellent prospect this season, also has been lost through ineligibility. He was one of Snider's main cogs last season on the cinders.

Freshman Prospects

The freshman prospects include Gene Rothenberger, brother of Jack, who specializes in sprint events and in the broad jump. In high school he set records for his school in both of the before mentioned events. Larry Hartline, high school teammate of Rothenberger, is another candidate in the sprints and is expected to fill a role for the Indians this season.

Each afternoon for the past two months, the Memorial Gymnasium has been housing the activities of track hopefuls as they have been going through steady paces to get in shape for the coming season.

The 1952 campaign promises to be a tough one for the Blue and Gold thinclads.

Tennis

Informal practice sessions in both gymnasiums have been the extent of the workouts for the Juniata netmen. Capt. Jim Marr and his fellow squad members have been at work indoors, with the rest of the Juniata athletes, getting in shape for a heavy schedule which begins on April 22 against Elizabethtown.

Returning lettermen include Capt. Marr, Bob Brumbaugh, Bob Frain, and Bob Rauch. All four saw a large amount of action last season. Other prospects include John Potteiger, Dick Bowker, Richard and Robert Godshall.

The deep mud on the tennis courts has made it impossible for outdoor workouts to begin. But with warm weather the netmen will commence their workouts under Coach Snider.

Golf

Art Allen, from Greensburg, Pa. has been elected captain of the 1952 Indian golf squad. Allen is a senior currently competing in his fourth season for the Blue and Gold. He heads a list of four returning lettermen from last season.

This list includes Tom Cherok, Tom Sanders and Dave Bayer. These four form the nucleus of this season's team, which is out to improve upon its outstanding record of 36 wins, four losses, and one tie since the sport was initiated at Juniata.

Three others are expected to work into the picture and have been showing well in practice. They include Ray Siren, Frank Arisin and Bob Fahrney. Gary Swenson, who was considered an excellent prospect for the squad, is on scholastic probation and will not be able to compete this season.

Capt. Allen and his squad have been working on the Huntingdon links almost every afternoon when the weather permits and are sharpening their eyes for the opening match against Pitt on April 8.

Five men are to be selected as "first stringers." This cut will be determined by playoffs among the members of the squad for top positions.

Medical Test Given May 10

Those students planning to enter medical school in the fall are urged by Educational Testing Service to take the Medical College Admission Test May 10. Another test will be given Nov. 3.

Applications for the May test are due April 26. Forms and bulletins are available by writing to the Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N. J., and should be returned to that office by the above date.

The testing service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges, reports that in 1951, 1300 pre-medical students were directed by leading medical colleges of choice to take this test in partial fullfillment of admission requirements.

The test is objective in nature and requires only a review of science subjects for preparation.

Maps Added To College Equipment

A set of nine wall maps for use in biblical instruction and a metal desk and chair for use in the office of the Director of Athletics are the most recent addition to the College equipment.

The maps are the "window-shade" pull-down type and include: "Journeys of Paul"; "Great Empires"; "Exodus from Egypt"; "Palestine, Ministry of Jesus"; "Maccabean Palestine"; "Complete Palestine Relief"; "Israel and Judah" and "Palestine, Period of Judges."

Copyrighted by the Westminster Press in Philadelphia, Pa., the maps will be used at the discretion of Prof. G. Wayne Glick.

Insurance Rep. To Be Here Mon.

Frank Beardsley, supervisor of college relations for the North American Companies, will interview students interested in careers in underwriting, claims, field representative or other areas of the property and casualty insurance field when he comes here Monday, according to Dean J. Melvin Rhodes.

The North American Companies include the Insurance Company of North America, the Indemnity Insurance Company of North America and the Philadelphia Fire and Marine Insurance Company.

Hospital Rep. Speaks

A representative of the Institute of Living, the neuro-psychiatric institute of the Hartford Retreat, spoke here yesterday to members of Dean J. Melvin Rhodes' psychology of adjustment class. She also interviewed students interested in Summer employment with the Institute.

Swaim Painting Now In Library

by Fred Diefenbacher

Do you keep your eyes open while in the library? If so, you have probably seen Bill Swaim's painting "Save Thyself" beside the magazine table.

Bill attributes success in this original work to a combination of careful planning and an intuitive mental image. The planning included a detailed perusal of the New Testament accounts of the crucifixon and a tentative mental grouping.

Bill's Viewpoint Humanistic

Bill calls his pictured viewpoint "humanistic." He stresses the importance of Jesus' humanity as seen by the gathered crowd.

In refering to visual art as a means of expression, Bill gives as evidence the fact that this artistic conception of the crucifixion had been part of him some time before its transfer to canvas.

"I put it off for awhile," he says. "Then I painted it as I could have seen it had I been there."

"The Educator" Bill's Too

The unusually vivid use of light in "Save Thyself" is also notable in "The Educator", another of Bill's watercolors, which hangs in Dean Rhodes' office. The educator is pictured as one sowing seeds of knowledge.

Asked when he first started painting seriously, Bill replied that he has always been interested. Furthermore, it is a hobby, says he, which will not become a mere mundane occupation.

Draft To Call 19,000

The Defense Department announced a draft call of 19,000 for May—15,000 for the Army and 4000 for the Marine Corps.

The total is the same as the number scheduled for induction in April.

The Defense Department said the May call will provide the armed services with the number of men needed to meet approved program goals for June 30.

May Queen, Attendants Nominated

Nominations for the May Queen and her court, the election of the club co-ordinator and plans for the breakfast stirred the May Day spirit on College Hill this week.

Eleven girls were nominated by the senior class for May Queen, maid of honor and attendants. They are Ruth Armentrout, Jo Chiodi, Peggy Dell, Dottie Hummer, Sarah Keller, Ginny Masemer, Mary Lou McKee, Lois Miller, Connie Sherman, Norma Gene Sinclair and Mim Smith.

Queen to Name Prince

This year the queen will choose her own Prince Charming from the nominations made by the senior class. She may select one of the following: Walt Bandurak, John Gates, Tom Green, Bob Learn, Doug Martin and Jack Rothenberger.

Two attendants will be elected from each class. Nominations from the junior class include Jane Abel, Rhoda Clemmer, Betsy Dively, Phyllis Link, Betty Monks, Joanne Pentz and Nancy Rogers.

Soph. Frosh Candidates Listed

Sophomore candidates are Peggy Brumbaugh, Joyce Butts, Marge Ferguson, Ruth March, Nancy McCahn, Dorcas Mertz, Joyce Mullan, Nancy Newman, Helen Rosengren, Ruth Walker and Audrey Weber.

Those nominated from the freshman class are Jean Baker, Donna Croft, Peg Hershey, Mary Kay Jackson, Doris Markey, Anna Lee Over and Joy Rinehart.

Loosers To Take Part

All these girls who are not chosen to serve as attendants will appear in the program May 10 as a group honoring the queen and her royal court with the traditional winding of the maypole.

Elections will be held April 21 and 22. Revelation of the queen and her court will take place at the May Day breakfast April 24. The theme of the breakfast will be leap year, so her majesty will announce her choice of prince at that time. Girls are asked to wear pastel cotton dresses for the occasion.

Committees Named

Jody Siemon is general chairman for the breakfast. Assisting her are the following committees: invitations, Barbara Snively (chairman), Edith Engler, Joan Walker and Audrey Weber; decorations, Betsy Brandt and Dottie Gingrich (co-chairman), Jane Abel, Margie Fish and Kay Kuehne; program, Martha Petre (chairman), Dagmar Silldorff and Nancy Stephens.

Following the plan of Spring Festival last year, May Day will feature booths and exhibits planned by campus clubs. Acting as club co-ordinator will be Bob Keim. Serving on his committee will be Paul Good, Martha Petre and Elaine Zook.

New Policy Of Lates

According to Ginny Yohn, newly elected chairman of Women's House, all girls attending the Charity Ball will receive 1:30 a.m. permissions.

The following policy of lates has also been announced: freshmen girls will receive one 11:30 permission per month as of April. Sophomores will get two lates per month plus their accumulated ones from previous months; juniors three 11:30's plus accumulated lates. Seniors will receive three lates per month during the first semester and unlimited during the second.

Comps Start Apr. 28

Written comprehensive examinations will be given on the mornings of Monday and Tuesday, April 28, 29 in the Women's Gym, according to the registrars office.

The examinations will start at 8:30 a. m. and last until 12 noon.

The date and time of oral examination are to be arranged with the chairman of the department in the student's major field. The committee will consist of: the head of the department, a member of the administration and a member of the faculty chosen by the student.

Prof. James Dunlop

● Blue Band Director ●

Penn State Band To Play Here Mon.

The Penn State Blue Band, under the direction of Prof. James Dunlop, will present a concert in Oller Hall, Monday, April 7.

The Huntingdon Lions Club is sponsoring the appearance of the band and reports that there will be no admission charge for students, faculty and townspeople.

The 90-member band includes students from 60 different towns, 57 in Pennsylvania. Thirty-five members are music majors while the remaining 55 are enrolled in 34 different curricula at the college.

Dunlop has been at Penn State since 1947. He has directed for two consecutive years the annual All-County Band and was also in charge of the 1952 Mount Union Music Festival.

The program of the Blue Band will include such numbers as: "Alpine Fantasy" by Leidzen; "The Shawl Dance", Skinner; "Symphony in F Minor No. 4", Tschikowsky; "Jugoslav Polka", Liszt; a medley of Rodgers and Hart songs arranged by Leizden; and "The Stars and Stripes Forever", Sousa.

Featured on the program will be a clarinet duet, horn trio, and trombone solo.

During intermission the Juniata College Varsity Quartet will sing several numbers. Members of the quartet are Clyde Johnson, Bob Landes, Steve Musto, and Ben Newcomer.

Story Hour By JC Students

Juniata students enrolled in elementary education are participating in the story hour programs at the Huntingdon County Library.

Elaine Zook of Rothsville and Edith Engler of Woodside, New York, conducted the hour last Friday.

Class Skits Vie For Trophy Sat.

The wraps come off four jealously guarded secrets tomorrow night in Oller Hall at 8:15 as the four classes of the College take their turn at staging original 22 minute skits for the 15th annual All Class Night program.

Goal of the competition is to capture a judges' decision which will place the numerals of the winning class on a silver cup now on display in the Library.

Organ Music, Singing Set

According to general chairman Carrie Lou Greene, the program will be opened by Bill Weyandt at the organ. He will also fill in with music between the sketches. While the judges' ballots are being counted, Steve Musto and Joy Truxal will sing.

By lot, the seniors have gotten the opening spot. Written by Bob Volpitto and directed by Esther Weaver, their offering is a comic satire on politics in our time. It's entitled "Daddy's In the White House."

Frosh Plan Tour

Sue Jamison, Peg Hershey and Bruce McKinley are credited with the authorship of the next skit, "Honeymoon, U. S. A." An imaginary tour of the nation produced by the frosh, it is directed by Allegra Forney, Joe Hinish and Jack Claus.

Following the intermission, the juniors take the stage with a familiar old classic told in very modern terms, entitled "Forsooken Willie." A committee of six scripted this one: Ron Cherry, Bob Bailey, Jo Pentz, Martha Petre, Nancy Stephens and Betsy Dively. Phil Norris is the director.

In the cleanup slot is the sophomore production, "Bangalore," romance and the caste system, written by Chuck Barklow and Wilfred Norris. Barklow is also director.

Communion In Oller Hall Tues.

The annual all-College service of Holy Communion will be held this Tuesday evening at 9 p. m. President Ellis will officiate, assisted by members of the faculty, Phil Norris announced.

The former Senate chairman of religious activities went on to say that the order of service will be unusual. It will follow the modified form of the service used at the first assembly of the World Council Churches in Amsterdam, Holland, August 29, 1948.

Norris stresses that this service is one of the "high lights" of the year's activities on campus. All students and faculty are invited to participate in this observance.

Men Of Song

● In Community Concert ●

Men Of Song In Oller Hall Apr. 16

The fourth of this year's community concerts "Men of Song" will be presented by the Huntingdon County Community Concert Association Wednesday, April 16, in Oller Hall.

When this group was booked, those in charge were unaware that this date would fall on the night before classes convene from vacation.

The male quartet will present a program of familiar songs and ballads. Among them are "Dry Bones", "Wandrin", "De Glory Road", "Arkansas Traveler", and "Blue Tail Fly". Some classical numbers will be "Marching Song" by Brahms; "Floods of Spring", Rachmaninoff; and "Medley from Carousel" by Rogers and Hammerstein.

Consisting of two tenors, a baritone, a bass, and a pianist-arranger, the group has had successful experience on the concert stage, in radio, on television and records.

The National Society of Music recently named it one of the best musical attractions in America.

British Lecturer Here For IVCF

Mr. Dane Gordan, British lecturer traveling for the Intervarsity Christian Fellowship in Canada and the United States, will visit the College campus April 17 and 18.

Thursday, Apr. 17, he will speak in Founders Chapel. His topic will be "Why Did Jesus Christ Die?"

His Friday message, Sin-Myth or Master, will be presented at 7:15 in Students Hall. Discussion periods will follow each meeting.

Anyone wishing to make appointments to confer with Mr. Gordan should see Elsie Haussler or Carl Rutherford.

Resolutions Carried Out By Senate

by Marj Seidel

"The 1951-52 Senate has, to the best of its ability, carried out the job of presenting the resolutions of Leadership Conference to the persons on the administration and faculty responsible for their initial action," reports Art Allen, president.

"The two programs begun by the 1951-52 Senate which we would especially like the new Senate to further," Allen points out, "are the investigation of the possibility of establishing an academic honor system at Juniata and a safety program headed by an appointed safety marshall." Both of these plans originated at Leadership Conference this past fall.

No Action On Lights

In line with the safety program, the recommendation for the purchase of several new lights on campus was made to the administration; however, no action has yet been taken.

"Most of the other special issues at Leadership Conference were acted upon favorably," Allen says. In order to keep disturbances in the library at a minimum, the librarian now issues cards stating the conference resolution to those persons causing the disturbance. The card states that the person will be asked to see the dean of students upon receiving a second card.

Resolutions Adopted

Other resolutions carried out were those requesting that the training tables be given first chance at extra food and granting men students the privilege of going to the dining hall in bad weather through the fire tower and first Brumbaugh.

According to Allen, "the senior class picked up the resolution that a sign be erected on campus to identify the college and will use this idea for the class gift."

Social activities were improved and expanded as a result of Leadership Conference resolutions. Informal dancing in the women's gym without chaperones and the coat check system in the exercise room proved successful. However,

Student Government Gains Power Through Years

by Joyce Bernard

A few weeks ago we saw the new Student Senate installed. Did you ever wonder just how student government got started at JC? If you did, here's the story.

From 1876 to 1917 the students were under faculty and administration control. The 'higher-ups' made the laws and the students had to obey them.

Student-Faculty Comm. First

In 1917 there appeared strong sentiment for student government. A student-faculty committee was formed. This still did not give the students very much control, but it was a step in that direction.

This organization lasted for several years. The students got a taste of self-government and they wanted more. The class of 1923 pledged that in their junior year ('22) they would do their best to inaugurate student government.

Constitution Approved

The best of these ambitious dreams came true. Resolutions for students were drawn up and passed the the student body. A constitution was written, which was approved by both students and faculty.

With this as a foundation, men's and women's committees were formed. These groups drew up a set of rules and by-laws by which the students were to live.

Student Gov. Inaugurated 1922

As a final step in this first movement, the Board of Trustees ratified the constitution and by-laws. Thus, student government was inaugurated at JC in chapel service on Oct. 26, 1922.

This organization did its work for 13 years. However, through the years it became solely a disciplinary group. The students saw its weakness and proposed a plan for a Senate and a disciplinary faculty committee.

Students Disturbed

The student body became quite disturbed about the problem. Many chaotic meetings resulted. The ills of the student council, as the old group was called, were cured in the drawing up of a new constitution.

It was at this point that the student body was split into factions, day students and resident students. Many debates were held. Finally the constitution was accepted by a large majority.

The plan of student government as we know it today, with 12 senators, was put into effect on Move-up Day in 1936. Here began the principles of a student organization which gives a constructive program for the common interests of the student body.

Cantata To Be Sun.

Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be sung in Oller Hall this Sunday evening by a large combined choir under the direction of Prof. Charles L. Rowland.

The choir will consist of the two JC choirs, the church choirs of Huntingdon, the Juniata Valley choir and any volunteers from the student body who have attended a sufficient number of rehearsals.

This is the fifth time this cantata will be sung in Oller Hall under the baton of Prof. Rowland. It will also mark his last appearance as a director of JC choral work. He will retire in June and move to Shippensburg, Pa.

EDITORIALIZING

Flag Duty, Signs, New Parking Lot Indicate Campus Improvement

The problem of raising the flag in front of Oller Hall seems to have finally been solved. The assumption of responsibility by Hobart Heistand and Paul Colberg for taking care of the ceremony has brought an end to the regretable situation that has prevailed for the past few months.

It has long been apparent that those who are charged with the duty of caring for the flag have been lax in their attentions. In the early part of the year, when freshman regulations were in full swing, there was no appreciable failure to care for the flag.

Since November, the situation has greatly altered. Less and less attention has been paid to flag duty. Lately there have been two extremes. Either the flag has been left flying for days at a time, or it has not appeared at all for a similar period.

Therefore, Heistand and Colberg deserve congratulations for taking it upon themselves to see to the care of the flag. Their action has remedied what has long been a campus sore spot.

A sure sign of spring may be seen in the erection of "please" signs at various corners around the campus. With the thawing of the ground many short-cuts no longer become practical. Not only does walking over soft ground prevent the growth of a flawless lawn, but it also ruins new shoes. For this reason, if no other, the request should be obeyed. Seriously, though, it is little trouble to detour by way of the sidewalks, for at least as long a time as the ground remains moist. The results of such consideration will eventually be appreciated by all..

* * *

Those responsible for putting the black-top on the parking area next to Oller Hall are to be congratulated for making possible a long-needed improvement. The addition makes it possible to avoid getting out of cars in the middle of a lake, as well as improving the general appearance of the campus.

ON THESE TIMES

Mock Convention Proposed For JC

If you were a delegate to a national convention, how would you vote? Do you know the rules of procedure? What is a keynote address?

Volpitto

Many students are unfamiliar with this political custom. It has been suggested that we follow other colleges and hold a mock convention.

Independent Con. Suggested

To make it unique we could hold an independent convention where all candidates could be nominated. From each one's program the most acceptable points could be taken to form a platform.

A booklet published by the Young Republican Federation would be used as a basis for procedure. It outlines methods employed by real conventions. It would be necessary to modify them to suit our purposes.

Here exists democracy in action. Every politician will agree that this form of government begins at the "grass roots" where "Joe Voter" is king for a day.

Stimulus Needed

If there is enough stimulus evident, this project will be a success. Should we fail to recognize its importance there would be another case for those who call us the lost and silent generation.

Here is not another drab text assignment. The invaluable knowledge learned will never come from a book.

The Juniatian

TEEPEE TOPICS

by Joyce Bernard

DOG'S LIFE—A large collie followed Mary Ann Bailey and Louise Glassmyer up to the dorm at 10:30. Some of the bell tower lovers looked into the situation. Mary Lou McKee, Bob Landis, Barbara Elliott, and Howard Van Siclen stood on the second floor landing coaxing the dog to leave. Little Nancy Blanck came to the rescue, took dog in hand and carried him down stairs with Bob Rauch bringing up the rear!

DROP DEAD!—Leo Kuhn was giving Chet Gomeringer a bad time. Chet took all he could take, pulled out a gun, and told Leo to back against the wall. He fired three shots—Leo turned white, but he's still alive. The bullets were bianks!

SPRING FEVER—Joyce Butts, Joan Lenhardt and Kay Kuehne were seen jumping rope in front of the Stone Church. They were entertaining a troop of Girl Scouts. It looked like they were having more fun than the scouts!

BLOOD DONOR—When Chuck Needy was asked to lie down to give blood he was surprised to find Ann Sulanke on the same bed. The nurse jabbed him with the needle and exclaimed, "I'll bet this is the first time you've gone to bed with a woman!" Now how did she know!

MYSTERIOUS GIFT—Paul Colberg has become the possessor of a genuine Australian boomerang. He doesn't know who sent it to him but it may have been one of his kangaroo friends. So don't look a gift kangaroo in the mouth, Paul.

AN APRIL FOOL—Sherill Edwards was serenaded by a group of freshmen (excuse me, sophomore) girls on Founders Porch. The song was "Happy Birthday" and on April 1st. Sherill has a handicap, he was born a fool!

'Quo Vadis', A Biblical Masterpiece

Vacation time is nearing and in the bigger cities you'll probably find a motion picture with an admission price of $1.25. Don't let the price turn you back.

It's not just another overrated technicolor extravagenza and it won't be back at regular price for at least a year. "Gone With The Wind" was the last picture comparable to it.

Harlacher

QUO VADIS—These two Latin words are spoken by the apostle Peter the title of MGM's $7,000,000, spectacle. "Spectacle" is a word used to describe every movie these days. But in "Quo Vadis" you will find the real meaning of the word.

The success of this Biblical masterpiece marks the beginning of a new era in a formerly godless industry. "Samson and Deliah", "David and Babsheba" were Biblical successes you say. Successes yes, but produced as movies with a Bible story to please churchgoers.

Theme Is Christianity

"Quo Vadis" is Christianity told by a movie. The Christian theme is imbedded in every weave of the plot-thread. Never before has the story of Christianity been so completely and vividly told.

The scene in which Peter talks at a secret gathering of the first Christians of Rome exemplifies this. He preaches a 15 minute sermon, and tells the complete story of Christ's life, all the while holding your undivided attention.

Good Casting

Expert dialogue and a series of narrated flashbacks are responsible for keeping the action moving You'll insist that the two hour and 50 minute running time was only regular feature length.

Some of the acting and character portrayals are superb too. The film is based on a novel. Most of the Polish author, Henry Sienkiewicz's characters are factual and the producer cast into the parts persons, who in his estimation, are very similar to the historical figure. Even the Roman and Jewish noses are there. .

Acting Well Done

Outstanding performances come from Peter Ustinov (Nero) and Leo Genn (Petronius).

Robert Taylor and Deborah Kerr as the fictional hero and heroine deliver acceptable performances. Miss Kerr's British accent, however, seems a little mis-cast.

The "spectacle" part you'll have to see to appreciate. The fire, martyrdom of Christians in the arean, Buddy Baer's fight with a wild bull are all realism in its highest form.

Some Fun

A bachelor is a man who would rather wash a pair of socks than a pan full of dishes.

An alarm clock is one of those rare things that can win every argument it starts.

Romeo & Juliet Here Fri. & Sat. Nights

Wilfred Norris

● Will Be Romeo ●

Newman, Norris Share Top Roles

Someone once described Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" in words similar to these: "It is a masterful combination of tragedy, comedy, romance, intrigue and sword-play by an artistic master."

Which would seem to indicate the current Masque production set for staging next Friday and Saturday will be a combination of most of the elements familiar in popular modern drama.

The romance and tragedy angles are carried in the present production by two sophomores who are a study in contrasts—Wilfred Norris and Nancy Newman.

Stars Comment

Norris, who portrays Romeo, says he "began mixing with stage and radio plays in the eighth grade of high school" and has been actively interested in these mediums ever since. He adds, "I hope to obtain as broad an educational background as possible, and the theater is one step in that direction."

Miss Newman, on the other hand, has until now had little interest or experience in acting, though she did carry minor roles in two high school productions. Consequently, she found it something of a surprise when she learned she had been selected for the role of Juliet.

As Romeo, Norris marries Juliet, the daughter of a family feuding violently with his own. Their romance is constantly dogged with tragedy, ending finally in their deaths by their own hands.

But "Romeo and Juliet" isn't entirely tears and tragedy.

Comedy In Play

According to Betty Longwell, who enacts Juliet's personal nurse, there are also two strong elements of comedy in the play. These are provided by herself and Ray Siren, who plays Mercutio, a friend of Romeo who fences with words but is also a sharp man with a sword.

Huntingdon Co. Alumni Banquet Features Quiz

Highlighting the Huntingdon County Alumni Association annual banquet in the dining hall was a "Know Your Juniata" quiz panel.

The questions were obtained from the audience and fired at a board of five experts by moderator Dean Morley Mays. The board consisted of Dr. Harold C. Binkley, Dr. George B. Clemens, Mrs. Jane Miller Crosby and Mrs. Anna Groninger Smith, executive secretary.

Questions Were Varied

The board is said to have answered the majority of the questions "promptly and efficiently." Various questions including college history in academic, sports and extra-curricular fields were presented to the panel.

Response from the audience covered a wide range varying from, "What was the tuition rate announced in the first advertisement in 1876?" (Answer: $6.50 for 11 weeks) to "Who might be said to be Juniata's most eligible bachelor?" (Answer: Harold B. Brumbaugh).

Experts Stumped

The experts were stumped on at least 12, some of which are listed below:

- How much bread and milk is now consumed at Juniata College per day? (Answer: 120 large loaves, 80 gallons of milk).
- Who has been the youngest graduate of Juniata? (Answer: Dr. C. C. Ellis)
- How many Brumbaughs have been on faculty at Juniata? (Answer: Eleven)
- When was the first no-hit baseball game hurled by a Juniatian? By whom? Against? (Answer: 1951. Earl Dietrick. Lycoming)
- What is the overall won and lost record of the golf team since golf was started in 1947? (Answer: Won 36, lost 4, tied 1)
- Who fooled Hattie Lister by telling her the rattlesnake they brought her was an eel? (Answer: The gang of '26, Pat, Dick, Mid, Ed)

Creators of the questions that ran the experts afoul were given a variety of attractively wrapped prizes which included Juniata College souvenirs and favors.

Some of the winners were: Mrs. Calvert N. Ellis, Mrs. A. William Engel, Jr., and Dr. E. S. Kiracofe.

JC On Air Features Play

Juniata on the Air Thursday will feature portions of Romeo and Juliet.

It will be under the direction of Don Sikes who will be assisted by various members of the production.

South Seas Are Motif For JC Social Evening

Ahoy, all you Juniatians. The S. S. Juniata leaves port tonight at 8:15 p. m. for Hawaii.

The cruise to the South Seas is being sponsored by the Lambda Gamma and Chemistry Clubs, under the general direction of Sue Mullendore, Dorcas Mertz, and Bob Hatala.

There will be dancing plus other entertainment by the crew and some Hawaiian dancers in the ballroom of the S. S. Juniata. Refreshments will be served on deck.

The party, held in the Old Gym, is informal but dressy and everyone is invited to come.

Committee heads are as follows: Program, Martha Petre and Ray Siren; Refreshment, Betty Hyre; Decoration, Marian Brightbill and Doug Martin; Publicity, Ruth March and Dave Hercules; Music, Charlotte and Shirley Detwiler and Syd Clark; and Clean-up, Joyce Gibbel and Ray Fowler.

Juniatian Announces Staff Changes; Holsopple New Ed.

Jim Holsopple will take over the editor's desk of The Juniatian as soon as his nomination is approved by the Faculty Publications Committee.

The Committee is expected to give its nod sometime this week after it has received a report of the physical and financial standing to date of the student newspaper from the retiring editor, Jim Streiner. Members of the Committee are Dr. Harold Binkley, chairman, Harold Brumbaugh and A. William Engel, Jr.

Was Managing Editor

Holsopple has been managing editor of The Juniatian for a year. Before that he had been an assistant sports editor here.

In High School he covered suburban news for Washington, D. C. papers.

He has also gained experience as sports editor for two years with the Pennington Central High School, Pennington, N. J., newspaper. He put in an additional year in the same capacity with the Montgomery Blair High School paper in Silver Spring, Md.

Also awaiting Publications Committee approval is the nomination of Jeanie Tait as managing editor. She has been Juniatian news editor during the past year, and served as club editor and reporter for the paper before that. She is a sophomore.

While attending Abington High School, Roslyn, Pa., she helped edit the student literary magazine, "The Oracle."

To assist him, Holsopple has named Frank Harlacher as news editor, advancing Joyce Bernard to the post of feature editor. He also named Galen Frysinger and Frank Garrison official Juniatian staff photographers.

Harlacher had been feature editor before his advancement. He expects to continue his motion picture review column, "The Cineviewer", while handling his new duties.

JC Blood Drive Donations To Go To Armed Forces

Here are a few facts designed to clarify some misunderstandings that have been created pertaining to who gets our blood.

All the blood will not go to Huntingdon. The organization is the Huntingdon County Blood Bank with headquarters in Johnstown. Its purpose is to secure blood, to be stored in the bank in Johnstown for the use of Huntingdon county hospitals when needed.

However, states Dean Jane McCormick, "only 43 percent of our blood will go to the Johnstown bank. The rest is to go to the armed forces." Miss McCormick also said that, "donating blood here on campus makes us members of the bank and gives us the right to secure blood free in any part of the country at any time. In other words, it is a transferable situation."

It seems that the reason Huntingdon is so interested in securing its quota is because local men are on the board which is responsible for making it worth while for the Red Cross to make a trip here. They are voluntary members of the Red Cross and it is through this connection that enables them to secure the services of that organization.

JWSF Goal Short As 3rd Week Ends

In the third week of the JWSF drive, the students have met only 37% of their goal, according to Treasurer Dave Bayer. This figure does not include pledges.

Students have contributed $411 while the administration has given $103. The faculty has donated $165.50.

Friends have sent $95 to the campaign and clubs and organizations on campus have given $298. The total, not including pledges, has reached $1072.50.

All pledges should be paid by Sunday but they will be accepted any time after that date.

50 Enrolled In Town Program

Eighteen additional registrations have been enrolled in the new series of courses in Juniata's community education program.

The total number of students is now listed at 50.

Nine of the 18 students signed up for Prof. G. Wayne Glick's courses in "Jesus and His Teaching." Five were enrolled in Miss Miriam Schlegel's course in "Ways of Teaching", and four were added to Miss Esther Doyle's course in "Dramatics in Christian Education."

The new registrations increase the number in the classes taught by Prof. Glick and Miss Schlegel to 20. Miss Doyle's class has 10.

Asan Named Editor Of Game Program

Bob Asan has been selected to edit a program for the coming high school playoff game this Tuesday night. The game, featuring Hollidaysburg against Derry-Burnham, is for the District Six, Class A championship.

The program will be a special feature for the game and is in no way connected with the official Juniata program, The Tomahawk. Asan was editor of the latter pub-

Fall Grades Show Downward Trend

The office of the registrar has announced Wednesday, March 19 as the official date ending the Mid-term and Monday, March 24 as the deadline for grades from instructors.

"Although mid-term grades move faster," says registrar A. William Engel, "they will not be available to students until Thursday, March 27."

This office also reports that a comparison of grade or quality point averages for the fall term (last semester) shows a slight trend downward. The all college average for the fall term was 1.324 compared with a 1.34 average for the preceding semester (spring '51). The women lead the men in quality point average.

Pollock Sent Congrats By Dick Wareham

To the Editor:

I was happy to hear that a freshman boy set a new record at Juniata for the most points in one game in basketball. I wrote Dave (Pollock) a letter of congratulation, as I'm sure he was elated beyond words.

It looks good for Juniata to have a boy like this, if you can get some "big boys" to supplement him. I still keep hoping that I'll get to see a Juniata team in the NAIB playoffs in Kansas City while I'm still is Kansas.

That's quite a physical education building for Juniata, and a fine piece of planning. I looked it over last Summer some, on a short visit to the Hill. The campus looked nice, as usual. Juniata seems to be prospering even in these uncertain days for young people.

Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Dick Wareham

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dick Wareham formerly held the Juniata scoring record for most points scored in a single contest, 42. This mark was broken this season by Dave Pollock who flipped in 43 against Lebanon Valley. Wareham also holds the record for the most points scored in a single season, 353. He set both records during the 1944-45 campaign for the Blue and Gold Basketeers.

Indian Tossers Open Tuesday; Tribe Golfers Begin Against Pitt

The lid flies off the Indians' spring sports calendar Tuesday afternoon, when the baseball and golf squads open their respective seasons. Both contests are to be played on foreign scenes and will open the Juniata spring sports campaign just before the Easter vacation begins.

The Tribe tossers travel to Reading to meet the Lions of Albright College. The linksters will attempt to commence another campaign on a successful note Tuesday when they travel west to face the golfers of the University of Pittsburgh.

The Juniata linksters will begin their 1952 campaign on Tuesday when they travel to meet the golfers of the University of Pittsburgh. The match is to be played at the Shannopin Country Club.

The Indians lost only one match last season, to Westminster. The Panthers dropped but two last year, to Juniata and to Penn State.

Art Allen
● Team Captain ●

Capt. Art Allen will lead the Tribe into the fray in high hopes of starting the season with a victory. Pitt has six returning lettermen and will present a strong match against the Indians. These returning lettermen include Capt. Bob Reilly, Andy Figura, Dick McCarthy, Bill Stitt, George Straub, and Mike Swartz.

This will also be the opening match for the Panthers. Playoffs for top position for competition this season are being held among members of the Juniata squad. Members vying for positions are Allen, Tom Cherok, Ray Siren, Bob Rahrney, Dave Bayer, and Tom Sanders.

The Juniata Indians will begin their 1952 baseball campaign Tuesday afternoon with a road contest at Reading against the Lions of Albright College. This will be the beginning of a 17 game schedule for the Blue and Gold. This year's schedule finds the Indians playing almost every other afternoon after returning from the Easter vacation.

The Indians have been working consistantly each afternoon and are beginning to round into shape. Coach Smaltz seems to have plugged his gaps with capable ballplayers. The catching position is being ably filled by Jack Dickey and Fred Hamor. This was a major concern of Smaltz earlier in practice sessions but the before mentioned pair have seemed to fill the bill.

The infield is nearly the same as last season with the exception of first base and the reserves also present new faces. Wes Lingenfelter has won the job at the initial sack with his fine fielding and timely hitting. Rem Grove will be behind Lingenfelter to replace him if necessary. Ken Leonard and Dave Hackett are still battling it out at the keystone sack. Stan Schrok will be behind these two as a reserve.

Schetrompf At Short

At shortstop the situation is in hand with George "Duke" Schetrompf handling the duties. Harold "Goose" Gray will spell Schetrompf if necessary. "Duke" is a holdover from last season and was one of the leading hitters on the squad.

Bob "Monk" Simon, another returnee, will handle activities at the hot corner. Behind him will be Cy Dubbel. Simon is a sure fielder and, despite his size, can hit the long ball.

The outfield is manned by Joe Hinish, Fran Zimmerman, and Tom McNeal. Outfield reserves include Joe Veto, Ken Mummah, Tom Green, and John Martin.

The pitching staff is still without a southpaw after losing Dave LeFevre. Smaltz has had Earl Detrick, Ed Feldkircher, Ken Mummah and Joe Hinish working on the mound during practice sessions. Tom Green has joined them and is slowly rounding into form.

Lions Open Tomorrow

The Lions will open their season tomorrow against Ursinus in a road tilt. Coach Ed Gulian will be opening his third season as coach of the Lions. Last season they had a 13-7 record and in 1950 they won and lost six.

The Blue and Gold, after the Albright game, play next after the Easter vacation when they face Lebanon Valley at home. This contest is scheduled for Apr. 17, the day classes resume after vacation.

Original Fable Produced With No Difficulties, Says Author

by Jeanie Tait

A roly-poly king with a passion for fairy tales, a squire who always talked in rhyme, a very modern and hep young princess, a hot-rod Harry, and beautiful twin witches stepped out of the realm of enchanted forest onto the stage of Oller Hall last Thursday when Jim Streiner and Judy Shanabrook presented "a modern musical fable."

Broadcast over WHUN on the Juniata on the Air program, the fable dealt with the efforts of King Roly-Poly to get himself written up in a fairy tale as "a slayer of dreadful dragons and a fighter of fearsome giants.

Play Without Difficulties

According to author Streiner, the plot came from a file of original story ideas which he's been keeping ever since high school. The music for the fable was written by Miss Shanabrook.

During his four years of "close work with WHUN," Streiner feels that this was one of the few of his shows to be produced "absolutely without difficulties. Everything went smoothly, primarily because everyone knew what they were doing."

Cast Named

The cast of the fable included Steve Musto, Joy Truxel, Art Shriver, Bob Flory, Carrie Lou Greene, Betti Brumbaugh, Jody Siemon, Barbara Lape and Don Sikes.

Technical assistance from WHUN was a great help in the production, the author adds. Mr. Sam Stroh, past manager of the station, and Bill Germann, present manager, were both on hand to give valuable aid," Streiner said.

Streiner Author Of Other Shows

"It was a strictly experimental production from the standpoint of both Judy and I," Streiner reports. "We are considering another original show sometime in the future."

A senior, he was the author of two All Class Night skits, both musicals.

He has written original radio promotion shows for All-College musicals such as "Pirates of Penzance" and "Sweethearts." For the past year, with the help of Carrie Lou Green and Miss Shanabrook, he has been scripting the Tuesday edition of Turntable Terrace.

Bloodmobile Got 143 Pints Thurs.

The WAA reports that 162 persons reported to the bloodmobile stationed in the gym to donate blood last Thursday. Of this number 19 were unable to contribute, which lowered the number to 143 or 141½ pints of blood received.

This total includes: 125 students, 22 scheduled townspeople and 15 walk-ins (unscheduled students and townspeople). Of the 179 scheduled, the committee reports, 150 appeared. Seven of the deserts were college students.

Donors Felt No Effects

General comments from the doners, according to dean Jane McCormick, faculty advisor for the campaign, indicated no unfavorable effects. She went on to say that approximately seven persons passed out during the process.

The Womens' Athletic Association sponsored the drive. Some of those most responsible for its success were: Joyce Mullan, general chairman; Janet Wiltshire, schedule, appointments and registration; Pat Henry, Joy Reinhart, Nancy Rabb, Nancy McCahn, Nancy Blank, Kay Kuehne, Lois Robinson and Carol Custer.

Townspeople Contributed

Townspeople who offered their services were hostesses: Mrs. William B. West and Mrs. H. H. Nye; nursing committee: Mrs. Frances Mainzer, Mrs. Ralph Volpe, Mrs. Glenn Carlsun, Mrs. Harry Negley; and medical technologist, Mrs. Charles Schucker.

A canteen was set up for the purpose of serving sandwiches, coffee and tea both before and after the ordeal. Mrs. Maurice Banker headed this group and her committee included: Mrs. Edgar Westbrook and Mrs. Ruth S. Roth.

Frosh Girls Get 10:30 Permissions

Freshman girls were granted 10:30 permission beginning Wednesday night, according to Dean Jane McCormick.

There is no ruling as yet on late permission. The situation will be discussed at the women's house committee meeting on Thursday, April 3. Any decision made will not go into effect until April 4th. Until then, the existing rules remain in force.

The present rules concerning lates are: sophomores receive one late per month, juniors two, first semester seniors three and second semester seniors unlimited lates. According to the law passed by retiring women's house committee, these lates are accumulative.

Dinners Slated

Two alumni dinners are scheduled for this weekend, reports Harold B. Brumbaugh.

The Clearfield Centre County dinner will be held at the State College Hotel Friday evening, April 4 with Dean Morley Mays as principal speaker. The Warblers Trio will furnish entertainment.

Dr. T. F. Henry will be the main speaker at the Philadelphia alumni dinner scheduled for Saturday, April 5 at the Robert Morris Hotel in that city.

Alumni secretary, Harold B. Brumbaugh, will speak at both meetings.

Enrollment Drops in Penna.

Student enrollment in Pennsylvania colleges and universities dropped 10% in the last year, according to the State Department of Public Instruction.

At the same time, a 10% gain in medical school enrollment was registered.

The survey showed that 96,789 full-time and 37,350 part-time students were enrolled as of last fall.

Sniders To Tour Europe In Summer

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Snider are planning a two month tour of Europe this summer with the Olympic Games in Helsinki, Finland as their objective.

"I think," the JC director of athletics said, "that a person should do everything he can to keep interest in his field and broaden his scope of knowledge. Travel is one way for a person to extend his education."

Will Visit Relative

"If everything goes as scheduled," he went on to say, "Mrs. Snider and I will sail from New York June 11, for Cherbourg, France." From there they will go to Paris and on to Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. Snider will then make a stop at the Brethren Service Area, Kassel, Germany to visit Mr. Don Snider, '39, a relative who is engaged in service work there.

Week Stay At Games

After this visit, the Sniders will make a tour of the Scandinavian countries and arrive at the Olympic Games in Helsinki, Finland July 19 for about a week stay.

"From the games," Mr. Snider added, "we plan to go on to Norway and then to London. After a short tour of that general area we will sail for home approximately August 12."

History Contest Open To Students

Those students wishing to enter the Stackpole History Competition should submit three copies of an historical essay to Dr. Kenneth Crosby or Dr. H. H. Nye before May 15.

The contest is open to any regular student enrolled at the College and a prize of $25 will be awarded to the winner at commencement time.

Essays submited must be on subjects relating to some locality in the Juniata river basin of historical significance. The length of the essay is optional.

More specific details of the contest, past entries and prize winners can be seen in the library where they are now on display.

Seventh Veil In Oller Hall Apr. 19

The movie, "Seventh Veil," will be shown in Oller Hall the Saturday after vacation, April 19, according to Mickey Monks, new Senate chairman of social activities.

A British made film, it deals with the efforts of psychiatry to lift the veils of fear which have caused a concert pianist (Ann Todd) to have a mental fixation that she can never play again.

Flashbacks of the frustration of her former life occupy most of the time. James Mason seems to be prominent among the frustrations.

Musical interludes include Grieg's Concerto in A Minor and Mozart's Sonata in C Minor performed by the London Symphony Orchestra and ghost pianist, Eileen Joyce.

May Day Returns

May Day will comply to the resolutions made at the conference. Including the winding of the maypole, the celebration will follow the Spring Festival theme, but will be called May Day.

As resolved at Camp Kanestake, the chairman of publications gave assistance to program chairmen when requested. Also business managers were asked to sell their ads in such a way that business men would feel that their money was not a donation.

After the first offense, freshmen were punished by the court in a constructive vein. The recommendation to the sophomore class that their initiation program for freshmen be constructive was not fulfilled.

Reverence In Chapel

In order to promote a more proper atmosphere in chapel, Professor Donald Johnson was asked to play softer music for the prelude. After a month's trial, it was found that this step was not successful. However, President Calvert Ellis was asked to remind the student body that all chapel services are religious services. "This action seemed to have had better results," Allen reports.

Also resulting from Leadership Conference was the announcement of the name of the person giving audible grace in the dining hall.

Since resolutions in the field of athletics were made while Bob Asan was in office, they were not necessarily the same ideas carried out by his successsor, Bob Keim, following Asan's resignation. "However, Keim promoted a well organized and balanced program of intramural sports on campus," Allen states.

Vol. 28—No. 24 Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. Saturday, April 19, 1952

Beery, '82, Hits Century

Prof. William Beery, oldest living alumnus of the College, celebrated his 100th birthday April 8 Elgin, Ill. Prof. Beery was on campus for nearly a week last year during the 75th anniversary celebration. Highlighting that visit was his singing in the dining hall.

Born April 8, 1852, near Bremen in southeastern Ohio, he was the tenth child in a family of 13. The doctor told his parents that he would not live. Not only has he lived for 100 years, but he also contributed to Christian living as a religious song writer.

Congregations of the Church of the Brethren throughout the nation united in recognition of his achievements in special services on April 6. His songs were the main feature of these services.

Studied In Hills

Mr. Beery is also a prominent figure in Juniata history. When he first arrived at JC (then the Brethren Normal College) in 1878, the school was closed because of a smallpox epidemic. He and two other boys from Ohio "took to the hills" where they continued their studies for six weeks at the Forge in a woodchoppers' house.

When he returned to continue his music studies he took charge of the department of vocal music and at the same time carried some Normal English courses, which enabled him to be graduated in 1882. He continued on the faculty until 1885.

Likes Traveling

In addition to his teaching at the College on various occasions, he also taught music in the public schools of Huntingdon for two years and directed the choir at the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory for 13 years.

Mr. Beery spends most of his time at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Isaac N. Garber, in Elgin, although he enjoys traveling and recently spent two weeks in St. Petersburg, Fla. He passes his leisure hours by writing music and carrying on correspondence with the many friends throughout the world which he has made in 100 years of service to humanity.

Regular faculty members, Dr. Mays added, will be supplemented by visiting instructors.

Juniatian Gets 1st Class Award

The Juniatian still retains its rating as a First Class small college newspaper, according to Associated Collegiate Press judging of papers produced during the Fall semester of this year.

Four papers in the 500-999 enrollment group received the highest rating, All-American, while 20, including the Juniatian, were in the next highest division of excellence.

Papers are judged on news coverage, style, make-up, feature material and editing.

Most points were lost in the judging of feature material and general writing. Judges remarked that feature material seemed to be lacking, while writing "Fails often to follow style and needs better organization."

Talent Show To Be In Oller Hall Sat.

Next Saturday the social committee will present a Talent Show in Oller Hall at 8:15 p. m.

The show will include a very good cross-section of campus talent, Mickey Monks, chairman of social activities stated. It will include the voices of Steve Musto and Joy Truxal, the "Warblers" trio, the Varsity Quartet and Prof. Philip Bedient.

Also on the program will be the trumpet of Bob Brumbaugh and the dramatic talent of Phyllis Link and Janet Boland.

Following this program, Miss Monks added, will be informal dancing in the women's gym.

New Trees Planted

According to Paul Friend, business manager, one redbud and 17 dogwood trees were planted during vacation at various points on the campus.

The trees were planted, he added, in conjunction with the overall campus landscaping plan which the College is following. Unless other things are scheduled, he went on to say, nothing additional will be done until vacation except the removing of some of the stumps of removed trees.

Choir To Tour

The A Cappella Choir will be away from College Hill Sunday. On third weekend trip, Prof. Donald Johnson's choir will again present its program of sacred music.

Full concerts will be sung at Williamsburg, Leamersville, and Altoona.

Draft Test Set For Wednesday

The first 1952 Selective Service Qualification Test will be given at 8:30 a. m. Thursday, April 24, in the women's gymnasium, according to Dean Morley Mays, local supervisor.

Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J., who sets up the examination, has advised Dr. Mays that 41 students and other applicants have been assigned to take the test here.

The testing service has further reported that of the total number which have taken the test previously, (the last test was Dec. 13, 1951) 63 percent have obtained the required grade of 70 percent.

Dean Mays added that there are two criteria which local draft boards consider when reviewing a case for deferment: score on the test and class standing. Neither of these are, however, are final and the decision is still at the descretion of the local board.

A person, by virtue of the fact that he is a college student in good standing, may, if he is called in the course of a college year, secure one deferment to last until that term expires, Dean Mays stated. This, however is the limit for this type of deferment.

Movie Cancelled; Replaced By Party

The movie, "Seventh Veil" previously scheduled for tonight has been cancelled due to a mix-up in booking dates and a misunderstanding with the film company, Mickey Monks, chairman of social activities announced.

In its place, Miss Monks added, will be a special party in the old gym at 8:15 p. m. with entertainment furnished by the social committee. The nature of the entertainment seems to be a mystery, but Mickey promises surprises and an enjoyable evening for those who attend.

May Day Committee Decides New Dates For Observances

The date of the May Day Breakfast has been changed to May 1, thus moving the elections up to April 29 and 30.

Additional committee chairmen for May Day have been named by general chairman Kay Wright. They are Nancy Slonaker, programs; Mim Smith, flowers; Jack Ulsh, elections; and maypoles, Carol Laudermilk.

Club co-ordinator Bob Keim has announced the rules to be followed by the club in preparing their exhibits for May 10. Lots were drawn by the club representatives for their campus sites. This year all exhibits will be outside with indoor locations designated in case of rain.

Final club plans are to be submitted by April 26 while budgets, which may not exceed five dollars, are due May 9.

All displays must be completed before the coronation ceremony and ready to be opened immediately afterwards. Someone has to be stationed at each booth all day. At five o'clock the clubs may begin to take down exhibits and the deadline for closing is eight o'clock that night.

Dr. Kenneth Crosby

● Elected Adviser ●

Crosby Elected Senate Advisor

Dr. Kenneth W. Crosby, chairman of the history department, has been elected by the Senate to serve as faculty advisor to that group for the year 1952-53. The election took place at the first meeting of the new Senate, held April 2.

This will mark the third successive time that Dr. Crosby has served in this capacity. His first election was in 1950.

The new advisor completed his undergraduate work at Wilmington College in 1939. He received his A. M. from Haverford College the following year. From 1942 to 1946 he served as an Army chaplain, seeing service in England and on the continent.

Upon his discharge from the service, Dr. Crosby entered George Washington University where he received his Ph. D. in 1949.

A native of Ohio, Dr. Crosby came to Juniata at the beginning of the fall term in 1948.

J. C. Blair Ball Tickets Ready

Tickets are now available for the Third Annual J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital Charity Ball at which Sammy Kaye and his entire troup will furnish entertainment and musical support.

The ball will be held Wednesday, April 30, from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. in the new gymnasium. College girls will have 1:30 permissions for this affair, according to Dean Jane McCormick.

Miss McCormick announced that both she and Mr. A. William Engle, Jr., have tickets for sale. The price is $2.50 per person or $5.00 a couple.

Mr. John B. Brown, chairman of the Ball has reported the dress for the dance to be optional. He went on to say that everything is going as scheduled and no changes will be made in the original plan.

The "Swing and Sway" group will present one and a half hours of entertainment in addition to furnishing the dance music. They will feature their regular TV lineup including: singer Barbara Benson, drummer Ernie Rudisill, 350-pound sax-man Chubby Silvers, the Kaydets and the Kaye Choir.

A REVIEW

Class Skits Face Problem Of Variety, Universality

BY JIM STREINER

There are two problems inherent in any All Class Night, by the very nature of the production. One must be faced and met by the judges. The other must be recognized by the various classes.

For the judges, there is the problem of variety. Each class may try an entirely different form of theatre art. And since each may do a masterful job of presenting and handling their particular art form, it becomes necessary for the judges—and the audience—to weigh their judgment of one form against another.

This year the four classes tried satire (the senior investigation of Washington politics, "Daddy's in the White House"), a musical revue (the frosh dance-filled national tour, "Honeymoon, USA"), a parody (the junior modernization of "Romeo and Juliet," entitled "Forsooken Willie"), and a straight drama (the soph study of romance versus the caste system of India, "Bangalore").

All of which raises the question, by what standards shall a drama trying to say something be judged against a semi-satire aiming strictly for laughs?

Sketches Need Universality

The problem to be faced by the classes in planning All Class Night sketches is one of universality. It must always be remembered that the paying customers (and the judges) are not campus folk and do not know of mystery cakes and professorial idiosyncrasies.

Unlike last year, classes this time steered away from local subjects pretty generally. Only the juniors forgot that it is perhaps asking too much to expect Huntingdon audiences, however cultured, to know "Romeo and Juliet" as well as we, who acted in it recently—or at least watched it enacted over and over here until we knew by heart many of the lines.

Before we analyze each skit separately, we'd like to make one suggestion to assistant general chairman Phyl Link, who will fill the shoes next year of this year's general chairman, Carrie Lou Greene:

Basic Aim Forgotten

It would be wise to try to get across the meaning and purpose of All Class Night to future classes and judges. In the midst of an over-emphasis on winning on the part of the students and on pure entertainment on the part of the audience, the basic All Class Night aim of theatrical experimentation gets lost all too often.

Originally, All Class Night was born to supply an outlet for students who had, or thought they had, or wanted to attain some footlight talent and experience. Here is the only opporunity would-be writers have to try their hand at the craft, the only chance many hopeful actors, scenarists, lighting men and the rest get to work at their hobby.

More important, here is the only place, outside of radio perhaps, that Juniata students can experiment with new tricks, can do the sort of thing that everybody says can't be done, and so either prove that it can or find out for themselves why it can't.

Experiments Stopped

If the students, judges and audience do not understand this, then that sort of experimentation is all too often nipped before it ever has a chance to bud, and hackneyed work becomes the rule simply because "it's sure to win, and we've got to win."

Sketches are discussed in order of appearance, which was decided by drawing lots:

DADDY'S IN THE WHITE HOUSE—The senior offering used radio's old trick of the machine gun gag line; one joke followed another in rapid fire order, and so did the laughs, for the most part. According to reports, credit for the yak lines goes pretty equally to scripter Bob Volpitto and the ad lib artists of the cast, chiefly Bob Brumbaugh, who created a rather interesting imitation of HST.

There are no complaints from this corner on acting, make-up or technical tricks, and the scenery was beautifully simple. However, this was not true satire in any sense of the word, though it claimed to be. The truth was handled too loosely to be that. Ridicule is perhaps a better word for the attitude the authors took toward politics in our time.

A nod goes to whoever first

(See Page 4)

(Editor's note: this review of the fifteenth annual Juniata College All Class Night was written without any knowledge of the judges' selection of the winner, which was the freshman class. The following alumni and friends were selected to serve as judges by Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the President: Mrs. Frank E. Hench, Mrs. William West, Mr. George L. Parris, Mr. Richard Endres and Dr. H. C. Binkley.

EDITORIALIZING

Juniatian Takes 1st Class Rating

● THE JUNIATIAN received a first class rating in the recent nationwide judging carried on by Associated Collegiate Press. This shows that they think the paper does a pretty good job. But in the turmoil to arrive at fancy make-up, crisp writing, and good pictures, editors are all to likely to forget they are producing a campus paper for student readers. This is a paper for Juniata students and it should be a reflection of what they want to read. For this reason, suggestions and ideas for the betterment of The Juniatian will be eagerly received and seriously entertained.

● FOUNDERS DAY slipped by Thursday without the fanfare and celebration accorded last year's 75th anniversary. Nevertheless, even without adornment, it is an occasion which should give us pause. It should mark a time of rededication. Not particularly to some of the ideas and ideals which the College Founders entertained, for these are things which change with the years, but certainly to the vitality and resourcefulness with which they attacked the many problems facing the beginning institution. Let us then give thought to the matter of facing our own problems with the vigor and zest which these men employed in laying the foundation for an institution which celebrates its 76th anniversary this week.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Opinion Is Given On All Class Night

To the Editor:

The past All Class Night is causing quite a controversial issue on campus. The student opinion is that members of the faculty should not be permitted to serve on the judging committee. We feel that no judging should be made if this policy is to be continued.

We know that Juniata upholds the ideals of Christian morality—(who should know better than the students)—but when the attitudes toward a play are so frowned on by certain individuals we begin to wonder if we are not in pre-Victorian times.

After all, the mind does the interpreting and a so-called respectable mind will only interpret a decent understanding. A good interpretation is one of broadmindedness and not a misconstrued pious attitude.

It seems as if wit at Juniata is far from Johnsonian and runs at a premium, while judging a play for originality is practically nonexistant. We must remember that our world is not just bordered by the Stone Church and Swigart Hall but consists of a little more than just Juniata Campus.

(Name withheld by request)

Certain points of controversy presented in this letter may be clarified by referring to the All Class Night article on page 4.—Ed.

Some Fun

In a Balkan country in times gone by lived a family of six, including two grandparents, whom the father and mother treated with cruel contempt. The old people were not even allowed to eat with the family but were fed in a dark corner of the room on leftover scraps. One day the father noticed his two young children busily putting together a rickety little wooden table.

"Why are you doing such poor work?" he chided them. "That miserable little table is no good."

"Oh, that's all right," his children replied. "We will use this for you and Mother when you are old and have to eat in the corner!"

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER

Gettysburg Address Translated For Profs

Proving that, contrary to popular belief, at least some of JC's Prof's have a sense of humor and can enjoy a laugh on themselves; the following article was posted on the faculty bulletin board apparently put there by one of our alert faculty members.

The article was printed in the April, 1952 "Word Study" a publication of G. & C. Merriam Company. Their editor explained that the original article was written by an M. I. T. prof who pokes fun at some of his colleagues who hide their important messages in language only intelligible to other professors. The author says he rewrote this address "so that professors can understand it."

Lincoln Flops In Coffin

Eight and seven tenths decades ago the pioneer workers in this continental area implemented a new group based on an ideology of free boundaries and initial conditions of equality. We are now actively engaged in and over-all evaluation of conflicting factors in order to determine whether or not the life expectancy of this group or of any group operating under the stated conditions is significant.

We are met in an area of maximum activity among the conflicting factors. The purpose of the meeting is to assign permanent positions to the units which have been annihilated in the process of attaining a steady state. This procedure represents standard practice at the administrative level.

Abe Renounces Pride

From a more comprehensive viewpoint we cannot assign—we cannot integrate—we cannot implement this area.

The courageous units, in being annihilated, who were active in this area have integrated it to the point where the application of simple arithmetical operations to include our efforts would produce only negligible effects.

The reaction of the general public to this colloquim will be nonessential and transitory but the reaction to the impingement of the combat group is invariant. It is for this group in being rather to be integrated with the incomplete activities for which the combat groups who were active in this area have so comprehensively effected the initial implementation.

It Must've Been A Rebel

It is preferable for this group to be integrated with the incompleted implementation—that from the standards set by these respected deceased units we take accelerated intensive effort—that we here resolve at a high ethical level that the deceased shall not have been annihilated with our furthering the project—that this group under divine leadership shall implement a new source of unhampered activity—and that political supervision composed of the integrated units, for the integrated units, and by the integrated units shall not perish from the superficial area of this planet.

Farmboy, Playboy Compete On Screens

by Frank Harlacher

AARON SLICK FROM PUNKIN CRICK—Looking very promising with various elements of comedy, music, names and color, the Paramount film proves that farm folks aren't so dumb.

Harlacher

Alan Young is the young country lad who shows up Robert Merril, city slicker, and captures farm-neighbor Dinah Shore in the bargain.

The fun begins when Merril and wife come from city to country, slip in muddy oily hole on Dinah's farm and conclude that "there's oil in that there land."

They buy the lass out at a fabulous price so she takes her money and sets out for the big city. The Merrils find no oil and make an attempt to retreve the lost money that Miss Shore is now spending in the city.

Young enters the chase, and a series of humorous sequences follow with plenty of slapstick until the country lad outsmarts everyone and straightens everything out nicely.

The picture is packed full of music with Miss Shore giving her usual pleasing performance and Merril sticking to the unsophisticated style of the picture.

Grand Theatre.

JUST THIS ONCE—Peter Lawford is a playboy with a good war record who by his generous nature toward women is reducing a huge inherited estate to nothing.

Janet Leigh is a struggling young lawyer who is hired by the executor of the estate to control his finances. You can guess what she controls till its all over.

The theme of the light comedy is how a pretty young lady with both feet on the ground turns a rackless young playboy into an individual recognizing his responsibilities.

LOST MEDAL—Paul S. Groff, '26, was awarded a track medal during his graduating year because of his work as a high hurdler here. It was a small gold track medal with his initials on the back.

Since then, Juniata has heard of him only infrequently and his last address, reported to the Alumni Office in 1947 was in Ogden, Oregon. Now, P. M. Snider, Director of Athletics, reports that Groff's medal has been found in Altoona. Snider is holding the medal, and if anyone can inform him as to Paul's whereabouts, he'll return the medal.

PANTHERS JOIN—When the Pitt Panthers defeated the Indians 5-0 in the opening golf match of the season, they joined a select group of colleges who have been able to defeat the Tribe linksmen. Others in the select circle are, Western Maryland and Bucknell in 1947; Johns Hopkins in 1949; Westminster in 1951.

P. A. SYSTEM—After a successful public address system workout during the basketball season, why not have the same deal for the track meets and the Indian's home baseball contests? It would do no harm, and migh stimulate more spectator interest in these sports.

Inter - Class Meet To Be Held Today

The annual inter-class track meet will be held this afternoon on College Field. All are invited to compete for their respective classes. This will be the big warm up for the Indian track squad before their opening meet against Dickinson on Wednesday afternoon.

The class of 1952 will be after their third win after having their streak snapped last year by the class of 1954. Both track and field events will be held during the meet which will be supervised by Athletic Director P. M. Snider. All track candidates are especially urged to compete this afternoon.

Track, Tennis Teams Open This Week Here

The golf squad had their second match of the season yesterday when they traveled to New Brunswick, N. J. to meet the linksmen of Rutgers University. The Indians opened their 1952 golf campaign with a 5-0 drubbing at the hands of the University of Pittsburgh.

The tennis squad opens its 1952 season on Tuesday afternoon when they entertain Elizabethtown College. Capt. Jim Marr and his squad are expected to give a strong showing after splitting even last season, 4-4.

The track team will open their campaign on Wednesday afternoon at home against the thinclads of Dickinson College.

The week will be a major one as far as Juniata sports are concerned. The baseball squad will be at home on Tuesday afternoon when they play host to Elizabethtown. Then on Thursday they are away to meet Lycoming and they take to the road again on Saturday to face the Braves of Shippensburg STC.

Golf Shorts

Art Allen went into the Pitt match with an unbeaten record in 11 dual matches in intercollegiate competition. He is captain and number one man this year.

The Indian golfers will defend two tournament championships—Western Maryland and the Juniata College Invitational events—on its 1952 schedule.

* *

Headlining Juniata's golf schedule will be the third annual Juniata College invitational tournament on May 10 at the American Legion Country Club near Mount Union, Pa.

When the Pitt golfers blanked Juniata 5-0 in the 1952 opener at Shennopin Country Club on April 8, it marked the worst defeat and only shutout ever administered to a Juniata team.

Jack Dickey scored the winning run in Thursday's clash against LV. Dickey was a pitcher-outfielder last season. This year, Coach Smaltz has him working behind the plate and also serving in the outer gardens when not toiling behind the platter. Jack also stars on the basketball floor for the Indians and is a senior from Berlin, Pa.

IM Softball Loop Begins Monday

The Intramural Softball League will begin operations Monday afternoon, weather permitting. The league which was scheduled to start long before the Easter vacation was held up because of poor weather conditions. Play could have started Thursday had it not been for the home baseball game against Lebanon Valley.

Twilight play will commence after daylight saving time goes into effect late this month. Nine teams are anxiously awaiting the starting gun and many have been holding regular practice sessions to get into shape for the regular season play.

Tribe Beats LV 11-10 In Ninth; Joe Hinish Clouts Long Home Run; Face Frostburg STC Away Today

The Indians take to the road once again this afternoon to meet the Teachers of Frostburg STC, Md. The Indians will be out to extend their win streak to two straight after downing the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley on Thursday afternoon in a wild ball game 11-10. The same starting lineup will be in effect today with the probable starting mound assignment going to Big Ed Feldkircher.

The squad has been cut to 16 and the starting infield will find Wes Lingenfelter at first, Ken Leonard at second, "Duke" Schetrompf at short, and "Monk" Simon at third. Infield reserves include Rem Grove, Dave Hackett, and "Goose" Gray. Outfield starters will be Joe Hinish, Fran Zimmerman, and probably Tom McNeal. Catching will be either Jack Dickey or Fred Hamor. The pitching situation finds Ed Feldkircher, Earl Detrick, Tom Green, and Hinish. Green doubles as an outfielder.

Albright

After building up a 3-0 lead the Indians found rough going in the late innings to drop behind and lose their first game of the season 4-3. The game was played last Tuesday afternoon against Albright in Reading. Ed Feldkircher hurler, fine ball all of the way but some loose fielding in the seventh and eighth innings paved the way for his downfall.

The Indians managed to collect only two hits off the Albright hurler. These were back to back doubles by Fran Zimmerman and Jack Dickey.

An error by Duke Schetrompf in the seventh inning with the bases loaded gave the Lions two uncarned runs. Then in the eighth with a runner on second, Monk Simon booted a hot grounder at third base and the Lion runner came all of the way in to score the winning run.

Lebanon Valley

A lead off single by Jack Dickey, a sacrifice, and an infield single by Tom McNeal pulled an 11-10 victory over Lebanon Valley out of the fire Thursday afternoon. Earl Detrick, hurling fine relief ball, picked up his initial triumph of the season. It was also the first victory of the season for Tribe.

The lead changed hands several times, in the bottom of the eighth however, Joe Hinish hit a long home run over the right infield wall. This knotted the score at 10-10. Then in the home half of the ninth the Indians went to work and scored the winning run.

Ken Mummah began on the mound for the locals but had trouble with his control and was relieved by Detrick. Detrick smacked a long triple to center field for the second longest hit of the afternoon.

Wes Lingenfelter collected two hits for the Tribe. Hinish had 3. A fairly large crowd was on hand to witness the first home contest for the locals.

Golfers Drop 2nd

Juniata's golfers suffered their second defeat in as many matches yesterday when they bowed to Rutgers at New Brunswick. The score was 2½-1½. Tom Cherok and Dave Bayer accounted for all JC scoring.

Basic Purpose Of Experimentation Usually Forgotten By Classes

came up with the notion for the trio outside the curtain. It set the mood for the whole skit. Too bad it was the wrong mood.

HONEYMOON, U S A—Freshmen have two strikes against them from the start: they've never seen an All Class Night and they haven't been together long enough to find out who can do what in their class. If they're smart and a little bit lucky, they handle these problems as this year's class did.

The class of '55 turned these difficulties to their advantage. The first problem they handled by keeping their skit idea simple, both from the acting and scenaric standpoint. By doing a revue, they neatly solved the second problem, since it made it possible to use every talent the class had.

The major complaint we see is that it has all been done before, and better.

We salute Jack Claus' original gandy-dance, Bruce McKinley's clever lyrics for the cowboy story, Mitzi Osborne's fascinating dance, and even the less original Mickey Mick-Sue Jamison interpretation of "Honey Bun."

But we feel these were almost overshadowed by the fact that these revues always take their narrators on a honeymoon tour, ending with "This Is My Country" as a finale; they placed too much emphasis on dancing, instead of striking out for variety; and they erred badly in placing all of their reliance on hit parade stuff and records instead of originality.

In short, this was just a local Kiwanis Musicale or a Hose Company No. 2 fund-raising stunt repeated.

FORSOOKEN WILLIE—The juniors had a great idea here, and we're not too sure but what we think they spoiled it all by forgetting their audience.

In the first place, they jumped many of their best lines by trying to speak them over laughter. It can't be done. This may, incidentally, have been one sign of too much effort. They were far better at earlier practices, but grew steadily more stale as the final night approached.

In the second place, as we pointed out before, the juniors failed to emphasize the relationship between their show and the original Shakespeare script. The kind of exaggerated emphasis we feel they should have given their iambic pentameter and their puns styled in the manner of the bard would not have been according to Doyle, but it might have gotten their notion across better to the audience.

We feel also that the farced-up ending added nothing to the show, but rather tore it down.

We've thrown only brickbats at this show so far, but just because our space is limited. We can pay our compliments in nothing flat. From the standpoint of the basic idea of All Class Night—originality of theme, experimentation with all forms of theatre art, technical perfection, excellent casting, in short, everything—we give this show first place.

They tried to accomplish something, and they did.

BANGALORE—In those last two sentences we seem to have said what we had in mind to say about the sophomore production. Here too was a show that tried to say something—but unfortunately, it just missed.

From the technical standpoint, "Bangalore" came closest to doing what we think an All Class Night show should do. The experimentation with such unique tricks as original background music, a recorded voice to indicate thought on the part of a character, and the effective use of crowds and a narrator to set the moods prove that they were interested in something more than merely appealing to what they thought were the judges' interests.

Courage is a wonderful thing for an author to show. No other class can boast of it.

Character construction and plot pace were all that was lacking in the story as written. On the basis of what they learned this year, we strongly recommend that this class keep trying. Sooner or later, someone is going to write a drama which moves smoothly, creates people we can believe in, and makes them say something worth saying. It might well be the class of 1954.

Prof. Replaces Missing Judge

Honeymoon USA, the skit presented by the freshman class took first honors in the fifteenth annual Juniata College All Class Night. The following alumni, friends and faculty were selected to serve as judges by Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the President: Mrs. Frank E. Hench, Mrs. William West, Mr. George L. Parris, Mrs. Richard Endres and Dr. Harold C. Binkley.

The calling of Dr. Binkley, a faculty member, after the curtain went down, to act as judge was somewhat of a unique event for former judging practices of All Class Night. He was called, according to Dean Jane McCormick, faculty adviser to the All Class Night Committee, because of the failure of one of the five appointed judges to appear.

"We were faced with the necessity of a fifth judge because of a three-way tie which existed when the four judges present handed in their ballots," stated Carrie Lou Greene, general chairman.

The judges ballots, explained Miss McCormick are so arranged that each judge designates his first, second, third and fourth choice. Each choice is assigned a given amount of points. The points for each class are added to obtain the winner. It so happened that with only four judges the three-way tie resulted.

Phyllis Link, assistant chairman added, "Miss McCormick and Mr. A. William Engle, who were on hand to assist, thought Dr. Binkley the wisest available choice for the fifth judge. They asked Miss Greene and myself if we would accept his decision and we agreed. Dr. Binkley was then given a blank ballot and without any knowledge of the other judges decisions, decided the issue."

Library History And Treasures Revealed By Miss Lillian Evans

"There are more things in this library than any student dreams of!" So might Miss Lillian M. Evans say, after 33 years of getting acquainted with the College library. Now, the retiring librarian undoubtedly is the one person who can answer all questions concerning JC's Carnegie Library.

Miss Evans tells, for instance, of the rare books to be found in the library. The Sauer Bible, printed in 1743, she considers one of its most valuable possessions. The King James Bible of 1634, for example, weighs more than any book a JC student usually carries from class to class.

Rare Objects Described

"I think this is our most beautiful volume!" Thus Miss Evans describes an early French Bible. She sheds an enthusiasm which adds even more interest to the unusual books found in the library vault.

"But books are not the only rare and unusual objects here," she adds. "We have a fragment of an Indian commemorative stone known as the Standing Stone." Miss Evans then tells how the site of present-day Huntingdon was originally Standing Stone on an old Dutch map (also in the library).

The first safe of the first bank of Huntingdon also is in JC's library. It is an iron 'treasure chest' shaped container. Since the key has been missing for some time, the interior is somewhat of a mystery. "However," says Miss Evans, "I can assure you that there is no treasure in it—just old bills."

"Up-To-Date" Is Motto

Among the innovations during Miss Evans' progressive 33 years as head librarian is a microfilm viewer—The Recordak. Gift of the class of '49, this machine saves room badly needed for the many new books constantly arriving. "We have to keep up-to-date", she explains, and tells how microfilm files of the New York Times have helped create space.

Keeping up-to-date might be Miss Evans' library motto, for she has always tried to use new methods when practical. The picture loan collection, started in 1940 and now numbering over 100 prints, has been a favorite pastime of the busy head librarian.

The very office in which Miss Evans works abounds in story. "These pictures on the walls," says she, "tell the history of the growth of Juniata from a few rooms to the present campus." Outside the office is a candelabra from the Near East, donated by one of the Friends of the library.

● Shows Library Volumes ●

New Additions Secured

The Friends of the Library are alumni and other interested persons who give books and funds. It is with these Friends that Miss Evans has done much for JC's library. Through her efforts, book-collectors and travellers by the score have showered the library with rare and interesting additions to its fund of knowledge.

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh gave the Cassel collection. This included many early Pennsylvania German books—some written by Benjamin Franklin. Captain Will Judy, president of the Friends of the Library, is especially mentioned by Miss Evans as one who has given material aid and tireless effort in behalf of the library.

Though retiring, Miss Evans looks forward to a continued association with the College library. Freed from her administrative duties, she can—as she would say—"catch up on some of my reading."

Editor's Note: The 45th anniversary was commemorated last Thursday in a special Chapel service by Dr. George Clemens in a very enlighting and amusing talk. The service was held in honor of Juniata College's 76th Founders Day.

Clubs To Feature Debates, Play

Prof. Wayne Glick and Dr. Marlow Mows will debate on the subject "Revelation and Reason" at the JCA meeting Tuesday.

Each will give a 10-12 minute presentation after which there will be a period for informal rebuttal open to all in attendance.

The problem for discussion deals primarily with "divine epistemology." This topic is of such a nature that it will appeal to many students and faculty interested in the place of rationality in religious experience or even the validity of religious experience itself.

Thursday at 7:15 p. m. the Masque will present "The Man in the Bowler Hat" in Oller Hall. The one act play will be preceeded by a brief business meeting. Members of the Masque and friends are invited.

The IRC in conjunction with the FTA heard Vaclav Mares, native of Czechoslovakia and currently of Penn State, speak of his personal experiences with the communists in Czechoslovakia Friday at 7:15 p. m. in Founders Chapel.

Mr. Mares and his family will present some of their native songs in the Social Rooms before the meeting. All who are interested are invited.

Late Issue Today

The Juniatian is being issued a day late this week because of delays caused by the Easter recess. On Friday, Apr. 25, the normal Friday publication schedule will be resumed.

Dean To Leave; To Move West

Dean J. Melvin Rhodes has announced that he and Mrs. Rhodes will move to Tucson, Arizona, next fall for their health.

"I am now enrolled at the University of Arizona where I plan to take graduate work toward my doctors degree," Dean Rhodes answered when asked what he was going to do in his new residence.

The dean of students went on to say that he and Mrs. Rhodes are making no plans beyond one year. Mrs. Rhodes, he added, will take a much needed rest.

No details as yet have been released from the president's office concerning the replacement of Dean and Mrs. Rhodes. Mrs. Rhodes is now treasurer of the College.

Dean Rhodes will continue to serve as dean of students during the summer term.

Norris Elected SCM Chairman

Philip Norris was elected by the Regional Assembly of the Student Christian Movement to serve as Assembly Chairman for 1952-53. The election took place at the Assembly this past weekend at Dickinson College.

Approximately 140 groups in 95 colleges and universities are functionally a part of the SCM in this region, which includes New Jersey, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia.

Each participating organization selects a member to represent it in the Regional Assembly. Joanne Pentz and Norris were the official delegates from the JCA.

The Assembly elects basic membership of the Council and determines changes in regional purpose, structure, and general policies.

Norris will represent the Region at the National Student Council of YMCA's and YWCA's, meeting in August in the mid-west, and at the United Student Christian Council, meeting in Ohio in September.

Phyl Link and Janet Boland will present a short dramatic skit about typical people of New York.

Following the program will be informal dancing in the women's gym, reports Miss Monks.

Movies For Next Year Chosen By Students

The movies, "I've Always Loved You," "Angel and the Badman," "Someone to Remember" and "The Red Pony" have been selected by the student body to be shown in Oller Hall next year, announced chairman Mickey Monks this week.

The recently elected Senate chairman of campus social activities used an entirely new method this year for selecting the movies. "I first wrote to a number of film companies and found the Sixteen Millimeter Film Company offered the best deal for our situation," Miss Monks stated.

"From their list," she went on to say, "the social committee selected the ten which they considered to be best suited for campus presentation. I then had the ten movies, their stars and a summary of the story mimeographed on ballots. These I gave to a person from each table in the dining hall."

From these ballots the above movies were selected by the student body.

Movies Summarized

Movies selected as they appeared on Mickey's ballot sheet are:

"I've Always Loved You" starring Philip Dorn, Catherine McLeod, Felix Bressar, and featuring the superlative piano artistry of Artur Rubinstein. Intensely dramatic, the story is of a beautiful girl pianist who falls in love with a world-famous musician only to find that there is no place in his life or heart for anything but music. Technicolor.

"Angel and the Badman" starring John Wayne and Gail Russell. There's excitement, adventure and a deeply moving love story in this drama of a man who, alone, exhausted and injured is given sanctuary in the home of a Quaker family. Knowing the code of the rough and lawless west, he is taught a new and better way by the Quaker girl who loves him.

College Film Selected

"Someone to Remember" starring Mabel Paige and John Craven. From the famous pen of Ben Ames Williams comes this story of laughter and tears which centers about a little old lady who refuses to give up her home when a college buys it and turns it into a boys' dormitory. Waiting confidently for the return of her son

Invocation By Mrs. Ellis

Mrs. Calvert Ellis will present the invocation. Others at the speakers table will be Miss Jane McCormick; Kay Wright, general May Day chairman; Phyl Link, mistress of ceremonies; and Jody Siemon, breakfast chairman.

Following the theme of the history of May Day, the program will include a narration by Miss Link on the Roman origination of the day. She will explain the beginning of the Maypole in England.

Queen, Court Revealed

After this, the queen will be revealed in a surprise fashion. Miss Link will ask the queen her choice for Prince Charming, and the court will also be announced. Her Majesty will seat herself upon a floral throne.

Rustin To Be Chapel Speaker

Bayard Rustin, member of the faculty of the American Friends Service Committee's Institutes of International Relations and Director of the College Section of the American Fellowship of Reconciliation, will speak at Chapel Monday.

Mr. Rustin, a native of West Chester, Pa., is an American Quaker. For his refusal to participate in World War II, he spent twenty-eight months in Federal prisons. Later, he served as Youth Secretary, and finally as Field Secretary of the American Fellowship of Reconciliation.

For being "one of the Americans who had done most in the recent past to better relations between colored and white citizens", Mr. Rustin received the 1948 Jefferson award from the Council against Intolerance. His articles on the subject of tolerance have been used by such organizations as the Chicago Council Against Racial and Religious Discrimination as a basis for action.

Prof. G. Wayne Glick will give the Chapel talk Wednesday, and President Calvert N. Ellis will speak on Friday.

Editor Talks Of Letters, Exams

A sure way of expressing opinion is by writing letters, a sure place to send them is to the Juniatian where they may be published. Campus issues need airing, and an opinion is entitled to be heard whether the writer is in the right or wrong. It is our hope that a letters to the editor column will become a regular feature of this paper.

We will entertain letters on any subject, and from either side of any given fence. We will even go so far as to print recommendations for Joe McCarthy as President. The only stipulation is that all communications be less than 200 words in length, and that all be signed. A pen name may be used, but it is essential that the editor know who the writer may be.

With this we call the reader's attention to the two letters appearing this week. We hope that they are in indication of things to come.

We have 22 whole days before final examinations begin. Three weeks remain in which to dust off resolutions and promises, stop anticipating summer, and stop living and start studying. We say this because everybody knows it is impossible to live and study too. However, sometimes such things must be done—better a bit of suspended animation now than permanent oblivion beginning June 1.

Fervent Plea

Dear Lord, observe this bended knee,
This visage meek and humble,
And heed this confidential plea
Voiced in a reverent mumble.
I ask no miracles or stunts,
No heavenly radiograms,
I only ask for once, just once,
To pass these last exams.
One little lull, Lord that's my plea,
Then loose the storm again;
Bless all my pro?s and ask them to Be reasonable. Amen.

The Juniatian

Entered as second class matter at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly at Juniata College. $1 per year for subscriptions.

Letters of more than 200 words will be shortened at the editor's discretion. All letters must be signed, but the signature need not be published unless desired

Student Bans Kids From College Games

To the Editor:

An incident occured at the Dickinson track meet today that I think could have been prevented. A young boy interferred with a runner in the 2-mile event by sticking a vaulting pole across the lanes.

I am of the opinion that intercollegiate athletic contests are no place for unaccompanied children who are too young to appreciate what is going on. By all means they should be kept from handling the equipment.

Another case of similar nature is at baseball games where youngsters, by their running around, throwing things, and other actions, annoy the spectators, interfering with their enjoyment of the game.

I'm sure the trouble they cause is not worth the few cents admission, if any, received from them and that the solution lies in admitting only children who are accompanied by an adult.

Abe M. Finton

J-Club Soda Price Unfair Practice

To the Editor:

I should like to take this opportunity to protest the raise in price of sodas by the J-Club.

Since the bottling company reportedly has not increased the cost to the club, I can see no reason for the club taking this step. It seems to me that they are unfairly imposing upon the students.

Inasmuch as the concession is somewhat of a privilege, the club should recognize this and act in good faith toward the student body which through the Senate has granted them the concession.

I would appeal to the J-Club to reconsider their action.

If this is not done, I call upon the concessions committee to see that the students get an even break.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by BIBLER

"Don't worry about her—she'll have plenty of dates when finals start showing up."

CINEVIEWER

Two Generations Of Dancers Here

BY FRANK HARLACHER

SINGIN' IN THE RAIN—A picture such as this brings one to the realization of how far Gene Kelley has come and how he is still going. Dance routines are improving, acting is improving and showing the greatest stride in his singing which is a liability that Fred Astaire never quite overcame.

Not only do we find MGM's up-and-coming on the action side, but he has and always will have a great deal to do with the direction of his pictures.

This very successful musical has as its main asset a tune which sticks after the last reel fades; something Hollywood has been forgetting lately.

The story puts us in the time of the first "talky" movies and deals with the problem of the popular silent stars who find they haven't any voice.

As an additional attraction we have Donald O'Connor with just enough slapstick to complete the humor part. Debbie Reynolds fits in very nicely as the bright and gay element.

The musical numbers are versatile moving from vaudeville to ballet using technicolor to advantage. The songs are familiar yet touch at times on the classical notes.

Grand Theatre

BELLE OF NEW YORK—Fred Astaire still has plenty in the stems and he still has a definite place in pictures, but not as a lover of young and pretty maidens. He never was too pretty to look at and his personality is now becoming covered with wrinkles.

Before we say that the only things about it will be Vera Ellen and a few catchy tunes, the weakness of the screenplay must be mentioned. It lacks humor, punch and imagination.

Speaking of humor the supporting cast includes Marjorie Main and Keenan Wynn; a pair who ought to come up with something if they're given half a chance. Let's hope they are.

The Whiz Kids downed the Blivits 10-2 as George Newcombe exploded for a grand slam homer in the first inning. Ted McGwire had two hits as did John Richman, both for the winners. The winning battery was Richman and Towns.

The Bridgers won over the Sackhounds 9-0 via the forfeit route. The next games are scheduled for Monday evening.

Tribe On Winning Streak; Beat E-Town 9-5 And Frostburg 15-3; Face SSTC Away Tomorrow

The Juniata baseball season is in full swing, as the Indians met Lycoming in a road contest Thursday afternoon. They take to the road once again Saturday when they meet Shippensburg State Teachers College.

On Monday afternoon, the Tribe plays host to Indiana State Teachers in a home tilt, then on Wednesday the squad once again is home to face Susquehanna University. On Saturday the Indians get another crack at Indiana Teachers when they take to the road to meet this ever rough opponent.

The locals are playing good ball and are out to better last season's mark. In both home tilts the locals have had to come from behind. But, the necessary punch is there and may explode at any time.

Frostburg

The Juniata Indians won their second game of the season last Saturday afternoon when they swamped Frostburg State Teachers College, Maryland, 15-3. The Tribe smashed 16 hits including two homers and two triples.

"Duke" Schetrompf led off the game with a long home run to right center field. After this blow, Fran Zimmerman singled, Wes Lingenfelter singled, and Jack Dickey's long fly ball sent the third run scampering home.

The second inning saw three more tallies dent the plate, as Ed Feldkircher and Schetrompf singled, Joe Hinish walked to fill the bases. Zimmerman's fly ball sent one run across and a single by Dickey saw two more cross the dish.

Pitcher Ed Feldkircher hurled beautiful ball and was only dented for four hits. He walked five, struck out one and hit one batter.

Other extra base hits for the Indians were slugged out by Fran Zimmerman, who matched Schetrompf with a long homer to right center, Wes Lingenfelter who got a triple and a double, and Jack Dickey with a triple.

The 16 hits were spread among; Schetrompf with four, Hinish had two, as did Zimmerman, Lingenfelter, and Dickey. Bob Simon chipped in two and Feldkircher and Harold Gray had one each.

Elizabethtown

The Tribe won their third straight ball game Tuesday afternoon with a hard fought 9-5 victory over Elizabethtown. A late surge in the eighth inning won the game for the locals who were paced by the fine relief ball of Earl Detrick. It was Detrick's second win of the year and his second fine relief job in as many tries. Earl relieved starter Ken Mummah and allowed only one infield hit over four innings.

In the eighth the Indians went to bat trailing 5-4. But then things started to happen and fast. Jack Dickey started the big rally with a walk, Ken Leonard also managed a free ticket; then Coach Smaltz installed Tom Green as a pinch-hitter for Tom McNeal. He slammed a long triple which scored the fifth and sixth runs. Green scored on a wild pitch. "Monk" Simon tripled to center and "Duke" Schetrompf slammed a long home run to left center. It was his second round tripper in as many games and he leads the team in this department.

The locals collected but eight hits and these were scattered among Schetromph with two; Joe Hinish had one, Fran Zimmerman banged out two, while Green, McNeal and Simon had one each.

Resolved: Debate Team Has Good Record In Tournaments

by Bob Bailey

Mr. Chairman —Honorable Judge—worthy members of the opposition and friends. We are gathered here to debate a very important issue and we of the affirmative strongly believe that: Resolved: that the Juniata College Debating Society has just completed a successful season.

Under the leadership of Dr. S. Lees Booth, economist and Mr. Galen Frysinger, president of the Society, we held a number of intra-club debates last fall before encountering our first outside opposition at Penn State in Dec. This debate was a non-decision affair but we of the affirmative believe that Juniata won all encounters.

National Debate Question

The club spent the next month boning up on their economics in order to be better able to handle the national debate question: Resolved: that the Federal Government should establish a permanent system of wage and price controls.

In January we made our first extensive trip—a two day journey to the Pittsburgh district—debating such opposition as Pitt, Duquesne, St. Vincents, and Seton Hill. All of these debates were of the non-decision variety.

The next week we attended our first tournament, one at Mount Mercy College. Considering our relative inexperience Juniata did not fare too badly, winning two and losing four.

Main Evidence Presented

Now we of the affirmative wish to present our main evidence which we feel is so overwelming that even you of the negative will be convinced of the validity of our case.

The evidence is our record at the State Debating Tournament at Lehigh University. Juniata's affirmative team won three of their four debates, forfeiting one because a blinding blizzard blocked their attending it. The negative won one of four, forfeiting one because of the same reason.

The Society wound up the season with another informal debate with Penn State.

Regular members of our teams were Ron Cherry, Charlie Kipp, Frysinger, Ray Fowler, Jo Pentz, Bob Bailey, Clem Rosenburger, and Phil Norris.

Special Test For Draft Set For Late May

An additional Selective Service College Qualification Test has been scheduled for May 22.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, announced that this test will be held for the benefit of students prevented by illness, emergencies or some other reason from taking the test on Dec. 13, 1951 or April 24 of this year.

Dean Morley Mays, local supervisor for the test, must make application for new tickets in order to be admitted to the May 22 test. Unused tickets from previous tests are void.

Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight May 10, 1952. Blanks may be obtained at the local Huntingdon draft board and need not be secured from the board having jurisidiction over the student.

Requirements Listed

Eligibility requirements are:

- Applicant must be a selective service registrant who intends to request deferment as a student.
- He must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course, undergraduate or graduate, leading to a degree.
- He must not have previously taken the test.

Criteria Explained

Draft boards will use the test, plus class standing only as criteria in consideration for deferment, General Hershey added. The final decision still rests with the board. A grade of 70 or better on the test is still the requirement.

Class standing requirements are: among the male members of his class a freshman must be in the upper half of his class, a sophomore in the upper two thirds and a junior in the upper three fourths. A senior accepted for admission to a graduate school can justify the criteria if he is among the upper half of his class or has made a score of 75 or better in the test.

Students already enrolled in graduate schools may be considered for deferment so long as they remain in good standing.

Cornell offers 12 graduate assistantships each year, Miss McCormick explained. "Because of my experience here," she added, "I will be able to obtain my master of arts degree in student personnel administration in a year and a summer; the normal time being two years."

Appointed Head Resident

Miss McCormick went on to say that while a student at Cornell she will serve the University as Head Resident of a small dormitory. She explained that Cornell women are disciplined completely by student government.

Their student government is a member of the national organization; "Women's Student Government Association" which sets down general rules. Juniata could easily become affiliated with this organization, the dean added.

A graduate of Pennsylvania State College, Miss McCormick joined the faculty in Sept., 1949 as instructor in physical education. When Miss Spencer was granted a leave of absence in Aug., 1951 Miss McCormick was appointed Acting Dean of Women. This year she has served the College well both as Dean of Women and director of women's physical education.

Traveled Abroad

In the summer of 1950 Miss McCormick and some friends took a 63 day tour abroad for "fun and education."

Pres. Ellis reported that with the resignation of Miss McCormick two vacancies must be filled by the College: dean of women and physical education instructor. The President has no official data for release at this time.

Regular Classes Scheduled May Day

The registrar's office reports that a full schedule of classes will be in effect on May Day, Saturday, May 10.

Those participating in the exercises who need to be excused from any morning classes will be granted excuses, the office added.

Juniatian Opens Staff Positions To All Interested College Students

In line with a new Juniatian reorganization policy, all editorial and business staff offices except those of editor, business manager and managing editor are now open to the student body at large.

A trial period of two weeks will give those interested in securing editorial or business staff positions on the paper a chance to gain experience.

All persons interested in serving on the paper are advised that tryouts are now open for the positions of news editor, sports editor, feature editor, club editor, proofreader, copyreader, columnist and reporter on the editorial staff, and also in the advertising and circulation departments of the business staff.

After the final issue of the year, on May 16, appointments to the staff of the paper for the 1952-53 college year will be made by the committee, which is composed of the editor, business manager and managing editor. Appointments will be made on the basis of effort, cooperation, willingness to work, and willingness to learn.

Anyone interested should contact the editor, Jim Holsopple, in the publications office, preferably after the evening meal on Monday or sometime Tuesday afternoon.

An announcement of the new staff will be posted sometime before the end of the year. Those persons chosen by the committee will then assume their new offices at the beginning of the fall term.

Book On Grads Causes Comment

A new book, titled "They Went to College," published by Harcourt, Brace & Company, is currently causing a great deal of discussion in the educational world. The book reveals some surprising new information about college graduates, as well as reaffirms many traditional beliefs.

"They Went to College" is based on a survey by Time magazine, the data from which was analyzed by the Columbia University Bureau of Applied Social Research. Background work dates back to 1947. In that year, a committee of experts framed a number of questions to bring out the answers to some queries that had been voiced by college presidents.

Representatives of these questions were, "Does a course designed specifically for job preparation help more in later life than a liberal arts education," and "to what extent are graduates participating in community affairs."

Nearly 10,000 graduates from over 1000 colleges were mailed questionnaires containing some 13 pages. These grads ranged from the class of 1884 to that of 1947.

The book provides a composite portrait of all college men. Not only is it a study of past classes, but also it provides a forecast of what today's undergradutes can expect to gain from there college education.

Indicative of some of the data included in "They Went to College" are facts like this:

Some 70% of graduates feel that their college educations are of substantial benefit to them. 98% would again go to college, 84% would select the same institution, while most would repeat the same major.

History Is Ashamed Of Truman's Actions

by Bob Volpitto

Government of law and not of men has been the historical precedent. Rule by fiat has been rare.

Volpitto

Even the greats, Jackson, Lincoln, and F. D. Roosevelt, have not escaped censure for such actions. Now Pres. Truman has constitutionally violated precedent.

Seizure of the steel industry instead of envoking the Taft-Hartley Law has put Truman on the spot. He can neither justify his act nor augument his waning popularity.

More than a threat to constitutional government is the danger to labor's right to collective bargaining. Government should be a neutral mediator. In a bid for labor's political support the administration has destroyed the very essance of justice.

How can two parties meet on a common ground when one is allied with the mediator? Harry says history will record his action favorably.

History, like justice, is far from blind. The only reason she can't see so well is because her head is bowed in shame.

Movies Involve Music, Religion

by Frank Harlacher

WITH A SONG IN MY HEART—Here's the life story of singer Jane Froman that you've been hearing so much about. Her voice is on the sound track, but emerges from the beautiful and talented lips of Susan Hayward.

From all reports the success of this technicolor musical lies in Miss Hayward's remarkable job of mimicry. Miss Froman was on hand to assist in the picture's production and according to her it is a close pattern of her life.

The story is that of a trooper who despite leg and internal injuries derived from a plane crash, stages a come-back.

Thelma Ritter, as Miss Froman's nurse and companion, carves another substantial notch in her professional gun. David Wayne and Rory Calhoun are the competing rivals.

Clifton Theatre

WHEN IN ROME—The movie has a rather unusual story. A priest (Van Johnson) and a convict (Paul Douglas) find themselves cabin mates on a ship en route to Rome. The time is the Holy year which explains the priest's mission. The convict? He's escaping, of course.

In the course of this escape, however, he steals the priest's robe and succeeds in masquerading as a holy man until the real father aprehends him. The criminal is converted by the holy environment, however, and escapes the law again only to join the monks.

Lodge Mourns Passing Of Friend

By JOYCE BERNARD

After a serious illness, it has died! Although it has not been with us long, it will be missed. Bill Wright's plant finally gave up the ghost!

When Fred Dick left school in January he presented Bill Wright with a little plant. The horticulturists in the Lodge offered their expert opinions on its growth and survival.

The first treatment was to wash the leaves with soap and water, which was supposed to revive them—except they used Fels-Naptha soap!

Other Cures Suggested

Dr. Joe Miller and Garry Swenson knew from their professional experience in Science Hall, that ammonia would cure the ailing plant. However they could find no pure ammonia, so they used ammoniated toothpaste!

Transplanting is always beneficial, so this was tried. But in cleaning the dirt off the roots, they also took the little capillaries, leaving nothing but the bare stems!

But the brave plant faced all these tortures. With its head held high it refused to lose spirit. The plant was never well long enough to determine its type, but it had an unusually strong constitution.

Lost Fight

The climax came when Harry Vineberg knocked it on the floor. That was more than the ill one could take. It gave up the fight!

The loyal Lodgers held a small, but sedate funeral. The internment was held by the Lodge steps. A cross was erected on the grave saying "1950-52. Gone but not forgotten."

Bill Wright is very saddened by its passing. He says that if Miss McCormick got a new turtle from the boys, he feels that to aid his suffering the girls would replace his loss.

TURTLE TALES—Miss Mc Cormick's pet turtle was found dead last week, apparently caused by frustration of trying to get out of his little bowl. Jerry Varnail found a baby snapper turtle which he gave to Miss McCormick to replace the lost one. He plans to return it to its natural habitat when it gets big enough for soup!

• • •

BARGAIN HUNTER—Lolita Carfora was ordering lumber for May Day decorations over the phone. When the voice at the other end saked how much she'd like to spend, Lolita replied, "It's for Juniata College so make it the cheapest you've got." Really!

• • •

A NEW HOLIDAY—When one-quarter of Dr. Kenneth Crosby's Latin American history class showed up on Wednesday, he tried to find the cause. After a few minutes of deliberating he came up with, "I didn't know they had made Louisiana Purchase Day a national holiday." We didn't either!

SPORT FLASHES

WHAT'S THE SCORE?—After our plea for a public address system at the Indian's ball games went by the board, we once again step up on our soap box to ask for something new. With the scoreboard in right-center field being unused and the PA system definitely out for all baseball games, we think that the fans are getting a raw deal.

People are paying good money to see the College games and in past years they have always been able to find out what the score of the game is. Why not fix up the scoreboard, then purchase new numbers, and give the fans a break. Let's look like a college that supports its teams by giving them and their fans a good deal.

1952 INDIANS pictured above are currently enjoying one of the best seasons in the history of the sport at Juniata. They field a lineup that has potent bats throughout the batting order. Their fielding has been only average, while he pitching staff has done a fine job.

Pictured above, in the front row left to right, Bob Hasan, manager, Tom McNeal, Ken Leonard, Monk Simon, Jack Dickey, Capt.; Duke Schetrompf, Fran Zimmerman, Ed Feldkircher, Earl Detrick, Rem Grove, and Bob Breidenbaugh, manager. The back row finds Coach Bill Smaltz, Wes Lingenfelter, Joe Hinish, Sy Dubbel, John Martin, Fred Hamor, Dave Hackett, Tom Green, Ken Mummah and Harold Gray.

The Indians meet Indiana State Teachers College tomorrow afternoon in an away tilt. They defeated the Teachers on Monday 7-5.

Juniata Invitational Golf Tourney To Be Next Saturday

Next Saturday, May 10, the annual Juniata College Invitational Golf Tournament will be held at the American Legion Country Club in Mount Union. This will be the third year of the tournament which was initiated in 1950, when the University of Pennsylvania took the honors. Last year Juniata won the trophy and will be out to defend their laurels this season.

John Dyniewski, Temple University, won the medal play last year with a 36 hole score of 147. Juniata was the team champion with a score of 627. Members of the winning squad were Ray Korody, Bob Rhodes, Art Allen and Tom Cherok. Lehigh University finished in the runner-up position with a final total of 646.

This tournament is one of the largest invitational events in the east and is expected to draw many top name colleges and universities to the Mount Union course next week-end.

The Juniata netmen lost their second straight match of the season last Thursday afternoon when they traveled to Williamsport and lost a 5-4 decision to Lycoming. The Juniata scoring was accounted for by two singles wins and two victories in the doubles events.

Bob Keim and Nick Bruno won their respective singles matches. These two teamed together to give the Indians a win in the doubles matches. Bob Rauch and John Potteiger teamed to give Juniata its only win, other than the former two, as they accounted for another doubles victory.

The scores for the day were; Keim defeated Milnor 6-2, 5-7 6-3. Bruno downed Gillette 6-3, 3-6, 6-3. Potteiger lost to Taylor 6-3, 6-3. Marr lost to Nevins 6-1, 3-6, 6-4. SSTC Trackmen Trip JC Thinclads 82½-43½

The Indian thinclads dropped their second meet of the season to the trackstars of Shippensburg State Teachers College 82½-43½. The meet was held Tuesday afternoon on College Field.

Jack Rothenberger brought home two firsts for Juniata in the century and in the 220. His times were 10.3 and 24.0 respectively. His brother, Gene, took the broad jump for the second consecutive meet, this time with a leap of 17'1".

Juniata swept the mile run as Don Brinton won with a time of 5:51.0. Bob Flory was second and Wilfred Norris captured third place. The other win for Juniata was racked up by Larry Hartline, who tossed the javelin 162'2".

Chuck Knox finished second in the shot, Brinton was second in the two mile run and Gene Rothenberger gave the Indians 3 more points by taking second in the 220 low hurdles.

Fogelsanger had two firsts for Shippensburg by taking the shot put and the discus throw. His heaves were 38'3½" and 122'11" respectively. Dapps of SSTC won the pole vault with an 11' jump. Morris took the high jump with 5'4½", Swartley won the two mile event in 11:03, and Feather won the 120 yard high hurdles in 16.8.

The Indian track team sees action once again tomorrow afternoon when they encounter Bucknell and Gettysburg in a triangular meet at Lewisburg.

Tribe Outlasts Susquehanna 8-7; Put Streak Of Six Straight On Line Tomorrow Against Indiana

Susquehanna

A sharp single to left center by Duke Schetrompf sent Don Green across with the winning run in the 11th inning as the Indians won their sixth straight by an 8-7 score. The game, played Wednesday afternoon, was a thriller from start to finish.

Earl Detrick relieved Ken Mummah in the fourth inning and went on to notch his fourth victory of the season, three coming by way of the relief route.

Jack Dickey sent the Indians ahead 5-3, after they lost a 1-0 bulge, in the third inning with a triple to right with the sacks loaded. Dickey had two hits for the Tribe.

The Indians collected 11 bingles as Schetrompf had two along with Joe Hinish, Fran Zimmerman, Ken Leonard and Dickey. Monk Simon had one hit for his day's work.

This win put the Indians only one away from the Juniata record of most consecutive games won. The record as it now stands is seven, accounted by the 1947 Indian squad.

Indiana

Some fine clutch hurling by Earl Detrick coupled with solid bingles when they counted the most gave the Indians their fifth straight win of the season Monday afternoon. The win was over Indiana State Teachers College by a 7-5 score.

Detrick won his third straight win of the year, the other two coming via the relief route. Earl allowed 10 hits but fanned seven while passing only two.

The Tribe scored singletons in the first three innings, pushed two across in the fourth, one in the sixth, and one more in the eighth. The locals, found their bats to be almost silent in the extra base department, as Tom McNeal banged out the only extra-baser, a double.

"Duke" Schetrompf and Fran Zimmerman kept their sensational hitting up with two hits apiece. Others to collect two bingles were Wes Lingenfelter and Ken Leonard. Singletons were smashed out by Joe Hinish, "Monk" Simon, McNeal and Detrick.

A disheartening factor even though the Indians won, was the fact that they left 11 men stranded on the bases. The Indians didn't get to run on wood on the ball and it could have been as a result of a long lay-off without practice due to poor weather conditions.

Lycoming

The Indians exploded in the sixth inning for two runs and after that were never headed last Thursday afternoon as they beat Lycoming 8-0. The game played at Williamsport saw the Juniata hosts go to bat in the sixth inning of a scoreless duel between Ed Feldkircher and Lycoming's hurler Ed Younken. Fran Zimmerman started things rolling in this frame with a triple to right and when the relay went wild, "Zimmie" crossed the plate standing up. The next batter, Wes Lingenfelter smashed a triple to center and scored on Jack Dickey's long fly.

Feldkircher notched his second win of the season against one loss and threw his second straight four hitter. The home team threatened in the eighth and ninth but some sparkling fielding by "Duke" Schetrompf along with Feldkircher's clutch hurling stopped the would-be rallies.

The Tribe collected 14 hits, mostly in the last three innings. The hits were scattered among "Monk" Simon, Fran Zimmerman, Wes Lingenfelter, Jack Dickey, and Feldkircher all with two apiece. Ken Leonard, Tom Green, "Duke" Schetrompf and Tom McNeal had one each.

Juniata was without the services of hard hitting left-fielder, Joe Hinish, who missed the fray because of the Draft Deferment Examination which was held on that day.

The Tribe outfield handled only four chances, as Feldkircher whiffed seven and walked but four. His control was near perfect and many times he had Lycoming batsmen swinging at pitches aimed over the outside corner, or popping up to the infield.

Extra base hits went to Fran Zimmerman and Wes Lingenfelter who smote triples, Dickey, Feldkircher and Zimmerman again, had two baggers.

Appeal Possible

Local boards, the Selective Service director went on to say, have complete jurisdiction, but their classification can be appealed if filed in writing with the board within 10 days after the board mails the notice of classification.

"A deferment is a delay or postponement," Hershey said, "and in no way cancels the duty of the registrant to meet his obligations."

Pres Gives Dessert For Senior Class

Pres. and Mrs. Calvert N. Ellis will entertain the senior class at dessert in their home on the Friday evenings: May 9, 16, and 23. They recently entertained the entire faculty and administration at the Huntingdon Country Club.

The dessert is a traditional affair to which the Ellises invite the graduating class to their home for an informal gathering.

The banquet last Tuesday for the faculty and administration was reported to have been served "country style." This banquet is given annually.

Ray Hartsough In Chapel Talk

Rev. Ray Hartsough, College Secretary of the American Friends Service Committee for the Middle Atlantic Region, will speak in Chapel on Friday.

Mr. Hartsough, a gradute of Heidelburg College in Tiffin, Ohio, early became interested in the social aspects of Christianity. For some time, he headed the Friends Service Committee project in Palestine. He was then in charge of dispensing food and clothing to Arab refugees.

The A Cappella choir will present a Chapel program on Monday morning, and Prof. G. Wayne Glick will speak on Wednesday.

Case Displays Student Hobbies; Trains Exhibited

The model train display in the social rooms' display case can be attributed to the hobbies of Harvey Miller and Ron Cherry.

Miller's display is in the left case and contains all hand-made cars with the exception of an American Flyer engine. The small engine in the lower right corner, says Harvey, is a hand made "dockside switcher" made to run on the "OH" guage track.

Cherry's display in the right case, however, is "OO" guage track. His, too, is completely hand-made with the exception of the engine.

Both Miller's and Cherry's model railroads are products of long and tedious work over the years. They both have made model railroads a life-long hobby.

Dean Jane McCormick is very much interested in continuing the practice of displaying student hobbies in the cases. Anyone having a hobby which could be displayed is urged to contact her in the dean of women's office.

Masque To Hold Banquet, Travel To State For Play

by Bob Bailey

Next Thursday evening the Masque will hold its annual banquet at the Towne House. Only Masquers may attend this banquet and it is here that the new masquers will be initated into the organization. To become a Masquer one must earn one hundred points by working on major productions and attend one half of the meetings.

After the banquet the Masque will sponsor a trip to Penn State to see the play "She Stoops to Conquer" by Oliver Goldsmith. This trip is open to 20 students; a bus will be chartered.

The WAA will sponsor a trip to Penn State next Wednesday; the members of this group will see the Modren Dance Concert Group, a part of the Penn State Combined Arts Festival.

Next Thursday the JCA in conjunction with the IRC will present Ray Hartsough, College Secretary of the Middle Atlantic Region of the American Friends Service Committee, who will speak on "Three Men I Knew in Palestine, two Jews and a Arab."

Several delegates from the Lambda Gamma are attending the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association meeting at the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh today and tomorrow.

Delegates attending are Ruth Armentrout, state PHEA president, Norma Duff, Martha Petre, Betty Adams, Betsy Brandt, Ruth March, Marian Brightbill as well as Miss Helen Fisher, faculty advisor of the group.

Kulp Ordained As Minister In Brethren Church

Wednesday evening, April 23, Phil Kulp, having met the approval of the official board, the congregation, the district mission ministerial board and the elders of the Church of the Brethren, was ordained in the Christian ministry in the Stone Church.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Henry W. Esbensen of the district mission ministerial board due to the absence of Pres. Calvert N. Ellis.

Will Enter Bethany Sem.

Kulp was licensed into the ministry three years ago. He will enter Bethany Biblical Seminary in the fall. The Brethren Church ordained him now so that he could do the work of a pastor this summer.

As an ordained minister he has the rights and privileges to: conduct marriages, bury the dead and conduct services in the church; which he was unable to do before.

Qualifications Necessary

Before he could be ordained he had to meet spiritual and educational requirements. Some of these were: his insights in religion, willingness, pastoral qualifications and doctrinal beliefs.

It is not necessary to be a seminary graduate before ordaination but it is recommended by the ministry. As for Kulp's plans for the future he has this to say; "Best missionaries are those who have pastoral experience in this country."

May Day Theme At Jr. - Sr. Prom

Climaxing the round of May Day festivities on College Hill tomorrow will be the Junior-Senior Reception.

Held on the main floor of the new gymnasium, the dance will get under way at 9 p. m. and will continue to 12 midnight. All girls have 12:30 permissions.

Junior Calisthenics Champ Of Finland To Give Exhibition Here Tomorrow

The lawn in front of Oller Hall will become the scene of a gymnastics exhibition tomorrow by Jean Cronstedt, junior national calisthenics champion of Finland.

Nineteen year old Jean, an exchange student from Helsinki, Finland, is now a freshman at Penn State and is being brought to Juniata by his friend and fellow gymnast, Clem Rosenberger.

Attended Mercersburg

After six year work in gymnastics in Finland, Jean attained the junior national calisthenics championship. In 1950 he attended Mercersburg Academy on an American Field Service Scholarship, and since there were no opportunities at the academy for gymnastics, he worked out with the Lower Merion High School team where he met Clem. According to Clem, Jean came only to get some practice but ended up teaching the entire Lower Merion team.

Because he liked the friendliness and fellowship of American students, Jean decided to attend college here. Receiving six scholarships from major American Universities, he chose Penn State where he was given a four year interfraternity scholarship.

Won AAU Title

Although barred from membership on the Olympic team because he is not an American citizen, Jean entered the try-outs at State and won the AAU title in calisthenics and placed in the high and parallel bars.

The exhibition tomorrow will include calisthenics and work on the parallel bars.

Correction

Dean Morley Mays has announced a correction of data appearing in last week's issue. According to Dean Mays, those participating the May Day festivities will not be excused from classes. This is according to practice in the past.

Registration To Start On Monday

Registration for the summer and fall terms will be held in Students Hall beginning next Monday. Registration headquarters will be located in Room C.

All students enrolling in the summer term will be required to register Monday between 1:30 and 3:30 p. m. On Tuesday, juniors will register between 1:30 and 3:00, and on Wednesday the sophomore class will register at the same time. Freshman registration will be held Thursday between the hours of 1:30 and 4:00.

All students are requested to arrange to register at the designated times. In the event of a class conflict which prevents a student from registering at the appointed time, it will be necessary to appear in Founders Chapel for registration Tuesday or Thursday, May 13 or 15, from 10:00 to 10:30 a. m.

It is urged that all students consult their faculty adviser or department chairman to formulate a program before the registration dates.

Students are requested to check with their registration adviser to make certain that degree requirements are being met, and the proposed program of course is in order. Students should observe prerequisites indicated by an asterisk (*) on the schedule of classes.

Students who expect to take more than a normal program of classes must defer registering for the additional course until the average for the present term has been determined. In such cases, the course will be added in normal change of program procedure if the student's average is 1.75 or better.

All registration forms must be completed in full and it is essential that the cards be approved and initialed by a registration adviser. No registration cards will be accepted without the adviser's initials.

Queen Sinclair, Prince Gates To Reign Over Festivities

May Day ceremonies will begin tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in front of Oller Hall. In case of rain the program will be held in the new Memorial Gym.

Queen Norma Gene Sinclair and her court will approach the throne by a middle aisle. Following the processional Prince John Gates will crown Her Majesty, and Maid of Honor Mim Smith will present her with a gift. The queen will be dressed in the traditional white, while Miss Smith will be wearing green.

Class attendants will wear pastel shades; seniors, Sarah Keller and Mary Lou McKee, in pink; juniors, Phyllis Link and Mickey Monks, in blue; sophomores, Ruth March and Audrey Weber, in yellow; and freshmen, Donna Croft and Anna Lee Over, in lavendar. Each will be carrying spring flowers.

Throne, Set Planned By Carforas

Following the same pastel color scheme will be the setting around the throne. Behind the throne will be a large, sparkling fan with lattice work and picket fences completing the set, which was planned by the Carfora twins.

After the coronation, the winding of two Maypoles will take place. They will be wound by dancers of the royal court representing each of the four classes.

Octet To Sing

Introduced by master of ceremonies Ray Siren, the next act on the program will be four songs by the "Galavantin' Gibsons" including Barbara Lape, Jody Siemon, Joy Truxal, Elaine Zook, Clyde Johnson, Bob Landis, Steve Musto and Ben Newcomer.

With the use of old fashioned props, the octet will sing "Merry Oldsmobile", "The Band Played On", "While Strolling Through the Park One Day" and "Daisy".

"Peep, Sheep and Shenanigans" is the next highlight of the program. Based on the nursery rhyme of "Little Bo Peep", the dance features Mitzi Osborne as Bo Peep with ten girls acting as her sheep.

Gymnastics Next On Program

A routine of gymnastics will follow this dance number. Clem Rosenberger and Jean Cronstedt, his partner from Penn State will perform. Jean, the junior national calisthenics champion of Finland,

Shanabrook, Barrington Inherit Old Problems As New JC Radio Bosses

by Jim Streiner

When they were named co-chairmen of the campus radio committee by the Student Senate two weeks ago, Judy Shanabrook and Peg Barrington inherited a five year history of growing pains and several long-standing problems.

Among the problems are these:

- Juniata has never had since WHUN began operations in May, 1947, a faculty member experienced in radio. Students and advisors must "feel their way."
- Either a cause or an effect of this is the feeling on the part of the Senate, the students, the faculty and the committee members that radio is "a minor . . . a public relations stunt strictly for the townspeople and of no interest to the Hill."

Twice these problems have led to Juniatian headlines screaming "Radio At JC May Fold!" and "Burton Recommends Discontinuance of Radio Committee." Each time the death of College radio was averted by interested persons, usually Masque-trained, coming to the rescue.

Student talent directed by a faculty committee—A. William Engel, Jr., Miss Esther Doyle, and Profs. Wilbur Neff and Charles Rowland—handled initial shows in the Spring of 1947. That Fall the job was thrown open to student management. Reaction: negative.

Finally Masquers Bill Fegan and Phil Fletcher headed the first student radio committee. They inovated the regular weekly half-hour "Juniata on the Air" broadcasts. It was then also that the Masque laid down its still-standing dictum that stage shows only were in their domain.

"Students can't produce top-flight shows consistently," Dick Burton decided after his 1948-49 term as chairman. His successor, Hilton Hines, agreed to some extent, pointing out that students haven't sufficient time, talent, nor experience for the task.

Betty Longwell, and later Bob Champion and Margie Alleman, met these problems by using clubs aided by semi-trained radio committee members to produce shows.

Out of all this has developed the idea that the problems be met by forming a radio club on the order of the Masque, its members to be trained by station personnel.

CURCUIT RIDER

Quotes And Dance, Campes Rarities

by JACK FREYMULLER

Many times, while walking down past the College on Moore St., we've stopped in front of the bulletin board of the Stone Church on campus to read the latest epigram posted there.

Aware that many of our fellow students were doing the same, our curiosity was aroused as to what had prompted the Reverend John Middlekauff to begin posting these thought-provoking messages.

Accordingly, on Tuesday afternoon we knocked on the door of the Middlekauff home and were admitted into the living room where evidently spring housecleaning was in progress. Taking time off from his work, Rev. Middlekauff ushered us into his spacious study where we took a chair and began our questions.

"Rev. Middlekauff," we began, "for quite a while now we've been reading those sayings you've been posting on the bulletin board, and frankly, we're curious to know what you have in mind about them. They're very interesting."

Lots Of Fun

"Well, for one thing," he answered, "I get a lot of fun out of it because I know people are reading them and consequently I try to make them as pertinent and interesting as I can." He added that he knew people from down town who were in the habit of driving up past the Stone Church in order to read the bulletin board.

Laughing, Rev. Middlekauff told us how one man had jokingly offered to buy advertising space to take advantage of its popularity. This, he added, was out of the question.

"Where did this idea come from," we asked. "It's rather new to us?"

"Actually, it started when I was in Wilmington, Delaware. There I began to collect these epigrams from my reading, to hold for future use. Then when I came here, and Emmert Swigart presented the bulletin board to the church, I arranged with him to have special slats made to accomodate the letters used in the epigrams so as not to interfere with the regular church announcements." With this he showed us the notebooks holding his collection.

Variety Of Subjects

"I've been able to pick up a sentence or two from my reading to cover a variety of occasions and topics. I even have a few put away for the November elections; but I think I'll have to be careful of those. However, most of them, I think, are capable of putting across a concrete idea, while drawing attention with their pertinence and concise expression."

Rising from our chair, we offered our thanks for the interview and, in leaving, said that we hoped he would continue this practice.

"Oh yes," he smiled, "as I told you before, I get a lot of fun out of it."

Leaving Cloisters last Saturday night at about nine p. m., our attention was drawn to the sound of dance music emanating from the parking lot on the far side of Oller Hall. Hastening in that direction we drew up in front of a scene that we were unprepared for; the parking lot had been transformed into a terrace and a dance was in progress.

Within the white fence that marked the limits of the terrace a large number of people were at the tables and on the dance floor. At one end a band shell had been set up and from here the "Collegians" provided the music.

Recalling similar scenes in many of the big summer hotels we had worked at before, we were happily surprised, for it looked like someone had finally come up with a new idea for a campus social event.

Speaking to Dean Jane McCormick, we commented on the originality of the Freshman Class, eliciting from her an expression of warm admiration for the effort they had expended.

Leaving the dance much later, we decided to earmark this idea for possible use next Autumn. For now, a clap, on the back for Claus and his ingenious class.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

In reply to the letter published in the April 25 edition of the Juniatian regarding "unfair" price increase of soda . . .

The funds obtained from the soda concession and all other J Club concessions are used mainly to purchase award sweaters for the members, a responsibility usually assumed by college administrations. In our case we seek no personal gain but merely adequate funds to continue this practice, since the sweaters are bought entirely by means of the concessions profits.

We would like to point out that operating expenses have forced the soda concession to operate at a deficit due to breakage and damages.

Remember too that business establishments have been charging .06 and .07 cents for sodas for some time which the students accept ungrudgingly. Their expressed purpose is for personal gain. Ours is to continue to support a club platform.

If the purpose of the letter of April 25 regarding "unfair" price raise of sodas is an attempt at crusading for just causes, it would be appreciated by all participants in J Club activities if the crusade was directed toward the basic issue, namely subsidization by the administration of at least part of the funds necessary to provide award sweaters to which we feel college athletes are entitled.

Republicans May Not Win Elections

It's not in the bag. With 154 electoral votes, the Dem. candidate needs only 112 more outside of the solid South to win.

Volpitto

As long as Truman stayed in the race it appeared that either Ike or Taft could woo Md., Tenn., Ky., W. Va., and Okla. This would cut the handicap. A Kefauver or Russell candidacy might prevent the anticipated split.

By capturing Ariz., Mo., N. Mex., and R. I., the donkey jockey could gain 25 more votes. Pivotal states Colo., Mon., Nev., Utah, and Wyo., offer another 20. Ill., Cal., and Wash. could toss their 68 votes into either camp. Voting Dem. since '32, Minn's. 11 is a toss up today.

Having no back-log the GOP must drive hard to come out on top. Even Maine, Vt., and Penna. have gone Dem. a few times in recent years. Kan., Neb., N. H., the Dakotas, and Ore. give the Reps. an edge. Anybody's guess will do for N. Y., Ohio, Mich., and Ind.

One factor which cannot be disregarded is the human element. It ruined "The Literary Digest", discredited Dr. Gallup, and had Roper on the ropes.

So many professional and amateur dopesters stick out their necks that there aren't enough axes to go around. Here is mine:

- Should Harriman or Humphries be the Dem. nominee, Taft or especially Eisenhower could effect a crack in Southern lines.
- If Russell or Kefauver upset predictions and run, such a split is not probable.
- Discount heavily any potential Progressive strength. A possible Dixiecrat splinter is also doubtful.
- Who's going to win? Cmdr. Vanderbilt once said, "He who knows never tells, he who tells never knows."

Classic Story On Local Screen

CYRANO DE BERGERAC—Here's screen perfection that the legitimate stage fans are always screaming for. Not only is the plot strong, but so is the actor (Jose Ferrer) that turns it into action.

By adding realistic settings typical of movieland, yet sticking very close to the stage version, the producers accomplish a very well-knit screenplay.

The production is a straight translation of the Edmund Rostand classic written in 1896. The lines are terrific; filled with wit, sarcasm, flowers and sometimes pure poetry.

The story deals with the character study of a man with an exaggerated nose and how he exaggerates the importance of that handicap. He is master of both sword and language—a rare combination. Yet knowledge of his uglyness makes him lack the courage to woo the girl he loves.

This leads to a series of lovemaking through the lips of another. In turn, the ending is filled with emotion and sadness. Through all this, however, you get the feeling that here is, with the exception of the fantastic language, a very human story with a true-to-life ending.

THE MARRYING KIND—Judy Holiday, the "Born Yesterday" girl is the selling approach for this picture. If you go just to hear that high-pitched voice hit a new high you'll be disappointed. Yet there's a lot of what made "Born Yesterday" a success in this movie.

A very simple and realistic style is the new trend in Hollywood. In it the actors who are supposed to be dumb, act and talk really dumb. At first it gives the impression of bad acting, but after all aren't people bad actors? Proof of this can be found in any of the "Candid Mike" shorts.

The story puts across a point too. It tells through flashbacks, how a marriage almost went on the rocks because of serious misunderstandings that grew out of minor crises.

JC Golfers Down Bucknell 7-2; Defeat Dickinson 9-0

The high flying Juniata linksters have captured three straight after losing their two opening matches of 1952. Today they meet Johns Hopkins on the local course and tomorrow defend their Juniata College Invitational Tournament Championship at the Mount Union American Legion Course.

Last Friday the golfers swept past Bucknell by a 7-2 score. Four of the six Indians competing scored in the 70's.

Three Victors

Art Allen beat Van Johnson 4 and 3. Tom Cherok won for Juniata over Ted Stark 6 and 5. Frank Arasin dumped Ben Hoffman 6 and 4. Bob Fahrney scored over Nelson Forb 3 and 2.

The only two Juniata losses of the day were inflicted upon Dave Bayer and Tom Sanders. Bayer lost to Jeff Mynott 7 and 6. Sanders dropped a close match to Bill Grim 2 and 1.

Beat Dickinson

Monday the Indians snared their third victory, over Dickinson by a 9-0 shutout score. Capt. Art Allen shot a one over par 72 on the Carlisle Country Club course. By virtue of the above score, Allen beat Bill McGovern 5 and 3.

Frank Arasin had an easy time in disposing of Ted Roth 8 and 6. Bob Fahrney won his second straight match by downing Paul Barna 7 and 5. Dave Bayer won a very close decision over Pete Ressler 4 and 2.

Tom Cherok was second low on medal score with a 74 and won his match over Herb Sachs 6 and 5. Tom Sanders got back in winning stride by beating Skip Cook 4 and 3.

Indians Face Lock Haven Here Today; Lose To ISTC

The Blue and Gold tossers will attempt to break their two game losing streak at the cost of Lock Haven STC this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The game is to be played on College Field and is a make-up contest of the game which was rained out Monday afternoon.

After winning six straight, the Indians now have dropped two consecutive contests. Wednesday they lost a tough one to Dickinson 8-5 as some sloppy fielding figured in their downfall.

Today, Ken "Red" Mummah will probably get the starting assignment. Tomorrow the Indians help Susquehanna University celebrate May Day as they travel to Selinsgrove. Earlier this season the locals beat the Crusaders 8-7. Ed Feldkircher will probably toil for Bill Smaltz's nine tomorrow.

Indiana

The Juniata Indians finally had their win streak snapped at six straight as they lost to Indiana State Teachers last Saturday afternoon by a 6-4 score. Ed Feldkircher was victum of a five run splurge by the home team during the first two frames. After those two bad innings, Feldkircher settled down and hurled effective ball.

The big bats of the Indian lineup went almost silent during the contest as the "fat" part of the batting order produced but two hits, both singles by Wes Lingenfelter and Jack Dickey. The locals had but three bingles going into the ninth inning. Here, a rally started but burned out two runs short of its goal.

In the ninth, pinch-hitter Tom Green singled to left, Ken Mummah then was sent to bat for Simon and he poked a one bagger to center. The rally was then almost halted as Hackett, another pinch-hitter grounded out, advancing the runners but Feldkircher fanned. "Duke" Schetrompf hit to short and a bad throw resulted in two runs scoring. Joe Hinish then sent a foul pop to the first baseman to end it.

Indiana hurler, George Mohr, pitched a beautiful game. He had the Indian batsmen fuddled with his assortment of curves and fast balls. If it weren't for some untimely infield errors, Mohr might have had himself a shutout.

The hits, only five of them, were distributed thusly; Wes Lingenfelter, Jack Dickey, and Tom McNeal had singles. The two pinch-swingers, Tom Green and Ken Mummah, each had one.

Juniata	010	001	002	4- 5-4

Dickinson

Some sloppy fielding through out the game cost Earl Detrick the game Wednesday afternoon as the Indians lost to Dickinson 8-5. The home game was virtually sewed up going into the eighth as Juniata enjoyed a 5-2 lead. But three run splurges in both the eighth and ninth overcame the Blue and Gold lead.

Detrick hurled fine ball and some clean support would have given him another victory. Juniata hit the ball well but right into the waiting hands of the Dickinson fielders.

The highlight of the contest came in the sixth inning when the visitors loaded the bases with none out. The next batter sent a clothsline drive towards right but Ken Leonard hauled it down, stepped on second and rifled the pellet to Wes Lingenfelter at first for a triple play.

Juniata could collect but six hits and these were spread among Jack Dickey with two, "Duke" Schetrompf, "Monk" Simon, Tom McNeal, and Tom Green with one each. Schetrompf had a home run, his third of the year and McNeal had a triple.

Juniata Invitational Golf Tourney Set For Tomorrow At Mt. Union

Tomorrow the third annual Juniata College Invitational Golf Tournament will be held at the Mount Union American Legion Course. 18 major college teams will compete for the trophy for team and individual honors.

Juniata is the defending champion as they took the honors in 1951. In 1950, the opening year of the event, the University of Pennsylvania was the winner. However, Juniata will have only two of its tourney veterans back at this year's classic. These being Art Allen and Tom Cherok.

Six trophies will be awarded to team and individual champions for low medal score. Last year's low medal winner was John Dyniewski of Temple who will not be back to defend his crown this year.

Teams entered in the tournament are as follows: Albright, Alliance, Bucknell, Gannon, Haverford, Hofstra, Indiana STC, Juniata, Johns Hopkins, Franklin and Marshall, Lehigh, Muhlenberg, Shippensburg STC, Slippery Rock STC, St. Francis, St. Josephs, Temple and Western Maryland.

The Indians lost their fourth straight track meet of the season on Tuesday afternoon as they hosted the thinclads of Albright College. The final meet score was 81-44.

Albert Star

Albert of Albright put on a spectacular show for the fans on College Field as he took the high jump with a leap of 5'4" and then proceeded to win the pole vault with a vault of 12'4". Frankhouser of the Lions took the 880 yd. run in 2:08.6 and Hoopes won the 120 yd. high hurdles in 18.3 The final win for the visitors was in the discus throw as Kohl won his second event of the day with a heave of 131'2".

Men Need Draft Data To Register

An additional step in registration in Students Hall next week has been scheduled for all non-veteran men students.

Each draft-eligible male will be requested to fill out three copies of the College Student Certificate (SSS Form No. 109), commonly known as Form 109, which is prescribed for the use of the college in furnishing to the local board information regarding the status of the registrant as a student.

All copies will be returned to the Office of the Registrar which will complete and send the forms to local boards within 30 days of the close of college on June 2.

"The mere filling of Form 109 does not constitute a request for deferment. A specific written request for deferment must be filed for each registrant seeking deferment. This may be done by either the registrant or the institution at the time Form 109 is filed with the local board."

Students will be required to fill out only items 1 to 6. This includes: Name of student, Selective Service Number, Date of birth, Mailing address, Number and address of local board where registered, Name and address of institution issuing this certificate.

Students should make certain to have draft cards with them at registration.

Four Faculty Appointments Released For Fall Semester

Four new administrative appointments for the fall term have been announced by the Office of the President. The appointments are being made to fill positions left vacant by the departure of various members of the administrative staff.

John T. Fike, formerly a Waynesboro businessman and now business manager of Bridgewater College, has been named treasurer of Juniata College. He will replace Mrs. Rhoda Metz Rhodes, assistant treasurer, who has been administrative head of the treasurer's office for ten years.

Mr. Fike, who will assume his duties July 1, was a graduate of Juniata in 1935. He has held the position of business manager at Bridgewater for three years. Prior to that, he had been in business with his father in Waynesboro, where they operated the Fike Tire Service.

Has Been Alumni Pres.

He has long been active in Juniata alumni work and community affairs, and has served as president of the local alumni groups in both Waynesboro and Somerset.

An active member of the Church of the Brethren, Mr. Fike has two children.

In releasing the news of Mr. Fike's appointment, President Ellis also revealed that the position of assistant to the treasurer will be filled by Miss Hilda Nathan. Miss Nathan, a Huntingdon resident, has worked in the treasurer's office since 1946.

Two library appointments have also been released. Named to succeed Miss Lillian Evans as librarian is Mrs. Sarah Steele Hettinger. Mrs. Hettinger has been assistant librarian since 1944. Her appointment will become effective with the retirement of Miss Evans in June.

Mrs. Hettinger A JC Grad

Mrs. Hettinger is a graduate of Juniata in 1924. She has also done graduate work at Drexel Institute of Technology. Since 1944 Mrs. Hettinger has served as acting librarian and assistant to Miss Evans in directing the multiple duties of the College Library. She had previously been librarian at the Curtis Institute of Music and also conducted radio research for some time.

Named to succeed Mrs. Hettinger as assistant librarian is Miss Miriam Dickey, a graduate of Juniata in 1949. She is now a teacher in the Hollidaysburg public school.

Miss Dickey majored in Latin and worked as a student assistant in the library as an undergraduate. In addition, she was a member of the College choir, band and orchestra, YWCA, FTA, Alfarata Staff and Women's House Committee.

'52 Class, League Present Gifts To Improve Campus

Gifts from the Women's League of Juniata College and the 1952 graduating class form major links in a chain of campus landscape revisions planned for this Summer under the direction of landscape artist Arthur Cowell.

A $1000 fund, established by the Women's League will help finance a new front entrance to the College. Under present plans, the front steps are to be pulled back several feet and the bank on either side dug out. This will allow for benches on either side of the walk for the convenience of bus passengers.

Pillars At Entrance

Stone pillars will be set up on each side of the steps, and the cement walk will be widened with a flat brick border. Along the sides of the path will be planted myrtle or ivy. The lamps presensly at the end of the walk will be moved to the far end of each bench.

The senior class gift of $100 will go toward another entrance-way whose location has not yet been definitely approved. Members of the class gift committee were Don Treese, chm., Jane Baker, Mim Barnes, George Cruser, Ginny Masemer and Bob Volpitto.

Other Improvements Planned

Several other campus improvements are planned, according to Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the President. The 17th Street extension running between the dining hall and the Stone Church will be eliminated completely, as will the diagonal from Founders tower to 17th Street.

In their places will be two new walks. One will curve up from the front of the Stone Church to the front of Founders porch. The other is to curve from 17th Street to the dining hall entrance.

League Donates Gift

In addition to the gift of $1000 for campus landscaping (see story elsewhere), the Women's League of Juniata College has just donated $100 for new dishes in the Faculty Club. They also gave three aluminum trays for teas and receptions.

All Grades Out By June 12

The registrar's office announced this week that senior grade sheets will be available by Monday, June 2, and all other grades will be mailed by Thursday, June 12.

This office also announced that the Selective Service form 109 which was filled out by each male student at registration this week, will be mailed to both student and draft board by July 1.

This form informs local draft boards of class standing of male students which is used as criteria for granting deferments.

Candle Lighting To Be May 31

The traditional candle lighting and mantle ceremony of the senior class will be held Saturday, May 31, at 9:15 p. m. in Oller Hall after the recital by Miss Marion Thomas. The seniors, after lighting their candles from one which Pres. Calvert Ellis holds, will form a semi-circle.

Within this lighted circle will take place the mantle ceremony. This is an academic tradition whereby the senior class president places a gown over the shoulders of the junior class president to signify the passing of authority from the graduating class to the incoming senior class. According to Miss Esther Doyle, the program this year will be similar to that of other years.

The candle lighting ceremony was begun, according to newspaper accounts, in the year 1925 when the class of '25 presented a four act play on the history of Juniata College.

"Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh . . . rose to hold the torch of the spirit of Juniata while each senior passed before him to receive the spark for their own small candle; the light which they will carry from Juniata to their life work," was the statement made in the June 8, 1925 Juniatian concerning the first ceremony.

Doyle, Thomas To Give Recital

Miss Esther M. Doyle and Miss Marion B. Thomas will present a faculty recital in Oller Hall on Saturday, May 31, at 8:15 p. m. in connection with the commencement festivities.

Miss Doyle will give readings from the Masque plays such as "Pygmaleon," "Pride and Prejudice," and "Romeo and Juliet." Miss Thomas will play several piano selections: Scarlatti's "Sonatas in G major, A major and E minor" and "Sonatine" by Ravel.

This is first year that a faculty recital has been a part of the commencement program. In other years plays and orchestra recitals have been the entertainment.

Seniors Plan Picnic

"We'll have the senior class picnic at Paradise Furnace May 29, or May 30 if it rains," reports general chairman Bob Learn. He adds, "we'll leave from in front of Founders at 2 p. m."

The picnic committee includes the following persons: Ruth Armentrout, food; Don Treese, transportation; and Doug Martin, recreation.

2 Named By Mays To Fall Faculty

Two new members have been named to the College faculty for the fall term, Dean Morley Mays has announced.

Mrs. Marjorie L. Joseph will join the home economics department to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Jane M. Crosby, while Wilson W. Kimbrough, Jr. has accepted an appointment in the department of psychology. He will replace Dr. David A. Warriner who has resigned to accept a position at Louisiana College, Pineville, La., near his home.

Clothing Instructor Named

Mrs. Joseph will serve as instructor in a number of courses offered in clothing. She is now a graduate assistant at Ohio State University. Mrs. Joseph was graduated from Ohio State in 1939. She has had a number of years experience in the garment industry in New York and Philadelphia, and has taught in Berlin Heights High School, Birmingham, Ohio.

At 6:30 p. m. the group will go from Founders Porch to Round-Top for a short vesper service. Jack Rothenberger, president of the senior class and Rev. Alfred Replogle, minister at the First Church of the Brethren in Philadelphia will be the speakers at this service.

Both the senior Step Singing and Vesper Service have become traditional parts of the commencement weekend exercises.

The Vesper Service is the older of th two, having ben held at sunset on the evening of Commencement Day each year since the turn of the century.

Senior Step Singing was begun about 25 years later.

Class Reunions To Meet May 31

Alumni activities taking place here on May 31 will include the Alumni Executive Committee meeting at 9:30 a. m., the Alumni Luncheon at 12:00, and class reunions at 5:30 p. m.

The Luncheon will be held in honor of members of the graduating class who will be inducted into the Alumni Association.

The traditional class reunions, which are always held on Commencement week-end, have adopted a new plan called the Dartmouth System. This arranges for the usual five-year reunion of classes ending in 2's and 7's, except for two combined groups including the classes of '31-'32-'33 and '06-'07-'08.

There will be more than a dozen alumni classes holding re-unions throughout the Huntingdon area on May 31. However, the ten-year class of '42 and the one-year class of '51 are expected to have the largest attendance.

Art Director To Give Address At Commencement

The director of the Cincinnati Art Museum, Dr. Philip Adams, has been selected to give the Spring Commencement address. Commencement exercises will be held in Oller Hall at 10:30 a. m. Monday, June 2.

Dr. Adams is also director of the Art Academy of Cincinnati and Taft Museums. The Cincinnati Art Museum under his direction has gained a national reputation, now being ranked among the first ten art museums in this country.

Twice Dr. Adams has served as chairman of the art section of the American Association of Museums. In addition he is a director of the College Art Association, a trustee of the American Federation of Arts, and in 1949 received an honorary Doctor of Letters degree from Ohio State University.

Following his graduation from Ohio State University, Dr. Adams studied at New York University on a graduate fellowship. He received his master's degree in 1931, following which he studied at Princeton University on a Carnegie fellowship. He also held a Summer's scholarship at the Sorbonne, Paris.

Dr. Adams' professional career began at Newcombe College, the women's division of Tulane University, New Orleans. Here he taught history of arts and drawing. In 1934 he went to Ohio to become director of the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts where he stayed for 13 years.

Alleman To Work For Brumbaugh

Here's one senior who won't have to move very far to get from the graduation platform to her new job. June 2 Margie Alleman will begin full time work in the office of the assistant to the President, Harold Brumbaugh.

She has already begun handling many of her chores, however.

"Shortly after graduation day I expect to be able to mail out the first of a new series of departmental news letters," she reports. These are special reports to be issued thrice yearly covering the doings in the chemistry, home economics, music and business departments. Under Miss Alleman's editorship, these include alumni notes and departmental data.

She is also an associate editor of the Alumni Bulletin which is released four times a year to graduates.

Among other activities, Miss Alleman has been assistant editor of The Juniatian, editor of The Scout, chairman of the radio committee and JCA publicity director. She has worked as secretary in the dean of women's office since her freshman days.

German Youth Problem Dangerous To Whole World, Says Rev. Pabst

by Frank Harlacher

"They lack everything that would enable them to be genuine human beings. If no one will take care of them they will hate everything in heaven and on earth. There is danger that one day they will take revenge for all that injustice that has been done them."

This statement was made by Rev. Karl Pabst in his speech in Chapel Wednesday describing the importance of the "Youth Problem in Germany." Rev. Pabst, the father of Hermann Pabst, (German exchange student on the JC campus for the past two years), is an exchange minister in this country for three months and prior to a week before his talk he had spoken no English.

Expresses Gratitude

In opening his talk, Rev. Pabst expressed gratitude to Juniata College for making Herman's stay in America enjoyable and educational. He told of how American youth impressed him as "gladsome and carefree. At home it is different," he stated.

He said that since the war many German youth have "lost their basis of existence and remain uprooted." He reported that many are refugees who have lost their homes and ordered surroundings such as schools, and playgrounds. There is an inner need which you feel and see everywhere due to the fact that today's generation came to manhood without play," he stated. "The older ones are filled with illusions which infected their minds during the Nazi regime."

Vagrancy Among Youth

Results of this, he said, lead to vagrancy, unsanitary conditions and disease.

He emphasized that, "these factors together gather as dangerous explosives—not dangerous for Germany alone, but for the whole world."

In closing, Rev. Pabst praised the work done by such agencies as the YMCA and Brethren Service Commission. "We can't talk of a Christian West any more," he said. "The misery is a sign that men have separated from love. If God doesn't direct men, love will become cold and empty" he stressed.

Profs. vs, Brains Contest Praised

A RECENT INNOVATION on the "Juniata on the Air" program, heard Thursdays over WHUN, has well demonstrated the error to be seen in the prevalent belief that the radio programs put on by the College are not directed primarily to The Hill.

Jim Giordano's "Profs vs. Brains" quiz program was well received both by the faculty and student body. After a rocky and apprehensive organizational period, the program was aired with decorum and amusement.

The suggestion that this feature be made an annual affair has been seconded by all interested parties. The Juniatian expresses the hope that this will indeed be the case, and that the opportunity will again be offered to permit the 'brains' to attempt to even up the faculty's 1-0 victory record.

THE RECENT PASSING of Dr. Gaius M. Brumbaugh, '79, marks the end of a Juniata era.. A member of the first graduating class of what is now known as Juniata College, Dr. Brumbaugh was well known, not only in medical circles but throughout the entire Juniata family, as an able and conscientous worker.

The Juniatian extends it's sympathy to the family of Dr. Brumbaugh who, through his long years of service to humanity and the College from which he graduated, has so well demonstrated what can be termed the "Juniata spirit," the will to do, and the will to do well.

Summer School To Be As Scheduled

A. William Engel, registrar, has announced that there will definitely be a summer school beginning June 16.

"The problem arising," Engle states, "is lack of sufficient enrollment to warrant offering certain courses." He went on to say, however, that as yet no courses scheduled have been eliminated.

If such action is taken both students and faculty will probably be consulted to see if other arrangements can be made, Engle added.

May Festival Not Dampened By Rain

by JACK FREYMULLER

We were in Oller Hall last Saturday night to hear the piano recital of Miss Marion Thomas of the JC faculty. Miss Thomas gave a very fine performance.

In anticipation of this, a large number of people had gathered to hear her and, it is added, were not one bit disappointed. The listeners heard selections from the works of Scarlatti, Beethoven, Ravel and Schumann offered in a well-finished presentation.

Of the pieces she had chosen we liked best the three sonatas by Scarlatti. It must be admitted, though, that our preference for these lay in the stronger appeal this type of music has for us rather than its superiority to the other numbers on the program.

In these sonatas, as in her other selections, Miss Thomas displayed the warmth of interpretation, fine range of intensity and technical accomplishment that made possible an evenly-balanced and enjoyable performance.

Perhaps it is naive, music-wise, to comment on the great amount of effort required to commit these pieces to memory in order to perform without sheet music. However, it is felt that this adds to the quality of a performance and we applaud Miss Thomas's faultless rendition of her selections.

Old Mother Nature failed to cooperate with the plans for the May Day celebration last Saturday. Remnants of what had promised to be very fine club displays were all that remained on the campus lawns as all activities moved indoors to escape the down-pour of rain.

The coronation of the May Queen, Norma Gene Sinclair, that was first planned to be staged in front of Oller Hall, was held instead in the Memorial Gym where Miss Sinclair and her Prince Consort, John Gates, were installed to rule over the May Day festivities.

Attendance at these events was large as many alumni, relatives and sub-freshmen were on campus for the weekend.

Climaxing the day's program, the social highlight of the college year—the Junior-Senior Reception—was held that evening in the Memorial Gymnasium where arriving couples found the gym tastefully decorated and well arranged for dancing.

Working under the general chairmanship of Charles Towns, the dance committee provided an interesting program for the entertainment of their guests featuring the music of Ray McHenry's Collegians for dancing and specialty acts during intermission.

Altogether it was a remarkable improvement over the arrangements we had become used to before the building of the Memorial Gymnasium. If you remember, dances were held in the Old Gym —and to recorded music; bands were frowned on!

Recalling this, we decided that all of us owe thanks to the administration for showing in this instance that some measure of liberality can be achieved without a relaxation of standards.

Red Prisoners Annoy Army In Koje, Korea

Red prisoners on Koje Island have given Uncle Sam another black eye in the far east.

Recent investigations have uncovered situations where prisoners have chosen their own leaders. They in turn decide whether or not the prisoners will work and the decision sticks.

Illicit Civilian Trade

Prisoners have resisted efforts by the army to draw up information lists on the POW's. Even illicit trade with Korean civilians is winked at.

Now the recent Gen. Dodd affair resulted in a promise of no further prisoner screening.

It has been the practice of camp authorities to accept on face value any Commie's desire not to be exchanged for UN prisoners and be returned to North Korea. Wtih this Koje concession this is no longer possible.

POW's Get Information

Security leaks permit the POW's to be informed on latest Panmunjom developments. Now disturbances can be planned in conjunction with the talks.

How long is it going to take until we wise up? Truce talks have passed the one year mark. All we've succeeded in doing is providing the Reds with propoganda material.

Millions have been spent on Radio Free Europe because we are losing the battle of words. Billions have been spent in Korea to prove it.

Joe Beyer, JC Grad Nears Olympic Berth

Joe Beyer, '50 former track star, is only a couple of steps away from a berth in the Olympic Games, according to a letter received from him by the College this week.

Beyer recently won the 5,000 meter run in the Second Army Olympic trials at Fort Campbell, Ky. This entitles him to enter the All Army Olympic trials to be held May 26, in Los Angeles, Calif.

Joe Beyer

He holds the JC all-time record for the mile (4:38, Lebanon Valley), and two mile (10:04.6 Dickinson) runs.

Beyer graduated from Juniata in 1950, president of his class. In September of that year he filled the position of assistant to the director of admissions of the College vacated by Jack Buckle, '48.

In January 1952 Beyer was drafted into the armed forces. He is currently a Pfc at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland. The former resident of Tyrone and New York City will enter final competition with Army competitors from all U. S. camps for a place in the 1952 Olympic Games to be held at Helsinki, Finland.

GEORGE "DUKE" SCHETROMPF, Indian shortstop, is one of the leading hitters on the squad. This is Duke's second season with the Indians; he hails from nearby Mapleton Depot. Schetrompf is a smooth fielder and teams up well with Ken Leonard to give the Tribe a fine double play combo around the keystone sack.

He is tied with Joe Hinish for home run leadership. They have three apiece. Last season, Schetrompf batted .352 for the Indians.

Indians Face LV Today; E-Town Saturday; Could Match Juniata Record With Sweep

The Indian baseball squad snapped their two game losing streak, by defeating Lock Haven last Friday 17-10. Then on Saturday they traveled to Selinsgrove, where they downed the Susquehanna Crusaders 5-2.

Then they had their two game winning streak snapped on Wednesday afternoon as they were beaten 7-1 by Bucknell. Today they meet LV away and tomorrow they face Elizabethtown on foreign soil. This is the only over-night trip of the season for the locals. Earlier this year they beat Lebanon Valley 11-10 in 10 innings and also downed E-town 9-5.

Bucknell

The Bisons of Bucknell University snapped the Indians' two game winning streak by scoring a 7-1 victory Wednesday afternoon at College Field. The Indians could produce but six hits and for the fourth straight game their bats remained below normal.

Wes Lingenfelter continued his sensational hitting by smacking two singles. This gave him seven hits in his last 11 trips to the plate and raised his average above the .300 mark. Joe Hinish had a long home run for the Tribe, his third of the year. This blast cleared the right field wall between the press box and the scoreboard, easily 350 feet away.

Earl Detrick, although in a losing cause, still hurled in fine fashion as he suffered his second loss of the season. He has won five times.

Besides the hitting of Lingenfelter, "Monk" Simon, Joe Hinish, "Duke" Schetrompf, and Tom McNeal each had one hit. This was the lowest number of runs scored in a game by the Indians this season. The previous low was three against Albright.

Susquehanna

A four run rally in the top of the ninth inning gave Earl Detrick his fifth mound triumph of the season against only three defeats.

The Tribe trailed 2-1 going into the last frame, but then things began to happen. Monk Simon started things with a walk, then Joe Hinish was hit with a pitched ball. "Duke" Schetrompf sacrificed both runners into scoring position.

Susquehanna then decided to put Fran Zimmerman on first to load the sacks. Then, Wes Lingenfelter laid down a beautiful bunt on a squeeze play to score the tying run. Dickey walked, forcing in the lead run. McNeal forced Dickey, another tally scoring, then the Indians scored their final run on a bad throw by the Crusaders receiver.

Fran Zimmerman and Wes Lingenfelter collected all the Indian hits, four of them. Zimmerman had two, a single and a homer. His circuit clout cleared the right field wall. Lingenfelter had two hits, both singles.

Lock Haven

In a wild ball game last Friday afternoon, the Indians snapped a two game losing streak as they downed Lock Haven 17-10. Ken Mummah won his first game of the season as he relieved Ed Feldkircher.

Each team collected but nine hits but the Indians waited out the Lock Haven hurlers for 14 walks to score their runs. 11 tallies crossed the plate for Juniata in the fourth inning. Wes Lingenfelter collected three of the Juniata hits and "Duke" Schetrompf had two. Singletons were divided among Joe Hinish, Ken Leonard, Jack Dickey, and Fran Zimmerman.

Joe Hinish poled a long home run to center field in the second inning, his second of the year. This clout came with two men on the sacks.

Golfers Cop Invitational Title; F & M Runner-Ups

Juniata's golf foursome retained its tournament championship last Saturday as they defeated 14 other colleges in the third annual Juniata Invitational Golf Tournament. The host team repeated its triumph of last season as they outdistanced runner-up Franklin and Marshall. Muhlenburg was third, Lehigh fourth, and Hofstra fifth.

Members of the winning Juniata foursome were Capt. Art Allen, Tom Cherok, Frank Arasin and Tom Sanders. Allen finished with a 36 hole total of 157, Arasin had a 154, as did Cherok.

Franklin and Marshall's Henry Rutter took medal honors among the 56 competitors from 14 colleges. His totals were 72-78—150. Bob Batdorff of Albright was runner-up with a 152. He had the best round of the tournament, a 71 after carding an 81 on the opening 18.

The team scoring: Juniata, 637; F&M, 645; Muhlenburg, 658; Lehigh, 659; Hofstra 676; Albright, 678; Temple, 678; St. Francis, 694; Western Maryland, 697; Slippery Rock, 721; Johns Hopkins, 724; Shippensburg, 734; Indiana STC and Alliance-no score of the players picked up.

WAA Awards Honors To JC Girl Athletes

The annual Athletic Banquet featured the WAA awards for the past year. The banquet, held last evening in the dining hall, saw 16 girls receive awards.

Those girls receiving "J's" were Rhoda Clemmer, May Ikeda, Betty Monks, Jody Siemon, Barb Snively, Dot Taylor, Joan Walker and Ginny Yohn. Others receiving emblems included Jeanne Buck, Betti Brumbaugh, Joyce Gibbel, Marion Veals, Joan Sharp, Carrie Lou Green, and Mary Taylor.

Barbara Warner received a special award for her outstanding achievements in girls' athletics during her years at Juniata College. Her total in points was 160; this outdistanced all others who were vying for the awards.

The cheerleaders also received their awards last evening. Connie Sherman, Lois Miller, Lois Robinson, and Marge Seidel were honored for having completed four years on the squad. Nancy McCahan, Edie Talbot, Ruth March and Peggy Brumbaugh have completed two years. Ruth March will serve as next year's captain.

Students Meet At Camp For Leadership Session

Plans for extensive student activity in all phases of the undergraduate program will be formulated during the week-end when upperclass campus leaders gather for the annual three-day Leadership Conference at the scenic Camp Kanesatake, near Spruce Creek.

Approximately 50 BWOC's (big wheel on campus) and faculty advisers were in session Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the 26th of the pre-college conferences.

A joint student-faculty dinner at noon Sunday followed by the presentation of resolutions will be the climax of the confab. Results of the conference will be submitted to college administration leaders for consideration. (Complete coverage of the conference will apear in a later issue of The Juniatian.)

An orientation opened the Leadership Conference Friday evening. This was followed by conferences on all phases of undergraduate life at Juniata.

PRESIDENT AT LUND

President Calvert N. Ellis of Juniata was among 250 delegates representing most of the 158 member churches of the World Council at the third World Conference on Faith and Order in Lund, Sweden, beginning August 15.

Improvements Revive Campus

The College's campus-wide improvement projects will give a "fresh, new look" for the opening this weekend.

The re-location of the main entrance, which involved construction of a brick wall and steps, will be the most obvious to returning students. In addition, the main walk to Founders Hall has been widened with red brick.

Extensive painting has been completed in the interior of eight major buildings. Oller Hall has been newly decorated and all classrooms and offices in Students Hall have been painted in pastel green and white.

Nearly all rooms in the three women's dormitories, Founders, Oneida and Brumbaugh halls, and in the men's dormitory (Cloisters) have been painted. The reading rooms in the College library and several rooms in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House have also been painted and re-decorated.

Swigart Hall, the music building, was painted on the outside.

Further work was made necessary by the replacement of the steam line in front of the new Memorial Physical Education building. The line will be renewed as soon as material arrives.

New lighting fixtures for the first floor of Students Hall in four classrooms also are on order and will be installed as soon as received.

Degrees Granted To 17 In August

Dean Morley Mays conferred degrees on 17 men and women at Juniata College's 27th Summer Commencement which formally closed the Summer term here Friday, Aug. 22.

There were 12 men and 5 women in the group which increased the total of graduates to 108 in the three Commencements at Juniata this year. The candidates—11 for B.S. and 6 for B.A.—received their degrees at exercises held at a dinner in Oneida Hall.

President Ellis To Greet Class At Initial Assembly

More than 200 freshmen students have been admitted to Juniata College and are ready to participate in a four-day orientation program—known as Freshman Days—beginning Monday.

President Calvert N. Ellis will welcome the Class of 1956 and a contingent of about 15 transfer students—at an assembly in Oller Hall at 8:30 a. m. Monday. This will signal the opening of Freshman Days.

A full schedule of activity for all new students will get under way immediately following the opening assembly. However, the formal opening of the college does not take place until the all-College Convocation next Thursday at 9 a. m. in Oller Hall.

Registration Monday

Registration, financial settlement and campus tours for new students are scheduled to begin at 9:30 a. m. and continue until 3 p. m. Monday. A battery of tests will be given to all new students at various intervals during the Freshman Days program; meetings with deans, introduction to library and social events also are planned.

Before the four-day program is completed, the majority of upperclassmen will return to the campus to begin classes on Thursday. The office of the registrar estimated that at least 350 former students will return for the Fall which should swell Juniata's enrollment to 570.

Classes On Thursday

Classes will begin on an abbreviated schedule at 10 a. m. Thursday, Sept. 18. The schedule is listed by the Office of the Registrar.

All former students, if previously registered, will obtain schedule cards and make financial settlement in the treasurer's office next Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 17-18. Adjustments in schedule if necessary will be made in the Office of the Registrar beginning Wednesday and during office hours until 4:30 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 30.

Convocation Set Sunday, Sept. 21

Convocation services for the first Sunday of the new college year will be held in the Stone Church of the Brethren Sunday, Sept. 21, at 10:45 a. m.

The Rev. Joseph MacCarroll, who becomes pastor of the Ewing Presbyterian Church in Trenton, N. J., on Sept. 15, will be the speaker. The Reverend MacCarrol, a graduate of Juniata in 1932, has been pastor of the Union Presbyterian Church in Carney's Point, N. J.

INVESTMENT GROWS—

When Juniata College was founded in 1876, the total investment was zero—unless the $6.50 tuition paid by each of the first three students is counted. Today Juniata represents an investment in buildings and equipment of 2½ million dollars.

Button Frosh!

Customs To Prevail On Thursday

"Button Frosh!"

And with that command, more than 200 freshmen shall lift their dinks from their heads much in the manner of tipping one's hat.

And that ain't all.

Beginning Thursday, all freshmen will don customs which include the green dink, regulation name card, bow ties (for men) or one blue and one yellow sock (for women).

The Scout (that's your freshman handbook) will be stuffed into pockets because upperclassmen have the habit of requesting a freshman to produce it—or maybe to recite the college songs and yells.

Until the zero hour comes, freshmen will be permitted to roam the campus freely. But when Thursday morning rolls around, the class of 1956 can forget about such things as walking across the diagonal walk from Student's Hall on front campus and using the front steps to Founders' Hall. Yet, they must remember such things as the dink, name card and Scout.

But it is all done in a friendly spirit with one aim—to aid the freshmen in successfully getting into the swing of things at Juniata.

CONFERENCES ON CAMPUS

The regional conference and youth conference for the Eastern region of the Church of the Brethren was held on the campus Sept. 4-7. The conference theme was "Win Men to Christ."

55-ACRE CAMPUS—

The campus at Juniata contains 55 acres, 26 of which are used directly for college purposes. There are 20 principal buildings.

Editorializing

Exhortation To Class Of 1956

"YOU ARE to be free for four years from the care of winning bread."

Such was a statement once directed to an incoming freshman class by the president of a university in his welcoming address.

For some of you of the class of 1956 that implication may be absolutely correct. For many others —those of you who will pass your college days as dish washers, snow shovelers, or furnace tenders—this will not apply.

True you may not be "winning bread", but all of you are "winning for yourselves an education."

Involved in this often pleasant but sometimes tedious task of "winning" education is the problem of avoiding substitutions for three essential requirements—brains, heart and courage.

Only a Wizard of Oz would attempt to use a college diploma in place of brains. Only a Wizard of Oz would try to substitute freshman numerals or a varsity letter for courage. Only a Wizard of Oz would replace a heart with club pins or honorary keys.

As you enter into your new college world the futility of the "Wonderful Wizard" will become apparent to you.

Brains—not a diploma—will be needed to make the most out of your college days.

Courage—not a varsity letter—will be needed to facilitate your work in the class room, on the athletic field, or in your personal life when things look the blackest.

A heart—not pins or keys—will be needed to aid you to develop into a good Juniatian by winning and keeping friends.

Today approximately 200 of you have arrived in Huntingdon eagerly expecting that the best four years of your lives are now beginning.

During your four years here (or less, if you adopt a speed-up program), you will not only have the best social and intellectual conditions available, but you'll get an actual preview of what real life is. And in that preview of real life you will find that there, too, brains, courage, and a heart form a core of life.

Don't follow in the footsteps of the brainless scarecrow, nor of the heartless tin woodman, nor of the cowardly lion.

Set your goal and use that brain, that courage, and that heart of yours as you undertake the task of "winning" an education.

You can't expect to become fully prepared for life's real game. But you will have the best four years of your lives and no matter how much you put into your undergraduate years nor how much you get out of them, the "best four years" will leave a remarkable imprint in your path of life.

77th Year

College Is Founded

April 17, 1876

Three has been a magic number in Juniata College's history now entering its 77th year.

There were three founders . . . three students who reported for the first class . . . three members of the first graduating class.

On April 17, 1876, the faculty numbered one, the "campus" was one borrowed room, and the curriculum was one subject. Prof. J. M. Zuck was the teacher and principal and his general subject was "Mental and Moral Science."

Since that first class in what was then known as "The Huntingdon Normal School," the institution has shown a steady growth to a fully accredited college of arts and sciences.

Juniata's founding and its history have been shaped "by a desire to foster the highest human virtures and to aid young men and women in developing their innate powers to the place where they can become responsible and useful citizens, folks who are not only able to do things, but who understand the values of the things they do."

It is to its motto "Veritas Liberat"—the truth sets free—that Juniata is profoundly dedicated.

Curriculum Is Valuable

Juniata's educational program, now well established after 14 years, is considered one of "the most valuable developments in higher education."

The general plan provides that every student shall gain a large fund of information as well as a clear understanding of the place his studies hold in the broad field of learning, according to the catalog. It further states: "He must also acquire certain fundamental skills to aid him in applying his knowledge before he deserves to hold a degree and to take his place in the world among educated people."

As one indication that the program is now widely recognized as successful, all freshmen entering Harvard began in 1949 to take at least one course in general education. This was a step in the faculty plan adopted in 1945-46 (Juniata's plan began in 1938) to make general education courses a regular part of the college work for all students.

The greater part of the first year's work at Juniata is devoted to introductory courses in the three "Divisions of Study." Three well-planned courses in the first term, one in each division, serve to integrate for the student the work of the various departments in which he will later study.

The catalog, on page 16, points out: "By this means also he gains a sympathetic understanding of studies which he himself may not wish to pursue, but which may be of primary interest to his fellow students in the college."

We Women

Once again the women of Juniata unite to welcome a new group of freshmen. Here you are, coeds of the class of 1956, all with that wide-eyed exclamation mark stamped on your faces. Ah, it's good to see you.

It's good to see your enthusiasm, your interest, and your ambition. You've come to conquer the campus, in one way or another, and some of you will succeed.

You will succeed, that is, if you go about it right. If you set out to see things clearly and to judge them fairly. If you name yourselves a goal and work for it without being sidetracked by superficial things.

And you may meet a lot of things and people who will do their best to sidetrack you. Social life is a necessary part of your college, but it is not the primary purpose.

The clubs are a phase of college life, for those who want them, but college is still college without a club membership. The collegiate slang expressions and mannerisms that you can easily pick up may dazzle the homefolks on your vacation, but they only amuse the upperclassmen.

What people will think of Juniata coeds from now on is up to you. You represent a transfusion of new blood into the coed population. Just what that transfusion will bring, whether new strength or merely decay, depends on you. It is in your power to bring with you your ideals and make them part of the standards of the College. Or you can mold yourself into just another Juniata coed indistinguishable from the others.

But no matter what you choose to do with your college career, you are freshmen for the next year—under our guidance, protection, and possible influence. So we welcome you and wish you the best in Juniata.

Indians Prepare For Season's Opener

Frosh Dominate Large Squad, But 11 Letterman Hold Key

Football drills for the 1952 edition of Juniata's grid team reached the end of the second week after getting off to a fast start on Labor Day with 47 candidates reporting to Coach Bill Smaltz to prepare for the Indians' 30th season.

Several additional men reported during the first week and a 50-man squad has been going through two practice sessions daily in preparation for the opener at Westminster on Saturday, Sept. 27.

Included among the squad were 34 freshmen, largest contingent of first-year men to greet Smaltz in his six seasons as head mentor of the Indians.

This unanticipated turnout brightened the Tribe's football outlook somewhat because 14 of the 25 lettermen did not return from last year's team. Included among the missing is Lighthorse Lundy Loschiavo, the triple-threat Ambridge, Pa., tailback, who copped the Juniata scoring and offense honors for two years. He's in the Air Force.

Eleven lettermen, eight of them on the line, did report for opening day drills. Bob Wagoner, a three-year letter winner from Ferndale High, Johnstown, headed the list of holdovers.

Except for Ron Clapper, Altoona, and Dave LeFevre, Hanover, the Juniata offensive and defensive lines have been riddled. Both played regularly on defense backing up the line and alternated at center on offense. Other returning linemen are: Harry Martin, end, Baldwin, N. Y.; Chuck Knox, Sewickley, and Joe Veto, McKees Rocks, tackles; Bob Muchoney, Greensburg, and Myron Sevick, McKees Rocks, guards.

Not much is left in the backfield except for Tom McNeal, Mifflin, individual rushing leader at fullback; Fred Hamor, Harrisburg, wingback, and Tony Segalavich, McKees Rocks, who can play almost any position.

istration, Robert A. Newcombe, director of admissions, and John T. Fike, treasurer, have been on the job at the college this summer. Newcombe was former director of activities for Fiberglas Corp. in Huntingdon and Fike had served as business manager of Bridgewater College.

In the library, Miss Miriam E. Dickey of Berlin, Pa., who was graduated from Juniata in 1949, will serve as assistant librarian to Mrs. Sarah Steele Hettinger. Miss Dickey was a teacher in Hollidaysburg High School.

The latest addition to the administrative staff is Myron C. Dunlavy, operator of Lincoln Caverns. Dunlavy, who was graduated from Juniata in June, 1950, in business administration, will serve as field representative for the college working out of the admissions office.

Tribe Topics

Juniata's Memorial Physical Education Building, erected as a memorial to the 675 Juniata men and women who served in World War II, is the newest and finest gymnasium in Central Pennsylvania. It was dedicated last Homecoming Day, Nov. 3, 1951.

Six varsity teams are competing in intercollegiate athletics for the Indians during the college year. Baseball set the pace last spring with a 10-4 record; golf, always a top winner, won 5 of 8 dual matches and took the third annual Juniata College invitational tournament. The track team won 1, lost 3 and placed third against Bucknell and Gettysburg. Meanwhile, the tennis team played eight tough matches without victory. Football and basketball are the fall and winter sports.

While much attention is centered on the intercollegiate program at Juniata, there is considerable emphasis on intramurals in which more men participate. Sports included are touch football, basketball, volleyball, bowling, softball, tennis and golf. Soccer and wrestling may soon be added.

The Women's Athletic Association organizes the intramural program for coeds on the campus—and it is an active organization. This program includes hockey, basketball, volleyball and softball as major sports. Minor sports are badminton, table tennis, archery, and tennis.

P. M. Snider (Mike to everyone) is director of athletics and has been on the college staff since 1930. He was a four sport letterman in the Class of 1926. He is coach of track and tennis. Bill Smaltz, a Penn State product, is head coach of football and baseball; Dr. T. Arnold Greene, former Pitt quarterback under Sutherland, heads the basketball team; and Dr. Edgar S. Kiracofe, professor of education, serves as golf coach.

Juniata was represented in the stands at the Olympics in Helsinki, Finland, this summer. Mike and Mrs. Snider attended with the immediate past president of the Alumni Association, Dr. Robert Patrick and his wife. Another spectator at the Games was Miss Miriam Schlegel, assistant professor of education.

Pennsylvania Queen Is A College Coed

Girls Top Men On Honor List For First Time

For the first time since its institution in 1949 more women than men were named to the Dean's List of Distinguished Students at the conclusion of the spring term. Coeds outnumbered the men 10 to 6.

Eight of the 16 so honored acquired a 3.00 quality point average for the term. An average of at least 2.75 is required for inclusion on the list.

N. Douglas Martin of Colver, a pre-medical student who was graduated summa cum laude in June, led the list by being an honor student for the seventh time. George F. Blechschmidt, Cressona; Ronald L. Cherry, Lewistown; and Wilfred G. Norris, Ambler, all were named for the fourth time.

The list of other students attaining the honor as announced by Dean Morley Mays follows:

Margaret A. Hershey, Lititz; Jean C. Hostetter, Mount Union; Betty L. Longwell, Tyrone; John H. Martin, Huntingdon; Benton M. Newcomer, Uniontown; Joyce E. Rinehart, Westminster, Md.

Also, Judy Shanabrook, Hanover; Joan M. Sharp, Merchantville, N. J.; Carol M. Shoemaker, Ambler; Margaret D. Stinson, Huntingdon; Audrey C. Weber, Erie; Iva Lou Yoder, Mill Creek.

Mays Speaks At Kiwanis Meeting

A talk by Dean Morley Mays featured the meeting of the Huntingdon Kiwanis Club held Monday. Dean Mays' topic was "Publication of the Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible." The weekly luncheon gathering was led by Prof. Paul Yoder, also of the College faculty.

Dr. Mays pointed out that the Bible is one of the greatest books of the western hemisphere. He went on to say that there is difficulty in translation of the Bible because of the fact that original manuscripts do not exist to which questions can be referred.

The talk was part of the general observation of the fact that the Revised Standard Version of the Bible will be circulated for the first time next Tuesday.

JC Hits 600 In Enrollment

More registrants than were anticipated have swelled Juniata's total enrollment to an unexpected 600 students for the fall term, Mr. A. William Engle, College registrar, has announced.

The increased enrollment is substantially larger than was last year's opening attendance of 555.

Enrollment Hits 600

Freshmen and transfer students have boosted the total enrollment to 600 people. The number is not expected to be exceeded, however, because withdrawals may be expected to exceed new registrations at this late date.

Among the added students are 15 former students at JC who have returned to Juniata after one or more years' absence from the campus scene.

In addition to these students some 350 upperclassmen who had registered in the spring and another 12 Huntingdon residents classified as special students lifted the total enrollment to its present high.

485 Residents Here

It is estimated that about 485 students are resident while about 110 may be classified as day students. This unprecedented resident enrollment has resulted in a shortage of housing facilities both on and off the campus.

Some 26 veterans are continuing their educations under Veterans Administration benefits. Of these ten are veterans of the Korean war, while the remainder are listed under the World War II GI bill.

Staff Workers Wanted By Paper

Any student interested in working on the Juniatian should contact the editor Wednesday afternoon, October 1, in the Publications Office on the ground floor of Founders Hall, or at another time should that not be convenient.

News, sports and feature writers as well as those desiring to work in the business department are needed on the staff.

Graduate Exam In Pennsylvania Set Nov. 7-8

The first administration of the Graduate Record Examination has been scheduled for Friday and Saturday, November 7 and 8.

Seniors who may need the results of this examination for admission to graduate school should apply to the office of the Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N. J., at once for application blanks.

The deadline for registration for this administration of the test will be October 24.

There will be only three testing centers in Pennsylvania for the fall examination. These will be located at Lancaster, Lincoln University and Philadelphia.

JC Planners To Meet Tomorrow

The College Planning Commission of the Board of Trustees will hold a meeting in Huntingdon today to discuss matters concerning campus improvement.

Dale Detwiler of Roaring Spring and Chalender Lesher of Huntingdon have been invited to attend the meeting although they are not members of the group.

The commission consists of Henry Gibbel, Lititz; William R. Flory, Harrisburg; Donovan R. Beachley, Hagerstown, Md.; Joseph V. Kline of New York City; E. P. Blough of Johnstown.

Harold Brumbaugh, Alumni Secretary, and President Calvert N. Ellis will also be present at the session.

College Head On Western Swing

President Calvert N. Ellis has been spending the week in Elgin, Illinois where he is attending a meeting of the Executive Committee of the General Brotherhood Board of the Church of the Brethren. President Ellis is chairman of this body.

The President will also attend a meeting in Chicago at which a new president will be chosen for Bethany Biblical Seminary. Dr. Ellis is a member of the Board of Trustees of that institution.

Pentz Named By Sen. As Coordinator

Jo Pentz, a senior from Pottstown, has accepted the nomination of the Senate for the position of Student Coordinator of the All College Musical "My Maryland," it has been announced.

Miss Pentz is majoring in education. A graduate of Long Beach High School, she is a chairman of the JCA and a member of ABC and Lambda Gamma.

Miss Pentz has been actively affiliated with the Alfarata for her entire stay at Juniata. She has been a delegate to Leadership Conference on two occasions and is a member of the social committee.

She sets her occupational goal as a director of religious education.

The musical performance is scheduled to be given in Oller Hall on November 14 and 15.

Game With Moravian Now Night Affair

The game with Moravian next Saturday, October 4 has been changed from an afternoon contest to a night affair and will be played at War Vets Memorial Field, Huntingdon. The change in the sight and time of the event was made by mutual consent of the teams and the kickoff will be at 9 p. m.

N. J. Brumbaugh, Professor Emeritus, Speaks At Lunch

Dr. Brumbaugh, former chairman of the chemistry department at Juniata, was in a large measure responsible for having built up the distinguished reputation in the field of chemistry which the College now enjoys.

In speaking of the history of Juniata few men are as qualified as Dr. Brumbaugh. He was personally acquainted with all of the founders of the College except the first teacher, Professor Zook.

Dr. Brumbaugh's address was centered around the theme, "History and Tradition of Juniata College." During the talk he constantly stressed the role of his own family in creating the College. An uncle, Dr. A. B. Brumbaugh, is generally credited with originating the idea of the college. A cousin, Dr. Gaius Brumbaugh of Washington, D. C., was the first graduate of the College and was, until his death last spring, honorary chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Leadership Conf. Makes 24 Suggestions For College

Leadership Conference, meeting in annual session September 12-14, proposed 24 resolutions and recommendations to be acted upon by the Student Senate or appropriate agencies of the College administration.

The conference was held at Camp Kanesatake near Spruce Creek. Held under the auspices of the Student Senate, the various conferences were conducted by officers and chairmen of that organization.

The conclave was convened on the evening of the 12th with addresses by Senate President Bob Wagoner and Prof. J. Clyde Stayer of the Juniata faculty. Sessions were held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday morning when the delegates returned to campus.

The conference was attended by the presidents of campus organizations and by others chosen as delegates at large by the Senate.

Two types of suggestions were offered. Resolutions were made when a proposed action was clearly under the jurisdiction of the Senate while recommendations were made in the case of action falling under the control of the College administration.

The following resolutions classified under the conference in which they were passed are the results of the 1952 Leadership Conference:

General Activities

To: The May Day Committee. Resolved that the traditional May Day ceremonies be combined with a Spring Festival theme as in the past, the details of which are to be worbed out by the May Day Committee.

To: the May Day Committee. Resolved that it investigate the advisability of club participation in the main program rather than in later individual presentations.

To: the May Day Committee. Resolved that the entire program of May Day be held outside, weather permitting.

To: Chairman of General Activities. Resolved that the following schedule for club meetings be adopted:

Monday: Touring Choir
Tuesday: JCA
Wednesday: Orchestra, Senate, Debate
Thursday: Special interest clubs
Friday: Vocational clubs

To: the Administration. Recommend that (A) at the time of payment of College fees a class representative be present to collect class dues; that (B) each class set its dues in the spring for the ensuing year; that (C) meanwhile, hall competitions or similar devices be encouraged to meet the need for the current year; that (D) freshman dues be set by the Senate and collected by the Chairman of Underclassmen.

7 Instructional Changes Greet JC Students

Returing to school for the 1952-53 term, Juniata College students witnessed seven newly appointed instructional staff members assume their duties as teachers of history, home economics, modern languages, music, physical education, and psychology.

Miss Barbara J. Cochran, a June graduate of the Pennsylvania State College takes the position of the physical education instructor for women vacated by Miss Jane E. McCormick who resigned to continue graduate study at Cornell University. While attending Penn State, Miss Cochran was secretary of Lakonides, physical education honorary for women; a member of student council of the School of Physical Education; and a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, in addition to belonging to the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Receives MA This Year

Receiving her master of music degree this year from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music where she studied with Madame Karin Dayas, Miss Marie Louise Jaeger, a native of Ripon, Wisconsin, now the piano instructor, received a bachelor of arts degree from Ripon College in 1950 after majoring in music and German.

Filling the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Jane M. Crosby in the home economics department, Mrs. Marjorie L. Joseph, teaching a number of courses offered in clothing, graduated in 1939 from Ohio State University, where she was a graduate assistant last school term. Having had a number of years experience in the garment industry in New York and Philadelphia and having taught in Berlin Heights High School, Birmingham, Ohio, she is a member of Omicron Nu, an honorary home economics society, as well as being married and the mother of a nine year old daughter.

New Psych Prof Named

Replacing Dr. David A. Warriner, who now teaches at Louisiana College, Pineville, La., Mr. Wilson W. Kimbrough, Jr. accepted an appointment in the department of psychology. Originally from Springdale, Arkansas, he attended Central Missouri State College and the University of Ohio under the Navy V-12 and ROTC programs before obtaining a position in the U. S. Naval Reserve. Receiving a bachelor of arts degree in 1948 and a master of arts degree in 1949 from the University of Arkansas, he was a doctoral student at the University of Maryland, where he has been situated since 1949. A member of Psi Chi, national honorary society in psychology, he is also associate member of the American Psy-

Alcohol Clinic Held On Campus

The eighth annual Pennsylvania School of Alcohol Studies was held at Juniata College with a five-day program in July.

Various church groups, the W. C. T. U., and the Temperance League sponsored the school which presented seminars and lectures. Dr. George F. Dunkelberger served as director of the institution.

Faculty Reception To Be Tonight

The annual Facutly Reception, traditionally the start of the Juniata social season will be held tonight in the Memorial Gymnasium. The affair will begin at 8:30.

A reception line and the Griffen Orchestra will highlight the gathering.

Faculty entertainment will also be featured. Twelve o'clock lates will be granted for the semi-formal affair.

Alumni Giving Hits High Mark

Juniata's alumni fund has surpassed the $50,000 mark for the second successive year, Alumni Secretary Harold Brumbaugh has announced.

The fund ended its 1951-52 drive with contributions totaling $50,784.26 for the 12-month span. Last year's total set a record with $58,587.24.

Some of the contributions this year have gone to pay for current expenditures which have reached new highs while a considerable proportion has gone to offset expenses incurred in building the Memorial Gymnasium.

Highest average contribution was recorded by the class of 1897 with an average gift of $508. The largest amount given by any one class was by that of 1921 which gave $2,870.

The average gift, which placed Juniata in eighth place on the honor roll of the 1951 Alumni Funds for Colleges of the American Alumni Council dropped this year to $50.08 for the 1024 contributors. Last year it was a record $56.95.

The Juniatian is being published Saturday this week because of printing delays. Next week we will resume our normal Friday publication schedule.

Editorializing

World Tensions Damage Student Academic Drive

In all considerations of the plight of today's typical college man, one factor is constantly ignored, glossed over, and cast aside. College administrations take steps to revitalize the interest of college Joe in the cultural aspects of life. Rules and restrictions are made in attempts to heighten scholastic averages. Men are urged to go to the libraries of our colleges. This goes on and on.

But who has stopped to consider one of the foremost underlying reasons for all the surface symptoms of the 1952 collegian? Why, we ask, should a student be concerned with going across the street to the library carrying books when the thing really troubling him is when he will be expected to take an even longer trip—a field trip—on foot and carrying not books but a variety of khaki and olive drab equipment?

We point out that no doctor worthy of the name treats symptoms. He merely uses those symptoms as a guide.

We suggest that the patriotic urge to get out and fight has lost its gloss and glory. We do not for one moment question the loyalty of youth. We do not question the justness of the cause for which they may be called upon to fight. We do, however, suggest that many of the ills of todays collegiate society may be traced to just this thing.

What do men think about? These things are not irreconcilable but in combination they are incongruous.

When the future of the typical college man is as uncertain as it is today, when some use college merely as an "out" to escape Selective Service for another year, is it any great wonder that measures taken to heighten averages in 1936 may not be overly appropriate in 1952?

It is any wonder that averages continue to skid when ineffective measures are used to bolster them?

CIRCUIT RIDER

Confusion Gone

by JACK FREYMULLER

Swinging into the second week of school we find most of the confusion marking the beginning of a school year has begun to abate. Freshmen are being harassed, campus regulations have been read to a captive audience, and the time-honored custom of last-minute course changes has been observed. These things attend every opening session and are generally tolerated.

It's a bewildering period for those who enter JC for the first time this year. Practically all the freshmen have had to modify their ideas of what Juniata would be like. Those who expected a brilliant social atmosphere wherein one breathes the rarefied air of the Ivy League campus were bluntly disappointed. On the other hand, those who come for a four-year vacation at Daddy's expense soon felt a rude shock. Juniata is no country club with classrooms. The major business here is education and it takes some hard work to get that. Osmosis only works on plants.

However, don't get too disappointed. Eventually, even though you fight hard, some of your courses will begin to interest you and Skip's always has a booth for the couple with a dime for two cups of coffee.

Think it over. These four years here are, and should be, no more than a transition period between the limited opportunities of high school, and the manifold possibilities of commencement. It is merely a stage and not an epoch; not a place to live dreams but the place to build actualities. When you clean out your room at the end of your Senior year, throw those teddy bears, souvenir programs and dance cards into the waste can outside the door. If you have an education and a personality, you won't have to fall back on them.

Meanwhile, open your mind to the possibility that life isn't so awful here after all. A lot of people we know like it. And they're having fun. Not in the Pan-Hellenic tradition of beer party and name band but in a way which is less of a drain on the wallet and the nerves. They've made friends.

Library Changes Greet Returning College Students

Returning students will find a number of differences in the library rules this year. A new system of circulation and a new arrangement of the magazine corner highlights the changes.

Books will be due only once each week, on Wednesdays, but they may be returned at any time before that. This will create a variation in the length of time for which books may be kept, although the average period will continue to be for two weeks.

For example, a book borrowed from the library on Wednesday will be due two weeks from that date, whereas one borrowed the following day will also be due on Wednesday. The thing to remember is Wednesday, the day books are due in the library.

The magazine corner has been rearranged to encourage greater use of more magazines. Instead of the former strict alphabetical arrangement by title they are now classified according to subject. All magazines on business will be in one section, those dealing with psychology in another. The same arrangement applies to all subjects. Current popular periodicals are to be found on the rack in the lobby.

All reserve books will be due at nine o'clock. This regulation applies to resident and day students alike. Any book returned after that time will be subject to a fine of .25 for the first hour and .10 for each additional hour.

It is to be remembered that the Browsing Room in the I. Harvey Brumbaugh House is available for student use. Books do not circulate from that building, but comfortable chairs and a quite atmosphere are provided for student pleasure. The library suggests that students form the habit of dropping in for a quiet half hour of non-required reading several times a week.

Navy Offers College To Qualified Men

The Navy announced that the seventh nation-wide competitive examination for its College Training Program has been scheduled for December 13, 1952. Successful candidates will be given a four-year college education at government expense and will be commissioned as officers of the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation.

The program is open to male citizens of the United States between the ages of 17 and 21, and quotas have been assigned to each state and territory upon the basis of its high school population. The Navy expects to enter about 2000 students into the program commencing with the fall term of college in 1953.

Applications are available from Dean of Men James F. Penney who will provide specific information about the program, including the time and place of the competitive examination, the method of making application, and the specific age and scholastic qualifications required.

Washington Job Available Now

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Scientific Aid (Cotton) for filling positions paying from $2,750 to $3,410 a year in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and vicinity. To qualify, applicants must take a written test and have had appropriate experience or education.

Applications must be filed by October 7 with the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the Department of Agriculture, Washing 25, D. C. Further information and applications may be obtained from most first and second class post offices, from civil service regional offices, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

Kiracofe Gets Danforth Award

Dr. Edgar S. Kiracofe, Chairman of the division of social studies and head of the department of education at Juniata, attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill from July 18 to August 26 as a recipient of a Danforth scholarship for study on religion in higher education.

The Danforth Foundation has awarded 25 such scholarships "to make available recent findings in this field to faculty members in curricular areas other than religion." This program has been set up because "it has become increasingly clear . . . that teaching in any subject of the curriculum should take into account, wherever relevant, the Christian interpretation of human experience and the world."

National Essay Contest Open To Senior Class

Members of the senior class may now compete for the $5000 in cash prizes offered by the National Council of Jewish Women for the best essays by fourth-year college students on the subject, "The Meaning of Academic Freedom."

Entries will be accepted until Dec. 31, but students are urged to submit their efforts as early as possible. Essays should be limited to 2500 words. First prize will be $2,500; second $1,000; and third, fourth and fifth, $500 each. Essays should be mailed to Essay Contest, National Council of Jewish Women, One 47th Street, New York 36, N. Y.

It is the purpose of the contest to focus the broadest possible attention upon the need to safeguard the tradition of free exchange of thought and opinion in education against any threat of repression from the outside world or from fear to "speak up" within the classroom or lecture hall.

The committee of contest judges is headed by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and includes Dr. Ralph Bunche, winner of the 1950 Nobel Peace Prize; Thurman W. Arnold, former Associate Justice of the U. S. Court of Appeals; Dr. Abram L. Sachar, President of Brandeis University; and Mrs. Douglas Horton, former President of Wellesley College and former head of the U. S. Navy WAVES.

Interested seniors are asked to obtain the rules of the contest, as well as printed certificates of authorship which must accompany the essays, from the National Council of Jewish Women's contest headquarters in New York. It should be stressed that only class of '53 students are eligible.

Poetry Contest Now Open To All Applicants

It is again time for all college students to submit original verse to be considered for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry. This is the tenth annual college competition.

Over a hundred thousand manuscripts have been submitted to the National Poetry Association for this purpose during the last ten years. Of course, about four thousand have been accepted for publication.

Students may submit as many manuscripts as is desired. Theme and form may be in accordance with the wish of the contributor. Because of space limitations shorter poems are preferred.

Rules for the contest are simple. The manuscripts must be typed or written in ink on one side of a sheet. The contributor's name, home address, name of college and college address must appear on each entry.

Manuscripts should be sent to the National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 34, California.

Hamor Out With Fractured Ankle

Fred Hamor, junior letterman, from Harrisburg will be lost to the Indian grid squad for a period of four to six weeks as the result of a fractured ankle. The injury was suffered in a scrimage session during the second week of pre-season drills.

Hamor was a regular in the Blue and Gold backfield last season and was counted on for heavy duty this year. He played the wingback position in Coach Smaltz's single wing for the past two seasons.

Fran Wampler, a reserve for the most part of the 1951 campaign, is working Hamor's post while the well-liked junior is sitting out at least the first four games.

Hamor received his early football experience at Tyrone High School. Now 21 years old, he stands 5-11 and weighs 175. Besides performing on the gridiron he is active in intramural basketball and was a reserve catcher for the baseball squad last spring.

The Indian coaching staff has expressed hopes that Hamor will be available for at least limited duty during the latter part of the campaign.

NCAA LISTS SIX RULE S REVISIONS

Defensive Holding Penalty Now Increased Along With Illegal Shift Violation Change

Two major rules changes and four minor revisions have been incorporated into the rule books for the 1952 season. The NCAA committee has taken these steps to clarify the rules and to give to the offensive team a better "break" when a defensive holding violation occurs.

The major changes in the rules are the increase of the defensive holding penalty from five to 15 yards from the spot of the foul and the increase of the penalty for an illegal shift from five to 15 yards.

Among the minor changes are:

● Neither end of the ball on the center snap can be raised more than 45 degrees. The ball must be at right angles to the line of scrimmage.

Clipping Defined

● Clipping is defined as blocking an opponent, other than the runner from behind. However, the NCAA Football Rules Committee has incorporated the following situations into the rules. (A)—When a player is legally attempting to recover a free ball and uses his hands or arms to push the back of an opponent, this should not be called clipping. (B)—A situation which has long been disputable and which has caused much criticism has been ruled upon. Any opponent, many times, turns his back when he sees an offensive player throw his block his way, causing the man to strike him across the back of his legs. This is NOT a clip, but a legal block. (C)—When two players of opposing teams fall to the ground and the body of one lies across the back of the legs of the other it is not clipping, unless the official contact, which, in itself would have to be illegal to be ruled a clipping violation.

● A player signaling for a fair catch and making such is now allowed two steps to regain his balance and while doing so he may not receive body contact from any member of the kicking team.

Shift Ruling

● All players of the offensive team must come to an absolute stop and remain stationary in their positions without any movement of their feet, body, head, or arms, for at least ONE FULL SECOND before the ball is snapped. Thus, any time the offensive team makes a shift in its line or backfield, or both, the players must halt for one full second before the center snap. The panalty or this violation has been increased to 15 yards.

● A new ruling for striking an oppenent reads, "No Player shall strike an opponent with his fist, elbow, forearm, or locked hands, or kick, or knee an opponent. Any player who violates this ruling during the game or between periods shall be suspended from the game."

Junior tackle, Chuck (Daddy-O) Knox, 190 pounder from Sewickley, is expected to be one of the main cogs in the Indian line against the Westminster Titans tomorrow afternoon. A two time letter winner, Knox is noted for his rough, slam bang defensive play and will be depended upon to anchor the JC line on defense this year.

Bob Asan Is Named Editor Of Indian

Bob Asan has been named editor of "The Indian", official program for all home football games. The senior from Sewickley will have charge of feature articles as well as selecting pictures to be used in the program, which is sponsored by the J Club.

Dave Bayer has been named circulation manager and Jerry Vernail was chosen as advertising manager.

Asan was formerly sports editor of "The Juniatian" and "The Tomahawk", home basketball program. There will be only three issues of "The Indian" this year due to the fact that there will only be a similar number of home grid contests, which are in succession.

Pigskin Facts

Back in the year 1897 the scoring system read quite differently than it does today. During that season, a touchdown was five points, an extra point naturally was one, a field goal counted five points, and a safety was two. This put more emphasis on kicking and field goals were more common than they are in today's version of the college game.

In 1887 the game was 90 minutes long and 15 men were on each team. The lineup read, one quarterback, two halfbacks, two fullbacks and nine linemen.

* * *

The first indoor football game was played in the old Madison Square Garden in New York City in 1887. The teams in the tussel were Penn and Rutgers.

* * *

In 1917 no substitute was allowed to talk to team members upon the field until the first play was completed.

* * *

The year 1937 brought about a change in numbering of the players. During that season all players were required to have numerals on both the front and back of their jerseys.

* * *

The loss of a down and a five yard penalty was put into effect in 1926 if two forward passes in succession were incomplete.

Indians Face Strong Westminster Team Today

"Indians Green And Inexperienced" Says Smaltz

By John Richman

With only eleven returning upperclassmen ready for action it is little wonder that coach "Bill" Smaltz termed JC's 1952 grid squad "green and unexperienced". Smaltz further stated that is was "a freshman team playing a varsity schedule." He stressed, however, that versitality and ability were present and that the club should improve with each succeeding game.

Smaltz complimented the team as he called them a willing group that wanted to play football. He explained that the coaches were very demanding and much that had been expected from this predominately freshman group would not be expected from upperclassmen under other circumstances. The mentor seemed to be of the opinion that there is no limit on how far the boys can go.

BILL SMALTZ
Head Coach
Juniata College

Two Platoon Necessary

Again this year, football fans will see the two platoon system employed on College Hill. This will be out of necessity rather than out of choice. The lack of experienced ball players leaves Juniata without the men who can stand up under pressure for a 60 minute stretch. Many of last year's regulars will be difficult to replace and the sidelining of Fred Hamor due to a broken ankle has made matters worse.

As in previous seasons, the Indians will primarily be a single wing team. Smaltz would disclose nothing more, saying that we were hopeful of surprising Westminster in the first half. If Saturday's scrimmage was any indication of what JC opponents may expect, they are in for many surprises for JC used plays from the double-wing and winged T, in addition to the single wing.

Less is known about the Indian defense. The line is inexperienced and while Smaltz does have two good line backers and two good defensive backs, he has yet to find what he deems the right safety man.

Probable Lineup

Although the Indian mentor has not yet decided on that starting lineup, there is a good chance that it may look like this, depending on who wins the coin flip. Ends—Bob Wagoner and Harry "Pone" Martin; Tackles—Joe Veto and "Chuck" Knox; Guards—Myron Sevick and Bob Muchoney; Center—Dave LePevre. The backfield should lineup with either freshman Jim Butler or junior Ron Hackett at quarterback, Fran Wampler at wingback, Tom "T" McNeal at full and Tony Segalovich at tailback.

While Smaltz would venture no opinion as to the outcome of tomorrow's game he did say that odds would be in favor of Westminster as they have lost only four men from the team which last year trounced the Tribe 38-13. But the thing to remember is the Tribe coach's statement, "Upsets happen and that's what makes football".

16 Lettermen Back

Sixteen lettermen have returned from the team that compiled a five won and four lost record in 1951, to form the nucleus of a 42 man squad that includes 12 players that saw action last year but did not receive a monogram. The remainder of the squad is filled by 14 freshmen.

Burry's team will operate from the T-formation with ace passer Dick Banick, a 5-10 180 pound senior handling the quarterbacking. Last year he completed 63 of 157 passes thrown with 13 resulting in scores.

New Backfield Man

Sophomore Ron Ginter, who weighs in the same as Banick will fill the fullback spot. He is the only newcomer in the backfield. The Westminster mentor is still uncertain as to who will fill the remaining spots. A battle has developed between three year letterman Larry Verona, a senior, and juniors Carl Mantz and Tom McGrath.

The keystone spot on the line will be handled by Jim Bowser, who will be flanked by Roy Eckstrom, a 6-1 250 pound giant and Pat Rizzi, 5-10 185 pounds. All three are juniors and have garnered 2 letters apiece.

Senior Walt Clearly, a strapping 6-3 221 pounder, will anchor the one tackle slot while either Jim (Jessie) James or Ralph Veights, both juniors, will plug the other hole. Once again all three have been awarded two monograms.

3 Ends Lost

Westminster was hard hit at the ends by graduation with three of the first four departing the scene via the diploma route. Bob Sistek, last year's top pass receiver will handle one of the starting end positions. Osmund (Hood) LeVinias, a sophomore seems to have the inside track on the other terminal post but is being pushed hard by Pete Houston, Don McCoy and Albert Fletcher.

Juniata will help to inaugurate the Titan's new athletic field which will be used for the first time, Saturday. It is the opening game for both teams.

Clash Tomorrow At New Wilmington; Titans To Field A Veteran Squad

by Jim Hunt

A veteran studded Westminster College football team will attempt to make it three straight wins over the Indians of Coach Bill Smaltz when the two teams clash this afternoon on the New Wilmington gridiron.

The Titans under their new head coach, Harold Burry, will field eight of the eleven starters that swept by Juniata, 38-13, last year. Burry has served as track, soccer, cross-country and swimming coach since 1946.

Sports Parade

By Harold Gray

Coach Bill Smaltz and his 1952 version of the Juniata gridders open tomorrow against the Titans of Westminster at New Wilmington. The clash will help inaugurate the new field of the Blue and White.

When a team loses 14 lettermen through graduation, personal reasons, and inefficiency in schoolwork, a coach certainly has little to look forward to in the way of manpower. Then, just as practice begins, the squad loses it's first-string wingback due to a fractured ankle. But, 36 freshmen come to the coach's aid, in hopes of supplying the personnel needed to produce a ball team that will be able to withstand the attacks of squads from larger schools, which are seasoned with returning veterans.

Whether or not the 12 returning upperclassmen togeiher with the 36 frosh can be formed into a high geared grid machine remains to be seen. But, if spirit, hustle, and determination to win mean anything, the Indians should turn out a good team this year. Experience is all important in any business, sport especially and what this year's team lacks in that department will have to be made up with "the old college try."

Let's get behind the team this season and if they get any breaks at all, Juniata could have a fighting and WINNING team on College Hill in 1952.

It's not an easy schedule by any means. But, last season Juniata went into the Allegheny game a 20 to 30 point underdog, played inspired ball, and walked off the field with a 20-20 tie. It can be done again this year and don't be surprised if it is!

* * * *

INDIAN ITEMS—McKees Rocks has taken over as the number one producer of football talent for the 1952 Indian squad by sending eight boys to College Hill, Joe Veto, Tony Segalovich, and Myron Sevick, returning lettermen, have been joined by Don "Killer" Conley, a sparkler at defensive end; Barry Drexler, another flank man; Forrest Douds, a 175 pound pass receiver, and Bill Haushalter, a guard who is expected to see extensive action this season . . . Don Pheasant, a downtown boy, has impressed the Indian mentors and should be a main cog in Coach Smaltz's backfield this season . . . Ambridge, a name long famous for its football talent at JC, has bux one representative here this fall, Bill Yersyk, a 190 pounder is expected to do a bang-up job when called upon in the Indian backfield . . . New Jersey finally has made the list of contributors to the Indian 1952 squad with Pat Burns, a 160 pound center . . . Ed Mohney, frosh from Claysburg, bears watching; partly because of his tremendous speed which should be a great asset to the offensive attack. They still tell the story about Ed scoring all of his team's points in a 26-13 high school triumph. It's true too! . . . . Amos Mosser, high school teammate of Mohney, claims of the honor of the heaviest man on the squad by a scale reading of a mere 236 . . . . Charlie "Moons" Mullen, frosh from Altoona, promises to be one of the top flight guards in the Indian line this season. "Moons" goes 5-10 and packs 175 pounds. He was switched to his present post to help bolster a rather shallow JC line.

* * * *

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?—Tom Green, last year's basketball captain and hurler for Bill Smaltz's nine entered the service on the 16th of the month . . . Kenny "Red" Mummah, top flight defensive halfback and pitcher for the Indians last year, is now working in his hometown, Mifflintown . . . Dick Kimmel, JV basketball player last year is now continuing his studies at Williamsport Tech . . . Dick Young, Indian quarterback of 1951 is now assistant coach for the JC team and still continues his studies on College Hill.

Rev. Bob Richards, visitor to Juniata last spring, kept his name in the spotlight of the sporting world this past summer, when he captured the Olympic pole-vaulting title at Helsinki. The Flying Parson, who made a favorable impression on JC students and faculty in his chapel talk, outlasted competitors from other nations and set a new Olympic Games mark with a 14 foot 11⅛ inch vault. The powerful 26-year older was ordained five years ago and now teaches four courses in philosophy at Laverne College, in California, when not traveling to track and field meets.

Richards, a muscular 186 pounder, believes the 1952 games helped to promote world peace. "It's too bad the whole world can't be as friendly as we are here at the Olympics", he said after he was awarded the World Games crown. But, even with the Olympic title as his own, Richards has not reached his greatest ambition. The valuting minister has a longing desire to set a new world record. To do so he must crack the present mark, held by Cornelius Warmerdam, of 15 feet 7⅝ inches.

Bibles Now In Library Emphasise New Edition

A number of Bibles are on display in the College Library to help celebrate the release of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible which will be available for the first time next week.

Among the books on display are some with high monetary value. All are of interest to scholars and students of the Bible in general.

All volumes listed here are available for inspection by interested students. Some are on open display while others are in the vault. These may be seen on request if the vault door happens to be closed.

Luther Edition Exhibited

Among the Bibles to be seen is the Martin Luther edition dating from 1524-26. This is a very early edition published by Luther. There are handwritten marginal notes supposed to have been those of Luther himself, although this claim has not been validated.

Another is the "Schweizer Bible." A two volume work, this was published in 1475, perhaps in Basel or Nurenberg. Only five of these Bibles are in the United States.

A very early edition of the King James Bible (1634) is also to be seen. This book is in excellent condition with its brass fastenings on the binding intact.

Saur Bible Present

Heilige Schrift Altes und Neus Testaments, 1743, was published by Christopher Saur in Germantown. This was the first edition of the Bible printed in North America. Also in the library is a 1776 volume which is rare because British troops used unbound pages of this edition as bedding for their mounts while stationed in Philadelphia.

Another to be seen is the Biblia, 1692, which contained the coats of arms of 11 Dukes of Saxony and Martin Luther. A number of wood cut illustrations are also in this book.

French Bible Displayed

A Frech Bible dating from 1760 shows an excellent example of eighteenth century German or Swiss binding. This book with its clear printing and gold tooling was from the collection of A. Edward Newton.

A Hebrew Bible, Greek New Testament, Sanskrit Bible and a German Bible that was used in the first Dutch Mennonite Meeting in America will also be on display.

Having studied at the L'Universite Laval, Quebec City, Canada, and at the University of Kansas, she was an assistant instructor in French at Kansas. She teaches elementary and advanced Spanish here at Juniata.

A new face in the department of history is that of Mr. Edward F. Yurick, whose home town is Youngstown, Ohio. Graduating from the Ohio State University in 1949 with a bachelor of arts degree in history, Mr. Yurick received his Master of Arts degree from the same university of 1951. Aside from being an instructor in history, he is the counsellor of Sherwood Lodge and an English conference advisor.

In the Circulation department, Harry Vineburg and Bob Motisher have been appointed to handle outgoing copies of the Juniatian addressed to alumni and other friends of the College.

Frosh To March To Football Game Tomorrow Night

The entire Freshman class will leave from in front in Founders Hall tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. in a parade through downtown Huntingdon, Chairman of Underclassmen Wes Diemer reported last Tuesday.

Led by Diemer and twelve Freshman committeemen, the parade will begin to form shortly after 7:00 and promptly at 7:30 will follow a previously designated route along Huntingdon streets all the way to the War Vets Memorial Field in lower Huntingdon where the game with Moravian College will begin at 9:00.

The Juniata College Band and cheerleader squad will be on hand to provide a martial atmosphere for the marchers who will carry noisemakers and display signs.

Upon arriving at the field, Diemer outlined, the freshmen will form a double line formation through which the entire Juniata College football squad will race out for warm-up exercises.

Captain Brumbaugh indicated that extensive practice sessions would be held during the week in order to develop coordination among the members of the squad. Prof. Brammer is teacher of instruments and director of the college band and orchestra.

The recital is open to students and the public and is free of charge.

Student Center Nears

A Student Center may be established on campus in the relatively near future if a chain of events begun last spring by an informally organized group of students is carried through to completion.

This was the concensus of the Juniata Planning Commission which, in its annual meeting Saturday, gave its approval to the project and took the first concrete steps toward the establishment of such an undertaking.

Embodied in the conveniently located Center would be such features as a soda fountain, grill, game area, jukebox, and both the College Bookstore and post office.

Center Long A Dream

Long the desire of scattered individuals at Juniata, the first official action relative to the formation of a student gathering place here took place last spring when the Student Senate invited Russell Hill and other interested parties to present their ideas at a Senate meeting. Because it was so near the end of the term, it was decided that the matter should be held over, and action taken at the beginning of the fall semester.

At Leadership Conference, the following resolution was proposed during the Special Issues conference: "Resolved that the Student Senate appoint a committee to investigate and publicize the proposal for a Student Center."

Senate Acts On Issue

Acting upon this resolution, the Senate last week appointed Hill, a sophomore, as chairman of a group to look into such action. Hill was given discretion in the choice of a committee. Named to the group were Jo Pentz, Helen Rosengren, Allegra Forney, Rem Grove, Rayallen Hoover and Jim Holsopple, representative of the Senate and ex-officio member of the committee.

The committee decided that the best possible site for the Center, from a student point of view, would be in the basement of the Women's Gymnasium. Central location, minimum disarrangement of present facilities and architectural problems were all taken into consideration in making the decision.

Planning Commission Met

Hill and Miss Pentz went before the Planning Commission Saturday to present a series of recommendations relative to the need and feasibility of a Student Center at Juniata. The ideas presented there were favorably received by the Commission.

In a letter of Sept. 30, Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president and ex-officio member of the Planning Commission, reported that that body received the recommendations with favor and asked that the student group be commended for its work.

The Commission went on to state that evidence of an intelligent plan to meet the needs of the student body had been presented.

Fees Underwritten

In view of these facts, the Planning Commission has promised to underwrite all architect fees involved in construction of such a center. The College architect, Mr. J. Alfred Hamme of York, was contacted and was on campus yesterday to meet with the student group.

The complete report drawn up by Hill's committee and presented to the Planning Commission was as follows:

Deferent Test Scheduled Dec. 4

Over a half million College and University students will have taken the Selective Service College Qualification Test by May 1, Major General Lewis B. Hershey has announced. The third series of tests will be given Dec. 4 and April 23 at 1000 testing centers throughout the country.

In announcing dates of the third series, General Hershey said that 413,395 students have already taken the test. Students currently deferred on the basis of test scores or class standing number about 190,000.

The General added that increasing manpower demands make it important that any student who has not taken the test do so as soon as possible.

To be eligible for the college deferment test a student must intend to request deferment as a student, be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of study and must not previously have taken the Selective Service Qualification Test.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate are

Editorializing

Student Center Requires Desire Student Labor

That the Student Center so long awaited is now close to being a reality is cause for celebration.

The advantages to be derived from such an on-campus meeting place cannot be overestimated. Central location and advantages far beyond the reach of any commercial establishment appear to be well within our grasp.

However, in the rosy glow of speculation and anticipation we cannot afford to lose sight of reality. A student venture of this type is new to Juniata. There is no set precedent to be followed. There is no history of any cooperative effort of such magnitude at JC.

Therefore, while we ought not forget the benefits and advantages to be derived from the Center, still we cannot seek to escape the obligations that devolve upon each of us.

Financially, the Student Center project is handicapped. Although it will not be necessary to undertake extensive new construction much remains to be accomplished before the project can be considered at all complete.

The committee for the investigation of the Student Center proposal realizes that it will be a matter of prime necessity to obtain a maximum of student cooperation in all things. Such cooperation is to consist not only of mere lip service enthusiasm, but also of freely given labor.

Costs throughout the entire construction of the Center will be immeasurably lowered if voluntary labor is provided with respect to such things as painting, laying tile, and other similar tasks.

With such voluntary contribution of time and effort the center will, in all probability, proceed with colors flying. Should such effort not be offered the project could conceivably fail.

We, as students, have frequently expressed a desire for just such benefits as the proposed Center will have to offer. Now the question of whether we are to obtain in them lies squarely with us. Voluntary help will bring success. Apathy and freeloaders predestine failure. What will we have?

Senate Committee for Investigation of Student Center

The Juniata Student Senate, acting on a resolution of the 1952 Leadership Conference, created a committee to investigate the possibility of a Student Center. With this purpose in mind, the committee has endeavored to answer these questions:

I. What is the Student Center?
II. What is the best possible cite from the student's point of view?
III. What is the need for a center?
IV. What role can the students play in its creation?
V. What would be the value of student participation?

I. What is the Student Center?

The Student Center would contain a soda fountain and grill with booths spaced along the wall leaving room for a jukebox. Another section of the area would be reserved for a number of informal games such as table tennis. One corner would contain a combined bookstore and post office. The whole center would be decorated with collegiate styling and coloring, creating a pleasantly informal campus meeting place.

II. What is the best possible cite from the student's point of view?

The committee unanimously chose the basement of the Women's Gymnasium as the most desirable site for the following reasons.

1. Proximity: The Women's Gymnasium is centrally located on campus and most student dances are held upstairs. Thus the center would be assured of maximum use.
2. As opposed to the alternate site, the first floor of Brumbaugh Hall, the gymnasium affords assurance of little annoyance to women residents due to noise. Also through use of the gym there would be no loss of badly needed dormitory space.
3. The basement of the Women's Gymnasium is not fully utilized at the present time.

III. What is the need for a center?

We, as a committee representative of the student body, feel that there is a definite need on campus for a student center. There is no place on campus that allows informal coed recreation other than very occasional "special activities." An example of a campus group whose needs are not met are the girls who are majoring in home economics. All their clubs and classes are composed entirely of girls. They dislike going to dances unattached, and meeting places off campus may be undesirable to them. For them, the center would provide a much needed meeting place and learning to know the male members of the college.

IV. What role can the students play in its creation?

The investigating committee wishes to emphasize that it considers the Student Center a "student project." We do not deem it our right to ask the college for the Student Center without planning to contribute something ourselves when there are such serious needs on campus as new dormitories.

We are led to believe that student support in the form of labor would defray much of the cost. In the New York Times of Wed., Sept. 24, an article states that Fairleigh-Dickinson College saved $90,000 of a $220,000 project by the use of student labor. We as a committee feel that there is enough mature student enthusiasm to carry through such a project on Juniata's campus. In accordance with this view the committee has instructed its secretary to write a letter to Fairleigh-Dickinson College and Delaware College of Ohio, (another college known for this type of project) so that we may be better informed as to the nature of these projects.

V. The value of student participation.

The committee feels that participation in such a project would result in a student unity which is valuable beyond measure. A Student Center is a project which cuts across all group barriers and has already acted to draw campus groups together in some unity. Members of the student body seem to realize that they will have to think and act as a group to make this project a success.

The feeling on the part of the students toward campus problems and projects seems to be "let the college do it." We believe that the student should see himself as a working and planning member of the college community. The proposed project would accomplish this by involving the student personally in the problems of the college.

Miscellaneous Considerations

I. Suggestions for management of the Student Center.

1. Independent manager supported by proceeds from snack bar and bookstore.
2. Director of Physical Education and Recreation acting as manager.

II. Several self-supporting work scholarships would be provided.

III. Possible suggested financial aid.

1. Women's Leagues
2. Non-alumni parents
3. Alumni fund '53-'54
4. Student projects
5. Possibility for commercial financing in return for concessions.
6. Student labor

IV. There will also be a need in the near future to renovate the Women's Gymnasium to fit Juniata's expanded campus.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS By BIBLER

"Oh, here they come out on the field now! Guess we've got about the most offensive team in the country!"

CIRCUIT RIDER

Many Things Make A Queen

by JACK FREYMULLER

Before the start of the annual Homecoming game scheduled for Saturday, the 11th of October, the ceremony of the coronation of Juniata's Homecoming Queen will be staged before hundreds of Juniata Alumni and students. At this time the results of the election held last Monday will disclose the student's choice of their "typical" co-ed.

To us, the word "typical" covered a multitude of meanings so we thought it might be of some solace to the voters if we sort of explained at length the meaning of the word as used in consideration of the candidates.

The Factors

First of all the factors in the selection of the aspirants was the combination of personality and disposition. Many times this question was asked, "Is she usually cheerful and does she have a ready smile?" This was considered important because friendliness and a hearty welcome are the underlying themes of Homecoming Weekend, with many "old Grads" returning to live again for a day their college memories.

The second, but by no means most important factor, was that of personal attractiveness. This was based more on an impression of neatness and good taste than on physical perfection for it was thought that mere beauty was meaningless unless complemented by the good sense of the candidate.

The Juniata Ideal

The third factor was that of participation in college activities to some degree. Miss Homecoming is actually the personification of the Juniata ideal: the girl who is active in extra-curricular activities as well as those scholarly.

The aim of this column has been to show the difficulty of choosing likely candidates for the honor and also to list the requirements posted by the committee in order to enable them to arrive at the conclusion of their efforts with a suitable number of prospective Miss Homecomings.

Tribe Meets Moravian Tomorrow Night After Losing Westminster Opener 27-20

Sports Parade

By Harold Gray

A local boy makes good is this week's sports story on College Hill after an exciting show put on by freshman Don Pheasant at New Wilmington last Saturday. The first year backfield ace from nearby Mill Creek was the object of Coach Bill Smaltz's post game statement. The Indian mentor declared, "I think everyone in New Wilmington will remember Pheasant. He looked great." Besides playing on the gridiron, Don excells on the basketball floor and plays a fine game of baseball. He was Huntingdon High School's top athlete of 1951 and could well be the top frosh preformer for the Blue and Gold this campaign. Don will have his first opportunity to show his wares in a Juniata uniform for the hometown folks tomorrow night and everyone's hoping that he will come through in top form.

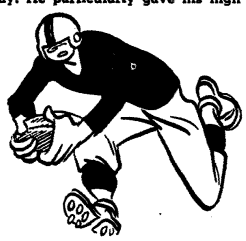
TOPICS ABOUT THE TRIBE—Bill Smaltz, Indian coach, was in a talking mood the other day and took time to praise some of the JC gridsters for their fine play last Saturday. He particularly gave his high comment to Chuck Knox, Don "Killer" Conley, Bob Wagoner and Big Ed Svitil. Joe Trimber, Moon Township defensive back, was hailed by Smaltz as a "whale of a football player". Bill Haushalter, who was like a rock on defense against the Titans and Jim Butler along with Amos Mosser, 238 pound tackle, were also receiving of some fine adjectives from the Juniata coach . . . Smallest lot of the tackles on this year's squad is Chuck Knox at a mere 190 pounds, while the average weight of the tackles is a solid 213 pounds . . . Keith Birmingham, 5-7 187 pound defensive end, will probably be one of Juniata's top golfing representatives this spring as the Moon Township boy is noted as a fine linksman . . . Seems as though frosh Jim Butler as quietly but very definitely stepped into the JC quarterback slot. The Roaring Spring lad showed some great form Saturday and is being counted upon to help bring home a victory for JC tomorrow night.



* * * *

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?—Jim Settle, high scorer for the JV basketball squad last season, is now enrolled at Lock Haven State Teachers. He must sit out a year because of the transfer rule be he has been working out on the grid team at the fullback post . . . Earl Edwards, a favorite of College Hill grid fans last year, is now on the team of Uncle Sam. He's in the Air Force . . . Bob Rauch who starred for Juniata on the tennis courts last spring has moved on to Penn State to continue his studies . . . And, Al Kuhni, small but rugged guard for the Blue and Gold in 1951, is now in the U. S. Army.

* * * *

OUTLOOK ON OPPONENTS—The Crusaders of Susquehanna rolled to an easy victory over the National Aggies last Saturday 26-0 . . . . However, the Dickinson Red Devils, who will be Parents Day visitors to College Hill, were swamped by a rugged Trinity eleven to the tune of 21-0 . . . The Grove City eleven held Marietta of Ohio to a scoreless tie last Friday and they face Geneva tomorrow . . . Ursinus opens tomorrow against Susquehanna in what is expected to be a close contest . . . Haverford, Homecoming Day opponents next Saturday, opens this week against Wagner.

The Sports Mirror

ONE YEAR AGO—The once beaten Indians came from behind to down a stubborn Swarthmore eleven 13-7. Tailback Lundy Loschiavo sparked the Blue and Gold to their first victory of the campaign.

FIVE YEARS AGO—The Indians won their opening game of the season as they downed Westminster 21-0. This was the initial tilt for the Tribe who went on to a successful campaign.

TEN YEARS AGO—The Indians went through heavy workouts as they headed for their October 7 opener with Drexel. The away affair was the start of a five game card for the Blue and Gold.

Late Titan Rally Downs Indians

A do or die attack in the fourth quarter gave the Westminster Titans a hard earned 27-20 victory over the Juniata gridsters last Saturday at New Wilmington. The heavily favored home team had to rely on the passing arm of quarterback Dick Banick to come back from the depths of defeat.

The inexperienced Indians of Juniata gave a fine account of themselves and had the Titans "on the ropes" only to let victory drift through their fingers during the final stanza. Juniata coach, Bill Smaltz had high praise for his team after the game, when he commented, "They really wanted to win that one and there was a time when Westminster wasn't even on the field."

Pheasant Stars

Don Pheasant, frosh scatback, stole the show for the Tribe and accounted for one JC touchdown, gained 50 yards rushing, and proved he will be one of the mainstays in the JC lineup through the coming seven games. The Mill Creek boy showed plenty of spirit and hustle while in the contest.

The Titans took the lead 7-0 on a Banick toss to Carl Mantz during the first quarter with Sistek converting, and scored again in the second period when the talented quarterback threw to McGrath for six more, with Sistek again converting.

JC scored its first six pointer in the second stanza when Pheasant sparked a drive to the Westminster one yard stripe. From there, Tom "T" McNeal, 190 pound fullback of the Tribe, lugged it over. Tony Segalovich made it 14-7 with a placement.

Indians Score

In the third quarter, Chuck Knox, rugged tackle of the Blue and Gold, blocked a Westminster punt and end Bob Wagoner recovered on the Titan 33 yard line. Four plays later, Fran Wampler, soph wingback, went 20 yards on a reverse for the touchdown. The extra point try failed.

Freshman Pat Burns, who played a fine defensive game, intercepted a Blue and White pass on the home team's 21 yard line to set up the third and final Juniata score. Another frosh, quarterback Jim Butler teamed with Pheasant on a "double-jump-pass for a 21 yard touchdown to make the scoreboard read 19-14. The Juniata total rose one point when Segalovich converted.

Titans Grab Lead

The home team was now ready for the victory march as Banick began to go to the air lanes. Mantz again grabbed a pass from the talented quarterback for a 25 yard TD. Bob Sistek once again converted and the Titans led 21-20.

Banick kept the attack rolling, and the great chucker nailed Sistek with a 21 yard toss for the final six pointer. The try for the extra point was blocked and the final reading was Westminster 27, Juniata 20.

Tony Segalovich emerged from the game with a pulled leg muscle and fullback "T" McNeal received a cut lip. Dave LeFevre, offensive center, injured his hip, but along with the other two will be ready for action tomorrow night against Moravian.

The Greyhounds from Bethlehem are in the midst of a vast rebuilding program and according to Head Coach Jim Shreve, the team will be green and inexperienced.

16 Letter Winners

There are 16 lettermen back from last year's eleven that lost seven and tied one out of eight starts. The remainder of the squad will be made up of 14 freshmen and nine players with previous experience.

With the emphasis on speed, due to the size of the team, they will move out of a regular T formation rather than the winged T which was used last season.

The backfield is built around little Jim Evanko, a 5-8 160 pound speed demon. As a freshman last year he managed to gain over 500 yards and picked up half of Moravian's eight touchdowns. Doing the ball handling from the T will be Pete Pezzuto, another sophomore who was a regular last year. He is being pushed hard by Bill Marsh and Bob Wickizer, both freshmen.

Frosh Play In Backfield

Coach Shreve is counting on the frosh to fill the remaining vacancies. Standouts appear to be Luther Kemmerer and Joe Verdi, although neither played in the backfield prior to this year.

Former Greyhound standout Armando DeMichele has taken over the line coaching duties this year. Co-captains Ed Novogratz and Bob Clarke at end and tackle respectively will serve to anchor the line. Novogratz is a rangy 6-2 senior who is the favorite target of Pezzuto. Clark, the biggest man on the squad, weighs in at 220 pounds.

The key pivot slot will be filled by Phil DeRea, a junior letterman.

Depth Seen At Guard

The Greyhounds have plenty of depth at the guards with six monogram winners returning to fight for the two starting slots. Lou Esposito and Fred Haack, both sophomores, have the inside track on the jobs.

Coach Shreve has been putting his charges through workouts since September 15, two weeks after the boys from College Hill went into operation.

This game will be the first encounter between the two teams since 1949 when the Blue and Gold swept to a 27-7 victory. Moravian holds a slim 4-3 edge in the series with one game ending in a tie.

IM Football League Begins Season

The Sherwood Globetrotters beat Hosses 22-7 in the opening round of Intramural Football League play last week. Gene Rothenberger, Godshall, and Spangler scored for the winners.

The Midway Monsters led by Fran Zimmerman's running and passing defeated the FM&M 21-12. John Richman, Jim Boulton, and Chuck Gross scored for the Midway boys.

The Iron Dukes held off a last quarter rally by the Hosses on Monday afternoon and came out on top 18-16. The same day, the FM&M beat the Globetrotters 13-0 on an 80 yard pass play from Dave Hackett to Dick Bowker and on a kickoff recovered in the Trotters end zone by Joe Hinish. This game was protested and the final decision has not been announced. Games are played Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock.

Miss Schlegle Tells Of Summer Tour In Europe

by Jeannine Evans

Among the tourists to Europe this summer was Miss Miriam Schlegel, professor of Elementary Ed. at J. C. Miss Schlegel's vacation was full of varieties, including sitting in on swimming, wrestling, football, equestrian, track and field events at the Olympic games. Miss Schlegel was delighted with the efficient way in which the people of Helsinki managed their large crowds, so that no one ever felt as though he were cramped in any way.

After seeing the Olympian contests she flew to Stockholm, Sweden, and from there she experienced a three-day canal trip to Gutenburg. The journey was a picturesque one since the canal was no wider than a garden path in some places and wound like a ribbon through blue lakes and fields of yellow grain.

Norway Compared To U. S.

From Gutenberg to Norway Miss Schlegel traveled by train, boat, and bus. Of all the scenery viewed, that of Norway seemed to impress her as most spectacular. "Norwegian customs are quite comparable to those of the United States," says Miss Schlegel.

One of the most interesting points stressed by Miss Schlegel was the food habits of other nations. Breakfast in Norway is quite novel. Fifty or sixty dishes consisting of many varieties of cheese, fish, fruits, berries, hot and cold meats, eggs, coffee, and various kinds of rolls were served. However, at the outset of her stay in Norway, Miss Schlegel ventured only as far as the typical American breakfast of soft-boiled eggs, rolls and coffee. In Scandanavia and Finland meat, potatoes, and dairy products are the chief foods, and few vegetables are eaten.

Visits Hamlet's Castle

Upon leaving Norway our tourist journeyed to Copenhagen where she visited the castle which is thought to be the setting of Hamlet. From there she went to Denmark, Amsterdam, Holland, Brussels, and finally to Paris. At the Parisian port she boarded a student ship for the United States on which were eight hundred American college students and two hundred German students who had government paid scholarships.

The journey home was not an entirely pleasant one because ship repairs necessitated a delay in LaHavre. Heavy fog and a hurricane impeded the vessel and several extra days were spent at sea.

Perhaps the most memorable event of the tour occured when Miss Schlegel dined next to the Duke of Edinburg at a tea in Norway. This as well as many other unique occurrences resulted in a wonderful summer in Europe for the faculty member.

Deferent Test –

either a satisfactory score of 70 on the test, or specified rank in class.

Applications for the December administration of the test must be postmarked not later than November 1, 1952.

The two forthcoming administrations of the College Qualification Test represent the eighth and ninth testing dates of the program. In the first series of tests 64% of the students achieved a score of 70 or beter. In the second series 58% of the students made 70 or better. The tests in all three series were equivalent in difficulty.

General Hershey has emphasized many times that the criteria are a flexible yard stick and that the standards may be raised anytime necessity for manpower demands.

Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J., will again conduct the testing program. A national, nonprofit educational organization, ETS administers tests for NROTC, college board exams, admission tests for law, medical and graduate schools; and other programs for governmental agencies and educational groups.

Use of tests by the Selective Service System, along with class standing was originally based on recommendations of the six Scientific Advisory Committees appointed in 1948 by General Hershey. The Committees' report was made in the fall of 1950. After a subcommittee had prepared general specifications for a suitable test of scholastic aptitude, Educational Testing Service was designated as the testing agency to carry out the construction of the test and its nation-wide administration.

Reference Books Ready In Library

To all freshmen, the library will no doubt be a familiar place after a semester of integration courses. But let's face it; the usefulness of that institution doesn't end there. On its shelves lie practically any type of information you may desire.

Let's start off with dictionaries. Most of you have at least some acquaintance with "Webster's New Dictionary" in which definitions are given in historical sequence. "Funk and Wagnall's New Standard Dictionary" gives the prominent meaning of the word first and also contains geographical and biographical names.

The most scholarly dictionary in the English language is the "Oxford English Dictionary" which contains the history of every word used in England since 1150.

Language Dictionaries Available

There are also available dictionaries in Greek, Latin, French, Spanish, German and Hebrew.

In the way of biographies are found "Who's Who in America" which contains brief sketches of notable living Americans. The "Dictionary of National Biography" is important for English biography while the "Dictionaries of American Biography" are limited to Americans no longer living but who have made significant contributions to the American way of life.

The Juniata College library has the following encyclopedias: "Encyclopedia Britannica", which contains an atlas volume and a book of the year; "Encyclopedia Americana," which features the histories of different countries; "Colliers Encyclopedia"; "New International Encyclopedia"; "The Columbia Encylopedia"; and the "World Book."

Misc. Info In World Almanac

For miscellaneous information look in the "World Almanac", containing statistics on sports, schools, and industrial population published annually.

"Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians" covers the field of music from 1450 to 1952, while "Art Through the Ages" is a history of art including many illustrations.

"Granger's Index of Poetry and Recitations" is an aid in locating poems and is indexed according to author, title, and first line.

Best Literature in Collection

"A library of the World's Best Literature is a collection of the best literature and art of all nations and ages, and "Hasting's Dictionary of the Bible" is useful for Biblical information.

Mergers Of Campus Organizations Feature Beginning Club Activity

By Sherill Edwards

If beginnings are any indication of that which will follow, the 1952-53 college term promises to be a most active and favorable one so far as the college clubs and their numerous and varied activities are concerned. Aside from the adoption of the schedule for club meetings proposed by the Leadership Conference early last month, two mergers and other notable happenings have taken place on Juniata's campus.

Four Clubs Merge

Acting on the suggestion of the Leadership Conference, the FTA, Future Teachers of America, and the Alpha Beta Gamma, the elementary eduation club, held a joint meeting recently to discuss the clubs' merging. As a result of their deliberations, the two organizations have merged under the official title of FTA. Bob Bailey, former president of the FTA, announces that the election of officers and the membership drive will take place within a few weeks.

Meeting to determine whether or not the Sportsmen's Club and Outing Club would merge, as proposed by the Leadership Conference, the members of the two organizations decided that since both clubs are basically the same the Sportsmen's Club would disband, turing in their charter and uniting their membership with the Outing Club. As yet, the Outing Club has not elected officers, but will do so in the near future.

Club Debates Issue

"Resolved: that the freedom of the individual student should be more restricted" is the issue to be debated at the next meeting of the Debate Club, Wednesday at 7:00 in Founder's Chapel.

Using the Oregon style of debating, each side will present a fifteen minute brief or case followed by a cross-examination. Those students who will be arguing affirmatively are Ron Cherry and Charlie Kipp, while Galen Frysinger and Bob Bailey will uphold the negative side of the issue.

The meeting promises to be a most beneficial and revealing test of these particular club members' speaking and reasoning abilities.

Incidentally, last Saturday Galen Frysinger, Jo Pentz and Carol Shoemaker attended the Pennsylvania Debating Association convention at the Penn-Alto Hotel in Altoona. After the business matters were dispensed with, speakers discussed both sides of the national college debating question which deals this year with the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Masque Stages "Antigone"

Last Wednesday evening in Oller Hall the Masque staged their first performance of the semester, an adaptation of Sophocles' "Antigone", one of the more popular Greek tragedies. The cast for the play, which was a script-in-hand production directed by Wilfred Norris, was as follows: Antigone, Phyllis Link; Ismene, Betty Shearer; Creyon, Wilfred Norris; Haemon, Ben Newcomer; the Guard, Don Sikes; and the Page, Bob Flory.

Peggy Brumbaugh To Reign Over Homecoming Festivities

Peggy Brumbaugh was elected Miss Homecoming VI at a Juniatian-sponsored election Monday. Mickey Monks and Jan Wenger were runners-up and will serve as maids of honor at the Homecoming ceremonies tomorrow.

Queen From Maryland

Coming to JC from Chevy Chase, Maryland where she attended Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School, Queen Peggy is the fourth junior to be elected to rule over Homecoming Day festivities at Juniata.

She will make her first appearance during halftime at the game tomorrow when she will be introduced to the fans by Master of Ceremonies Jack Ulsh. In the evening she will be the guest of honor at the Homecoming Dance at the invitation of the J Club.

Cheering Captain Elected

A sociology major, the new queen is captain of the Cheerleaders and a member of the WAA and JCA.

Nominations of the candidates were based on three factors: personality, attractiveness, and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Homecoming Plans To Include Class Games, Displays, Dance

A varied program of activities will liven the Homecoming atmosphere tomorrow. Returning alumni, former students and friends will find plenty to interest them in the various athletic contests and competitions of the day.

First on the schedule will be the Freshman-Sophomore athletic contests under the direction of Chairman of Underclassmen Wes Diemer. The freshmen will attempt to win the chance to remove their dinks and name cards immediately by winning the football game and tug of war scheduled for the men and the field hockey contest listed for the women. It is traditional that if the freshmen lose their contests they must wear their freshman garb for a longer time. Spirit is running high for this one.

Next on the schedule are the lawn decoration contests sponsored by the Chairmen of Men's and Women's House. The various halls of the men's and women's dorms will endeavor to outdo each other in creating displays in the Homecoming theme. Men's House displays, according to Chairman Dave Bayer, will be set up in front of the Cloisters on either side of the walk. Women's House displays, under the Chairmanship of Ginny Yohn, will be found on the lawn between Student's Hall and the Women's gym.

Following the first two activities will be Open House in both the Women's and Men's dorms. At this time all guests and students will be permitted to visit any room for one hour before lunch and one hour after.

About one half an hour before the start of the Homecoming Game, the assembled football fans will witness the appearance of a '52 graduate who has won nationwide fame in the last few months. Miriam Smith, Miss Pennsylvania of 1952, will make a brief appearance before the start of the game to inaugurate Pennsylvania Week in Huntingdon County. The McAlisterville lass, a contestant in the 1952 Miss America contest, will fly in by private plane sometime before the game.

The feature attraction during half-time will be the coronation of Miss Homecoming VI, Peggy Brumbaugh, who was elected last Monday by the student body to reign supreme over Homecoming Day festivities. Queen Peggy will tender the official welcome to all present to partake of the entertainment prepared for them.

She will again be featured at the J Club dance to be held in the Memorial Gym at 8:30 p. m. Music will be by Nelson Griffith and his orchestra. Dress will be optional as will be flowers, according to Committee chairmen Dave Bayer and Fran Zimmerman.
